THE SPEED OF THE CLUB HEAD

"The speed of the club-head should be increased gradually on the down-swing, with the maximum speed at point of impact. But be sure to start down slowly. Applying the speed suddenly just before impact may result in a jerky, unrhythmical hit, especially when attempted by a high-handicap player. The average player will do well to strive for a steadily accelerated "sweep" rather than a lax and slack downswing, with a "fleck of the wrists" at the point of impact. A good many par players seem to combine the two methods, but most players must learn to crawl before they can walk."

Is the White Golf Now Doomed?

Are we to soon see another innovation in golf? A British scientist, Mr. Cyril Heywood, is strongly of the opinion that a yellow ball would be much preferable to the white ball which is universally used. He claims a yellow ball would give greater visibility and would also make for reduction in eye fatigue. It is stated that a well known firm of manufacturers will shortly have on the market two coloured golf balls, one yellow and the other oriole orange. The hickory shaft, dear of our forefathers, is rapidly being displaced by steel. The sand-box is virtually a thing of the past on all courses as the result of the almost universal adoption of wooden and celluloid tees, and now the life of the white ball is threatened, after centuries of use. Soon the Old School of golfers won't recognize the game and its implements, they love so well. In golf as in everything else, "Tempore mutantur."

Take Your Choice? Selected Names To Win "Big Show" at Chicago.

Who will win the U.S. Open this week at the Olympia Fields Country Club, Chicago? is the question foremost in the minds of the followers of the Royal and Ancient game in the United States and to a large extent in Canada. The experts figure it out that only ten experts have a show to land the coveted title and they are, Tommy Armour, defending champion, Bobby Jones, twice former champion. Walter Hagen, also the winner on two previous occasions, Leo Diegel, twice Canadian Open Champion, Gene Sarazen, Harry Cooper, Archie Compston, the only British entrant of note, Bill Melhorn, Johnny Farrell, and MacDonald Smith. It would be a pretty safe wager to take this selected ten at odds-on against the field. Although all said and done, golf is worse than a horse race, when it comes to picking the winner. A "dark horse" at any time might unexpectedly slip in and upset the careful calculations of the most experienced and expert student of past records and performances. Witness the Canadian Open at the Toronto Golf Club in 1921 when in a very classy field W. H. Trovinger, Detroit, captured the title. He was virtually an unknown then and has never been heard of since. He was a 100 to 1 shot—and then some. However, he would be a bold and brave bettor, who would like to take any kind of a chance against the ten names mentioned for premier honors at Chicago. Anyone of them is likely to come through with Jones and Hagen, probably bracketed for first choice.

It will be of interest for Canadians to know that Mr. Leslie S. The Langara Golf Club, Vancouver, B. C., over whose course this record was made.

Two holes-in-one while playing 18 holes! Here is an unusual record

You can't beat Mr. Tanaka, of the Langara Golf Club, Vancouver, B. C. Mr. Tanaka set out one afternoon to play 18 holes. He shot a single on a par-3, 115-yard hole. This was No. 5. Elated, he went merrily on until he got to the 16th hole, 210 yards, par-3. And he shot another hole-in-one.

As a result, Mr. Tanaka has been made a double-dyed, triple-ply, 60-inch, all-wool member of the Hole-in-One Club. And he was awarded two cases of "Canada Dry." He wrote to us recently, "Your kind gift of two cases of your delicious 'Canada Dry' Ginger Ale has safely reached me, and I wish to thank you once more. Will you accept a book of views, which I am sending you under separate cover, of the best place in Canada to imbibe ginger ale and do holes-in-one?"

Thank you, Mr. Tanaka. That is true Nippon courtesy. We hope you enjoyed the ginger ale as much as we enjoyed your letter and the post-cards. We hope you noticed the alluring subtle flavor of this fine old ginger ale. Many a time, after a hard-played round, we hope its matchless taste, its gingery goodness, helped quench your thirst. We're sure it did, for "Canada Dry" contains the finest quality of Jamaica ginger and other absolutely pure ingredients. It does not contain capsicum (red pepper). Consequently, it does not bite the tongue or leave an unpleasant after-effect.

Anyone else who makes two holes-in-one may become a double-dyed, triple-ply, 60-inch, all-wool member of the Hole-in-One Club. Or, if you make only one hole-in-one, you may become a regular member. Simply make your hole-in-one. Then send your attested score card to us telling us where to send the free case of "Canada Dry." This offer only applies to the Dominion of Canada.

That Mr. Jess Sweetser, who after winning the British Amateur Championship in 1926 and then suffered a severe health relapse for over a year is again playing great golf this season, is justified by the fact that last month in the Triangular Team Match at Montclair, N.J., between New Jersey, Westchester and Long Island, he defeated the former Canadian player and twice Metropolitan Champion, Mr. W. M. Reekie, 8 and 6. Sweetser this year has been chosen to represent the U.S. in the Walker Team matches. lighter at the finish, than when he started. He averaged only slightly over 4 strokes per hole—a fine performance. This stunt of Mr. Hass' is not a record however. Last year Mr. Bruce Sutherland, of Edinburgh, played 14 rounds of continuous golf over the Craiglockhart Links, a trudge of 40 miles. ## HOW HAGEN WON THE BRITISH OPEN

(By J. H. Taylor, Open Champion, 1894, 1895, 1900, 1909, 1913)

When commenting on the result of the Compston and Hagen match, I ventured the opinion that Walter would not be depressed by the disaster, and that it would act as a tonic for Sandwich. The result of the Open proves that my prognostication was right. I also asserted that, if Britain was to regain her old prestige, a Britisher must win the cup. This has not been accomplished, and once again it makes its annual journey across the Atlantic. Also my "hunch" went astray, and, for another year, we must resign ourselves to the fact that America has definitely proved our undoubted master.

For the first time since I first entered the competition, circumstances compelled me to be a witness of it from outside. This has its compensations. I could ramble about from couple to couple and watch whom I wished. Early on it was apparent that Jose Jurado, the sinuous player from the Argentine, would have to be feared. He was playing brilliant golf—a kind of of brilliance that, if it would last out, no one could possibly beat. This was certain. Jose was a popular favourite, and it was freely predicted that the cup, if it crossed the Atlantic, would take a more southern route. I watched him play every stroke in his third round, and I fancy I detected signs of extreme mental and physical weariness. His partial collapse came in the last round when he was being led by Hagen by a single stroke. I faithfully followed him to the turn, and sorrowfully left, as it was easy to see that his chance of winning had slipped away. After the second round Hagen was lying only too handy, and it needed no prophetic instinct to sense that the ultimate winner was hereabouts.

I switched over to Hagen and saw him play the last 16 holes of the final round. His was a deadly and determined business, and he once again proved that when he is up against it he is a terror.

It is true that he slipped a shot or two, but one was forced to admire his high courage. Quite a few shots went astray, but the par figure was matched when a stroke looked like being dropped. This is typically Hagen, and epitomises the golfer. Every bit of good fortune was seized by the neck and turned to good account—which was, of course, as it should be. Every stroke was given the care that is essential to its ultimate and complete success. His methods demanded, and obtained, the success that was their just due. Hagen takes nothing for granted. Every possibility is provided for as far as human skill and foresight can determine. If things should happen to go wrong, he consoles himself with the thought that he has given of his best. He can do no more. Hagen was not peeved when he slipped a yard putt on the 17th green, after a masterly run-up. He confided to me, on the way to the 18th tee, that he played the shot as intended, but his intention was proved to be wrong. That was all. There was no attempt at an excuse. When he had finished in 72, making a brace for the day, the championship was his.

It was then up to Sarazen and Compston to beat Hagen's figures, and I declared that it could not be done. Playing against an accomplished score is a desperate and nerve-racking business, and, although both men made gallant and praiseworthy efforts, it could not be beaten.

Hagen has once again proved that, when "in the pit" he is well-nigh invincible. The Americans have exploded for ever the idea that they cannot play in the wind, and that their best performances are done inland. The weather at Sandwich was boisterous enough to test the abilities of the most expert. It demanded golf of the very highest class, and, in filling the first two places, Hagen and Sarazen have asserted that class is bound to tell in any place or in any weather. I tender Walter Hagen the tribute of profound admiration. I mentioned in my article that round about 292 would be the winning score. This was received with some incredulity in the early part of the week, and round about 300 was freely suggested. My knowledge of Sandwich proved to be more accurate, as my estimate was exactly Hagen's winning score. I may be excused for feeling a little proud. With the exception of Compston, the rest of the British competitors may—not unkindly, I hope—be written as being disappointing. I freely anticipated that they would do better, but any comments may be safely left until I have become more rational, and perhaps more sympathetic. We must simply plug along our lonely furrow until the time comes when the Old Country will reassert herself. But it is a dreary business waiting. The course was in better condition than I have ever known it to be, and the grateful thanks of all professional competitors will be unreservedly given to the executive for the kindly attention that was paid towards making the most complete arrangements for their comfort.

RECORD FIELDS FOR WESTERN CANADA CHAMPIONSHIPS

Reports are that there will be record fields of entrants in all the different events at the Western Canada Championships the week of July 16th at Edmonton, Alberta. The city gates will be thrown wide open to visiting golfers from far and near. Edmonton in fact will be a regular golfing Mecca on this occasion for golfers from Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The following is the very strong Executive Board which is looking after the championships: Charles E. Harvey, Elmhurst Golf Club, Winnipeg, Honorary President; H. Milton Martin, Edmonton Golf and Country Club, President; Clarence W. Jackson, St. Charles Country Club, Winnipeg, Vice-President; Newton C. Byers, Riverside Country Club, Saskatoon, 2nd Vice-President; G. Innes Mackenzie, Honorary Secretary-Treasurer, 701 Union Trust Building, Winnipeg. Directors, Alberta, Geo. H. Steer, Edmonton; J. R. ## PLAYING GOLF ON MANY COURSES

Two Prominent Canadians return from a Most Interesting Tour of South America, South Africa and Other Countries.

(By W. H. Webling)

THE boundless limits of golf's universal realm was very distinctly demonstrated to Mr. C. A. Bogert, president of the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association, during his recent South American and South African cruise. In company with Major W. D. Wilson, president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, Mr. Bogert played many games on many strange courses, some of which were set with a tropical background amidst profusion of palms and exotic flowers—an experience both unique and delightful. At Durban Mr. Bogert was particularly impressed with the Durban Country Club (South

The Country Club Links, Durban, Natal, one of the many interesting courses played during their tour by Mr. C. A. Bogert and Major Wilson. The Club has a membership of 800.

Africa) which he described as first class in every respect and very similar to the leading seaside courses in Great Britain.

One of Mr. Bogert's most interesting experiences from a golf standpoint was during his journey across the Nubian Desert by the Sudanese Railway from Port Sudan to Khartum. The train stopped at some small and unimportant point with nothing in view but a mere waste of sand, a few small buildings, some camels and natives, yet there before him stretched a nine hole golf course laid out on the bare sand, with not a blade of grass in sight. Evidently some Englishmen, probably British officials, were so keen on the grand old game that not even these discouraging local conditions could deter them; proving not only the power of golf but the imperishable spirit of sport which dwells in the hearts of all true Britishers.

In England Mr. Bogert witnessed the devastating defeat by 18 and 17 administered by Compston to the great Hagen. After which, Hagen evidently taking his defeat very seriously, started in immediately to practise at Sandwich most thoroughly, with the result, now well known, that once more this brilliant performer came into his own, and again annexed the British Open Championship. Mr. Bogert remarked that he had seen Hagen play many times, but never in the mood that he was in on this occasion. His face was set in grim determination, and his shots were only made after deliberate and most careful study. The finish of this tournament must have been indeed exciting, as after the morning round, no less than five players had good chances of winning this coveted honor.

During Mr. Bogert's visit in London, he had an opportunity of spending some time with Col. Francis Popham, Hon. Secretary of the British Senior Golfing Society. The epoch-making visit of a British Seniors team this year is not only an assured fact, but difficulty is being found in keeping the number of players, all keenly anxious to participate, down to a reasonable limit. The British team will sail for Quebec about August 18th, and will probably play in Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton and, of course, entering the Canadian Seniors' tournament at Lambton and playing in the International triangular matches at Apawamis and Blind Brook, Rye, N.Y. Mr. Bogert seemed to think that Mr. J. Beaumont Pease, chairman of the Board of Lloyd's Bank, London, will captain the British team. Mr. Pease, although a Senior, reached the last eight in the recent British Amateur Championship, losing to the famous Robert Wethered on the 21st green.

Mr. Bogert looked particularly well after his trip but declared himself well satisfied to be back once more in Canada.

CONCEDED PUTTS

(By Charles Herndon)

The first rule of golf says that "the game consists of each side playing a ball from a teeing ground into a hole by successive strokes." The object of the game is not to get the ball near the hole, and then kick it away, but to get the ball "into the hole."

A putt of a few inches counts for as much as the longest drive. And we all know that a putt of one or two feet is sometimes harder to make than a putt that is five or six feet in length. The latter we can play rather boldly, and we don't feel so badly about it if we fail. But the former we know we should make, and we are likely to be overcareful, become tense, snatch it—and miss.

The habit of receiving conceded putts is a very bad one to counteract. It is not easy to refuse to accept a gift putt from a generous opponent in a friendly round of match play. It is the custom to give and receive short putts, and we all do it far too much. If we never played golf except for recreation, exercise and pleasure, it wouldn't much matter; but if we occasionally enter a stroke competition where all putts must be holed, or if we compete in match play tournaments where we are likely to meet opponents who refuse to give us our short putts, then there is nothing for us to do but to hole them. And if we have had little or no practice in this ticklish business, it becomes a rather uncertain and nerve-racking enterprise.

If the tournament player accepts the short putts in friendly rounds, then he should put in quite a bit of practice at holing short ones before he enters a tournament. But even this will not entirely compensate for his failure to hole the short putts in all his rounds.

AIRPLANE GOLFING IS LATEST STUNT

A despatch from Wellington, N.J.:

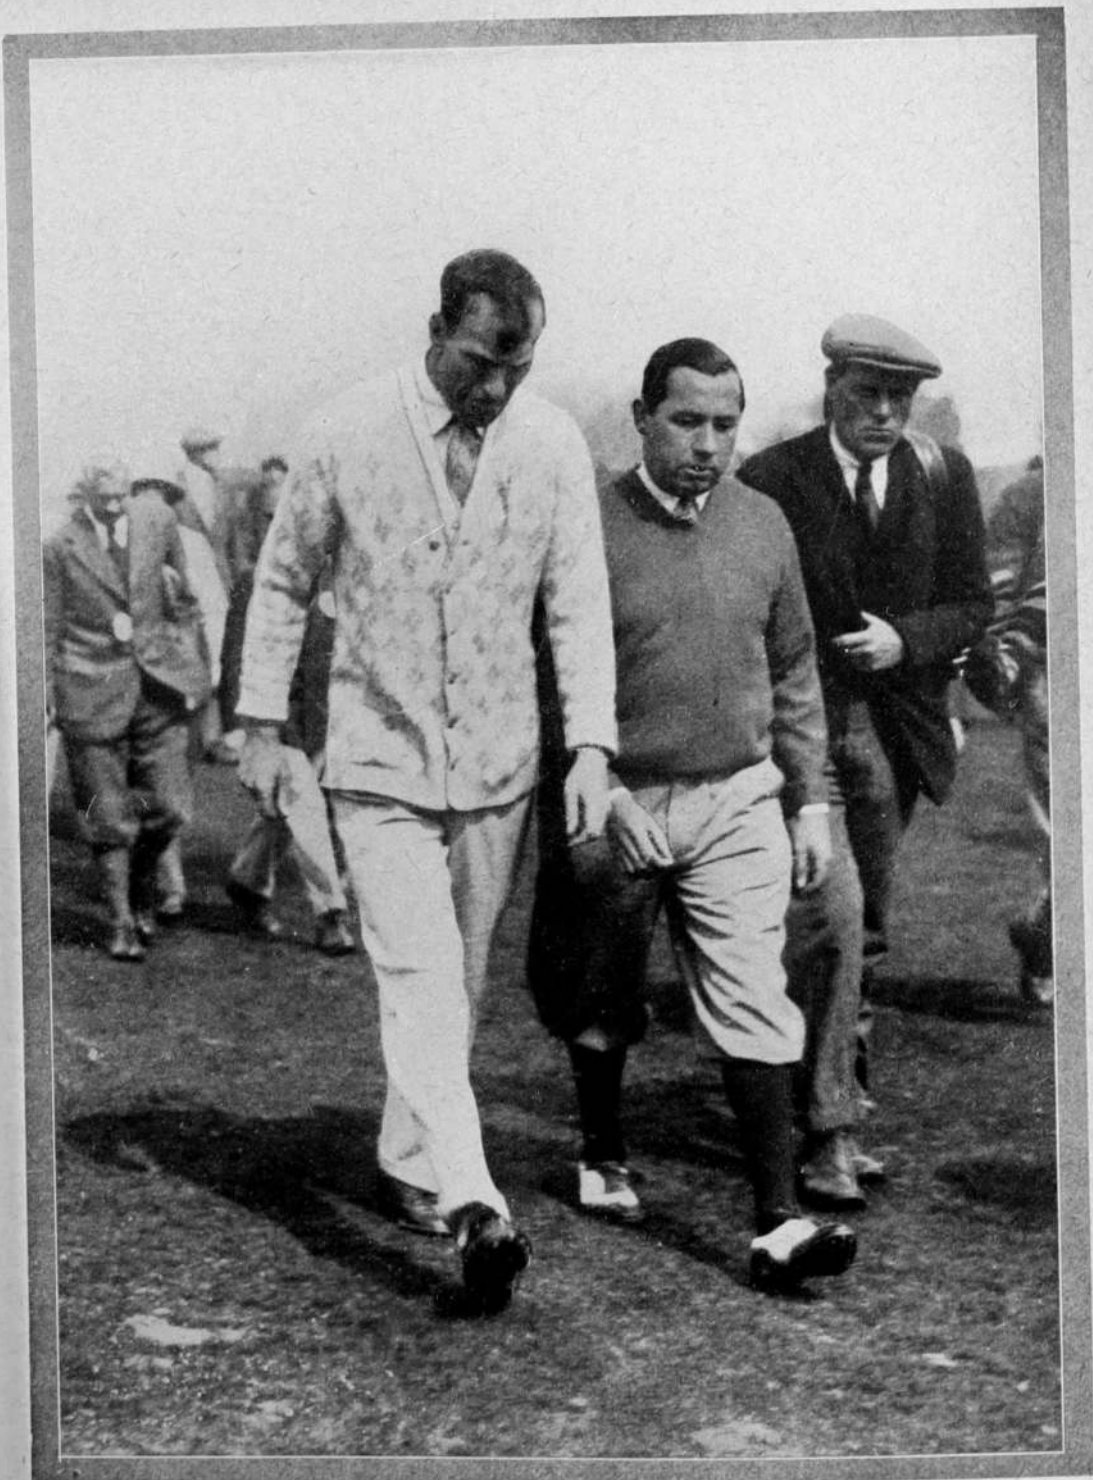

The first game of aerial golf was played on the old Westbury golf club links to-day. A team composed of William Hammond, on the ground, and M. M. Merrill, manager of Curtiss Field in the air, defeated William Winston, with the clubs, and Arthur Caperton, in the air, three up. The match was for nine holes.

