- Harlequin Cup—Handicap Tournament—medal Play . . . March 12. Coral Island Golf Club.

LONG ago the Gulf Stream . . . that benign patron of sports . . . began moving on behalf of those who love outdoor pleasures. Its powerful influence has permanently excluded winter from Bermuda, thus allowing year-round enjoyment of the unusual facilities of this favoured coral playground.

Here are golf courses of great natural beauty . . . splendid reaches of blue sailing water . . . tennis courts of turf and en tout cas. The pink-hued bathing beaches are washed with buoyant, rainbow surf. Picturesque and conveniently near, this unique island is a veritable sportsman's paradise of the western world.

"YOU CAN GO BY SEA OR BY AIR"

• Luxury liners travel from New York to Bermuda in 40 hours . . . a round-trip total of nearly four days of delightful shipboard life. Sailings from Halifax or Boston allow for a slightly longer time at sea. Splendid new transatlantic planes now take off from Port Washington, New York and Baltimore, Maryland, and descend at Bermuda five hours later . . . an enchanting experience in the sky. A wide choice of accommodations in Bermuda's many hotels and cottages.

EXTRA POWERFUL

CENTER-WEIGHT IRON

In designing the new "Center Weight" head we followed the same principle of weight concentration that has proven so successful in the Lo-Bak wood. Concentration of this extra metal on the back of the head, without increasing the total weight, has been made possible by taking weight from certain parts of the head, where it had no effect on the ball, and transferred it to the center of the back, taking it from the points shown in the illustration. Our field tests have proven this short compact solid rustless English blade, with deep line scored face, is more powerful and reduces the chance for error.

THE TANG OF THE SEA

If you shoot par, the sand dunes will challenge you, while if you're a duffer you'll find our two 18-hole courses sporty but not impossible. If you've played the famous North Berwick or St. Andrew's in Scotland, or at Chicago's Golf Club at Fox Chapel, you'll recognize holes modeled after them. The scenery is superlative, with tall pine woods, streams and lakes, sand and rolling greens, and the salty fragrance of the ocean beyond. Talking about Golf

EDITORIAL

So we look back at 1938 — the year that saw the fourteen club rule fought out and now finally adopted in Canada, Great Britain and United States. Way back last January a great young amateur by the name of Bob Reith from Winnipeg followed the profession of two earlier generations of Reiths by accepting the Essex Club professional post in Windsor.

That same month Vancouver's Russ Case, B. C. Open Champion died of monoxide; and a great supporter of the game in Canada, Sir George Perley, of Ottawa passed away in his 80th year. About that time old Jock Hutchinson, a famous figure of twenty years ago on American fairways became American National senior professional champion. Meanwhile folks were still talking about Harry Cooper's close to $15,000 prize money for the year of 1937-38.

The following month, that was in February, important elections of golf officials all over Canada saw Col. Claude Brown of London ascend to the head of the Royal Canadian Golf Association—a man ideally suited for this lead capacity in personality and capability. At the same time Toronto's E. A. Harris took over the reigns of the Ontario Golf Association as did popular M. R. Ferguson of Montreal for the Quebec G. A. That month we devoted a story to suggest further club matches to stimulate B class players—a suggestion which practically nobody took who hadn't been doing something like it before. In that month our annual amateur ratings of the players across Canada came out. C. R. "Sandy" Somerville of London headed the list having risen from sixth place the previous year, Montreal's Farley was next and Victoria's surprise package, Jimmy Todd was third. It was then that we knew that the London Hunt Club would be the scene of the Canadian amateur and that Mississauga in Toronto would play host to the Canadian Open championship. That month Jock MacLean and CANADIAN GOLFER first predicted the first British Walker Cup victory which came to pass four months later.

March came in like a lion with the American Golf Association actually altering the age-old stymie rule quite considerably. To date nobody else has followed suit. Golfers were surprised that Ellsworth Vines, world's champion tennis star should shoot 73-74-73-83 in the

California Open. England finally chose a method of selecting a Walker Cup team on straight ability—for the first time. In this same month the R.C.G.A. announced the acceptance of the Dominion Junior championship Buckingham Trophy. And then with a progressive eye to the future and the past the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union decided to abandon the Close Championship for one year on a trial. The possibility of an International match with Britain visiting Curtiss Cup players was mooted and the Ladies Open set for Royal Ottawa.

Then in April activity began to pop in Canada—The General Brock Open was postponed for a year with the hope of bringing the event to Montreal by that City's great sportsman, Vernon G. Cardy. Numbers of Canadians left for the Southland to whet up their games before the opening of the season in Canada. Henry Picard became Master's Open champion and at Royal Colwood in the Empress Mid-Winter tourney, Harold Wilson of Oak Bay, Victoria, emerged victorious. A Westerner, Bob Reid of Regina, was elected captain on Toronto Varsity's golf team. Lloyd Freeman of Montreal became president of the Montreal Professional Golfer's Association. And out in Manitoba R. G. "Bob" Murray of Winnipeg, became president of the Manitoba G. A. Robert Sweeney of London, and expatriate American, visited the land of his birth, bringing with him his British Amateur championship crown and a style-setting wardrobe. The late George S. Lyon of Toronto was taken with his last illness.

With the coming of May, flowers and green grass on our links, one or two items of interest should get into the records. First 1937 president of the O.G.A. Frank H. Harris of Toronto, newly elected to the R.C.G.A. committee took over the management of the 1938 Canadian Open to be played at his club, Mississauga, Toronto. Sandy Somerville, London, went seeking for a second time, the British crown, and reached the semi-finals. George E. Fraser, Montreal, publisher for many years of Fraser's International Year Book Directory" sold out his publication to Grantland Rice and Wm. Richardson of United States. And during this month Henry Cotton and Cyril Tolley, professional and amateur stars

Mr. E. F. Seagram, Toronto, Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, Golfer of the Year, Canadian Open champion, holder of the Seagram Trophy, and Mr. W. B. Cleland, Toronto, vice president Joseph Seagram & Sons Ltd.

There is an old saying that every dog has his day. Apparently such is the case with golfers also who seem to have their years. Often the closer one inspects the individual the more difficult it becomes to analyze just why this should be? In short, why do some players attain the stature of super men for a season and then, playing just as well never "click" again. In 1937 all golfdom on this continent bowed to "Lighthorse" Harry Cooper, then Canadian Open champion and holder of the Seagram trophy. He was the greatest money winner of the year and apparently unbeatable. In 1938 Sam Snead appeared from the Hills of West Virginia. Oddly enough he also won the Seagram Cup, emblem of our Canadian title and went on to establish an all time money record with a total of $18,272.83. With $25,000.00 prize money still remaining to be played for between November 15th, and January 1st, when this figure was quoted, Snead has a fine chance of reaching the $20,000 00 mark in this, his great year.

It is said that Henry Cotton, England's foremost golfer, is seriously considering an invitation cabled to him by George Jacobus, American P.G.A. President, to make a tour of the United States and its tournaments, and to engage in a world's championship match with Snead. Cotton is the only man with as much "on the ball" as has the "Singing Hillbilly" according to those who have watched both players.

We admire Cotton and know he is a wonder, but feel that he is letting himself in for the greatest battle of his career if he meets Sam Snead, pictured above with Mr. W. B. Cleland on the right and Mr. E. F. Seagram, Toronto, during the presentation of the Seagram Cup at the completion of the Canadian Open championship in Toronto last summer. There can be no question of the fact that even Cotton must take a back seat to Snead on their last twelve month's performances. That undoubtedly means that "Singing Sam" wins the unanimous ballot as golfer of the year.

OFFICIALDOM

Says FOR 1938

Col. Claude Brown, London, president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, who reviews below a progress-filled season for organized golf in Canada.

Mrs. Edwin Crockett, Toronto, president of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union, who records herewith important items of the 1938 program which revived tournament interest so markedly.

Another golf year is drawing to a close and I think I am safe in saying a reasonably successful one for the Royal Canadian Golf Association. Highlights of the furtherance of organization of golf in Canada during the 1938 bring into relief, efforts to strengthen ties between the provincial and national Associations. To bring this about a mutual trial agreement was made for a period of one year between Dominion and provincial Associations, briefly as follows:

"Each Provincial Association will become a member of the R.C.G.A. Member clubs will make one payment to their Associations which will include that payable to the R.C.G.A. Each province will appoint one member to the executive of the R.C.G.A."

During the year a uniform system of national handicapping was set up with splendid results. Too much credit cannot be given to Mr. R. J. Dawes of Montreal, Mr. Frank A. Harris of Toronto, and our official organ, CANADIAN GOLFER, for good results accomplished. The fourteen club rule governing tournament players' equipment became effective this year in January.

The passing season has seen a continuation of a replete schedule of national, provincial, and local tournaments which have done much to create and maintain the interest of large numbers of Canadians in golf. Of the R.C.G.A. conducted tournaments of the past year the Amateur championship and the Willingdon Cup Interprovincial matches remained the most important fixtures on the schedule from the point of view of development of players within our country. These were held at the London Hunt Club in London, Ontario, and the Dominion title was taken by an American visitor, Ted Adams of Columbia Mo. His was a popular win even though it was scored by the defeat of our greatly-loved Sandy Somerville of London, many times a champion in the past. Such was the appeal and sporting deportment of the invader who, we hope, will return next season in defense of his laurels.

During the week which saw Ontario win the Interprovincial title after a keen playoff with Quebec—the first such playoff

A very definite increase in golf interest throughout Canada has been shown during the past season. This has been chiefly noticeable in the support and co-operation given National and Provincial executives in the work of conducting events as well as the growing number of junior stars who are appearing all over the country. Another season or two and they will really be making their presence felt in the major events. The trend as far as possible seems to have been one of encouragement and increased opportunity for competition among the youngsters. Their response augurs well for the future of Canadian women's golf. In provincial and particularly the Open championship in Ottawa several juniors qualified for the championship division while others were among the prize winners in the flights.

The following is a list of Provincial Champions in Canada for 1938. All but two of them played in the Canadian Open championship held in the late fall at the Ottawa Hunt Club. British Columbia, Miss Kay Farrell, Vancouver; Alberta, Miss Patty Arnold; Saskatchewan, Miss Margaret Esson, Rosetown; Manitoba, Mrs. John E. Rogers; Ontario, Mrs. E. H. Gooderham, Toronto; Quebec, Mrs. J. Dagenais; Maritime, Miss Maisie Howard; New Brunswick, Miss Cairine Wilson, St. Andrews; Nova Scotia, Miss Barbara Trties, Brilgewater.

