Wins Mercury Mills "Hole-in-Two" Competition

As Secretary of the Ladies' Golf and Tennis Club of Toronto she has written us as follows:

"As we have only commenced playing organized golf this season, I delayed sending in your card.

I have spoken to many of the members and posted your notice on our board and there is much enthusiasm about it—though many of our players are new and do not expect to make two shot holes.

However, I myself made one in 2 shots, being our 16th hole of 175 yards, also Miss Hazel Hudson, a coming golfer, made one yesterday, our 7th hole of 200 yards, in two strokes.

We have a membership of 440 women and I am sure that when they have seen our prizes we will have no difficulty in getting them to turn in scores in their endeavour to accomplish a hole in 2.

I am strongly recommending to all women golfers of my acquaintance that they send in registration cards so that if they are so fortunate as to make a hole in 2 they will be able to claim the fine prizes you are offering.

I know how excellently your 'Mercury' products are made and your competition should be received with enthusiasm by every lady golfer in Canada."

Important Coming Championship Fixtures in Canada

Already, British Columbia and Ontario have run off their Provincial Championships, and the Quebec Ladies their annual Championship, but there are a wealth of interesting events to come, including the major championships of Canada. The following makes a most interesting list of the principal fixtures for 1927 yet to be played, which will determine the next few weeks, many a golfing crown:

June 17-25—Pacific Northwest Golf Association Championships, Colwood Country Club, Victoria, B. C. June 24-25—Alberta Senior Championships, Edmonton Golf and Country Club. July 2—Inter-Provincial Matches, Hamilton Golf and Country Club. July 4-9—Canadian Amateur Championship, Hamilton Golf and Country Club, Ancaster, Ont. July 7—International Senior Matches, Sunningdale, Surrey, England (teams from Great Britain, Canada and the States will compete). July 13-16—Manitoba Amateur Championship, Winnipeg, July 25-30. Amateur and Open Championships of Western Canada, Moose Jaw, Sask. (also the same dates and same venue, the Championships of Saskatchewan). July 25-29—Maritime Provincial Championships, Woodstock, N. B. August 4-6—Open Championship of Canada, Toronto Golf Club, Long Branch, Ont. August 8, etc.—Saskatchewan Ladies' Championship, Wascana Golf Club, Regina. August 27—Manitoba Junior Championship. August 29—Manitoba Ladies' Championship, St. Charles Club, Winnipeg. September 1-5—Alberta Golf Championships, Calgary Golf and Country Club. September 2—Junior Team Championship, Province of Quebec. September 2—Junior Championship of Ontario, Lakeview Golf Club, Toronto. September 7-10—Championship of Canadian Seniors' Golf Association, The Royal Montreal Golf Club, Dixie, Que (The International Match, Canada vs. States, will be played on the 9th). September 9th, Quebec Provincial Open Championship. September 10—Quebec Provincial Amateur Championship. September 24—Province of Ontario Fall Tournament, Lookout Point Country Club, Welland, Ont. September 26, etc.—Canadian Ladies' Close Championship, Toronto Golf Club. October 3, etc.—Canadian Ladies' Open, Lambton Golf and Country Club, Toronto.

In addition to these Championship fixtures there are a score or so of important Invitation Tournaments being arranged from now until next October in the leading golfing centres of the Dominion.

It is not so many years ago that outside of club matches the golfers of Canada had only the opportunity of "crossing clubs" in three or four events of any importance. Now the leading players of every Province, both men and women, have many fixtures in which they can compete. If "competitive golf" is the only road to "championship golf," and it unquestionably is, as so forcibly demonstrated by the United States, then the development of golf of a high standard in Canada is at last headed in the right direction.

Players Liable for Accidents on Golf Courses A case in the London Law Courts recently, as reported in the London "Times," makes interesting reading for golfers generally. The case was Cleghorn vs. Oldham, and was tried before His Lordship Mr. Justice Swift and a Common Jury.

A verdict for the plaintiff for £150 damages was returned in this action, in which Miss Jeanie Cameron Cleghorn, of 135, Osborne-road, Forest Gate, E., claimed damages for personal injuries from Miss Cecily Mary Oldham, of St. Clement's House, Bolsover-street, W. The plaintiff alleged that on September 7, 1925, she was negligently struck on the face by a golf club on the West Runton Golf Course by the defendant, who was demonstrating a stroke to the plaintiff's brother. As a result the plaintiff suffered severe injuries and was away from her work as a clerk in the actuarial department of an insurance office for 13 months. The defendant denied negligence, and pleaded contributory negligence.

Mr. Martin O'Connor appeared for the plaintiff; Mr. Croom-Johnson, K. C., appeared for the defendant.

Miss Cleghorn, giving evidence, said that Miss Oldham was playing with the witness' brother and that she (the witness), was carrying Miss Oldham's clubs. On the 12th or 13th tee Miss Oldham drove from the ladies' tee quite well. Her brother made a bad drive from the men's tee. Miss Oldham said: "This is the way to do it," and played a stroke at an imaginary ball. She struck the plaintiff at the end of the "follow through" and the plaintiff was knocked down and became unconscious. When she came round she heard Miss Oldham say: "What have I done? I am sorry." A doctor was found, who took her home in his car and attended her for a week. She returned to work, but became too ill to go on and was away from January 1, 1926, to January 24, 1927.