Merrill and Caperton took off from Curtiss Field in two Curtiss planes with cargoes of golf balls. Flying about 50 feet above the golf course, the pilots attempted to drop balls as near to the cup on the green as possible. It was up to Hammond and Winston to do the rest in the regular golfing manner.

Every one of the balls dropped by Merrill landed on the greens, while three of those dropped by Caperton landed in the rough.

The scores: Hammond, 333 432—26; Winston, 433 633 343—32.

The match was watched by many hundreds of persons on the ground and quite a few, as such things go, from the air. Among those who circled the course were Colonel Charles Lindbergh and Thea Rasche, the German aviatrix."

Walter Hagen and Archie Compston snapped during the great challenge match won by "the Manchester Giant" by 18 and 17. That they both took the encounter in a grim and serious manner is easily detected by the photograph. For once the "debonair Walter" is not confidently smiling.

JACK CAMERON WINS TOURNAMENT

"Jack" Cameron, famous all-round athlete, who wins first important Quebec Province Tournament this month.

at Ottawa July, 1925. He will want watching in the major events this season, as he is playing a great game and should be a dangerous contender in the Amateur at Summerlea, Montreal, next August.

JACK Cameron, noted athlete of Ottawa, playing as a representative of the Rivermead Golf Club, Ottawa, led the field of over one hundred in the 36-hole invitation tournament held by the Country Club of Montreal Saturday, June 16th, the first major event of the golfing season in Quebec Province.

The Rivermead golfer played a brilliant long game. He weakened at times on the greens, but managed to put together a 75-79-154 to capture the honours.

In second place, two strokes behind Cameron, was C. C. "Happy" Fraser, who was entered as a representative from the Country Club, and who turned in two consistent rounds of 79-77-156, to become the runner-up.

Tied in third position for the low gross 36 were A. B. Darling, of Whitlock, and Leo Patenaude, of Laval. Darling turned in a 78-81-159, while Patenaude, after only fair success in the morning, put a 76 to his first round score of 83 for his total of 159. Mr. Cameron was the semi-finalist in the Canadian Amateur Championship

INVITATION TOURNAMENTS FOR LADY GOLFERS OF THE MARITIMES

(By D. Leo Dolan, Golf Editor of Halifax Chronicle)

Lady golfers in Nova Scotia will not lack for keen competition during the season of 1928.

The announcement that the Brightwood Golf and Country Club had decided to hold an invitation tournament on June 28 and 29 will be welcomed by all the lady golfers of the Province, since this tourney is to be open to all Provincial golf clubs. The tournament has been made possible by the active co-operation, in this plan for a ladies' Provincial golf meet, of The Halifax Chronicle and The Daily Star, these newspapers having offered a suitable trophy for the major prize.

This is a novel venture in ladies' golf in the Province and the meet at Brightwood will mark the first Provincial Tourney held in Nova Scotia by the members of the fair sex. It should, and undoubtedly will, serve a good purpose, in bringing into competition a great many players who would not otherwise engage in a tournament of major importance. Heretofore the Maritime Championships have been the "big" thing for the lady golfers in the eastern provinces, but Nova Scotia, which is rapidly forging to the front as a golfing province, has come into line with the other provinces of Canada and instituted a Provincial Championship meet.

The idea of having separate competitions for the players with low handicaps and the players who do not boast of a 27 or under handicap, is likely to bring out a much larger entry than has heretofore featured a ladies' golf meet in this part of the Dominion. By this method every lady player has a chance to compete against her equal in golfing skill.

Then again the competition for the "novices" is perhaps the best move that has ever been made to increase competition among lady golfers. There are a great many first and second year lady players who shy clear of tournament play, but the Provincial Tournament this year has opened a class for these novices who will get just as much thrill out of their own competition as will the stars in the first division.

Altogether the Brightwood programme is probably the most progressive move the golfing ladies have ever made in Nova Scotia. To-day the female of the species is taking a more active interest in sports than ever before. We have girls engaging in all forms of athletic endeavour and not the least of these is golf. Within recent years the game has attracted hundreds of Nova Scotian ladies and some exceptionally good players are being developed at the various courses. The Provincial meet at Brightwood will serve as a good test for those who are contemplating the Maritime Tournament at Ashburn later in the summer.

Certainly this Nova Scotia meet is bound to arouse an even greater interest in golf among the ladies of the various provincial clubs. The committee who arranged this competition are to be congratulated on the novel programme they have outlined and undoubtedly every club in Nova Scotia will send rep-representatives to Brightwood on June 28 and 29. The prize list is a most imposing one and the one great feature of the proposed competition is the various divisions which have been made to suit the needs of the stars and the novices.

The golfing ladies of Nova Scotia are apparently, not to be eclipsed by their male brethren in the matter of staging golf competitions in this province.

SASKATCHEWAN SENIORS' CHAMPIONSHIP

THE Saskatchewan Seniors' Golf Association second annual Tournament will be held at the Wascana Country Club, Regina, Sask., on July 19th-20th. Members of any club in Saskatchewan 55 years and upwards are eligible for membership. The annual fee is $2.00, the entry fee $1.00, and the annual dinner fee $1.00. The annual meeting will be held in the Wascana Country Club House on Friday evening, the 20th of July, immediately after the annual dinner. The competitors at this very interesting Tournament consist of (1) Championship Match Play, (2) Handicap Match play, and (3) Consolation Match play. The officers of this important Saskatchewan organization are:

Hon. President, The Hon. Sir F. W. G. Haultan, Chief Justice of Saskatchewan; President, James Balfour, K.C., Regina; Vice-President, Brig-General Tuxford, Moose Jaw; Hon. Sec'y-Treas., J. Kelso Hunter, Court House, Regina; Board of Governors, The President, the Vice-President, the Hon. Sec'y-Treasurer, and the Hon. Mr. Justice McKay, the Hon. Mr. Justice Mackenzie, A. C. Froom, T. F. Conrod, Charles Willoughby and John Balfour, Regina; His Honour Judge Pope, Melfort; Hugh Thomson and A. W. Irwin, Moose Jaw; and the Rev. M. A. F. Custance, Weyburn. Tournament Committee, The Hon. ## PERTH, HURON AND BRUCE COUNTY LEAGUE

A meeting for the purpose of organizing a golf league of the clubs in Perth, Huron and Bruce counties was held at the Walkerton Golf and Country Club May 31st, with representatives present from the Seaforth Golf and Country Club, Maitland Golf and Country Club and Blue Water Golf and Country Club, Goderich, Kincardine, Walkerton and Listowel Golf and Country Clubs. The Saugeen Golf and Country Club of Hanover was not represented but have signified their intention of entering the league. A very handsome trophy has been donated to the league by W. A. Johnstone, of Listowel, which is to be competed for annually. The league will be known as the P. H. and B. Golf League and comprises the above named clubs. Two groups were formed with Seaforth, Maitland, Blue Water and Listowel in group 1 and Kincardine, Walkerton and the Saugeen Club of Hanover in group 2. Home and home matches will be played which must be completed by September 1 and group winners must finish by September 15. Each team to be composed of 10 resident male members. The resident professional of the Stratford Golf and Country Club, James Cook, was appointed as referee and R. C. G. A. rules will govern all competitions. Following are the officers elected for the current season: W. A. Johnstone, Listowel, Honorary President; J. A. Schinbein, Listowel, President; H. G. Wright, Kincardine, Vice-President; D. D. Mooney, Maitland Club, Goderich, Secretary-Treasurer; W. Greig, Seaforth, Dr. McCue, Walkerton, W. R. Brunt, Hanover, and Dr. J. A. Graham, Blue Water Club, Goderich, executive.

The formation of this League is an excellent idea. It will do much to encourage the game in Perth, Huron and Bruce.—Editor "Canadian Golfer."

LEARNING GOLF BY IMITATION

(By Charles Herndon)

We have been taught to believe that only youths can learn by imitation, and that grown-ups learn through their faculties of reason and analysis. Youths do make more use of the former method of learning; and their seniors indulge more in the latter method. But to go so far as to say that middle aged people cannot learn through imitation would be to make a very pessimistic and discouraging statement, and one that is not true. All of us are constantly learning both by conscious and subconscious imitation. That being the case, it behooves us to take advantage of every opportunity to store up mental pictures of good form patterns.

When you imitate anyone, be sure to imitate something in good form, something really worth while. Don't imitate mannerisms in style. Posey players are an abomination on the golf course. They are always striking an attitude that they think is indicative of a fine style. You never see a first rate player doing this. He has already developed a style of his own, which may not be pretty, but is one he can depend upon for good results.

"OUR HOLE-IN-ONE-CLUB"

Many Fair Lady Golfers Are Registering the Feat This Season. Mr. T. Clark, of the Kamloops Golf Club, B.C., Gets a "Double-Header."

They are coming, oh yes, they are coming these "Hole-in-One" artists from Coast to Coast. The mashie is doing its deadly and rhythmic work, with once in a while a driver or spoon, on the longer holes turning the trick. Since May the following have become eligible for the "Canadian Golfer" Hall of Fame:—

The Prince Albert Golf Club's first initiate to the Hole-in-One-Club is Mr. E. T. Bagshaw, who, while playing in a foursome over the week-end, made the fourth hole in one. Mr. Bagshaw thereby wins the honour of being the first Prince Albert Club member, Prince Albert, Sask., to qualify for our club.

For sheer accuracy it would be hard to improve upon Mr. Bagshaw's shot. The hole is a short one generally played with a mashie. Following his drive, the ball landed squarely in the cup on the fourth green and lodged between cup-side and the pin.

Mr. Bagshaw's partner was E. F. Connolly and their opponents were Roy Hall and P. W. Mahon.

Reg. J. Batley, the clever young professional at the Kent Golf Links, Montmorency Falls, Que., bagged a "oner" at the 135 yard 7th hole whilst playing with a member, Mr. G. L. Malshan. Incidentally he writes: "Our course is being revamped by Mr. Herbert Strovey, the well known New York architect, and will be an exceedingly good test of golf when completed."

Mr. W. R. Doherty is another member of the Point Grey Golf and Country Club, Vancouver, B.C., to register the feat. Playing with Messrs. R. Watson, H. B. Frith and D. Sutherland (the Club professional) he made a one at the 143 yard 15th hole.

Again "a lady fair" playing over the Municipal Golf Course at Edmonton, Miss May Mountifield, present holder of the Alberta Provincial Championship, registered an "ace" at the short twelfth, the hole laid out in the old brickyard. Miss Mountifield was playing with Gordon Folkins when she sank her mashie shot, a 135-yard smack. Incidentally she turned in a card of 79 for the round. The "oner" is the first of the season at Edmonton.

W. G. Wallace, Secretary of the Glenview Golf Club, Petrolia, writes:

"Here is another candidate for your Hole-in-One Club. On May 26th Mr. James Wilson, Captain of the Glenview Golf Club, playing with Mr. W. C. Sheppard, holed out in one on our No. 5 hole. This is known as the 'creek' hole, the tee shot is across a wide creek, 105 yards to the green. The green is well protected by trees, making an accurate mashie shot necessary. Mr. Wilson played his mashie shot four feet from the flag, the ball rolling into the hole."

Miss May Mountifield, of Edmonton, Lady Champion of Alberta, who makes a "Hole-in-One."

Mr. E. G. Hunt, of the Manitoba Telephone System, negotiated the fourth hole in one stroke at the Southwood Golf Club, Winnipeg. He was playing against L. C. Hayes, who played first and dropped his ball within inches of the cup for a sure two. Mr. Hunt then proceeded to hole out from the tee and Mr. Hayes then, of course, missed his short putt. 'Twas ever thus.

Medicine Hat Municipal Golf Club last month decided to stage a double-header. Miss E. M. Parker at the 4th hole, 141 yards, put down a perfect tee-shot and Mr. J. A. Mackay chose the 8th hole, 141 yards, for the performance. This hole, Mr. Reader, the Secretary, reports, was originally 111 yards, but was lengthened last year to comply with the interesting Mercury Mills "Hole-in-Two" Competition.

Miss Alice G. Perkins, of the Nelson Golf Club, B.C., is another lady candidate for honours this month. On the 8th hole of the pretty Nelson Course, playing with Mrs. E. G. Smyth, she found "the tin from the tee". Congratulations.

It is with particular pleasure that the Editor awards a year's subscription to a visiting Britisher. Mr. A. H. Atkins, of Liverpool, a member of the West Lancashire Golf Club, is spending several months in Canada at Hudson Heights, Que., where he is playing over the charming course of the Whitlock Golf Club. On May 27th in a match with Mr. C. E. Gausden and his son he put "a beauty" onto the green of the 4th hole, "The Gullies", 170 yards, and the ball sweetly nestled into the cup. Several golfers from the States in years gone by have registered the feat on Canadian courses, but this is the first time an Englishman has been enrolled in our Club. Mr. Atkins is thrice welcome therefore.

"Good old Jericho," Vancouver, B.C., can always be depended upon to make its monthly bow. Playing with Mr. R. Bell-Irving, Mr. N. C. P. Graves bagged a "oner" on the 8th hole, 114 yards.

Mr. Frank O. Fowler, well known member of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, in a four-ball match with Messrs. D. N. Potter, H. E. Riley and Ray Fowler performed the stunt at the 16th hole of the Winnipeg Golf Club, 102 yards. It is rather interesting to note that Mr. Fowler's partner made the same hole in 2. Mr. Fowler is an ex-Mayor of the City of Winnipeg.

Mr. George D. Heyd, popular barrister of Brantford, has the honour of recording the first "one-shotter" of the season in the Telephone City, which now boasts three golf courses. The 12th hole on the Brantford Golf and Country Club Course is a corking good 'un—very few better in the Province. It was here that Mr. Heyd, who has played golf for many years, made golfing history and as a result won't have to send in a cheque for his 1928 subscription to this "Great Family Golfing Magazine."

Mrs. George H. Edmison, of Calgary, who last season was successful in securing several mementos of her golfing skill, accomplished the supreme ambition of every golfer last month when she negotiated the ninth hole of the Earl Grey course in one stroke. This is a blind hole, and in company with Mrs. Lyle Peacock Mrs. Edmison had played what appeared to be a perfectly placed drive, and on approaching the green the ladies found two balls, fairly close to each other and in reasonable proximity to the green. One of the balls belonged to Mrs. Lyle Peacock and the other was at that moment claimed by E. G. Paddon, who was playing the fourth hole, and it was only after Mrs. Edmison had searched diligently for her ball that Mr. Paddon suggested jokingly that it might be in the hole. To Mrs. Edmison's great delight, the ball was found in there.

The first hole in one scored this season at Scarboro, Toronto, was on May the "unlucky" 13th, which was far from being unlucky for Mr. R. G. McDonald. Playing on that day with Dr. P. Brown, Mr. Hastie and Mr. Troop, he made the 11th hole (110 yards) in one.

The ladies are very much in the picture this month—but then for that matter, they always are, one way and another, and deservedly so, too, bless 'em. Mrs. Thomas Findlay, prominent member of the Lambton Golf and Country Club, Toronto, at the 12th hole, 125 yards, was away from the tee with a perfect shot and had the intense satisfaction of registering an "eagle" one.

Not to be outdone by Lambton, Rosedale, Toronto, was also recently put on the golfing map by Mrs. E. P. Clarkson, playing with Mrs. E. B. Crockett, Mrs. Clarkson negotiated the 6th hole at Rosedale in one—a tidy little "swat" of 200 yards, which is pretty good going.

From Souris, Manitoba, comes the story of another lady player who registered the feat. Mrs. Arthur Lord, a member of the Souris Club, got her "ace" at the first hole. So East and West, the women are vieing with the men in accomplishing the 20,000 to 1 shot this season.

And here is a remarkable performance recorded from Kamloops, B.C. Mr. H. J. Parker, the Honorary Secretary of the Kamloops Club, writes:

"I have to submit the name of Mr. T. Clark, a member of this club, as eligible for registration in the 'Hall of Fame,' having achieved the good fortune of holing his tee shot on two occasions this year. The first occasion was in the course of a friendly game with Mr. K. M. Brown on April 8th, when he negotiated our second hole and on May 17th when he holed out on our ninth, when playing with Mr. R. M. Brown, Past President, Past Captain and frequent holder of the Club Championship."

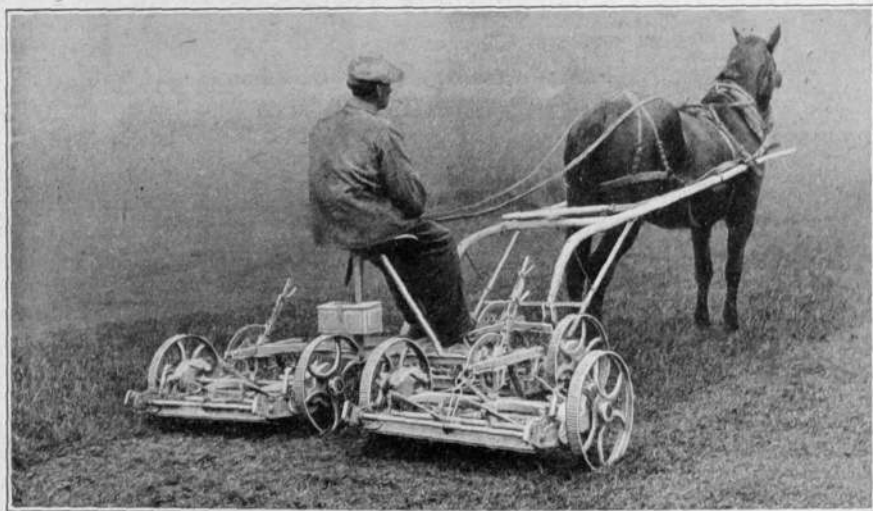

Back to Toronto. Playing the 17th hole at the Thistledown Golf and Country Club, Mr. J. L. MacDonald "tinkled the tin from the tee" on the 17th, 153 yards. He was playing with Mrs. Jarvis at the time.

Mr. W. S. Bridges, of the Canadian Connecticut Cotton Mills, Sherbrooke, Que., decided to join the golfing elect. Playing with Mr. C. E. Force, of Windsor Mills, he started off with "a bang" bagging the first hole with a perfect tee shot.

An interesting despatch from Jasper Park, Jasper, Alta., May 30th:

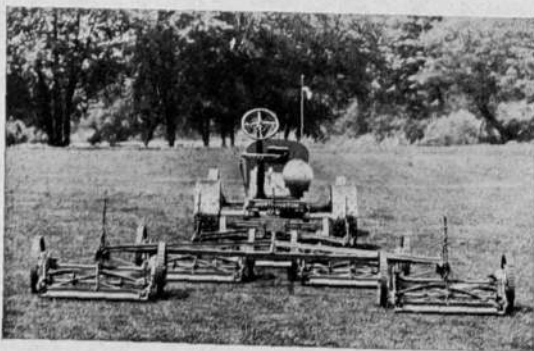

"For the first time in the history of Jasper Park Lodge Golf Course, an amateur has made a hole in one. The congratulations are showering on Robin Bell-Irving, of Powell River, B.C. The feat is all the more spectacular because it was accomplished at the 15th hole, which is known as the Bad Baby. Mr. Bell-Irving was playing over the course this afternoon with George Stevenson, of Hamilton, Ont., against Dr. H. B. Lee, of Nigeria, British West Africa, and Gordon Barr, of Jasper. Lee did the Bad Baby in two and the game up to that time was so dangerously close that Bell-Irving had to accomplish the impossible. 'He ought to be able to handle 'bad baby's,' said his wife, 'he has brought up four.'