In 1934 the Interprovincial Team Fund plan was innovated by the Canadian Ladies Golf Union. Before that step was accomplished the Open and Close championships were played with two exceptions in Ontario or Quebec. Few entries came from outside these provinces and for that reason some change seemed necessary to make the events really representative of the country. The team fund has proven the answer. Each province arranges its own series of test matches in determining which players will represent its provincial team of four.

A system for collection of voluntary contributions from club members is carried out by provincial executives, and with this money the majority of the provinces manage to make a representation at the interprovincial matches. In case of being unable to send four, odd players representing their provinces are placed upon what is known as an Intersectional team.

SEASONED YOUNGSTERS
SHOW POWER—PROCTOR
IS CHAMPION AGAIN

Records indicate that golf is attaining more of a following in Alberta each year. There are now twenty-eight clubs in Alberta affiliated with the Alberta Golf Association. The galleries attending the Alberta Open and Amateur, the Totem Pole Tournament at Jasper, the Prince of Wales Tournament at Banff, the Edmonton and Calgary City Championships, and the T. Eaton Cup two-ball matches, all indicate a healthy and whole-hearted support of the game.

Although the Alberta team did not win the Willingdon Cup, Messrs. Proctor, Martell, Richardson and Hogan acquitted themselves notably in the Canadian Amateur at London. Proctor and Richardson, along with Sandy Somerville of Ontario, were the only Canadians to reach the 'eights'. Jimmy Hogan, the elongated youth from Jasper, won the Buckingham Cup, emblematic of the Junior Championship of Canada, which in itself is no mean feat.

"Freddie" Wood of Vancouver won the Alberta Open at Calgary Golf and Country Club, after shooting spectacular golf on the last eighteen to defeat last year's Alberta Open champion, Stan. Leonard, also of Vancouver. The Open attracted a larger number of professionals this year, entries being received from Saskatchewan, British Columbia, and Washington, as well as Alberta. Thus, the Edmonton Journal Trophy, emblematic of the Alberta Open Championship, is becoming more widely known each year.

Bob Proctor of Mayfair Golf and Country Club, Edmonton, won the Alberta Amateur Championship from his clubmate, Jackie Hoar, played at the Edmonton Golf and Country Club. Inclement weather kept the number of entries for this event to a relatively small number.

Henry Martell, of the Highlands Golf Club, in winning the Edmonton City Championship again this year, has now won it for four consecutive years. Henry was also the low amateur in this year's Alberta Open. 'Stew.' Vickers won the Calgary City Championship. Lyle Hoar, of the Mayfair Golf and Country Club, Edmonton, won the Totem Pole Tournament at Jasper this fall, and Mr. C. Reed, of Banff, won the Prince of Wales Trophy at Banff. Both of these tournaments are attracting great interest each year.

All the major golf courses in Alberta have now been rated according to the National Golf Course Rating System, issued by the Royal Canadian Golf Association. Provisional handicaps, based upon club handicaps, have been issued to all players with handicaps of nine and under in Alberta, belonging to clubs affiliated with the Alberta Golf Association. It is the intention of this association to issue provincial handicaps based upon the National Handicapping Regulations.

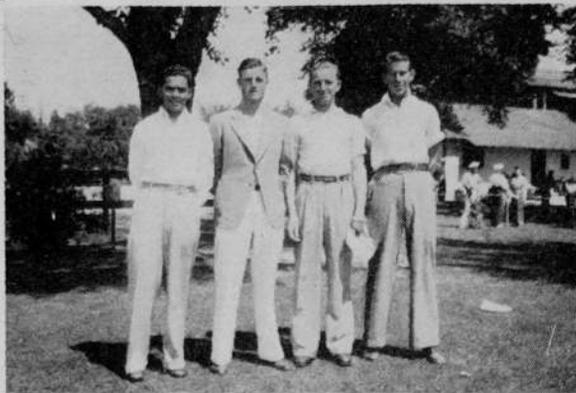

Golfers in Alberta deeply regret the passing of two Calgarians, Mr. Justice W. L. Walsh, doner of the Walsh Trophy for Seniors, and his son, Mr. Legh A. Walsh, K.C., past president of the Alberta Golf Association. Mr. L. F.

ALBERTA

C. L. G. U. INFLUENCE FELT—

PATTY ARNOLD TAKES
FOREMOST HONOURS

Alberta's stellar Willingdon Cup team composed of Bobby Proctor of Edmonton, Alberta amateur champion; Johnny Richardson, Calgary, Open champion of that city; Henry Martell, Edmonton, city champion; Jimmie Hogan, Jasper Park, Dominion Junior titlist.

Over the past ten years women's golf in Alberta has shown a marked improvement. This has been due largely to the influence of a well organized Canadian Ladies Golf Union branch. Yes, ten years ago the Alberta C.L.G.U. was founded and yearly since, Alberta women have held their own championship—the event for which all aspiring players point each season. Practically all of Alberta's clubs are affiliated with the C.L.G.U. now and this has meant that a similar handicapping system among the ladies of the province has been in force for some years.

This year the 10th annual championships were held in Calgary at the Golf and Country Club. Attracting a record entry of 77—a number which rivals that of more populated eastern provinces, the event produced some rather brilliant golf which saw former Canadian Close champion and defending titlist Mrs. Roy S. Horne of Calgary's Bowness Club defeated by perhaps the most promising player to come to the front in some years in Alberta. That was Miss Patty Arnold over whose home club the event was played.

Mrs. Horne started out auspiciously by posting a qualifying round total of 86 to take the medal. This was her's however only because her last nine was lower than that of Miss Arnold who had returned a like score. The tournament followed form up to the semi-finals where the battle which Miss Daphne Allen gave Mrs. Horne was rather a feature; moreover the potent display which Miss Arnold gave in this round as she turned back the capable veteran Mrs. Train Gray, 7 and 6, was a fair indication of the power in the tall Calgary girl's game.

In the final, the power and competitive veer of Miss Arnold overcame the experience of the champion with rather surprising ease. The contest played over 36 holes ended 7 and 6 like the match of the day previous. One might say that Miss Arnold's rise is due chiefly to her increased control over the powerful shots which she has had for some time. She is a pupil of professional Jack Cuthbert and her splendid showing as Alberta's representative at the Dominion championships in Ottawa was extremely satisfying. Playing as a member of the Intersectional team she showed that her game is well founded with scores of 86-89. This was the low score for the team. In the Dominion tournament Miss Arnold went to the second round where she was beaten by former U. S. and Canadian Ladies champion Mrs. W. G. Fraser of Ottawa, 3 and 2.

The bronze division honors at the Alberta championships were taken by Mrs. J. Michaels of the Country Club as she overcame a clubmate Miss Mary McLaren. Medalist in this group was Mrs. J. Hughes of Inglewood Club in Calgary.

The winner of the consolation event in the silver division was Miss Molly Dunford, a very promising golfer from Calgary. Bronze consolation winner was Mrs. W. Kilpatrick also of Calgary.

The CANADIAN GOLFER—December, 1938

The Year in Pictorial Review

Big moment of the Canadian golfing year when the Seagram Trophy emblem of the Canadian Open Championship is presented to "Slamin" Sam Snead, of the Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., by Mr. E. S. Seagram. At the right runner-up and 1937 champion, "Lighthorse" Harry Cooper looks on.

The zenith of the Amateur season in Canada is reached as President Claude Brown, of London, presents the amateur championship cup to Ted Adams, of Columbia, Mo., dark-horse entry who took the title to the United States, despite superb efforts by C. Ross Somerville, left, to win his seventh national crown.

Right, senior titleholders, Robert M. Gray, Rosedale, Toronto, winner of Canadian and International Senior's championship in 1938, right, John Mossop of Toronto, winner of the International Championship net crown.

The culmination of a big advance made by Canadian golf in 1938 as Mr. Chas. H. Sclater of Hamilton, presents his Buckingham Trophy to the first Canadian junior champion, James Hogan of Jasper Park, Alberta. The beautiful trophy will hereafter be competed for annually by the junior champions in each province in conjunction with the Willingdon Cup Matches.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

BLACK AND TODD ARE POWERS STILL... GOWAN CHAMPION

Pausing to look back over the British Columbia men's season just passed there are mixed stories of encouragement and disappointment all rolled up in one. Fortunately from the broader aspects B. C.'s activities tend considerably more toward the former.

There have been some genuinely interesting angles to this 1938 season. West coast players have shown definitely that they have an advantage of a much longer season over the rest of the players of Canada and that they are for that reason constantly developing new talent who can take their places with the foremost amateurs and professionals in National events.

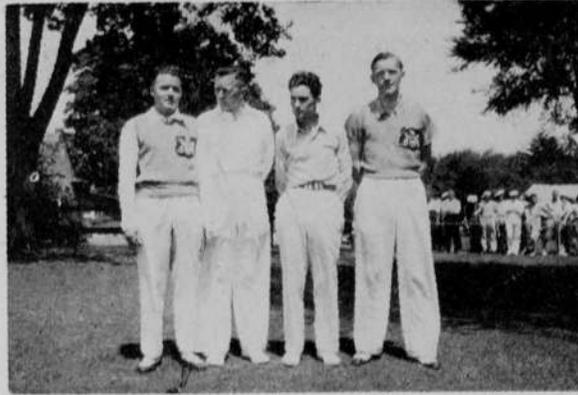

The amateur championship bore this out this year. Two players, one a veteran of several seasons back, a former Willingdon Cupper, Don Gowan, renewed his interest in the game and increased participation brought him through to win the province's most coveted title. It was not, however, without a tremendous struggle with a player who has been promising for some time, but who had not previously "arrived". This was Frank Wiley, a dark-haired wiry type, whose all around fine shots and courage just missed carrying him into the amateur throne room. The fact that both these players came to the front this year to augment a Willingdon Cup team bereft of two of its last year's number, was one of those encouraging signs mentioned above.

Still ranking among our most promising are such names as Ken Black, Vancouver, Jimmie Todd, Victoria, George Thomas, Jimmie Robertson, Vancouver, while with the professionals headed by blonde Freddie Wood, 1938 Open champion, Stan Leonard, runner-up again this year for a second consecutive time, Dunc and Don Sunderland, two perennial titular threats, along with the veterans Phil Taylor of Victoria and Davie Black of Shaughnessy Heights—all still have their golden touches for tournament play. Roy Heisler, Quilchena, Benny Colk, and one or two others represent the more promising young professionals. Tall Hughie Morrison of Vancouver, was B. C. Junior champion and he was runner-up for the Dominion title in London.

This year the B. C. Willingdon Cup team returned scores several strokes lower than any other team which competed at London's Hunt club. However Don Gowan having played two balls that were outside boundary stakes, the total could not be considered official. It might otherwise have been this province's fourth Inter-provincial victory. In a subsequent play-off between Ontario and Quebec the former won by one stroke after six extra holes. The B. C. team was greatly praised for its sporting attitude in the face of the disappointment. This was one of the features falling under that head.