Mr. Croom-Johnson submitted that a person who voluntarily took part in a game even as a spectator, took the risks incidental to the game and could not bring an action even if the player was negligent; to support such an action there must be deliberate violence or foul play. He referred to Reid v. Mitchell (22 S. L. R., 748); Giles v. L. C. C. (68 J. P., 10); Pollock v. Torts, 12th ed., p. 164.

The questions left to the jury, with their answers, were:

(1) Was the defendant guilty of negligence which brought about the accident?—Yes.

(2) Was the plaintiff herself guilty of negligence?—No.

(3) Did the plaintiff by going on to the course as a spectator in the way she did take the risk of such an accident?— No.

(4) Damages, if any?—£150.

Mr. Justice Swift, in giving judgment, said that counsel for the defendant had sought to draw a distinction between accidents arising from the playing of games and accidents occurring in other transactions of life, and it appeared to have been suggested that the ordinary rules of law in relation to negligence did not apply to the playing of games. He could not see that any such distinction existed. In playing games, as in other transactions of life, a person must abstain from doing what a reasonable person would not do, and if a jury came to the conclusion that a person had done something which a reasonable player in the circumstances would not have done and if injury had resulted therefrom, that person was liable in an action for negligence.

It had been suggested here that the plaintiff voluntarily took the risk. No authority had been cited for the proposition that a person ever took the risk of anybody being negligent unless there was an express agreement on proper facts to that effect.

There was here no ground for saying that the plaintiff voluntarily undertook the risk of an accident such as she met with. There was clearly evidence to go to the jury, and judgment for the plaintiff must be entered, in accordance with their verdict, for £150, and costs.

GOLF AT METIS BEACH, QUE.

A MOST interesting programme of events has been arranged for this season for the well known Cascade Golf and Tennis Club at Metis Beach, Que., the popular resort of prominent Montrealers and many visitors from Ontario and the States. Here it is:

GOLF. July 18—Baylis Cup, handicap, ladies. July 25—Fleet Trophy, handicap, men. July 25—Blair Esdaile Trophy, handicap, boys. August 1—Percival Molson Cup, handicap, men. August 1—Mixed Foursomes, handicap. August 5—Driving, Approaching, etc., all classes. August 8—President's Prize, 36 holes, handicap, men. August 8—Seagram Cup, Parent and Child, handicap. August 10 and 11—36 holes medal, ladies. August 13—Five club match and prize giving.

TENNIS July 4—American Tournament, Juniors. July 11—American Tournament, Seniors. July 18—Mixed Doubles, Junior. July 25—Handicap Doubles, Ladies. July 25—Handicap Singles, Ladies. August 1—Open Singles, Ladies. August 8—Open Singles, Men. August 8—Handicap Singles, Men. August 8—Mixed Doubles, Men.

The officers of the Club are: Hon. President, Dr. W. H. Smyth, Montreal; President, F. T. Handsombody, Quebec City; Vice-President, Norman Seagram, Toronto; Secretary-Treasurer, Russell Barrett, Montreal, with a committee of ten from Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, etc.

Mr. Handsombody, of Quebec, the President, writes the Editor that the golf course has been greatly improved this season, three new holes adding much to the playing possibilities. The 18 holes are now made up of the following: No. 1, 385 yds., par 4; No. 2, 430 yds., par 4; No. 3, 325 yds., par 4; No. 4, 165 yds., par 3; No. 5, 400 yds., par 4; No. 6, 410 yds., par 4; No. 7, 335 yds., par 4; No. 8, 270 yds., par 4; No. 9, 190 yds., par 3; Total out, 2910 yds., par 34. No. 10, 410 yds., par 4; No. 11, 505 yds., par 5; No. 12, 420 yds., par 4; No. 13, 160 yds., par 3; No. 14, 345 yds., par 4; No. 15, 330 yds., par 4; No. 16, 180 yds., par 3; No. 17, 440 yds., par 4; No. 18, 300 yds., par 4; Total in, 3,090 yds., par 35. Grand Total, 6,000 yds., par 69.

Golf is exceedingly popular at Metis and in the years gone by the course has developed some of the best young players in the Montreal District, including two former Canadian Amateur Champions, who as boys more or less learned their game at Metis.

(The Editor is always glad to answer questions about the Rules, and other golfing matters, but owing to so many of these requests coming in every month, he must ask in future that stamped-addressed envelope be enclosed with all such communications, otherwise they will not be answered).

Members of the "Round-the-World Golf Club," formed by the tourist passengers on the C. P. liner "Empress of Scotland," which docked last month at Southampton, after a voyage of 161 days, played a round of golf in the 20 countries touched by the ship. In the high spirit of adventure, one of the golfing members chose as his teeing ground the summit of the Great Pyramid.

When the coal miners of Pittsburg went on strike recently, quite a few of them changed the scene of their activities to the golf courses, where they took over the jobs of caddies. Most of the caddies being in school all day, there was a shortage on the golf courses until the miners solved the problem. The clubs that employed them found them far more attentive to their work and far more satisfactory than the boys.

