Miniature Golf Course Promises to Become Popular.

In the United States the miniature golf course is rapidly finding favour with golfers who wish to brush up on their short game and with elderly people, who can't stand the grind of full 18-hole rounds on the regulation lay-outs. It is found that ten acres of land provide sufficient length for these pitching and putting courses. In Canada, too, there are many residential sections in the larger centres, where such little links could be laid out to advantage and profit. At the "Old Mill" in the Humber Valley District, Toronto, a miniature course has this season been constructed and very popular indeed it is. In the years to come unquestionably, the miniature course will be found in increasing numbers from Coast to Coast.

Two Major Championships to be Staged This Month.

Apart from Provincial and other championships and tournaments, and there are many of them, this month will witness the staging of two of the most prominent championships of Canada, that of the Professional Golf Association at Laval-sur-le-Lac, Montreal, on July 22nd, followed by the Open Championship of Canada at Kanawaki, Montreal, July 25th, 26th and 27th. There is no question that these professional championships are more interesting to the average golfer and attract larger galleries than amateur events. They are, of course, decided by medal play and therefore not as long drawn out as amateur championships, which after the Qualifying Round are always decided by match play, lasting five days.

The present Canadian professional champion is Willie Lamb, of the Up-lands Golf Club, Toronto, a former Scottish amateur, and the Canadian Open champion, Leo Diegel. They will both be on hand to defend their titles with a galaxy of other professionals and amateurs. It is quite on the cards that Bobbie Jones himself will be at Kanawaki for the Open. If he does enter there the galleries will be of record proportions. Kanawaki is reported to be in superb shape for the "Big Show" and Laval for the Canadian Professional fixture.

Prince of Wales' Golf
is Greatly Improved.

When the Prince of Wales was in Newcastle for the opening of the North East Coast Exhibition he played a golf match with the Lord Mayor, Mr. Arthur W. Lambert, and finished all square. A return match was arranged there and then and a few days ago was played over the Coombe Hill Course, one of the best of the London links. The Prince was round in 89 and defeated the Lord Mayor by 2 up. Coombe Hill is decidedly a hard course to negotiate (the writer played over it a year or so ago and can testify to that) and a score there in the eighties is quite a creditable performance. His Royal Highness has apparently greatly improved his game since last in Canada as he never had a score on any courses here equal to this Coombe Hill performance of his. He is playing a great deal more golf these days, since giving up riding to a great extent.

(The Editor is always glad to answer questions about the Rules, and other golfing matters, but owing to so many of these requests coming in every month, he must ask in future that a stamped-addressed envelope be enclosed with all such communications, otherwise they will not be answered.)

Mr. L. Goldman, Toronto, formerly president of the North British Life Assurance Company, left for a tour of Great Britain this month. He intends to play over several of the leading courses whilst there.

The U. S. G. A. announces that the 1930 Open Championship will be played at the Interlachten Club, Minneapolis. This is the first time that city has ever been awarded a National event.

Writing the Editor, Mr. Henry Gullen, Secretary of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club, St. Andrews, says in connection with the recent British Ladies' Open Championship:—

"Miss Wethered's win was, I think, very well deserved. At the same time Miss Collett was exceedingly popular and made a host of friends here."

We have to thank Mr. J. H. Freedman, Manager of the Canadian Division of A. G. Spalding & Bros. Ltd., Brantford, Ontario, for the 1929 edition of "Spalding's Golf Guide", a most invaluable compendium of golf which should

Despatch from Pittsburgh, Pa. :—

"Scoring eight under par in the Allegheny Country Club women's invitation golf tournament, Miss Virginia Wilson, of Chicago, the Canadian champion, turned in what experts termed one of the most sensational rounds in the history of women's play.

"Miss Wilson carded a 71 on the 5,996-yard course, against the par of 79. She registered ten birdies. The best previous women's mark, experts said, was a 72 by Miss Joyce Wethered."

Mr. Stuart McCawley, of Glace Bay, one of the pioneers of golf in the Maritimes, has just completed a most delightful Book of Songs and "Come All Ye of Cape Breton and Newfoundland". The selections are redolent of "the air, salt-laden from the surrounding sea, and the sunsets wonderful". Mr. McCawley loves his Cape Breton with its "finest, hardiest, best-looking people in the world" as modestly proclaimed by the author in his introduction to this fascinating little compilation.

"That ain't no open championship. It's an invitation tournament."

"How do you figure that?" he was asked.

"Well, suh," explained the two-bottles-of-ginger-ale-and-four-set-ups boy, "I figure they just invites all the professionals to come and see if any of them can beat Bobby Jones."

The Year Book, 1929, of the United States Golf Association just issued makes very interesting reading. It shows the American Association to be in a very flourishing condition indeed. The treasurer reports total receipts for the year of $116,275, with disbursements of $102,221. The Association has cash on hand of $14,053, and investments of $74,135 in bonds and stocks. The member clubs now number 1,056. The Year Book contains a complete and valuable record of all the principal championships since 1894.

A combined total of 107 years of faithful and loyal railway and steamship service terminated July 1st, when William James Grant, district freight agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway at Hamilton, and Joseph Richard Clancy, assistant foreign freight agent, Toronto, retired on pension. Mr. Clancy is a particularly well known and popular golfer, a member of the Rosedale Golf Club, Toronto, and also a member of the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association. He intends making a tour round the world before taking up his home again in Toronto. At a complimentary dinner tendered them at the Royal York Hotel, handsome presentations were made them.

Gill, with headquarters in London. Mr. Stokes joined the Canadian Pacific in London in 1907, and in 1912 proceeded to Canada, where he joined the Department of Natural Resources at Calgary. In 1917 he was transferred to Montreal, where he was appointed assistant to Mr. John Murray Gibbon. Of recent years Mr. Stokes had taken an active interest in the Whitlock Golf Club, Montreal. A novel golf competition was recently staged by the Ealing Town Golfing Society over the West Herts Golf Course, near London, England. It was entitled "Prevention of Cruelty to Golf Balls." Each competitor was given a new ball marked with his number and a prize of a dozen golf balls was awarded the player returning the least damaged ball. Mr. P. Rowse, who went round the course in two strokes better than scratch, won the prize. He handed in a ball without a single blemish on it. Here is an idea that might be followed by Canadian Clubs out to stage a novel fixture.

Lieut.-Col. Charles S. MacVicar, who was widely known in Canadian medical and military circles, died unexpectedly Saturday afternoon, June 29th, on the golf links at Rochester, Minn., where he had been since 1921 physician at the Mayo Clinic. Born in 1880 at Ailsa Craig, Ont., he took his preparatory education there after which he began the study of medicine at Western University, London, later coming to the University of Toronto. He served overseas at Salonica and other places with distinction. On his return to Canada in 1918 he was given charge of the organization of the Christie Street Hospital, Toronto, which he commanded in 1918, 1919 and 1920. In the discharge of these duties he displayed all the qualities that could be desired in an officer entrusted with such responsibility.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union, held recently at the home of the president, Mrs. J. M. Lyle, Toronto, changes were made in the handicap limits for the Canadian Ladies' Open Championship, to be held at the Hamilton Golf and Country Club during the week of September 23, and of the Canadian Close Championship, to be held at the Scarboro Golf and Country Club during the week of September 16. For the Open Championship the limit will be 16, against 18 at Lambton in 1927 and 24 at Beaconsfield in 1928, when the Open and Close Championships were combined, while for the Close the handicap limit has been reduced from 36 at Toronto in 1927, when over 200 entries were received, to 30. The reduction in the handicap limits for both championships will encourage the higher handicapped players to reduce in the meantime, so that they will be eligible to play. Incidentally a large number of United States competitors are expected for the tournament at Hamilton, which will be held the week previous to the United States National at Detroit, the two governing bodies co-operating in arranging the dates so that there would be no conflict.

GREENKEEPERS HAVE INSTRUCTIVE MEETING

THE monthly meeting of the Ontario Greenkeepers, held on June 12th, at the Islington Golf Club, Toronto, was well attended. The president, Mr. W. J. Sansom, of the Toronto Golf Club, was in the chair and introduced a particularly interesting agenda. It was reported that brown patch had not been in evidence this season on the majority of the courses in Ontario—something for which the greenkeepers are particularly thankful.

Greenkeeper Joseph Stanfield was heartily congratulated on having completed the lengthening and re-construction of the Mississauga Golf Course at an expenditure of several hundred dollars less than the estimates.

It was unanimously decided to endorse the group insurance policy of the National Greenkeepers' Association. Many matters of vital interest to the golf courses in the Province were discussed and much information given and received by the members present.

ST. THOMAS HAS NOW A SPORTING 18-HOLE COURSE

THE beautiful and sporting course of the St. Thomas Golf and Country Club, which is located near the village of Union, about five miles south of the city of St. Thomas, has certainly lost none of its attractiveness. Rather, one visiting it say three or four years ago and seeing it now would be greatly impressed by the improvements which have been made in the interval. The original nine holes were increased to fourteen and the other four, making a full eighteen were constructed two years ago.

The course as it now appears is one of the beauty spots of the neighbourhood and the number of visiting golfers who make it a point to call is steadily increasing year by year. In fact, it was this popularity which partially at least made the construction of the second nine holes necessary.

The club house is a spacious bungalow type of building with fine dressing rooms, etc., and a very attractive clubroom and verandah. It is located practically in the centre of the course on a gently rising level which overlooks the whole property with its picturesque ravines and trees and velvety fairways and greens. Play on fourteen out of the eighteen holes can be observed from the club house. The club house is, of course, during the season, the scene of many a social or club event and has an excellent dining room service.

Quite a number of new members have joined the club this season and the prospects of another successful year for the St. Thomas Golf and Country Club are most encouraging. The very capable professional of the club is D. T. Pullen, who has been with the club for several seasons.

At the Quebec Provincial Championship over the Royal Montreal course he headed a strong field of contestants with rounds of 74 and 76 for a total of 150. Right on his heels, however, were those two sterling young golfers, Jack Cowans, a promising young Royal Montreal golfer, and Norman M. Scott, also of the Royal Montreal, runner-up in 1922 at Hamilton to Fraser in the Canadian Amateur and one of the best golfers in Canada. They had cards of 151. In the play-off for runner-up honours Cowans de-

In addition to the tie for second place a tie also existed for fourth position, A. B. Darling, of Whitlock, and F. D. Logan, of Senneville, each having scores of 153 for the 36 holes. Both had 75's in the morning, three over par for the south course, over which both rounds were played, and each took 78's for the afternoon round. Sixth place went to J. M. Marler, another Royal Montrealer, with a 36-

Other good scores, 165 and better, were:

T. D. Logan, of Senneville, won first prize for best nett for the 36 holes, his gross 153 less his nine handicap giving him a nett total of 135. S. B. Martin, of Royal Montreal, won second prize in this division with a nett score of 136, and third prize went to W. D. Taylor, of Summerlea, with 139. The low nett prize for 18 holes was won by M. A. Brault, of Laval, whose 80 on the morning 18 less an eleven handicap gave him a nett 69. A. B. Darling, of Whitlock, won the low gross prize for 18 holes with a 75 for the morning round.

The weather was ideal, the course was in excellent shape and altogether the Championship was one of the best

LEADING BRITISH LADY GOLFERS TO BE URGED TO ENTER CANADIAN OPEN

MRS. J. M. LYLE, Toronto, President of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union, sailed last month on a visit to the Old Country. Whilst there she will make every endeavour to secure the attendance of several of the leading women golfers of Great Britain for the Canadian Ladies' Open Championship, which is scheduled for the week of September 23rd at the Ancaster course of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club.

It is some seven years now since English women have competed in the Canadian event. In 1921 the famous Miss Cecil Leitch was an entrant and quite easily won the Championship at Rivermead, Ottawa. In 1922, at the Toronto Golf Club, Mrs. W. A. Gavin, another well known English player, defeated Miss Alexa Stirling (now Mrs. W. G. Fraser, of Ottawa) in the final.

The "ONE-CLUB" ALIBI and an excellent way to avoid it

TODAY your mashie may be a favorite; tomorrow, a demon incarnate. Tomorrow you may be hitting your long iron shots like a pro. The next day, like a duffer. One club—always one club ruining your game. But quite frequently, not the same club two days running. Is there a cure for this trouble so common among golfers?

Look at the clubs pictured at the right. Here is a perfect case of incompatibility. The clubs don't lie alike. They don't feel alike. The centers of balance—indicated by the dotted line—have no relation to each other. To master all of them you would have to master six different swings. Yet these are an average set of golf clubs—the kind most golfers carry.

Compare them with the set of Spalding Kro-Flite Irons shown at the right. These clubs are so accurately related, and have their weights so cleverly distributed, that with your eyes closed, you cannot tell which one of the clubs you are swinging. And because they have exactly the same swinging weight, your swing and timing is exactly the same for all of them. Note, too, that the line drawn through the centers of balance parallels the tops of the shafts.

And these Kro-Flite clubs have an exact relation of lie to lie, pitch to pitch. Even the tortion and resiliency of the shafts are matched.

Spalding originated and patented this idea of matching clubs—both irons and woods. And because these clubs are patented, none of their features can be imitated.

Buy them either one club at a time in the Indexed Irons, hickory shaft, $6.50; steel shaft, $8; or in registered sets of Irons, set of 6, hickory or regular steel shaft, $50; steel shaft with rubber socket, $60. Set of 9, hickory or regular steel shaft, $75; steel shaft with rubber socket, $90.

It would especially be a splendid thing for women's golf in Canada if Mrs. Lyle could induce Miss Joyce Wethered, the world's greatest lady golfer, to make the trip. The Hamilton Golf Club has the course and now a handsome new club house makes it possible to entertain any number of entrants in a manner unexcelled in Canada. The U. S. Ladies' Championship the week following the Canadian, will be played in Detroit, so a record number of all the leading lady golfers from the States is assured for the Hamilton fixture.

In the absence of Mrs. Lyle, Miss Jean Haslett, of Hamilton, the particularly able President of the Ontario Branch of the C. L. G. U., will be in charge of both the Ladies' Close at Scarborough, Toronto, the week of September 16th and the Open at Hamilton the week of September the 23rd. This year it has been very sensibly decided to limit players at the Open to those having a handicap of 16 or lower. This will make for the classiest field ever seen in a Ladies' Championship in Canada. The present holder of the title is Miss Virginia Wilson, of Chicago.

GREEN FEES FINANCIAL FACTOR IN MANY CLUBS

GREEN fees in the golf clubs of Canada are every season becoming an increasing source of revenue largely because of the increasing number of golfing tourists. Many of the prominent clubs do not encourage this tourist trade but the majority of the smaller clubs, both in the East and the West, are only too glad to secure this addition to their revenue. A prominent British Columbia Club still holds the record for the Dominion in regard to these fees. Last year this club collected $13,511 from visitors, a sum excelling the total revenue of a great number of quite prominent clubs in the Dominion, from membership and all other sources combined. Several leading clubs in Toronto, Montreal and other golfing centres collect $6,000 to $8,000 in such fees, but the B.C. club still is easily in the lead in this respect.

THE RELATIONS OF AMATEURS AND PROFESSIONALS

(By J. H. Taylor, Five Times British Open Champion)

THERE is an impression among many of the younger school of professionals that the attitude of amateurs toward them is one of apathy, if not actual hostility. They base their conviction on an assumption that they do not receive the support that was afforded to professionals of a generation back. I cannot subscribe to their contention, as I am firmly convinced that such a feeling does not exist, just as I believe that the support and encouragement they receive is as emphatic and friendly as ever was paid to those who were contemporary with me in the heyday of our success.

But for the purpose of this article it may be as well if we do consider that apathy exists and so judge whether or not the younger school deserve what they imagine is a fact. In discussing such a matter, even should it be hypothetical, it would be well if both sides of the question were presented in order that each may be considered. It will serve well to be frank. Time was when professional golf in this country was looked upon as representing the highest possible skill to be found in the world, and while we enjoyed this reputation no suspicion of any kind was directed against it. But when the Americans began to challenge this superiority British faith in her professional players began to waver and they in their turn commenced to think that they were not receiving the support which, in their hour of trial, they deserved.

I trust I have always been a defender of the upright methods of British professionals, and have always been ready to uphold them in the face of criticism, yet, while hoping that I have been actuated by nothing but clean motives, I cannot shut my eyes to the fact that many of them to-day are departing from that line of rectitude and standard of conduct that must exist if they are to keep their place in public esteem. The professional is the servant of the game and if in his dealings with it he departs from the accepted line of straightforwardness and fair play towards those who constitute its following he has no right to complain even of suspected apathy. It has been brought to my direct notice that recently two professionals in the front rank have broken engagements to play in competitions. In one instance the professional only notified the club of his inability to play on the evening before the competition. True a substitute was provided by him, but his name was not known until he entered the club house. In the other case the professional repudiated his engagement with even less ceremony. It has always been recognized by all reputable professionals that an engagement once accepted must be carried out at all costs save that of actual physical disability. I record these exceptions simply to warn others who may be tempted to act in a similar manner, and to emphasize that this brand of conduct will not be tolerated by any golf club. It is in the observance of the everyday and ordinary rule of conduct, which the above violates, that professional golfers are judged, and if such observance be abused retribution will swiftly follow in the shape of loss of confidence and esteem. This will react to the detriment of an honourable body of men.

