THE MEANING OF THE HIRAM WALKER TROPHY

AT times we are all conscious of that army of cynics who assiduously maintain that this is an age of cold, heartless efficiency. You know the type which at every opportunity mounts the soapbox to raise a hue and din against Merciless Big Business. If we believe these folks the only conclusion must be that business, 1940 style, holds no place for sentiment — provides no time for pause in the whirl of routine to think about the other fellow and his efforts.

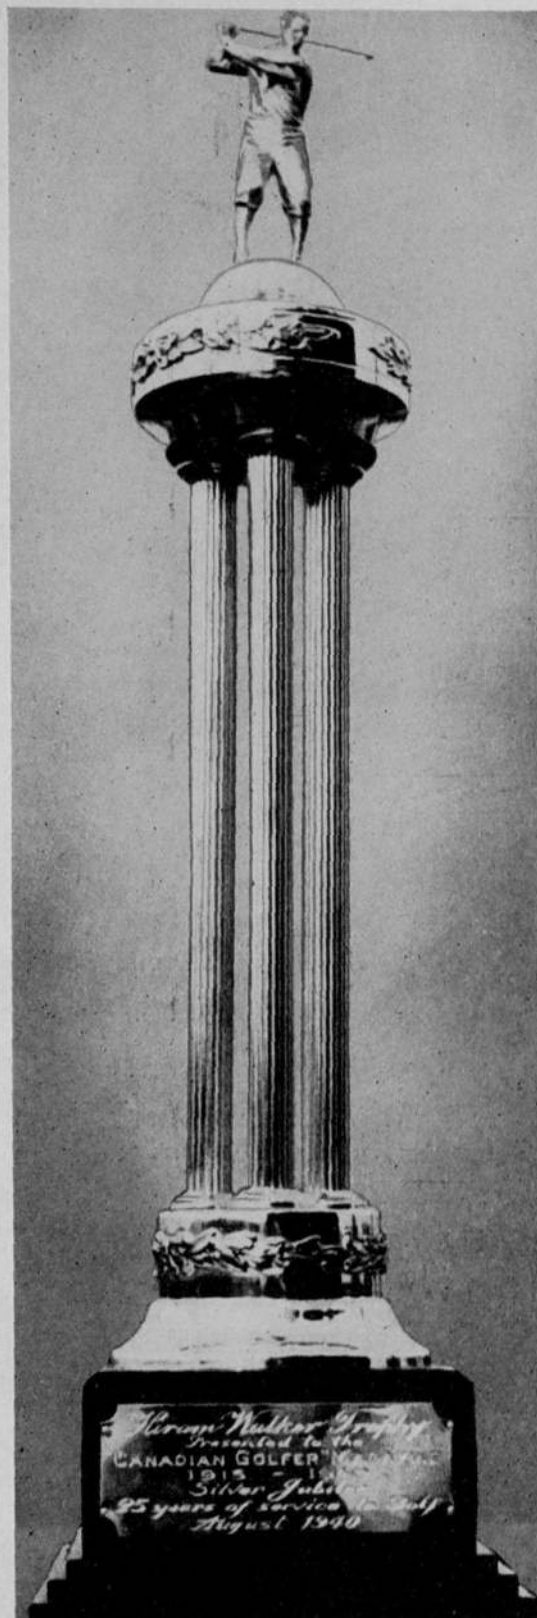

Yet occasionally something does occur which hurls defiance at the ranks of the cynics! For instance, when it became known that August would mark CANADIAN GOLFER'S 25th anniversary many, many firms and individuals were interested and found time to drop the Editor a line of congratulations. These expressions, in themselves, have been charming and assuring manifestations of widespread interest in AMERICA'S OLDEST GOLF MAGAZINE. Recently, however, when the beautiful trophy shown on this page arrived from Hiram Walker and Sons Ltd., of Walkerville, Ontario, we could not but realize just how keen and apt the modern business world is in recognizing and respecting tradition and service.

Coming unsolicited and as a spontaneous gesture from a company, itself founded in 1883 and composed of sportsmen in the finest sense of the world, this trophy is engraved as follows: "Hiram Walker Trophy, presented to the CANADIAN GOLFER MAGAZINE, 1915-1940, Silver Jubilee. 25 years of service to golf. August 1940."

Of course CANADIAN GOLFER is proud of having reached its 25th Birthday and thus maintaining its position as this Continent's senior monthly golf publication, but beyond this a deep satisfaction is felt by the management, the Editor and the staff in realizing that our humble service to the "greatest game of them all" has resulted in such a significant revelation of Warmth, Generosity and Sentiment in Canadian business as is reflected in the donation of this trophy by Hiram Walker and Sons Ltd.

GOLF AIDS RED CROSS, WORLD WAR I

Brantford, Ontario, birthplace of CANADIAN GOLFER saw the above famous four—some of T.B. Reith, Montreal, Irving Robeson, Rochester N.Y., Seymour Lyon, son of the great veteran and George S. Lyon, himself, both of Toronto, playing one of the many Red Cross Matches which aided so appreciably the Red Cross effort of Canadian golf in World War I. Mr. Lyon was inevitably the most colorful figure in such games and the play of his son Seymour was a joy to behold. Seymour's promising career was ended by untimely death as result of war-induced ailments.

Individual Clubs Succeed in

In the World War I golfers of Canada are estimated to have raised in the vicinity of $200,000 for Patriotic Causes, chiefly the Red Cross. When this picture (shown at the left) was taken practically every club in the country was doing something tangible for the War. The grand old Lambton Golf Club in Toronto, sometimes considered the pulse of golf in Canada, alone raised a record amount of $6,800 for the Red Cross. While this was a record there were many other clubs which raised in the nature of $3000. In 1915 CANADIAN GOLFER estimated alone that golf contributed $50,000.

With the call to arms again in 1939 organized golf has been alert in its response to Red Cross and other war efforts once more. However, it has been noted that the early trend in this conflict has taken a more widely organized aspect. That is, various Golf Associations which became the leading factors in the country's peacetime golfing picture have been looked to for the leading impetus. With this in mind the R.C.G.A. recently sent out plans for a gigantic tournament to be held at every club in Canada with the idea of raising enough money to buy one bomber. This was to have been named after "Sandv" Somerville, Canada's greatest amateur player, who is now in England with the Canadian First Division.

However after consultation with Ottawa on the subject and for other important reasons this plan was abandoned for this year. Nevertheless notable success has been scored this summer by the Hamilton District Clubs working together for a single tournament in which every club member was expected to take part. Teas and dances among the ladies divisions of the clubs has augmented to raise close to $3000.

It is presently felt however, that individual clubs working as compact groups will, for the present, represent the best way to boost Golf's Second World War Funds. The last war saw great efficiency through such procedure, and going into the second year of the present conflict it must be admitted that we are still far short of 1915's $50,000 mark. The impression should not be given from this statement that the response has been less hearty, but individual clubs did the work formerly, whereas this time national and sectional associations have been looked to with a resultant slower reaction, due entirely to the fact that it seems human to take a greater and more generous interest in anything being conducted "close to home". Individual club efforts are "close to home" and for that reason during the rest of this season and next it is hoped and expected that clubs will again take the initiative.

At the right, a photo is shown of a Red Cross Match at Marlborough Golf Club in Montreal. This club has exhibited a fine spirit in already holding one such match and is also attempting to raise funds sufficient to support for one year, at least, five British evacuee children.

Taken recently in Montreal, this group is seen at the Marlborough Golf and Country Club at the conclusion of a very successful Red Cross Benefit match at which over $350 was taken. The players, kneeling front are: left to right, Stanley Horne, Ilsemere, Montreal, Jack Littler, Rivermead, Bobby Alston Chaudiere, Ottawa, and Arthur Macpherson, Marlborough, Montreal. The Montreal professionals defeated the Ottawa Stars 3 and 1. Back row: left to right, Ken Clark, Lew Cote, John Davey, Montreal Professional Golf Association's Hon-Pres., Redvers MacKenzie, Elmridge professional, Captain of the M.P.G.A., J. J. OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE ROYAL CANADIAN GOLF ASSOCIATION — THE CANADIAN LADIES GOLF UNION
CANADIAN SENIOR WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION—THE MONTREAL PROFESSIONAL GOLF ASSOCIATION.

Mr. Ralph H. Reville, founder of Canadian Golfer, Hon. Justice C. A. Masten and Mr. B. L. Anderson, for 25 years Secretary-Treasurer of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, bring the reader three aspects of Canadian golf in Review in this issue. This number, devoted entirely to chronicling the past 25 years of the game in this country, marks Canadian Golfer's 25th Anniversary. However, Mr. Reville, who retired from the Editorial Chair several years ago, has suggested that your present Editor carry on his review from about the time of Mr. Reville's retirement.

This must, for several reasons, be done briefly. Your Editor dates himself as of nine seasons. That is 1932! In many respects these intervening years represent modern golf in Canada. From an organization viewpoint the important additions to golf nationally have been the inception of the Ladies Interprovincial team matches; the great General Brock Open tournaments of the mid-30's; the donation of the Seagram Cup for the Canadian Open title and the beginning of the Canadian Junior championships for the Buckingham Trophy donated by Mr. C. H. Schlater of Hamilton.

The significance of each is vast. The Ladies Interprovincials gave uniformity to provincial associations in that Test Matches have bred a high calibre of play across the continent. The Brock Opens which ran from 1935-36-37, showing first the commercial possibilities for championships in Canada while providing us our first real "big money events," really resulted in the revamping of the Canadian Open into a genuine "big time" affair. The donation of the Seagram Cup for the Canadian Open title saw the National championship insured as a top-flight attraction for American stars annually. Resultant bigger purses added value to the title and greater significance to the crown among world events. The Buckingham Trophy has added much to the game for young Canadian players who now compete at Canadian Amateur championships as members of their provincial team, all of which lends vital experience to coming players.

Space limitations prevent any meanderings through the delightful contacts and friendships formed among Canada's many splendid sportsmen of the fairways, both executives and playing stars. Since 1932 Ross Somerville has had no peer in Canadian amateur ranks; among the ladies Miss Ada MacKenzie stands out in bold relief. Both players shine brightly in our golfing firmament, not only for their wizardry of shotmaking, but also as ideal influences and examples to coming players.

Speaking of executives this writer recalls the pleasure of having known such excellent organizers as Mr. W. H. Plant, Toronto, Mr. Alfred Collyer, Montreal, the late W. W. Walker of the same city, energetic E. C. "Eddie" Gould of Brantford, Canada's first top French-Canadian golf executive, J. E. "Ernie" Savard, Montreal, R. C. Jacob, Winnipeg, who took Canada's Goodwill Amateur team across the ocean to England in 1934, that stellar left-hander Mr. J. I. Rankin, Montreal, Mr. Frank A. Harris, Toronto's ace promoter of successful Canadian Open championships—all former Royal Canadian Golf Association presidents and the nation's outstanding sportsmen.

The past ten years from a playing viewpoint has seen Canadians bested in all save two Open championships played in this country. In 1936 Ken Black of Vancouver, a brilliant amateur who presently holds the Canadian crown, won the Vancouver Jubilee Open from the top American professionals in the game. In 1937 little, French-Canadian star, professional Jules Huot of Kent, Quebec, thrashed the best invaders in the last of the General Brock Open championships. In recent years Willie Lamb of Toronto, Lex Robson, Peterborough, Jules Huot and now Montreal's Stanley Horne have taken turns dominating the Canadian professional ranks. In the mid-west a great player, Kasmir Zabowski has consistently shown himself potentially, at least, as great as any in Canada. Presently on the West Coast Freddie Wood, a blond Vancouver professional, stands out as this writer's choice for the most consistent low scoring laurels in the entire Dominion. It is a pity he has never come east to compete in the "nationals" as did Stan Leonard, a fellow Vancouverite, who this year won the Canadian Professional title in Toronto. With the "Amateur" and C.P.G.A. crowns held by B.C. products the power of the far coast's golfing ilk is plainly seen! Leonard, however, is now engaged in Calgary. The mid-west, also has grown some real players, Stew Vickers, Calgary, Bobby Proctor, Edmonton, Johnny Richardson, Calgary, and finally the best of them all, Henry Martell of Edmonton—are but a few of the Prairie's claimants to top golf honors in the Dominion in the past nine years.

I have already mentioned 1934's Goodwill Amateur team, mustered from the foremost amateurs in the Dominion for a marvelous trip to the Old Country. It is significant that those golfers who made this trip have pretty well led golf in Canada ever since. They were Ross Somerville, London, Phil Farley, Toronto, Dick Moore, Vancouver, Ken Black, Vancouver, Bud Donovan, Winnipeg, Gordon B. Taylor of Montreal, F. G. Hoblitzell, Toronto and Jack Nash, London. With the exception of Moore, who more or less stopped golf, each has been outstanding ever since.

The most natural golfer (developed in the past nine years) who has come to notice is Winnipeg's native son, Bobby Reith, who for years ruled in Manitoba and is now a successful professional at Essex in London. The most colorful golfer of them all was the "now-somewhat-retired" Jack Cameron, Montreal, who never won the national championship, but who, next to Somerville, is Canada's best internationally-known amateur. The longest hitters whom I recall are Stanley Horne and Toronto's brilliant Ontario Professional match play champion, Bob Gray Jr. of Scarboro. Speaking of Gray, no review of Canadian golf would be complete without a word of praise for his dad, Bob Gray Sr., rated by many as the top greensman in America. He is situated at Essex club in London and holds the splendid honor of being president of the Greenskeepers Association of America.

Among the ladies the best swinger produced in this period mentioned has been Quebec's former Canadian champion, Mrs. A. B. Darling of Montreal; finest competitor, Miss Ada MacKenzie; best all-round athlete, Mrs. E. H. Gooderham, Toronto; steadiest, Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen, Toronto; best putter, Mrs. John Whitelaw of Montreal; most colorful Mde. Joseph Dagenais, Montreal.

There have been and are many splendid lady golfers throughout the mid-west and on the west coast. Mrs. Brice Evans of

Royal Patrons of Golf 1915

Ever since 1491 the game of golf has had Royal affiliation, either official or unofficial. At that time James IV first sanctioned an Act of Parliament in Scotland forbidding the game to be played, but later this monarch was so chagrined by his own inability to hit the ball that he became an ardent player. Indeed, golf has been a game close to the hearts of royalty almost ever since. Mary, Queen of Scots was a splendid player. She is said to have rivalled the best male exponents of the game. In fact down through the years it has become customary that every first class British and Scotch course should be "played in" or officially opened by some member of the nobility.