The first hole in one at the Briars Golf and Country Club, Jackson's Point, the well known summer resort, goes to the credit of Mr. Harold P. Porter, Toronto. He turned the trick at the 5th hole, 110 yards. He was playing at the time with H. Porter and R. G. Winters.

It gives very much pleasure to the Editor to record a "hole-in-one" by Mrs. Walter L. McGregor, of the Essex County Golf and Country Club, Sandwich, Ontario, who took such a prominent part in the Ontario Championship this month at Sandwich. Mrs. McGregor chose the 5th hole, 115 yards, for the stunt. She has the honour of being the first lady golfer at the Essex Club to record a "one-shotter."

Dr. A. B. Holmes, of the Essex Club, also decided to get in the picture this month. "He got his" on the 8th hole—a 200 yarder.

Still another fair golfer "turns the trick." Miss Mollie Downey, a daughter of the late Mr. J. P. Downey, ex-M.P.P. of Orillia, playing the 4th hole of the Couchiching Country Club, 160 yards, found the cup with her tee shot.

And yet one more lady fair, Mrs. E. C. Baxter, of the Gorsebrook Golf Club, Halifax, N.S., playing with Miss H. Joyce Harris, got a one at the 18th hole, 130 yards. The ladies certainly are distinguishing themselves this season.

Two more Vancouverites. Playing with Messrs. W. I. Crombie and W. G. Lindsay over the Marine Drive and Country Club course Mr. S. J. Evans put over a beautiful ball at the 14th hole, 90 yards, which trickled into the tin.

The Country Club, Montreal, is next heard from. Mr. B. M. Saunders negotiated the 8th hole on that interesting course in one. Messrs. H. W. Maxson, B. Y. Spencer and J. E. Dorian witnessed the notable performance.

A "SENATOR" PULLS OFF THE STUNT.

The Echo Beach Golf Club may not be on the official list of golf clubs in Canada, nor can the course perhaps be considered a championship course. Nevertheless the list of membership contains many names well known in Canada, principally men prominent in the Senior Association.

Without particularising, mention may be made of Sir Robert Borden, President of the Club, Senator George Lynch-Staunton, Sir George Perley, late High Commissioner for Canada in London, Dr. Ingersoll Olmsted, of Hamilton, Senator J. A. Calder, late Minister of Immigration and Colonization in the Federal Government, Senator G. H. Barnard, Victoria, B.C., and the Hon. E. W. Rhodes, Prime Minister of Nova Scotia. The course while not a long one is well bunkered and the natural hazards constitute a feature not to be found on many golf courses in Canada.

It was on this interesting course that the Hon. J. A. Calder did the first hole in one. The match was being followed by Senators Lynch-Staunton and G. H. Barnard, both of whom vouch for the performance of Senator Calder.

WILFRID REID, POPULAR PROFESSIONAL TO BE HEARD ON THE RADIO

Golf and golfers will be the subject of a new series of radio broadcastings sponsored by the Union Trust Company of Detroit, which began May 29 and will continue during the summer months each Tuesday evening at 7.30 over station WJR. These talks will be presented by Wilfrid Reid, professional at Indianwood Golf and Country Club, Orion, Michigan.

Reid is one of the best known golf professionals and architects in the United States. He came to this country in 1913, after a triumphant golfing career in England and on the Continent. Reid's golf began when he was two or three years old, continuing through the winning of many major tournaments, including the unique experience of playing for England in the International matches almost every year from 1906 to 1914 and then, in 1921, representing the United States against Great Britain in the International matches of that year. He has been teaching golf for twenty-eight years.

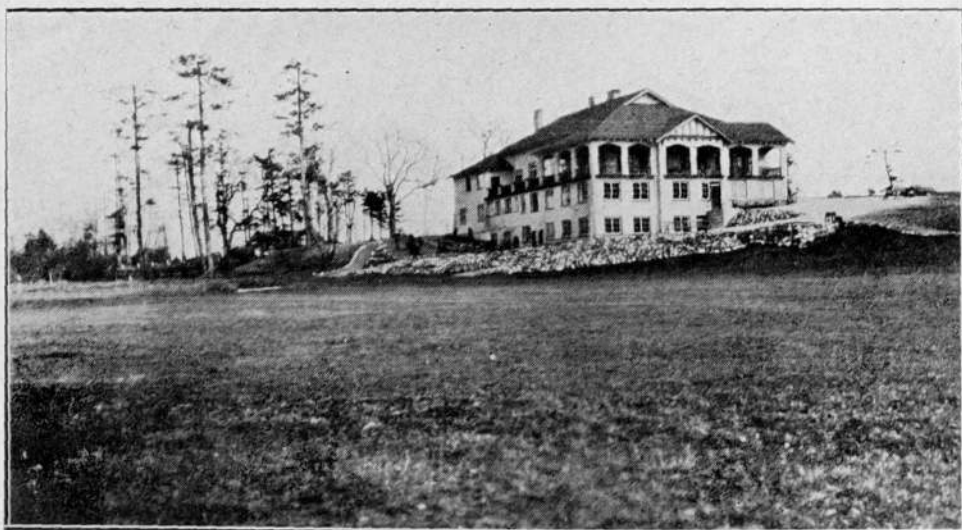

In his radio talks, he will begin the series with the fundamentals of golf. His first talk will be on "How to Address a Golf Ball Correctly and Why." Then the series of weekly lessons will take up in the order of difficulty each shot in golf, giving instructions in the use of the various clubs and progressing from these fundamentals to advanced golf, with lessons on abnormal shots.

Wilfrid Reid has served on the executive committee of the Professional Golfers Association of America for seven years. He is president of the Michigan Professional Golfers Association this year. He is well known in Detroit, where, for five years, he was the professional at the Country Club. He is also well known on the courses of Canada and is exceedingly popular in this country. He has taken part in many open championships. Reid's golf lessons will bring to the radio audience each week the extremely practical advice of a man who is not only a qualified and experienced teacher, but has himself won most of the major British tournaments.

THE ALBERTA SENIOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Mr. J. L. McCornack, of the Calgary Golf and Country Club, with a score of 169, won the Alberta seniors' competition, played over the Calgary Golf and Country Club links Friday and Saturday, June 1st and 2nd. Mr. Bruce Robinson, also of the Calgary Golf and Country Club, was the winner of the handicap event.

There were thirty entries and competition was keen.

Mr. J. Leslie Bell, of Edmonton, led the field at the end of play Friday with a card of 83, while Mr. McCornack turned in an 87, but on Saturday the tables were turned. Mr. Bell got away to a bad start in his second round and never recovered, finishing up with a score of 90, while McCornack did the round in 82.

Mr. F. M. Motter, of the Calgary Golf and Country Club, had the next best score of 175, and other leading scorers were D. N. McLean, Edmonton, last year's champion, 182; T. Birnie, Calgary, 184; A. B. Donnelly, Edmonton, last year's handicap winner, 190.

Two of the serious contenders, E. Mackenzie Grieve and W. H. Sellar, both of Calgary, were unfortunately disqualified on Friday at the seventeenth green when they played each other's ball.

During the course of the competition Dr. George Macdonald, of Calgary, had the distinction of holing his tee shot at the fifteenth, a 140-yard hole.

Mr. H. Milton Martin, of Edmonton, president of the Western Canada Golf Association, presided at the presentation of prizes, the awards being handed over by His Honour Lieutenant-Governor Egbert.

On both days of the competition Judge Walsh entertained all the visiting golfers and a like number of Calgary players. The Judge, who is the Honorary President of the Alberta Golf Association, is the donor of the Championship Cup and also generously gives two individual prizes each year to the winner and runner-up. His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta was present during the Tournament and played the full 36 holes with the donor of the Cup. This Senior Championship is quite one of the most outstanding and enjoyable of the Alberta fixtures.

COMPSTON AND BOOMER IN U.S. OPEN

The U.S. Open Championship at the Olympia Fields Country Club, Chicago, the latter part of this week will take on quite an international flavor as a result of the entrance of Archie Compston and Aubrey Boomer, two of the most promising of the younger school of British professionals. Of the two, Compston is possibly the most outstanding. The terrible drubbing he administered to Walter Hagen last month, in match play is still fresh in everyone's memory. Then he followed this up by getting into third place in the British Open and third place also, in the Irish Open. Boomer also took the measure of Hagen in match play last month. He was runner-up in the British Open Championship in 1927 and has to his credit the French Open three times, the Belgian Championship twice and the Holland Championship thrice. Compston tied for second place in the British Open, 1925, and won the Professional Golf Championship the same year and also the Gleneagles Tournament. He has also twice won the £1,000 News of the World Tournament.

Neither Compston or Boomer did particularly well as members of the Ryder Cup Team which visited the States and Canada last year. In the Toronto-Montreal matches, Boomer was in 10th place with 304 and Compston 16th place with 310. However, this season, they are playing very fine golf

Be Everlastingly on the Alert When You Drive a Motor Vehicle

Statistics show that inattention of drivers is the cause of many highway accidents

SENSE

Carelessness of the person at the wheel is directly to blame in many cases, according to accurate investigations into the causes of automobile accidents.

You must watch your wheel and the road ahead. Let someone else point out the scenery. Let someone else pass the cigarettes and chocolate bars. If you value your own safety and that of your friends, you will concentrate on driving safely and take good care to avoid other drivers who may be reckless.

Conditions on the streets and highways have changed with a huge increase of motor traffic. You must become conscious of the new dangers thus created. You cannot neglect your wheel for even a moment.

The Highway Safety Committee again urges that all motorists co-operate in the effort to lessen the number of accidents. Ontario's highways can be made safer if all drivers obey the traffic rules and exercise Care, Courtesy and Common-sense. The roads have been built as safe physically as possible and they are well supplied with caution signs. Traffic officers and municipal police are vigilant. But the human element must be attuned if accidents are to be avoided.

When you are driving, keep everlastingly on the alert.

7 Rules for Safety

1. Have your car in perfect mechanical shape—particularly Brakes, Steering Gear and Headlights.
2. Give your undivided attention to your driving. In passing traffic, be sure there is a place for you in the traffic line ahead.
3. When other motor vehicles try to pass you—let them pass.
In entering main streets or highways, or in approaching a railway crossing where a clear view of the track is obstructed, stop and look.
5. Don't "loaf" where traffic is heavy.
6. Always signal before you slow down, stop or change your course.
7. Never back up before ascertaining that the road behind is clear.

JAMAICA NEEDS FIRST-CLASS COURSE

("The Sportsman," Kingston, Jamaica)

"This island wants to develop its tourist trade, but no steps are being taken to arrange anything in the shape of an attraction to hold tourists for any length of time in Jamaica. Read this extract from the Canadian Golfer.

"Mr. Stanley Thompson, golf architect, Toronto, left last month for Jamaica, where he has been commissioned to lay out an eighteen hole golf course in connection with a magnificent new hotel which the United Hotels of America are planning to build there. It is also understood that the Canadian National Railways are too interested in the project, intending to run a line of steamers to Jamaica for passengers and merchandise. Bermuda has recently made a great success of its Winter Resort propaganda. Now Jamaica is going to follow suit. An up-to-date golf course is the first requisite to attract visitors of the worth-while type."

"You will carefully note the last sentence and the Hotel Company knows that the necessary attraction to tourists is a first-class golf course and they intend to make one. There are many rumours going the rounds as to where the course will be laid out and it appears to the golfers in Jamaica that the course will naturally be in close proximity to the Hotel. The main point however, is that there is going to be a first-class eighteen hole course in Jamaica, so why worry."

ONTARIO LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP

Misses Cecil and Maud Smith, of the Toronto Golf Club, Figure in the Final and Miss Cecil Defeats her Sister 4 and 2. Essex County Golf and Country Club Provides an Ideal Setting for the Event. Annual Meeting of the Ontario Branch C. L. G. U. is Held During the Championship.

THE Ontario Ladies' Golf Championship at the Essex County Golf and Country Club, Sandwich, this month brought together in the final, the sisters Cecil and Maud ronto, and Mrs. Gordon Ferrie, of Hamilton, who between them have won the event five times, as was regretted. Miss Cecil Smith, only two or three years ago, gave up tennis for

Smith, of Toronto, famous in the realms of fancy skating, for titular honors and the 19-year-old Miss Cecil, who reached the semi-finals last year at Burlington, where she was defeated by Miss Ada Mackenzie, won out from her elder sister by 4 and 2. This fighting out of a championship final by sisters, is a record performance in Canada, but 21 years ago, the sisters Hezlet, members of a particularly distinguished Irish golfing family, competed for chief honors in the British Ladies' Open Championship, Miss M. Hezlet defeating Miss F. Hezlet, 2 and 1. The championship at Sandwich was a colorful one, although the absence of Miss Ada Mackenzie, of To-golf. She has all the hall-marks of a golfer of championship calibre. She drives a particularly long ball and plays her irons with crispness and precision. She should go far, very far, this season in the major competitions in Canada, and it is hoped also that she will be given an opportunity to compete in leading U. S. fixtures. It is only by participating in championship golf, that a champion golfer can be developed. There is no other royal road to supremacy in the Royal and Ancient Game. It is a very gratifying feature that the first two Provincial Ladies' Championships in Canada this season should have been won by the younger school—the B.C.

Championship the youthful Miss Marian Wilson, of Victoria, and now the Ontario by Miss Cecil Smith.

With a few mild surprises, but without any startling upsets, the qualifying rounds of the Championship on Monday, June 4th, installed sixteen players in the championship flight for the nineteenth tournament of the Ontario branch of the C.L.G.U.

One of the minor sensations was the all-round play and particularly the strong finish of Miss Hazel Hudson, Toronto Ladies' Golf and Tennis Club, to lead the field of 70 competitors and carry off the medal honors with a 92. It gave her the prize for the best gross score. Another was the performance of Mrs. S. McKeough, of Chatham, who carded a 95 to qualify in second place and to win the low net prize with a 72, her handicap being 23.

A play-off for sixteenth position in the titular round was an extra feature of the late afternoon. Four players with scores of 102. Miss Helen Reid, of Rosedale, and Mrs. W. S. Hunt, of Sarnia, were eliminated at the first hole when they failed to match the fives turned in by Mrs. Moore, of St. Clair, and Mrs. Hector Cowan, of Sarnia. Then, for four straight holes, the two survivors played even, alternately springing sensations to earn a half. Finally on the sixth green, Mrs. Moore failed to get down with two putts and the Sarnia lady won with a safe five.

Eleven of the contenders for the title represented Toronto clubs, Rosedale, Toronto and Lambton each having three, and the five others carry the colors of Sarnia, Hamilton, Chatham, Essex County and Beach Grove.

The team match honors went to the Rosedale Club of Toronto, with an aggregate of 396, the scorers being:—Miss Millichamp, 96; Mrs. Heywood, 97; Mrs. Lefroy, 101; Miss H. Reid, 102. The Toronto Golf Club, which won the event in 1925, 1926 and 1927, was second with 401.

Giant Rain King

Read what John Crawford of Westmoreland Country Club says:—

"The 15th green was a special problem. It is a sloping green on an exposed rise of ground where drainage takes place very quickly. In spite of weather conditions and natural difficulties of the location, the Giant has kept this green velvety and good to play on.

"I like the way the Giant throws the water in the air. With ordinary long arm, long range sprinklers, which throw the water far out, I have found in my thirty years caring for greens that they strike the ground at an angle and wash away soft earth from the roots when it is only a short time before the grass is sunburned and killed.

"I can regulate the Giant for any degree of fine or coarse spray, either revolving or stationary, and get uniform moisture over the area covered. That's why I like it. The Giant is easy to handle and never gives me any bother."

Miss Cecil Smith (Toronto Golf Club) defeated Miss Catherine McKay (Essex County Club), 3 and 2.

Final:

Miss Cecil Smith defeated Miss Maud Smith, 4 and 2.

In the Championship final despite a steady downpour from first tee to sixteenth green, where the match ended, the Toronto Golf Club girls played splendid golf. Neither one failed to get off good drives on the sixteen holes and their long brassie shots and consistent approaching delighted a large gallery of spectators who braved the storm to be witnesses of the unique encounter. Miss Cecil won because she was naturally the longer hitter, both off tee and through the green, while her approaches were a little more accurate.

The game ended when Miss Maud got into a trap with a long drive on the sixteenth, pitched out short, rolled far over the pin and failed to get down in four. Miss Cecil was four feet from the hole in two and as her sister needed two to win she conceded the hole and the match.

Throughout the Championship both the Misses Smith played consistently good golf and well deserved the honour of playing off for titular honours.

Interest was not by any means confined during the week to the Championship Flights. In the various other flights and events competition was very keen and much good golf was witnessed. The following is the complete prize list of this particularly successful and well run Tournament:

ament was being held in Western Ontario.

She stressed the importance of district handicap managers, as after the courses are parred, it remains with them to see that the present system is correctly carried out. Much can be done by them by visits to the clubs in their districts.

Golf has really become the primary interest of the majority, no game being so good for health, character and sportsmanship, and so many lasting friendships are formed with players from all districts. All affiliated club members belong to the National body, and by holding tournaments in various parts of the country, much is being done to weld the many parts into a great and harmonious whole.

Miss Haslett moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Murray.

On behalf of the first executive, Miss Haslett presented the Ontario

Branch with a Cup to be known as the Ontario Handicap Trophy.

The report of the Pars Committee was read by the Chairman, Mrs. M. K. Rowe, and that of the Handicap Manager by Miss McFarlane.

Mrs. Walter McGregor, Essex, read the report of the nominating committee, moved its adoption which was seconded by Mrs. Lyle, Toronto Golf. The following slate was offered and unanimously elected:

President, Miss Jean Haslett, Hamilton G. & C. C.; Vice-President, Mrs. Ingersoll Olmsted, Hamilton G. & C. C.; Hon. Sec'y-Treas. and Handicap Manager, Miss Jane McFarlane, Hamilton G. & C. C.; Chairman Pars Committee, Mrs. M. K. Rowe, Toronto Golf Club; Committee, Mrs. Gordon Ferrie, Hamilton G. & C. C., Mrs. J. S. McCaughey, Glendale G. & C. C., Mrs. Murray Hendrie, Hamilton G. & C. C., Mrs. Duncan Coulson, York Downs Golf Club.

BRITISH WALKER CUP TEAM

Royal and Ancient Announces its Selection of the Players Who Will Meet the U. S. Representatives at Chicago August 30th and 31st

THE British team which has just been chosen by The Royal and Ancient to once again try and lift the Walker Cup, emblematic of the world's amateur golf supremacy, is composed of the following, alphabetically arranged: J. B. Beck, R. H. Hardman, Major C. O. Hezlet, W. L. Hope, Dr. H. R. MacCallum, T. P. Perkins, E. F. Storey, C. J. H. Tolley, T. A. Torrance, and Dr. Wm. Tweddell. On paper it does not look very promising that this team has much chance of taking the measure of Bobbie Jones and his merry men, August 30th and 31st at Chicago, where course and probably weather conditions will all be in favour of the Americans, who have now won the Cup four times in a row. Two notable choices for the British team who were unable to make the trip were the ex-champions, Sir Ernest Holderness and Roger Wethered. They might have added strength, although they are "not what they used to be."