He was accompanied by Dr. F. Lawrence, President of the St. Thomas Club; R. H. Fish, General Superintendent of Southern Division, and Mr. J. N. Robertson, of St. Thomas.

The fees and expenses of Old Country Clubs are very moderate, indeed, compared with similar expenditures in the United States, and for that matter, to a lesser extent in Canada. An invitation tournament, which may include some fine amateur golfers from the United States, is being arranged by the Lambton Golf and Country Club in connection with its twenty-fifth anniversary. The match is to take place in September, and, according to club officials, it will be one of the finest events of the season in Canada. Members of the club are extending invitations to friends to take part in the tournament, for which some very fine prizes are being donated. The invitations are to be sent to golfers of Buffalo, Rochester, and the Metropolitan district, as well as leading players in Canada.

A despatch from Victoria, B. C.:

"A crow, which hovers around the Uplands Golf Course, is apparently thinking of taking up golf for a little amusement, but his way of collecting balls would not be considered good etiquette. The other day while Major J. C. Macdonald was playing in a four-ball match with Messrs. J. E. Lane, Hargreaves and Cooper, a black member of the feathered tribe swooped down from his lofty perch in one of the lofty oaks, which border the eighteenth green, looked over Lane's ball, which apparently was not the brand he liked, and winged his way back to the tree. In the meantime Major McDonald played his ball up to the green, and "Mr." Crow swooped down once more, took a look at the ball and departed with it fast in his beak. When last seen by the four players, he was about 200 yards away, heading for his own links. Strange to say, the ball he purloined was a "kro-flite" ball, made by the well known firm of A. G. Spalding & Bros., Ltd., Brantford, Ont."

QUEBEC TAKES ROYAL MONTREAL'S MEASURE

Historic Match Which Was First Played For In 1874 Is Won By Quebec
34 to 26 Points

IN the annual match between The Royal Montreal and the Quebec Golf Club, at Quebec, on the King's Birthday, the Royal Montreal for the first time since 1914 was defeated by Quebec, 34 points to 26 points. This is the oldest Inter-Club match in America, having first been played in 1874.

The Quebec golfers deserve all the more credit for their notable victory because The Royal Montreal had a very strong team indeed, headed by the famous quartette of Montreal players, W. M. Hodgson, Norman Scott, C. B. Grier and J. W. Yuile.

Following the singles, in which fifty players participated, a reception was held in the club house at Boichatel, the victors toasting their guests, and being formally awarded possession of the historic trophy.

The match was the 126th time that the huge silver cup has been at stake, and another little silver golf ball was added to the tiers of balls.

While the majority of the interest was centred on the play of the amateurs, a private battle was waged between the two professionals, Charles Murray, of Royal Montreal, and Harry Hotchkiss, the new Quebec professional. Murray shot par golf, getting two birdies, one at the first and the other at the fifth, while Hotchkiss entered this class when he secured a two on the thirteenth. While there was but two strokes difference in the scores of the players, Murray winning in an approximate 73 and Hotchkiss 75, the official verdict was three and two for Murray.

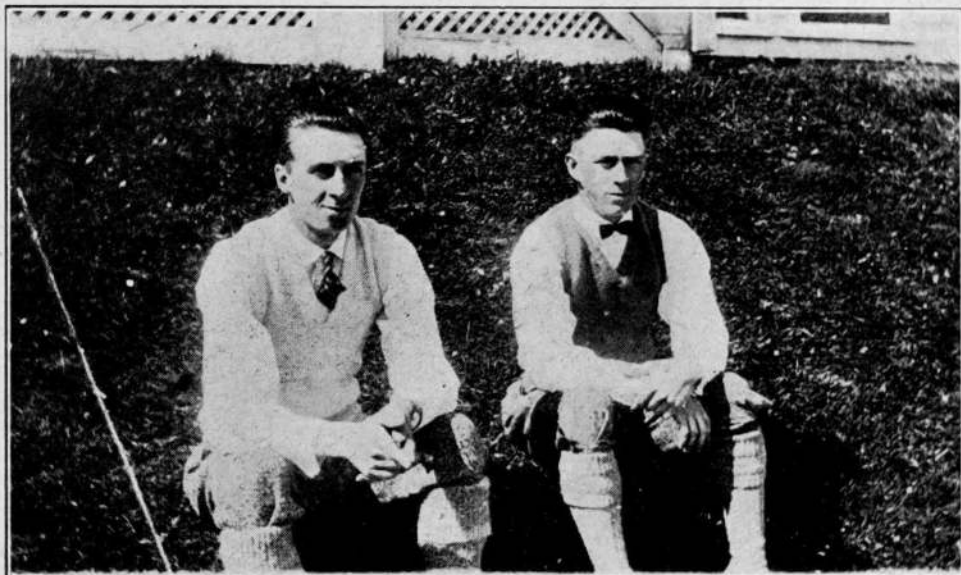

GOLF IN THE MARITIME PROVINCES

The 1927 Championships Will Be Staged at Woodstock, N. B.—Celebrated Mielke Brothers Will Probably Enter for the Canadian Amateur

(By a Special Halifax Correspondent).