The present Duke of Windsor was formerly captain of the Royal and Ancient Links at St. Andrews. King George VI also graced this historic office.

Hence as golf took on organization in Canada it was natural that the founders of the national association should follow the Old Country's lead by seeking regal recognition. Thus the "Royal Canadian Golf Association" came into being. Along with this use of the "Royal" epithet has come acceptance of Patronship of the R. C. G. A. by the Governor Generals of Canada.

Pictured on this page are the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, who represented the throne of Great Britain in Canada in 1915. It was during their memorable stay at Rideau Hall in Ottawa, while the Empire stood face to face with the first World War threat of German domination that CANADIAN GOLFER first came into being as Official Organ of the Royal Canadian Golf Association of which the dashing Duke son of Queen Victoria, was Honorary-patron. Beautiful Princess Margaret Alexandria Victoria, Agnes, Duchess of Connaught, president of the Red Cross Society, likewise was patroness of women's golf in Canada.

That was 25 years ago. CANADIAN GOLFER has never ceased to bring monthly golfing facts and news to its readers who exist literally all over the world since that time.

Royal Patrons of Golf 1940

The pageant of vital world history which has taken place in the past 25 years has seen a line of outstanding representatives of His Majesty in Canada to serve as Governor-Generals of this country. This charming informal picture of the recently-arrived, present holder of his post shows His Excellency The Right Honourable The Earl of Athlone, K. G., and Her Royal Highness Princess Alice who bring to this country once more that charming combination of imperial dignity and genuine democracy.

Co-incidentally, just as Princess Louise Margaret Alexander Victoria Agnes, Duchess of Connaught graced Rideau Hall 25 years ago, so today another Princess, Her Royal Highness Princess Alice honours this country with her presence. His Excellency has recently graciously consented to be Honorary-President of the Royal Canadian Golf Association.

RALPH H. REVILLE

Just twenty-five years ago Sir Charles Borden, then Premier of Canada, interviewed a Mr. Ralph H. Reville, of Brantford, Ontario. Mr. Reville, a retired publisher, came to Ottawa seeking the Prime Minister's approval of a plan to begin a National Golfing Journal. Myriads of Mr. Reville's golfing friends across Canada had insisted that he was the logical personality to give this country such a magazine. Everywhere in America the game was growing; already certain publishers had seen the opportunity in presenting interesting golf journals in the United States. No longer was a man ashamed to await a trolley on a Saturday afternoon carrying his clubs over his shoulder. Indeed, the time was ripe; great sportsmen that he was, Sir Charles Borden heartily supported the venture and shortly after a healthy, seventy-page, CANADIAN GOLFER was born! Through the four trying years of the Great War Mr. Reville never ceased to publish each month and was greatly responsible for mobilizing Golf's Great War efforts which netted over two hundred thousand dollars for the Red Cross and the Allied Cause. Mr. Reville, a genuine sportsman in his own right

The Beginning — Early Friends

Having sold out my interests in the Brantford Daily Courier and more or less at a journalistic loose-end, I was in January of 1915 approached by several leading golfers both in Montreal and Toronto, to start a golfing magazine in Canada. Already England, Scotland and the United States boasted such publications and it was thought that the growing importance of the game in the Dominion, warranted a publication in this country.

Frankly, I was rather dubious about sponsoring and financing such a project as Canada was in the throes of the first Great War. So I decided to consult my very good and valued friend, Sir Robert Borden, Canada's War Time Prime Minister. Although at the time, literally submerged in his war-time duties and activities, he very kindly arranged to give me an interview in Ottawa and discuss the proposition with me. In the interview I explained to him it was my intention to stress the importance of golfers and golf clubs throughout the country, supporting all patriotic endeavours to the limit and especially to raise money for the Red Cross by means of exhibition matches which was being done in Great Britain and the donation of all fees collected at any Tournament or club events held during the duration of the war, for the same worthy purpose. I also stressed the point that I thought that such a healthful and invigorating game as golf, should be encouraged along Municipal lines or in other words, golf for the ordinary man and woman, instead of golf for the well-to-do classes which it was more or less two or three decades ago.

Sir Robert, himself a golfer, gave his hearty approval to the launching of the magazine along the lines suggested and was the first to sign my subscription book (now bound in red morocco which I still prize as my most valued golfing possession) an honour I have always greatly appreciated.

Whilst in the Capital, I saw several other prominent men, amongst them Hon. Thomas White, Minister of Finance who too, takes an interest in golf, the Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture and a very keen and good golfer indeed, and they also were good enough to warmly endorse the project. Alas, both Sir Robert Borden and the Hon. Martin Burrell, have only quite recently played "the final game of all"—Gentlemen and Golfers to the last.

With this distinguished backing and that of the Royal Canadian Golf Association and Toronto and Montreal friends already mentioned, I felt no reluctance in going on with the publication even in the troublous war times which then prevailed, so in May 1915 or twenty-five years ago, the Canadian Golfer made its first bow to the golfing public of the Dominion.

It was really, I think, a very creditable issue of 72 pages, well printed and quite profusely illustrated and I somehow or other, have always thought it was the best number ever published under my management of twenty years, although in subsequent months, 100 pages and more were sometimes required to chronicle the rapidly increasing doings on the Links, from Coast to Coast. At any rate, this initial number won the hearty approval of golfers and the press generally throughout the country and subscriptions poured in by the hundreds.

Talking of the press. Golfers today who eagerly look for their morning and evening paper to peruse the latest golf news not only in Canada, but throughout the United States and Great Britain, perhaps do not realize that a quarter of a century ago, the papers not only of Canada but the United States, paid little, if any, attention to happenings on the golf courses. I doubt very much if a solitary member of the sporting staff of the majority of the leading papers had ever seen a golf match or competition or knew a putter from a driver. My very good friend, P. C. Pulver, now editor of the U. S. Professional Golfer, was the first golf editor on this continent. Some twenty-five years ago, he was appointed to that position by the New York Sun. Now, every newspaper of importance has its golf editor well and intelligently versed in all phases of the game.

Glancing through this first number I find splendid photographs of H. R. H. The Duke of Connaught, K. G. Governor General of Canada, Patron of the Royal Canadian Golf Association and H. R. Clark, brilliant editor for many years of the Toronto Star and in his day a fine cricketer and golfer, "Golf in the United States" by Clifford L. Turner, Editor of the Golfing Magazine, New York, the parent golf paper of America, in which he wishes the Canadian Golfer and myself "all success. Although far away in New York, we shall keep our fatherly eye open and any assistance we can be is offered and will be given most cheerfully for we wish the Editor every success in his new and laudable

A particularly interesting article in this first number was entitled "The Golfers' Roll of Honour" consisting of three pages of names of valiant young golfers who had gone overseas to fight for King and Country. possibility of successfully providing "golf for the masses" and in 1912 on lands secured from the Hudson Bay Company an interesting little 9-hole course was laid out. This has now been increased to a capital 18-hole lay-out. From the very first year it has more than paid its own way. Then the neighboring Albertan city of Calgary, not to be outdone by its rival, "got into the Municipal game" and opened a public links known as the Shaganappi Park Club, which too, was a great success from the very start. Winnipeg was the next Western City to feel the urge for providing for the enjoyment of "the game of games" by its ratepayers. An 18-hole course was opened at Kildonan Park in 1921 to be followed in 1925 by another public course at Windsor Park.

True to its promise at its inception to use every endeavour to promote Municipal golf, the Canadian Golfer "played" up these Western successes and in and out of season urged every city of over 10,000 to establish links for the use and enjoyment of the general public, unable to afford the annual fees of the private clubs. At last "the effete East" woke up and today there is hardly a city of any size in the Dominion that does not boast of a Municipal course.

The late Mr. Ralph Connable, then living in Toronto, was one of the pioneer supporters of the movement in Ontario. He personally advanced tens of thousands of dollars for the construction of the Humber Valley Golf Club on the outskirts of Toronto and with myself officiated (and subscribed liberally) at the opening of the highly successful Municipal links in London in 1924, known as the Thames Valley Golf Club and Brantford, the Arrowdale Golf Club in 1925. One of the most successful of all the Municipally owned courses in Canada has been the Chedoke Club, Hamilton. The Parks Board of the Ambitious City in 1922 took over the old links of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club at an expense of $100,000 but so successful has been the undertaking, that only a few years ago the whole of that large sum had been repaid to the Parks Board. The credit for this outstanding success largely goes to the late Mr. George Martin, General Manager of the T. H. & B. railway and Mr. J. P. Bell, formerly General Manager of the Bank of Hamilton. For years they gave of their time and great executive ability to the upbuilding of Chedoke—today a worthy monument to two worthy and public spirited Hamiltonians. Were there more like them in every city in Canada.

Amateur Rankings 1915

In the July 1915 edition of the first volume of the Canadian Golfer there is an article on the world ranking of amateurs and a list is given of the 18 best players in the United States headed by Francis Ouimet No. 1, Charles Evans jr. No. 2, etc. The article goes on to say: "In Canada it is rather hard to pick out a list of the best players because, owing to the great distances to be travelled many good players do not compete in the major championships and it is therefore difficult to get a "line" on their play". However the following list, whilst not by any means final, and of course open to criticism, is the result of careful thought of three well known Canadian golfers who are thoroughly competent to make a fair selection. And here is the list: 1—George S. Lyon, Lambton. 2—F. R. Martin, Hamilton. 3—T. B. Reith, Beaconsfield, Montreal. 4—Edward Legge, St. Charles, Winnipeg. 5—W. G. Laird, St. Charles, Winnipeg. 6—G. H. Turpin, Royal Montreal. 7—G. F. Moss, Toronto Golf Club. 8—Douglas Laird, St. Charles, Winnipeg. 9—G. H. Hutton, the West. 10—C. B. Grier, Royal Montreal. 11—A. A. Adams, Hamilton. 12—S. Temple Blackwood, Toronto Golf Club. 13—R. C. H. Cassels, Toronto Golf Club. 14—A. Wilson, Royal Montreal. 15—R. M. Gray jr., Rosedale Golf Club, Toronto. 16—Wm. More, Toronto Golf Club. 17—Dudley Dawson, St. Charles, Winnipeg. 18—Wilfred James, Lambton, Toronto. It may be stated that in the original list which was made a few weeks before, Captain Gerald Lees name appears, and also those of W. W. Griffith and W. M. Reekie. The regrettable death of the former, whilst fighting in France, and the removal of the two latter to the States, eliminated their names from the selection.

The selectors of 1915 were quite right in placing George S. Lyon, "No. 1" on their list. At that time he fairly dominated golf in Canada and was almost as equally well known and famous in Great Britain and the United States. Apart altogether from his golfing ability, he was such a loveable personality and his popularity on the links has never been equalled let alone excelled. He was not a stylish golfer. He never quite lost the "cricket stroke" which made him, as a young man, famous on the cricket creases of Canada and the United States. His ability to win golfing championships, time without number, I think must be attributed to a keen eye, great strength in wrists and forearm and an ideal golfing temperament. He was never ruffled, never lost his nerve and never ceased to "fight back" until the last hole and the last putt had been made.

About the Great "George S"

Almost without an exception star golfers have started in their early youth to master the rudiments of the game. In fact it has always been more or less of a standard joke that they learned "to teeth on golf balls". Not so Mr. Lyon. He was 38 years of age, when many leading golfers think of retiring from championship golf, when on the 18th of October, 1896, he was first induced, rather reluctantly, by the late Mr. John Dick to "swing a club" on the old Rosedale 9-hole course in Toronto. Only two years afterwards he was Amateur Champion of Canada, defeating in 1898 the late F. G. H. Patterson of the Hamilton Club, by the overwhelming margin of 12 and 11. Patterson was a Scotsman who had the distinction, whilst at Cambridge, of playing in the first Oxford and Cambridge University golf match. This was 'way back in 1878, and Cambridge won the event 32 holes to 24. It is interesting to note that in the early days of golf in Great Britain and in Canada and the United States, matches were decided by holes and not by points as is the universal custom today. I knew "Pat" well and played with him often. He was a very stylish golfer but no match for his husky, hard-hitting Canadian opponent whose victory came as a complete surprise to the then keen followers of the game here—mostly Old Countrymen in those early days.

In 1900 Mr. Lyon again won the championship and repeated in 1903, 1905, 1906, 1907, 1912 and 1914. In all, eight times he annexed the Amateur blue ribbon of Canadian golf—a record which will probably never be equalled, although "Sandy" Sommerville might perchance turn the trick with to date six championships to his credit. He is however, valiantly doing his bit with the Canadian fighting forces in England and it is hardly to be expected on his return, and golfers everywhere hope for that, he will ever again get into his triumphal golfing stride of the past fifteen years. The famous John Ball of Hoylake, England, won the British Amateur eight times (the British Open once) and I know it was Mr. Lyon's great ambition to excell this record and he probably would have done so but for the first Great War which eliminated all championships from 1914 to 1919, just at the time he was playing at the top of his game. In 1904 he was runner-up for the Canadian amateur and again in 1910. In 1910 he was also runner-up for the Canadian Open championship. In 1904 he won the Olympic Championship at St. Louis defeating in the final, the then U. S. Amateur champion, Chandler Egan, by 3 and 2. In 1905 he competed in the British Amateur championship going four rounds. In 1906 he was runner-up in the U. S. Amateur championship being defeated by E. Byers by the narrow margin of 2 holes. In 1908 he competed again in the British Amateur this time going five rounds.

And then to cap it all in the sunset of his glorious golfing career, he annexed the Canadian Seniors' Championship ten times in all. For eighteen years he was Captain and headed the Canadian team in the Senior International matches with Great Britain and the United States and was generally good for the maximum win of three points against his opponents. He also won four times the Senior Championship of North America—in 1923, 1930, 1931 and 1932. As a tribute to his notable achievements in senior golf, the U. S. Seniors' Golf Association has presented a beautiful trophy known as the "George S. Lyon Memorial Trophy" to be competed for every year by the seniors of the United States and Canada—a very graceful International tribute indeed.

It would take a column or more to record Mr. Lyon's victories in minor championships and tournaments. He once laughingly declared to me that it kept Mrs. Lyon, his devoted partner in life who praise be, is still living in Toronto, most of her time polishing up his cups and medals and trophies.