MRS. ROSS DEFEATS MRS. FRASER

MRS. MAUD ROSS won the ladies' championship of the Royal Ottawa Golf Club by defeating Mrs. W. G. Fraser, former U.S. and Canadian ladies' champion, by one up on the 18th green in their 18-hole match. The scores were respectively 85 and 86 with the winner leading by one stroke as well as one hole.

The game was evenly contested and served as an illustration of the excellent play of these two splendid players. Both were in excellent form and there was an evenness to their play, and outcroppings of brilliance such as is usual in their game.

Both are among the top notch lady players of Canada, and have been consistent winners in outside tourneys for several years. Mrs. Ross was consistently good with her wood and irons and Mrs. Fraser as usual played in steady fashion. It was only on the last green that there was any disparity in their play, when Mrs. Ross took the lead and game.

teur competition this season. In the afternoon the St. Clair entry came marching home with another 68 and the prize was theirs.

Bob Gray, Jr., and George Awrey, Leamington's par-assaulting pair, finished only two strokes back of the winners, with 138. The Leamington entry, incidentally, was out with Fox and O'Brien in the afternoon and the four-somes finished all square with a best ball score of 68 each. In the morning round Gray and Awrey had a 70.

Little River and Roseland pro-amateur pairs tied for third place with 140's. Ernie Henderson and Jimmy Boyle had 70's in the morning and afternoon journeys while Bob Whittle and his amateur partner, Bob Williamson, started with a 72 and finished with a nifty 68 in the afternoon. Bob McKelvie and Al Stover, Beach Grove contenders, had two 72's for 144. Major G. C. King and H. F. "Bunny" Dixon, of Kingsville, produced a 71 and a 74 for 145. Art Vigneux and Andy Wallace, another Beach Grove entry, had 76 and 77 for 153. William Schacht and John Fox, the latter assistant to Jack Burns at Essex, started with 81 and came home on the second 18 with 76 for 157. N. Paquette and Don Boufford, of St. Clair, had 72 and 81 for 153.

The pro-amateur trophy was presented to Bill Fox and John O'Brien by Alex Barron on behalf of the Little River Club.

A cash prize, donated by W. J. Moore to the low score among the professionals, was won by Bill Fox.

Roseland Stages Successful Tournament

Despatch from Windsor, June 27th:—

"A heavy rain, that fell about noon to-day, failed to dampen the spirits of more than 100 golfers from various clubs in the district, who competed in the second annual invitation tournament at the Roseland Golf and Country Club this afternoon. The principal event was the Interclub match and Roseland this year won back from Essex Golf and Country Club the Roseland Cup, awarded on low gross score to the best team of four. The winning quartette was composed of R. J. McConnell, Bob Williamson, James Douglas and Tom Ridley and they turned in a 346 for the 18 holes. The score made during this event by Williamson, who is the Roseland champion and who won the honours for amateurs in Essex County last year, was the best gross score of the day, his card showing a 79 for the round.

The rain discouraged some of the municipal dignitaries who were to have taken part in the driving contest for mayors and reeves of border municipalities and there were some substitutes. One of these, Commissioner E. Blake Winter, of Windsor, representing Mayor C. E. Jackson, won the contest.

The inter-municipal championship, played for the shield won last year by Walkerville, went on low gross score to Windsor this year. John Muxlow, Bert Rogers, former Mayor Herbert Wilson and Thomas J. McConnel made up the team that represented Windsor and they turned in a score of 336.''

LOS ANGELES $10,000 OPEN TOURNAMENT

Plans Already Being Made for the 1929-1930 Winter Season, which Promises to be a Record One.

LOS ANGELES, July 10th.—In keeping with the marked growth of the Los Angeles $10,000 Open Golf Tournament, the premier golfing event on the West's winter season, the work of direction of this tournament will be placed in the hands of nine men.

Known as the Big Nine, this group supplants that formerly known as the Big Six, the most important body working in conjunction with the Los Angeles Open. Headed by President Kennedy Ellsworth, of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the organization inaugurating and sponsoring the tournament, the Big Nine has already begun its work for the 1930 event, to be held January 8, 10, 11 and 12.

It is around this tournament that the entire winter season of golf on this coast is woven. Since its inception in 1926, the winter golfing calendar has grown rapidly, now offering the most lucrative field for professional golfers in any section of the country for a given period.

Agua Caliente's $25,000 tournament is the direct result of Los Angeles' $10,000 event and will give a decided stimulus to western golf. It is not the policy of the group behind the Los Angeles event to go "in the open market" and compete with other cities in staging money tournaments. When the first Los Angeles Open was held, it carried with it one of the largest purses in golf. The many money tournaments that have resulted because of this event indicates that the primary factor—that of encouraging a comprehensive winter golf schedule in the West—has been most successful.

That the Los Angeles Open and its allied tournaments will have probably the fastest field that has ever appeared on the Pacific Coast is indicated by the early nominations for this January tournament. The entire U.S. Ryder Cup team was signed recently to appear here in 1930.

This Los Angeles tournament has grown so rapidly that it has become necessary to enlarge the group directly behind the actual staging. For that reason three additional members have been added. The representatives of this group consist of three organizations—the Pacific Southwest Professional Golfers' Association, the Southern California Golfers' Association and the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles.

It is upon a similar plan as this that other cities have patterned tournament direction, for it has proven both sane and practical.

JONES, THE MASTER GOLFER

For the Third Time Annexes the Open Championship of the United States.
Swamps Al Espinosa in the Play-off Necessitated by a tie Score of 294 for the 72 Holes.

THE winning of the U. S. Open Championship by Bobby Jones, for the third time last month at the Winged Foot Club, Mamaroneck, N.Y., was not unexpected, although the Georgian had again the experience of playing off for the title. In 1925 he tied with Bobby Cruickshank, former Scottish amateur, and won. In 1925 he was beaten in the play-off by Willie Macfarlane, another Scot., and again last year by Johnny Farrell. Since 1923 Jones has won the U.S. Open three times and been runner-up thrice, a record which stamps him as the world's greatest golfer, although Walter Hagen runs him a close second for that honour and possibly as a result of his four victories in the British Open should be bracketed with him. It must not be forgotten, however, that since 1923 Jones has also won the U. S. Amateur Championship four times and the British Open twice.

Jones started off the first day's play by registering a sparkling 69. He faltered a bit on the second day with a 75, but came back on the third day with a 71, or one under par. On the fourth round he came nearly being eliminated as a result of an indifferent 79 which allowed Al Espinosa, the Spanish-American from Chicago, with rounds of 70-72-77-75—294, to tie him for first place honours. The great Georgian, however, in the play-off the following day at 36 holes literally smothered Espinosa in the presence of a gallery of 5,000 enthusiasts. Jones with rounds of 72 and 69 for a total of 141 gave his stocky opponent an unmerciful beating. The best Espinosa could do was to collect an 80 and an 84 for 164 or 23 strokes to the bad. It was a "wash-out" all right.

Showing the vicissitudes of the game, "Johnny" Farrell, 1928 champion, did not even qualify to play in the last 36 holes of the Championship. The two Canadian qualifiers, Mr. Ross Somerville, of the London Hunt, and Jimmie Johnstone, professional Rosedale Golf Club, amongst many other stars with scores respectively for the first two days of 161 and 163 (36 holes), were counted out.

In the play-off Jones beat Espinosa at his own game—the play to the green that is supposed to be the Spaniard's main reliance. On the first two holes, where Al hit the pin with his chip shot and nearly sank an explosion shot out of a trap, it looked as though he was in for a good day. From then on the tables were reversed, with Jones consistently out-driving, out-approaching, and easily out-putting the Chicagoan.

Espinosa "took the money" in the tournament. Before the play-off started Al was assured first cash prize of $1,000, the biggest so far padded out for the leading professional, winner or not. Gene Sarazen and Densmore Shute, who tied for third place at 296, collected $700 apiece. Tommy Armour, tied with George Von Elm for fifth, got $550. Von Elm was the leading amateur at the Canadian Open last year at Rosedale, Toronto. He defeated Jones in 1926 in the final for the U.S. Amateur Championship and is easily the second ranking amateur in America. Among the other 20 prize or money winners, $5,000 in all being distributed, Leo Diegel, Canadian Open Champion, received $300, Horton Smith $150, and Walter Hagen only $50.

There were record attendances at the three days of the Championship, the gate receipts from the galleries being in the neighbourhood of $15,000.

HANDICAPS IN THE PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

A NNOUNCEMENT of provincial golf handicaps for the coming season was made by the Province of Quebec Golf Association recently. The list includes some 300 players who took part in Provincial, invitation and club tournaments last summer and extends only to those rated with 14 or less. Five players have been awarded the lowest handicap, which is three. These are C. C. Fraser and W. McLuckie, both of Kanawaki, and both former amateur champions of Canada, W. M. Hodgson and N. M. Scott, Royal Montreal players, and Jack Cameron, who represents the Rivermead Club of Ottawa. With a handicap of four, five others have been named: Carol Stuart, of Fair-

CANADIAN WOMEN INVITED TO PARTICIPATE IN 72-HOLE MEDAL TOURNEY

ACORDIAL invitation has been received by the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union from the Western Women's Golf Association for Canadian players with handicaps of nine or less to compete in the "Derby", an international 72-hole medal competition for women which will be held at the Flossmoor Country Club, Flossmoor, Ill., on Sept. 9, 10, 11 and 12. This is a style of tournament that has never before been attempted in women's golf, rounds of 18-hole medal play on four successive days, but it is an innovation that will be watched closely. Invitations will be sent to leading players in the United States and Canada and also to any British and French players who enter in the U.S. Women's National at Detroit.

The U. S. National Amateur was played at Flossmoor in 1923 and this is sufficient testimonial that the tournament will be a genuine test for the best women players. Flossmoor is a beautiful course, laid out in rolling country with several streams. It has a length of 6,595 yards with a par 72 for men and of 80 for women. It is well trapped but fair with wonderful greens, fast and true.

Coming between the Western Women's Championship at Cleveland during the week of August 26 and the Women's National at Detroit, the week of September 30, and just previous to the two Canadian Championships, the "Derby" should find the players of both country at the top of their games and should attract a large and strong entry.

Mrs. M. K. Rowe, secretary of the C. L. G. U., has forwarded the names of the secretaries of the various Provincial Branches to the committee in charge of the tournament and has suggested that these secretaries be asked for the names of possible competitors from their Provinces to whom individual invitations will be sent by the tournament committee. The chairman of the latter is Miss Sarah M. Richards, Flossmoor Country Club, Flossmoor, Ill.

The winning Niakwa No. 1 team was composed of the following well known players and their scores: A. A. Weir 79, C. L. Hodgman 82, George Heffelfinger 75 (which was the best score of the tournament), J. Gordon 83. Elmhurst team No. 1 in second place had cards of: Carson Mac-Williams 77, M. Thompson, T. Taylor 81, and D. Vison 86.

Following the play a dinner was served at the club house which was presided over by Clarence W. Jackson, president. Guests of honour were, Charles E. Harvey, president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, and D. E. Clement, of Brandon, honorary president of the Manitoba Golf Association. The players from the outside teams also were guests of the association.

Mr. Jackson gave a cordial welcome to the visitors and turned the duty of presenting the championship Birks Trophy over to the winning team to Mr. Harvey. Mr. Harvey congratulated the winners and said it was good to see so much interest in the Inter-Club competition. He was particularly glad to see the honours pass around from club to club.

Alex Weir accepted the trophy on behalf of the Niakwa Club. Mr. Weir urged more inter-club competitive play for the good of the game.

D. E. Clement in presenting the prize for the low medal score complimented Mr. Heffelfinger. "If I could ever get a drive like you did off the first tee I would be satisfied for life," he declared. He gave a cordial invitation to all Manitoba golfers to visit the Brandon Golf and Country Club.

Mr. Heffelfinger thanked Mr. Clement and the association.

Robert Jacob, vice-president of the association, made the presentation to

Reg. Unicume, of Brandon, for the low medal score for visitors with a card of 88. Mr. Jacob paid high tribute to the interest Mr. Unicume had always taken in the competition. He also urged the Winnipeg golfers to get out more and play on the outside courses and told of a tour already planned to take in Portage, Brandon, Souris and several other Manitoba towns.

Mr. Unicume thanked the Winnipeg golfers for their courtesy. "We always have a good time in Winnipeg and hope other Manitoba towns will come in for the competition next year."

W. Alexander, president of the Portage la Prairie Club, extended an invitation to local golfers to visit Portage often during the summer.

A. G. Buckingham, of Brandon, also joined in the invitation to local golfers to pay more friendly visits to the country clubs. In this he was heartily joined by the veteran Sel Macdonald, of Portage la Prairie. Fred Tod, of the Beaches Club, impressed the value of the Inter-Club Championship and urged more teams to take part each year.

Jack Cuthbert, who has moved to Edmonton, was often referred to and a wire was sent extending felicitations.

R. C. S. Bruce, past president of the Manitoba Golf Association, paid a tribute to Mr. Jackson for his untiring and efficient work as president. "He will make one of your best presidents, and in talking of hard workers for the association I never can, nor can you, forget the grand work done for golf in Manitoba by Arthur Wilson, whose name will go down in golf history," he declared. Mr. Bruce, who handled the starting during the event in a fine manner, congratulated the players on their co-operation in making the competition a success, and pointed out the fact that with four-minute periods allotted for 80 players, the last pair at 4.02 got away right on the dot.

LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP OF QUEBEC

Witnesses a Titanic Struggle for Titular Honours Between Last Year's Finalists, Mrs. Dagenais and Miss Virtue, in Which the Laval-sur-le-Lac Representative Records a Well-deserved Victory at the 23rd Hole. Mrs. W. G. Fraser Wins Qualifying Round, But Declines to Accept the Medal.

IT IS a coincidence, and a coincidence quite worth noting, that the finals in both the Ontario and Quebec Ladies' Championships this season marked the coming together of the same players to fight it out for titular honours in 1929 as in 1928.

In the Ontario event the sisters Smith, Miss Cecil and Miss Maude, reached the finals as they also did in 1928, and there was a reversal of form, Miss Maude defeating Miss Cecil, who won the championship last year. And so in the Quebec event. In 1928 Miss Dorothy Virtue, of Whitlock, and Mrs. J. Dagenais, of Laval-sur-le-Lac had a battle royal before the Championship was decided on the 20th hole by Miss Dorothy sinking a putt for a three. Last month Quebec champion and runner-up again came together in the final and a hard-fought final it certainly was. However, on this occasion the charming French-Canadian representative, Madame Dagenais, took the measure of Miss Virtue, not, however until five extra holes had been played. And that is golf—championship golf, worthy of a Miss Joyce Wethered or a Miss Glenna Collett.

There was a magnificent field of entrants for the Championship, which was played over the very fine course of the Summerlea Golf Club, Montreal, the venue of the Canadian Amateur last year. All the leading players of Montreal and Ottawa were on hand, with a sprinkling of players from other clubs in the Ancient Province.

The several times U.S. and Canadian Open Champion, Mrs. W. G. Fraser, now playing under the colours of the Royal Ottawa, as generally expected, with a 45 and 41 for 86 led the big field in the Qualifying Round but right on her heels were Mrs. H. R. Pickens, of the Marlborough Golf Club, Montreal, with a well collected 42-45—87, and Miss Dora Virtue, Whitlock, the defending champion, who carded an excellent 45-43 for an 88.

In a most sportsmanlike manner, Mrs. Fraser, who withdrew from further participation in the Championship, notified Mrs. F. A. Main, chairman of the Tournament, that she would not accept the medal for the lowest gross score, as she did not think it fair to the balance of the field who continued in the title play.

Miss Dorothy Virtue, 1928 Quebec Lady Champion, and runner-up this year.

The Royal Ottawa star was asked by her club to make the trip to Montreal as a member of their team and compete in the Qualifying Round for the C. L. G. U. Shield, emblematic of the team championship, which incidentally, they won. She was forced to leave for her home in Ottawa immediately after the Qualifying Round owing to illness in the family. As a result of this sporting gesture by Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. H. R. Pickens, Marlborough, who had a gross score of 88, one stroke behind the Royal Ottawa representative's winning total, has been accepted by the Quebec Branch officials as this year's medalist.

All players who scored under 100 in the Qualifying Round advanced to the first round of match play for the Championship, and Mrs. S. T. Blaiklock, of Royal Montreal, who was among six who turned in cards of 100, advanced to the first sixteen by winning a play-off. The remaining qualifiers, besides Mrs. Pickens and Miss Virtue, were: Miss Helen Bernard, who had a 92; Miss E. McNaughton, Thetford Mines, 93; Miss Peggy Yuile, Royal Montreal, 93; Mrs. Maud Ross, Royal Ottawa, 95; Mrs. J. Dagenais, Laval, runner-up last year, 96; Miss E. Kinsella, Senneville, 96; Mrs. J. W. Nicoll, Beaconsfield, 97; Miss Kate Robertson, Beaconsfield, 97; Miss L. Lessard, Thetford Mines, 98, and Miss Doris Taylor, Summerlea, 98.