The following is the golfing record of the team: J. B. Beck, won the famous Golf Vase competition in 1925, after tie with Sir Edward Holderness. Represented England vs. Scotland in 1926 and won the Lord Warden Challenge Cup last year. R. H. Hardman, won the Lancashire Amateur Championship in 1923 and 1927 and represented England vs. Scotland last year. Major Hezlet, Irish Open Champion in 1926 and runner-up in the British Amateur in 1914. Has many other important events to his credit. In the amateur championship last month he defeated the title holder, Dr. Tweddell, in one of the most brilliant rounds ever witnessed in this event, coming home in a sparkling 33. W. L. Hope is one of Scotland's steadiest players. He represented the Land o' the Heather against England in 1923, 1926 and 1927, and was on the

Open Golf Championship of Canada, 1928

The Open Golf Championship will be played on the Course of the ROSEDALE GOLF CLUB, at TORONTO, on THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY, 26th, 27th and 28th JULY, 1928, and shall be decided by the entire field playing 36 holes, one round of 18 holes on THURSDAY, and 18 holes on FRIDAY. All Competitors within 20 strokes of the Leader on THURSDAY and FRIDAY shall play 36 holes on Saturday.

In the event of a tie or ties, the Competitors who tie shall play an additional round, to be arranged by the Committee.

All entries, with Entrance Fee of $5.00, must be received by the Secretary, B. L. Anderson, 357 Bay Street, Toronto 2, not later than Saturday, July 21st.

In the case of Amateur Golfers, entries will be received only from players whose Handicap is 10 or less.

CONDITIONS

1. The Competition shall be played by strokes in accordance with the Rules of Golf and the Special Rules for Stroke Competitions as approved by the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, or as amended by the Royal Canadian Golf Association, and in accordance with the local rules, as approved by the Executive Committee.

2. Any Competitor who is not present at the first Teeing Ground when his name is called shall be disqualified.

3. All disputes shall be settled by the Executive Committee of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, and its decision shall be final.

4. The prizes amount to $1,320, subject to any alteration necessitated by ties, and shall be divided as follows:

The winner shall receive the Championship Gold Medal and the following prize money shall be allocated to Professionals; the equivalent in plate if an Amateur:

First Prize	$400.00	Fourth Prize	$150.00	Seventh Prize	$50.00
Second Prize	250.00	Fifth Prize	100.00	Eighth Prize	40.00
Third Prize	200.00	Sixth Prize	75.00	Ninth Prize	30.00
				Tenth Prize	25.00

The Association will present a Gold Medal for the best Amateur Score.

By Order of the Executive Committee of the Royal Canadian Golf Association.

Walker Cup team in 1923 and 1924. Dr. H. R. MacCallum has never loomed very large in golfing circles until this year, although when a student at Edinburgh University in 1923 he was runner-up to Mr. T. M. Burrell in the final of the Scottish Amateur Championship. In the British Amateur last month, however, he demonstrated that he was a player to be reckoned with. He captured the scalps of the redoubtable Cyril Tolley by 5 and 4, of the new English Close Champion, J. A. Stout, and of this year's winner of St. Georges Cup, Douglas Grant, a former California Amateur champion, but for some years now domiciled in London. Then he defeated W. B. Torrance, the Scottish internationalist, by a sweeping margin of 7 and 6, only to meet his Waterloo next day at the hands of W. W. Tulloch, who has never done anything in particular.

T. P. Perkins, British Amateur champion, and English Close champion in 1927, who is only 24 years of age, is generally looked upon as the greatest find in British golf since the war. He will undoubtedly head the Walker Cup team and will therefore have to measure clubs and wits with Bobby Jones. Not a particularly enviable position to be placed in, but he is said to have both ability and nerve and he will want them both.

E. F. Storey was captain of the Cambridge team in 1923 and 1924 and was runner-up in the British Amateur championship in 1924. He has represented England vs. Scotland on several occasions and has been on the Walker Cup team twice before—1924 and 1926.

C. J. H. Tolley has had a most colourful golfing career. He is generally given credit for being the world's longest amateur driver. He won the British Amateur championship in 1920, defeating Bob Gardner, of Chicago, twice U.S. Amateur champion, on the 37th hole. He annexed the French Open in 1924 against a most brilliant field and has other major competitions to his credit by the score. T. A. Torrance is a well known Scottish golfer. He won the Irish Open in 1925 and the German Open last year and has represented Scotland vs. England on many occasions. Dr. Tweddell, who is a graduate of Aberdeen, won the British Amateur championship last year, but has little else to his credit.

This then is the British team which will have to try and "lift the cup" next August in Chicago from the following U.S. team: Bobby Jones, Jess Sweetser, George Von Elm, Charles Evans, Jr., Francis Ouimet, Harrison R. Johnston, Watts Gunn and Roland Mackenzie. A most formidable aggregation of champions and ex-champions.

The Royal Canadian Golf Association is hoping that the British team, as they did in 1924, will find time to play in Canada, but so far have not received word of acceptance. Messrs. Cyril Tolley, E. F. Storey and W. L. Hope, of this year's selection, were guests with the other members of the team of the R.C.G.A. in Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa and Quebec in 1924. The official matches here then were decided by the scores in Montreal and Toronto and the Britishers won from the Canadian amateurs by 11 matches to 6.

A despatch from London, June 17th, announces that Dr. Tweddell, 1927 Amateur Champion, has been appointed captain of the team.

HOBLITZEL CARRIES THE FAMOUS "ELM" AT LAMBTON

FRED G. Hoblitzel, Lambton's leading player, formerly of Detroit and Sarnia, performed a feat last week at the Lambton Club, Toronto, which has been unsuccessfully attempted by many of the leading golfers of the United States and Canada. He carried the big elm tree which guards the 330-yard hole from the 9th tee at this famous Toronto course and landed on the green. Hoblitzel had a putt for an eagle two after his mammoth swat but had to be content with a birdie three. Owing to business, "Hobby" has not for the past few years been a figure in major events. It is hoped he will find time this season to take part in the Canadian Championships. He is a particularly fine golfer—a tremendous driver and a clever player with all his irons and has an international reputation.

MISS MACKENZIE IS TORONTO CHAMPION

Comes Back With a "Garrison Finish" to Tie Mrs. J. H. Riddel, of Scarborough, and Then Wins the Play-off

PLAYING superlative golf, in the second round, Miss Ada Mackenzie in the City of Toronto Ladies' Championship came back with an 85 to tie Mrs. J. H. Riddel, star player of Scarborough, who on the first round had led a record field of one hundred or so entrants. The total of both for the 36 holes was 180 thus necessitating a play-off. Mrs. Riddel was most consistent as she registered a 90 on each round—good going on a stiff course like Rosedale.

In the play-off Miss Mackenzie defeated her rival by 10 strokes. She had a sparkling 84. The cards:—

Following the competition of the play-off the prizes were presented on the verandah of the club house by Mrs. Leonard Murray, president of the C.L.G.U., assisted by Mr. Thomas Reid, president of the Rosedale Club; Mrs. W. E. Gallie, president of the ladies' section of the Rosedale Club, and Mrs. Alex F. Rodger, donor of the championship trophy. The prize winners were:

Championship — Rodger Trophy, won by Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto Ladies' Club.

Second gross—Prize presented by Mr. Reid—Mrs. J. H. Riddel (Scarboro).

Third gross—Prizes presented by Mrs. W. E. Gallie and Mrs. Leonard Murray—Mrs. R. W. Gouinlock and Miss Cecil Smith, both of Toronto Golf Club.

Two well known Toronto golfers—Miss Ada Mackenzie, and Mrs. J. H. Riddel, who tied for the Toronto City Ladies' Championship. In the play-off Miss Mackenzie won.

Net score prizes—Presented by C. L.G.U.—Mrs. E. Crocker, Rosedale, 150; Mrs. S. Bennett, Lambton, 155; Mrs. P. K. Heywood, Rosedale, 159.

Silver driving competition, prizes donated by Rosedale Club—Aggregate—Miss Mary Millichamp, Rosedale;

A NEW STAR IN THE MAKING

Mr. T. P. Perkins, Winner of the British Amateur Championship, is Looked Upon as the Best Golfer Produced in the Old Country Since the War. The Wonderful Showing of Mr. J. B. Pease.

IT looks as though England, in 24-year-old T. P. Perkins, has discovered one of the best amateurs developed there for some time. In the Championship last month he went through a brilliant field in a most brilliant manner to reach the final, where he decisively defeated Roger Wethered, former champion and generally looked upon as one of Great Britain's greatest players. Perkins is the product of the Castle Bromwich Club, and was unknown to championship golf until last year when he won the English Close Championship, the Midland Amateur Championship and tied with W. B. Torrance as first British Amateur in the Open Championship, with a score of 300—not a bad showing and year's work for a player just turned 24. Perkins, who was advised as a youth to take up golf for his health, and who is to-day a brawny six-footer, driving a tremendous ball, will unquestionably head the Walker Cup team which comes to the United States and it is hoped Canada, next August. Perkins' remarkable steadiness throughout a gruelling week, won for him the Amateur Crown.

Quite one of the sensations of the Championship was the showing made by Mr. J. W. B. Pease, a rich London banker, who reached the demi-semifinals where he was defeated by Wethered, but only after the match had been taken to the 21st hole. Now Mr. Pease is in his 60th year, and last year won the British Seniors' Championship. Twenty-eight years ago he was in the last 8 of the British Championship and again in 1903. It is confidently expected that he will be on the British Senior team which is visiting this country and the States next August, so Canadians will have the pleasure of seeing this capable and finished veteran who is a member of a dozen or so prominent British clubs, and who is also on the Royal and Ancient Championship Committee.

There were twenty-one entrants from overseas, and all these were out of the competition by the end of the third round. Probable winners also began to drop out early. The second day saw the exit of Dr. Tweddell, last year's winner, and Mr. Tolley soon followed suit. Then the third round saw the fall of such giants as Messrs. Jenkins, Harris, Stout and Sir Ernest Holderness.

Mr. Harold H. Hilton, the many times champion, pays the following tribute in "Golf Illustrated" to the new champion and Mr. Pease, who it is confidently hoped will head the British team of Senior golfers coming to Canada and the States next August:

"Well, another Amateur Championship has come and gone, and in Mr. T. P. Perkins we have still another worthy holder of one of the proudest titles of all. Mr. Perkins was one of three heroes at the great Prestwick gathering, the others being that ever-green veteran, Mr. J. B. Pease, and the promising young Scott, Dr. A. R. MacCallum, who for a long time went on amusing himself by knocking out giants of established reputation. With regard to Mr. Perkins, he more than justified all the good things that so many of us had been saying about him of late. There cannot be the slightest doubt in the world that he is a mighty fine golfer, and, what is more, he is likely to remain a mighty fine golfer for some time to come. His method of swinging the club is wonderfully true—it is so true, in fact, that when he does not strike the ball correctly it is a matter of much surprise—and he is, I should say, as great an amateur player as any turned out in this country since the conclusion of the War.

"The veteran, Mr. J. B. Pease, was certainly one of the surprises in the event—as a matter of fact, his performance was so much of a surprise that it almost became a joke! Golfers who are verging on the sixty-years mark are not generally supposed to be capable of winning heat after heat in an Amateur Championship, but, somehow or other, no one seemed able to stop this worthy gentleman from doing so. And when he did fall by the way he died a glorious death. To be perfectly candid, he ought to have beaten Mr. Wethered in that wonderful sixth-round match, and but for fading away on the way to the eighteenth green—as he so nearly did in an earlier match against Sir Ernest Holderness—he would surely have figured in the semi-final. As it happened, he had only to get down in a very ordinary 4 at this 260-yards hole in order to win, but he played a very weary looking tee-shot, a decidedly tired second, and as this was followed by a third that was not particularly good, he had to go on first to the nineteenth, then to the twentieth, and again to the twenty-first. And when he did get there that terrible "Cardinal" bunker got the better of him. That third hole at Prestwick is surely a young man's hole—it is too much of a test for elderly gentlemen. And so Mr. Pease went out, but by his great performance he had done much for the cause of the golfers who were in the limelight thirty and forty years ago. He at least proved that in those days they did learn to play the different shots in a manner approaching the masterly, and some of our younger players would achieve infinitely better results than they do if they would only take the lesson to heart. 'Monty' Pease was a very good golfer between thirty and forty years ago, and although he may not be just quite so sure of himself nowadays—increasing years do take a little vitality out of a golfer's game—he provided the younger generation with a wonderful object lesson by showing that at fifty-nine years of age he can still more than hold his own. I wonder how many of the youngsters who were playing at Prestwick will, when so near the sixty mark, be able to say, 'I am practically as good as ever I was.' Very few, unless I am greatly mistaken."

AMATEUR CHAMPION WILL NOT DEFEND TITLE

IT is much to be feared that Mr. "Don" Carrick, Canadian Amateur Champion, will not be able to take a prominent part in golf this season as he has now done for some five years. He is training intensively for the Olympic heavyweight boxing trials and eliminations, and the indications are that he will be Canada's candidate at the 1928 Olympiad at Amsterdam, July 28th to August 12th. As the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship is to be held the week of August 14th in Montreal, if "Don" does make the Olympiad, and he should on his past fine record in the amateur ring, it will naturally be out of the question for him to defend his title. His absence will remove a colorful and outstanding figure, in more senses than one and one who always especially appealed to the galleries in the past, both on account of his youth and his dashing play. He has starred in every Amateur since 1923 when he had just entered his teens.

ERIC Green is the professional this season at the Picton Golf and Country Club, succeeding his brother R. C. Green, who is now the pro at the Cataraqui Golf and Country Club, Kingston, Ontario. He is a fine young golfer. Picton has had a golf club now for twenty years and to-day has a 9-hole course of which the residents are justly proud. It is one of the best in Eastern Ontario. The town is very much "on the golfing map."

After it had been announced that rain would make play impossible, Walter Hagen and I. Quinn, Dublin professional, played a best ball match against W. Nolan and W. Holley, the outstanding Irish professionals, last month. The American-Irish combination lost to the all-Irish team, 4 up and 3 to play. The 18-hole match was played over the Cloncarf Golf Club course, near Dublin.

Robert Cunningham, professional at the Mississauga Golf and Country Club, Toronto, set a record for his home course this month while playing with Alex Robertson, a member of the club. After starting with 5's on par 4 holes, Cunningham went out in 33, two strokes under par, and came in in 32, or three under par. Cunningham's card included 7 birdies and 10 consecsionals, T. H. Cotton and Jack Smith, assistant to George Duncan. They finished respectively in 4th and 5th place. Smith is generally reported to be the world's longest driver. Duncan is no mean performer in this respect, but he tells the Canadian Golfer that "Jack" can outdistance him from 30 to 40 yards off the tee. Much is expected of Cotton and Smith in the years to come. They are both some 20 years of age and therefore on the threshold of their golfing careers.

Leo Wallace, of the Royal Belfast Club, won the Irish Professional Championship at Rosses Point, Sligo. Wallace, who played exceptionally steady golf on the second day, had rounds of 88, 81, 73, and 73 for a total of 315 and a win by three strokes from W. Nolan, of Portmarnock. Pat O'Hare, the previous holder, tore up his card after a couple of disastrous rounds, a 101 being followed by a 92.

Things are certainly coming the way of the Whitcombe brothers this season. Charles Whitcombe last month picked up the £1,000 Yorkshire Evening News Tournament. In the final he defeated H. C. Thus for the third year in succession the famous Whitcombe brotherhood has won this important event in which all the leading professionals in Great Britain participate. Charles won the fixture in 1926 and Ernest, the recently crowned Irish Champion, last year.

York from England bringing back with him the replica of the British Open Championship Cup, was given really a royal reception. He was met at the wharf by a band and was escorted by police through a great crowd to the Biltmore Hotel, where he was tendered a luncheon. Afterwards he was given a reception by Mayor Walker at the City Hall and then given a complimentary dinner at the Westchester Biltmore Club and presented with a gold cigarette case.

That controversy in Ireland was the only discordant note of the whole trip, according to Hagen, who couldn't say enough nice things about the British people, the Prince of Wales, from whose hands he received the Cup after the Championship, the British professionals and the boys who had got up so early to welcome him back to New York. Hagen is now in Chicago practising for the U.S. Open, where he will attempt to duplicate Jones' feat in winning both the British and U.S. Open Championships in one year. Then next month he is expected to play in the Canadian Open.

Ernest Whitcombe, who lost the British Open Championship to Walter Hagen by one stroke in 1924, won his first national title when he captured the Irish Open with the remarkable score of 288 at Newcastle last month.

The Bournemouth professional, elder of the two famous British golf brothers, led the big field all the way.
He finished seven strokes ahead of Archie Compston in the three days' struggle over the links stretching between the Bourne Mountains.

There seemed a possibility at one stage that Compston might overhaul
Whitcombe and necessitate a play-off.
This caused an unusual flurry among officials, as Compston's plans called for him to sail for New York. The Championship Committee hurriedly engaged an airplane to take the lanky star to sea to overtake an outward-bound liner, if such a move was necessary.

The strain of leadership told on Whitcombe the last day, but he did not need to repeat his sensational low scoring of the first two days, when he was around in 68 and 69. He added 73 and 78 of his qualifying scores for an ample winning margin.

Following Compston were H. C.
Jolly with 296, T. H. Cotton, 299 (a young player of great promise), and Jack Smith, also a youngster, C. A.
Whitcombe and Abe Mitchell, tied at 300. George Duncan, the champion last year, cracked and took 314.

"Willie" Lamb, the brilliant assistant professional at the Toronto Golf Club, has "hung up" two sparkling rounds of 68 this month at that championship course. Lamb was accompanied by W. S. Greening and W. K. Fraser when he played his first round, going out in 35 and coming home in 33. On his second round his partner was Duncan S. Robinson. On this occasion he went out in 33 and came home in 35. Robinson played a fine game, and as a consequence the best ball of this round was 64. The cards were: With Messrs. Greening and Fraser—454 443 344 444 434 433—68. With Mr. Robinson—344 335 344 444 534 524—68. The par of the course is 37-36—73, which Lamb has broken frequently in rounds with club members since he was engaged in the late winter of 1925 to become assistant to George Cumming, club professional. Lamb ought to be heard from in Championships this season.

A golf score, which is likely to stand for some time, was made at the Catarqui Golf and Country Club, Kingston, Ont., when the professional of the club, R. H. Green, negotiated the 18 holes in 69, three strokes under par. It was in a match with the assistant "pro," Stewart Aiken, who also turned in an excellent match, that Green made his remarkable score. His out-score was 33 (including three birdies, one under par) while his in-score was 36, with two birdies.

Jas. Martin, for four years professional at the Bayview Golf Club, Toronto, and his son, who was with Craftsman Golf Company, Newmarket, have opened a shop at 44 Colborne Street, Toronto, for the manufacture of golf clubs. Both are highly experienced club makers and already report a fine line of orders from the trade and professionals. A "Martin wood or iron" is well worth having in your golf bag.