GOLF in the Maritime Provinces made its greatest strides during 1926, but close observers of the game in the East believe that a still greater growth will feature the 1927 golfing season in this part of Canada.

In Nova Scotia particularly has the Ancient and Honorable game been going forward at a remarkable rate. There is hardly a town in the province that does not boast of a nine hole course in operation, or at least in process of construction. And everywhere there is an intense interest being displayed in golf, an interest that is far greater than that being shown in some of the other outdoor sports.

The Celebrated Mielke Brothers, of Halifax, who will probably be entrants at the Canadian Amateur Championship at Hamilton next month. Between them they have won the Maritime Amateur Championship the past seven years.

Halifax has now come to be recognized as the golfing centre of the East. Two of the four eighteen hole courses in the Maritimes are located here, while the old Halifax Golf Club course, now known as Gorsebrook, has made extensive changes in the links and one of the sportiest nine hole courses in the province will be the result. Both Brightwood and Ashburn have increased their membership this year, the increase being due in no small measure to the fact that two Maritime tournaments were played in this city last year, the Maritime Championships being staged at Ashburn, while the Maritime Ladies' tourney held forth at Brightwood. These tournaments gave golf a big boost locally, and already there is talk of one or two special Halifax County tournaments this year.

It is probable that an open meet will be staged on one of the 18 hole courses and this will give the amateurs an opportunity of meeting the professionals in competition for the first time in the Maritime Provinces. Only one change has been made in the professional list in Halifax, Quesnell, of Brightwood, having been replaced at that club by Pratt, formerly of Picton, Ont., and Truro, N. S. Tommy Cornfoot is again at Ashburn, while Sam Foley is the Gorsebrook pro.

The Maritime Championships will be staged at Woodstock, N. B., July 25th to 29th, and while the entry this year will not be as large as that at Ashburn last year, when the largest field in the history of golf in the Maritimes assembled, still the Woodstock Club is getting ready for another banner tourney. The popularity of Charlie Jones, the President of the Maritime Golf Association, will doubtless bring a number of golfers to Woodstock.

For the first time in some years the Mielke Brothers will find their throne endangered. These two brothers, Gerald, the present title holder, and Frank, have been predominant in golf in the Maritimes for the last eight years. Gerald won at Ashburn last year, annexing his fifth Maritime title, and he will again be at Woodstock, as will also brother Frank. Undoubtedly Gerald is the Master Golfer of the Maritimes and there is just a possibility that he will go to the Canadian Amateur Championships this season, along with his brother. They did participate in the Canadian Championships several years ago, when they were very young, but both players have improved considerably since then, and should be able to make a far better showing against the pick of the mashie wielders of the Dominion.

There has been developed a small army of young golfers in the Maritimes during the last few years, the youth of the Maritimes having realized, with the rest of the country, that golf was not by any means an "old man's game." Thus the Mielke Brothers will this season find themselves pitted against players of their own age who are fast forging to the front as expert golfers. There is McNaughton, of Moncton, a youngster not yet out of his teens; McAvity, of Saint John; Risteen, of Fredericton; the Marsden Brothers, of Woodstock, two of the most likely looking golfers of the lot, and a half dozen others who will provide stiff competition for the reigning champion at Woodstock this year.

All of the veterans, or at least most of them, will again be in line. Wylie, of Gorsebrook; Dr. Jack Johnstone, of Ashburn, runners-up for the Maritime title last year; Peter Jack, of Ashburn; McCall, of New Glasgow; Powell, of Truro, Doug. Biggs, of Amherst; George Howard, of Brightwood; E. C. Grundy, of Brightwood; Jack McAskill, of Highland, Cape Breton, and several others are still going strong and cannot be overlooked in any Maritime Tournament.

From all indications it would therefore appear as though golf in the Maritimes is in for its biggest season in 1927. In this article I have dealt entirely with the men, but perhaps in the next issue of the "Canadian Golfer," recognized by the golf followers in the Maritimes as the finest publication of its kind on the continent, if not in the world, I will deal with the outstanding stars among the ladies, who this year will hold their annual championships at Saint John.

MR. W. J. THOMPSON WINS UPLANDS TOURNAMENT

DESPITE a seven on the home hole, Mr. W. J. Thompson, playing for the Uplands Club in the invitation tournament held by that club on Saturday afternoon, May 28th, came home in front of a field of over 140 starters with a 76, one stroke in front of Don Carriek, of Scarborough, and Stanley Thompson, also of Uplands. These three were followed closely by a trio of Rosedale members, Alex. Gooderham with 78, Dr. Joe Sullivan with 79 and Bob Grey with 80, and this sextette were the only ones to come within 10 strokes of the par of the course, 70. A record for the eighteen holes, a 69, made by Eddie McNulty, the pro. last year, was never threatened, but C. M. Jones, of Scar-

Traps met and conquered!

The Shallow Fairway Trap

Burke Mashie Niblick No. 7 gives both safety and distance. A fairly heavy club, narrow face.

The Grand Canyon at the Green

Height is desired—not much distance. Use the Burke Niblick No. 6-8, a successful "shovel."