One of the most delightful of my experiences in connection with the golfing career of the Great Veteran, was in sponsoring in the Canadian Golfer, a tribute to him from the golfers of Canada, on the attainment of his sixtieth birthday, July 27th, 1918. Subscriptions were limited to $1.00 and some 800 golfing friends throughout the Dominion, responded enthusiastically to the appeal. This enabled us to present Mr. and Mrs. Lyon with a superb service of silver and silver salver, kindly given to us at wholesale price by a silversmith of Toronto, a golfing friend of the recipients. Accompanying the silverware was a beautifully illuminated address signed by the

Other Stars of the Day

The selectors too, of a quarter of a century ago, were quite right in ranking the late F. R. Martin and the late T. B. Reith respectively, as the 2nd and 3rd best amateurs in Canada.

Fritz Martin, who by the way, was a brother-in-law of George Lyon, came of a sporting Irish family of prominence, and from youth up was recognized as one of the best all-round athletes in Hamilton. He was like Lyon, a great cricketer, a great footballer and oarsman and later on developed into the best left-handed golfer in Canada. He won the Canadian Amateur championship in 1902 and again in 1910 when he defeated George Lyon at the 37th hole. He was nine times champion of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club and four times runner-up and was always to the forefront in tournaments and other important events of the early nineties. Coming of age (55 years) and joining the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association, he annexed the Senior Championship in 1927. His sudden death a few years ago, removed from Ontario golf one of its most colourful figures.

The late A. A. Adams was for many years one of the finest of Hamilton's amateur golfers and in later years became that city's foremost patron and figure in the game. He was a national "threat" back in 1919. Senior champion 1933.

T. B. Reith of the Beaconsfield Golf Club, Montreal, was probably the most finished player ever to come from the Home of Golf, to Canada. When he was going well there was nothing more perfect than his swing both with wood and iron and it was a pure delight to watch him play. It used to be said of Abe Mitchell, the outstanding English professional, that he was the greatest golfer in Great Britain, never to have won a major championship. The same can be said of "Tom" Reith. On his form he should have won the Canadian Amateur and even the Canadian Open, more than once but the best performance to his credit in this country was in 1906 when he was runner-up in the Canadian Open to the late C. R. Murray, professional of the Royal Montreal Golf Club. He was especially a master with the irons and in the 1915 June issue of the Canadian Golfer, contributed a most instructive article on "Iron play in Canada". In this article, he commented: "To the player fresh from the Old Country, iron play strikes one as the weakest spot in the Canadian golfer's armour." And this was unquestionably a just criticism twenty-five years ago, but not so today. Reith, who was a schoolmaster of the best Scottish type and there is no better, was also a high-class curler. Some seven years ago, he returned to his native Scotland and three years ago, passed on. He did much, very much, to improve the standard of amateur golf in Montreal and District a quarter of a century ago, or more. Personally I have the most delightful memories of this charming and cultured Scot who twice kindly took part and successfully too, in Red Cross matches arranged by the Canadian Golfer at Rivermead, Ottawa, and at the Brantford Golf and Country Club.

G. H. Turpin, the 6th name on the list (reference has already been made to E. Legge and W. G. Laird, ranked 4th and 5th) won the Canadian Amateur in 1913 and when that championship was renewed in 1919, was runner-up to W. McLuckie at Lambton. A fine golfer indeed he was, and still is, for that matter, the Royal Montreal star although he no longer engages in championship golf. He has a very smooth swing with the woods and uses his irons crisply and well. C. B. Grier more than justified his choice as No. 10 by winning the Amateur Championship at Beaconsfield in 1920. Like his Royal Montreal team mate, Turpin, he has won many Quebec Provincial titles and competitions.

A. A. Adams of Hamilton, who was placed No. 11, was a very fine tournament player but never quite reached championship heights. For some years he more or less dominated golf in Hamilton and District winning the championship of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club six times whilst he was runner-up twice. The first year, 1933, he was eligible for the Canadian Seniors, he promptly annexed the championship played over the exacting course of the Seigniory Club, Quebec. He was for a great number of years the popular and capable captain of the Hamilton Club and in recognition of his invaluable services he was elected an Hon. Life Member of that particularly prominent Ontario Club. His death last year was a great blow to his hosts of golfing friends not only in Hamilton and District but throughout Ontario and also in California, where he spent several winters and where too, he was a popular figure on the courses of Los Angeles and vicinity. I first played golf with "Bert" when he was a youth in Simcoe where he learned his game. An all-round athlete, he quickly mastered the rudiments of the game and in one year advanced from the last player on the team of the Norfolk Golf and Country Club, one of the pioneer clubs of Ontario, to first place—and Simcoe has always boasted some very good players indeed. No handsomer nor squarer golfer ever trod the links than A. A. Adams of blessed memory.

Of the other members on the list, Alex Wilson won the Amateur Championship in 1908 and G. H. Hutton in 1911. The latter was then a member of the Royal Montreal Golf Club. He subsequently went West and apparently dropped out of competitive golf. G. F. Moss, Douglas Laird, S. Temple Blackwood, R. C. H. Cassels, K.C., Wm. More, the late Dudley Dawson and Wilfred James were all sound players whilst R. M. Gray ranked a lowly "15" was subsequently to become one of the best known golfers in Eastern Canada.

A word in reference to "Billie" Reekie and "Billie" Griffith who would have been included in the list if they had not left Canada. Both came to this country from Scotland as young bank clerks, the one in Galt, the other in Paris. Both towns are near Brantford so I got to know them very well indeed, more especially as they joined the Brantford Golf and Country Club of which I was captain for some thirteen years. The Brantford Club at that time was a member of the old Lake Shore League which annually staged most enjoyable six-day tournaments alternately at Buffalo and Rochester. Reekie and Griffith were on this Brantford team of ten players which I captained for six years. At that time Rochester and Buffalo were great golfing rivals and were keen on securing prominent young golfers so the result was as I rather expected, both Reekie and Griffith were offered lucrative positions, the former in Rochester and the latter in Buffalo, which they promptly accepted and their banks "knew them no more."

Reekie I always considered, with the exception of T. B. Reith, the finest golfer ever to come to Canada. He had every shot in his bag. In Rochester he quickly made a name for himself on the golf courses of that attractive city. So much so, that the big brokerage firm of Bonbright in New York "reached out" for him and he became one of their most successful salesmen. At one time he was rated the 6th best amateur in the United States, having won the Metropolitan, New Jersey and other championships. He was made an Hon. Life Member of the Upper Montclair N.J. Golf Club and is, I believe still playing a fine game under the colours of that swagger club.

Western Players Omitted

The selectors of the outstanding players in 1915 mentioned the fact that there were probably several Westerners entitled to ranking but they were unknown in the East as they had not taken part in the championships which were then exclusively held in cities east of Winnipeg. And there certainly were such players. For instance, to mention only a few, J. M. Hunter of Edmonton, a graduate of Edinburgh University, who stood 6 foot 4 in his stocking feet. He was really a great golfer. J. Walton, also of Edmonton, was a finished player. In Calgary there were two exceptionally fine golfers, T. Gillespie, who learned his game in Scotland and learned it extremely well, and C. W. Hague, who was a fine example of a polished U. S. player. "Sandy" Weir of Winnipeg was another corking good player from Auld Scotia as also were J. T. Cuthbert, Matthew Thompson and F. F. Tribe of Winnipeg.

At Beaconsfield in 1920 Gillespie, Hague, Cuthbert, Thompson and Tribe competed in the Canadian Amateur. This was the first time representative Westerners participated in the championship and they certainly made a great showing. Gillespie went through to the final where he was defeated by C. B. Grier. Hague went four rounds to be beaten by G. H. Turpin 3 and 2 whilst Cuthbert, who afterwards joined the professional ranks and became pro of the Calgary Golf and Country Club, was eliminated after a tremendous struggle with C. B. Grier, the champion to be, two extra holes having to be played before the Montrealer won the match. Hague, the next year, 1921, at Winnipeg, took Frank Thompson of Toronto, to the 38th hole before being defeated for the championship. I rather think that in 1915 the West could have sent a team East which would have given the best players of Quebec and Ontario and argument, if not a licking.

Post War Golf — Tournaments Again

After a lapse of five years, all Canadian Championships were renewed and more or less the prominent golfers of the period previous to 1914 were replaced by younger and perhaps better players.

In the 1919 Amateur Championship held at Lambton, Toronto, only the following members of the "Old Guard" qualified; G. S. Lyon, F. R. Martin, T. B. Reith, G. H. Turpin and A. A. Adams. New players by the dozen appeared to take their first baptism of championship golf and among them the trio of Thompson Brothers of Toronto "W. J." "Stanley" and "Frank", destined in the years to follow, to leave their names indelibly impressed on the records of Canadian golf.

Then too, another young golfer, Seymour Lyon, son of the many times champion, George S. Lyon, flashed into the limelight when he won the Qualifying Round with a 75-good going in those days on the exacting Lambton course. Seymour was severely wounded in the War, in fact his life was despaired of but he "came back" strong and for two or three years every promise of following in his distinguished Dad's footsteps, but then he had a recurrence of his old war time wounds and suddenly passed on, ending what looked like a very brilliant career indeed on the Links. A mighty driver was Seymour.

More or less "unheralded and unsung" W. McLuckie of the Kanawaki Club Montreal eventually proved the dark horse of this first Canadian championship, in five years. He reached the Final by defeating G. A. Adams, Lambton, B. L. Anderson, Lambton, Secretary of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, Parke Wright, Buffalo, a former New York State champion and a ranking U. S. golfer, Stanley Thompson and then W. J. Thompson after a most thrilling match which went to the 37th hole. Thompson in this semi-final match was dormie 3 but then McLuckie with a string of 3's edged out his doughty opponent 1 up at the extra hole. It was one of the gamest fights I have ever witnessed in any championship.

In the final, McLuckie defeated G. H. Turpin an ex-champion rather decisively by 6 and 4. There is no question that in 1915 McLuckie was one of the best amateurs ever to have been seen on a Canadian course. He had the most natural and smoothest swing I have ever seen and a putting touch that was a pure delight. He never again quite got into the brilliant form of 1915.

F. G. Hoblitzell of Sarnia, was another of the surprises of this interesting Championship. He has for a quarter of a century now been very much in the golfing picture not to mention the political picture. He was elected M. P. for one of the Toronto Ridings at the last General Elections — the first prominent golfer ever to become a member of the House of Commons, "Hobby" won the Ontario Championship in 1935 defeating young Joe Thompson 1 up at the 20th hole. He has many other lesser events to his credit both in the East and in the West.

A very remarkable golfing family is that of the Thompsons. The five brothers, Nicol, the well known professional of the Hamilton Golf & Country Club, Matthew of Winnipeg, "W. J." Stanley and Frank of Toronto, not to mention two young sons of Nicol, Nicol jr and Joe, have all in their time been at the top or near-top of golf in Canada. There is no other golfing family in the Dominion which approaches their record.

Canada's foremost golf architect whose courses will live forever, Stanley Thompson (left) and his late brother W. J. Thompson Toronto, twice Canadian amateur champion.

The Famous Thompson Family

The Thompson brothers between 1919 and 1926 were always in the championship picture. In 1921 the younger brother Frank, won the Amateur at the Winnipeg Golf Club. Going through a strong field he met C. W. Hague, of Calgary, in the Final and had to go to the 38th hole to register a one-hole victory over his fighting opponent. This was the first time the Canadian Amateur had "Gone West" and naturally hopes were high amongst the very large gallery, that a Western man would bag the title but "Young Frank" through a gruelling week of hot weather, not to mention a plague of mosquitoes, literally millions of them, which pestered and teased every player alike on fairways and greens, showed the "golfing stuff that was in him" by eventually wearing down his clever and much older and experienced opponent. A rather curious incident happened to me at this Championship. Mr. Hutchings a rich Winnipegger, owned the Winnipeg course and reserved the right for himself and family to drive all round it so on the sweltering day of the Final in company with Mrs. H. G. Hutchings, his daughter-in-law, riding comfortably in a motor I saw the match perfectly from the first hole to the last. Mrs. Hutchings by the way, as Miss Vera Ramsay, was a famous English golfer. Marrying Mr. Hutchings jr. during the War when they were both on Active Service, she came to Canada, and for years quite dominated womens golf in the West and on the Coast. Coming East in 1924 she won the Canadian Ladies' Close Championship at Mississauga, Toronto, defeating in the Final Mrs. Hope Gibson of Hamilton one of the outstanding lady players of the day by 3 and 2. A hard-hitting but stylish golfer, was Mrs. Hutchings who having married the second time, an American Mr. Ford is now living in the United States on the Pacific Coast. I shall always remember that delightful Final day in Winnipeg in 1921.

But to return to the Thompson freres. Frank again won the Amateur Championship in 1924 at Rosedale, Toronto, where he took into camp in the Final by 3 and 1 no less an antagonist than C. Ross Somerville afterwards to become the dominating figure in Canadian Golfdom. That I always considered his best and most notable effort. In 1927 at Hamilton, he again reached the Final but this time he went down to a stinging defeat at the hands of Don Carrick then at the very peak of his brilliant golfing career.

"Bill" Thompson, in his prime generally conceded to be the best medal player in Canada, as well as a fine match player, the previous year 1923, had won the Amateur at the Kanawaki Club, Montreal defeating Redvers MacKenzie of the Country Club, Montreal by 3 and 2. Redvers has since joined the professional ranks of which he became an outstanding member. Thompson in 1924 and 1925 won the Ontario Amateur Championship and in 1923 was Runner-up in the Ontario Open to Andy Kay the then brilliant pro of Lambton. Both he and Frank competed more than once in the U. S. Amateur and in 1925 at Pittsburg "Bill" reached the last eight, defeating several of the best U. S. amateurs en route. He was a great student of the game and a golf book he published was really a worth-while exposition of the fine points of the game. He was for ten years the Secretary of the Ontario Golf Association, his lamented death happening when he still held office. His term of office was from 1926 to 1935 and he had much to do with the success of this outstanding Association.

The elder Thompson, "Matt", early in life went to Winnipeg and in his time won many Western Championships and events of recent years he has become a successful professional in Winnipeg. Stanley I always considered and many others too, the best golfer of the four. However, his golfing architectural activities took up so much of his time travelling as he did from Coast to Coast, that he had really little chance to practice or play the game seriously. A particularly well equipped golf architect is Stanley with many courses to his credit both in Canada and the United States. I have always thought that the beautiful Links at far-famed Jasper Park, Alberta, are his "si monumentum" Altogether, a remarkable golfing family this family of the Thompsons. In their prime the four brothers could have given four of the best Amateurs in any country a run for their money.