This year Jimmie Todd, of Victoria, B. C.'s third ranking player in the Dominion for 1937 did not compete in many tournaments. He did not contest his B. C. Open crown, but played well in the Interprovincial matches at London with rounds of 74-74-148 to tie for third place in the individual

MISS FARRELL IS B. C. TITLIST — TEAM PLAYS WELL IN OTTAWA

The past season of 1938 has been a most interesting one in British Columbia Women's Golf with lower scoring in the Major Tournaments and larger and more enthusiastic entries for all events. It is generally conceded that the Inter-Provincial Team Matches held just prior to the Canadian Women's Open Championship each year are mainly responsible for this. All players of handicaps of 10 and under are eligible to try for a place on this team, and naturally, every promising player is either desirous of working to lower her handicap sufficiently to compete in these trial medal rounds, or, if she already has attained the desired handicap, to earn a place on the team.

Among our outstanding playing personalities in this most westerly province, Miss Kathleen Farrell still holds her place as a consistent player both in Medal and Match play and has done much for the general advancement of golf in B.C. She is again provincial champion. Miss Winnifred Evans has shown very great ability as a consistent medal round player, turning in the lowest scores for a place on the Inter-Provincial team.

Another very fine player is Mrs. E. E. Jackson who still holds the position of ranking player in Victoria, and whose excellent showing in the team matches at Ottawa places her on a par with any of our top players. In this connection Mrs. R. Renwick also comes in for her share of praise, as she also gave a creditable account of herself in Ottawa this year.

Several new stars in the making have been working their way up the ladder of fame in the past year or two. Perhaps Mrs. G. A. Stickley of Victoria has made the most rapid strides, reducing her handicap from 27 to 5 in a year and a half, winning the qualifying round in the 1938 provincial championship with a fine score of 82.

Another new player worthy of note is Mrs. Hugh O'Callaghan of Vancouver who, playing in her first major tournament, reached the finals in the B. C. championship this year. No doubt both Mrs. Stickley and Mrs. O'Callaghan will go far in the next few years in the realm of golf. Mention must also be made of Mrs. Stephen Enke of Victoria, who won the Jasper Park tournament by defeating a 3 handicap player, the popular Miss Barbara Winn of Seattle.

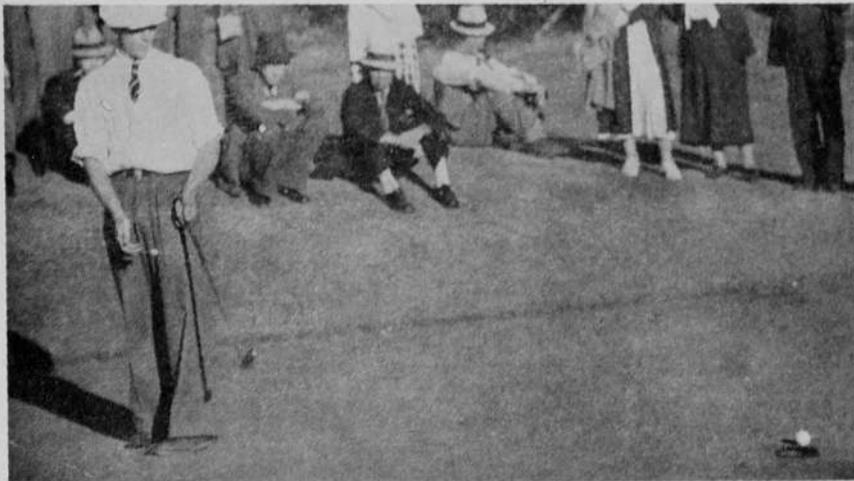

Miss Peggy Hodgson of the Royal Colwood Club is the new Victoria City champion, having defeated Mrs. E. E. Jackson. Another very fine young player, Miss Lillian Boyd, Shaughnessy Heights Golf Club, won the Vancouver City title, dethroning Miss Kathleen Farrell. Both these young ladies look very promising and no doubt will give a good account of themselves in the near future.

In looking back it would seem that the Golfing Season just passed has by far eclipsed any previous year among the British Columbia ladies for development of enthusiasm, new talent, and added numbers to the general ranks of golf. Much credit is due Mrs. S. C. Sweeny, who has been Hon.

Miss Margaret Esson, of Rose town, Sask., sensational 17-year-old player who went to the quarter finals of the Canadian Ladies' Open, and who won her second Saskatchewan title in three years.

Miss Patty Arnold of Calgary, Alta, holder of the Alberta Ladies title, and winner of her own club championship. She was the low scorer on the Intersectional team at Ottawa.

GOLFERS SHOW GREATEST INTEREST IN HISTORY PALMER IS CHAMPION

If the progress of the game of golf in Manitoba may be judged by the number playing the game, the season 1938 will have registered an all time high. The municipal courses, the only ones which keep an exact count of rounds recorded, anticipated a reduction in the great number of games played in 1937, as in that year daylight saving was in effect, and for three and a half months, office workers could easily get in 18 holes after 5 o'clock. The daylight saving by-law was defeated, and consequently 1938 golfers lost one hour of golf time daily. Naturally a reduction could be expected. Instead of a loss however, at last count an increase of games played on the two municipal courses of 16,000, and as playing conditions are still ideal at this date (Nov. 2) the increase will go well over 20,000.

Manitoba has enjoyed an extra long golf season, and very few week-ends have been rained out. Courses were in fairly good condition as early as March 17, and last week-end (October 29-30) fairways were crowded. Nearly every golf club in Manitoba has made gains in membership, and in finances.

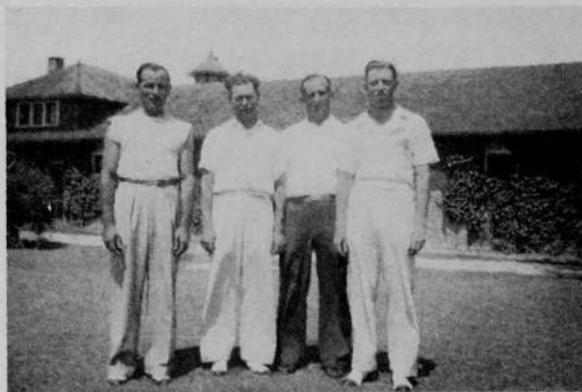

Bobby Reith, for many years Manitoba's top golfer, transferred himself to Ontario and to the professional ranks, and as was expected the top spot was taken over by Pine Ridge's long-hitting professional, Kasmir Zabowski. Kasmir easily took over the top place in Manitoba's tournaments open to professionals, and at St. Paul, qualified for the United States Open played at Denver. Reith's departure also left the leading post among the amateurs wide open. Allan Boes, Niakwa club won the City & District trophy, Dan Kennedy, St. Charles, was low scoring amateur in the Manitoba Open. Ernie Palmer, Southwood took the coveted amateur prize, the Manitoba Amateur championship. He had failed to place among the first three in the Willingdon Cup test competition, and just had to win the Amateur to get the trip to London, which he proceeded to do.

With the initiation of the Dominion Junior tournament, played at London during the time of the Willingdon Cup matches, the executive of the Manitoba Golf Association had to devise a system of bringing out a Manitoba representative. It was decided to invite all clubs affiliated with the Association to nominate boys, having regard to character and general fitness to represent the province, as well as playing ability. Those so nominated played a test competition, and two with lowest scores played in the Willingdon test matches, the winner taking the Manitoba representation, with a chance also of getting a place on the Willingdon team. 16-year-old Howard Bennett took the coveted prize and later in the season, successfully defended his title as Manitoba Junior Champion.

Golf officials in Manitoba are of the opinion that the institution of the Dominion Junior Championship is a real contribution to the game of golf, and that playoffs for provincial representation will give needed stimulus to higher teen age golfers,

INCREASED ENTRIES IN ALL EVENTS - MRS. ROGERS MANITOBA'S CHAMPION

The Manitoba Branch of the Canadian Ladies Golf Union has had a most successful year, with an increase in entries in every Provincial event over the best previous season.

There are fifteen clubs affiliated with the Manitoba Branch, and the six open meetings, all played under ideal conditions were most representative. The Tribune Trophy, a playdown on handicap was won early in the year by Mrs. Watson Swail in a fine battle with Mrs. T. W. Cochrane. Both are members of the Southwood club. The City and District championships were taken to Winnipeg's most well-known layout, St. Charles Country Club, and competed over 54 holes. The outcome was a most popular win for a veteran player of Winnipeg and the Pine Ridge course, Mrs. Douglas Laird. Mrs. Laird has been a prominent figure in golf in Manitoba for many seasons. Her winning total was the excellent score of 250.

The Higher Handicap, one day medal round for players with handicaps of twenty-two and over, was won by Mrs. D. B. Gow, Elmhurst Golf Club. Mrs. C. C. Balfour of St. Charles Country Club won the Senior Championship. St. Charles Country Club Silver Team won, once again, the cup in the Inter-Club Competition. Niakwa Country Club had the winning entry among the Bronze Teams. The Manitoba Championship, played over the beautiful Pine Ridge Course, was won by Mrs. John A. Rogers in a splendid match with Miss Barbara Northwood, both of St. Charles Country Club.

During the season there was great enthusiasm in test matches held for the purpose of determining the personnel of the team which was to represent the province in the Inter-provincial matches at Ottawa at the end of the season. Mrs. John E. Rogers of St. Charles, 1937 Canadian Ladies Open champion, and Miss Heather Leslie of Niakwa, 1937 Canadian Ladies Close champion both automatically qualified for the team. Mrs. Douglas Laird and Miss Lois MacLaren won the other two places as result of their excellent records during the season. Mrs. Walter Sorby, president of the Manitoba Branch of the C.L.G.U. made the long journey lie to watch the interests of the team and to attend the C.L.G.U. annual meeting.

The election of officers for 1938 brought the following into power in the province's limb of the C.L.G.U. Hon. President, Mrs. Gordon Konantz; President, Mrs. Walter Sorby, 1st Vice-president, Mrs. A. R. Burt; 2nd Vice-president, Mrs. N. R. Wilson; Hon. Secretary-Treasurer, A. M. Tracey; Handicap Manager, Miss Rita Norman; Chairman of Pars, Mrs. Bruce Campbell.

Outstanding among the working policies of Manitoba clubs has been that of the Pine Ridge Golf Club in its efforts to encourage junior golfers. The club certainly deserves congratulations for the organization of special events to invoke interest among youngsters in this grand old game.

NEW BRUNSWICK-P.E.I.