And this is what happened in the play-down:—

First round:—

Mrs. S. T. Blaiklock, Royal Montreal, defeated Mrs. H. R. Pickens, Marlborough, 3 and 2.

Mrs. L. Papineau, Laval, defeated Miss E. McNaughton, Thetford Mines, 5 and 4.

Mrs. J. Dagenais, Laval, defeated Miss Kate Robertson, Royal Montreal, 4 and 3.

Miss Doris Taylor, Summerlea, defeated Miss Helen Bernard, Royal Montreal, 3 and 1.

Miss L. Lessard, Thetford Mines, defeated Miss Peggy Yuile, Royal Montreal, 6 and 5.

Miss Eileen Kinsella, Senneville, defeated Mrs. J. W. Nicoll, Beaconsfield, 7 and 6.

Mrs. Maud Ross, Royal Ottawa, defeated Miss Helen Hague, Royal Montreal, 4 and 3.

Miss Dora Virtue, Whitlock, defeated Mrs. C. F. Ritchie, Whitlock, 6 and 4.

Second round:—

Miss Virtue defeated Mrs. Ross, 4 and 3.

Miss Kinsella defeated Miss L. Lessard, 5 and 3.

Mrs. Blaiklock defeated Mrs. L. Papineau on the 21st green.

Mrs. Dagenais defeated Miss Doris Taylor, 2 and 1.

Semi-finals:—

Miss Virtue defeated Miss Kinsella, 3 and 1.

Mrs. Dagenais defeated Mrs. Blaiklock, 2 and 1.

Final—Mrs. Dagenais defeated Miss Virtue at the 23rd hole.

In the long fought-out struggle for the Championship, the first eighteen holes of steady and consistent golf found first one player then the other in the lead, but never by more than one hole, with the result that the two finalists had to do as they did last year at Laval and go over to the first hole and start all over again.

A huge gallery watched the restart of the most dramatic and exciting extra hole contest ever seen on a Montreal course, and as each extra hole was played with no decision the crowd became larger.

The 500-yard first produced nothing sensational as both played accurately and safely down the fairway, dividing the hole in sixes. Mrs. Dagenais' fifth rimmed the cup but stayed out.

Moving on to the 20th, 445 yards, Miss Virtue got one of her longest drives and then a brassie shot that brought her to the green. Mrs. Dagenais was short on her first two shots and just reached the green on her third. A remarkable 75-foot putt of Mrs. Dagenais saved the hole, as the defending champion had put the ball a nice five feet from the hole on her fourth. Miss Virtue's five-foot putt for a half did not look so easy but the Whitlock player never wavered and she sank the ball cleanly.

The two played safely on their first shots at the 21st, but both found the sand pit beside the green on their second. A putt apiece found the players side by side on the green about an inch from the hole.

Continuing to the 22nd, 135 yards, Mrs. Dagenais laid her first right on the green and Miss Virtue reached the edge. Miss Virtue this time made the sensational putt but missed the hole by a fraction. Mrs. Dagenais failed to sink her second and still another extra hole was necessary.

Mrs. Dagenais sliced a trifle at the 370-yard hole and the ball rolled into the rough at the side of the course. Miss Virtue followed with a beautiful long drive down the fairway. The challenger, after a little deliberation, decided to use her brassie and made the best shot of the day when she neatly made the green. Miss Virtue lost the match when she topped her approach, and the ball after rolling into a ditch struck a rock and bounced back onto the fairway.

Mrs. Blaiklock, semi-finalist in the Quebec Ladies' Championship.

The match was over, and the two contestants having treated the gallery to the most exciting game seen in Montreal in many years, were given a rousing round of cheers as they returned to the club house.

The splendid cards of the participants in this quite titantic struggle:—

Summerlea is a Willie Park course, exceedingly well designed and trapped, and by no means easy to negotiate, so these cards of Mrs. Dagenais and Miss Virtue show that they were playing golf of a championship calibre. Mrs. Dagenais, by the way, in the semi-finals, was three down to Mrs. Blaiklock at the 9th hole. She then staged a brilliant comeback, winning five of the next holes in a row to become two up on the 17th. Miss Virtue played the best golf of the championship in her match with Mrs. Ross, who only recently defeated Mrs. W. G. Fraser for the championship of the Royal Ottawa Golf Club. Miss Virtue was out in 39 and for the 15 holes required to win from Mrs. Ross had a card of 67, which included seven pars.

During the championship week there were many interesting competitions in the various consolation flights and also driving, approaching and putting. The weather was ideal and the many contestants thoroughly enjoyed the various events.

Following the Championship Final a most delightful tea was given by the ladies' committee of the Summerlea Golf Club. Afterwards came the presentation of the many beautiful prizes with Mrs. Thomas Arnold, President of the Quebec Branch of the C. L. G. U., officiating at this interesting function. The results:—

Champion: Mrs. J. Dagenais, Laval, Province of Quebec Golf Association Cup; Canadian Ladies' Golf Union Cup; Summerlea Trophy.

Runner-up: Miss Dora Virtue, Whitlock, prize presented by the Ladies' Branch of the Summerlea Golf Club.

Semi-finalists: Miss Eileen Kinsella, Senneville; Mrs. S. T. Blaiklock, Royal Montreal.

Qualifying Round: Low gross, Mrs. W. G. Fraser, Royal Ottawa, who refused prize on account of withdrawal; won by 2nd low gross, Mrs. H. R. Pickens, Marlborough.

Low nett, presented by Mrs. T. Arnold, silver division, Miss Peggy Yuile, Royal Montreal.

Much of the success of this outstanding championship is due to Mrs. Arnold, President of the Quebec Branch of the C. L. G. U., Mrs. F. A. Mann, chairman of the Field Day Committee, and their able committees. The ladies certainly do know how to run a golf tournament. In this respect "mere man" might often well take a lesson from them.

TOLLEY TO PARTICIPATE IN U. S. AMATEUR

CYRIL TOLLEY, who recently for the second time won the British Amateur Championship, sails on the 14th of August for the States to take part in the American Amateur at Del Monte the week of September 2nd. He will be accompanied by E. Storey, Dale Bourne and Major Guy Campbell. The big Britisher, who has the reputation of being the world's longest amateur driver, will be a colourful entrant and may go far, although it is hardly thought that he can duplicate the success of his fellow-countryman, "Phil" Perkins, who was runner-up to Bobby Jones last year. Storey, too, is a very good player, a former Captain of the Cambridge team. Both have played in the States and Canada with the Walker Cup team. The other members of the party are not golfers of first class rank. Perkins, by the way, is to take up his permanent residence in New York in a couple of months or so where he has secured a good position with a bond company. He will be a distinct loss to British golf, as it is generally conceded that he is the best amateur player developed there since the war. Perkins makes the fourth brilliant amateur the past few years to forsake the Mother Country for the States. The others are, Tommy Armour, Willie Hunter (also like Perkins a former British amateur champion) and Bobby Cruickshank. The latter three have all turned professionals to their decided financial advantage. It was rumoured that Perkins, too, would join the paid brigade, but he strenuously denies this.

LONDON INVITATION TOURNAMENTS

Bring Out Record Fields of Entrants. Mrs. Douglas Weld Wins Ladies' Medal Event and C. Ross Somerville the Men's. Amateur Champion Turns in a Course Record of 69.

THE London Hunt Golf Club, which boasts a particularly interesting 18-hole course, staged two most successful Invitation Tournaments last month which attracted many of the leading players of Ontario.

The ladies' event brought out one hundred players. In this Mrs. Douglas Weld, a native of London, but who recently removed to Toronto, where she plays under the colours of the Toronto Club, quite starred in the medal play when she returned a sparkling 84, which was six strokes better than Miss Maude Smith, Ontario Ladies' Champion, and her sister, Miss Cecil, the 1928 champion, each of whom had cards of 90. Other good scores were:—

Mrs. W. S. Hunt, Sarnia, 91; Mrs. C. Eddis, Rosedale, 92; Mrs. S. Jones, Toronto, 93; Mrs. V. Sifton, Toronto, 95; Mrs. W. J. Moore, Toronto, 95; Miss Millichamp, Rosedale, 95; Mrs. H. Cowan, Sarnia, 96; Miss I. Ross, Highland, 97; Mrs. F. Cups, Stratford, 97; Miss D. Farncombe, L.H., 97; Mrs. A. M. Jarvis, L.H., 99; Mrs. R. E. Davison, Toronto, 99; Mrs. W. Cowley, L.H., 99; Mrs. G. Phippen, Rosedale, 100.

Notwithstanding the large field of entrants, the Tournament was run off in a most admirable manner—but then the Ladies' Committee of the London Hunt is noted for its executive ability.

Following the completion of the driving and approaching and putting competitions the prizes were presented to the following winners by Mrs. George C. Gunn, president of the ladies' section of the Hunt Club, and Mrs. Allan McLean, the ladies' captain:—

Gross score—1, Mrs. Douglas S. Weld, Toronto Golf, 84; 2, Miss Maude Smith, Toronto Golf, 90.

Nett scores—1, Miss Betty Farncombe, London Hunt, 70; 2, Mrs. Lake, Ridgeway, 71.

Best gross, first nine—Mrs. Victor Sifton, Toronto Golf, 45.

Best gross, second nine—Mrs. Grattan Hall, Scarboro, 37.

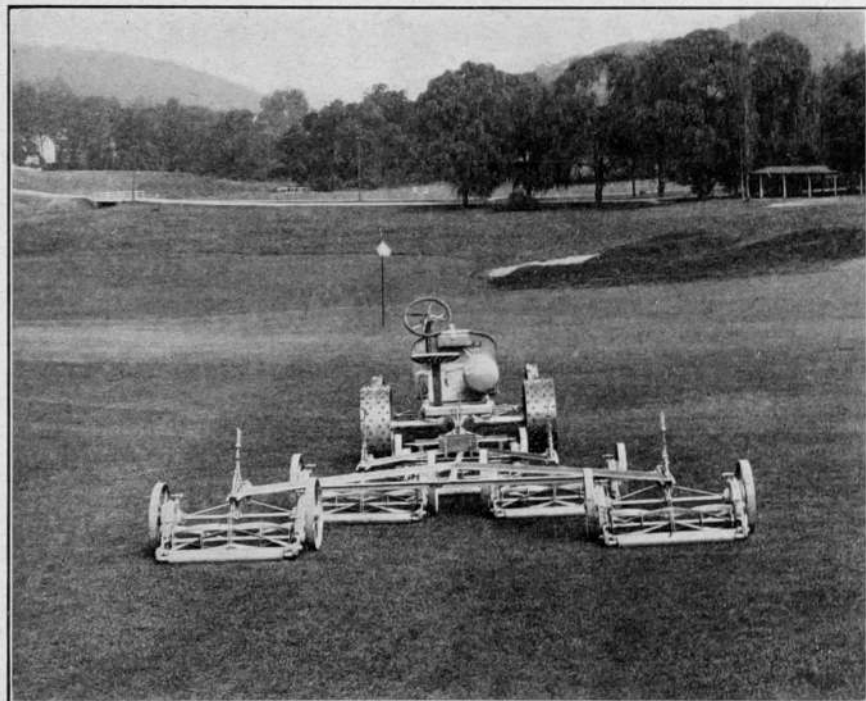

Best nett, second nine—1, Mrs. Rogers, London Highlands; Mrs. Turner, St. Thomas, and Mrs. E. Nicholls, London Hunt, 33.

Team prizes—Gross scores—Toronto Golf Club, 357 (Mrs. D. S. Weld 84, Miss Maude Smith 90, Miss Cecil Smith 90, and Mrs. Sidney Jones 93); nett scores, Rosedale Golf Club, 329 (Mrs. C. S. Eddis 77, Mrs. G. Shippen 78, Miss Mary Millichamp and Miss Helen Reid 88).

Sealed holes, Nos. 1, 2, 17 and 18—Mrs.

Amateur Champion Breaks Course Record

The following day the men of the London Hunt were hosts to 140 of the leading amateurs of the Province. It was a regular championship field.

For the second year in succession the Canadian Amateur Champion, C. Ross Somerville, who is deservedly the golfing idol of his home town, won the tournament with the remarkably fine score of 76-69—145. His play was the feature of the day. His second round of 69 is the amateur record for the Hunt Club course, which although it looks fairly simple is by no means easy of negotiation. His record-making card:—

Out .....344444544—36
In .....443434443—33—69

Seven strokes back of Somerville, who is driving a longer ball than ever this season, was the Lambton ace, F. G. Hoblitzel, with 152. Other good scores (165 or better):—

H. Borthwick, Weston, 156; G. Taylor, Jr., York Downs, 156; J. Nash, Jr., London Hunt, 157; R. L. Wright, London Hunt, 159; E. C. Gould, Brantford, 159; W. Sutherland, Highland, 159; A. L. Hurley, Jr., Brantford, 165.

The prize winners were as follows:

Best nett score, 36 holes—George Robinson, London Hunt, 75-65—140.

Best gross, morning—Hugh Borthwick, Weston, 76.

Best gross, afternoon—F. G. Hoblitzel, Lambton, 74.

Best nett, morning—G. Pumphrey, London Hunt, 66.

GRAND MERE VENUE OF A MOST SUCCESSFUL FIELD DAY

GRAND MERE, which has one of the most charming courses in the Province of Quebec, was the scene July 4th of another successful Field Day staged by the Quebec Branch of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union. There was a splendid field of some 120 entrants comprising the majority of the leading players of Montreal, Quebec City, Grand Mere, Thetford Mines and other golfing centres in the Province.

That very sterling player, Miss Eileen Kinsella, of the Senneville Club, Montreal, negotiated the very difficult Grand Mere course in a gross 98, 47 out, 51 in, to lead the field and win first prize in the Silver Division. Just back of her only one stroke was Mrs. Hope Foy, of Quebec City, a very well known Tournament player indeed. Other good medal scores were: Miss Kate Robertson, Beaconsfield, Montreal, 102; Mrs. C. F. Ritchie, Whitlock, Montreal, 102; Mrs. G. Chahoon, Jr., Grand Mere, 104; Mrs. L. Papineau, Laval, Montreal, 105; Miss Doric Taylor, Summerlea, Montreal, 105; Mrs. C. Thompson, Quebec City, 106; Mrs. J. W. Wallace, Grand Mere, 106; Mrs. C. Beer, Beaconsfield, Montreal, 107; Mrs. Lancaster, Quebec City, 107; Miss Lessard, Thetford Mines, 108; Miss E. McNaughton, Thetford Mines, 108; Mrs. J. P. MacIntosh, Royal Montreal, 110.

The prize for the best nett in the silver division went to Mrs. G. Chahoon, Jr., of the Grand Mere Club, with a score of 84. In the bronze division, Mrs. K. Saunders, of Grand Mere, gained honours for the best gross with a score of 108, while Miss E. Holbrooke, of Grand Mere, turned in a 79 to take nett honours in the same division. These were all very popular wins.

The special prize for the 36 handicap was won by Mrs. O. Irwin, of Kanawaki, who scored a gross of 109, leaving a nett of 73.

Mrs. Chahoon, who took the prize for the best nett, turned in a card of 104, taking 51 strokes out and 53 in, the handicap of 20 giving the Grand Mere expert a nett of 84. Mrs. K. Saunders took a 53 on the outward journey, and two additional in to make up her total of 108.

Grand Mere most hospitably entertained the visitors, but then Grand Mere has had always an enviable reputation in this respect.

THE PASSING OF MR. R. E. DICKENSON, HEAD OF THE GOLF SHAFT AND BLOCK CO.

IN THE passing of Mr. Robert E. Dickinson, of Memphis, Tenn., the golf and shuttle block industry in particular, and the entire hardwood industry as a whole received a severe shock.

Mr. Dickinson was an outstanding and dominant figure in his profession.

Mr. Dickinson was born and educated in Virginia, but has lived for the past seventeen years in Memphis. Going into the hardwood business twenty years ago, he began by making shuttle blocks, exporting most of his products to European looms. When the World War came on, and oars were needed he began the manufacture of them in such quantities that he practically supplied the English Navy. During the war he also established a large domestic trade for shuttles and oars.

After the war when the oar trade began to wane, Mr. Dickinson went into the manufacture of golf shafts and heads, and other dimension stock on a very large scale.

He associated with him Mr. C. F. Work and jointly they owned the Golf Shaft & Block Company. Mr. Dickinson was president of this company at the time of his death.

The Golf Shaft & Block Company is the largest company of its kind in the world, doing business with practically every country in Europe, as well having a large domestic trade and an agency in Toronto.