Don Carrick Arrives

It was at the Amateur Championship in 1923 at Kanawaki, Montreal, that I first met D. D. "Don" Carrick youngest son of my old golfing friend, Col. J. J. Carrick ex. M. P. of the Scarboro Golf Club, Toronto. who afterwards with another all-round young athlete, C. Ross "Sandy" Somerville, of London, was destined to be very much in the golfing spotlight. He was then, I think, only 15 years of age, a robust young six-footer or more, but he qualified in a particularly classy field with 162, the same figure as returned by George Lyon, and afterwards playing really superb golf, went through to the third round. The first round he accounted for R. B. Chillias, a well known Montreal player of the Beaconsfield Golf Club, on the 37th green. Then in the second round, he defeated by 1 up R. M. Gray of Rosedale, who a month previously had won the Ontario Amateur Championship. This was one of the big upsets of the championship, as Gray was rather fancied as a probable finalist at least. The third round Don met his Waterloo 4 and 3 at the hands of "Jack" Cuthbert of Winnipeg a finished Scottish player and rated as one of the best of the Western entrants who is now a professional. The Canadian Golfer stated in its report of the Championship: "To last until the 3rd Round in such a field is a feather in the golfing cap of this young giant whose future will be followed with much interest, by all keen followers of the game." "Don's future" certainly proved to be a brilliant one. Two years afterwards, he won the Canadian Amateur at the Royal Ottawa Golf Club, defeating his great rival-to-be, Ross Somerville of the London Hunt, by 5 and 4.

With cards of 67 and 74 Carrick won the medal at the 1927 championship at the Hamilton Golf & Country Club. It was the lowest score turned in by a qualifier in a Canadian championship. Playing almost flawless golf he then went on to meet in the Final, the twice Amateur champion, Frank Thompson whom he treated to a slashing 9 and 8 defeat. In the Ontario Amateur championship in 1925 he was runner-up to W. J. Thompson and in 1926 turned the tables by winning from Thompson 3 and 2. It was a distinct loss to Canadian Amateur golf when after 1927 he decided to give up championship play and devote most of his spare time to boxing. Whilst at Toronto University where he graduated with honours in 1928, he won his "T" at football and hockey. Since he first appeared in the ring as a freshman at the University he had won all his bouts in the annual jousts between the University of Toronto and West Point, Annapolis and in the Assault-at-Arms between Canadian Colleges. Going on from Toronto to Harvard, to take the celebrated Law Course he won both the Heavyweight and Middleweight championships of that famous University—a feat I believe, never before, or since accomplished. What a record in all departments of amateur sport! He is now devoting himself assiduously and successfully to the practice of his chosen profession of law, in Toronto.

Our Greatest Modern — Sandy

C. Ross Somerville thanks to his father the late C. R. Somerville of London, one of the pioneers of golf in Ontario, early took up with the Royal & Ancient game and even as a boy, showed marked ability with his woods and irons. And here is his marvellous championship record (minor events by the score not included) on the Links which unquestionably makes him the greatest amateur golfer Canada has ever produced:

Runner-up Canadian Amateur in 1924 and 1925.
 Won the Canadian Amateur 1926, 1928, 1930, 1931, 1935, 1937 (six times).
 Won the Amateur Gold Medal in the Canadian Open four times.
 Won the Ontario Amateur Championship 1927, 1928, 1929 1937. (four times) And then to cap the climax, he annexed the U. S. Amateur Championship in 1932 at Baltimore the blue ribbon golfing event of America, the only occasion a Canadian has won the event and the second time other than a U. S. player has done so. Harold H. Hilton an Englishman, carried the covered cup across the seas in 1911. The championship has been played for 45 years.

On his return home from Baltimore, he was given a Civic reception by London, his native city. A Public holiday was proclaimed at the champion's request for all the school children and altogether the "Forest City" did "itself proud" and right-ly so too.

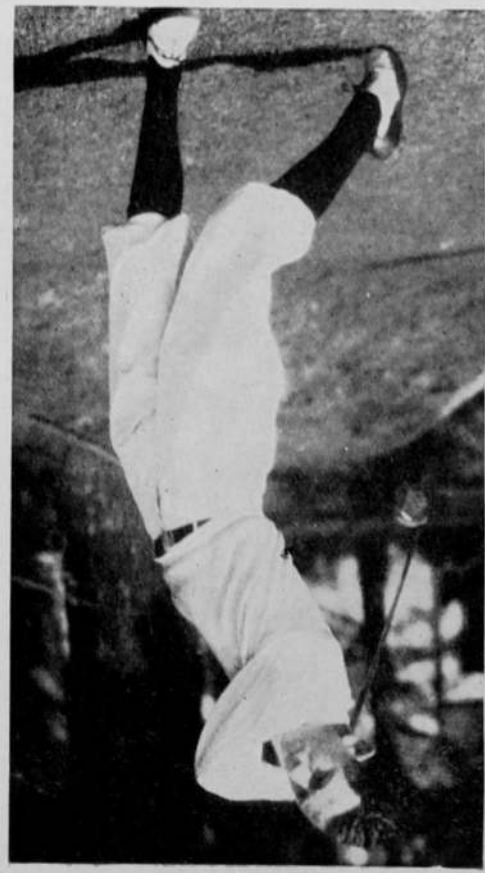

Like his great rival, Don Carrick, "Sandy", by the way his father a worthy sire of a worthy son, always called him Ross, excelled at every game he tackled. At Ridley College, St. Catharines the cradle of cricket in Ontario, he is still recognized as the best batsman, ever turned out by the college. At the University of Toronto, he made a name for himself in both hockey and football and now as his dear father, a great Imperialist, would have wished, he is in England, fighting for "King and Country." Yes "Don" and "Sandy" are two outstanding, clean-cut young Canadians, of whom the whole country should be proud, and are proud.

Other leading amateurs more or less featured in the Canadian Golfer between 1915 and 1935 were R. M. Gray of Rosedale, Toronto, a particularly sound golfer. When Overseas, during the first Great War, he won more than one Military Tournament in England. When the Ontario Amateur championship was instituted in 1923 he captured the event defeating Frank Thompson of Mississauga, then at the top of his game by 2 up. Qualifying for the Seniors, he has won the championship of that Association, no fewer than five times—1934, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939 and also won the American Seniors' championship which draws representative Senior players from both the United States and Canada. The winner ranks as the best Senior golfer in North America. "Bob" is playing just as good golf to-day as he did a quarter of a century ago—possibly even a little better.

Exceptional Stars

Phil Farley, now playing under the colours of the Scarborough Golf Club Toronto, is another outstanding player. He has to his credit, among many other events, the Amateur championship of Quebec, 1936 and 1937 and the Ontario championship 1931, 1934 and just to show he is still playing "tops" bagged this important championship again this year (1940). Jack Nash of the London Hunt, gave promise as a youth of following in the footsteps of his fellow club-mate and mentor, Sandy Somerville. He has not quite done that but he is a hard nut to crack in any Championship or Tournament. He won the Ontario Amateur in 1930 defeating no less a top-notch than Don Carrick and that too, by the convincing margin of 4 and 3 and in the same event was Runner-up to Farley in 1931.

John Lewis of Brantford, who learned the foundations of a sound game when a Collegian in the United States, is a

Phil Farley, rose from the ranks back around 1930 and for ten years has barely escaped winning national title on several occasions. He has dominated in the East however and cannot be rated other than among the finest golfers Toronto ever developed.

Canada's greatest modern lady exponent of golf and perhaps this country's top female athletic figure over the past ten years, Miss Ada MacKenzie of Toronto. Six national crowns have fallen in her path from 1919 to the present.

brilliant golfer. He won the Ontario Amateur in 1932 and was runner-up to Somerville in 1929. Other players who have made a name for themselves on the courses of Ontario are the Thompson Brothers of Hamilton, Nicol, now a professional at the beautiful Cutten Fields, Guelph, and Joseph. Sons of that fine exponent of the game, Nicol Thompson sr. of the Hamilton Golf & Country Club, they are "chips off the old block" all right. "Joe" has been runner-up in the Ontario Amateur three times, 1932 1935 and 1938. In the former year he only lost to F. G. Hoblitzell on the 20th hole and in 1938 to J. C. Boeckh of York Downs on the 21st hole. And that's pretty "tuff" luck.

Jack Cameron in his day (he played for clubs both in Quebec and Ontario) was one of the most colourful figures on the Links. A great hockey player in his youth, he was also a golfer to be reckoned with. He was runner-up to Somerville in the Ontario Amateur in 1928 and was also a runner-up to Gordon B. Taylor in the Canadian Amateur championship in 1932 and twice won the Quebec Amateur 1932 and 1933.

Other players of more than ordinary ability, just to mention a few, I remember in Ontario were the late major Gordon Southam of Hamilton, J. C. Boeckh, York Downs, Toronto (as already mentioned winner of the Ontario Amateur in 1938). J. G. Adams, Scarboro, winner of the Ontario Amateur in 1936, A. Dorman, Hamilton (now a professional) Hugh Borthwick, Islington Golf Club, Toronto, Gordon Taylor jr York Downs, Toronto L. H. Biddell, Lakeview, Toronto, G. H. Wigle Hamilton, the Henderson brothers of Oshawa, "Bob" and "Tom" who learned the game in good old Scotland, Robert Abbott, Peterborough, Dr. J. A. Sullivan, Rosedale, George Harvey, Hamilton (who by the way laid out the Glendale Golf course, Hamilton) the late George T. Brown, London Hunt, Dr. "Andy" Scott, London, Hunt, "Davie" Dick, Cobourg, the late Lem Brady, Simcoe, in his day one of the best left-handers in Ontario, and then three particularly good Lambton players, B. L. Anderson, Secretary of the R. C. A. George Heintzman who although in his seventies can still go sound in the "seventies" and the late Alfred Wright.

Some Outstanding Quebecers

The Province of Quebec can boast a lot of fine golfers the past 25 years. There is C. C. ("Happy") Fraser of the Kanawaki Club, Montreal, a particularly hard-hitting exponent of the game. In 1922 at Hamilton, he won the Canadian Amateur, defeating Norman Scott at the 37th hole. Then in 1926 in a very strong field in the same championship at the Toronto Golf Club he went to the Final where he was defeated by Sandy Somerville, 4 and 3. He has won many Quebec and other competitions and is still able to put up a stout game.

J. W. Yuile of the Royal Montreal Club, is possibly the best "Southpaw" to-day in Canada. In 1924 he annexed the Quebec Amateur Championship. In 1923 and 1934 he won the club championship of the Royal Montreal Club and has always demonstrated that he is an opponent to be reckoned with in any competition.

I have always rated Norman M. Scott of the Royal Montreal, very high indeed. Like his Ontario confreres, Somerville and Carrick, in his day, he was a fine all-round young athlete. In the Canadian Amateur at Hamilton in 1922 he was defeated in the final, as previously recorded by C. C. Fraser. But for an unfortunate incident at the 34th hole of which I was a witness, I have always thought he would have won that championship. "But that is another story" which space will not permit telling in this review. Norman captured the Quebec Amateur in 1927 and 1930. He has won the club championship of the Royal Montreal Club six times—1923 1925 1927 1931 1934 1938 and is "still going strong". Young golfers of Montreal to-day could not do better than follow in the footsteps of this clean and clever exponent of the game.

Other well known players from the Ancient Province are Gordon B. Taylor of Kanawaki Canadian Amateur champion 1932 and Quebec Amateur champion 1934 Maurice Hodgson Royal Montreal a scion of one of the best known golfing and athletic families of Montreal as is also "Phil" Ross of the same club, Ralph Smith of Beaconsfield, A. E. Macnutt of the Royal Montreal, E. A. Innes of Islesmere, H. B. Jaques, Whitlock, M. Greer, Grand'Mere, Frank Corrigan Chaudiere Golf Club Ottawa, Roland Brault, Cowansville, (all five have won the Quebec Amateur, Jaques twice,) W. D. "Bill" Taylor, V. D. Cardy, Marlborough, Carroll M. Stuart, Mount Royal W. C. Harrison, Marlborough and many another fine exponent of the "game of games."

Spotlight on Maritimes

For many years, Gerald and Frank Mickle of Halifax fairly ruled the golfing roost in the Maritimes. They won the Amateur championship between them a dozen times or so. Gerald, I always considered, had the makings of a real champion, if he had had more chances to compete in first class championships. He did come East once to compete in the Canadian Open at Montreal at which time I had the pleasure of meeting him and at the request of the late W. A. Henry, K.C. of Halifax in his time a noted cricketer and a very good golfer, looked after him a bit. Gerald made a very favourable impression on this occasion. To-day, there are several young players "down by the sounding sea" who are qualifying more or less, to successfully compete in the Willingdon Inter-Provincial matches in which they have already participated but naturally without much success owing to inexperience in major golf. The West and British Columbia, have had a flock of good golfers due largely to the fact that many young Scots and Englishmen settled in the country especially some twenty-five years ago. To-day B. C. in that brilliant young Scottish-Canadian Kenneth Black, has the ranking amateur of the Dominion, he having won the Canadian Amateur last year, whilst in second place is Henry Martell of Edmonton who was defeated by Black in the Final for the Amateur but came back strong ten days later to win the coveted Ontario Open championships, the first time an amateur has ever accomplished the feat. He is also Amateur champion of Alberta so the West and the Pacific Coast for the first time are securely entrenched in the leadership of Canadian Amateur golf. The East has had at last to bow the golfing knee—as I predicted it would several years ago.

"Ken" who is a son of "Davie" Black the Scottish pro of Shaughnessy, Vancouver, will also be remembered as winning the 1936 Vancouver Jubilee $5000 championship in which were entered the foremost professionals in the U. S. (including such stars as Horton Smith and Harry Cooper), and Western Canada. His final round was a 63. This I consider even a greater feat than winning the Canadian Amateur.

Jack Fraser of Vancouver known as a "dead certain 75 shooter" has bagged many important events. So has Jim Hogan of Jasper, C. P. Church, Regina, C. A. L. Payne, Vancouver, in his day an expert cricketer, squash racquet, tennis and billiard player, B. Wilson of Victoria, J. Mountfield, Edmonton, Dr. George Bigelow, Regina, F. G. Hale, Winnipeg, A. Bull, Vancouver, Gordon MacWilliams, Calgary, C. L. Hodgman, Winnipeg, Harry E. Gow, Vancouver, A. Vernon Macan, Victoria, Phil Morse, Saskatchewan, "Bob" Bone, Vancouver, "Sandy" Weir, Winnipeg, he was a semi-finalist at the Canadian Amateur at Toronto in 1926, F. F. Tribe, Winnipeg, Cecil Colville, Vancouver, Stan Leonard, Vancouver, Freddie Wood, Vancouver, he defeated Don Carrick at the 37th hole in the Canadian Amateur as Jasper in 1929—and so the list might be continued of "good golfers and true" who have "played up and played the game" the last two decades or so on courses from Winnipeg to the Coast.