The Shallow, Sloping-sided Trap

Try Burke Grand Prize Putter No. 9 to run up the slope. A plain back, long blade, putting cleek. It runs up nicely.

The Cross Pits

Grand Prize Mashie Niblick No. 7A, slightly gooseneck, with deep face; built to give safe outs and generous distances.

The Yawning Chasm

Use Grand Prize Niblick No. 8A. A medium club, medium length blade, medium depth face, medium weight.

WE can't all be "out in the open and straight to the pin." But once arrived safely in the arms of the hazard, we can do our best to get out as well as possible and not suffer too great a punishment for our mis-play.

And here the clubs play as important a part as the players who use them. Just as there are several kinds of traps, there are clubs especially adapted to escaping from their clutches.

Look them over! You waste as many strokes in a hazard as you do on the green. And remember, when a club is made and shafted by Burke and bears the Burke name, it can always be relied upon.

boro, with a 35, set a new mark for the last nine, and but for a bad start, would have been well within the prize winners.

The tournament, the initial effort of the club, was a decided success. Not only was the field the largest that has ever entered a similar event, but it included all the leading golfers of the Province, and only in a Canadian championship could it be excelled for quality. The competition was keen throughout and a number of the players found the course much harder than anticipated, but the early date was responsible for some of the unexpectedly large scores, as players have not yet got down to their game. While a few of the contestants got away in the morning, most of them teed off after 12.30, and the committee in charge deserve great credit for the manner in which the eighteen-hole event was handled in the face of such a large entry.

The various foursomes attracted galleries, the largest following Don Carrick, Sandy Somerville, Joe Clark and Fred Lyon, but Somerville and Lyon were off their game, the Amateur Champion having to be content with an 89. Another popular match was that with George Lyon, Bill Thompson, Bob Gray and Frank Harris, while the best golf, as a foursome, was produced by Alex Gooderham, Joe Sullivan, Stan Thompson and F. G. Hoblitzel, the scores of the four ranging from 77 to 85, with three being under 80.

Par for the course is:

Out...4,3,5, 5,4,4, 3,4,4=36. In...4,4,4, 3,4,3, 4,3,5=34=70.

W. J. Thompson's card was:

Out...3,3,6, 6,5,3, 3,4,4=37. In...4,4,6, 3,5,3, 4,3,7=39=76.

In addressing the players and spectators at the end of the day, President W. J. Henning of the club, expressed the pleasure of the club in staging the event and also the appreciation of the members for the response of the amateurs of the province, nineteen clubs being represented in the competition. He intimated that it would probably be an annual affair. The prize winners were:

Gross score—1, W. J. Thompson, Uplands, 76; 2, D. D. Carrick, Scarborough, 77, and Stanley Thompson, Uplands, 77.

Net score—1, E. A. Rolph, Lambton, 70; 2, H. P. Hermance, Mississauga, 70 (Dean Wills, York Downs, 70, and E. A. Harris, Scarborough, 70).

Best first nine holes—Stanley Thompson, Mississauga, 39.

Best second nine holes—C. M. Jones, Scarborough, 35.

Most birdies—R. M. Gray, Jr., Rosedale, 3.

Team prize—1, Uplands, 319 (W. J. Thompson, 76, Stanley Thompson, 77, Joe Lang, 81, Jackson Walton, 85); 2, Rosedale, 323 (A. L. Gooderham, 78; Dr. J. A. Sullivan, 79; R. M. Gray, Jr. 80, E. C. Bowyer, 86).

C. P. R. TO IMPROVE BANFF COURSE

MR. STANLEY THOMPSON, golf architect of Toronto, left this week for Banff, Alberta, commissioned by the C. P. R. to look over the golf course there "on the roof of the World," which the Railway authorities have just taken over from the Dominion Government. Golf is very popular with tourists at this famous resort and it is understood that the C. P. R. is determined to have a course in keeping with its Hotel and other property. With this end in view, Mr. Thompson, who was the architect of the celebrated Jasper Park course in Alberta, recently constructed and put into play in Alberta by the Canadian National Railways, will get out comprehensive plans for an 18-hole course which will not be excelled by any resort links in America. The setting for a golf course at Banff is ideal, but tens of thousands of dollars will have to be expended to whip it into championship shape. The C. P. R. never does things by halves, and in the years to come Banff will boast one of the finest links on the continent. Of this there can be no question.

FRENCH GIRL WINS BRITISH TITLE

Mlle. de la Chaume Takes Cup Abroad for First Time—Many Surprises
Feature Championship at Newcastle, Ireland

THE opening of play in the thirtieth Ladies' Open Championship of Great Britain by an overseas competitor was perhaps an omen that the championship would not be retained at home. Miss Jane Brooks, an American from the Englewood Club, drove the first ball and Mademoiselle Simone Thion de la Chaume, of Paris, France, proved the ultimate champion, the first woman from without the British Isles to win the coveted event. The new champion has shown considerable promise for several years, and though the championship was one of many surprises, it was no surprise to Mademoiselle de la Chaume's many admirers to witness her new triumph. In 1924 she won the Girls' Championship; in 1925 and 1926 she won the French Ladies' Close Championship and the French Open in 1926, and was also semi-finalist in the 1926 British Ladies' Open. The new champion is therefore well known in British and continental golfing circles.