There are many outstanding achievements due directly to Mr. Dickinson's ability and efforts, among them being a standardization of a method for testing shafts, which was effected shortly before his death at a conference held in Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Dickinson was there in person and directed the campaign. Some of his close friends feel that his untiring effort and unlimited energy in prosecuting any cause that he espoused may have been a contributing cause of his untimely death. He has waged a long and successful battle against the steel shaft. So convinced was he that no golf shaft in the world could equal Nature's own well seasoned hickory wood shaft, that he spent thousands of dollars to give the golf world this information.

His influence and the real information he has given the public and his honest efforts to give the people what they paid for will live on. He has builded on solid rock, with integrity and real knowledge of his products as a foundation.

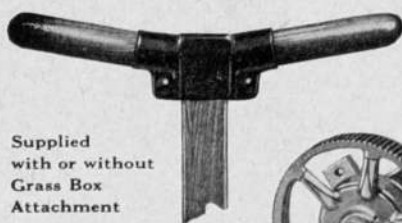

His company has but to "carry on" in his footsteps. Mr. Dickinson's death occurred in New York, suddenly on June 20th, on the eve of his sailing with his family for Europe.

He had seemed unusually well and in good spirits that day. Having his family with him, he had planned to take an extended trip through Europe, landing at Glasgow and returning in the early fall from Naples.

Many friends in Canada will join in sincerest sympathy to Mrs. Dickinson and her family in the irreparable loss they have been called upon to sustain—in which sentiment the Editor of the "Canadian Golfer" begs leave to be associated.

COULD PLAY SLOWER STILL

WILFRED REID, the English professional now located in Detroit, who is very well known and exceedingly popular on Canadian courses, has a fund of good golf stories and tells them well. Years ago in England he was playing a round with Sir Ralph F., who was none too fast a player and liked to play in a leisurely manner. Behind them were four young players who did not observe the amenities of golf and several times drove into Sir Ralph's party. At three of the early holes the boys had done this. At the fifth tee Sir Ralph and Wilfred both made fine drives, but just as Sir Ralph was taking his stance to play his second shot a ball whizzed by him. The second and third balls also passed him, but when the fourth ball carried over his head he told his caddie to pick up the four balls. He then wrote on one of his cards and handed it to the boy telling him to deliver it and the balls to the four young bloods. And this is what he wrote: "With Sir F.'s compliments. He knows he is a slow player, but he can play a h—l of a lot slower, if he likes."

ISLINGTON GOLF CLUB IS ROBBED OF CASH AND CHEQUES

BETWEEN midnight and 8 o'clock Monday morning, July 8th, someone who evidently knew the interior arrangements of the building broke in the cellar window of the shower room of the Islington Golf Club, Toronto, pried open the door at the top of the cellar steps and thereby secured access to the office of the Secretary of the Club, Captain Melville Millar. Breaking open the locker used for the storage of books the thief or thieves stole the cash box which had been placed there and made a tidy haul of $166.50 in cash, principally green fees collected during the week-end, and about $900 in unendorsed cheques, or a total of $1,134, of which only the cash will be a loss. The Provincial Police are at work on the case and have strong hopes of making an arrest. The culprits were lucky inasmuch as Captain Millar rarely leaves any cash in his office over-night.

"OUR HOLE-IN-ONE-CLUB"

"Eagles" Are Still the Order of the Day on the Golf Courses of Canada, Both East and West.

A RECORD golf season in Canada in 1929 is going to be a record season for "Hole-in-One" stunts. From every Province this month comes word of the performance. Here is a fresh batch up to and including July 15th:—

Mr. Robert Barr, of Regina, who makes the first hole-in-one at Jasper Park this season.

From faraway Powell River, B.C., where the Powell River Paper Company grinds out newsprint by the thousands of tons, comes word of the feat. The 9th hole on the pretty course supported by the Company for the enjoyment of its hundreds of employees is 110 yards. Mrs. Edgar A. Tapp negotiated it in one 'tother day. "A pretty tap" of course.

Mr. Latham Burns, well known member of the Toronto Golf Club, chose the difficult 7th hole for the feat—180 yards. Eric Bannister, professional of the St. Charles Golf Club, Winnipeg, five years ago made a one at this hole—the only other occasion on which it has been recorded.

The Ottawa Hunt and Golf Club does not believe in doing things by halves. Two "oneers" are reported from this course. Mrs. E. Grand, the 15th, 163 yards, in one, and Mrs. C. S. MacGillivray, the 17th, 153 yards, in one.

The Humber Valley Golf Club, Toronto, also reports a double stunt. Mr. P. P. Young got "his" at the 1st hole, 175 yards, Glen Stewart course, and Mr. L. V. Allen on the 13th hole, Humber Valley, 200 yards long. Glen Stewart and Humber Valley courses are both under the same management.

The first "oneer" on Jasper Park, the famous C. N. R. scenic course in the heart of the Canadian Rockies, goes this season to Mr. Robert Barr, of McGill College, living in Regina, Sask. He turned the trick at the 12th hole.

York Downs, the well known Toronto club, is in the picture this month. Mr. Z. G. Lash found the tin from the tee on the 17th hole, 153 yards.

Mr. W. H. Campbell, playing with Messrs. A. L. McCulloch, Doble and G. H. Campbell, over the Beaconsfield course, Montreal, put a beauty over at the 8th hole, the famous "Gibraltar", 170 yards, and found the cup.

Salmon Arm, B.C., is getting to be a regular performer. Mr. S. G. Stokes, playing with Messrs. R. H. Fortune and A. G. Peake, sank his tee shot at the 5th hole, 110 yards. Mr. Fortune, by the way, also made a one this year.

Mr. M. A. Doyle, of Winnipeg, experienced the "once in a lifetime experience" when he negotiated the difficult 4th hole at the Elmhurst Golf Club, Winnipeg—a 186 yarder, with a water hazard to catch a poorly played tee shot.

Mr. R. C. Donald, a charter "Canadian Golfer" subscriber, prominent Torontonian and popular Lambton golfer, whilst on a visit to Victoria, B.C., with Mrs. Donald, decided to gain fame immortal when he negotiated a "one-shot" on the second hole of the far-famed Victoria Golf course at Oak Bay. Hearty congratulations to the most genial of sportsmen on joining our club.

Comes the Chaudiere Golf Club, which boasts one of the most beautiful courses in Ottawa. Dr. George Malcolm selected the 17th, 95 yard hole for the stunt. He was playing with Mr. F. Ballantyne at the time.

And here is a particularly interesting hole-in-one, which goes to the credit of Mr. G. S. A. Connell, of the National Drug and Chemical Co. Ltd., of Winnipeg. It happened at the fourth hole at Windsor Park, Winnipeg, 230 yards in length. Mr. Thompson was with a foursome, and they were just putting out at the 4th hole when Mr. Connell figured it would be all right for him to drive. He hit out a straight one with an iron and the ball sailed to the green. While Mr. Thompson was standing on the green, Connell's ball ran on. It touched the former on the heel and was deflected into the cup for an ace! There have been peculiar holes in one before, but this one was certainly a lucky "rub of the green". Mr. Connell, by the by, way back in 1916 made the 5th hole on the old Banff course in one.

The Vancouver Golf and Country Club is always a monthly visitor. Our old culprit the "Punch Bowl" again—120 yards where Mr. Grant Smith accomplished the feat. In the past few years there have been over a score of ones made at this hole. It holds the record for Canada.

It is very appropriate that Kanawaki, Montreal, where the Canadian Open Championship is to be held this month, should be in the limelight just now and very appropriate, too, that an official of the club should be the one to secure a "oneer". Mr. E. M. McDougall, vice-president, registered the performance at the 3rd hole, 110 yards, thereby setting an excellent example to the hundred or more experts who will do battle for the Canadian Open, July 25th-27th.

Mr. G. A. Melville, of the Uplands Golf Club, Victoria, B.C., playing with Messrs. S. Montgomery and J. Yates, of the Glen Oaks Club, Vancouver, and Mr. G. H. Barry, of Victoria, secured his "eagle" at the 16th hole, 135 yards.

Mr. Wm. Dowling has put Brandon on the map for the first time this season. He got his at the 165-yard 2nd hole on the Brandon Golf and Country Club course. He was playing with Messrs. D. E. Clement, Hon. President of the Manitoba Golf Association, J. B. Cordingley and J. S. Laughton. In reporting the feat Tom Grace, the capable Brandon pro, writes:

"Mr. Dowling started to play golf at 55 years of age and this is his 6th year. He is an old Brantford boy and is therefore very proud to be able to send his entry for your 'Hole-in-One Club'."

"Again a lady fayre". Mrs. Douglas Woods, of the Toronto and Rosedale Clubs, whilst a visitor to the Barrie Country Club course, Barrie, Ont., successfully negotiated the 2nd hole, 130 yards, in one.

And here is a remarkable Scottish performance. Between August of last year and this spring Mr. G. Barnard, playing over the Prestwick St. Cuthberts course at Ayr, has holed in one on no less than five occasions—the 12th three times, the 18th once, and the 8th once. We hope Mr. Barnard has no intention of visiting Canada. He would be an "expensive proposition". Total holes-in-one to date 50.

CLUB CHAMPIONSHIPS AT EDMONTON

Mrs. R. H. Horne Wins Edmonton Club's Lady Championship and Jack Cuthbert the Men's.

MRS. R. H. HORNE is the new lady golf champion of the Edmonton Club. She won the club championship by defeating Miss May Mountifield, Western Canada champion, on the 20th green in the final for the honours played over the Municipal course.

The 18-hole final provided plenty of excitement for the large gallery which followed the players around the course as the match was close and hard fought all the way.

Mrs. Horne turned in a card of 86 for the 18 holes and 95 for the round. Miss Mountifield had 88 and ten strokes more for the two extra holes.

One of the big features of the match was Mrs. Horne's fine driving. She was hitting a long ball and on nearly all occasions out-distanced Miss Mountifield. The winner, however, was somewhat erratic on the greens, missing many short putts. On the sixteenth she missed a three-footer that would have practically cinched the match.

Mrs. Horne won the Regina Ladies' City Championship last year over the difficult Regina Barracks course. Her qualifying score was 89. She also won the Wascana Country Club championship and was winner of the President's Cup.

Mrs. Horne took up golf in 1926 and played in her first competition two years ago. In 1927 she won the first flight cup in the Edmonton city tournament and also the city handicap cup. At Calgary during the Provincial tournament she took the long driving prize with a tee shot of 238 yards and later won the Provincial handicap prize.

Two weeks later at Red Deer she captured the Central Alberta Ladies' title.

The annual club championship competition at the Mayfair Golf and Country Club, Edmonton, was captured by Harry Shaw, Jr., when he defeated Harris McLeod on the 36th green. While the brand of golf was not up to expectations, the players kept a fair-sized gallery interested throughout the round.

Shaw defeated W. Mathews in the semi-final on the 18th, while McLeod advanced into the last bracket at the expense of R. Olfson by winning on the 19th.

Bob Protor took the honours in the first flight whilst J. W. Morris won out in the second flight. The consolation prize went to F. Sutcliffe.

Jack Cuthbert, former Western Canada amateur champion, formerly of Winnipeg, but now a resident of Edmonton, annexed the men's championship of the Edmonton Golf and Country Club when he defeated Harvey Day, Jr., last year's champion and present city title holder, on the 36th green, in one of the most keenly contested championship finals played over the Country Club course for some time.

Playing nearly perfect golf throughout the entire round, Cuthbert and Day battled it out before a large gallery, and, so close was the struggle it appeared to the spectators that the match would go into ex-

THE LARGER AND LIGHTER BALL

ALTHOUGH the Royal and Ancient, in the meantime unlike the U. S. G. A., has refused to sanction the larger and lighter ball, the agitation is by no means dead in Great Britain. Recently at the West Hill Course the 1.68 inches in diameter and 1.55 oz. in weight ball was given a thorough test and no less an authority than Bernard Darwin is now strongly in favour of the newcomer.

In Darwin's opinion, gained from actual play and from observation, the actual distance lost was only 5 per cent., thus proving that the fears of curtailment of length felt by so many opponents of the change are groundless.

"The ball does not really check the big hitter or restore to being the long shot up to the pin," he observed. "With the wind it goes fully as far as the ordinary ball. Against the wind or in a cross wind it loses perceptibly."

He then goes on to cite specific feats of some of the longest hitters, notably Captain W. H. Aitken. On one hole, the third, measuring 440 yards, with a slight wind helping and coming on his right shoulder, Captain Aitken was home with a drive and a light iron. At another, the fifth, measuring 490 yards, with the tee shot uphill and the second downhill, he pitched on the green and stopped short of the hole with a drive and a spoon shot.

At the sixth, 410 yards against the breeze, he hesitated between a mashie-iron and a No. 2 iron or midiron for his second shot, took the shorter club, forced the shot and failed to make his objective. Had he used the mid-iron he would no doubt have made the green easily.

"It may be boldly laid down," continued Mr. Darwin, "that this ball will not do anything drastic in reducing length."

If that is the case, it is reasonable to inquire why make a change? Why not leave well enough alone?

But the writer goes on to state that when it comes to the ball's behavior it does emphasize the virtue of accurate striking which, after all, is one of the chief arguments advanced by the proponents of a change. One of the chief indictments of the ball used as a present-day standard is that it responds too willingly and well to a poor hit. How many times does it happen that a badly topped drive travels almost as far as a ball truly struck?

There is yet one other phase in its behaviour that evidently impressed the noted English critic, who, by the way, is a grandson of Charles Darwin, and that was its tendency to slice in a left to right wind unless perfectly hit.

Taking up his observation post at the fifteenth hole, a 217-yarder that is said to be one of the finest one-shot holes in existence, he watched drive after drive start out with fair promise and then swerve off to the right, despite the fact that the wind was so light that it should have made no impression on a truly-hit shot.

Interesting News of the Men Who Do So Much for the Royal and Ancient Game, from Coast to Coast

“BILL” FOX, the professional of the St. Clair Country Club, near Windsor, Ontario, recently carded a 63, which the “Canadian Golfer” is inclined to think is a record for an 18-hole course in Canada. And this is how it was done:—
Out .....543324343—31
In .....332344544—32—63

The par for the course is 72, so Fox beat “Old Man Par” by 9 strokes. He had five birdies going out and five coming in. In 1927, Johnny Farrell, last year’s U.S. Open Champion, notched a 64 at St. Clair and it was thought that this record would probably never be equalled. The St. Clair ace is playing great golf this season.

Hugh C. Fletcher, a former Canadian Western Open Champion, professional at the Moose Jaw Golf Club, has recently returned from spending a couple of weeks in the hospital as a result of an illness from which he has completely recovered. He writes that golf in Moose Jaw is booming this season. His own course is in fine condition, whilst the Citizens Club at which his brother Hugh is professional this season, is also in fine shape. Moose Jaw is being visited this year by many golfing tourists.

George Greenwood, the eminent British golf critic, writing of Leo Diegel, the Canadian Open Champion, says:—

“Diegel is the most fascinating golfer I have ever set eyes on. He defies all the precepts and yet produces amazing results.

“What can you say of a man who tees up the ball on a miniature scaffold pole, ties his legs into knots, sways about like a rocking horse, and, when putting, crouches over the ball for all the world like an old woman bending over a tub, washing clothes?”

“There is nothing to say; you can only gaze and marvel.”

After their return from Great Britain, and before the U. S. Open, where neither of them distinguished themselves, Walter Hagen and Horton

Smith played eleven exhibition matches in twelve days, which netted them $6,000. Hagen states positively that he will this year positively make his long heralded tour of Australia and that he will not be in Great Britain next year to play in the Open Championship. In 1930 the

At a meeting of the executive of the Ontario Professional Golfers’ Association, held at the Mississauga Club, the team to meet the Montreal and District Association in a team match under Ryder Cup conditions at the Kanawaki Club, Montreal, on Tuesday, July 23, was selected. Subject to the approval of the Montreal Association, the match will be played by teams of twelve men, a dozen singles in the morning and six two-ball foursomes in the afternoon, each win to count one point. George Cumming, dean of the Ontario professionals, was chosen as captain of the team, and the other members will be: Willie Capt. C. H. Perkins, formerly professional at the Brantford Golf and Country Club and the Vancouver Golf and Country Club, is this season with the Wampanoag Country Club, West Hartford, Conn. The Captain will be much missed in Canadian golf circles. He is both a popular and proficient professional with a very fine record during the Great War.

Karl Keffer, Royal Ottawa Golf Club, Hon. Secretary of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association, announces that the annual meeting of the Association will be held at the Laval-sur-le-Lac Golf Club, Montreal, at 7 p.m., Monday, July 22nd, immediately following the Championship. An executive meeting of the Association will be held the day previous. The affairs of the Association are in a particularly flourishing condition.