The Ladies At It, Too!

The ladies, God bless 'em, have done very much for golf in Canada especially during the past twenty-five years. The present generation of golfers perhaps, do not realize that when golf clubs were first started in the Dominion, "women and children" were absolutely taboo in the club house or on the Links. It was a game only for middle-aged portly gentlemen and their elders of social and financial standing. Now this fortunately is all changed. Golf has been democratized and is now for the masses as well as for the well-to-do and the fair sex and the youth of the country are as welcome as "the flowers that bloom in the Spring" on all courses.

A figure who will long be remembered as catching the true meaning and quality of the game of golf, Mrs. Billie Mussen, founder of the Canadian Senior Women's Golf Association. A fine golfer and the spirit of sporting womanhood, this Montrealler gave much to golf in this country.

The first Canadian Ladies' championship was held at the Royal Montreal Club in 1901 and was won by Miss L. Young of the home club. In 1902 Miss Mabel Thompson of St. John, N. B. was the winner and then made a record never since equalled by capturing the championship four years in a row—1905, 1906, 1907 and 1908. Miss Thompson's family has been very prominent for many years and still is prominent in St. John. In 1903 and 1904 that sterling Hamiltonian, Miss Florence Harvey won the championship and also the Ontario championship in 1904, 1906, 1913 and 1914. Miss Harvey was not only some years ago, a very fine golfer but a very clever Executive and was largely responsible for launching the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union on its successful career. She was the first Hon. Secretary of the Union. When the Canadian Golfer was launched 25 years ago, she was the capable Editress of the Ladies' Department. In the last war she did splendid work in Serbia with the Scottish Woman's Hospital as an ambulance driver. After the war she went to South Africa. Last June she came back to Canada on a visit to her sister Mrs. Sey of Hamilton. War again breaking out, Miss Florence promptly and pluckily sailed for England where she is now in charge of an Air Raid Shelter in London and also has an office and superintends the sending of parcels to prisoners in Germany under the auspices of the Canadian Red Cross. The Hamilton Golf & Country Club many years ago, deservedly made this outstanding golfer and war worker an Honorary Life Member.

Grand Record of Dorothy Campbell

Coming to Canada in 1910 Miss Dorothy Campbell the well known Scottish player won the Canadian Ladies' Open and becoming a great friend of Miss Harvey's decided to stay here and was a resident of Hamilton for over two years. She again won the Canadian Open in 1911 and 1912. Miss Campbell, afterwards Mrs. Hurd, I consider the greatest of all women golfers with the possible exception of Miss Joyce Wethered (now Lady Heathcote Amory). Besides the Canadian championship three times she won the British Ladies' championship in 1909 and 1911. Scottish championship 1905, 1906, 1908. U. S. championship 1909, 1910 and 1924. She is the only woman golfer ever to have won the British, United States and Canadian championships. She has now for some years lived in the United States and I believe has recently re-married. I have the pleasantest recollections of meeting and playing with Miss Campbell in years lang syne.

Our Greatest Lady Player

When the Canadian Ladies' championships were revived after the War in 1919 at Beaconsfield, Montreal a young Toronto Player from the Mississauga Club, Toronto, Miss Ada Mackenzie made her first appearance in major championship golf and most successfully too, as she went through a representative field to the Final where she defeated Miss Kate Robertson a very steady Beaconsfield player 1 up on the 19th green. That was the beginning of the most brilliant woman's career in Canadian golf history. Miss Ada's record is a most impressive and imposing one. She won the Ladies' Open in 1925, 1926, 1927, 1933—five times in all. Was runner-up in 1924 and 1934. Won the Canada Close championship in 1926, 1927, 1929, 1931, 1933—also five times. Won the Ontario Ladies' championship 1922, 1923, 1927, 1931, 1933, 1939—six times. She has competed in both the British and U. S. Opens and has always gone far in these World championships. In the 1927 U. S. Championship, with the remarkable score of 77 five strokes under ladies par, she led a big field and won the qualifying medal—a most notable performance. She has captured the Toronto District and other Tournaments by the score and her hosts of friends will be glad to hear that she is again playing at the top of her game and if the 1940 Open Championship had not been cancelled as the result of the war, she would have been first choice to again land it.

To Miss Mackenzie goes the credit of founding the successful Ladies' Golf & Tennis Club the only Ladies Club in Canada. She is also the fairy Godmother of young girl golfers and was instrumental in launching the Girl championships in Ontario which have been such a great success and which have been emulated in all the Provinces in the Dominion. Miss Mackenzie, who has been awarded all kinds of honours by Golf Associations and clubs, has fairly dominated Ladies' golf in Canada the past twenty years. She is deservedly most popular on the courses of Canada, from Coast to Coast.

Gifted Females Across Canada

Other fine players in Ontario, are Mrs. Gordon Ferrie of Hamilton a particularly finished player, Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen, Toronto (the 1938 Ladies Open champion) who first came into prominence some twenty years ago as Miss Sidney Peplar. Mrs. E. W. W. Whittington, Toronto, Mrs. Ronald Holmes, Toronto, formerly Miss Helen Paget of Ottawa, the former Smith sisters, Mrs. E. H. Gooderham and Mrs. D. J. MacDougall, Mrs. C. S. Eddis, Toronto, Miss Muriel Dick, Cobourg, Miss Effie Nesbitt, Woodstock, Miss Honor Bright, Welland, Miss Mary Hunter, Hamilton, Mrs. Shuttleworth, Hamilton. All of these players have won the Ontario championship of other important events, during the past two decades. In Ottawa there is Mrs. Alexa Stirling Fraser, a Canadian by adoption who won the U. S. Ladies Championship in 1916 and the Canadian Open in 1920 and 1934. She still is capable of putting up a game of championship calibre.

Montreal had its "Big Four" in Miss Dora Virtue, Miss Eileen Kinsello, Miss Marjorie Kirkham and Mme J. Dagenais who between them had for years a monopoly on the Quebec titles. Miss Kirkham too won the Canadian Open in 1932 and was runner-up in 1931 and 1936. Mme Dagenais, was also a runner-up to Miss Mackenzie in the Open in 1935. In the Maritimes, besides Miss Mabel Thompson, Miss Edith Bauld of Halifax, must be rated amongst the best player of some years ago. She has won many championships in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

The West and the Coast in the past and now, have had a number of ranking lady players. Particularly outstanding is Mrs. S. C. Sweeney who is known as "the grand old player of British Columbia golf". She won her first B. C. championship 'way back in 1905 and has annexed a dozen or so of them since then, both in British Columbia and on the Pacific Coast in the U. S. Just to show that she is still to be reckoned with, in the Canadian Open championship in 1935 she went to the semi-finals defeating en route, the Toronto star Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen, now the Canadian Open champion by 1 up.

Another particularly fine Western woman golfer, is the hard-hitting Mrs. Roy H. Horne of Calgary who, too, has a number of championships hanging on her belt, not to mention the Canadian Close championship in 1935 on which occasion she met and defeated the flower of the Ontario, and Quebec players—certainly a golfing feather in her bonnet of which she may be justly proud. Mrs. R. S. Rideout of Regina has won many Western events. In Winnipeg there are a number of really first-class lady players. To mention only a very few who have won Western championships in the past. Mrs. Douglas Laird, Mrs. B. P. Pellenz, Mrs. R. K. Beairto, Mrs. K. C. Allen and Mrs. C. C. Balfour.

Professionals — George Cumming

Canada has been exceptionally fortunate in having a particularly fine type of professionals to teach old and young alike "how to shoot". As previously mentioned in this article, the first pro to come here from the Old Country, was Wm. Davis who in 1881 or nearly fifty years ago, arrived in Montreal under a contract with the Royal Montreal Golf Club.

In 1900 or 40 years ago, George Cumming who was born in Dumfries, Scotland, came out as a very young man, to take over the position of professional at the Toronto Golf Club, the oldest club in Ontario and the third oldest club in North America. Cumming is still hale and hearty and still the popular pro of the Toronto Club having as an able assistant, his brilliant young son "Lou". Cumming unquestionably has had a great influence on the game in Canada because in addition to his own personality and prowess alike with wood and iron and a wonderful gift for instructing, he has had as his pupils or to be more golfingly correct "apprentices" such outstanding professional players as the late C. R. Murray of the Royal Montreal, Albert H. Murray of Beaconsfield, Montreal, Karl Keffer of the Royal Ottawa, W. M. Freeman, York Downs, and Kern Marsh of the London Hunt, who was largely responsible for the early training of "Sandy" Somerville. Cumming has coached many of the best amateur players, both men and women in the Dominion. He is rightly recognized as the Doyen of the Professional Corps in Canada. Thirty five years ago (1905) he won the Canadian Open championship with 148 the best score ever made for 36 holes in that competition—it is now played at 72 holes and the following year, was runner-up to his former pupil C. R. Murray. He was also runner-up in 1907, 1909 and 1914. He has won in his time nearly every important Canadian major competition. In addition he has to his credit dozens of well-laid out courses throughout the country. Yes, "George" has been a great factor in making golf to-day in Canada, the great success that it is.

Nicol Thompson

Close on the golfing heels, of Cumming, for length of service in one club, comes Nicol Thompson sr. who for 39 years now has looked after the professional duties of the Hamilton Golf & Country Club and looked after them mighty well. Also in the Winter time he is engaged in professional work in Bermuda. Nicol has every shot in his bag and as an instructor has no peer in the Dominion. Like Cumming, he has developed for the game ranking men and women players by the dozen and like Cumming too, he has designed many fine courses in Canada, not forgetting that particular attractive lay out of the Niagara Falls Country Club at Lewiston, N. Y. He was runner-up for the Canadian Open championship in 1913, won the Canadian Professional championship in 1922, Ontario Open 1925, Bermuda Open 1927. But I think the best performance of his long and honourable career came in 1930 when with a score of 282, good enough to win any major championship, some years ago, he was the leading Canadian Professional in the Canadian Open and won the Canadian Golfer's first prize as the best Canadian pro competing in the event. It was on this occasion that Tommy Armour and Leo Diegel ended in a sensational tie with the remarkable cards of 277. In the play-off Tommy won. He first came to Canada from Edinburgh, Scotland in 1919 to act as salesman and representative for the North British Rubber Co. Ltd., of Toronto who manufactured golf balls. I knew him well

LOOKING Back

By
THE HON. C. A. MASTEN

When I was asked by Mr. Reville of the Canadian Golfer to contribute for the journal some account of my fifty years of golfing experience, I was very reluctant to comply and made the objection that my experience was as a judge rather than as a golfer, and that such autobiographical reminiscences could not be expected to interest the present day devotees of the game. However, in the end, and against my better judgment, I weakly yielded and promised to write something; but the blame rests on the editor if it does not interest his readers.

My first introduction to golf came through my old associates, Tom Law and the late William H. Blake. Some of their Montreal friends (members of the Royal Montreal Club, then playing on Fletcher's Field) came up to Toronto for an Easter holiday in 1890, and brought their clubs with them. A golfing party was arranged; I was invited and was at once infected with the virus. We played over lands on Gerrard Street east of Coxwell Avenue, then owned by the Molsons Bank. We laid out the course as we went along, digging the holes with our jack knives.

For some years before that (I think from 1876) the late Lamond Smith, Robert Bethune, E. B. Osler, D. R. Wilkie, Col. Sweeney and other golfers, had from time to time foregathered for golf on these same lands without much of a definite organization. They were known as the Toronto Golf Association, afterwards the Toronto Golf Club, really the third oldest golf club on the American Continent. Quebec and Montreal were earlier. The first American club, known as the "Apple Tree Gang", consisting of New Yorkers of Scottish origin, was organized somewhat later than any of the three clubs above mentioned.

In those early days the members drove down east from the city with horse and trap, hitched their horses to the fence, hung their coats on the pickets, and played their game. I recall

One must look long and well in Canada for a more thoroughly-steeped golfer than The Hon. Mr. C. A. Masten of Toronto, raconteur of this delightful backward glance over fifty golfing years in Canada. Mr. Masten, judge of Supreme Court of Ontario Appellate Division, mingles fact and feeling in a heartwarming manner for any reader who bears true love of the game.

a story of those early days which the late E. B. Osler used to tell.

One Saturday in the autumn after playing the 19th hole there was a whole bottle left over and someone suggested that as they were sure to be down next Saturday they might leave it in a hollow stump. This was done. But alas winter came down before the next Saturday and there was no more golf until spring. But at the first spring gathering someone recalled the bottle that had been left and sure enough it was found intact and in perfect condition. The simple joys of golfers have not changed.

I joined the club in 1890. The entrance fee was $5.00 and the annual fee the same. There were 35 members. From 1890 to 1894 development of the club was rapid. Many youngsters joined and enthusiasm ran high. I cannot say as much for the quality of the game judged by present standards.

At this juncture we were in one respect most fortunate. Our best golfer was Andy Smith, an old St. Andrews boy who had been a boyhood pal of young Tom Morris. He was very kind in giving to us novices suggestions and pointers on how to drive, approach and putt, but he did a great deal more than that. Through him there was inculcated in the Club the traditions of old St. Andrews, and through him and others (like the Scott brothers who had learned the game in Scotland) we imbibed (not at the 19th hole) directly from the fountain-head the true spirit of the game. "Not the quarry, but the chase; not the trophy, but the race." Long may that spirit continue!

Until 1894 we had no club house. We parked our clubs at Mrs. Johnston's store on Gerrard Street, and she provided us with boiled eggs and other food as occasion demanded. But in 1894 the club was incorporated and the lands over which we then played were purchased from the Molsons Bank. This enabled us to complete with alterations and additions the old unfinished "Ghost house" that stood on the property and which served as the club house from 1894 till 1913.

Twenty-Five Years of R.C.G.A. Growth

By
B. L. Anderson

SECRETARY-TREASURER OF
THE ROYAL CANADIAN GOLF
ASSOCIATION SINCE 1914

Energetic, tenacious, resourceful and far-sighted are the qualities of Bert Anderson, known to international golfing circles as "B. L." For more than twenty-five years Mr. Anderson has served the Royal Canadian Golf Association and has been the permanent member of the Executive through the years. His vast knowledge of golf and adroit judgement has been a theme upon which the game in its organized form in Canada has progressed. Coincidentally Mr. Anderson came to office at about the same time that Mr. Ralph H. Reville was publishing the first issue of CANADIAN GOLFER.