Joe Kirkwood, of Albany, Ga., the well known "trick golfer," headed all of the aspirants to the National Open Golf Championship when he turned in the lowest score for the 36-hole qualifying round. Playing on the Riverside Golf Club course at Albany, Ga., Kirkwood recorded his second 71 score for eighteen holes, for a total of 142 for the qualifying rounds. This was one stroke better than the aggregate compiled in any of the other sections. John Manion, of St. Louis, and

Ed. Dudley and F. Morrison, of Los Angeles, each with 143, turned in the next best scores.

The following letter from Davie Spittal, of the Uplands Golf Club, one of the best players in Ontario, is well worthy of careful perusal by golf club executives:

"Professional golf at the time of writing, is in a bad way. The 'Open' is not far off, and the Beau Sabreurs from across the border will be leaving us behind again, as regards scoring—if radical steps are not taken towards 'conditioning' the Canadian pros. In a way, the position is a difficult one. The pro's services must naturally be at the disposal of his members. This in itself absorbs the greater part of the day, and makes it impossible to get time off for practice. Watching most of the professionals playing, so far, one sees shots going astray pretty often and that means a fight to get 'par' figures; and par nowadays is what the professional has to get.

Presidents, chairmen and secretaries of golf clubs could do much to help in this matter by telling their 'pro' to take an afternoon a week off for practice from now until the Championship, should he so desire. Competitions for 'pros' are not frequent for the big events. There is very good enough to enable them to get 'keyed' up material in Toronto, only needing more opportunities.

We have seen recently how representatives from the United States, Australia, the Argentine, France gather for the British Open; Canada was not in the line-up. Why? Nor has the Dominion got anyone in for the U.S. Open, so far as I know.

Who will be big enough to help Dominion players to take their place on the golfing 'map'?

There is tremendous interest taken in golf in the city of Toronto alone, the number of players increases every year.

A little extra play and practice during the coming weeks may prevent the trophy and 'spoils' from going across the border when the annual invasion is on."

"Jimmy" Martin, the young professional at the Riverside Golf and Country Club, Galt, Ontario, recently made a record for the course. He had a 32 and a 34 for a snappy 66. It is hard to see how this score can ever be beaten as the Galt course is not by any means an easy one.

Staging one of his sensational "come-backs," Walter Hagen last week at Buffalo defeated Harry Cooper, of Buffalo, former Hamilton caddie by 4 and 2 in a 72-hole match begun at Rochester. Cooper started the final 36 holes on his own course at Meadowbrook, Buffalo, 1 up. Displaying his usual forte of playing his best game under pressure, Hagen smashed through with some brilliant golf to square the match at lunch time and went out to win the afternoon round. Hagen had a 38, 39—77 in the morning, while Cooper took a 40, 39—79. In the afternoon Hagen required a 38 going out, Cooper taking a 41.

A Chicago despatch June 20th:

Archie Compston, British golfer, to-day set a new mark for the elongated No. 4 course at Olympia Fields Country Club by scoring 33-36—69, two strokes under par for the 6,726-yard course, and one stroke better than any previous round in practice for the national open championship.

Bobby Jones, playing with the Briton, had an approximate 72, although he picked up after a couple of bad shots. Jones and Jimmie Johnston, of Minneapolis, defeated Compston and Leo Diegel, 2 to 1, Johnston and Diegel scoring 75 each.

GREAT BRITAIN AND OVERSEAS

Interesting Happenings on the Courses of England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales and the British Overseas Dominions

For the second year in succession the English Ladies' Championship crosses the Channel. Last year the charming young Mills. Simone de la Chaume won the title, and now her great personal and golfing friend, Mlle. Manette Le Blan wears the crown. On her road to success Mlle. Le Blan—after a bye—defeated Miss A. Charles (Blackwell), Mrs. Long (Woodbridge), Miss V. Clayton (Sunningdale), Mrs. Hughes (Stratford-on-Avon), Miss Joy Winn (Aldeburgh), Miss Enid Wilson (Notts)—the last-named by 1 up after being 3 down with 6 to play—and Miss S. Marshall (Sandy Lodge).

Last year's champion, Mills. de la Chaume was defeated in the first round by Miss Glenna Collett, the celebrated American, who in the absence of Miss Joyce Wethered was generally looked upon as the probable champion. She, however, met her Waterloo later on in Miss Mabel Wragg. Then Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, the Scottish-American, also fell by the wayside when she found Miss Judith Fowler in a "winning mood." This settled the hopes of the U.S. of carrying the title across the Atlantic. It was rather a surprise that Miss Marshall should have reached the final in such a record field. "A more casual, happy-go-lucky player" as Miss Cecil Leitch says, "it would be almost impossible to find. Enquiry would probably reveal the fact that she never practises when 'off' and treats the game merely as a pleasant form of amusement."

After what the Natal Mercury describes as the most sensational final in the history of the competition, Jock Brews recently scored his fourth victory in the South African Open Golf Championship at Durban. Not until the last minute was the issue settled. At the seventy-second hole Jock Brews, who required 3 to tie with his brother Sid, was nicely on with his drive, the ball lying just about eight feet from the pin. Amid intense silence he sank the putt, and then followed a scene of indescribable enthusiasm, the new champion being carried shoulder high off the green. When he set out on the final eighteen holes Jock Brews was one stroke ahead. Halfway round, however, this advantage had gone, but after that his play was little short of marvellous, and he well deserved his win.

Women golfers of England are rejoicing over having defeated Scotland, holder of the title, thus winning the international match played recently at Hunstanton, the score being 5—4. England also defeated Ireland, 7—2, which gave it two straight victories, while Scotland split even by beating Wales by the same score. Ireland lost both its contests, losing to Wales by 5—4, in addition to its defeat by England. The feature match was that between Miss Cecil Leitch, former Canadian champion, and Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, three times Canadian champion. The match went to the 20th hole before Mrs. Hurd won out. She was outdriven throughout by her rival, but her wonderful short game ultimately gave her the victory.

Instead of sitting in his accustomed place on the Bench, the Leeds stipendiary magistrate, Mr. Horace Marshall, appeared in the witness-box at the West Riding Court. He gave evidence against George Robinson, labourer, of no fixed abode, who pleaded guilty to stealing a number of golf balls from the golf bag of Mr. Marshall, for whom he caddied in a game on the Alwoodley course. At the end of the game the bag was handed to the caddie master, and the theft was not discovered until the following day. The balls were valued at approximately 4s. 6d. Prisoner had been before the court 11 times for various offences, and now was sentenced to two months' hard labour.

Arrangements for the Boys' Amateur Championship, to be contested on the Formby course, near Liverpool, are that the international match between England and Scotland will be played on Monday, Aug. 20, four-somes in the morning and singles in the afternoon. The championship will start on the following day, all matches being over 18 holes with the exception of the final, which will be over 36 holes. Entrants must be under 18 years of age on Aug. 25. Entries close on Aug. 11. Eric Fiddian (Stourbridge), the holder, will be over age, but Kenneth Forbes (Leven), last year's runner-up, will be eligible to compete.

Douglas Grant, a native of California, who entered the competition for the St. George's Challenge Cup at Sandwich, from the home club, scored another victory for American golf over the links which had been the success of Hagen's success. He won, with rounds of 71 and 75, by a stroke from T. P. Perkins, British Amateur Champion.

MAGNIFICENT NEW COURSE FOR WINDSOR GOLFERS

WITH an expenditure of $300,000 in prospect, the Essex Golf and Country Club expects soon to possess one of the finest golf courses in Ontario. This is being laid out at the present time in Sandwich West Township, south of La Salle, where the club is employing 135 men under the direction of Donald Ross, noted golf course architect of Pinehurst, N.C., in developing an 18-hole course on which $100,000 is to be spent, according to Major E. C. Kenning, K.C., president of the club. When the new course is ready next summer the club will vacate its present course near Sandwich, where the Border's first golf links was established many years ago.

While a considerable portion of the new site is heavily wooded and of such nature as to require substantial improvements, many of the difficulties have already been overcome and in some cases the new fairways have already been ploughed and disced for seeding. Trees have been cut down, stumps removed and two steam shovels are trenching the area for the laying of 12-inch tile. In some cases fairways have been cut completely through the bush.

It is expected that the club will be in a position to announce a formal opening by July 1, 1929, although it is likely before that time that the course will be thrown open for the use of members.

An expenditure of $106,000 was required to purchase the new site and a fine new club house, that probably will represent a cost of approximately $100,000, is proposed, although sketch plans for the building so far have not yet been submitted to the membership.

NEWS OF THE MIDDLE WEST

Mrs. P. B. Pellenz, Winnipeg, Wins Manitoba Branch of the C. L. G. U. Championship—Manitoba Inter-Club Championship Again Won by Norwood Golf Club, Winnipeg

MR. L. D. BAWLF won the monthly medal at the St. Charles Club, Winnipeg, in a large field with the fine score of 78-8-70. In second place was C. I. Hall, 81-9-72.

The members of the Norwood and Winnipeg clubs had a most interesting match over the Bird's Hill course. Fourball games were played throughout and the teams split up, a Norwood and a Winnipeg player being partnered in each match. Seventy-two golfers took part in the game and the day was a great success.

J. T. Cuthbert, returned the best medal score, with a well played 76, closely followed by H. R. Parker, Norwood, with 77. There were also quite a few returns in the early 80's.

Mrs. Pellenz Wins Manitoba Championship

Mrs. B. P. Pellenz, of the Elmhurst Golf Club, who has many tournaments and championships to her credit, won the Winnipeg city and district golf championship when she returned the low gross score in the 72-hole medal play, conducted by the Manitoba branch of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union. The playdown was concluded at the Elmhurst links, where Mrs. Pellenz completed the final 18 holes in 91. Mrs. R. K. Beairsto was second, returning a 99 score for a gross total for the week's play of 378, seventeen strokes more than Mrs. Pellenz.

The final round was played under difficulties due to the high wind that swept the course. However, after the first few holes the competitors adjusted themselves to the breeze and settled down to a steady game. Mrs. Pellenz continued the consistent work that has characterized her playing throughout the four days of play. Her four cards on the four different courses read 89-95-86-91 for a gross total of 361 strokes. Mrs. Pellenz was paired with Mrs. R. K. Beairsto, who finished second in the championship.

Mrs. B. P. Pellenz, winner of the Manitoba Championship, Manitoba Branch of the C.L.G.U.

Mrs. Gordon Konantz won the low net prize in the silver division and Miss Lois McLaren, both of the St. Charles Country Club, won the net award in the bronze division. Mrs. H. K. Stevens, Southwood, with the best gross in the bronze division, received a presentation also.

The "fair" golfers played over the Assiniboine, Niakwa, Southwood and Elmhurst courses in the 72 holes of play. Credit in due to Mrs. J. Alves, Secretary of the Manitoba Branch of the C. L. G. U., and Mrs. W. J. Faulkner, chairman of the handicap committee for the successful conduct of the tourney.

At the conclusion of the tourney, Mrs. J. G. Cory, president of the C. L. G. U., Manitoba Branch, awarded the prizes to the various winners. Mrs. Pellenz received the beautiful championship basket and the best gross prize in the silver division. Mrs. Bearsto was presented with the second gross award.

In 1924 Mrs. Pellenz won the Manitoba Ladies' Championship and on this occasion Mrs. Bearsto was also runner-up.

Mrs. V. W. Tryon was the winner in the first monthly ladies' medal competition of the season at Alcrest Club, Winnipeg (Class A) with a net 78. In Class B Mrs. J. H. O'Connor won with a net of 78.

W. J. Sinnott and John Jack carried off the honours in the "A" and "B" classes respectively in the Assiniboine's (Winnipeg), second monthly competition with net-scores respectively of 68 and 65.

The official spring opening of the Southwood Ladies' section of the Southwood Golf Club, Winnipeg, was a great success. There was a splendid attendance, over 60 ladies being out for lunch and taking part in the events. A foursome was played in the morning. This event resulted in a tie between Mrs. J. S. Mackenzie and Mrs. Brownlee, and Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Marshall, with a net 80. In the play-off on Thursday, the former couple won. Mrs. Mackenzie's very steady work from the tee and through the greens was largely responsible for the victory. After a very much enjoyed luncheon, at which 65 sat down, play was resumed. There was a large entry for each event. The driving event was won by Mrs. G. Stevens. Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Hagerman being close seconds. The longest drive was made by Mrs. Hector Miller. The approaching and putting event was won by Mrs. Fisher, with nine. The Provincial Secretary of the L. G. U., Mrs. J. Alves, attended during the day, and helped considerably thereby in promoting interest in the events scheduled for the season.

The Emerson Golf Club had a very successful opening last month. An interesting tournament was one of the features of the day.

At the Pine Ridge Golf Club, Winnipeg, a good entry was received for the match against par, for which prizes were presented by the Manitoba Golf Association. A. J. Wilson, F. M. Boulton and F. B. Stoddardt tied for the best score with returns of four down.

Inter-club golf games between Gladstone and Neepawa players were played on the Neepawa golf course on June 7th, about twenty members from Gladstone participating. Each of the Neepawa ladies won her game, but the men were not quite so successful. Refreshments were served in the club house during the afternoon and the members had an enjoyable half holiday of sport.

A despatch from Lac du Bonnet, Man., June 11th:

"With the opening up of the new Riverland Golf Club on the east side of the river from town, much enthusiasm prevails amongst local sports to form a club for the district. Several members of the Lac du Bonnet Social Club have recently made flying trips down to the links and are satisfied that they could enroll members to the club, and also arrange for visiting teams to take on matches in the district.

Forty-six officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway took part in the annual spring golf tournament of the company at the Winnipeg Golf Club, Clark McBain emerging winner with a gross score of 85 for 18 holes played. Second place was taken by W. C. Casey with a card of 90 gross, and 82 net; A. A. McCoubrey, third, 87 net and H. H. Enman fourth, 88 net. Best ## return year by year to St. Andrews

St. Andrews has two seaside courses . . . a championship 18-hole . . . a 9-hole

Sheltered cruising waters . . . camping islets . . . spanking breezes in Fundy

ST. ANDREWS-BY-THE-SEA is the golfer's particular heaven. The sea-dampened, springy turf makes a man feel a whale with a brassie. The rolling fairways and island greens thrill "iron experts" with joy.

The eighteen-hole course has the excellent length of 6,100 yards, and the first tee and the home hole are at the club house. The par going out is 36, and everything must break right to get it. The incoming nine holes take skilled playing . . . the 16th is especially "a good 'un." The course is of championship calibre throughout.

For the not-so-experts, there is a nine-hole course to bring them nearer par. Every variety of shot, and good length to the holes. Both courses have magnificent views of the sea throughout.

The Algonquin Hotel opens June 23rd until September 10th. Besides the golf which is its pride, there are yachting, fishing, tennis, bowling, riding . . . symphony concerts, nightly dances, movies and bridge . . . garage service, yacht anchorage, every civilized luxury of decoration, service, appointments . . . quaint Georgian village of St. Andrews, local guides and skippers available for camp or cruise. net out was won by Oscar Donoghy, second best net out going to W. B. Fairey, C. H. Fox and J. C. Holden. Best net in was won by T. C. McNabb, with D. Shields taking second place. Hidden holes were won by the following: Watson Hall, Jack Lee, G. Ford, C. E. Stockhill, S. Wertheim, J. A. Kennedy, J. L. Sugden and H. A. Green. The tournament was engaged in by a record number of the company's officials.

On June 14th Neepawa had a field day, the purpose being to build a kitchen on the club house, and a substantial sum was raised. A large crowd attended and everyone entered into the various competitions, clock golf being the most popular. Refreshments were served throughout the afternoon by the ladies of the club, and a very enjoyable time was had by all.

* * *

The Hamiota Golf Club held a tournament last month, 32 members taking part in a President vs. Vice-President competition, the President's side being victorious by 16 holes. Tea was served by the ladies of the club and a most enjoyable time spent. Dr. and Mrs. S. Doran, of Brandon, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Primrose and V. Kerr of Hartney were visiting players.

At the annual meeting of the Fox-warren Golf Club, the following officers were elected: President, A. A. Hay; Vice-President, R. W. Hanley; Secretary-Treasurer, R. A. Copland. The club has a new course on the farm of A. G. Hodgson, which will be a great improvement over the former location.

* * *

At a recent meeting of the members of the Assinawa Country Club, Stony Mountain, the following directors were elected: Messrs. C. P. Kelpin, J. S. Wilson, John A. Birchenough, C. A. Kelpin, J. P. Dorland, E. R. R. Mills, E. H. Gallagher, R. Stanhope. C. P. Kelpin was elected president; J. S. Wilson, first vice-president; W. Perry, second vice-president; John A. Birchenough, secretary; E. H. Gallagher, treasurer, and C. P. Kelpin, chairman of course committee.

The annual meeting of Shoal Lake Golf Club (Man.), was held this month. Dr. Denmark acted as chairman, and in the course of his remarks spoke of the necessity of a larger membership in order to meet the outlay necessary for improvement of grounds.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: Hon. president, O. Marshall; president, W. A. Hanckie; secretary-treasurer, J. B. Fraser; executive, O. C. Snyder, S. Fraser, Drs. Bardal, Denmark, Yule and Smith.

Norwood Wins Manitoba Inter-Club Championship.

Honours in the Manitoba inter-club golf championship played June 13th at the Winnipeg Golf course went to the Norwood Golf Club, whose "A" team again showed the way to the record field of nineteen quartettes representing ten city clubs, three Brandon and one Portage la Prairie club. This was the first competitive event of the Manitoba season with 18 holes of medal play constituting the round. The occasion was anything but ideal for the tournament, rain beat down, dark grey clouds scudded across the sky, and everything combined to play havoc generally with the hopes of the various clubs.

Matt. Thompson, of Elmhurst, one of the celebrated quintette of golfing brothers, returned the low gross card with a splendid 80. Matt was out in 41 and clipped off two strokes on the inward journey. He got in the rough on the eighth that cost him an extra stroke to put the only blemish on his card going out. On the fifteenth Matt was on the green in three, but took four putts for a seven. He had seven 4's and three 3's for the round.

Jack Cuthbert, Murray Boulton, Arthur Land and Harold Parker were runners-up with cards of 81. The first two were early starters and had a stiff time combatting the elements and might easily have been six strokes less, but they failed to find their putting touch, falling short of the cup by inches on many of the greens, due to the rain. Boulton and Cuthbert got away to an unimpressive start, but settled down to a better game after the turn. Young Boulton was out in 40, while Cuthbert took 42. Parker came back in the best return of the day with 37 strokes.

The Norwood "A" team made sure of the custody of the Birks Trophy, which is emblematic of the inter-club championship with the winning team made up of J. Cuthbert, 81; Harold Parker, 81; F. F. Tribe, 87, and Bryan O'Kelly 89, for a total of 338 strokes. The Niakwa "A" team were second with five more strokes. Alex. Weir and Chuck Hodgman turned in 82's while Frank Hale had 84 and R. Beattie 95. Pine Ridge was third, with 346 strokes.

The three teams from Brandon and the entry from Portage were again welcome contestants. Dr. H. O. McDiarmid and Reg. Unicume, of Brandon, and George Dewar, Portage, tied for the best individual score among the out of town entries with cards of 92, and will play off at a future date.