* * *

"Bob" Cunningham, the rangy long-hitting Mississauga professional, came into his own at the last of the Ontario Professional Golfers' Association Tournaments before the Canadian Professional and Open at Montreal this month, when he carded a 71 and 73—144 to lead a particularly classy field of Toronto and other professionals at the Mississauga Golf Club, Toronto. Two strokes back of him was Jimmy Johnstone, of Rosedale, who had a first round of 75 and a second round of 71, equalling Cunningham's splendid first round. Other good scores were: A. J. Hulbert, Thornhill, 149; A. Kay, Lambton, 150; W. Lamb, Uplands, 151; L. H. White, Glen Stewart, 155; A. S. Lindfield, Islington, 156; D. Spittal, Royal York, 156; F. E. Lock, St. Andrews, 156; W. Spittal, Oakdale, 157; D. A. Ferguson, Weston, 158; W. E. Crompton, Weston, 159; A. S. Russell, Lakeview, 160; J. Martin, Galt, 160; A. Hunt, Lambton, 160; G. Cumming, Toronto Golf, 161; W. Cunningham, Mississauga, 162; G. Brysdon, Toronto Golf, 162; J. Littler, Scarboro, 162; Lou Cumming, Toronto Ladies, 163; T. Grosart, Islington, 164; D. Hutchison, Humber Valley, 166.

W. E. Crompton, A. Hunt, W. Cunningham, G. Brysdon, J. Littler, and T. Grosart are assistant pros and certainly made a good showing.

Cunningham and Johnstone did not corral all the honours as Davie Spittal of the Royal York, uncovered the hottest brand of golf of the day on his last nine. Going out Spittal could not get going and he made the turn in 45, apparently hopelessly out of the running, but he cut loose. He had pars on the tenth and eleventh and then two birdies. Then came two more pars, then a birdie, par and birdie in order for a 32, four under the inward par. All three won special prizes, Cunningham one of $25 from the club for breaking par in the morning, Johnstone the same amount from President Jess Applegath in the afternoon for the same feat and Spittal $10 from the club for his record score on the last nine in which are located the new holes. In addition the club donated $100 towards the prize money of the day.

Harry Cooper, of Buffalo, N.Y., captured the annual Shawnee Open Golf Tournament from a classy field with a score of 294 for the 72 holes. Johnny Golden, of North Jersey, who set the pace for 54 holes, could do no better than third, being passed in the stretch by Billy Burke, of Westport, who took second money with a score of 298. Golden turned in a card of 301.

AT LAST WINS AN OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP

IT HAS often been said that Abe Mitchell is the greatest golfer who has never won an Open Championship. However, he has at last crashed through, last week winning the Irish Open after a play-off of a triple tie, Archie Compston and Len Holland having scores at the end of the 72-hole grind of 309, the same as Mitchell. In the play-off, 36 holes, Abe carded 150, Compston 152 and Holland 160. The scoring was high throughout the Championship as a result of the heavy gales which swept the sea-girt course at Portmarnock—Ireland's most celebrated links.

Mitchell has never before been a "card and pencil artist". At match play, however, he has been very successful. He was runner-up in the British Amateur in 1912 (the following year he turned professional). He won the £1200 Tournament of 1919 and 1927. The £1000 Tournament in 1919. The Gleneagles Tournament in 1921 and 1927. The Roehampton Tournament in 1927 and other lesser events by the score. The best he has ever done in the British Open was to finish fourth in 1914 and also to tie this year for a similar position, with Percy Alliss.

Mitchell pleads guilty to being 42 so he has not many more championship golfing years ahead of him. He is private professional, to Mr. Sam Ryder, the rich English seed merchant and the donor of the Ryder Cup recently won by the British pros from the Americans, who captured it last year. He has twice visited the United States and Canada with George Duncan, successfully taking part in a large number of profitable exhibition matches. He made himself extremely popular in this country. He is a grand but most unassuming golfer, unfortunately not blessed with robust health, and now that he has at last broken the medal-play jinx, may yet win the British Open which, by right of play, should have been his more than once. Many Canadian friends and admirers hope he will do so.

Abe Mitchell, who at last crashes through to win a medal-play championship.

TOLLEY, BRITISH AMATEUR CHAMPION, AND ROSS SOMERVILLE WILL COMPETE IN U. S. AMATEUR

CYRIL TOLLEY, the recently crowned British Amateur Champion, sails on the 14th August to participate in the U.S. Amateur Championship at Del Monte, September 2-7. He will be accompanied by Eustace Storey, Dale Bourne and Major Guy Campbell. Both Tolley and Storey are well known on Canadian courses, having visited this country with the Walker Cup team in 1924. Tolley is the only one of the party who is looked upon as having any chance in the U.S. event. The world's longest amateur driver, he is always a colourful figure on the links and at times plays a marvellous game. He will be quite one of the outstanding figures at Del Monte, where he will be called upon to meet "Bobby" Jones and all the crack American amateurs. Another International entrant will be Ross Somerville, Canadian Amateur Champion, who will go on from the Canadian Amateur at Jasper Park to California for the U. S. Championship later. It has also been announced that Don Carrick, too, will be an entrant from Canada.

GREAT BRITAIN AND OVERSEAS

Interesting Happenings on the Courses of England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales and the British Overseas Dominions

THE Scottish Ladies' Championship at Nairn brought out a large and representative field. A surprise in the second round was the defeat of Miss Jean McCulloch, of West Kilbride, the defending champion, by Miss K. S. Macdonald, of Moray. The final was eventually played off between Miss Dorie Park, a young player of Longmiddy, and Mrs. Watson, champion in 1920, 1921 and 1922. Mrs. Watson was a little too much for her younger and less experienced opponent and by a score of 3 and 1 won the Championship for the fourth time.

Taking part in different matches on the same day over the Wigan course, T. Wall (ex-captain of the club) and G. C. Healy, both holed out in one at the sixth, which measures 111 yards.

After the British Amateur Championship won by Cyril Tolley his sticks, which he used during the championship for resting purposes while his opponents were playing shots, were auctioned in aid of the funds of the National Playing Fields Association and realized ten guineas. It was stated that Tolley will go to America in the autumn in company with E. F. Storey and T. A. Bourn, two old Cantabs., to compete in the American Amateur Championship.

In the classic competition, "Ladies versus Men" at Stoke Poges, the fair golfers, who received the odds of half a stroke, overwhelmed the men. This is only the third time in which they have been victorious since the event was inaugurated in 1911. The score—it will be noticed that Miss Joyce Wethered was very much in evidence, fresh from defeating Miss Collett at St. Andrews:—

HERBERT STRONG designed the beautiful and sporty eighteen hole golf course belonging to the Manoir Richelieu at Murray Bay. "The task I faced," said he, "was to build the natural beauty of the place into every feature of the play, for the scenery surrounding the Manoir Richelieu is the most impressive setting for a links of which I have knowledge."

How well this celebrated architect succeeded is revealed in the beautiful simplicity of design that makes this course appear to be a gift of nature rather than the work of man.

And when the last ball has found the pin and scores are tallied—what then? Motors coast down winding hills to the Manoir Richelieu. There a salt water pool and a wonderful meal await you. Mrs. H. M. Hall, of Foxrock, is the newly crowned Irish Ladies' Champion. She defeated Miss Iris Taylor on the last green. Miss Taylor had covered herself with glory in the semi-final by putting out Miss Janet Jackson, who has held the title of Irish Lady Champion on no less than six occasions.

H. C. Jolly, runner-up for the recent Leeds Tournament, J. H. Turner, E. R. Whitecombe, and J. G. Sherlock took part in two four-ball matches at Frilford Heath. Playing over the Old Course in the morning Jolly and Turner defeated Whitecombe and Sherlock by two holes, Jolly's individual score of 69 equalling the record for the course, held by Turner, who is the local professional. The competitors played on the New Course in the afternoon, after it had been declared officially open. Jolly and his partner were again successful, the match ending on the 16th green, where Jolly and Turner were three up.

James Braid (Walton Heath) and Ted Ray (Oxhey) beat T. H. Cotton (Langley Park) and W. C. Thomas, the local professional, 2 and 1 in a 36 holes match on the remodelled Royal Blackheath course at Eltham. The veterans were one hole behind at the end of the first round, but they made a good recovery and won on the 35th green.

* * *

Bert Hodson, Newport, looked upon as one of the Old Country's most promising young professionals, he is only 24 years of age, with rounds of 67, 77, 75 and 71, for a total of 290, regained the Welsh Professional Championship played over the Royal Porthcawl course. Hodson was no fewer than 11 strokes ahead of the runner-up, E. W. Kenyan, Creigian.

* * *

The Isle of Mann Championship was won by H. McHarrie, who defeated in the final G. R. Trustrum, who was the 1926 champion. Golf in the tiny island has greatly improved of late years and a golf champion may yet come out of "Manx-land".

* * *

The Suffolk Professional Championship, played for on the Purdis Heath Golf Course at Ipswich, resulted in a victory for Arthur H. Monk, of the Felixstowe Golf Club, after a tie with Bernard Skoyles, of the Gorleston Golf Club. On the replay over 18 holes, Monk won rather easily by a margin of 6 strokes.

DON CARRICK CARDS A 68 AT ROSEDALE

THAT "Don" Carrick, Canadian Amateur Champion 1925 and 1927, since his return from Harvard Law School, is playing just as good golf as ever, was recently demonstrated at Rosedale, Toronto. Playing with his father, Colonel J. J. Carrick, his brother Alex., and Major G. W. McDowell, V.C., the former champion proceeded to click off a sparkling 68. The card:—
 Carrick, out .....44434444—35. In.....344344434—33—68
 Par, out .....454343454—36. In.....445354344—36—72

It will be noticed Carrick beat Old Man Par by no fewer than four strokes. And that is golf. Don bagged six birdies during the round.

This notable performance compares most favourably with the best rounds recorded by the world's leading golfers at the Open Championship at Rosedale last July. On that occasion Archie Compston, the Englishman, carded one round of 67, as also did MacDonald Smith, the Scottish-American ace. The only others on that occasion to break into the sixties were Leo Diegel (who won the Championship) 68, Walter Hagen 69, and Willie Lamb, the Canadian professional champion, 69. MacDonald Smith also had a 69 in addition to his record 67. It will thus be seen what a fine performance Carrick's was.

LIGHTNING TAKES THREE LIVES ON ROSEMOUNT GOLF COURSE

THE most tragic and pathetic accident ever recorded on a Canadian golf course occurred July 7th on the Rosemount Golf Club, Rosemount, Montreal, when three persons were instantly killed by lightning.

The victims were: Mrs. M. Rubenstein, sister-in-law of Alderman Louis Rubenstein, of Montreal, the former well known International skater, and mother of Mortimer Rubenstein, advocate, residing at 123 Madison Avenue, Notre Dame de Grace, Montreal; Alexander McLean, 14 years of age, of 6221 Twenty-Third Avenue, Rosemount, a caddie at the club; Allan Davy, 10 years of age, of 6227 Twenty-Third Avenue, Rosemount, also a caddie.

According to several witnesses, as reported by the Montreal "Gazette", Mrs. Rubenstein was playing with young McLean, who was a very good player indeed, and Davy was acting as caddie for both. They had been out some time when the storm broke. They took shelter beneath a tree at the edge of the course, but it is thought they believed this dangerous, and as soon as the rain moderated they stepped out towards the club house. They had gone only a short distance when the rain started again, and the storm, which was a short but sharp one, broke afresh. Mrs. Rubenstein carried an umbrella in her club bag and she drew it out. She opened it and the three gathered beneath it.

At that moment they were on the vacant fairway a good distance from the club house and they were walking as fast as they could. Suddenly there was a flash of lightning and the trio crumpled up. The umbrella disappeared. Witnesses ran to the assistance of the three victims. They found them unconscious.

The bereaved families of this tragic accident will have the sincere sympathy of golfers throughout the Montreal District and for that matter the whole of Canada. As a slight token of grief and respect the Rosemount course was closed until after the funerals of the three victims.

RENFREW'S PRETTY NEW COURSE AND CLUB HOUSE

RENFREW'S new course which has been under construction since May was completed in every detail last week and turned over to the maintenance staff.

Owing to the fact that the weather has been very dry throughout the Ottawa Valley the seed did not germinate as expected, although considerable growth has been made, and this will probably delay the official opening of the course until possibly September.

In the meantime the members are taking a lot of pleasure from their temporary course of eight holes that has been in commission throughout the season.

The consensus of opinion of those who have seen this new addition to the Ottawa Valley clubs is that when it is put in commission, it will prove to be one of the best, if not the best in the district, and that every hole will be a real test of golf.

A very pretty club house is under construction and will be completed within a few weeks.

The Ontario Wind Engine Co., who have the contract for the water system, are already installing the plant and by the end of the month, or sooner, water will be available at all greens and tees.

Mr. Chas. Ward, who has been assistant greenkeeper at Lookout Point for several years, has been retained as greenkeeper.

HAMILTON'S MAGNIFICENT NEW CLUB HOUSE

Is Formally Opened by the President, Mr. James Moodie, Assisted by Mrs. J. L. Counsell, Mr. J. J. Morrison and Mr. N. S. Braden. Building is Alike a Credit to the Club and the City of Hamilton.

THE Hamilton Golf and Country Club, which has at Ancaster one of the admittedly finest inland golf courses on the Continent, on the afternoon of June 27th formally opened its magnificent new club house, thereby completing and rounding out a really wonderful golfing Ancaster property in 1914. He was very glad to see Mrs. R. A. Lucas and Mr. J. J. Morrison, both original members, sitting on the verandah and taking part in these ceremonies.

The work of building the club house had been all done since November 15 of last year, and he paid tribute to property—a credit alike to this prominent club and the City of Hamilton.

The event was attended by several hundred members and their friends who spent a delightful hour or so in inspecting the imposing building and participating in the interesting opening ceremonies which were held on the large front verandah. A white satin ribbon finished with a large bow was drawn across the handsome entrance. On one side a tall standard held foxgloves, delphinium and canterbury bells.

Mr. James Moodie, the particularly proficient president of the club, opened the ceremonies with a brief speech in which he said he felt justified in referring to the opening of the club house as the second outstanding event in the club's history. The first was the purchasing of the beautiful

Mr. Norman Braden, chairman of the building committee, for his untiring efforts during this time. Mr. Moodie then introduced Mr. J. J. Morrison, who ever since its inception has taken a prominent part in all the activities of the Hamilton Club.

Mr. Morrison briefly reviewed the history of the club and expressed his delight at the handsome building which had been reared on the spot occupied by the original small club house. He then untied the ribbon across the entrance, thus formally opening the new building.

Mrs. J. L. Counsell, president of the women's section, in a charming little speech referred to the pleasant relationship existing between the ladies' committee and the directors and expressed pleasure at the completion of this long hoped for addition to An-caster's attractions.

Following this interesting little programme, tea was served by the ladies' section of the club in the lounge room which was decorated with a mass of summer blossoms—peonies, roses, delphinium and snapdragon.

In the evening the dinner dance was attended by over four hundred of the prominent residents of Hamilton and nearby cities. It was a particularly brilliant wind-up to a most successful opening and the President of the Club, Mr. Moodie, and his executive, and the Ladies' Committee are to be heartily congratulated on the admirable manner in which the proceedings were conducted throughout. It was certainly a red-letter day in the history of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club.

The new club house is in the Old English style which lends itself to dignity and artisticness. It will be of interest to golfing executives throughout Canada to know that largely thanks to Mr. N. S. Braden, vice-president of the Canadian Westinghouse Co., and the members of the building committee, this magnificent club house was completed at a cost of a little over $150,000, showing what careful and expert supervision can do in golf club construction economy. The building really looks like "a quarter of a million or more".

The combined main lounge and dining room is especially a beautiful apartment 34x80. The separate men's private lounge is 17x34 and the private ladies' lounge 17x24. These private lounges form the balconies overlooking either end of the combined main lounge and dining room. In the main lounge under the men's private lounge is arranged a folding door partition by which a good sized dining room for special dinners can be entirely isolated from the general dining room. The men's locker wing is two stories, 34x60, and the ladies' locker room is 34x48. The imposing front verandah is two stories, 16' wide x 80' long. The ladies' verandah is also two stories, each 16' x 34'. The kitchens and quarters for the staff and servants are most commodious.