I am deviating slightly from the request of the editor of Canadian Golfer who, in preparation for the Silver Jubilee number of that publication, asked for a resume of the history of the Royal Canadian Golf Association for the last 25 years. In considering such a sketch I thought it would be much simpler to outline the growth of the Association during the time that I have been secretary-treasurer; since 1914 which is just slightly more than 25 years.

When I took over the office the Association had 33 member clubs and a bank overdraft of $2100. At the present time the Association is composed of nine provincial associations having a membership of over 300 clubs from coast to coast, one affiliated Association, the Canadian Seniors, and works in close harmony with the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union which has taken over control of women's golf in recent years, under the supervision of the R.C.G.A. The financial situation has also improved greatly as now we have a balance of over $8000 in bonds.

In looking back over slightly more than a quarter century of Canadian golf history it is rather difficult to pick out one decision or one development which has been of greater value to the good of the game in the Dominion, than has another. We have always remained in close allegiance with the Royal and Ancient of St. Andrews, even if at times we have had to differ in connection with rules from our more closer cousins across the border. In passing I would like to refer to the great loss that golf, throughout the entire world, has suffered by the death this summer of Henry C. Gullen, secretary of the R. and A.

Golf in Canada has developed greatly in the matter of organization, administration, conduct of tournaments and international relations. Our tournaments are more important by far than they were 25 years ago. In fact, our national tournaments only started to develop into big and important affairs of an international nature, in 1919, when the Association commenced to function in its fullest extent after the end of the Great War. The first big amateur championship was at Lambton in 1919 and the Open that year was held at Hamilton. The latter is an important date as it marked the start of the string of American successes in our Open that has continued unbroken ever since, but we have hopes that before long one of our Canadians will be able to break up the monopoly the United States players have maintained.

International matches have been prominent features at times during the past quarter century. In 1920 the first amateur team match was held at Hamilton and the following year the Canadians paid a return visit to Long Island. We have entertained British Walker cup teams on several occasions, the first time being in 1924 when the British players appeared at Hamilton, Rosedale Royal Ottawa, Summerlea, Mount Bruno, Kent and Royal Quebec Clubs. Members of the British Ryder Cup team competed a Canadian team at Rosedale in 1927 and individual members of the British team also played in Canadian Open championships at Rosedale and Mississauga. A team of U. S. pros met a Canadian team at St. Andrews in 1937. In recent years the international team competition was featured by a visit of a Canadian squad to Great Britain in 1935 while Canada was represented in the Lesley cup series for several years but now Canada's place has been taken by the province of Quebec.

For years the Canadian amateurs were able to withstand all challenges from the amateurs from across the line but in 1929 Eddie Held of New York won the title, a feat that was duplicated by Albert Campbell of Seattle in 1933 and 1934, by Fred Haas of New Orleans in 1936 and Ted Adams of Columbia, Mo., in 1938.

In connection with the history of the Open it might be pointed out that the late Douglas Edgar of Atlanta, Ga., was the first American to win this title, he winning in 1919 and again in 1920, while Leo Diegel has scored four victories in this championship.

WILLINGDON CUP SIGNIFICANT

To the Willingdon Cup matches (representing the Inter-provincial Team championship) goes Ralph Reville's vote as perhaps the most important single organization step in the history of Canadian golf. Here, above, a great president of the R.C.G.A. Mr. Alfred Collyer, Montreal (1930 and 1931) presents one of the finest of Willingdon Cup teams with the trophy presented by the popular former Governor General, Lord Willingdon. The team was Ontario's in 1931 and is composed of (left to right) C.R. Sandy Somerville London six times Canadian Amateur titlist and once American champion, Phil Farley, Toronto, Fred Holblitzell, M.P. Toronto and Jack Nash of London.

One of the greatest achievements of the R.C.G.A. during the 25 years has been the expanding of the amateur championship into a truly national tournament and there are several things that have combined to make this possible. After a lapse of some years the Interprovincial team matches were resumed in 1927 when Lord Willingdon, then Governor General, to stimulate inter-provincial sport, presented a trophy for annual competition between four-men teams from the various provinces. In making the presentation he stated that it "was in return for all the divots I have taken out of golf courses across Canada".

This proved a great incentive to the effort to nationalize the game but the financial angle of sending teams from coast to coast, or from both coasts to an inland centre, proved difficult to overcome. This was partly settled by the decision to turn over the profits of the "Canadian Annual Golf Review", published by the Association each year to the team fund and in latter years the financial co-operation of the House of Seagram in connection with the Canadian Open has enabled the Association to turn over their other monies to the fund.

The Canadian Open was moved into Big Time golf in 1936 when Seagrams made a donation which has been duplicated every year since, towards the Open championship. This donation enabled the Association to increase the total prize money from $1500 to $3,000 and, to make a special prize list for the Canadian professionals. The winner of the Canadian Open wins $1,000 for first prize and holds the Seagram Gold Cup for one year. Now the Canadian Open is ranked second among the national golf championships of the world.

The championships have also been staged in various parts of the Dominion. In 1921 the amateur was held in Winnipeg and since then it has been played at Jasper Park, Vancouver and Winnipeg while the 1939 Open was played at Saint John, N. B.

In 1927 the constitution of the Association was revised and ten years later a new arrangement was made whereby the provincial associations collected the membership fees from the clubs and in turn paid over a proportion of the fees to the R.C.G.A. In this way every club that belongs to a provincial association is a member of the R.C.G.A. and every provincial association is represented on the executive of the Canadian body.

The Association has been recognized by the King's representatives in Canada as the last four Governor-Generals have been honorary presidents of the R.C.G.A., Lord Willingdon, Lord Bessborough, Lord Tweedsmuir and the Earl of Athlone.

Previous to 1914 the head office of the Association was located in whatever city the amateur championship was held but in that year it was moved to Toronto and has been permanently located here ever since. The Association can, therefore, function regularly regardless of where the President resides.

A Rules of Golf Committee was established in 1912 and has functioned ever since, with greater number of interpretations to make every year. In 1934 the Rules of Golf were revised and the Association issued a book of rules which has been reprinted this year.

It is strange that the quarter century under review should have started during a war-period and is concluding under similar conditions. During 1914, through to 1919 Mr. Frank A. Rolph was president of the Association but only once since, in 1930 and 1931, has a president served more than one year, Mr. Alfred Collyer of Montreal holding office for two years. No championships were held during the Great War and this year all but the Open were cancelled. From 1914 to 1918 the Association and golfers in general did much towards assisting the Red Cross in raising funds and plans this end are now under consideration by the R.C.G.A. while some of the provincial and other golf bodies have already made contributions to the Society.

In 1938 and 1939 the Association published a National Handicap List which included all players with provincial handicaps of 9 and under. The Annual Golf Review has grown in every way and its distribution has expanded from a few hundred to over 5,000 copies.

A Greens Section was established in 1924 and for a number of years conducted an experimental plot at the Royal York Golf Club in Toronto. The results of this experiment were of great benefit to clubs throughout the entire Dominion.

There have been some names associated with golf in Canada during the post war years which will live long. There was the late George S. Lyon, winner of many amateur titles before the war and who was supreme in senior ranks for years. There is C Ross Somerville, now overseas with the C.A.S.F., who won six Canadian amateur titles and one U. S. championship. The Thompson family has been by far the most prominent family golfing combination in the history of the game in Canada, or in any other country for that matter. Frank won the amateur title twice and the late W. J. was successful once and their brothers Nicol, Stanley and Matt, are extremely well known. The younger generation of the family is represented by Nicol, Jr, pro at the Cutten Fields club and Joe, who is now in the R.C.A.F.

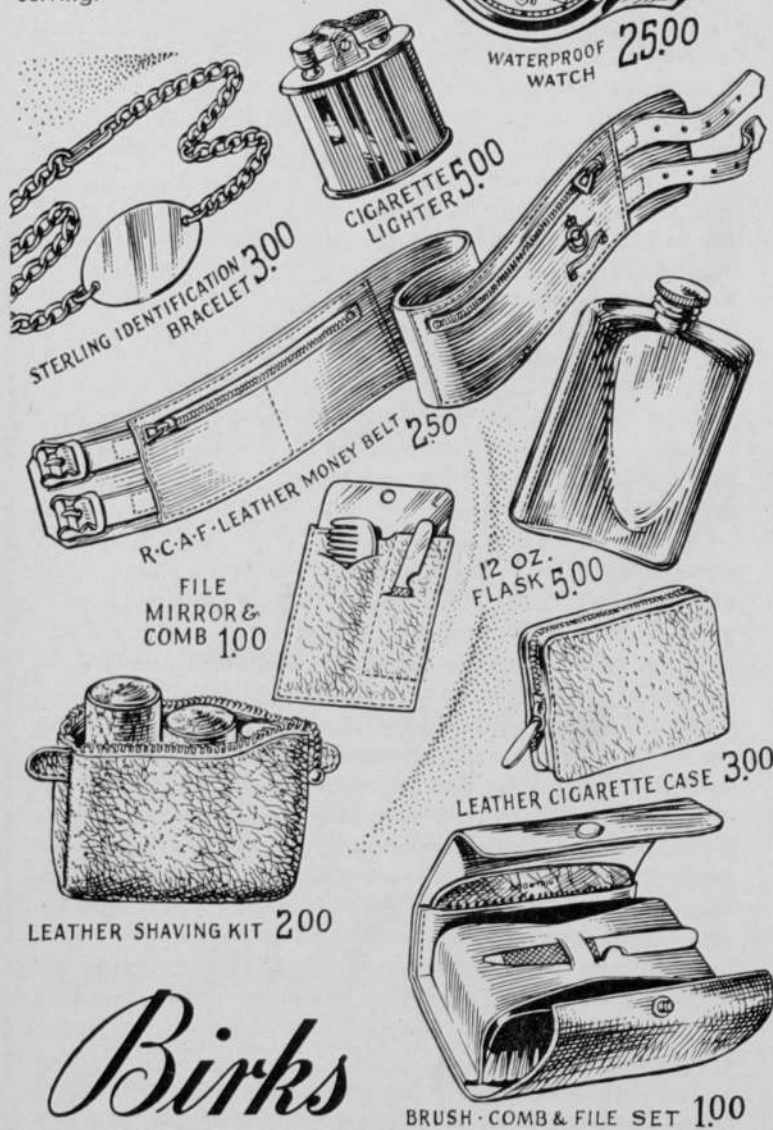

Just what will happen in the next 25 years is hard to determine. The present conflict may last some years and it may be that, in time, that people who, in the ordinary course of events, in his amateur days. Later on going to the States, he joined the professional ranks and made more or less golfing history in Championships alike in the United States and Canada. A most likeable chap is "Tommy" and unquestionably the greatest iron-player the golfing world has ever seen.

A Grand Swing — Percy Barrett

In 1903 Lambton, Toronto, then as now one of the most progressive clubs in Canada, decided to go Overseas for a professional. So, on the recommendation of Harry Vardon "Golf's Greatest Master" Percy Barrett obtained the enviable post because Lambton is recognized as one of the most lucrative propositions in the Dominion. Barrett, was one of Vardon's favourite apprentices or assistants or pupils, call it what you like. It is the general consensus of opinion of professionals, I know, that Barrett was the most finished golfer ever to come to Canada or for that matter, America. Shortly after his arrival, he was Runner-up to J. H. Oke in the first Canadian Open Championship and was also runner-up the following year to George Cumming. In 1907 he won the event turning the tables on Cumming who was the runner-up. For years afterwards, "Percy" was winning lesser championships and Tournaments by the score. It was a distinct loss to Canadian golf when some years ago, this finished pupil of Vardon's passed on. To-day they don't develop many professional golfers of the calibre of Percy Barrett, either in the Old Country, the United States or Canada.

And this is the team selected by the R. C. G. A. to cross clubs for the first time with the pick of Great Britain's best. Names arranged alphabetically: Davie Black, Shaughnessy Heights Golf Club, Vancouver, B. C. Eric Bannister, St. Charles Country Club, Winnipeg. Andy Kay, Lambton Golf Club, Toronto, Jimmie Johnstone Rosedale Golf Club, Toronto, C. R. Murray, Royal Montreal Golf Club, A. H. Nicol Thompson, Hamilton Golf Club. Reserves, "Jock" Brown, Summerlea Golf Club, Montreal, George Cumming Toronto Golf Club, C. R. Murray was selected to Captain this representative team, an honour well deserved. There is no doubt that thirteen years ago, this selection represented the cream of the professional golf talent in Canada.

And the results proved that the selectors had made an excellent choice. At Toronto, Rimmer with a total of 145 took first place and money, $250 Davie Black in second place $100, Eric Bannister, third place $67.50 Arthur Havers, former British Open champion, fourth place $67.50 H. A gallery of over 3000 witnessed the matches a record at that time for Canada and very rarely excelled. The Royal Montreal Club three days afterwards, as the oldest golfing organization on the Continent, provided a fitting setting for the final match. Here again, was a gallery of 3000 or so. He headed his score of 149 at Toronto with a score of 147 for a total of 296 for the 72 holes which enabled him to just nose out Black of Shaughnessy, by 1 stroke. Dear old Ted Ray, he of the long pipe and long drive, was the Captain of the British team on this memorable visit. To show how close these Ryder Cup Matches were, the Britishers pulled down $1273 of the prize money and the Canadians $1136—a pretty even break.

Harking back to the ten players the R. C. G. A. selected to meet the Britishers. C. R. He was really the embodiment of all a high-class professional should be as a player, as an instructor and as an advisor along the lines of the best etiquette of the game, he really left nothing to be desired. He won the Canadian Open in 1906 and 1911 and the Quebec Open four years in succession, 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924—a performance which will probably never be duplicated. His passing, a few years ago, left a golfing void hard to replace.

Albert Murray, of Beaconsfield a brother of "Charlie's" has been an outstanding figure for many years in Canadian Golfdom. He won the Canadian Open in 1908 and 1913 and the Quebec Open in 1930.

Davie Black of the Shaughnessy Heights Club, Vancouver formerly of Rivermead, Ottawa comes of a famous family of Scottish golfers—his brother John, was runner-up to Sarazen in the 1922 U. S. Open. Four time. "Wee Davie" won the Canadian Professional championship. In 1913 and then three times in a row, 1919, 1920 and 1921, winning outright the beautiful cup presented to the Professionals by that grand sportsman, Mr. P. D. Ross of Ottawa. Black has won every important B. C. and Pacific Coast championship. He is the proud father of "Ken" Black Canadian amateur champion and ranking amateur of the Dominion.