From the start surprises featured the championship, the first round witnessing the elimination of five out of eight international players. Another French girl, Mlle. Nanette le Blan, provided the sensation in this round, when she defeated the Middlesex champion, Miss Audrey Croft, by 2 and 1. Mrs. Garon, 1926 runner-up, also lost in this round to the ultimate champion by 2 and 1. This left Miss Molly Gourley, the English Close Champion, as the only ranking Scottish or English player still in the running. Miss Gourley remained in until the fifth round, when she was defeated by Miss D. Pearson.

In the semi-final Miss Pearson beat Mlle. le Blan and Mlle. Thion beat Miss Wilson, both winning by wide margins. Miss Pearson was unable to extend the French Champion in the final, and for the first time in the history of the Championship the Women's Cup went abroad. This meant that in the brief interval between the Ladies' Championship and the British Amateur Championship all important British golfing titles were held by non-residents of the British Isles. This caused no regret in so far as Mlle. de la Chaume's victory, as she is extremely popular on British links and really developed her game in England under the tuition of George Duncan. A feature of the Championship was the number of visitors participating in the event, their presence being honoured by the flags hoisted at the Newcastle Club, County Down, Ireland. The L. G. U. flag was at the top, Australia next, with France and America following. Mrs. Spaulding, of Buffalo, Miss Virginia Wilson, Miss Beadstone and Miss Jane Brooks represented the United States.

Miss Cecil Leitch, the 1926 champion, who was unable to participate owing to her recent unfortunate experience on the links, when she was struck by lightning, has now absolutely recovered the use of her arm and hand. Following the Open Championship she participated in several rounds at the famous Irish course at Portrush.

"OFF ON THE GREAT ADVENTURE"

Strong Team of Canadian Senior Golfers Sail for England to Participate in the International Senior Matches at Famous Sunningdale

THERE sailed this month on the C. P. R. S. S. "Montnairn" and Cunard S. S. "Regina," twenty leading Canadian members of The Canadian Senior Golf Association who next month will participate in the first International matches between the Senior golfers of Great Britain, the United States and Canada.

Mr. Clarence A. Bogert, Toronto, in the regrettable absence of President Baker, of Montreal, will be the official head of the Canadian team, which will be Captained by Mr. George S. Lyon, Toronto, and consists of the following players: George C. Heintzman, Toronto; F. A. Parker, Toronto; Dr. J. S. Sheahan, St. Catharines; C. A. Bogert and George L. Robinson, Toronto; P. D. Ross and J. E. Caldwell, Ottawa; C. Y. Stanier, Winnipeg; A. B. Evans, Montreal; J. Dix Fraser, Toronto; S. L. McKay, Sarnia; H. H. Williams and T. F. Matthews, Toronto; Dr. J. D. Courtney, R. Gamble, Ottawa; Dr. D. Buchanan, Galt; Ralph Connable, Toronto; Dr. W. M. McGuire, Simcoe. Mr. W. H. Webling, Brantford, will accompany the team as Honorary Secretary.

The Canadian and U. S. Seniors will have the pleasure of playing against some very distinguished Britishers. Among the team will be Lord Lurgan, who is 68 years of age; Lord Avebury, who is also 68; Lord Lucan, aged 66, and Lord Derby, the former War Minister and Ambassador to France, who is 62. There are also such noted golfers as E. B. H. Blackwell, Captain of the team, who in his day was the world's longest driver; R. R. de Montmorency and A. C. M. Croome, both famous golfers in their time and still capable of playing Championship golf.

Lord Derby has presented a cup for the International Competition and will preside at the dinner which will be given the British, Canadian and U. S. team after the match.

The first twelve names will constitute the team, but there is just a possibility that, in consequence of the number of Canadian and United States substitutes accompanying the teams, the original team of twelve may be increased by mutual agreement, on arrival in England.

All the visiting players are invited to play in the British Seniors' Golfing Society first annual tournament, to take place at Addington, near London, July 2nd, and on July 6th friendly foursomes will be played over the famous Sunningdale course, to be followed on the 7th with a triangular match between teams representing Great Britain, the United States and Canada.

The President of the British Seniors is the Earl of Balfour; Vice-Presidents, the Earl of Derby, Viscount Dunedin, and Lord Lurgan; Honorary Treasurer, Mr. F. W. Ashe, a former Canadian; and Honorary Secretary, Lt.-Col. F. P. Popham, D. S. O.

The United States team will be headed by President F. S. Wheeler, and Captained by Mr. Frederick Snare. The other members of the team selected are as follows: Joshua Crane, Boston; Alexander Revell, Chicago; W. E. Truesdell, Garden City; F. L. Woodward, Detroit; A. B. Jenks, Manchester; Col. J. E. Smith, Wilmington; Claude M. Hart, Boston; Jerome A. Peck, Port Chester, N. Y.; Charles S. Strout, Portland, Maine; R. A. Mitchell, Suvanoy Club; and Dr. W. S. Adams, Garden City.