P. STREETER CHAMPION. BETTER PLAY SHOWN

General progress has been noted in the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island Golf Association activities generally during 1938. Led by Chas. J. Jones president, Woodstock, the outlook has been encouraging with an increased tournament program, better attendance at events, and more competitors. Highlighting the year 1938, however, was the allotment of the 1939 Canadian Open Championship to the Riverside Golf Club in Saint John, N.B.—a course which eastern players are proud to present as one of the best in Canada.

This part of the country is deeply grateful to that great golf enthusiast Mr. Percy W. Thomson of Saint John and Pinehurst N.C. who by enlisting architect, Donald Ross, has produced this masterful layout through which Canadian golfing attention will be focus upon this province next year.

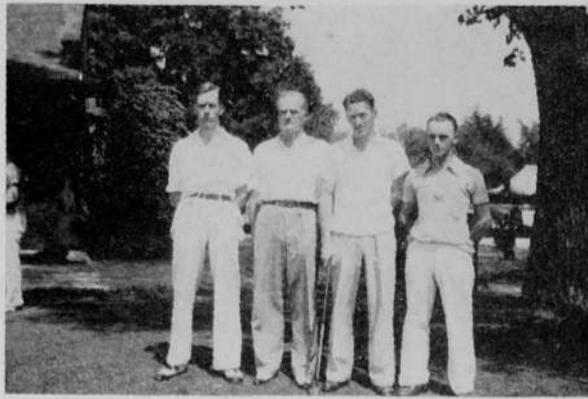

Of the competitive season just passed—most of the leading figures are ones well-known to New Brunswick limelight in the past. Percy Streeter, Saint John, is Maritime champion this year winning from Riverside clubmate Eric Thomson, on the 38th hole of the final. Jimmy Rimmer, Ashburn professional, Halifax again won the professional title of the Maritimes. Pete Kelly of Charlottetown P.E.I. won his second consecutive New Brunswick—P.E.I. title this year over Eric Thomson who was three strokes behind in the 72 medal event. Vernon Balch, Riverside professional, defeated Kelly in a playoff for the N.B. Open title.

There are 19 clubs in the N.B.—P.E.I. Association at present. The St. Croix club of Calais Maine was the new addition. This new club serves the towns of St. Stephen and Milltown as well as Calais. All clubs now have been rated according to National stipulation and next year National Handicapping will be generally introduced as prescribed by the R.C.G.A.

Our team at the Willingdon Cup matches and the Canadian amateur championship at London Ont. this year was weaker than usual, but with the rise of new junior playing strength as result of attention which is being paid to this department, this province hopes to be fielding more definite contenders in the future.

The provincial Mixed event, played in July, was won by Eric Thomson and Miss Audrey McLeod of Riverside three shots ahead of Mrs. and Mr. E. O. Turner of Fredericton. John Steele of Riverside won the provincial junior title and made a good showing in the Dominion junior event in London for the Buckingham Trophy. This province is extreme grateful to the generosity of Mr. Schlater of Hamilton for making this fine new feature of National tournament play possible.

The Senior and Junior event; the Parent and child tournaments—all were held at the Westfield C.C. in August and Tom Steele with Percival Streeter won the former while Col. W. A. Harrison and his son-in-law, C. H. Little of Riverside won the father and son. The moter and daughter went to Mrs. A. G. Smith and daughter Catherine of Ridgewood club, Saint John. The Senior Lady and Junior girl title was taken by Mrs. C.

MISS CAIRINE WILSON NEW TITLE HOLDER

It is unfortunate that more official data could not be obtained from the New Brunswick branch of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union, but at the present time we are able to record the major winners and leading figures in the most important tournaments. The New Brunswick Ladies' championship was played at the Westfield Country Club with Miss Audrey MacLeod, considered over a period of years to be this province's outstanding female golfing figure, as the defending champion. A newcomer in provincial circles, Miss Cairine Wilson of the Algonquin Club at St. Andrews, became the 1938 titleholder with a 36 hole medal total of 184. This was ten shots better than Mrs. D. A. Lindsay, a former champion. Miss McLeod was one stroke behind Mrs. Lindsay in the title event.

Mrs. Norman F. Wilson, father of the champion, is well known in Eastern golfing circles, and was responsible for bringing several top-ranking golfers to his home district in order to build up interest in the game. Professionals Archie Skinner, and John M. Peacock began only last year to develop the promising Miss Wilson whose mother is the well-known Senator, Cairine Wilson of Ottawa and St. Andrews. As stated in an earlier issue of CANADIAN GOLFER, the New Brunswick champion has made exceptionally rapid strides and there can be no doubt of a bright future, possibly even in national circles, with steady application and more competitive experience.

In brief correspondence with Msis Jean Hodge, Fredericton, former Secretary of the Maritime Branch of the C.L.G.U., we were informed that the new secreteay is Mrs. Mary Harrington of Bridgewater, N. S. Despite the fact that no official report was coming from either this Association nor the New Brunswick group, we were assured by Miss Hodge that greater enthusiasm was shown this year in the game than ever before, but that in most of the tournaments pelting rain did its best to dampen ardor as well as the courses in 1938.

"The Maritime Ladies' championship," writes Miss Hodge "saw a great many of our younger players taking part. The tournament was held at the Truro Club, and Miss Maisie Howard of the Gorsebrook Club, Halifax, won the title with Miss Dorothy Holmes of Truro as runner-up. Miss Barbara Nase of the Westfield Golf Club, captured the junior championship of the Maritimes."

From this we may gather that increased organization though not apparent through any actual progressive step is, nevertheless, likely to be forthcoming in view of the enthusiasm shown by the general playing public and the fact that a junior champion is being named yearly in this province.

Schofield and Miss Connie Schofield of The Westfield club in Fredericton.

The Maritime Senior crown again fell to J. M. Matthews through his fine play at the Pines club at Digby.

JIM BOECKH WINNER OF TITLE — TEAM TAKES DOMINION CROWN

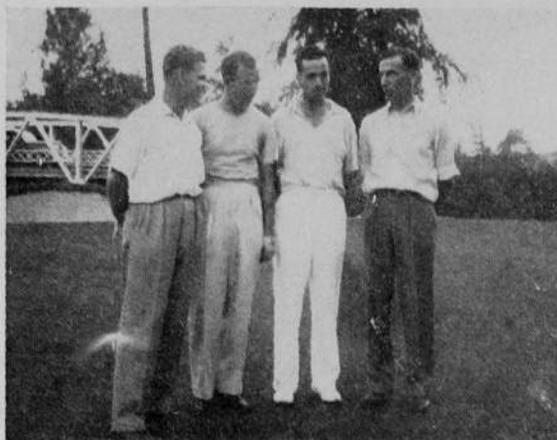

Looking forward to their annual meeting in January, and the probability that 1939 will be a much better year for the game in Canada, the Ontario Golf Association has had the satisfaction of a very fine year in 1938. True, conditions as a whole, found many golfers unable to spare time from business to enter the tournaments but generally speaking the attendance at these events was good, with the result that the Association's financial statement will show a further augmented balance on the right side of the ledger and nearly twice as many players registered for handicaps than the previous year. Therefore, it is confidently expected that the forthcoming year will, with business conditions improving, provide much room for optimism.

Competition was keen for a wealth of new material presented itself in the various tournaments with the result that most of the major titles are now recorded under new names, the two notable exceptions being Bobby Alston's successful defence of the Ontario Open at the Summit Golf Club, Toronto, where his total of 70-70-140 gave him a two-stroke margin over the field, and Ray Grieve's third consecutive victory in the Ontario Junior championship. That the latter, a seventeen-year-old boy from the Islington Golf Club, Toronto, failed to hold his first round lead in the Canadian Junior championship and had to be content with runner-up position, was a disappointment to his admirers in this province, particularly as he later went on to win the Intermediate title from practically the same field.

In the Ontario Amateur, a new titleholder was crowned when James C. Boeckh, of York Downs, defeated Joseph Thompson, of Burlington, on the twentieth green at the Scarboro Golf and Country Club, Scarboro, Ont. This hard fought battle provided the third occasion on which the Burlington lad has reached the finals only to have Lady Luck desert him, and yet Thompson made by far the best showing in the United States Amateur championship among the Canadian entrants, two months later. The new champion, conceded to be a fine medalist, demonstrated this year, however, that he is a formidable factor in match play as well.

Robert M. Gray, of Rosedale, holder of the Canadian Senior's title, returned to re-assume his crown as Ontario Senior's titleholder and thus rounded out a grand slam of triumphs unprecedented in the history of Senior golf in this country. Through the introduction of a new tournament, the Western Ontario Parent and Child championship, interest was increased in this type of play but J. A. Nash and Jack Nash, of London Hunt, after winning the Western Ontario at Sunningdale with a gross of 82, were unable to cope with the brilliant 76 recorded by Gordon Taylor Sr. and Jr., of Summit, at Lambton, in the Ontario Parent and Child championship.

MRS. GOODERHAM AGAIN CHAMPION — TEAM WINS CANADIAN TITLE

Ontario's Branch of the C.L.G. U. has shown during the 1938 a fine increase of twelve new member clubs which brings the total of affiliated clubs to 104. Moreover, Ontario's response to the Ladies Interprovincial Team Fund has increased 5% which is encouraging though still quite away from the desired objective.

Speaking of the calibre of play of the Ontario ladies generally, the victories of Ontario's best have in several instances been of national importance this year as for example the splendid play of Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen of Toronto Golf Club in winning the Canadian Ladies Open title and turning back the bids of three of the visiting stars from Great Britain, single-handed. Mrs. Mulqueen's undeniable surge through the National championship, played in Ottawa, will long reflect glory to the class of golf in this country.

No less sensational was another of Ontario's playing stars, Miss Ada MacKenzie of the Toronto Ladies Club, a golfer who has held so many national titles that she hardly needs introduction to readers of this publication. Her victory as medalist in the Interprovincial matches achieved as result of undoubtedly the finest competitive round ever played by a woman in Canada, a 73 at Royal Ottawa, can only be qualified with a confident surmise that on that day no lady player in the world could have matched her! It was this round which inspired Ontario's team to "nose out" a magnificently consistent effort to retain their interprovincial supremacy made by the four players from Quebec.

Other members of the Ontario team, Mrs. E. H. Gooderham, Ontario champion, and Mrs. Nelson Carlson played excellent golf in the supporting cast during this lustrous Ontario victory.

The provincial championship was played this year at the St. Andrews club in Toronto and Mrs. E. H. Gooderham of the Toronto Golf Club had her delicate touch in sharpened condition to overcome her clubmate and great friend, Mrs. Mulqueen in the final.