Eric Bannister, Andy Kay, Jimmie Johnstone Phil Taylor are all representative Old Country professionals with many Canadian championships both in the East and West, to their credit. Bannister some years ago went back to England. A fine type of a pro was he and it is to be regretted that he returned to his native land. Andy Kay, one of the most brilliant players ever to be seen on a Canadian course, is now in Florida. Phil Taylor has for some twenty years been the pro at the very prominent Victoria Golf Club, Victoria, B. C. one of the best professional posts in the Dominion. He has won the Pacific Northwest Open Championship and all the other important events in B. C. and on the Coast.

The late Jimmy Rimmer, for some years pro at far-famed Jasper Park Alberta, until only this summer held the post at the Halifax Golf Club. He more or less dominated professional golf in the Maritimes. "Dave" Spittall, formerly of Scarboro and the Royal York Clubs, Toronto, in his day was one of the best championship players in Ontario and Quebec. He had a distinguished Overseas record in the last war. One of the most prominent professionals and players in Canada, is Karl Keffer for a quarter of a century or more, the pro at the Royal Ottawa. I don't understand why Karl was not on the team chosen to meet the Britishers, because on his record he was certainly entitled to a place or at least on the reserve with his old mentor, George Cumming. He captured the Canadian Open in 1909 and 1914 and was runner-up with the redoubtable "Bobby" Jones at Hamilton in 1919. Since this selection of thirteen years ago, naturally many younger and possibly, although I doubt it, better players have come to the fore.

In 1924 Mr. F. C. Armitage, Secretary of the Toronto Golf Club, whilst on a visit to his native Scotland "spotted" Willie Lamb then a leading young amateur as a likely assistant for George Cumming. So, "Wullie" a native of Montrose, came out to Toronto. After a short time as Cumming's assistant, he went to Uplands, Toronto, as pro and now holds down the lucrative Lambton position. Mr. Armitage, himself a very good golfer, was a good "spotter" all right. Since coming to Canada, Lamb has won among other events the Canadian Professional three times in a row 1928, 1929, 1930, thus duplicating Davie Black's great feat. He has also won the Quebec Open three times in succession, 1931 1932, 1933.—just to mention only a few of his successes.

Lex Robson was another Scottish amateur of repute who came to Canada seeking fame and fortune. He was for a time Secretary of the Western Golf Club, Toronto, a mighty good success of his chosen profession. Like Lamb he has

W. H. Plant, outstanding member of the Mississauga Golf Club who was president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association in 1932 when the Canadian Amateur golf championship was played at Lambton Golf Club in Toronto. This was one of the finest championships in Canadian history.

Size and Foundation of Canadian Golf

It might be interesting to note that when the Canadian Golfer was launched in May 1915 there were only 47 pros in the whole of Canada and only 121 golf clubs. To-day the professionals number 312 and the clubs from Coast to Coast, 578. What a striking commentary on the vast strides golf has made in the Dominion during a brief quarter of a century. Twenty five years ago, the Canadian Golfer computed some 25,000 golfers in Canada. To-day on Private courses, Municipal courses and Pay-as-you Play courses there must be very conservatively, well over 100,000 Canadian men, women, boys and girls, enjoying "the game of games." Golf to-day in the Dominion, is easily the most popular of all sports. The past twenty-five years has seen a most wonderful improvement in the club houses and courses throughout the Dominion. It is not "pulling a long bow" I think to state that there is invested to-day in lands, buildings and equipment at least $100,000,000 and that great sum has more or less been expended within the last two decades and a half.

Ever since the inception of the game in Canada, golf clubs have been signally fortunate in having as Executive officers, the leading financial manufacturing and professional men of the community. They gave to golf liberally both of their time, ability and money, and as a result golfers of the present time, are playing the game under ideal conditions nearly everywhere, both as regards courses and club house accommodation. I could name a dozen clubs or more, in the "Wee Davie" Black, Vancouver Doyen professional, shares the honour of having won the Canadian professional title three times in succession. Davie won from 1919 to 1921. He is Canada's greatest putter, father of the present Amateur champion and pro at Shaughnessy Heights G.C.

Dominion, that compare very favourably indeed with the best golf lay-outs in the Old Country or the United States. The golfers of to-day owe a deep debt of gratitude to these pioneer Executives who builded for the future and builded well.

C. L. G. U. Set-up

Then the ladies, not to be outdone in 1922 under the Presidency of Mrs. A. E. (Billy) Mussen an exceedingly popular Montreal golfer and socialite, established the Canadian Womens' Senior Golf Association and it too, has flourished. But whisper it the ladies' age limit is 50 whilst the men have to be a robust 55 to qualify for membership.

To the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union must go the credit for greatly stimulating the interest in ladies' golf from Coast to Coast. Founded some twenty-five years ago, it is only since 1919 that the Union has really become such an important factor in Womens' golf. It was in that year that Mrs. Leonard Murray of Toronto, formerly of Halifax, was elected President and for ten years held that position. I have never met a more able Executive than Mrs. Murray. Under her skilful guidance the C. L. G. U. established branches not only in Ontario and Quebec but in the Maritimes and throughout the West and British Columbia. It was a splendid bit of work, taking several years to round out. It was rather with fear and trembling, that the delegates at the Annual meeting of the R. C. G. A. in 1924, handed over the running of the Ladies' championships to the C. L. G. U. They need not have been afraid, "The ladies" made a great job of it in 1924 and have continued to do so ever since. Mrs. Murray a few years ago, returned to her native England and to-day in London is most actively engaged in war work. She is "Matron" of the Maple Leaf Club and you can rest assured "a jolly good Matron too." Her very able successors in the Presidential chair have been Mrs. John M. Lyle, Toronto 1929-32 Miss Jean Haslett, Hamilton 1932-34 Mrs. Edwin Crockett, Toronto from then to the present time.

The staging of girls and boys championships in every Province has been another most satisfactory golfing innovation of the past ten years or so as also "Pay-as-you-Play" clubs which have been a great success of recent years.

I should like to dilate at length on these features but these Rambling Reminiscences of a quarter of a century of golf in Canada, are becoming altogether too long, and wearisome I'm afraid.

throughout the World*

For over 50 years golf champions the world over have used North British Golf Balls.

Wherever you may go in your travels you will find the famous North British Line of golf balls waiting for you. They will give added enjoyment to your game and more distance and accuracy than you have ever before thought possible in a golf ball.

They are the very latest development in golf ball manufacture. Acute tension, generated by a semi-liquid core expanding after manufacture, supercharges this ball with dynamic energy.

In the early days of golf in Canada, the chief Executive of the Club was the Captain. There were no Presidents in those days. The Captain was in the chair at all meetings and functions. This custom is still preserved by a number of prominent clubs in Scotland and England. For instance at St. Andrews, the Mecca of Golf, the Captain is still the chief Executive of the club. A new Captain "plays himself in by driving a ball from the first Tee and the caddie who returns it is awarded a guinea. I have often thought that this quaint custom might well be observed by at least some of the older clubs in the Dominion. Substitute a $5 bill for the guinea and would the caddies be out en masse? They would. The Captain of St Andrews is recognized everywhere as the World's outstanding golfing executive. Several members of the Royal Family and leading Statesmen have occupied this dignified post the past two hundred years. St. Andrews was founded in 1754. Many golfers, perhaps

Among splendid women golf Executives who have graced the presidency of the Canadian Ladies Golf Union surely Mrs. Jean Haslett of Hamilton ranks very high. Mrs. Haslett held office from 1932-34 and under her lead the Ladies Golf Union was extremely progressive.

Among the outstanding women golfers of the middle west during the past 25 years, Mrs. Roy S. Horne of Calgary stands out. Mrs. Horne's fine golf was an inspiration for years to other mid-west ladies. She was Close champion 1935.

the majority think it is the oldest golf club in the World. But it is not. Royal Blackheath, London, proudly claims 1608 as the year of its birth.

In looking over the records I find that the first Captain of the Royal Montreal Golf Club, and therefore the first golfer to hold that title in Canada, was Alex Dennistoun who held office 1873-1881. Other Captains of the Royal Montreal were, John Taylor, Sir George Drummond, John G. Sidey and the Rev. Dr. Barclay a particularly well known Presbyterian cleric of those days.

At the Toronto Club the oldest golf club in Ontario, the first Captain was J. Lamond-Smith 1876-79. R. H. Bethune 1880-8, Charles Hunter, 1888-9, Col. G. A. Sweeney 1890 afterwards President of the Royal Canadian Golf Association 1909. Sir E. B. Osler, 1892-3 W. G. P. Cassels, 1894-1908. It was not until 1909 that a President was elected, Charles Cockshutt a member of a particularly prominent Canadian family. The first Captain of the Brantford Club the second oldest club in Ontario, was Alexander Robertson, 1879.

To-day the Captain no longer heads the Executive but a President holds sway in his place. I have known personally, or by correspondence in my connection with golf for well onto half a century, hundreds of these outstanding men, a few only of whom, will space permit of mention.

Mr. W. R. Baker, C. V. O. President of the Royal Montreal Club 1915-21 and Founder and President of the Canadian Seniors Golf Association 1918-1925. During the past twenty five years other prominent Presidents of The Royal have been Ansom McKim, J. J. McGill, President of the Seniors' 1936-37 J. W. McConnell, E. A. Macnutt, Governor of the Seniors' T. S. Gillespie, W. W. Robinson, R. P. Jellett, Alfred Collyer.

The Royal Quebec Golf Club, the second oldest golf club in America, has had many able Executives. Prominent in building up the club have been Louis St Laurent, Judge Roy, Allan Boswell, J. E. Boudreault, Hon Frank Carrell, M. L. A. Sir George Garneau, L. T. DesRivieres, Hon W. G. Power, A. R. M. Boulton. The Quebec Club was given "Royal" recognition in 1934. For many years the Royal Montreal and Royal Ottawa, were the only clubs in Canada, permitted to use that distinguished prefix.

The Toronto Club has been fortunate from its inception in having the leading men of the Queen City, on its Executives. Besides the Captains already mentioned, the following Presidents have occupied the chair; A. H. Campbell 1915-20, President R. C. G. A. 1913 A. M. M. Kirkpatrick, 1921-2 Clarence A. Bogart, 1923-26, President of the R. C. G. A. 1926, President Canadian Seniors' 1926-8 and Hon. President of that Association. R. C. Cassels, K. C. 1927-33 President of the R. C. G. A. 1922, S. Temple Blackwood 1934-5, Godfrey E. Spragge, 1936-7 Gordon T. Cassels, 1938-9 W. G. More, 1940.

Vital Phases of Organization

If I was asked the outstanding golfing happenings of the past twenty years or so, I should be inclined to say the introduction by the Royal Canadian Golf Association of Provincial Team matches, now known as the Willingdon Cup matches thanks to the generosity of Lord Willingdon former Governor General of Canada, in presenting a cup for this competition. Lord Willingdon was a particularly well known cricketer in his younger days at Eton and also a very fair golfer. He was frequently to be seen on the courses at Ottawa and also participated in more than one Senior Tournament of which Association he was the Patron as also of the R. C. G. A.

As a result of these matches, the ranking amateurs of all the Provinces come together at the Annual Canadian Amateur championship which has thus become truly a "Canadian" Amateur not as it was for years merely an Ontario and Quebec championship. The Governing Body of Golf in Canada, is to be heartily congratulated in instituting these most interesting matches.

Another notable feature of the past few years was the launching of the Senior movement, most appropriately at the Royal Montreal Club, in May 1918 by the late Mr. W. R. Baker, C. V. O. who had associated with him the late Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, K. C. Toronto Golf Club, 1st Vice Clarence A. Bogart, president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association in 1926. Mr. Bogart has long been one of the really great supporters of golf in Canada. He is an ardent member of the Canadian Seniors and member of the Toronto Golf Club.

President, Mr. P. D. Ross, Royal Ottawa Golf Club 2nd Vice President and some of the outstanding "Elders of Golf" in the Dominion, as Governors. Starting with a membership of 200 the S. S. G. A. has now a membership of 400, with a waiting list in sight.

Then in 1923 Senator Barnard, one of the prominent men of British Columbia, and a group of representative men in Victoria and other cities on the Pacific Coast, on both sides of the Border, organized the Pacific North West Seniors' Association. This too has been a huge success. Both of these Associations by the means of International matches and competitions, have done a great deal to foster the cordial relations now so happily existing between the United States and Canada.

I would however, before writing Finis, like to record an incident of some interest I think. In 1916 the Canadian Golfer started "A Hole-in-One Club" giving a year's subscription to the Magazine to any golfer finding "the cup from the tee." The first year 16 awards were made. Twenty years afterwards in one season, 271 Canadian golfers had bagged "Oneers."

This was the first "Hole-in-One" competition ever started. The idea has been followed literally throughout the World. But the Canadian Golfer's club was the pioneer One-Shot-Club and the Magazine should be credited for that if any "credit" should be bestowed for such a competition which in some cases has brought players prizes all the way from a bottle of whiskey to a bag of flour or ton of coal. In fact, in one instance in a certain city in the States, a house and lot was awarded to the first player in the District making the 20,000 to 1 shot.

The Canadian Golfer could not have been the success it was in its early days, and it was a success to some extent, financially and otherwise, if it had not been for the loyal support accorded the Magazine from its inception by leading Executives, club officials and the professionals who were always loyal friends.