The out of town players were guests at a dinner following the round when the prizes were presented by D. E. Clement, Brandon, president of the Manitoba Golf Association. Charles Harvey, vice-president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, also spoke mentioning the fact that the Canadian Amateur Championship in 1929 would unquestionably be held in Winnipeg. He also expressed the hope that a good number would go to Edmonton for the Western-Canada tournament the week of July 16th. T. J. Lytle expressed the appreciation of the M. G. A. to the Winnipeg Golf Club.

The annual meeting of the Qu'Appelle Golf Club took place in the town hall this month. An enthusiastic interest in the game has already been displayed on the links, and the following officers were elected for the season: President, Rev. Canon Dyke Parker; vice-president, Mrs. Alex. Duncan; secretary-treasurer, G. M. Thompson; captain, F. J. Trurau; executive committee: A. Duncan, Jas. Bell, H. J. Wilson, A. C. Thompson, Mrs. T. C. Bourus, Mrs. W. A. Adams.

Mr. D. E. Clement, of Brandon, Man., recently elected president of the Manitoba Golf Association. This is the first time in the history of the Association that a golfing executive outside of Winnipeg has been honoured by this outstanding appointment. Mr. Clement presented the prizes this month at the Manitoba Inter-Club Championship.

The fencing of the golf course at Melville (Sask.), has now been completed and other improvements are proceeding. The membership list has increased, and it is gratifying to note the increased interest in the game taken by the young folk. A stroke competition was held recently and was productive of some good golf. F. Mawer, 83 gross, handicap 19, 64 net, and R. F. Crean, 88, 24, 64 tied for first place. F. Mawer won in the play-off. The professional, R. Revaley, will give lessons to beginners and others.

The Canora Golf Club (Sask.), held a reorganization meeting this month. The chief business was the election of officers, and the question of the Manitoba Free Press tournament, which the club has entered. The officers elected were: President, D. Lorn Rowntree; vice-president, W. B. Vickers; secretary-treasurer, J. J. Dorey; tournament secretary, John S. Rodgeron; grounds committee, Messrs. Eccles, Waterman and Rodgeron.

The Rainy Lake Golf and Country Club of Fort Frances entertained the Rainy River Golf Club of the town of Rainy River at their new club house last month. This is the first inter-club game for the Rainy River men, as their club was only organized last year. Considering the little practice they have had they made a splendid showing against the older club, which won the match.

No fewer than seventy-six golf clubs have entered for the third annual tournament of the Winnipeg Free Press. The following are the district allocations made after a careful study of the large field covered:

- 1, Emerson, Morden, Carman, Portage La Prairie, Stony Mountain. 2, Holland, Baldur, Glenboro, Wawanesa, Treesbank. 3, Cartwright, Killarney, Boissevain, Souris. 4, Waskada, Melita, Hartney, Elgin. 5, Carberry, Rivers, Hamiota. 6, Gladstone, Neepawa, Dauphin Golf Club, Minnedosa, Newdale, Dauphin Community Club. 7, Virden, Elkhorn, Moosomin, Oak Lake. 8, Foxwarren, Binscarth, Russell, Langeburg, Bredenburg, Yorkton Country Club, Yorkton Deer Park Club. 9, Melville, Ft. Qu'Appelle, Qu'Appelle, Indian Head, Grenfell, Summerberry, Wolseley. 10, Frances, Stoughton, Weyburn, Estevan. 11, Canora, Stenen, Kamsack, Swan River, The Pas. 12, Strassbourg, Semans, Punnichy, Wynyard, Foam Lake, Wadena. 13, Davidson, Craik, Imperial, Hanley, Dundurn. 14, Watrous, Lanigan, Humboldt. 15, Wakaw, Domremy, Melfort, Tisdale. 16, Kenora, Beausejour, Fort Frances, Rainy River.

The third annual match of the Provincial Civil Service and Manitoba Telephone System, Winnipeg, was played over the Elmhurst course, and resulted in a 7-7 draw in the singles and a 2-2 draw in the fourball. The course was in splendid shape and the annual outing was thoroughly enjoyed by the whole party.

Eighteen year old Dan Stack, 123 Jefferson Avenue, West Kildonan, playing over the municipal course at Kildonan, Winnipeg, turned in a remarkable 68 for the 18 hole round. The young son of the veteran speed skating artist Jack, was paired with C. E. Stringlund and was in championship form. Dan played four games over this course this month, turning in cards of 71, 73, 72 and 72, but last week he set out to better those marks and registered a 68, one below par.

THE "MAIL AND EMPIRE" TROPHY

Toronto Club's Lady Team of Ten Players for the Fourth Time, Wins the Toronto City Team Championship

FOR the second time in the five years that the competition has been staged the Toronto Golf Club won its second successive victory in the Toronto city inter-club team championship for the Mail and Empire Trophy, conducted by the C. L. G. U. The Toronto Club, which is practically in a class by itself in ladies' team events, won the trophy in 1924 and 1925, and then lost in the final to York Downs in 1926, but they came back last year and then repeated this month. This year's competition was different from the preceding four, being decided by one round of medal play, while in previous years the clubs were divided into groups and played group schedules, with the winners meeting in the semi-final and final rounds.

By winning this month the Toronto club demonstrated that it can send out a team that can hold its own in medal as well as match play on handicap, and the champions conceded many strokes to their opponents from the other 17 clubs that competed. The winners had an exceptionally strong team. Miss Cecil Smith is the present Ontario champion, while Mrs. Whittington and Mrs. Mulqueen are previous holders of the provincial title, and Mrs. Gouinlock and Miss Maude Smith have both reached the final in the Ontario championship. The Toronto team had an average handicap of less than 12, and the others ranged up to an average of 34 strokes, with Lambton second with a total handicap of 146 for the ten players.

No team played on its own course, and as a result many of the players were on courses that were strange to them, and that accounts for the somewhat high scoring, although there were some fine individual performances. Mrs. Leyland of the Cedarbrook Club, turned in a net 75 at Thistledown, which was seven strokes better than her handicap. The next best net scores also produced a Thistledown-Cedarbrook combination,

The handsome "Mail and Empire" Trophy won for the fourth time by the Ladies' Team of the Toronto Golf Club.

Mrs. McCallum and Mrs. Piddington, of Thistledown, playing at Cedarbrook, being two under their handicaps, while Mrs. Heath, of Lakeview, was one better at Scarborough. Mrs. Mills, of Uplands, Mrs. Young, of Scarborough, and Mrs. Crockett, of Rosedale, all played to their handicaps.

Toronto and Lambton were drawn together at Thornhill, and Lambton ran second in the competition, being only ten strokes behind the winners. Scarborough was third, Rosedale fourth and Summit fifth. The 1926 champions were minus six of last year's finalists, and dropped down the list.

The net scores of the teams (10 players a side), in order of merit were as follows: Toronto, 848; Lambton, 858; Scarborough, 887; Rosedale, 890; Summit, 892; Thistledown, 902; Lakeview, 912; Weston, 912; York Downs, 913; Thornhill, 923; Bayview, 928; Ladies' Club, 933; Cedarbrook, 937; Mississauga, 942; Islington, 950; Humber Valley (for 9), 804; Lake Shore (for 9), 852; Uplands (for 9), 928.

INTERNATIONAL FRIENDLY MATCH WON BY UNITED STATES

A particularly interesting international match was played at the Toronto Golf Club this month between teams from the Shore Acres Golf Club, Chicago, and the Toronto Golf Club. The feature match was between Messrs. R. Gardner (twice Amateur Champion of the U.S.) and J. Douglas, Jr., and Messrs. George S. Lyon and P. C. Tidy, which the Canadians won on the home green from their doughty opponents. Mr. Lyon was especially in fine form coming in, registering 2 "birdies" and several par holes.

The match, which may become an annual event between members of the Shore Acres and Toronto Golf Clubs, followed a visit paid to the Shore Acres Club last fall by C. A. Bogert, C. S. Band, John M. Lyle and other members of the Toronto club. The suggestion that the contest should be permanent in character was made during a dinner given the visiting team on Saturday night, at which R. C. H. Cassels, President of the Toronto Golf Club, presided. Results of the match were:

REDVERS MACKENZIE WINS HOCKEY LEAGUE GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

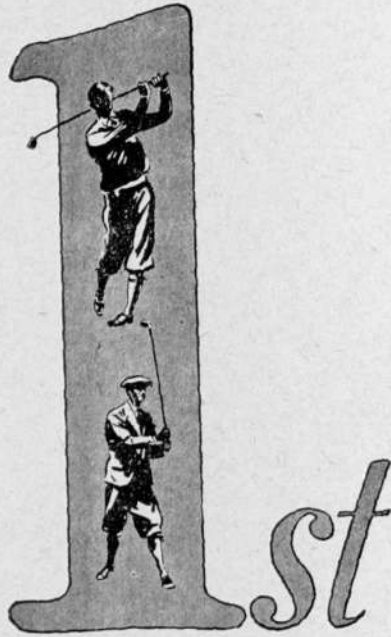

The golf championship of the National Hockey League was won in Montreal, June 11th, by Redvers Mackenzie, goal umpire of the Montreal Maroons in all their home games, and popular professional at the Marlborough Golf Club. Mackenzie turned in a gross score of 75 for the 18 holes to carry off first place honours, the Forum Challenge Cup, emblematic of the title, and the Strachan Trophy for the best gross score in all classes.

Charlie Hughes, President of the Detroit Hockey Club, was Mackenzie's closest rival for the championship. He turned in a gross score of 85, to gain the Gauthier Cup, which goes to the runner-up.

Sprague Cleghorn, of the Boston Hockey Club, clicked off a neat round of 88, which, with his 20 handicap, gave him a net 68, which was by far the best net of the day. He won the Calder Cup.

THE GOLF SWING AND THE CAMERA

(By David Spittal)

AN article has appeared recently in "Golf Illustrated" (London, Eng.), which is of interest. In it, the statement is made that the camera has solved the golf swing as regards the fundamentals thereof—before, and after impact.

Granted, the camera cannot lie.

"Golf Illustrated" does not seem to agree with an English professional, who writes in the same issue, "no two people play alike." As I understand their view, it is this: Assuming "fundamentals" to be similar, the resulting stroke will not vary. But, is this a correct assumption? "Golf Illustrated" gives photographs of six pros. before and after impact."

Three of these men, Braid, Taylor and Oekenden, obtain widely different results during the flight of the ball. (One may assume that their "fundamentals" are the same in each case).

Braid obtains a "hook"; Taylor, a forceful, straight ball; Oekenden's is on the high side. If "Golf Illustrated" theory is correct, why these different strokes?

Why the flight of a ball varies with individuals is, and will ever be, one of the mysteries of golf. Something deeper than a camera is needed here.

The mental thought of each of these three players at moment of impact must be entirely different. The human and mental element arises, and takes its share in one's efforts to control the ball during flight.

AN INTERESTING GOLFING TOUR

Mr. R. B. Francis, of Vancouver, Combines Business with Golf in Eastern Canada, the States, England and Scotland

MR. R. B. Francis, President of B.C. Leather & Findings Co. Ltd., of Vancouver, and of R. B. Francis & Co. of Calgary, has returned from a trip to England and Scotland in the interests of his companies.

Seen in Toronto on his way home last week, Mr. Francis expressed himself as delighted with the trip. He said:

"I can say that I never met with more courtesy and good fellowship than I received in England and Scotland.

"My trip was primarily a business trip for the purpose of making the right connections for our rapidly growing golf department. I had the opportunity of looking over a number of golf club factories and after a thorough investigation have taken on the representation for Western Canada for Wm. Gibson & Co., of Kinghorn Fife, Scotland.

"Wm. Gibson & Co. to my mind are the most progressive firm in Great Britain in the making of golf clubs. They are turning out some very fine models in wood clubs, while their forge and finishing rooms for the making of hand forged iron heads is far ahead of any other manufacturer.

"Beyond all this was the feeling of pride in making high class goods which prevails in their factory from the head, Mr. Thos. A. Cochrane, chairman of the board, right down to the youngest employee.

"On my way east through Canada and the United States I was blessed with the opportunity of playing a number of courses on this side of the water. Ridge Country Club of Chicago, MacGregor Private Course, Dayton, Ohio (a sporty nine-hole course maintained by Crawford McGregor Conby Co. for the use of the workmen who make the famous 'MacGregor' golf clubs), Miami Golf and Country Club, Dayton, Ohio, Mississauga and Lambton in Toronto, two beautiful and far from easy courses.

"Then Baltusrol Golf Club, just outside New York. On this course I got in the same ditch that cost Bobby Jones the championship to Von Elm (at least so I was told). I consider that a great honour, especially as I picked out at the cost of a stroke and by some miracle placed an iron shot dead to the pin and sank the putt for a four including the penalty stroke. My opponent told me that had Bobby Jones done the same he would have beaten Von Elm. I take no responsibility for this tale, but my opponent says that he was an eye-witness of the championship match.

"In Scotland I played several games at Aberdour Golf Club. A short but very interesting course, not far from Kinghorn, beautifully situated on the Firth of Forth. This course is owned by the Earl of Murray and leased to the club at a very nominal yearly rental. You can play all day for two shillings or fifty cents.

"Mr. Cochrane, of Wm. Gibson & Co., introduced me at this club and I had several games with him.

Next came the Eden and old course at St. Andrews, where I had the pleasure of a game with Dave Ayton, formerly pro at the Point Grey Golf and Country Club of Vancouver.

"Dave's father, well over seventy years of age, caddied for Dave and proved a most interesting old gentleman.

"The old course at St. Andrews is without a doubt the hardest course to score on that I have ever seen and I am told that most of the hazards are natural. The greens are large, wonderfully trim and beautifully kept.

"I made the acquaintance of the Swilken Burn, Hell Bunker and most of the whinns, a species of tough shrub with long spikes and yellow flowers. The whinns lead by several lengths in the race for the toughest hazzard a golfer can find.

"Muirfield, a short distance out of Edinburgh, was the next course. A wonderful seaside course that is a real test of golf, with a fine old club house full of ancient prints dating back to 1750 and a rare collection of old golf clubs, feather and gutty balls.

"Then back to England, where I played at West Essex Golf Club, Chingford, near Epping Forest, and the Old Manor Golf Club, Golders Green, near London. Two very fine courses.

"I found the English and Scotch golfers with whom I came in contact very fine sportsmen and the best of good fellows. They simply cannot do enough for the visiting golfer.

"To wind up the trip I hope to put in a few days at Jasper Park, and Edmonton, Alberta, and know from past experience what a wonderful course Jasper has to offer.

"By the way, I totally overlooked the fact that I was favored with the chance to play the King's course at Gleneagles, Scotland. A most scenic course in the Scottish hills and one I will remember for a long time."

C. P. G. A. CHAMPIONSHIPS

Summit, Toronto, Will See the Staging of the Professionals' Event and Thistledown, Toronto, the Assistants'

THE dates and venues of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association—two of the most important fixtures of the season are now announced. The dates are: The Professional Championship, at the Summit Golf Club, Toronto, Monday, July 23rd and the Assistants' Championship, Thistledown, Toronto, Thursday, August 16th.

Karl Keffer, of The Royal Ottawa Golf Club for so many years the particularly efficient Hon. Secy-Treas. of the Association has issued the following letter in connection with these outstanding events:

Regarding the Annual Meeting and Championships:

All entries for the Championships must be in the hands of the Secretary along with dues as rendered by 6 p. m. Monday, July 16th.

The Championship at 36 holes medal play will be held on Monday, July 23rd, on the links of the Summit Golf Club, Toronto, Ont.

The draw will be in Canadian papers week of July 16th.

Please note carefully:

Entries with fees as rendered must be in the hands of the Secretary by 6 p.m. Monday, July 16th.

Telegrams not accepted unless fees are wired also.

Fully paid up members at date of July 16th, also newly elected members, may play as post entries. Others not eligible.

The Tournament for Assistants, 36 holes medal play, will be held at the links of the Thistledown Golf Club, Toronto, on Thursday, August 16th.

Only those Assistants registered at date of July 16th and Assistants of Newly Elected Members are eligible.

Starting time for both tournaments 10 a.m., the order of the draw and 4 minute intervals.

Assistants are eligible only for the Assistants' Championship.

The Annual Meeting will be held at the Summit Golf Club at 7 p.m., Monday, July 23rd.

The Executive Meeting at the Summit Golf Club 6 p.m. or earlier on Sunday, July 22nd.

The present holder of the Championship is "Jimmy" Johnstone, of Rosedale, who also won the event in 1926, and the Assistant Champion is Willie Lamb, of the Toronto Golf Club.

This is the first time in the history of the Association that the two cham-

“THE SHOWERS AND THE PLUMBERS HAVE MADE GOLF”

And this is how “Ratsy”, who, by the way, is a well known Brantford plumber, in the “Sanitary Age,” Toronto, figures out that “The Showers” have made the game of golf:—

“Every plumber should tell the world that golf would have long since been forgotten only for his Art.

Golf was invented in Ireland where the players used each others’ heads for balls. Each year the champions held a tournament at Donnybrook. Saint Patriek landed after one of the greatest contests ever held and found a race of sore heads and he explained to them that if the game kept so strenuous there would be a famine of natives and any left would be too grouchy to be good citizens—that it was no wonder they saw the Fairyes and heard the Banshees as they were likely to hear or see anything after such a hard-fought game.

So, Saint Pat, the King and all the nobles whose heads were well enough drew up the first rules. Substituting stones for heads they took pleasure for a time in knocking the stones around, imagining they were heads. It kept their shillelahs in shape and their tempers in worse shape but the game was doomed. Who wanted to knock a stone a few yards and then follow it when they could knock a head and it would come back for another one?

“Here the Scotch saw a chance to rescue the game as it cost nothing and they took it back to their own country. Being thrifty, they used the stones for curling and took wee’ ones for golf as they did not require a shillelah a quarter of the size to play the game. It was a success and took such a hold that the dispositions of its followers became so sour that the King and the Church forbade it for centuries.

The natives bootlegged it to such an extent that when Bonny Prince Charlie said it was a rotten game, they drove him off the island, took the recipe for Dram Bewie from him and manufactured it to be used after each game to quieten their tempers. Burns tried it, associated with the players for a few games and got so disgusted that he went home and wrote “Man was Made to Mourn.” Scott tried it and wrote “The Lady of the Lake,” but it was not till the Plumber on this continent took a hand and installed showers that the game was safe for all and sundry to play as the shower cools the nerves, kills the bad tempers worked up during the play and renders the player a clean human being after it is all over.”