The provincial Junior championship fell again to Miss Grace Sears of Lakeview, for a second consecutive time, as result of her excellent scoring over the Brantford Golf and Country Club. Runner-up to Miss Sears was the promising Miss Mary Jane Fisher, who later defeated Miss Sears in the final of the first flight of the Canadian Ladies Open championship in Ottawa.

The Toronto permanent fixtures were more enthusiastically supported this year than ever before, with Miss Ada MacKenzie winning her eighth Toronto City title from Mrs. Mulqueen; the Misses Ella and Adaleine Vigeon took first honors in the Toronto two ball foursome.

CORRIGAN UPSETS FARLEY

YOUNG PLAYERS SHOW

PROMISE

In a season which saw the continuance of the improved play in Quebec players the French Canadian province maintained their position in the van of the game in this country.

Despite the fact that he began the season with the announcement that he would not in compete 1937, Phil Farley of Marlborough, left no room for doubt as to his status as first ranking player in Quebec. Yet Farley's reign was by no means as complete as it was the year previous. The chief laurel to fall from his head was the provincial amateur title. This was won by a determined competitor, Frank Corrigan of Chaudiere, Ottawa, who upset Farley, two up, in the final of the event, played over a week-end of beautiful July weather at Islesmere.

This most important event saw qualifying honours go to Jack Archer, a club-mate of Farley's. His 68 was a new competitive amateur record for the course. Those reaching the semi-finals of the championship were Carroll M. Stuart of Mount Royal, who was defeated by Frank Corrigan 3 and 2, and Marcel Pinsonnault of Laval who was defeated by Farley, by the same score. The championship brought out a fine field of contestants who voted the event a success with the exception of the fact that one or two of the Islesmere greens which had been badly winter-killed were hardly in condition for any kind of accurate putting.

To record the winners for the season the following are those who took first honours in the P.Q.G.A. events during the past summer: St. Andrews Inv. Tournament, Norman M. Scott, Royal Montreal, 76; Quebec Spring Tournament at Whitlock, Bob Alston of Chaudiere, 142; leading amateur, Gordon B. Taylor, Kanawaki, 154. Rivermead Field Day, H. A. Bruce, Rivermead, 73; Duke of Kent Trophy Tournament, Kent Club, Quebec, W. D. Taylor, Summerlea, 150; Senneville Field Day, Jack Archer, Marlborough, 74; Royal Quebec Field Day, A. Dussault, Kent Club, 78; Ottawa Hunt Club Field Day, Frank Corrigan, Chaudiere, 75; Quebec Junior Championship, Summerlea, Gaston Ouellette, Rivermead, 154; Royal Montreal Field Day, Jack Archer, Marlborough, 74; Manoir Richelieu Invitation Tournament, William D. Taylor, Summerlea, 153; Handicap Competition, Elm Ridge, T. S. Taylor, Whitlock, 75; Quebec Mixed Foursome at Beaconsfield, Mrs. P. Belanger and M. Pinsonnault, Laval, 78; Metropolitan Trophy Competition, Laval, Phil Farley, Marlborough; Quebec Open Championship, Mount Bruno, Dick Borthwick, Oakdale, Toronto, 141; St. Jerome Invitation Tournament, Gordon McAthey, Summerlea, 75; Val Morin Invitation Tournament, G. Quebec's Interprovincial team which lost to Ontario after a most exciting playoff. Left to right: W. D. Taylor, winner of the Duke of Kent Trophy, The Manoir Richelieu Shield, and the Summerlea Field day of Montreal; Frank Corrigan of Ottawa, provincial champion; Gordon B. Taylor, Montreal, team captain; Phil Farley, Montreal, low scorer on the team; Jack Archer, Montreal, consistent winner.

The support given the Quebec Branch of the C.L.G.U. during the 1938 season was most definitely outstanding for the unstinted spontaneity and enthusiasm tendered all departments of activity. Indeed it was another most progressive year. For instance, Quebec's Interprovincial team test matches met with fine support all season as 16 leading players took active part—striving for the honor of being one of four to represent this province in late September in Ottawa. These test matches beginning in June and continuing until the middle of August are charted and a record is kept of all participants and the points they have managed to accumulate. The leading four point winners are then chosen to play against other provincial teams. In 1936 and 1937 Quebec held the Dominion Crown. This year Quebec was defeated by an inspired Ontario group although the foursome from the former province averaged less than 84 per round. The effect of the test matches as training for medal play competition may well be seen. Mrs. H. R. Pickens Sr., captain of the weekly team test matches reported this part of the Quebec organization to have progressed most encouragingly.

Entries for all Quebec tournaments showed a substantial increase according to Mrs. B. E. Judson, tournament manager with Mrs. A. B. Darling proving herself to be still this province's foremost player. She distinguished herself by taking first place in the test matches, by winning the Montreal City and District crown and by taking first place in all the provincial field days.

The provincial championship, however, fell to a veteran star Mrs. Joseph Dagenais of Laval who finally won a hard-fought battle with a greatly-improved player from Ottawa, Miss Evelyn Mills.

Provincial Handicap Manager Mrs. Geo. S. Haldiman reported 17 players at the end of this season with handicaps of six and under and 23 with handicaps from seven to 10. This is an increase of low handicappers over any previous year.

The cup presented for the greatest reduction of handicap was won this year by Miss Constance Kingsland of Whitlock who made a 58.82% decrease, that is from 17 to seven. In 1935 Miss Patricia Pare of Royal Montreal stated her ambition was to win the Quebec Junior Girl's title. This summer she achieved her goal with a most exciting win over defending champion Miss Dorothy Staniforth of the Seignior Club. Miss Staniforth, one of the most promising young players in this province graduates from the junior ranks this year and much may be heard from her in senior provincial and national circles before many seasons providing she is not claimed too soon by a career of which faint rumors have been heard. Another junior of fine promise is Miss Janet Kingsland who shared medalist honours in the Junior event with Miss Staniforth.

It has been mentioned that Ontario won the Interprovincial matches, but it was generally felt that Quebec had the better

TOM ROSS AND
TITLE WINNERS

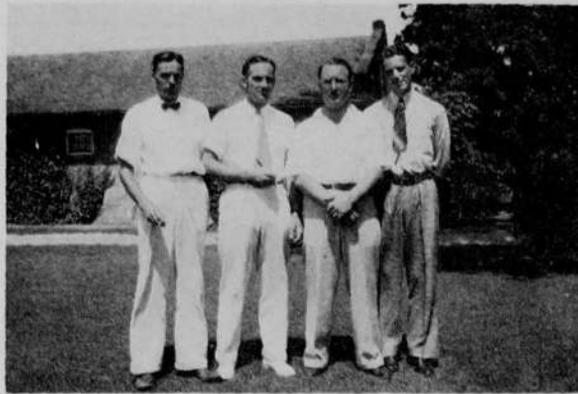

The game of golf has again made great strides in a Province still stricken by pestilence and drought. The increased enthusiasm for the game is very evident in the manner in which clubhouses and courses have been kept up without a great deal of help from nature, membership in the larger private clubs has been increased, and in some cases there is a waiting list. The public and municipal courses have received a steady patronage, and it is pleasing to note the amount of young people who are taking up the game seriously, and there is little doubt that with improved conditions the Province of Saskatchewan will, in the near future, be able to provide important contenders for national honors. Perhaps the outstanding personality this year was Miss Margaret Esson. This young lady learned, and played practically all her golf on a little nine hole sand green course in the small town of Rosetown.

Miss Esson's record at the Canadian Ladies Open championship is one of which both the men's and women's branches of Saskatchewan golf are proud. After defeating the Vancouver star Miss Winnifred Evans in the second round and a sensational first round triumph over Scotland's Nan Baird in the opening encounter she only bowed in the quarter-finals to Britain's veteran Internationalist Mrs. J. B. Walker. Another young player of promise who has represented Saskatchewan in the Interprovincial team matches is Bobby Reid who is this year captain of the Toronto University golf team. The Saskatchewan Provincial golf tournament was held this year over the Waskiesu Golf Course situated in the beautiful Prince Albert National Park. Here at last Saskatchewan has a golf course equal to the best in Canada, and which we hope may one day be the scene of a Dominion championship. The open championship provided some excellent golf and was won by Tom Ross, professional at the Regina Golf Club, after an exciting match with Zabowski of the Assiniboine Club at Winnipeg. It is to be remembered that Zabowski made an impressive showing in the United States Open this year.

The Amateur Championship was again won by Dr. George Bigelow, a previous winner, and who now resides at Prince Albert. There was a large entry in the Amateur event and Dr. Bigelow encountered strong opposition all the way, having very close games with Ken Smith another former champion and the other finalist Doug Lemery of Saskatoon.

At a meeting of the Provincial Association held after the tournament the venue of the 1939 tournament was selected, and the Regina Golf Club will be hosts for the event next year. Mr. G. C. Holden, a veteran Saskatchewan golfer, and a member of the Regina Golf Club was chosen President of the Saskatchewan Provincial Golf Association, and Mr. J. P. Runciman another figure long connected with golf continues as Secretary. The Provincial Association is now affiliated with the Royal Canadian Golf Association, so that all our members are now part of that organization. Among benefits from this asso-

MAJOR HONOURS

The greater part of the province of Saskatchewan again suffered the effects of drought this year, and golfing activities throughout the affected areas suffered in consequence. Those clubs fortunate enough to have watered fairways did not need to worry, but many clubs had to resort to improving lies and this is not conducive to the best brand of golf. However, Saskatchewan players are used to these drawbacks and are nonetheless enthusiastic about the game.

Hardworking and persevering golfers are still talking in wondering amazement of Miss Margaret Esson, the little girl from Rosetown, who plays the game with such apparent ease and this year showed to such good advantage in the Dominion Tournament at Ottawa. Margaret, affectionately known as "Puddin'" is only 17 years of age and has already won the Provincial title twice, her initial championship success being in 1936 when she entered her first provincial tournament. In 1937 she was runner-up, losing on the 18th green to Mrs. R. S. Rideout of Regina, many times champion of the Province. This year Margaret again won at Prince Albert. Mrs. Rideout was unable to be present to defend her title and Mrs. M. Palko of Saskatoon was the runner-up and played a hard fought game, losing on the 17th green. Mrs. Palko was a victim of rules and forfeited the first hole by playing the wrong ball out of the rough.

The 1938 provincial tournament was played over the Prince Albert Municipal course; the first time a provincial tournament has been played so far north. Many improvements have been made in this course and it is now one of the finest in the Province. Miss Margaret Esson won the title as above stated and went on to win the Lobstick Tournament played over the lovely Waskiesu Course. The final, against Mrs. Spooner of Saskatoon was played in a deluge of rain. Mrs. H. Holroyde of Prince Albert annexed the Northern Saskatchewan title, repeating previous successes. This popular golfer, President for 1938 of the C.L.G.U. in Saskatchewan, played her usual steady game to defeat Mrs. J. Thorpe of Saskatoon on the 16th green.