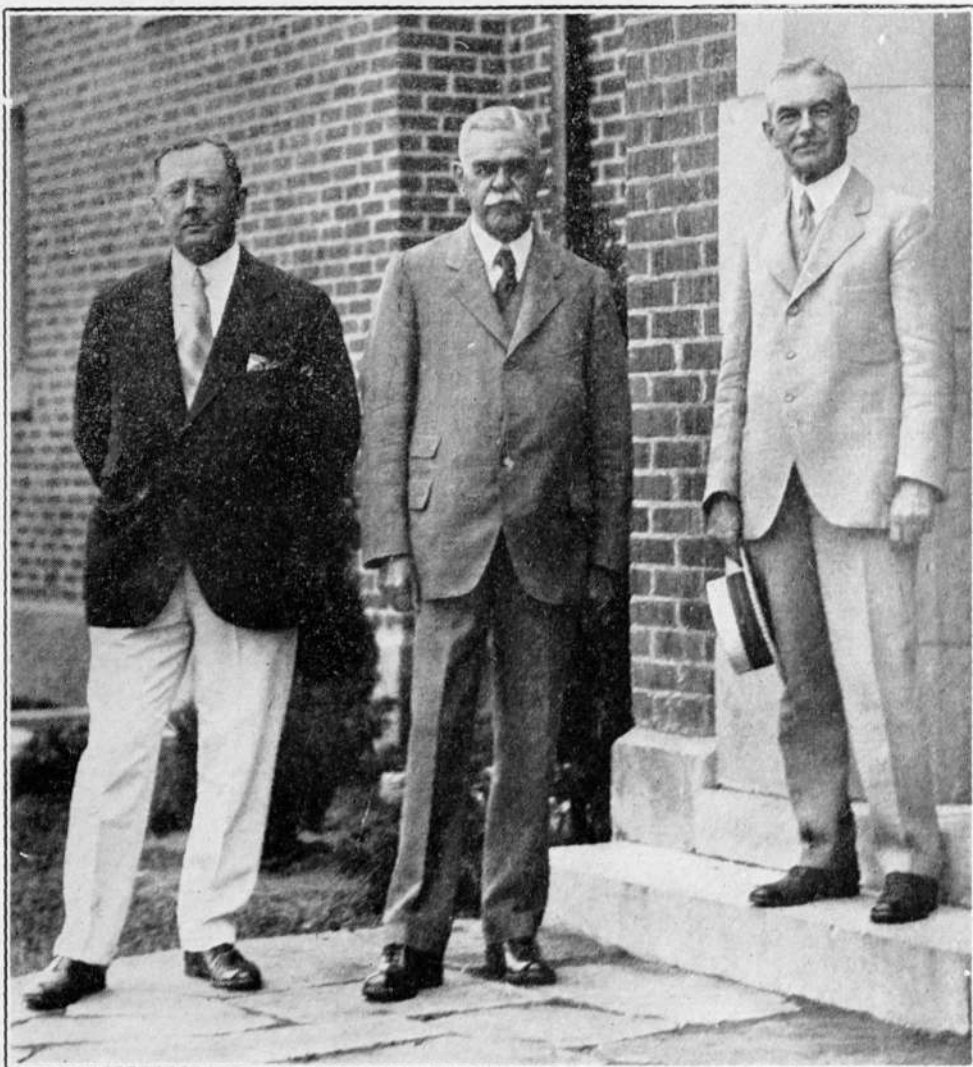

The hardwood floors used throughout the building are known as Bruce-ized floors in 9" squares and are particularly handsome. The entire building is of fireproof construction and has the most modern heating and plumbing equipment and complete system of electric lighting and special hammered iron lighting fixtures and decorated lamps. The roof of the building is slate mounted on gypsum slabs supported by steel rafters and trusses making a most substantial roof structure.

It is particularly noteworthy that the design of the locker-rooms is such that none of the 400 lockers in the men's wing are over 40 ft. from the shower room and the best of attention has been given to the ventilation of the locker wings.

appliances installed, including private office, shower facilities and also a handsome showroom.

Messrs. Hutton and Souter, of Hamilton, were the architects and the

A notable trio of Hamiltonians who participated in the formal opening of the new club house at Ancaster of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club. Reading from left to right, Mr. James Moodie, President of the Club; Mr. J. J. Morrison, charter member and holder of every office in the gift of the Club. Mr. N. S. Braden, Chairman of the Building Committee.

The wants of the professional, Nicol Thompson, for so many years the particularly efficient occupant of the post, and his staff have not been overlooked either. He has been provided with a shop 30x50 with all modern buildings are certainly a monument to their ability and artistry. The general contractor was W. H. Cooper. The plumbing and heating system was installed by Chas. Smith. The Kelvinator refrigerating system is used throughout. The electric fixtures were manufactured by the Metal Studios of Hamilton, these fixtures being of hammered iron.

A word of praise really must be accorded to John Sutherland, for many years the extremely capable head greenkeeper of the Hamilton Club and his staff who literally in a few days laid out the walks and grounds surrounding the club house so that on the opening day they looked as though they had been the work of months of care and attention.

The lot of the Hamilton golfer today is certainly to be envied. Incidentally, what a change from 20 years ago or so, when more often than not, an old re-vamped frame dwelling or barn on the farm taken over for golf links, served as a club house for the then but few followers of the Royal and Ancient game.

The directors and officers of the club are:—James Moodie, President; G. W. Wigle, Vice-President; N. S. Braden, Honourary Secretary; A. A. Adams, W. S. Burrill, George D. Fearman, G. F. James, F. G. Malloch, Argue Martin, H. J. Stambaugh, Jr., A. A. Adams, Captain; G. W. Wigle, Vice-Captain; Secretary-Manager, J. G. McAlpine.

The building committee:—N. S. Braden (chairman), W. S. Burrill, James Moodie, Argue Martin, G. W. Wigle.

The officers of the Ladies' Section of the Club:—Mrs. R. A. Lucas, Honourary President; Mrs. J. L. Counsell, President; Miss Climie, first Vice-President; Mrs. George Lynch-Staunton, second Vice-President; Mrs. H. B. Greening, third Vice-President; Mrs. W. ## CANADIAN SENIORS PLAY AT MUIRFIELD

WRITING from St. Andrews, Scotland, Mr. W. Hastings Webling, Hon. Secretary of the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association, states that the weather has been glorious during the Seniors' tour of Great Britain, although many of the courses are badly burned up as a result of dry weather and are terribly keen. The Canadians played their first Inter-club match at historical Muirfield, most appropriately on Dominion Day, July 1st, the guests of the Hon. Company of Edinburgh Golfers. It was a very close match, the Canadians losing by one point. The score:—

BRITISH SENIORS WIN IMPRESSIVELY AT ST. ANDREWS

AS WAS generally anticipated in the three-cornered Seniors' Golf Championship, at St. Andrews, Scotland, this month, neither the United States Seniors nor the Canadian Seniors had a ghost of a chance against the British Seniors if they cared to field anything like their best team. There are a score or more of men, 55 years and upwards, in Great Britain, several of them of former Amateur Championship standard, who could give a team of sixteen of the best players of any individual club in the United States or Canada a "run for their money" or probably a licking. When it comes to Senior golf, the Old Country is in a class by itself and naturally so, because they have been playing golf there for years without number and we have been only doing so the last few decades. Naturally, they have a big field to draw from. It was not surprising therefore, that the Britishers in the triangular championship should have scored 41 points, the U.S. 15 points, and Canada 12 points—a very lop-sided victory indeed.

These Senior International Championships, by the way, will probably in the future be cut down to 10 or 12 players a side, and the event scheduled every two years, instead of every year. This following the idea in the Walker and Ryder Cup events. In other words, instead of coming here, say in 1930, the British team will next visit Canada and the United States in 1931 and the return visit will not be made until 1933. It is no open secret that Mr. Snare, the Captain of the U. S. Seniors, and Mr. George S. Lyon, Captain of the Canadian Seniors, had quite a time this year to get sixteen men anything like the strength of their respective Associations, as regard playing ability, to make the trip which calls for much time and much money.

From letters just received, the members of the Canadian Seniors are having the time of "their young lives". In England and Scotland alike they are being feted and entertained. By winning at St. Andrews the British Seniors now have two victories out of three to their credit and the U.S. Seniors one.

A MIDSUMMER "FOOL STORY" ABOUT MISS WETHERED

THESE dog days it is not to be wondered at perhaps, that a weird special story comes out from New York to the effect that Miss Joyce Wethered, the world's acknowledged greatest woman golfer, owes her magnificent showing in the recent British Ladies' Open Championship indirectly to Bobby Jones.

"Three years ago," so the story goes, "when the English girl retired from tourney play she was pretty well fed up on golf, and felt that save in the way of pleasurable exercise, the game had nothing more to offer her.

"It was about that time she saw the great Atlantan in action and studying him she found a new and vitalizing interest in the art of golfing. Principally she saw in the American's play a perfection in timing, that deliberate, almost lethargic swing accelerating gradually until the club head had attained its full speed a few inches before the ball is struck, as well as a few inches after the impact.

"So with her as she went into seclusion Miss Wethered took the lessons she had received from Bobby Jones, studying them in private, and applying them in games against friends. And then at length, with French girls invading England to win for the third time (it should be second) the British ladies' trophy, with Miss Glenna Collett geared to bring the Cup to America, this English disciple of Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., came forth upon the links at St. Andrew's and played golf as no other woman has ever played.

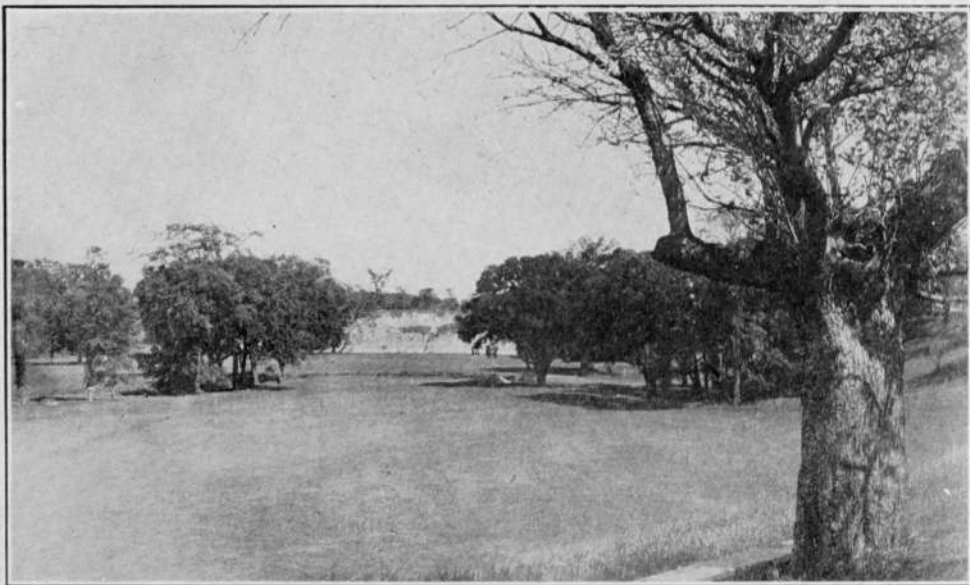

"In her swing was that lazy impression one gets in watching Bobby Jones, that manner of seeming to carry the club head onward after the ball is struck instead of immediate coming around and up. She showed, in other words, that she had borrowed successfully from Bobby Jones the ideal swing and now, as she goes once more into retirement, she may have the satisfaction of knowing that her position in women's golf is distinctive and that among the golfers of the world, irrespective of sex, she is one of the few in whom artistry is as clearly indicated as physical qualifications."

Miss Joyce may have profited to some extent in watching Jones play in England and Scotland, but to say she changed her whole style as a result is buncombe. Miss Wethered played the same style of consistent game at St. Andrews recently as she did in 1922, 1924 and 1925 when she previously won the Championship. As a matter of fact, all good instructors more or less agree that it is foolishness for women to try and copy the style of the men experts. Physically they can't.

BRAMPTON GOLF CLUB

ONE of the most delightful and picturesque golf courses in Eastern Canada is situated at Brampton on the Owen Sound Highway, 28 miles northwest of Toronto and eight miles north of Cooksville. The members are extremely proud of their course and have recently arranged with Mr. Stanley Thompson, the well-known golf architect of Toronto, to rebuild two of the holes, Nos. 7 and 8, which improvement rounds off to a nicety this desirable course.

The Club is fortunate in having a club house completely equipped for the convenience of members and visitors, at which meals and lunches are delightfully served.

Out-of-town visitors are always welcomed and no one travelling in this district should omit a round on this particularly pleasing course.

The president is Mrs. R. W. Lowry and the secretary, Mr. G. M. Upham, both of whom will always be pleased to welcome visitors.

The Editor of the "Canadian Golfer" had the pleasure a season or so ago of visiting this course and can testify to its charming setting and sportingness. Brampton, when the improvements are completed, will have one of the best equipped and one of the most interesting 9-hole courses in Ontario.

WHERE THE "LOST BALLS" WENT TO

A MYSTERY of missing golf balls that has troubled players at the Lakeview Golf Club, Toronto, for the past month or more, was solved recently when the police broke up a company of boys and dogs who had been working together in capturing as many golf balls as possible.

Two boys, aged 16 and 18, one with a hound and the other with a little black and white terrier, when found in a copse on the golf course by Constable W. H. Rutledge, of the Port Credit police, confessed that they had trained their dogs to run out of the bush at the sight of the golf ball as it bounded over the green. Ball in mouth the dog would retrace his steps to his master, who would, a short time later, sell the ball back to some member of the club.

This practice, it was learnt, had been in progress for some time, and golfers had been mystified by the manner in which their balls had been disappearing.

THE "YOUTHFUL YOUNGS" STAR

Assistant Professionals at The Royal Montreal Golf Club, Proteges of C. R. Murray, are First and Second in Quebec Open Tournament.

UNDER ideal weather conditions the first Open Tournament of the Province of Quebec Golf Association brought out a record field of the leading amateurs and professionals of the Province. The event was held over the course of the Royal Montreal Golf Club which was in fine condition.

The "young" assistant professionals of the Royal Montreal, Jack Young and his brother, Nelson, quite starred in the Tournament. Jack with a fine card of 75-70-145 annexed premier honours, whilst Nelson Young was runner-up with 75-72-147, or only two strokes back of his brother. Tied for third place were W. Smithers, assistant at the Royal Ottawa, the Canadian Assistants Champion of 1928, who had a 76-73-149, which was exactly the same card returned by H. Marsh, professional at Islesmere (76-73-149).

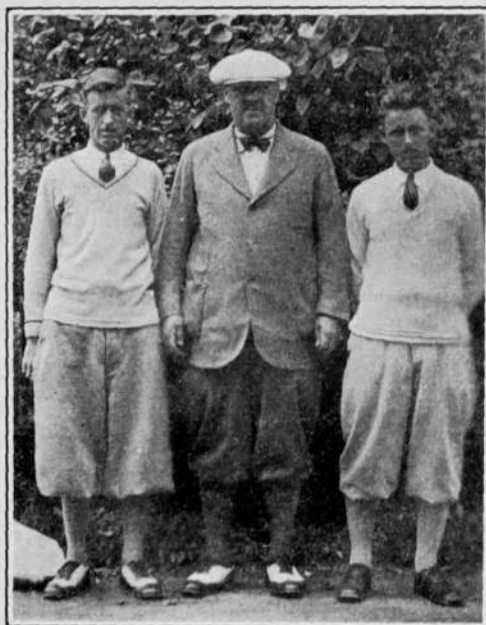

Mr. C. C. Fraser, a former Canadian and Provincial amateur champion, led the amateurs in the tourney, turning in a card of 73-78-151 to tie with Charlie Murray, professional at Royal Montreal, for fifth position. The Kanawaki star carded a steady 73 to tie with Marsh, of Islesmere, to lead the morning round, but he weakened with two bad holes to bring his score into the 150's.

BRITISH AMATEUR CHAMPION GETS £1000 DAMAGES

CABLE from London:—

Cyril J. H. Tolley, British amateur champion, to-day was awarded damages of £1000 sterling (about $5,000) in a legal action against a firm of chocolate manufacturers, who used his portrait in an advertisement of their products.

Tolley's attorney told the court that people seeing this advertisement would assume the amateur champion received more than a box of chocolates for the use of his name, whereas Tolley actually received no remuneration.

Tolley testifying said that he was by profession a stock broker and not a golf player and one of the rules of the stock exchange was directed against advertising by its members.

The damages awarded the champion were for "loss of reputation". There were no indications how Tolley would dispose of the money but its retention under the circumstances presumably would not injure his amateur status. Tolley has filed his entry for the United States amateur golf championship, in which play begins at Del Monte, Calif., September 2.

Assiniboine Golf Club, Winnipeg, is Re-vamping its Course. Popularity of Public Courses.

THE Assiniboine Club has entrusted Mr. Stanley Thompson, the well known Toronto golf architect, to completely alter the layout of the course. Mr. Thompson was a recent visitor to Winnipeg and with George Daniel, the club's professional, and a number of the officers made a careful survey of the links. He is getting out blue prints calling for many improvements and changes in the course, which when carried out will give Assiniboine one of the finest golfing tests in the Winnipeg District.

A particularly close inter-club match was that between Niakwa and Elmhurst Clubs, Winnipeg. A very strong team from Niakwa, headed by A. A. Weir and C. Hodgman, defeated Elmhurst, headed by C. MacWilliams and Matt Thompson, 6 points to 5.

LADIES' INVITATION TOURNAMENT, COUNTRY CLUB, BUFFALO

AS USUAL the Ladies' Invitation Tournament of the Country Club of Buffalo last month was one of the most enjoyable events of the season.

As customary there were a large number of Canadians participating headed by such well known players as Miss Ada Mackenzie, former Canadian Open Champion and present Canadian Close Champion, Miss Maude Smith, Ontario Lady Champion, Miss Cecil Smith, 1928 Ontario Lady Champion, Miss Dorothy Virtue, Quebec Champion 1928. There was a very strong contingent of American players and as a result Canada had to be content with winning the third flight and the fifth flight. There were 104 entries. In the Qualifying Round the leading Canadians were: Miss Mackenzie 85, Miss Dora Virtue and Miss Cecil Smith 89, Miss Maud Smith 90, Mrs. William Gage McLeod 94, and Mrs. Victor Sifton 99.