TALES OF CADDIES—BY ONE WHO KNOWS THEM

(Special Contribution to the “Canadian Golfer”)

“IT happened on the 11th of October. I will always mind of that night. The sun was just slipping awa’ over the back o’ the hills: the four ba’ match was on the last hole green. It was the only match out that afternoon, aye, it was the Captain of the Club and three of his friends from London. Now, to tell the story. The sun sinking so low, caused the shadows of the caddies and players to be thrown right across the green, and the Captain was looking fidgety and nervous, which was very unusual for him: that’s what makes me mind the incident sae well. Old “Nobby” Clark and “Cleekit-heels” were just getting their shadows out of the line of the Captain’s putt, when he turned to his caddie, “Cleekit,” saying, “Cleekit, you and the rest of the caddies and players in this match are jumping about the green like a bunch of old hens on a ‘het girdle.’” The party were dumbfounded at this outburst from the Captain, who was ever kind and considerate: in fact, “Nobby,” an old soldier, remarked later that he thought the Captain at the moment imagined himself back on the parade ground. The Captain by this time was looking over his putt, which he had to halve the match. Being undecided what line to take, he consulted “Cleekit”; and what a time they took looking that over! You would have thought it was the final of a Championship at stake, instead of half a crown. So, there was “Cleekit,” pointing out the line with an umbrella; the Captain had just about finished his wee bit funny waggle before resting the club behind the ba’ for the last time before striking. Now just picture the scene: the Captain looking along the line indicated by “Cleekit,” who was expecting him to say “allright”; but the words never came. The Captain appeared to be staring at the hole; then the party saw his hands moving gently down the shaft of the putter, and his body sagging forward very quietly, the putter appearing to support him from falling too quickly. He had addressed his last ball: the last match of the day was over; the sun had dropped out of sight behind the hills; in the club a servant was turning on the lights. "Cleekit" was the first to speak: "If he had but holed the putt it might have helped him on his long journey."

"Cleekit's" homeward walk was not very bright that night. After supper the wife hinted that she had heard of his being out a round in the afternoon, that some bawbees should be handed over. "Aweel, Mag., sadly said the old man, "You will have to look to the Lord for ma pay the day; our Captain died on the last green."

"Cleekit" was "on the job" early next morning, but either he had no luck, or maybe was it the flag on the club floating at half mast? He could not bear to watch that flag; so the links saw no more of "Cleekit" until the Captain had been laid to rest, with miliary honours, in the auld kirkyard.

At the reading of the Captain's will it was found that his balls and clubs were to go to "Cleekit" for services rendered in the act of caddying, with the exception of my wooden putter. This to be handed over to the Captain, who shall succeed me, and from him and the Committee of my old Club I will ask one favour, i.e., that they select from the list of those awaiting entry a man who has not hitherto played any golf. When he shall become a member, my putter to be presented to said member, who will have the grip removed.

Underneath the second grip will be found a letter, the contents of which may assist him toward success in his golfing future. My last wish is that he follow the advice expressed in it."

Another Captain had been appointed; and when the new members' election was completed the Committee arranged to give a dinner, on which occasion the putter would be handed over and the contents of the letter made known. The putter was presented, the grip taken apart, and there, sure enough was a neatly folded letter. It began by recalling the late Captain's first visit to the course, in the days of the "guttie"ball, and when caddie masters were unknown. "I got off the train and walked to the course. It was autumn, and the place was practically deserted, but a few draggled caddies were tramping up and down near the first tee. One of these "spotted" me sooner than the others. He had my bag from me before I knew what was up, and exclaimed that he would carry for me. Having no partner, I started out with 'Cleekit Heels." He looked about a bit and chose a likely spot to tee up; then he "felt" my driver, presented it to me with many airs and graces, telling me to play a wee bit to the left of the hole, the lies being better. Presently, I enquired how the caddies made a living at this slack time of the year. "Cleekit" replied that it was the like of me, "folks as thocht they could play golf, but who only 'schlaffed' around," that they depended on. He was also kind enough to express the opinion that I was "just a wee bit better than a 'peahaler,' (a caddie idiom, meaning people who carry their own clubs and mark their own score.) Before the conclusion of the round, I began to like old "Cleekit." "Will ye be playing this afternoon again?" "I would like to, if I can find a partner." "I will give you a stroke a hole if you care to play with me," said the old chap. To this I agreed; and he gave me the strokes and a beating.

That night I told "Cleekit" my intention to buy a house and live here. "Well if ye dae, and if I take ye in hand I will make a good player of ye inside of six months." Thus "Cleekit," and my score card in the club shows I have been scoring from 75 to 85 for the last fifteen years. * * * I now ask the new member to make a friend of my old caddie. I feel sure he will not regret it, and with a little patience towards "Cleekit's ways and occasional abruptness of speech, he should improve as I did."

Three months after the reading of the letter, old "Cleekit" was pacing up and down, with an eye on the club for any possible chance of work. The old man had almost lost heart, there was "nothing doing," and a little bit of extra siller was sorely needed. Suddenly somebody called him to the golf shop, saying a letter was there awaiting him. "Here's your letter," they said, when he hurried up, "but man, that's an awfu' way to have your letters addressed, "Cleekit Heels," care Golf Shop." "I wonder who can be writin' me; anyhow it'll be no much guid to me if there's nae siller in't." "No, there's nae money in it; but it says a Major wants to have me look after him for six months: he's never played in his life, but hears I have a reputation for turning out players and will meet me in this shop at ten o'clock the first day of next week."

"That morning could not arrive too soon for "Cleekit"; but even so, the Major arrived first. He was sitting in the shop, and clubmaker Geordie was admiring a putter the Major had brought with him, when "Cleekit" was seen looking in at the window.

"So this is 'Cleekit' " said the Major.

"Yes sir, be you the Major?"

"I'm your man; can you look after me for a few months?"

"Indeed, it'll be a plesure. Geordie, can ye fix him wi' a set o' the very best?"

"Yes, if you can give me two three days to dae the job Major."

"If you are no' gettin dull o' hearin, Geordie, the Major has just hired me to look after him. Ye can hae those clubs ready by Monday morning."

"Aye, Cleekit, I'll dae so."

"I won't need a putter," said the Major.

"Let's look at un. Why! Man alive! It's my Captain's!"

"Yes, he wished me to have it."

"Well, well, well. To be sure. Yes, the first feel of a club on a ba' for you, sir, will be on the putting green," said old "Cleekit."—D. S.

"GOLF IN DAYS LANG SYNE"

ABOUT the first physician to recognize the health giving qualities of the game of golf, was Tobias Smollett, who was an M. D. as well as a famous novelist. In 1771 he wrote: "Hard by, in the field called the links, the citizens of Edinburgh divert themselves at a game called golf, in which they use a curious kind of bats tipt with horn, and small, elastic balls of leather, stuffed with feathers rather less than tennis balls, but of a much harder consistence. This they strike with much force and dexterity from hole to another that, they will fly to an incredible distance. Of this diversion the Scotch are so fond that when the weather will permit you may see a multitude of all ranks, from the senator of justice to the lowest tradesman, mingled together in their shirts and following the balls with the utmost eagerness. "Among others, I was shown one particualar set of golfers, the youngest of whom was turned fourscore. They were all gentlemen of independent fortunes, who had amused themselves with this pastime for the best part of a century without ever having felt the least alarm from sickness or disgust; and they never went to bed without having each the best part of a gallon of claret in his belly. Such uninterrupted exercise, co-operating with the keen air of the sea, must, without all doubt, keep the appetite always on edge and steel the constitution against the common attacks of distemper."

NIGHT GOLF WITH LUMINOUS BALLS

IT is quite on the cards that golf, like bowling on the green, will soon be possible at night. A long streak of phosphorescence speeded against the darkening horizon near the first tee of the Van Cortlandt Park golf course, New York, one night recently. It was followed by a second bright streak which travelled more than 100 yards. A third light leaped up and flew in another direction, leaving a long, glowing trail like some gaunt, high-speed firefly.

Soon a crowd gathered and found a man unwrapping tinfoil from golf balls which burned with a greenish yellow light. He set these luminous targets on the tee and continued to make long drives, which could be followed by the eye as easily as tracer bullets.

After he had scattered eight of these self-lighted spheres over the course, the golfer set out to find them. Four of them were shining in the fairway like mammoth glow worms. Four others were in bushes and tall grass full of autumn leaves. So efficiently, however, did the phosphorescent balls advertise their position that the experimenter rounded them all up in six minutes.

The man who was hitting the lighted golf balls was Millard J. Ploomer, of 240th Street and Van Cortlandt Park East. He had been experimenting with luminous golf balls for months. Last year's trial was the most successful he had had, he said. A scientist at Columbia is working on the composition which made the balls glow, he said.

“I believe that we will have all night golf in a short time,” said Mr. Bloomer, “due to the luminous ball. The composition is a secret. It has been worked out by a chemist at Columbia University, but I am not at liberty to give his name.

CANADIAN OPEN, ROSEDALE, TORONTO

Official Programme Calls for Prizes of Over Thirteen Hundred Dollars. Tommy Armour, 1927 Champion, Already has Entered, Besides Many Other Canadian and U.S. Stars. A Record Championship is Assured.

THE official programme has just been issued by Mr. B. L. Anderson, the Secretary, for the Canadian Open Championship, at Rosedale, Toronto, July 26, 27 and 28. On the 26th the entrants will play one round of 18 holes and the same number on the 27th. On Saturday, the 28th, 36 holes will be played but only by the players within 20 strokes of the leader and it is safe to say that many will fall by the wayside even with this rather generous allowance. No entry will be accepted from amateurs who have not a handicap of 10 or less. The entrance fee is $5.00 and must be in the hands of B. L. Anderson, Secretary, 357 Bay Street, Toronto, not later than Saturday, July 21st. When a player whose name is called on the first tee during the Championship, does not put in an appearance, he will be promptly disqualified, and rightly so too. This ruling will be religiously enforced. The prize money will total $1,320.00 divided as follows: 1st prize and cup, $400.00, 2nd, $250.00, 3rd, $200.00, 4th, $150.00, 5th, $100.00, 6th, $75.00, 7th, $50.00, 8th, $40.00, 9th, $30.00, 10th, $25.00. It was not so many years ago that the prize money in the Canadian Open was only $300.00. In addition to the above awards the "Canadian Golfer" donates $35.00 to the Canadian professional who hands in the best score and $15.00 to the player making the second best. The amateur having the lowest score receives the R.C.G.A. gold medal—a trophy greatly coveted. Indications are that Rosedale will witness the finest field ever seen in a Canadian Open. Tommy Armour, last year's winner, and many other celebrities both from Canada and the United States have already entered, and there is just a possibility that Archie Compston, Great Britain's leading player, and Aubrey Boomer, runner-up to Bobbie Jones last year in the British Open, may also have their hat in the ring. All golfing roads will lead to Rosedale the last week of next month, where the entrants will find a course, calling for every shot in the bag. It is sixteen years since this Toronto Club, one of the oldest and most prominent in Ontario, has staged the premier fixture. On that occasion, George Sargent won the event, with "Jim" Barnes, afterwards to become a celebrity, and Nicol Thompson, of Hamilton, and J. Burk in a triple tie for second place. It is interesting to note that among the competitors was a youth, Walter Hagen, then an assistant at the Rochester County Club, N.Y. He never figured in the picture. If he is at Rosedale next month, and the chances are he will be there, he will unquestionably be the leading figure and carry the galleries.

VISIT OF BRITISH SENIORS' TEAM

Most Interesting Golfing and Other Programmes Arranged for Them at Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara. His Excellency the Governor-General and the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario Will be Guests at the Dinner in Toronto

A VERY important meeting of the Governors of the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association was held last week in the Dominion Bank Building, Toronto. There were present Mr. P. D. Ross, Ottawa, Hon. President; Mr. C. A. Bogert, President, in the chair; Hon. Martin Burrell, Ottawa, Vice-President; Col. J. B. Miller, and Messrs. A. E. Dymont, George S. Lyon, R. H. Greene, Toronto; Ralph H. Reville, Brantford; W. H. Hastings Webling, Hon. Secretary, and Mr. George L. Robinson, of the Senior Tournament Committee, Lambton Golf and Country Club.

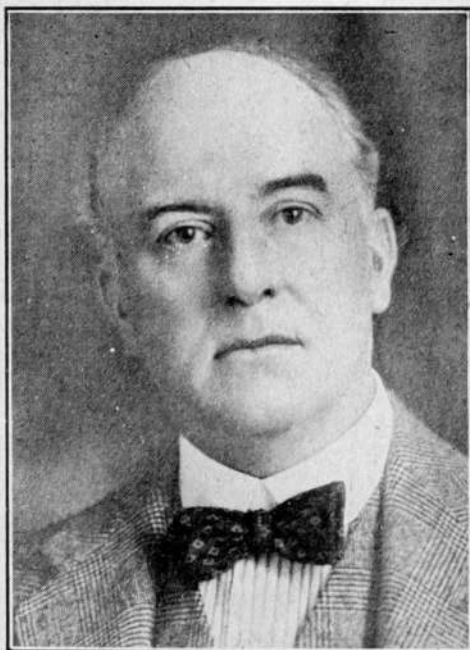

Several important matters in connection with the approaching memorable visit of the British Senior Team were brought to the attention of the meeting by Mr. Bogert, who has recently returned from London, and discussed in detail. The following is the tentative programme and arrangements decided upon. The British Seniors to the number of some twenty will arrive at Quebec on August 25th, where they will be met by officials of the Canadian Seniors' Association. It is expected they will spend two days in the Ancient Capital, where Sir George Garneau, of Quebec, a prominent Governor of the Canadian Seniors, will arrange for golf games and the entertainment of the visitors.

Montreal will be visited August 27th, 28th and 29th. Here Mr. E. L. Pease and Mr. W. G. Ross, Senior Governors of Montreal, will look after the arrangements for a busy three days.

The 30th and 31st will be spent by the Britishers at Ottawa, where the Hon. Martin Burrell and Mr. P. D. Ross will have charge of their entertainment. His Excellency the Governor-General has expressed a wish to entertain the visitors at luncheon.

The 1st of September will see the arrival of the distinguished party in Toronto, where their headquarters will be at the Toronto Golf Club. A friendly match will be played with Toronto Seniors on the course of the Toronto Golf Club and then on the 5th, 6th and 7th they will all participate in the Canadian Seniors' Tournament at the Lambton Golf and Country Club.

On the 8th the Britishers will be the guests of Lt.-Col. Myler at the Hamilton Golf and Country Club. On the following day they will visit Niagara Falls, where Dr. Grant will be the host at luncheon in their honour. From there, accompanied by the Canadian Seniors' International Team, they will journey to Rye, N.Y., where on the Blind Brook Club, Sept. 14th and 15th, the Triangular International Match, Great Britain, United States and Canada will be played. Altogether a very busy and entertaining programme, which, of course, may be subjected to some changes.

Mr. C. A. Bogert, President of The Canadian Seniors' Golf Association, who is taking a very keen interest in the approaching memorable visit to Canada, of the British Seniors' Golf Team.

It was decided at the meeting to hold the Annual Dinner of the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association, which is always such a feature of the Annual Tournament, at the Toronto Golf Club on Friday evening, September 7th—the last day of the Tournament. Mr. Bogert announced that His Excellency the Governor-General Lord Willingdon and His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario had very graciously accepted invitations to be present at this notable event.

The annual meeting of the Association has heretofore been held during the dinner. This year it was unanimously decided to change the procedure and it will take place on Wednesday evening, September 5th, at the Lambton Golf and Country Club.

Several strong committees were appointed to look after all the details in connection with the visit of the British Seniors—the Tournament, Dinner, Transportation and Club and Hotel Accommodation. It is expected that over two hundred Seniors will participate in the Tournament next September at Lambton and a record week of Senior golf is already assured.

PROGRAMME OF ONTARIO CHAMPIONSHIPS

Mr. W. J. Thompson, Honorary Secretary of the Ontario Golf Association, has issued the following programme of the Sixth Annual Tournaments of the Ontario Golf Association:

Amateur Championship of Ontario, Lakeview, Toronto, Thursday, July 12th—Qualifying round, 18 holes (64 to qualify in 4 flights). (The team match, gross and net prizes).

Friday, July 13th—First and second rounds match play in each flight.

HOW "BOBBY" BECAME JUNIOR

WHEN one sees the name, Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., marked on a score board, one naturally assumes that the name of Bobby's father is R. T. Jones. The assumption is wrong. R. T. Jones is the name of Bobby's grandfather and thereby hangs a tale.

Grandfather Jones is a gentleman of the old school who once entirely disapproved of athletics. When Bobby took up golf the grandfatherly disapproval of athletics was voiced and he refused to watch his grandson indulge in sport.

At fourteen, Bobby played in his first national golf championship. He won the first two matches and— Well, Grandfather Jones fell for the Bobby he had never watched on a golf course and for sport with a terrific crash. He sent his fourteen-year-old grandson a telegram.

"Hit all the putts at the back of the cup," the telegram read, "and give 'em hell boy!"

Since the dispatch of that telegram Robert Tyre Jones, at the request of Grandfather Robert Tyre Jones, has been known to the world as Robert Tyre Jones, JUNIOR!

"WHEN GRANDFATHER PLAYED GOLF"

THE very unique and interesting drawing shown above from the London "Illustrated News" would appear to be the earliest pictorial record of the advent of the second of London's oldest golf clubs, formed by some of the members of the London Scottish Rifle Volunteers in 1864. It represents a match in progress between the London Scottish and The Royal Blackheath Club—the oldest club in the world, established in 1608 and therefore over 300 years old. The match, old chronicles record, was won by Blackheath by 37 holes. In those early days, matches were decided by holes and not points. Note the stance of "the gent" putting?

ONTARIO PROFESSIONAL GOLF ASSOCIATION

Receives a Superb Trophy for Competition from Captain Melville Millar, of the Islington Golf Club, Toronto

ON August 9th, 1925, the then "baby" club of Toronto, The Islington, staged their big $1,000.00 international professional tournament "match play" when a bers of the profession but to the younger ones as well.

At the time of this tournament Captain Miller promised that he would at some future date donate a trophy to the Ontario Professional Golf Association for annual competition "match play" and recently he redeemed his promise by handing over to the association one of the finest, if not the finest trophy ever competed for in Ontario.

The trophy, which is of silver mounted upon a large mahogany base and stands thirty inches in height, represents victory extending the laurel wreath.

The figure is balanced upon a silver golf ball, to which is affixed the usual crossed clubs. The presentation shield is engraved as follows:

Millar Trophy
Presented by Captain and Mrs. Melville Millar
To The Professional Golf Association of Ontario
For Annual Competition
Match Play

The first tournament, subject to the approval of the Islington directors, will take place at the Islington Club this fall, the Cup going to the club whose professional wins it and is retained by such club until the following fall when it must be competed for on the course of the club holding the trophy.

The winner of the trophy will receive from the donors a cheque for $25.00 and it is altogether likely that this sum will be augmented from the association treasury.

Captain Milar says that in fulfilling his promise in respect to this trophy he is celebrating "The Coming of Age" of The Islington Club, which is attaining its objective this year and a year ahead of schedule, having not only reached its limit in respect to membership, but has gained the reputation of being one of the most popular clubs in the district.

While the Islington is only in its great many of the best known professionals of both the United States and Canada took part.

The beautiful Trophy presented by Captain Melville Millar to the Ontario Professional's Golf Association, for annual competition.

Captain Millar, the secretary of the club, was the prime mover in this innovation and he was unanimously supported by his Board.

It was without doubt one of the most successful matches ever held in Canada and possibly the most interesting inasmuch as match play seemed to appeal not only to the older mem-fourth year of play the whole course is in such marvelous shape that it is very hard to realize that it is not a great deal older.