The following ladies comprised the 1938 C.L.G.U. executive—

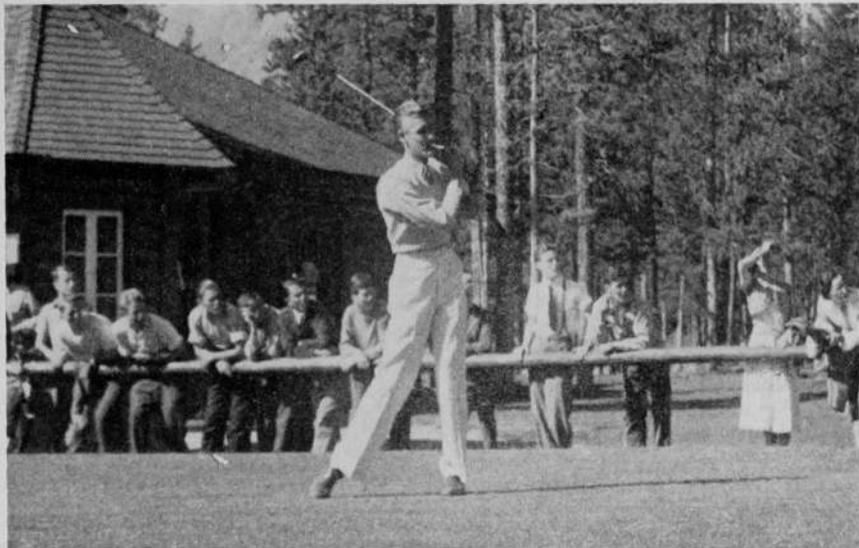

Honorary President, Mrs. T. B. Gibson, Saskatoon; President, Mrs. H. Holroyde, Prince Albert; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. W. Knight Wilson, Regina; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. R. S. Rideout, Regina; Secretary Treasurer, Mrs. C. S. Nance, Prince Albert; Handicap Mgr. (N), Mrs. M. K. Robb, Saskatoon; Handicap Mgr. (S), Mrs. H. Perry, Regina; Pars Manager (N), Mrs. R. R. Watts, Saskatoon; Pars Manager (S), Mrs. H. Gill, Moose Jaw; Team Fund Chairman, Mrs. F. Adams, Prince Albert.

The President, Mrs. H. Holroyde, was responsible for the arrangements for a very successful Provincial Tournament, ably assisted by her executive.

NOVA SCOTIA

B. MILLER CHAMPION AS TOURNEY BECOMES MATCH

During 1938's season, golf in Nova Scotia received perhaps slightly more than the usual support, but those who really enjoy the game in this part of the country seem to feel that there is a good deal left to be desired in the organization and broadening of interest in the game. However nature was with this province as a particularly heavy rainfall left courses in especially excellent condition all year.

The provincial championship was played this year at the Liverpool Golf and Country Club in Liverpool. Unfortunately teeming rain made the course, which was otherwise in perfect condition, a trifle too soggy. Although the event attracted only 38 entries which was really disappointing after the publicity and work expended by the committee, the event itself was of considerable interest. Four of the golfing Millers of Chester, Nova Scotia, qualified for the championship match play flight.

Prominent among the competitors were Col. J. S. Miller, Baetjer Miller, J. Lewis Miller, Don Miller, all of Chester, Harry Foley, Yarmouth, Rowen Duchemin of Halifax, H. A. Morley of Liverpool, "Gint" Cain, formerly of Yarmouth, now a teacher in Massachusetts and H. A. Kelso of Halifax, J. Kean, Liverpool. Baetjer Miller overcame former title-holder "Gint" Cain 5 and 4 in the final for the crown. Baetjer is captain of Johns Hopkins smart golf team in Maryland, U.S.A.

Prizes were presented after the meet at a special banquet by Mr. R. H. Lockwood and later at the White Point Beach Lodge. Mr. F. B. McCurdy was elected president of the Nova Scotia Association for 1939.

Among reasons for the lack of entries at the championship the following have been advanced. First, the event was played this year as match play requiring longer time away from their offices by businessmen entries. Secondly there are a certain number of the better players who object to playing the event over a nine hole course such as is the Liverpool layout.

Two years ago it was decided to play the championship at an 18-hole club one year and the next at a nine hole course and in that way to spread the interest into various parts of the province rather than only at the few major centres. This year the event suffered because of the fact that such a course was chosen, but the move is still considered rather worthwhile for only in this determined effort to bring small course players in contact with the province's best will the calibre of play generally improve. A few years more will be required to judge the worth of this experiment, as well as the other which changed the event from a 72-hole medal affair.

Nova Scotia may blame its lack of first class players upon an apathy in connection with organization for interesting younger golfers in the game. At last however, the officials of the association realize that this must be done if ever a Nova Scotian is to be able to compete in the same class as is required for national tournaments. So in 1939 Nova Scotia will likely hold its first Junior championship. Moreover a plan is probably to be forthcoming to interest juniors through the season more locally. This will fit in with the national junior championship plans begun this year with the donation of the Buckingham

BARBARA TRITES AND MISS M. HOWARD LEADERS . . .

Golfers in Nova Scotia are optimistic enough to believe that some day the province will produce a Ladies' National Champion. That day may not be for several years, but possibly one of this season's younger players will benefit by long hours of practice and be fortunate enough to bring the coveted trophy to this part of Canada. Certainly the calibre of players is improving. In 1932 of 222 players with C.L.G.U. Handicaps, only 12 were in the Silver Division. In 1939, 287 players include 38 in the Silver Division and one in the "Six-or-Less" Class. To players in other parts of Canada this may not seem an increase to cause much enthusiasm, but, with the short golfing season enjoyed in this Eastern province, those who hope for improved games have to be content to make haste slowly.

Nova Scotia now has 15 clubs affiliated with the C.L.G.U. Three of these clubs are in the vicinity of Halifax and, because of their larger memberships, improvements to their courses are taken for granted. It is in the smaller clubs throughout the province, however, that one finds the real zest for the game. Many of these clubs, although their members are few, have systematically planned for improvements over a period of years and their courses are steadily showing the care given to this planning. In almost any fair-sized town in the province a golfer can find a course which will test his ability.

All clubs are pleased to note the increasing number of young players who join each year. Everyone agrees now that golf is no longer an "old man's game". Thus this steady increase in younger players would indicate a greater strength for golf in coming years, and leads to the hope that Nova Scotia will in the future produce a National Champion.

This year the two major Nova Scotia tournaments were won by young players—the "Provincial" by Miss Barbara Trites of Bridgewater, and the "Maritime" by Miss Maisie Howard of Halifax. These players, with another Nova Scotian, Miss Dorothy Holmes of Truro, and Miss Chestnut of Fredericton, New Brunswick, comprised the Maritime Team at the National Tournament.

Miss Howard's performance at the National is worthy of mention. The youngest player on the Maritime Team, she was the only one to qualify in the Championship Flight. Losing in the first round to one of Canada's leading players, she went on to the Semi-Final of the Consolation.

Much regret was felt in Nova Scotia circles this year in the retirement from competitive play of Miss Edith Bauld. For years an outstanding player, not only in Nova Scotia, she represented her province in many tournaments, and her decision to retire leaves a breach in the golfing strength of the east which will be difficult to fill.

No summary of golf in Nova Scotia, for any year, would be complete without reference to Miss Eleanor Stairs, who has served as Secretary of the Nova Scotia Ladies' Golf Association since its inception. If, some day, a National Champion does materialize, it will be due, in no small way, to the efforts of Miss Stairs who has worked untiringly to stimulate interest in golf throughout the province.

in history, the newly donated Canadian Junior championship Buckingham Trophy was contested by the provincial junior champions of seven provinces. This trophy was donated by Hamilton's true sportsman, Mr. Charles H. Selater, for which we wish to thank him. The new title was taken by James Hogan of Jasper Park Alberta.

The Open championship of Canada was played at the Mississauga Golf Club, Port Credit, Ont. just outside of Toronto. This event contested by the greatest professionals of this continent in quest of the title and the famous Seagram Gold Cup was finally settled after 27 holes of playoff between two of United States foremost professional figures, Sam Snead of West Virginia and Harry Cooper of Chicago. Snead finally overcame Cooper who was defending the crown. Golfers from South Africa and Australia were among the large entry.

For the above mentioned events we were blessed with ideal weather, finely conditioned courses of excellent layout, splendid entries, orderly galleries and keen competitive golf. The R.C.G.A. wishes to thank the London Hunt Club and the Mississauga Golf Club—their members, executive, officers, and presidents for the privilege of using their great courses for Canada's major golfing events. More over the actual organized assistance lent by them was largely responsible for the great success of these tournaments. It is upon such co-operation that Canada's position in the van of golfing countries is dependent and these two clubs answered the call in truest sporting sense.

Moreover the R. C. G. A. wishes to express its grateful thanks also to the provincial associations, the Press, the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. the House of Seagram, Fort Motor Co., Bell Telephone Co., C.P.R. and C.N.R. Telegraphs Co., and CANADIAN GOLFER for all contributed much to make golf nationally greater in 1938.

In the early part of the year we were called upon to mourn the death of the Champion of Champions, Mr. George S. Lyon of Toronto. The late Mr. Lyon was a true and loyal friend of the R.C.G.A. and by voice and act did much to place golf in the enviable position it now occupies in Canada.

May I express, personally, my thanks to the provincial executives, Member clubs and fellow member of the R.C.G.A. executive for their kind and considerate support and co-operation.

With kind personal and official regards and cheerio,

Your very sincerely,
Claude Brown,
President, R.C.G.A.

There are several promising juniors however, notably Harry Foley, son of Sam Foley, Yarmouth professional. Harry was winner of the 1st division consolation in the 1938 championship. Officials of the Nova Scotia association who did much to assist the 1938 tournament were President, Col. C. H. L. Jones; Vice-president, Mr. B. J. Waters, Sec-treasurer, Mr. R. H. Lockward, all of Liverpool. President for the ensuing year is Major D. H. Williams of Halifax; Sec.-Treasurer, Mr. A. T. Hillary.

in Great Britain staged formal complaints about the way certain British tournaments were being held.