DURING 1927 WE WILL GIVE A CASE OF "CANADA DRY" FREE TO EVERY GOLFER WHO MAKES A HOLE-IN-ONE

It cost him money to make this hole-in-one

SOMEHOW, we gather that Mr. O. M. Green is almost sorry he made a hole-in-one. Here's the letter he wrote when we rewarded his magic shot with a free case of "Canada Dry":

"I am afraid that my making this hole-in-one and getting this ginger ale is going to be rather expensive. My entire family now refuses to drink any other ginger ale but Canada Dry and I will soon have to replenish my supply. The strange part of it all is that they never really liked ginger ale until they tasted Canada Dry."

Don't worry, Mr. Green—you ought to be proud that your family shows such good taste in the selection of a beverage. As the days go by you'll feel kind of disappointed yourself if you don't find a sparkling, bubbling glass of "Canada Dry" beside your place at dinner-time or ready to serve when good friends call.

The quality of this fine old ginger ale is one reason for the success of the "Canada Dry" Hole-in-One Club.

We presented nearly 300 free cases of "Canada Dry" to golfers who made holes-in-one in 1926 and we're repeating the offer this year.

There are no strings or red tape and all you have to do is:

First—Have your Club Secretary send the attested card and a letter describing the shot to J. J. McLaughlin Limited, Toronto.

Second—Send us your home address so we will know where to send the free case of "Canada Dry."

“CANADA DRY”

There is little doubt that this inaugural visit will be returned by the British Seniors next year, and it is hoped that another link will thus be forged to further unite these three great Anglo-Saxon nations into one far-flung fraternity, inspired by that sporting spirit and friendly understanding that so freely exists throughout the limitless realms of golf. The result of the International Matches will next month be awaited with keen interest by golfers throughout Canada. This is the first time in the history of the game that a Canadian team of golfers has ever visited Great Britain.

And here is a very interesting challenge just received from Miss Cecil Leitch, the many times British Lady Champion. She has invited the Canadian Seniors whilst in England to play against a representative Ladies' Team. The invitation will probably be accepted.

Upon his arrival at Quebec Col. J. D. Courtenay, C. M. G., one of the Canadian Seniors' team, found the following telegram awaiting him on the S. S. Montclair from the "Hootenhootenites," a social auxiliary of the Royal Ottawa Golf Club. The bard of the "Hootens" is Mr. E. L. Horwood. Col. Courtenay is a former President of the Royal Ottawa:

"When out upon the briny deep, and things are heaving some, The boys you left when not asleep, will feel so very glum; They love you for a good old sport, and miss you on the links, They'll miss you when they take a snort, they'll miss you, yes, by Jinks.	When gathered round with seven to play, with Freddy in command, They'll save their cards while you're away, and crow to beat the band. We hope you have a grand old trip, we hope you win your game, When you come back upon the ship, we'll welcome you again.

"WHEN EAST MEETS WEST"

Delightful Inter-Provincial Visit Between Ontario and Quebec—Montreal Followers of The Royal and Ancient Game Are Also "Royal Entertainers."

THE Executive of the Ontario Golf Association more than realized their anticipation of a good time on the occasion of their visit to Montreal Tuesday, May 17th, as guests of the Province of Quebec Golf Association.

The party from Ontario, composed of Ross Somerville (London); A. A. Adams (Hamilton); Geo. Jacobs (Oshawa); George S. Lyon, W. J. Thompson, C. M. Jones, R. Connable, W. H. Plant (Toronto); S. M. Robertson (Kingston); J. Gill Gardner (Brockville), of the Ontario Executive, were accompanied by Secretary B. L. Anderson, of the R. C. G. A., and H. C. Grout, General Superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

As usual, our friends in Montreal proved the most genial and princely of hosts. On arrival at Beaconsfield Station, President Alfred Collyer, Vice-President T. O. Lyall, and Honorary Secretary R. J. R. Stokes, of the Quebec Association, and President G. H. Forster, of the Beaconsfield Club, extended warm welcome and shepherded the party to breakfast at the Club.

In the morning the programme consisted of friendly four-ball matches. In the afternoon an auction handicap. During the luncheon handicaps were arranged by Kenneth Dawes and George S. Lyon, and Kenneth proved a very able auctioneer. At the luncheon speeches were taboo with the exception of a versatile oration by the "Hole-in-One" artist of the Beaconsfield Club, W. H. C. Mussen, who made a presentation on behalf of the Beaconsfield Club of a loving cup (?) and a bag and complete set of clubs to the great and only George S. Lyon. George referred feelingly to the thoughtfulness which provided by pressing a button in the bag the delivery of the club or ball desired into the hands of the player, and looking at the archaeological collection of golf implements the inference that clubs made no difference to him; personally he preferred some whip in a shaft and had a partiality for steel shafts, but when it became a question of springs, no doubt the Royal and Ancient would say to the Seniors who came to represent Canada, there was a limit. To cap the climax, by opening the bottom pocket George was surprised to release a stately rooster who stalked around the room proudly displaying a Union Jack affixed to his tail feathers.

After the auction handicap in the afternoon, which was won by W. G. Kent, handicap 16, net 72, with S. M. Robertson, Handicap 20, net 74, second, and N. M. Scott, scratch, gross and net 75, third, the party were motored to dinner at the Royal Montreal Club, where the hospitality of President G. H. Forster and his cohorts of the Beaconsfield Club was continued. President E. A. McNutt, as Chairman, added to that of Beaconsfield the welcome of the Royal Montreal Club and acted the host in his inimitable manner.