The following were the prize winners in this notable Tournament, which apart from the golf was marked by unbounded hospitality upon the part of the members of the Buffalo Country Club:—

Medal, winner, Miss Virginia Wilson, Owentsea Club, Chicago, 81—she got a 33 on first nine (par 36)—the lowest for the course. Runner-up, Mrs. Martha Kinsey, 83, of Wyoming—she got a 38 on first nine, and was winner in the beaten 8 of 16.

Championship Flight—Winner, Mrs. Leo Federman, New York City; runner-up, Miss Edith Quier, Reading Pa.

MISS GLENNA COLLETT

The United States Greatest Lady Golfer Has Become Affiliated with the Del Monte Properties Company.

MISS GLENNA COLLETT, U. S. Women's National golf champion, is now comfortably ensconced in her new home at Pebble Beach, California. Miss Collett has become affiliated with the Del Monte Properties Company and plans to spend the next year or two in the vicinity of Del Monte on the Monterey Peninsula.

She will be at Pebble Beach during the National Amateur Golf Championship September 2-7, and will then go east to Detroit to defend her title at Oakland Hills in the 1929 women's national championship, following which important event she will return to California for the winter. It is also quite probable that Miss Collett will play in the Canadian Ladies' Open at Hamilton the week previous to the U.S. Championship.

Miss Collett finds time to play golf at Pebble Beach, Cypress Point, Del Monte and Monterey Peninsula Country Club courses several times a week, and has also played some tennis since her arrival at Del Monte. She participated in the recent Del Monte Lawn Tennis Championships and played several matches with Alan Dale, of movie fame.

At Cypress Point she recently established a new women's record of 76, three above men's par on this difficult course. Together with Marion Hollins, former U.S. national champion, she defeated Dr. Paul Hunter, former California amateur titlist, and F. C. Stevens, Jr., runner-up to Jack Neville, in the finals of the last California Championship, 2 and 1, aided by six bisques.

Arrival of Miss Collett in California will add a touch of colour to the various women's tournaments of importance on the Pacific Coast. Other famous California women golfers include Marion Hollins, Mrs. Leona Pressler and Mrs. Greig Lifur.

MISS KINSELLA WINS QUEBEC FIELD DAY

THAT sterling and steady Montreal golfer, Miss Eileen Kinsella, on July 15th placed another event to her credit when she won the Field Day at the Mount Bruno Golf Club, with a brilliant 89—Mount Bruno is an exceedingly difficult course to score on.

There were no fewer than 185 entrants which constitutes a record for a ladies' tournament in Canada. All parts of the Province of Quebec were represented.

Runner-up to Miss Kinsella was Miss M. Lockhart, Royal Montreal, 91. Tied for third place with 96 were Miss R. Wilson, Royal Montreal, and Mrs. W. Hunter, Rosemount, 96. Mrs. H. E. Pickens, Marlborough Golf Club, Montreal, had a 97, as also did Miss C. Beer, of Beaconsfield, Montreal. Mrs. J. Dagenais, of Laval, the recent winner of the Quebec Ladies' Championship, carded a 98.

Although lady golfers from all over the Province were entered, representatives of Montreal clubs took all of the prizes. The best nett in the Silver Division was turned in by Mrs. W. Hunter, of Rosemount, with a nett 77. Mrs. Hunter scored a gross 96. The special 36 handicap prize went to Mrs. R. P. Morrice, of Royal Montreal, with a gross of 112, making a nett 76.

In the Bronze Division, Mrs. Bevan, of Senneville, turned in the best gross of 102, while the best nett prize went to Miss M. Taylor, of Summerlea, with a 76. Miss Taylor scored a gross of 110.

HUGH JAQUES WINS MANOIR RICHELIEU SHIELD

THE particularly artistic golf shield of the Manoir Richelieu Golf Club, Murray Bay, Que., competed for on Saturday, July 13th, was won by Hugh B. Jaques, the clever young Whitlock Golf Club player of Montreal. Last year his teammate, A. B. Darling, won the trophy for the first time, so Whitlock has the honour of having the names of two of its players inscribed on the shield side by side.

There were over ninety entrants, the majority from the Montreal District with a good sprinkling from Quebec City, the Manoir Richelieu Club and other clubs in the Province.

A high wind prevailed during the competition which unquestionably militated against high scores as the course, one of the best creations of Herbert Strong, the celebrated New York golf course architect, was right up to championship calibre. It provides one of the best tests of golf in Canada, whilst the scenic views to be obtained at many of the holes are unparalleled.

The hard-hitting Whitlock player, the winner of the trophy, had a morning round of 83 and bettered that six strokes in the afternoon to card 160. Tied for second place were R. Smith, of Beaconsfield, Montreal, and E. W. Elton, of Summerlea, Montreal, with 169. A toss of a coin gave Smith second prize, Elton taking third.

The best nett was a tie, Jaques and E. J. Pope, Islesmere, Montreal, each returning 148. The prize went to Pope, only one prize being allowed a competitor. There was also a tie for second nett, Savard, of Laval-sur-le-Lac, Montreal, and J. D. Kearney, Summerlea, Montreal, each carding 157. On the toss-up Savard won. The trophy for the best gross, 18 holes, was won by W. L. Semple, of the Manoir Richelieu Club, and the best nett to Colin Rankin, of Beaconsfield, Montreal.

Two visitors who were not eligible for the Province of Quebec Trophy turned in good cards. They were H. Bancroft, an American, who played for Murray Bay Golf Club, with 84-84—168, and L. Perrin, Elkridge, Baltimore, 84-88—172.

Mr. T. R. Enderby, general manager of the Canada Steamships, was the host at a most delightful dinner after the Tournament at the beautiful new Manoir Richelieu Hotel and presented the prizes. On behalf of the entrants Mr. Jaques paid testimony to the sportingness and beauty of the Manoir course and stated that anyone who could equal par on it need not fear any competitor in Canada.

The architect of the new Manoir Richelieu Hotel was a guest at the dinner and Mr. Enderby took advantage of this to pay a well deserved tribute to him, giving him great praise for "the manner in which the Manoir" has risen Phoenix-like from its ashes, bigger and more beautiful than ever. The new hotel and the new golf course to-day vie with the finest summer resorts on the Continent.

FOREST HILLS TO HAVE TWO EIGHTEEN-HOLE COURSES

THE Forest Hills Golf Club, Montreal, through its President, Mr. J. P. Anglin, has just announced a very interesting programme of improvements and enlargement. Mr. Anglin says:—

"We want to make sure that we will have two of the best golf courses possible on our property. That is why the directors have begun negotiations with the International firm of golf architects, Messrs. Colt, Alison and Morrison, of New York. This firm has designed and supervised the laying-out of many of the premier golf courses of England, France and America.

"Their representative, L. E. Lavis, has inspected the Forest Hills property, which consists of about 250 acres of wooded, undulating land with good drainage and natural water hazards.

"The recommendations made in connection with the enlargement of the course suggest one high-grade championship course and a second good standard course, each of eighteen holes. Each of these new courses will embody some of the present 18 holes.

"It is intended that the clearing and grading be finished this year, with a view to completing the work during 1930; both courses to be ready for play in 1931."

MISSISSAUGA

Who is this enchanting dame
Of matchless beauty and sparkling fame,
Charming our men the whole day long
With gorgeous colour and rippling song?
Mrs. What did you say her name?

Men rave of her gown of velvet green
Swathed with a girdle of silvery sheen,
For grace and beauty she takes the palm,
Delight they in her restful calm.
Mrs. What? repeat please, the name.

In Rolls Royce, or rattling Ford,
Away they go, a merry horde,
Clouds or sunshine, 'tis all the same
When beckoned by this wily Jane.
Why so tight? Do tell us her name.

Keen to worship at her bower,
They speed at any miles an hour
O'er roads skiddy with tar, or rain,
They must get out and see the dame.
Lay off, I say, and give us her name.

As out they come in twos and fours,
Most quietly they close all doors,
The voice is hushed, the joke's taboo,
For lo! there's serious work to pursue.
Persistently her name I sue.

Bedecked in fashion's last decree,
Knickers, soft tones, and bagged at knee,
Jumper and sox, bepatterned or plain,
All to please the fastidious dame.
Have a heart, come across with the name!

They reach her shrine, and there they see
Her stretched beneath the tall elm tree,
And harken to the soft refrain
So soothing to the weary brain.
We doff to her of the melodious name.

Present me—end the mystic saga—
"Pleased to meet you Mississauga".
I've fallen for her, 'twill be my bane,
Her soft allurements I can't disdain,
Bring out the clubs and have a game!

An easy victim, caught in the snare,
I'll phone the house, and with savour faire
Frame some excuse—yet not too lame—
A directors' meeting, and can't get hame,
But sh——— no mention of her name!

—A. H. McCullough.

LADIES' FIELD DAY AT HAMILTON

Is Made Memorable by a Record-breaking Score of 74 Carded by Miss Ada Mackenzie, of Toronto—the Finest Score Ever Returned by a Lady on a Championship Course in Canada.

THE Ladies' Field Day at Hamilton, July 8th—a sort of curtain-raiser to the Ladies' Open Championship next September, was a glorious success. There was a very large attendance, nearly all the leading players of the Hamilton and Toronto Districts competing, whilst the golf played was of championship calibre.

Especially did Miss Ada Mackenzie, the Canadian Close Champion, loom large in the picture. The Toronto expert played perhaps the best golf in her outstanding career on the links. Out in 40 or 1 over par Miss Mackenzie rose to great heights on the incoming nine carding a record-making 34, or six under par and ending the 18 holes for a 74, which is unquestionably the greatest round of golf ever turned in by a woman golfer on a Canadian course of the calibre of Ancaster.

Over this self-same course in the Ladies' Open Championship in 1924, which she won, Miss Glenna Collett, noted American player, had a round of 75, which was looked upon then and deservedly so, too, as a remarkable performance. Miss Mackenzie has therefore clipped a stroke off this record which has stood for five years. Her brilliant card:—

Par—
Out .....	555543534—39
In .....	454445355—39—78
Miss Mackenzie—
Out .....	645454534—40
In .....	345344344—34—74

The prize winners at this thoroughly enjoyable Field Day were:—

Best gross (18 hole course)—Miss Ada Mackenzie, 74; 2, Mrs. R. W. Gouinlock, 84.

First nett—Miss Mary Hart, 66; Miss Margot Murray, 69; 3, Mrs. Kidd, 71; 4, Miss Young, 71; 5, Miss Macfarlane, 71.

Best gross (short course, 9 holes)—Mrs. McNeill, 89.

Best nett—1, Miss Nesbitt, 65; 2, Mrs. Olmstead, 66.

Driving, silver division, three best drives—Mrs. Nesbitt, 560. Longest drive—Mrs. Eddis, 189.

Driving, bronze division, three best drives—Mrs. Grayson Brown. Longest drive—Miss Margot Murray.

Obstacle contest—1, Miss Morrison; 2, Miss Spears.

Approaching and putting—1, Mrs. Sidney Jones; 2, Mrs. Ashworth.

Putting—1, Mrs. McIlwraith; 2, Mrs. Gibson; 3, Mrs. H. Parke.

The visitors were most hospitably entertained in the beautiful new club house by the Ladies' Section of the Hamilton Golf Club.

ALL GOLFING ROADS NEXT MONTH WILL LEAD TO JASPER, ALTA.

ALL GOLFING roads in Canada will lead to beautiful Jasper Park, Alberta, the week of August 19th, where the Canadian Amateur Championship will be held.

Mr. Ross Somerville will be there to defend his title. So will Mr. Don Carrick, twice Canadian champion, and all the leading amateurs of Ontario and Quebec, besides the leading exponents of the game in British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba, with a goodly sprinkling of prominent U. S. players.

In addition to the Canadian Amateur, the Western Canada Championships will also be decided during the week, so a record number of entrants is assured.

The Canadian National Railway authorities have seen to it that the course has been brought up to super-championship calibre and besides are providing hotel and train accommodation which will set a standard for any championship ever previously held in Canada.

The greatest week of golf ever recorded in the history of the Royal and Ancient Game in the Dominion will be witnessed at Jasper Park, August 19th to August 24th.

SOMERVILLE MAKES IT "THREE IN A ROW"

Canadian Amateur Champion Wins the Ontario for the Third Year in Succession. He also Wins the Qualifying Round. John Lewis, of Brantford, Plays Great Golf to Reach the Final.

BY WINNING the Ontario Championship for the third time in succession this month at the London Hunt Club, Ross (Sandy) Somerville equals the record of George S. Lyon, who over two decades ago, three years in a row, 1905, 1906 and 1907, annexed the Canadian Amateur. Somerville, who also won the Qualifying Round with the fine card of 35-36—71, par of the course, is playing great golf this season, possibly the greatest in his brilliant career and he has already been installed a warm favourite to again capture the Amateur Championship at Jasper Park next month where he will defend his title won for the second time last year at Montreal. After playing at Jasper, Somerville will go on to California to participate in the U. S. Amateur. He made a very good showing in this major event last year and should go even farther this year, as he is playing an exceptionally sound game from "tee to tin". He will, however, have very stout opposition at Jasper Park as for the first time in the history of the event, all the leading players from British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Alberta, Ontario and Quebec will be there with a sprinkling of high-class U. S. players. The player who comes through at Jasper, which has one of the finest championship courses on the Continent, will have no "primrose path to tread."

But to return to the Ontario Championship. The field was absolutely the best ever entered for the event. In addition to Somerville, the present Canadian champion, Frank Thompson, now residing in Chicago, but still a member of Mississauga, Toronto, twice holder of the premier title (1921 and 1924), was there. So also was his brother, "W. J.", Canadian champion 1923, and Don Carriek, who won the event in 1925 and 1927. Altogether a classy class of champions.

Then, too, there were all the leading players of all the leading clubs in Ontario, so it will be readily seen that the fixture was really of championship calibre.

C. Ross Somerville, London Hunt, who makes golfing history by winning the Ontario Amateur Championship for the third year in succession.

The London Hunt Club course was in superb shape for the event. The greens were velvety in appearance and touch whilst the fairways were ribbons of green and almost "without fault or blemish".

Somerville, as expected, was the star of the week, but three other players more or less divided honours with him and they were the two youngsters, John A. Nash, Jr., of the London Hunt, Don Anderson, of the St. Thomas Golf and Country Club, and John Lewis, of the Brantford Golf and Country Club, and also a member of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club. Lewis is by no means a newcomer in championship golf as he has figured creditably many times and oft in high-class events, but Anderson and Nash were certainly "dark horses". They uncorked a brand of golf during the championship which marks them as young golfers with a brilliant future ahead of them. All they require is a little more tournament experience to be serious contenders in any company.

In all 118 players participated in the Qualifying Round. The following sixteen passed the acid test to play off for the championship:—

C. R. Somerville, London Hunt....	35-36—71
Jack Cameron, Mississauga .....	41-33—74
Nicol Thompson, Jr., Cedarbrook	39-36—75
Bob Williamson, Roseland .....	40-35—75

J. H. Chipman, Lambton .....	43-33—76
F. G. Hoblitzel, Lambton .....	41-36—77
John S. Lewis, Brantford .....	40-37—77
John A. Nash, Jr., London Hunt	40-37—77
Don Carriek, Scarborough .....	37-40—77
J5oe Thompson, Chedoke.....	38-39—77
F. Thompson, Mississauga .....	42-36—78
S. Thompson, Mississauga .....	40-38—78
P. Farley, Cedarbrook .....	41-37—78
A. L. Skaith, Lambton .....	39-39—78
Don Anderson, St. Thomas .....	42-37—79
J. G. Boeckh, York Downs .....	41-38—79

It will be noticed that four Thompsons qualified—two uncles and two nephews. W. J. Thompson, former Canadian and Ontario champion, failed to make the charmed circle.

And this is what happened at match play the next two days:—

First Round—C. R. Somerville, London Hunt, defeated J. H. Chipman, Lambton, 4 and 3.

John A. Nash, London Hunt, defeated Jack Cameron, Mississauga, 3 and 1.

Don Anderson, St. Thomas, defeated Frank Thompson, Mississauga, at 20th hole.

Nicol Thompson, Cedarbrook, defeated R. Williams, Rosedale, 5 and 4.

George Boeckh, York Downs, defeated Joe Thompson, Chedoke, one up.

Don D. Carriek, Scarborough, defeated Allan Skaith, Lambton, 4 and 3.

John Lewis, Brantford, defeated Philip Farley, Cedarbrook, 3 and 2.

Fred G. Hoblitzel, Lambton, defeated Stanley Thompson, Mississauga, 5 and 4.

Second round—C. R. Somerville defeated John A. Nash, 2 and 1.

Don Anderson defeated Nicol Thompson, one up.

Don D. Carriek defeated George Boeckh, 2 up.