I especially would like to extend my heartiest thanks to Mr. W. H. Webbing, for many years Associate Editor and to many other contributors who helped to make the publication more or less readable, I hope. To the many Secretaries of Associations and clubs I was under a deep debt of gratitude for information so gladly provided. I cannot help mentioning, in this connection, Mr. B. L. Anderson, for twenty six years now, the particularly competent Secretary of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, which organization owes so much to his guiding hand. Mrs. M. K. Rowe, for thirteen years the Secretary and "a right good Secretary too" of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union. Mr. H. P. Baker who has filled the Secretarial post of the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association for four years. I was Secretary myself for eight years of the Seniors, and I know what a mass of work is entailed by the Annual Tournaments and looking after the various classes from 55 years to 80 years and upwards. years now Secretary of the Victoria Golf Club, Victoria, B.C. and Secretary of the influential Pacific North West Seniors' Association. The late W. J. Thompson, for ten years the efficient Secretary of the Ontario Golf Association. Mr. C. M. Jones, the present Secretary of the O. G. A. Mr. A. V. Price for many years the Secretary of the British Columbia Golf Association. Mr. E. Mason over twenty years Secretary of the Lambton Golf & Country Club, Toronto, now living retired I believe in his native Ireland. Mr. Mason was all that a good golf Secretary should be and good golf secretaries are "born not made". Mr. F. C. Armitage, Secretary of the Lakeview Golf Club, Toronto, from 1914 to 1922 and for eighteen years now the valued Secretary of the Toronto Club. As a result of his length of service, Mr. Armitage must be looked upon as the Dean of the Secretarial corps in Canada, succeeding Mr. Mason in that envied title. Mr. J. G. McAlpine, for three years Secretary of the Ontario Golf Association and since then the very efficient Secretary of the Hamilton Golf & Country Club. Col. A. S. English the very capable Secretary-Treasurer and Manager of The Royal Montreal Golf Club. To them and many others I extend heartiest thanks for so many courtesies extended and so willingly and ungrudgingly.

It is a great satisfaction to me that my successor in the Editorial chair and management of the Canadian Golfer, Mr. Hilles Pickens jr., is so well equipped to "carry-on". A University graduate, a good golfer and what is more important, a close student of the game, Mr. Pickens is eminently qualified and equipped to safeguard the best interests of the Royal and Ancient game and to live up to its finest traditions. I bespeak for him and his associates during these particularly trying times, the support of golfers everywhere. He is, I am convinced, thoroughly deserving of it.

I have been asked, many times and oft, if I would not consent to edit a book on "Golf in Canada." There are two reasons why I have hesitated to do so in the past. First, the field is such a vast one covering thousands of miles of territory, that it would take at least a year or more in travelling and "digging" up the records to properly chronicle leading golfing events from Halifax to Victoria. Secondly, the cost of such a production. I know something of the cost of printing, having been interested in the newspaper and printing business for many years and I estimate that before the first volume was off the press, properly bound, printed and illustrated, there would have to be an expenditure of at least $5,000 and probably a good deal more. It is a very moot question if the clubs and golfers of Canada, would respond in sufficient numbers to warrant such an outlay. However, some bold young golfing Lochinvar "may come out of the West" or the East, and tackle the proposition. In such an event, I shall be only too glad to place the bound volumes of the Canadian Golfer and other valuable data I have, at his disposal and after all "the soul" of golf is not to be found in cold and more or less uninteresting statistics of championships and tournaments but in the story of golfers and their doings and club house recollections and incidents. The present time of course, would not be an appropriate one to launch such an undertaking.

The Canadian Golfer, (with the rest of us) went successfully through the first Great War and I haven't a shadow of doubt it will weather the second and even greater storm. It has often been said that Waterloo was won on the playing fields of Eton and I am convinced that the playing fields of Great Britain, Canada and the rest of the far-flung Empire, the golfers, the cricketers, the footballers and thousands of other young athletes—the flower of the Empire's young manhood, will yet prove, as they did in the last great struggle, the deciding factor by air and on land and sea, in conquering Hitlerism and all the dreadful ugliness the name implies. Canada is "in the game" and will play it to the bitter end and successfully. Make no mistake about that.

would take up golf may have their time fully occupied by more serious matters and occupations. However, the government of Canada, through several of the ministers, has expressed a desire that sports be continued as much as possible and with this to guide them the Royal Canadian Golf Association, the provincial associations and other golf organizations, will carry on to the fullest of their ability, but ready at all time to curtail their activities in order that Canada's war effort may not be impeded in any way.

DAISY HEADS OR RIBBENDROPS

When you're waiting your turn to drive off and you're smacking off those daisy heads with your practice swings we defy Ribbentrop or any of the Nazi leaders to worry you. And that's how it should be—we should play more golf and forget the newspapers for a bit. We should get fresh air into our lungs and dark thoughts from our minds. Say to yourself that in spite of everything you will get your handicap down. Look to your equipment—make sure that every club in the bag is fitted with a True Temper shaft so that every shot will have the utmost power and control.

To remind you : True Temper Steel Shafts are the shafts with the steps—steps to better golf. Run your finger down the shaft and feel the steps—they are scientifically spaced to throw the power down to the club head and give you greater length and more accurate control.

Club Matches with Royal Montreal in 90's

In 1894 and 1895 I was chairman of the first Green Committee and I recall with wonder and amazement the bold way in which we, like the pioneers of old, cut down trees and laid out the course without any professional assistance whatever.

We were a very happy family and the friendships made in those far off days have been a continuing joy to me through all the succeeding years. The membership was comparatively small and was thoroughly clubable. There existed a camaraderie which has never been excelled. Such of the old members as still survive will recall with delight the many very genial evenings that we enjoyed in the old club house during those happy years. At our dinners (which were frequent) the entertainment was entirely of home manufacture and every man had his own particular stunt which he was religiously called on to perform. At the same time we developed delightful associations with the Royal Montreal Club and later with the golf clubs of Rochester and Detroit. I never was a good golfer and no one witnessing my present game could believe that in those days I was on the fighting team and took part in our club matches at Montreal, Rochester and Detroit.

George S. Lyon in the Dark

I recall an amusing incident on one of our visits to Detroit. It was one of those rare June days, perfect in every way. We had played singles in the morning and foursomes in the afternoon. Subsequently we had dined exceedingly well and at considerable length. Somewhere around 11 or 11.30 o'clock discussion arose around the table as to the possibility of hitting the ball effectively in the dark, and the late George Lyon backed himself to take his mashie and drive at least 3 out of 6 balls over the pond that guarded the home green. We all went out to witness the test and somebody (I do not know who it was) took a supply of stones and stood near the farther end of the pond. At the right moment after George hit the ball a stone splashed into the pond much to George's surprise for he was sure that he had hit the ball effectively, and his surprise and annoyance increased as ball after ball seemed to fall in the water. But presently the joke was discovered and George won his bet for all the balls carried over, the last two a long way past on the far side of the pond.

Old Course Brought a neat $150,000

There is an interesting story, but too long for this sketch, of how we were driven out of our old links by taxation when they became part of Toronto; of the generosity of the founders of the club, who held the legal title but who accepted their capital investment and gave the club the benefit of the increased land value so that we sold out and sought new links with nearly $150,000 in our treasury; of how A. H. Campbell and I scoured the country from Clarkson on the west to Scarboro on the east in search of a new home, of the discovery of our present links at the Etobicoke, of the quiet acquisition of options from four or five different owners, of bringing out Colt from England to lay out the course, of the fierce discussions regarding the location and building of the club-house and the approaches to it, and of the shift of the club to the new course, without losing a day's play.

Of all this activity I was a part and nothing ever interested me more.

I told the story in 1926 at the dinner celebrating the Club's fiftieth anniversary.

It has been my good fortune to have played over many courses. The experience runs from the West on the Pacific at the Oak Bay Course through Excelsior Springs, Kansas, to Old St. Andrews, Scotland, and Montana, Switzerland in the East, and from Nairn, Scotland in the North to Havana, Cuba on the South. Inside the boundaries so indicated I think I have played on at least 100 courses, but I always come back with pleasure and satisfaction to my home course at Toronto. It is not as easy as it looks, and after trying to make allowance for a natural bias, I still think it is about as good an inland course as I have ever played over.

I think that its outstanding characteristic is that it continuously affords variety and entertainment. One does not grow stale and bored in playing it week after week.

In that respect, though in less degree, it resembles the "Old Course" at St. Andrews.

And speaking of the old course at St. Andrews, I have found it the most difficult of courses to picture in my mind; most difficult to recall the location of bunkers and to remember how to play each hole, having regard to the varying winds. Nonetheless I think it is probably the most diverting, the most interesting, and the most exasperating course that I have ever played. I must have holidayed in St. Andrews in nearly a dozen different years, but I always came away regretfully feeling and believing that it was my final visit.

Of Bunkers

Two bunkers stand out in my memory as the worst ever. First, the left hand bunker at the Eden Hole, St. Andrews—right up against the green with a perpendicular wall nine or ten feet high. Second, the "Maiden" at Islay, so named after the "Maiden" at Sandwich but fiercer than its progenitor. A huge steeply sloping sand hill towering as it seemed to me 150 feet in the air, and placed just far enough from the tee so that it can be carried by a long driver, but is impossible for the short driver to which species I belong.

Of Two Shots I Remember

Both are by Vardon. On his first visit to Toronto he played against the best ball of George Lyon and Vere Brown over the old Rosedale Course. The 18th hole ran along the north side of the Rosedale Ravine and a "V" shaped incursion stretched north from the ravine and extended itself across a line drawn from the tee to the green. The length of the hole was between 170 and 180 yards, and the small putting green was located on the top of a sugar loaf. Vardon took an iron club, pitched a high ball with back spin and brought it to rest on the ticklish green. This was the gutty ball which was used.

The second (also a shot by Vardon) occurred when he and Ray toured America on his second visit. At the 16th hole of the present Toronto course (500 yards) Vardon drove from the tee a straight ball of only moderate length; it found a cuppy lie. He examined the situation with the greatest care, took his brassy, picked it out of the cuppy lie and put it on the green for two.

I once got that hole in three strokes, two of which were mistakes. It really cost me four because on my second I had to lift out of the stream.

Of golfing honours I hold only one worth mentioning. In 1934 the Toronto Golf Club elected me an honorary life member and also honorary president. That tribute from my fellow-members, friends and associates of many years I prize as one of the greatest compliments a man could receive.

As to holes-in-one I think I hold a record for at the old Toronto course sometime about 1895 or 1896 in one week I scored a "one" at the Plateau and another at the first Ambrose from the ladies' tee and now after fifty years of golf I cannot reconcile myself to stopping:

"So like the sparrow for his morning crumb
Do I each morrow to the first tee come,
And play my quiet round till crusty age
Condemns me to a hopeless dufferdom;"

which it has done.—C. A. Masten.

EDITORIAL

Vancouver is an excellent golfer; Mrs. S. C. Sweeney was first a dominating figure in the competitive lists and now a stellar executive in B.C. affairs. Miss Winnifred Evans, Miss Kay Farrell and many others on the Pacific coast rank with the country's best. In the mid-west we will not soon forget that splendid competitor, Mrs. John E. Rogers and her Winnipeg rival, Miss Heather Leslie, the slim Closed Champion of Canada in 1937. Alberta, too, has had its fine lady stars in Mrs. Roy S. Horne, Mrs. J. Train Gray and now Miss Patricia Arnold, all of Calgary. Mrs. Horne once won the Closed title and was six times Alberta titlist. Miss Arnold was especially impressive in the last Canadian Open championship held in Ottawa in 1938.

Ontario has been a veritable "hot-bed" of brilliant lady players. To the names already mentioned one must add Mrs. J. A. MacDougall, Toronto and now Miss Mary Jane Fisher, Miss Grace Sears, Miss Marion Walker and many other young-and-coming performers, most of whom live in the Toronto district.

If Ontario is more "golflingly" vast, Quebec has long represented a certain organization leadership among provincial associations. The names of such Montreal golfers as Hugh Jacques, Watson Yuile, Norman Scott, Frank Corrigan, Gordon and Bill Taylor, Carroll Stuart—have each stood for fairways greatness in this province. Among the ladies Mrs. J. E. Nickson, Mrs. Harold Soper, Montreal, Mrs. Leo Dolan and Miss Evelyn Mills of Ottawa have maintained, for many years, a high standard of play.

East of Montreal a bulwark of golf individually has been Mr. Percy Thomson of Saint John. Through his great work in developing the Riverside Golf Club in that city was it possible to play the Canadian Open championship in the Maritimes in 1939. It is true that the brand of golf in the East is not quite as exacting as in other parts of the country, but such players as Pete Kelly of Charlottetown, Miss Maisie Howard of Halifax, Miss Cairine Wilson (who summers in St. Andrews N.B.) and the late professional star, Jimmy Rimmer of Halifax have been, at least, on a par with the rest of the country.

Recurrent drought has in recent years handicapped Saskatchewan golf tremendously. Nevertheless, several first rate professionals such as Jack Cuthbert, Moose Jaw, Tom Ross and Wilf Greenwood of Regina, have shown that with more outside play their games would hold up very well, indeed. In 1936 Saskatchewan first showed Canada its little Margaret Esson of Rose-town. "Puddin", as she was called, seemed to have all the "making" of a national threat as she went to the "eights" in the 1938 nationals in Ottawa. Recently she has not played much golf, however, which is a pity, considering her great promise. Mrs. Gordon Brown and Mrs. R. S. Rideout of Regina have consistently led the ladies' championships in this province, while Dr. George Bigelow of the same city has been Saskatchewan's best amateur.

Well over 100 important sectional, national and international tournaments of all classes are held annually in Canada. Per capita, Canada today stands as the No. 1 golfing country in the world. Nowhere have the roots and best traditions of the old Scotch game found more fertile soil; nowhere are there better organizations conducting the game. In recent years golf has been made less expensive in Canada, so that literally thousands of new enthusiasts venture forth each fine summer day to partake of this splendid sport. Looking back and forward at my association with Canada's golf and her golfers your Editor senses both a great pride and warmest pleasure. Moreover, the humble service provided by this pen has been tendered, I am convinced, on behalf of the finest game of all, dealing with the best sportsmen in the world—that is, Canada's great golfing fraternity!

and for three decades a friend of this country's most notable gentlemen, has long been recognized as Canada's pioneer golf writer. In this issue he has written a virtual history of modern golf in Canada. Save for his pen alone this would doubtless never have been chronicled. Hence it is only fitting that we dedicate CANADIAN GOLFER'S Silver Jubilee's Number to Canada's "grand pioneer of golfing letters", Ralph H. Reville. This in humble recognition of his splendid years of service to the "greatest game of all"!

THE ALE YOUR GREAT-GRANDFATHER DRANK

Here's why we DARE to offer the TRIPLE TEST!

It's no new thing in White Label's long history to challenge all comers on the basis of quality.

Time after time, since 1875, White Label Ale has captured gold medals in International competition with world-famous English and American ales.

Remember these billboards? You will remember them if you are old enough. White Label has been a respected and honoured name and a pledge of the best for generations.

Remember this dignified butler whose portly figure helped tell the world about White Label forty years ago? The accompanying slogan, "Makes Good Friends Everywhere" is still as true as the day it was coined.

1 See the Head!

Compare the heads! There'll be a light, creamy head on your White Label glass. Now, watch! White Label will hold its head, and as you drink will cling to the glass as positive evidence of superior quality.