June brought the year into fullest swing with the U. S. Open going to stern Ralph Guldahl for a second time in a row. The event was played west of the Rockies for the first time in Denver Col. Charley Yates fellowtownsman of Bobby Jones, won the British Amateur championship but as predicted the British won their first Walker cup engagement in the history of the event with United States. In Vancouver Miss Kay Farrell took her second successive B. C. Ladies title defeating newcomer Mrs. Hugh O'Callahan of Victoria in the final. Ken Black and Stan Leonard of Vancouver beat Harry Givan and "Scotty" Campbell of Seattle in a Vancouver exhibition. Bill Moss of Cliffside, Toronto, won the Hiram Walker tournament from a huge field. Grace Sears of Lakeview Toronto, won that city's Junior Girl's title. Quebec's Spring Open tournament was swept by Ottawa professionals in first, second and third places. Bobby Alston, Chaudiere, Jack Littler, Rivermead, and Stan Horne, Ottawa Hunt Club finished in that order at Whitlock in Montreal. Stew Vickers won the Calgary City amateur title beating Don Blaker. Jack Rowsell, Toronto, won the O. G. A. opening tournament, Veteran Norman Scott of Montreal took the first Quebec event. Mrs. E. H. Gooderham, Toronto Golf Club's pretty matron again became a champion, winning the Ontario Ladies' title with some great match golf. Finalist Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen of the same club. W. D. Taylor, Montreal, won the Duke of Kent Trophy at Kent Club in Quebec. And then the saddest story of the whole year — the passing of the one and only George S. Lyons in his 80th year. Truly the landmark of an era in Canadian golf was laid at this event. "Canadian Golfer" was appointed official Organ of the Canadian Ladies Golf Union.

The heart of the golfing year was reached in July with the Canadian amateur championship going to Ted Adams of Columbia Mo. the Interprovincial team matches being taken by Ontario after a playoff with Quebec, Alston of Ottawa winning the Ontario Open title for the second year, Jim Boeckh of York Downs Toronto, taking the amateur crown in that province, Alan Boes winning the Winnipeg amateur championship with Kasimir Zabowski, pro at Pine Ridge club taking that city's Open crown. Out on the coast Miss Lillian Boyd of Shaughnessey Heights, Vancouver won the Vancouver City championship and Miss Peggy Hodgson of Victoria's Royal Calwood winning that city's title. Alberta crowned Bobby Proctor of Edmonton as amateur champion, Johnny Richardson of Calgary showed the class that ranked him seventh in Canada last year when he took the Calgary Open event. In the same province a perennial title-holder Henry Martel of Edmonton won his fourth consecutive city championship. Miss Ada MacKenzie of the Toronto Ladies Club won her seventh Toronto City title. Mrs. A. B. Darling took the corresponding Montreal event. In this month Phil Farley was deprived of his third Quebec crown in as many years by the brilliant play of Ottawa's Frank Corrigan. Junior champions representing seven parts of the country were named for the Buckingham Cup matches held in Conjunction with the Willingdon Cup matches. Gaston Ouellette of Ottawa won in Quebec, Ray Grieve led from Ontario, R. B. W. Pyke, Saskatchewan champion, Johnny Steel from the Maritimes, Howard Bennett gained the place on the team coming to London from Manitoba, Hugh Morrison, B. C.'s titlist, and big Jim Hogan from Jasper Park came up to represent Alberta. Hogan won the Dominion Junior title in London and the Buckingham Cup as well. W. D. Taylor of Montreal took his second Invitation tournament honours for the year at the Manoir Richelieu. London's Jack Nash joined the benedicts. Along about this time newspapers across the continent were singing the praises of the new Irish youngster who had played so well in the Walker Cup matches. That was James Bruen of Dublin. Then Montreal suffered the loss of one of the outstanding professional figures in Canadian golfing history in the untimely death of Charlie Murray of Royal Montreal.

August saw a continued interest in the game across the continent with Nova Scotia titles going to Jimmy Rimmer of Halifax for the Open crown, Baetjer Miller of Chester took the amateur and Miss Barbara Trites, Bridgewater, winning a second consecutive ladies crown. Miss Maisie Howard of Halifax shortly afterwards became Maritime ladies' champion while Percival Streeter of Saint John annexed the men's crown after a fine contest with Eric Thomson of the same city. Out in Alberta the new figure of a champion stalked upon the horizon with Calgary's Miss Patty Arnold taking the place at the top. Ernie Palmer of Winnipeg won a place on the Manitoba Willingdon Cup team by his victory in the province's amateur championship. Back East it was only a short time until Pete Kelly of Charlottetown, P.E.I. again won the Maritime amateur championship to make it two in a row. Vernon Black of Saint John won the Open crown while Miss Audrey MacLeod walked off with women's honors. Miss Ada MacKenzie of Toronto, was named team captain of the Canadians who were to meet the British in November. Miss Pat Pare of Montreal fulfilled her golfing ambition by winning the Quebec Junior championship.

Then in September the news reached us that Fred Wood of the Fraser Club of Vancouver had supplanted to the undefended throne of Jimmy Todd of Victoria B. C. Open titlist. Likewise we published the results of the great playoff championship duel for the Open Championship of Canada and the Seagram Gold Cup which Sam Snead of West Virginia wrested from Harry Cooper at Mississauga in Toronto. One of the most outstanding tournaments in Canadian history. At the same time Grace Sears of Toronto, earned her second Ontario Girl's championship honour.

Dorothy Staniforth played host at the Seignior Club Invitation by winning the Smart invitation event at that Club. Then Hamilton's Joe Thompson made his greatest showing by leading all Canadians in the U. S. amateur championship and reached the quarter-finals of the event which was eventually won by Willie Turnesa of New York. Mrs. Joseph Dagenais won the Quebec Ladies' crown played over her home course, Laval, in Montreal.

Mr. R. M. Bob Gray of Rosedale Toronto again won the Canadian Senior title and with it the International Senior crown. U.S.A. won the International Triangular matches. Banff's Prince of Wales Tournament honors were taken by Don MacKenzie of Calgary while the ladies award went Mrs. F. B. Ross of Montana. Miss Douglas McIlwraith of Hamilton won that City's ladies crown while Colin Rankin of Montreal came into the limelight in the East with his Seignior Club Invitation tournament victory. Miss Ella MacLennan of Cornwall became Canadian Senior Women's champion, but a few days later Mrs. "Billie" Mussen of Montreal, founder of the Canadian Senior Ladies Association was taken after a short illness.

Lyle Hoar of Edmonton won the Jasper Park Totem Pole event and Dick Borthwick Oakdale Toronto won his second major victory of the year with a triumph in the Ontario professional match play tourney for the Miller Trophy.

In October the British Ladies defeated Canada's five foremost players five to two; Miss Ada MacKenzie became Canadian Interprovincial Team medalist; Ontario's ladies won the Interprovincial match; Quebec Ladies defeated the British in an exhibiton, three to two, in Montreal, and that great competitor and sportswomen of Toronto Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen won the Canadian Open title from Miss Clarrie Tiernan of Ireland. "Jock" Brown of Summerlea in Montreal became the Montreal Professional Medal Play champion for 1938 and Bobby Burns of Hampstead in Montreal won the match play crown of the same organization.

Horton Smith was married to end a great deal of consternation among the fair sex the width and breadth of this continent. Jules Huot Quebec, lead the first round of the White Sulphur Spring tournament with a great 66. Snead won this to bring his earnings for the year to well over $18,000 — a new all-time high for prize money. And this brings us up to the time of press for our revue issue and with it the first snowfall in Eastern Canada—which writes "finis" to active golfing in this part of the country for several months—however CANADIAN GOLFER has one more bit of information in our wish to all golfers and officials of golf the world over for the best of everything in the coming year and the THE MERRIEST OF CHRISTMASSES.

Montreal, 77; Quebec Father and Son Championship, Marlborough, A. G. Fenwick and G. E. Fenwick, Summerlea, 81; Phoenix Trophy Competition, Phil Farley, Marlborough, 145; Country Club Field Day, Jim Seeney of Hampstead, 74; Seignior Club Invitation Tournament, Colin Rankin, Beaconsfield, 156; and the Lesley Cup Matches in which the Quebec team visited the Merion Club at Philadelphia and placed fourth.

Outstanding in contemplation of the season just passed is the valiant effort made by the Quebec team composed of Farley, Captain Gordon B. Taylor, Jack Archer Frank Corrigan to defend their Interprovincial championship at the London Hunt Club. After six extra holes Quebec finally bowed to a splendid Ontario team by a single stroke, marking a difference of only that much in 96 holes played by the two teams.

It is generally true that Quebec's extensive tournament season received more support in 1938 than previous years both in numbers of entries and widespread interest. One may note that the players of Quebec City have taken a more prominent part in Provincial events with the result that improved golf is being played in the ancient Capital.

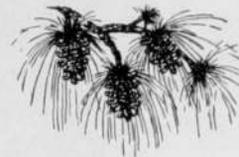

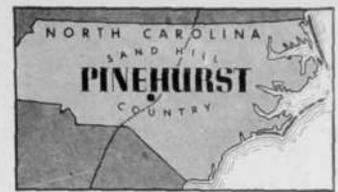

Junior playing talent in Quebec is today of high calibre with such young stars in the making as Gaston Ouellette of Ottawa;

Provincial Champion and a strong contender for the Buckingham Trophy at London, Ken Clarke, A. H. Berube; Jay Ronalds, Douglas Wood, George Hearn, Jules Chartier, Gordon McLean, all of Montreal, George Fowls of the Lennoxville Club; and several others all of whom have shown splendid form this season.

Quebec's handicapping system upon which the national plan was based continues to meet with increasing support, and the Association, ably led by President, M. R. Ferguson of Montreal may look back upon another bumper year to add to the annals of the game in this extremely golf minded Province. The best showing made nationally by any Quebec player was recorded by Phil Farley who went to the fourth round of the Canadian Amateur Championship where he was defeated by the eventual winner, Ted Adams, one up. Farley tied for third place in the individual scoring in the Interprovincial Matches with a 148 total and won his fourth amateur medal at the Canadian Open Championship.

(Tip) O'Neil, identified with golf ever since it has been played in Alberta, and a valued member of Mayfair Golf and Country Club, Edmonton, who passed away just recently, will also be missed by the golfing fraternity.

Mr. A. W. Matthews, Secretary-Treasurer of the Alberta Golf Association for the past two years, Amateur Champion of Alberta in 1931, many times a member of the Alberta Willingdon Cup team, and executive member of the R.C.G.A., is on sabbatical leave from the University of Alberta, and is at present at the University of Florida.