John Lewis defeated Fred G. Hoblitzel, 3 and 2.

Semi-finals—C. Ross Somerville, London Hunt, defeated Don Anderson, St. Thomas, 6 and 4.

John H. Lewis, Brantford, defeated Don D. Carriek, Scarborough, one up.

Final—C. R. Somerville defeated John H. Lewis, 4 and 3.

One of the biggest upsets in the Championship was the defeat of that dour fighter, Jack Cameron, of Mississauga, by young Nash, who took his doughty opponent, who was runner-up to Somerville last year in the Championship and also runner-up this year to Somerville in the Qualifying Round, decisively into camp by 3 and 1.

It was in this round, too, that young Don Anderson, of St. Thomas, "worthy golfing son of a worthy golfing sire", showed the great game he has in his bag when he defeated on the 20th hole Frank Thompson, twice Canadian Amateur Champion. Nash, Jr., in the next round had the hard luck to come up against his elder team-mate, Somerville, but he fought valiantly and took the game eventually to the 17th hole before acknowledging defeat 2 and 1. And that was pretty good going.

Not content with putting out "Uncle Frank" on the first round, Anderson proceeded to beat "Nephew Nicol Thompson, Jr.," a former Ontario Junior Champion, by 1 up on the second round. Then, too, like young Nash, he had to meet the imperturbable "Sandy" and after two such gruelling matches against the Thompsens it was not surprising he should then proceed to fade out of the picture, but gallantly had he kept the flag of the St. Thomas Club flying and like Nash demonstrated a fine golfing temperament — plus many fine golfing strokes which should carry both the youths far in the years to come.

Lewis, of Brantford, in the lower half of the bracket, had a much harder fight to reach the final than Somerville in the upper. To clash with the champion he was called upon to defeat two of the outstanding players of Canada, F. G. Hoblitzel, of Lambton, and Don Carrick, of Scarborough. This he succeeded in doing as a result of the soundest kind of golf to the tune of 3 and 2 and 1 up respectively.

Before a gallery of some five hundred enthusiasts the final was played under anything but ideal conditions. A drizzling rain turned into a steady downpour as the match proceeded. Playing his customary dogged and determined game with pars or near pars at every hole, Somerville was 2 up at the 9th hole and eventually won an interesting match by 4 and 3. This is the first time that a Brantford player has ever reached a final in a championship and Lewis is deservedly being heartily congratulated on putting the Telephone City on the golfing map. Having at last broken through to a final there is no reason why the popular Brantfordite, who reigns supreme in Hamilton and Brantford golf circles, should not come into his own one of these days. He is a thoroughly equipped and polished golfer in every sense of the term.

Don Carrick, Scarborough, twice Canadian Amateur Champion, defeated by John Lewis in the semi-finals in one of the closest and best matches of the Championship.

During the week there were many hard-fought matches in the various flights which resulted as follows:—

Championship Beaten Eight and Semi-finals—Jack Cameron, Mississauga, defeated Frank Thompson, Mississauga, one up. Philip Farley, Cedarbrook, defeated Joe Thompson, Chedoke, 4 and 3.

Final—Jack Cameron defeated Philip Farley, one up.

First Flight—Semi-finals—W. J. Thompson, Mississauga, defeated Gordon Duncan, Brantford, 4 and 3. Len Biddell, Lakeview, defeated J. C. Sihler, Simcoe, at 19th hole.

Final—W. J. Thompson defeated Len Biddell, one up.

First Flight Beaten Eights—Semi-finals—R. L. Wright, London Hunt, defeated N. S. Jarvis, Lambton, 4 and 3. P. A. Philip, Galt, defeated I. W. Champion, Brantford, 4 and 3.

Final—R. L. Wright defeated P. A. Philip, one up.

Second Flight—Semi-finals—B. L. Anderson, Lambton, defeated Don Collinge,

ROSEMOUNT, MONTREAL, TO ENLARGE

Rosemount is another of the young Montreal clubs which owing to increasing membership has decided to enlarge to an 18-hole course and has therefore secured a new and attractive piece of property of 100 acres or so situated on practically the highest point of the island except the mountain. It is about four minutes walk from Sherbrooke Street in a northerly direction, the top of the course being bounded by the St. Leonard's Road and the east side by the Longue Pointe Road. It is the intention, when the course is in operation, to establish a jitney service from the nearest tramway stops to the course. Work will be started on the new course this fall. Meantime the members will continue to use the present 9-hole course.

GENERAL TUXFORD WINS SASKATCHEWAN SENIOR CHAMPIONSHIP

CARRYING his opponent to the 20th hole, John W. Harrison, of Regina, finally succumbed before the prowess of General G. S. Tuxford, of Moose Jaw, in the championship final of the Saskatchewan Senior Golf Association's annual tournament at the Wascana Country Club this month.

The finalists reached the titular bracket during the forenoon play when Harrison won from J. Kelso Hunter, one up, and Tuxford defeated the Rev. Canon Dyke Parker, of Qu'Appelle, 6 and 4. The championship game was a stern battle all the way.

Further glory went to the Mill City when A. W. Irwin scored a victory in the handicap final over D. C. Grey, of Regina. In the morning semi-finals, Irwin won from W. H. Duncan, Regina, while Grey eliminated A. G. Orchard, Regina.

A. C. Froom, Regina, won the consolation final from A. E. Risk, also of this city.

Following a sumptuous dinner in the club house in the early evening, the association held their annual meeting, at which it was decided to hold the 1930 tournament in Moose Jaw. The Wascana Country Club was thanked for the use of its course for the 1929 meet, and the press and Secretary J. Kelso Hunter, of Regina, also came in for a share of commendation.

The election of officers for 1930 resulted as follows:—

Hon. President, the Hon. Sir F. W. G. Haultain, Chief Justice of Saskatchewan; President, T. F. Conrod, Regina; Vice-President, A. W. Irwin, Moose Jaw; Hon. Sec.-Treasurer, J. Kelso Hunter, Regina; Board of Governors (two years), Brig.-Gen. G. S. Tuxford, Hugh Thomson and the Ven. Archdeacon Johnson, all of Moose Jaw, James Balfour, K.C., Regina, and E. W. Miller, Fort Qu'Appelle, (one year) the Hon. Mr. Justice Mackenzie, Charles Willoughby and John Balfour, all of Regina, Judge Pope, Melfort, and W. E. Tineher, Regina; Tournament Committee, the President, the Vice-President, the Secretary and General Tuxford and Hugh Thomson.

Altogether the tournament was a great success in every way. The entrants were most hospitably entertained during the week by the golfers of Regina.

The very capable Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. J. Kelso Hunter, was able to report the financial affairs of the Association in a very healthy condition, a nice little balance being carried forward after all expenses of the tourney had been paid.

Mr. J. Kelso Hunter, prominent Regina golfer, re-elected Hon. Secretary-Treasurer of the Saskatchewan Seniors' Golf Association.

SEVENTH ONTARIO OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP

Is Won by "Davie" Spittal, Who Made Golfing History by Carding a 72 on His Second Round. Lou Cumming, Brilliant Young Player, is Runner-up, Only One Stroke Back of the Leader. Lakeview Course in Superb Condition for the Event.

LAKEVIEW, which is generally accredited, and correctly so, too, with being the hardest course in the Toronto District to score on, was in superb condition for the seventh Open Championship of Ontario on

"Davie" Spittal, who by equalling the course record of Lakeview, wins the Ontario Open Championship.

July 16th. The greens were puttingly perfect, whilst the fairways simply invited wooden shots on the long holes and iron and approach shots on the short holes. There wasn't a cuppy lie from the first tee to the eighteenth. Then, too, the weather was ideal. No cross nor head winds nor rain to provide alibis, and yet the leading amateurs and professionals of the Province—except Ross Somerville, the recently crowned amateur champion for the third time, who was a notable absentee—were once again unable to beat the par of the course, which is 70.

But "Davie" Spittal, of the Royal York and Old Mill Clubs, came within two shots of equalling it on his second round and that is decidedly a golfing feather in the cap of this fascinating player who always appeals to the gallery.

A golfer of the best Scottish type is "Davie", who is always knocking at the door of championships and tournaments and well deserved to win out last week as a result of his brilliant second round of 72 which with a first round of 76 gave him a card of 148. In competitive play this 72 score has only twice before been equalled and that was in the Canadian Open Championship at Lakeview in 1923, when C. W. Hackney (the winner) and Johnny Farrell, then a very young golfer indeed, also each carded a 72. It will thus be seen that Spittal after six years has at last equalled the record of the course, played over in the interval by some of the very best golfers on the Continent. The card "which turned the trick" in the afternoon round:—

Close on the heels of the newly crowned champion was that sterling and sound young golfer Lou Cumming, of the Toronto Ladies Golf Club, son of the professional of the Toronto Golf Club, who has many characteristics of his famous father. With consistent rounds of 75 and 74 for 149 this exceedingly attractive player was only one stroke back of Spittal. His fine showing at Lakeview was extremely popular with everyone. It is the stepping stone unquestionably to a career of great promise on the links. Tied for third place with 150 were Andy Kay, of Lambton, the first winner of the championship, and Gordon Brydson, assistant to George Cumming at the Toronto Golf Club, another young professional of decided promise. A. J. Hulbert, the defending champion, had to be content with 16th place.

One of the features of the Championship was the remarkable final 9 holes of Nicol Thompson, of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club, who for thirty years or so has featured in all the Canadian championships with honour alike to himself and his club. A rather, for him, indifferent 78 in the morning, was followed up in the afternoon with 40 for the outgoing nine. Nothing indicative of a good score in this start. But from there on the Ancaster ace proceeded to reel off the most brilliant golf of the Championship. Playing hole after hole in par or better he came to the 18th hole with a long putt for a four for a 32. The ball just rested on the lip of the cup and he had to be satisfied with a glittering 33, or two under par for the last 9 holes. In his long and distinguished career on the links the Hamilton expert has never played more scintillating golf. With a round of 78 and 73 he eventually came within 3 strokes of the leader. Hearty congratulations to one of the "best-beloved" and most popular professionals in Canada.

The leading amateur was Mr. S. Walsh, who recently came to Canada From Yorkshire, where he had more than a local reputation. He had the very creditable score of 155. He should be quite an addition to Canadian amateur golf. Mr. J. Sihler, the young player from Simcoe, Ont. (son of Dr. Sihler, a pioneer Ontario golfer), who made such a creditable showing at the Ontario Amateur at London, also again showed class at Lakeview. He was only one stroke back of Walsh with 156—a fine performance indeed, indicative of future further success.

The leading assistant professional was Jack Littler, 151. Second, Arthur Hunt, young brother of Fred Hunt, the Brantford pro, and assistant to Andy Kay. They both have all the ear-marks of "comers".

"Lou" Cumming, who is a "coming" champion, runner-up in the Ontario Open

Three former Canadian Amateur Champions, Messrs. W. J. Thompson, D. D. Carrick and Frank Thompson never "got going" and had to be satisfied with scores respectively of 161, 162 and 163.

The prize winners were: 1, Dave Spittal, $100; 2, Lou Cumming, $75; 3, Andy Kay and Gordon Brysdon, $37.50 each; 5, Nicol Thompson and Lex Robinson, $10; 7, Willie Spittal, $10; 8, Reg. Sansom, Fred Hunt and Frank Locke, $3.50 each; assistants, 1, Jack Littler, $15; 2, A. Hunt, $10; 3, Tom Filmore, $5.

Lakeview officials came in for unstinted praise from all the contestants for providing them with such a magnificently conditioned course for the Championship and for the many hospitalities extended. Lakeview, "out-Lakeviewed itself" last week and that in the vernacular is "going some".

STOP PRESS NEWS

Mr. B. L. Anderson announces that 140 entrants have been received for the Canadian Open Championship at Kanawaki, Montreal, July 25th-27th. All the leading Canadian amateurs and professionals have entered and in addition the following prominent U.S. players (alphabetically arranged):

Tommy Armour, Mike Brady, Leo Diegel, Ed. Dudley, Mr. George Von Elm, Abe Espinosa, Johnny Farrell, Emmet French, John Golden, Dave Hackney, Walter Hagen, Tom Kerrigan, Joe Kirkwood, Bill Mehlhorn, Wilfred Reid, Gene Sarazen, Horton Smith, MacDonald Smith, Joe Turnesa, and Al Watrous. With the exception of Bobbie Jones this means all the leading American players will be at Kanawaki.

Jack Cameron, of the Ottawa Rivermead Club, won the Capital District Golf Championship for the second year in succession by scoring 150 in the 36-hole titular chase over the Royal Ottawa links. Melville Rogers, another Rivermead man, finished second in the field of 142 entrants, by putting together two steady rounds of 76 to finish two strokes behind the titleholder. After a shaky first round of 79 in which faltering putting cost him many strokes, Cameron played close to perfect golf in the afternoon to clip two strokes from par figures for the 6,240 yard layout.

IN AND ROUND THE CLUB HOUSE

Interesting Happenings on the Courses of England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales and the Overseas Dominions

THE miniature golf course at the Old Mill, Humber Valley, was opened last month with interesting amateur and professional matches. There were twenty entries for the amateur match which was won by J. L. Lewis, of the Mississauga Club, who had a score of 52. J. Baptie, Islington, was second with a score of 55, and A. T. Galt, Summit, finished third with a card of 56. Other scores were: P. Atkinson, 59; H. Thorn, 58; George Husband, 60; H. Roberts, 60; Fred Fleming, 62; Hugh Borthwick, 62; E. Adair, 62; H. Duern, 63; W. Taylor, 63; M. Saunders, 64; A. Perkins, 65; C. Allison, 70; E. Nicoll, 70; A. S. Muirhead, 71.

The record for the course was established by Frank Locke, St. Andrew's professional, who negotiated in 49 strokes and won the first prize. Locke defeated Robert Cunningham, Mississauga, and Dave Hutchison, Humber Valley, by one stroke, and Bert Tew, Oakville, by two strokes.

After the match was over the professionals were entertained at dinner. All agreed that the course would be of material assistance to golfers desirous of improving their approaching and putting. The length of the course is 890 yards, well trapped and bunkered.

Mr. John D. Rockefeller July 8th celebrated his 90th birthday. As usual he had his breakfast at 7.30, then had the papers read to him by his secretary, with whom he discussed for an hour business matters and then played a 9-hole round of golf. Following lunch he had a nap and then took a motor ride round his estate and along public roads. On these trips he is likely to stop and pick up anybody walking in his direction. To him he will chat in a democratic manner and as he sets his guest down will present him with either a shiny new nickel or a new dime. If he has not felt particularly edified by the conversation the presentation of the nickel will be a gentle hint. If he has been uplifted and has heard something bright or interesting he will contribute a dime. It has been estimated that his passion for distributing these coins costs him not less than $1,750 a year. On rising he fills one pocket with the nickels and another with the dimes. He gets them from a bank before they have been in general circulation. A light dinner is followed by a game of solitaire and "so to bed".

The members of the celebrated Oxford and Cambridge track team which defeated the Olympics of Hamilton, 7 events to 5, July 6th, during their stay in the Ambitious City were guests one afternoon of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club. They are particularly clean-cut, unassuming young athletes and made a host of friends in Hamilton the week they were there. The outstanding member perhaps of the team is the Oxford undergraduate Pumphrey, one of England's greatest two-milers, who broke the Canadian 2-mile record which had stood for some thirty years. After getting his degree next year Pumphrey thinks seriously of taking up his residence in Canada. He is just the type of Britisher this country wants.

The splendid new course of the Essex Golf and Country Club, near Windsor, Ont., was on July 1st thrown open to play. The very fine new club house has still the finishing touches to be put upon it. The property from a golf standpoint will be one of the finest in Canada when completed.

As a result of defeating Hamilton quite decisively by 44½ points to 15½ points its looks as though the Brantford quartette, Messrs. John Lewis,

E. C. Gould, C. Slein and Gordon Duncan, were again well on their way once more to annex the beautiful Somerville Trophy, donated by Mr. C. R. Somerville, of the London Hunt, father of the Canadian Amateur Champion. Brantford won the Cup last year. It is put up for competition between four-men teams from Hamilton, London, Windsor and Brantford and provokes a great deal of interest.

BOBBY JONES EQUALS JOHN BALL'S RECORD

Bobby Jones has won nine national golf championships in the United States and Great Britain during the last seven years. This is how he has done it:

1923—Won national open, winning play-off after tying Bobby Cruickshank at 296.

1924—Won national amateur, beating George von Elm, 9 and 8, in final.

1925—Won national amateur, beat Watts Gunn in final, 8 and 7.

1926—Won national open with 293; won British open with 291.

1927—Won national amateur, beating Chick Evans, 8 and 7, in final; won British open with 285.

1928—Won national amateur, beating Thomas P. Perkins, Great Britain, 10 and 9, in final.

1929—Won national open, winning play-off after tying Al Espinosa at 294.

"Bobby" Jones has thus at last equalled the record of Mr. John Ball, the famous English amateur, who won the British Amateur eight times and the British Open once or 9 national championships in all.