MUSKOKA LAKES GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB

It is the consensus of opinion of leading golfing visitors to Muskoka, both from the United States and Canada, that at Port Carling, the Muskoka Lakes Golf and Country Club Ltd., has one of the finest summer resort courses to be found anywhere on the continent. The 18-hole links with rolling fairways and greens quite above the average provide a real test for the expert golfer.

A Green on the Muskoka Lakes Golf and Country Club. Mr. Geo. S. Lyon (eight times Canadian Amateur Champion) is Here Seen Putting.

There are many "character holes" and altogether it is a sheer delight to play a round on this outstanding course, which is ideally situated 'midst a vista of woods and crystal-like waters.

The Club House, too, is most attractive, several important alterations having recently been completed. Very appetizing meals are served here, whilst a large rest room and dancing pavilion are added attractions. Then also there is accommodation on this charming property for married couples and ladies in a most attractive stucco bungalow. Bachelor quarters are at the Club House. Tennis courts and bathing facilities round out the facilities for a perfect holiday at the Muskoka Lakes Golf and Country Club. Colonel J. R. Moodie, of Hamilton, is the President of this popular Club. Sir Thomas White, Toronto, is Vice-President, and Mr. J. F. Christie, Secretary Manager. Many leading Canadians and Americans are on the Board of Management, whilst leading citizens of both countries are included in the list of members. Happy the golfer and tourist who this summer spends his vacation at this favoured and favourite resort. All applications for accommodation should be sent to the Secretary, Mr. Christie, who will be only too glad to hear from intending guests and supply all necessary information.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND BENT GRASS

(By J. A. McDonald, Land Surveyor, Hermanville, P.E.I.)

Another season has passed in the so-called Brown Top (Bent) industry, and it has been marked by the fairly large quantity of seed cleaned, graded, and sold from the Central Plant of the Turf Grass Seed Growers Association, at Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Though the output of seed was fairly large it does not compare with the output of the previous year, the growth of 1926, when some 40,000 of No. 1, 35,000 lbs. of No. 2 and a sum total of about 90,000 lbs. was produced. This year's output, though smaller, contains almost as large a quantity of No. 1 seed as the year previous, but by no means the quantity of the lower grades No. 2 and No. 3. The large body of last year's seed, more than half, was low grade running mostly No. 2, hence probably the average low price received by the growers. So low and unsatisfactory was the price received for their Bent Grass seed last year, that a great many growers refused to harvest the crop, even though "passed" as satisfactory by the government inspectors.

The second reason why the crop this past season is so much smaller, and at the same time so much better in quality, is the rigid inspection made in the fields last summer. The Federal Department, seed branch, at Ottawa sent down expert inspectors from the office, at Ottawa, and these made special and personal inspection of all fields condemning all fields not coming up to their standards of freedom from weeds and foreign grasses such as, red top goose-grass, etc., and estimating right there in the field, the possible number of pounds of seed the area would turn out, giving no room for those growers to pass on the output of weedy fields ad libitum as done in some years in the past. An odd farmer having one or two fields, or areas passed by the government inspectors, would cut everything in sight in the shape of turf grass, and ship it in to the Central Cleaning Plant at Charlottetown. This was not allowed to be done last fall hence the smaller total quantity of seed, and the finer quality of that smaller quantity.

The growers have not been yet paid in full for the 1927 crop nor accounts adjusted, so that there is no knowing what the actual prices received for the seed were. The prices received are much better than last year, and besides there is not as much competition in the markets this year from New Zealand as there was last year. The New Zealanders don't grade their seed as we do, nor guarantee its purity and germination qualities. Our P.E.I. Bent seed is as much superior to New Zealand and German seed as our certified seed potatoes and our silver-black foxes are to all others in the whole wide world. A big claim, surely.

GOLF IN AUSTRALIA

(Griffith Bonner).

KANSAS is a long distance from Australia, and yet it may be of interest to learn that Australia and Canada are becoming interested in the sand greens used in Kansas. Australia is already experimenting with them.

James B. Thompson, President of the Australian Golf Association at Molong, New South Wales, writes, all greens on the coast are of the turf variety, or a variety of turf. The clubs are mostly small and unpretentious, but the enthusiasm is all there and the game is spreading wonderfully. In the western districts of the state, which means the whole of New South Wales west of the dividing range which runs north and south about 100 miles inland, we have no turf and our greens are sanded.

The principal trouble with the smaller clubs in Australia is to get a decent approaching ground around the sand and generally this level has to be scraped to get rid of tussocks and cups. The scraping is done with a loaded wheel tyre.

In Australia the local rule for sand greens is, the sand on the green may be smoothed, but not pressed down. A ball lying thereon may be lifted for this purpose or to remove adhering soil and then carefully replaced. Some clubs define the method of smoothing by the club shaft. I have always tried to get a substitute for this, writes Thompson, who believes that this spoils the shaft, involves tiresome stooping and waste of time, and moves the sand too much.

Australia, according to Thompson, has perhaps something in common with the United States and Canada with reference to new players. Thompson writes: "I suppose you have found with the enormous influx of new players that it is increasingly hard to see that the game of golf is played in a traditional way. Most beginners have an idea that the whole of golf is to get around in a score that would make Bobby Jones envious and anything in the way of a bad lie, a bunker, or a penalty stroke, would be cut from the game if they had their way. They are in constant rebellion against the rigours of the game.

"Fortunately there is a class of beginner which imbibes the spirit of the glorious game with his first venture and it is to men of this class upon whose shoulders the future welfare and maintenance of real golf mainly depends—but it is a fairly constant fight. We find this so in our country places, which are a bit more removed from the heart of things than you are."

The statement of President Thompson is correct and worth while giving consideration to. This spring and during the summer months many new golfers will take up the game and the enjoyment that they will eventually derive from it as their progress in the art of mastering the mashie and midiron will largely depend on a close observance of the rules and regulations of the game.

Golf is truly an International game when one realizes it is played all over the world. Perhaps some day some golfing philanthropist will give us for Golf an International cup similar to the Davis cup that is the prize in the tennis circles of many nations.

IN AND ROUND THE CLUB HOUSE

Interesting Happenings on the Courses of England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, and the British Dependencies

The Islington Golf Club, Toronto, is in for a particularly good season this year. The course is in superb condition and 136 new members have recently been added to the already big membership. Islington has all the hall-marks of one of Ontario's most successful clubs.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, 21-year-old New Jersey golfer, who has won the metropolitan title for the last three years, is the new champion of the Women's Eastern Golf Association. Finishing the fifty-four hole tournament with a brilliant round of 81, the lowest score made during the tournament and the best ever made by a woman on the Montclair Golf Club, N.J., course, where the event was played, Miss Orcutt practically spread-eagled her field. Her three-round total was 258 and that of Miss Helen Payson, of Portland, holder of the Canadian and Bermudian Championships, who finished second in the field of almost 100 starters, was 266.

on the progress of Miss Cecil Smith, who won the provincial championship, from a cot in the isolation hospital.

"Young Ramsay is not very sick, but he will have to stay in the isolation hospital until the prescribed quarantine time is up, in a couple of weeks.

"Eleven other caddies, as well as young Ramsay, left Toronto early last week and arrived at the border later on during the week so as to be in plenty of time for the ladies' tourney which opened Monday, with a heavy entry of Toronto golf stars. In parties of twos and threes, these lads made their way here by different modes of transportation, sleeping out doors and borrowing rides wherever possible."

A despatch from New York June 8th:—

"Walter Hagen, winner of the British Open Golf Championship for the third time, returned to the United States to-day in triumph and with higher praise for the quality of golf in England than last year, when he was quoted as referring to British professionals as being "too gosh-darned lazy."

"Arriving with him on the Maurentania to the strains of a brass band, were Archie Compston and Aubrey Boomer, the Scottish and English pros., who trimmed him in match play on the other side, although he came off victorious in the big event, the open.

"'Compston played remarkable golf,' declared Hagen concerning the match at Moore Park, soon after his arrival in England, in which the rugged Britisher handed him the worst beating of his career by the lop-sided score of 18 and 17. Boomer beat him by 3 and 2 in a match in Paris.

"'I anticipate playing a return match with Archie before he departs for England,' Hagen went on. 'He is a very determined golfer and finished third in the open and second in Ireland. He will be in it all the time in our Open at Chicago this month, and he looks like the best competitive golfer the British have at the moment.'"

The annual ladies' open field day was held recently at the St. Thomas Golf and Country Club, with a record entry list. The weather was ideal for golfing, and the feature of the day's play was the long drive of Miss Margaret Turner, who drove 195 yards to win the driving contest. She is a daughter of Dr. A. C. and Mrs. Turner and an all-round athlete. Miss Ethel Tate won the approaching and putting contest in "A" class, and Mrs. (Dr.) Kennedy won the approaching and putting contest in "B" class. Mrs.

(Dr.) J. G. M. Porter had the best aggregate score.

Miss Hicks, the junior district champion, and a senior of Lawrence High School, completed her round over the Women's National Golf Club links in time to attend classes the same afternoon. It looks as though in Miss Hicks the States has a star young golfer. Miss Hicks eventually reached the final, where she was defeated by Mrs. Toerge, of Nassau, 3 and 2.

A number of Canadians participated in the Niagara Falls County Club Tournament this month at Lewiston, N.Y. The event was won by Leo Shea, a 19-year-old Buffalo entrant, with a score of 224 for 54 holes. In second place was Hamilton Gardner, the well known young Buffalo golfer, who had 225. In third place was Gordon Taylor, Jr., the promising young player of York Downs, Toronto, who carded a very creditable 228. He will want watching in the Tournaments and Championships this season, as he has a very fine game indeed in his bag.

A handsome trophy has been presented by Mr. Jess Applegath, popular President of the Mississauga Golf and Country Club, for competition among senior members of the club. The trophy is to be awarded to the player returning the low net score during the annual match, which is to take place in September.

A despatch from White Plains, N.Y.:

"The metropolitan amateur championship, relinquished so unexpectedly by Eddie Driggs in the initial round of the 1928 event, is now in custody of Gene Homans, of Englewood. Thus the Princeton regime continues, for young Homans, just past his nineteenth birthday, is a Nassau undergraduate, while Driggs was a famous football star there a few years ago. Homans won the title by defeating Maurice McCarthy, of Old Flatbush and Georgetown University, another youngster, in the final round, played at the Fenimore Country Club. The match, scheduled to go thirty-six holes, went only thirty-three, Homans winning at that point by the margin of 4 up and 3 to play. Homans in the semi-final defeated W. M. Reekie, formerly well known Canadian golfer and twice Metropolitan champion."

Returning a card of 76, Mr. R. M. Gray, Rosedale, won the second invitation tournament of the Uplands Golf and Country Club, Toronto, last month, from an entry which included some of the leading golfers in Toronto clubs.

When the field of 120 entrants had completed their rounds in unsettled weather, Gray led George Rae, Humber Valley, by 3 strokes, who was made an honorary member of Highlands, London, Ont., recently, after he had turned in a score of 71, and Gordon Gunn, Mississauga, Ontario junior champion, and Gordon Boeckh, York Downs, another junior of promise, by 4 strokes. Boeckh is a pupil of "Willie" Freeman, who is expected to assist Gordon Taylor, Jr., in upholding the reputation of York Downs during the tournaments of the year.

The ex-champions, George S. Lyon and W. J. Thompson, had respectively scores of 84 and 86. The prize winners were:—

First gross, R. M. Gray, Rosedale; second gross, George Rae, Humber Valley. Net—1, Gordon Boeckh, York Downs; 2, M. Eagle, Humber Valley; 3, A. Drew Magee, Mississauga. Team prizes—1, Lambton, Fred Lyon, George S. Lyon, Hugh Reid, J. W. G. Clark; 2, Mississauga, Gordon Gunn, A. D. Magee, Hugh Cooke and Arthur Donaldson. The tournament was an extremely successful one and extremely well staged.

Both Eddie Held and Eddie Briggs did their best to put an end to the victorious career of George Voigt, who has not lost a tournament match since 1926, in the semi-final and final rounds of the annual Cherry Valley invitation tournament at Garden City, L.I., but neither was equal to the job. Voigt, a newcomer in metropolitan golf circles and a member of the North Hills Club, won his third successive invitation tourney since his arrival in New York by beating Held, a representative of the Lakeville Club, in a match that went to the nineteenth hole, and then defeating Driggs, the home club star and metropolitan district champion, 2 up. Voigt is looked upon to-day as almost as great an amateur golfer as Bobby Jones.

By virtue of a brilliant morning round, in which she scored an 81 over Baltusrol's lower course, Shorthills, N.J., Miss Maureen Orcutt, the 21-year-old star of the White Beeches Club, won the Women's Metropolitan Golf Championship for the third successive year, disposing of her final opponent, Mrs. Norman K. Toerge, of Nassua, by 12 up and 10 to play. Miss Orcutt reached the pinnacle in her all-round play, which she has improved from the time she won the medal of the qualifying round with an 87, for the first round. In the final, she was so rhythmical with her stroking and so clock-like in the precision with which she scored that she had Mrs. Toerge 10 down at the end of the first eighteen holes. At the pace she was going it would have been difficult for an opponent to stave off defeat, but Mrs. Toerge managed to prolong the outcome by cutting down the lead to twelve holes during the afternoon, before meeting final elimination.

Another quite prominent Ontario Club is making arrangements to extend from a 9-hole course to an 18-hole course, which is a sure sign of golfing growth and activity. An option has been obtained by the Grand River Country Club, Kitchener, on a suitable site for a new course some four miles from the city, charmingly situated near the Grand River. The financial side of the question is being gone into by the executive of the Club, and if the financing of the new club and course is not too difficult a problem, the option will be closed during the next few days. Kitchener, per capita, is one of the wealthiest cities in Ontario, and there should not be the slightest difficulty in raising all the money necessary, to put it in the 18-hole golfing class—a sure indication of enterprise and progress, both from a golfing and Municipal standpoint.

Mr. John McHugh, California State Amateur Champion, has just returned from a six months' tour of Great Britain, where he was a participant in the British Amateur. He said in an interview:—

"You can't play California golf and win in England. Over there, as I know now, you have to play a different style of game. Both the Sandwich and Prestwick courses are on the sea. And the winds are tricky. So in order to go well you must play the ball very low. It must be under control all the time or you lose."

McHugh is strong in his praise of England, its golf courses, its golf players, its Prince of Wales, its sportsmanship and its hospitality. But he frankly admits he has no taste for the British "ginger beer," which was offered as the chief liquid refreshment to the golfers.

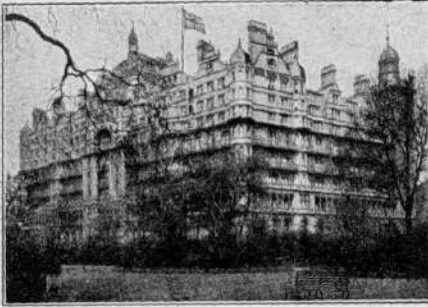

"The Prince of Wales surprised me," McHugh went. "For a man of royal blood he is awfully shy. A wonderful personality and a fine sportsman. He's keen about golf, almost a hero worshipper where our Walter Hagen is concerned. And as president of the St. George Golf Club at Prestwick, he was enthused about handing out the cup for the national open. His own golf is not so strong. That's due, I suppose, to his nervous temperament. It affects his short game and his putting suffers. Besides, he doesn't get time to play as much golf as he wants."

The opening of the season took place on Saturday, June 16th, with a sealed hole competition for both ladies and gentlemen. Prizes were arranged for those who turned in the lowest score for the three sealed holes.

Although, in common with other clubs, the course has suffered somewhat from winter kill, through the efforts of the green committee, it is rapidly returning to excellent condition. A number of new members have been elected this season, and the club is looking forward to a very successful year.

The match committee are arranging their schedule of matches, and a number of prizes have been donated.

Terribly burned when a cigarette ignited his clothing, Mr. Leslie M. MacAdams, prominent Sarnia citizen, died of shock in the General Hospital at Sarnia last month. It is believed that Mr. MacAdams was seized by a fainting spell, and that his cigarette fell from his lips, setting fire to his clothing. Mr. MacAdams, who was 44 years of age, was proprietor of the Canadian Printing Company, and until a few years ago was part owner of The Canadian Observer, Sarnia's daily newspaper. He was a Past President of the Sarnia Chamber of Commerce, of the Golf Club, and of the Curling Club. He was active in the Conservative party in Sarnia and district.

IN a record field and before record galleries "Bobby" Jones and "Johnny" Farrell tied with 294 strokes for the U.S. Open Championship at Olympia Fields, Chicago. In the play-off at 36 holes Farrell defeated his great rival by 1 shot. The newly crowned professional, who has deservedly the reputation of being the best dressed man on the golf links, is exceedingly well known and popular on Canadian golf courses. Johnny came marching home triumphantly through the rain and the cheering crowds with the greatest of all golfing crowns atop his black, curly thatch. This slim young Irishman with the million dollar smile, 27 years of age, of little old New York, stepped up to beat the great Bobby Jones and win the open golf championship of the United States by a single stroke.

With that finishing shot and the masterful mashie clout from the rough that made it possible, a brace of the greatest strokes any championship conflict has ever seen, Farrell stood off the gallant closing thrust of his famous rival and won the 36-hole play-off for the title by a score of 70-73—143 to 73-71—144.

They were tied at the end of the regulation 72 holes of the tournament, each with 294 strokes, after the defending champion, Tommy Armour, had passed from the heights and the British open king, Walter Hagen, had been beaten off.

Farrell's $50,000 putt on the eighteenth green, while the rain beat down and a crowd of fully five thousand thrilled in breathless silence around, was the climax of one of the most sensational play-offs on record for the American open crown. It was a fitting finish to a give-and-take struggle in which Farrell, leading nearly all the way but never by more than three strokes, had the skill, putting punch and courage to beat back a remarkable closing rally by as great a shot maker as the game has ever known.

Faced with the nerve-racking task of having to drop a ticklish eight-foot putt on the home green for victory, C. C. Fraser, of Kanawaki, rattled the ball into the cup to capture the laurels in the open event of the Province of Quebec Golf Association spring tourney contested over 36 holes at Marlborough to-day. Following up his two consistent rounds in the invitation tourney at the country club last Saturday, Fraser scored two fine rounds of 77-78 for his gross total of 155. One stroke behind Fraser, in a tie for second position, were the Murray brothers, Albert of Beaconsfield, and Charlie, pro at Royal Montreal. In the play-off between the Murrays for second position, and first place among the professionals, Albert defeated Charlie on the second hole.

Ladies—

If you haven't yet registered in the Mercury "Hole-in-Two"
Competition—DO SO NOW!

Registrations Positively Close July 1st

O YES, we originally set June 1st as the closing date. But so many registrations came in late that really we hadn't the heart to disappoint these ladies. So we have extended the time one month.

Of course, you have heard of this competition—how you receive an alluringly dainty set of Mercury Silk Lingerie and Full Fashioned Hosiery when you make a Hole-in-Two. But perhaps you didn't quite realize that in order to receive the prize you must be registered. All registrations must be in our hands by July 1st. Your club secretary or pro can give you full particulars.

Don't think your skill unequal to this shot. Five hundred and thirty ladies made it last year. You'd hate to make the shot and not be registered wouldn't you? Better fill in your entry card and mail it to-day.