The personnel of the Alberta Willingdon Cup team of the past two years, Jimmy Hogan, Johnny Richardson, Bobbie Proctor, Stew. Vickers, 'Whit' Matthews and Duane Barr, all young in the point of years of experience, augers well for the future of competitive golf in Alberta.

matched team. The scores of the four representatives of this province would certainly bear this out. They are as follows: Mrs. A. B. Darling, 85-83; Mrs. J. E. Nickson, 85-84; Mrs. W. G. Fraser, 81-81; Miss Yolane Moisan, 85-86. All are Montrealers except the famous Mrs. Fraser who is a member of Royal Ottawa in that city.

Undoubtedly the most impressive showing of our players this year was the brand of golf which they played when crossing niblicks with the visiting British team at Royal Ottawa late in the season. The British Curtiss Cuppers were defeated in a friendly singles engagement three to two at that time by a team composed of Mrs. Darling, Miss Moisan, Mrs. Ian Adair, Mrs. J. Dagenais and Mrs. J. E. Nickson.

Outstanding for their service during the past year in connection with the tournament schedule have been Mrs. R. H. Paul, Mrs. Geo. Haldimand, Mrs. W. U. Hughes, Miss Audrey MacIntosh and Miss Jean Darling all of Montreal, Mrs. E. P. Davidge, Eastern Township tournament manager as well as Miss Mary McCreevey of Ottawa.

ciation, and one of the most important is the scheme to rate all our courses so that our players may have national handicaps.

We are still not the important contenders in national events that we hope to be because our golf is played under many distinct disadvantages, and the entire change in conditions works greatly against our players when they travel east or west to compete. Nevertheless we have enthusiasm, and look forward eagerly to a day when a national champion may emerge from Saskatchewan.

Of the Manitoba team in the east it may be said that they were playing under considerable strain with two of the number defending national champions. This, was rather a difficult role to fulfill and it is felt that neither Mrs. Rogers nor Miss Leslie reached their top form for the National championship events as result. However all made good showings especially Mrs. Laird to whom great praise for her steady play must be given.

as the Manitoba Junior has brought boys from 10 to 16 years of age.

The Manitoba Junior this season brought out a young golfer of great promise, 13 year old Bobby Osborne of Portage la Prairie. He was only three strokes behind the winner, plays a sound game with a good golf temperament. With right coaching and experience he will be heard from.

Manitoba Association president Bob Murray promoted friendly visits of executive members to various clubs in the province, to the pleasure and profit of all concerned. In some instances a professional was included in the party, and after friendly rounds of golf the pro gave a talk on the fundamentals of the golf, stance, grip and stroke.

Tournament chairman Pat Gallagher and Secretary Charlie Harris were again key men in Manitoba tournaments, which were all run off without a hitch of any kind. And so Manitoba golfers look back on the most successful and enjoyable year in its history.

scoring with Phil Farley of Montreal. Ken Black, however, continued his superlative medal play performances which he has always shown in these test to take first place, along with Sandy Somerville with 144.

Of the more local titles, Ken Black again won the Vancouver Amateur championship, Todd, the Victoria crown. But even more indicative of the true calibre of the B. C. players were two exhibition matches which were played this year. During the spring two ex-Walker cup players from the U. S. visited the new club at Capilano. They were twice Canadian amateur champion, "Scotty" Campbell and Harry Givan of Seattle. Ken Black and Stan Leonard paired off against them and won on the 18th as Black shot an eagle on the 17th and Leonard a deuce on the last.

The second exhibition saw Jimmy Todd and professional Phil Taylor of Oak Bay team up against U. S. Open champion, Ralph Guldahl and Joe Pryke of Vancouver. Through Pryke shot a 32 on the first nine and Guldahl shot a sub par 69, still the teamwork of the Victoria pair was so good that Jimmy Tood's 18th hole birdie won the match.

Another notable winner was Mrs. G. J. Watson for the Alberta ladies title. Mrs. Wallis of Inglewood who defeated Mrs. Watson is from Edmonton.

The provincial C.L.G.U. executive who will govern golf in this province are as follows: Hon-President Mrs. W. A. Griesbach, Edmonton; Hon-President Mrs. E. Greig, Red Deer; President Miss E. Egbert, Calgary; Vice-president Mrs. E. O. Johnston, Edmonton; Secretary Mrs. N. Hindsley, Calgary; Treasurer Mrs. S. D. Sewall, Calgary; Pars Committee Mrs. S. A. Maddocks, Edmonton and Mrs. Roy S. Horne; Handicap Committee Mrs. M. E. Bulger, Calgary and Mrs. W. A. Halliday, Edmonton.

There are at present eight players in the province with handicaps of less than seven. They are as follows: Mrs. Roy S. Horne 3; Mrs. J. T. Gray 4; Miss P. Arnolds 4; Mrs. Bryce Evans 5; Miss A. Mountfield, Edmonton, 5; Mrs. T. Allen, Calgary, 6; Mrs. S. A. Maddocks, Edmonton 6; Miss M. Dunford, Calgary, 6.

Among the provinces' more likely coming stars one should not pass without mentioning Miss Rose Marie Coulter, Bowness, Calgary, Miss Ruth Brown of Inglewood, Calgary, Miss Marion Crosby of Banff and Sheila Gray of the Calgary Country Club or from this group the future champions of Alberta will come in all probability.

worked hard to raise funds to send a Team to Ottawa, but despite all efforts only sufficient was raised to send one player, Miss M. Esson, who eventually played as member of an inter-sectional team. The smaller clubs are not sufficiently interested in this phase of the work to be very enthusiastic regarding the raising of funds, but each year a better understanding of the aims of the Team Fund is becoming apparent and it is hoped in time that a full team of four players will be sent to every Dominion meet.

Young players are yearly taking more interest in golf, though the only young player of prominence at the moment is Miss Esson.

champion; Hamilton's championship honors went to Miss Douglas McLlwraith of Ancaster Golf Club.

The Annual meeting of the Ontario C.L.G.U. was held at the same time as the championship of the province this spring. Mrs. Armand-Smith, president of the Association was in the chair and at that time the following officers were elected: Hon. president, Miss J. Haslett; President, Mrs. Armand Smith; 1st Vice president, Miss Edith Ellis; Vice president, Mrs. R. K. Palmer; Vice president, Mrs. James Fraser; Sec.-Treasurer, Mrs. Ewart Binkley; Assistant Sec. Treas, Mrs. Wm. Barclay; Western Handicap manager, Miss Edith Ellis; Eastern Handicap manager, Miss Caroline Mitchell; Chairman of team fund, Miss Gertrude Morwick, Chairman Pars Committee, Mrs. J. H. McDougall; Honorary Member Mrs. M. K. Rowe.

Comment should be made of the truly splendid play of Ontario's two sterling juniors Miss Sears and Miss Fisher, the latter having been a semi-finalist in the provincial event, and both having tied for the last place qualifying places in the Canadian Open. Both missed in the play-off but then went through the first flight to be winner and runner-up. Likewise the effort and time which president Mrs. Armand-Smith and Team Fund Chairman Miss Gertrude Morwick have put into the Association has made the game bigger and better for everyone.

Five field days provided some very fine golf, John Rowswell, of Thornhill, runner-up in the 1937 Ontario Amateur, setting the pace with a thrilling 70 over the York Downs course, and later he won the Lakeview event with a 75 after a play-off with George Hevenor, of Summit. Jack Nash, also accounted for two of these events, winning at Sarnia with a 73 and then concluding at Hamilton with a par-breaking 68. Over his home course at Port Hope, A. J. Kemlo proved much the best with a 76.

Such brief reference to these events cannot do justice to the standard of golf seen and the encouragement to those responsible for it in their future efforts. Although C. Ross Somerville, of London Hunt, the province's number one player, did not defend his Ontario title and later lost his Canadian title in the never-to-be forgotten final between him and Ted Adams, of Missouri, Ontario was happy in the success of their Willingdon Cup team for this event is becoming harder to win than ever before. The success of Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen, of Toronto, in the Canadian Ladies' Open championship, and of Miss Ada Mackenzie, of Toronto Ladies, in the Medal Competition, (both of which are dealt with in detail on another page) were also greeted with enthusiasm as demonstrations that Ontario still is keeping its flag flying high in the van of Canadian golf.

Legislatively, the O. G. A. and the R. C. G. A. worked closer together this year than ever before because of the arrangement regarding dual memberships and the plan was so successful that in all probability both bodies will agree upon it for next year. President Ernest A. Harris, K.C., of Toronto, can therefore look back over a most successful year and through his nomination to the Executive Committee of the R.C.G.A., should find an even wider field for his activities. Unofficially, it is learned that J. Gordon Thompson, of Sunningdale, will succeed Mr. Harris as president of the O. G. A. in 1939 and as he too has worked long and hard on the directorate of this association, it can be safely said that the Ontario Golf Association's problems will again be in good hands.

Held in conjunction with the Open and Close championships, the Interprovincial team matches serve to give the best players this opportunity to represent their provinces, provides them with a goal from which to work throughout the season and serves to bring the leading players from coast to coast together in a representative field for the Dominion titles. Moreover under this system the C.L.G.U. has been able to hold the Canadian championships in British Columbia, Manitoba, Quebec and Ontario.

After the 1937 championships players generally agreed that the two weeks of tournament golf represented in the Open and Close events running consecutively as well as interprovincial matches, was too strenuous. As a measure of remedy and to centralize interest the national executive decided to omit the Close event for 1938 and to allow players of higher handicap to enter the Open. A two day interprovincial team match was held. Generally more popular amongst the players and very likely a reason for the improved calibre of golf demonstrated, this program proved most successful. The Team Fund venture of 1934 seems to have found a most appropriate projection in the above plan. I am sure that the winners and highlights of the national events have been recorded in this issue, but I should like to commend the excellent performances of the Ontario Team members who won the interprovincial title and the R.C.G.A. shield for 1938.

Miss Ada Mackenzie of Toronto will always be remembered for her thrilling 73 in the interprovincials; Mrs. W. J. Fraser of Ottawa for her plucky battle on the last day which almost brought Quebec a successful defence of their team title. Mrs. Fraser won the low net prize. Among other highlights of the season was the most welcome visit of the British Curtiss Cup team whose five stars played in our Open championship, in which Miss Clarrie Tiernan the attractive Irish champion, only bowed to our own Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen of Toronto on the 36th hole.

The five British players carried off the International team match honours by a score of 5 to 2; there were 96 players in the Open; 34 with handicaps of five and better, of which 28 were Canadians. Her Excellency, the Lady Tweedsmuir honoured the C.L.G.U. by her gracious consent to present prizes which included the Duchess of Connaught Gold Cup which went to the new Canadian Champion.

With this brief survey of the season, and thanking our British visitors again for their welcomed presence at our championships, I believe it is safe to say that the C.L.G.U. may look forward to the most outstanding year in its history in 1939 with support and co-operation such as was so generously given during 1938.