In adding the welcome of the R. C. G. A., President W. W. Walker spoke of the national aspirations of the parent body and how that was made possible by the co-operation of the Provincial Associations as evidenced by this fraternal visit, and thanked the two Associations. Details of the proposed visit to Canada of the British Professional Ryder Cup Team were explained and the support of the Quebec and Ontario Associations was requested, and Mr. Walker asked Secretary Anderson to give the names of the Professional Team for Canada selected.

President Alfred Collyer, of the Province of Quebec Golf Association, who was responsible for the fraternal visit, in giving his kindly welcome, referred to the objects of the Quebec Association and the common interests; the efforts to have in the Quebec Association a uniform system of handicapping for Provincial events, irrespective of the handicaps for local club events, and of the ideals of fostering and encouraging Junior golf within the Province.

We absolutely guarantee replacement of any Kro-Flite Ball which is cut through or becomes unplayable from any cause in 72 holes of play.

SPALDING forever lays the bug-a-boo that a long ball cannot be a tough ball.

Spalding has developed a special process which vulcanizes the Kro-Flite cover. This gives it an unusual resiliency. Instead of resisting the shock of a blow, the cover absorbs it. The result is a long, long ball that feels sweet off the face of the club, and can stand more punishment than any other ball ever built.

Its toughness is demonstrated by the Spalding guillotine test—the most murderous test ever given a golf ball. A keen-edged knife, heavily weighted, drops at terrific speed on the ball. Every ball ever tested in this machine has been cut wide open—except the Kro-Flite, which the guillotine can barely dent.

As for distance, the Spalding driving machines tell an interesting story about Kro-Flite. These machines hit every ball with exactly the same force. Thousands of balls have been tested with them, under every condition which could affect the distance of a golf ball. The results every time show that Kro-Flite gives as great or greater distance than any other make of ball—foreign or domestic. Try Kro-Flite—dimple or mesh. Your professional or sports dealer has them.

In responding on behalf of the Ontario Association, President W. H. Plant said the Ontario Association too, had as its ideal the encouragement of junior golf and had provided a special Tournament limited to juniors and with special prizes for the younger players for that purpose; that the members of the two Associations as members of their individual Clubs should do all in their power to have the efforts of the R. C. G. A. in arranging the national team of Canadian Professionals to meet the Ryder Cup Team of Professionals from the Old Country meet with success by having the largest gallery that has ever followed a golf match in Canada follow the exhibition matches at Toronto and Montreal. Mr. Plant said he was sure he was voicing the sentiments of every member of the Ontario Executive when he expressed the appreciation of the wonderful hospitality which had been extended to them by the Quebec Association and that he could not hope for the Quebec Association when they visit Toronto next year as guests of the Ontario Association, a better time than the Ontario Association had experienced that day in Montreal—that was impossible. To duplicate such a welcome from the officers and members of the Quebec Association, from the Beaconsfield Club, and from the Royal Montreal, the pioneer of all Clubs in America, was impossible in the conservative town of Toronto.

In reply also George S. Lyon, Vice-President, gave happy reminiscences and spoke of the Seniors' trip to Great Britain. Honorary-Secretary W. J. Thompson and J. Gill Gardner also spoke on behalf of the Ontario Golf Association in characteristically vigorous manner, approving the selection by the R. C. G. A. of the national team of professionals to meet the British Ryder Cup Professional team.

The time was all too short, the Ontario party having to depart on the tenth train which stopped at the Club at ten-forty-five. The entire party was unanimous in the verdict that nothing could surpass the wonderful hospitality of their hosts and that the return visit will be one of keen anticipation.

DATES OF MORE CHAMPIONSHIPS ANNOUNCED

THE last of the important fixtures for Canada have now been announced. The Seniors' Championship of Alberta for the Mr. Justice Walsh Trophy will be held on June 24th and 25th at the Edmonton Golf and Country Club, Edmonton, Alta.

The Maritime Provinces Golf Association announces that its Championships will be held at Woodstock, N. B., July 25th to the 29th, the Professional Championship for money prizes being held on the last named date.

The Saskatchewan Golf Association announces their Championships will be held July 25th to 30th, in conjunction with the Western Canada Golf Association Tournament at the Moose Jaw Golf Club, Moose Jaw, Sask. The Saskatchewan Ladies' Golf Association are holding their Annual Championship at the Wascana Club, Regina, during the week commencing August 8th.

The Alberta Golf Association announces that its Championships will be held at the Calgary Golf and Country Club, September 1st to 5th.

The Quebec Junior Championship is scheduled for the Marlborough Golf Club, Montreal, September 2nd. The Quebec Father and Son Tournament at the Montreal Country Club, September 3rd. The Quebec Provincial Open at The Royal Ottawa Golf Club September 9th and the Quebec Provincial Amateur also at The Royal Ottawa Golf Club, September 10th. This is the first time the Quebec Amateur and Open have been held at Ottawa.

These announcements bring the total of important championships this season in Canada up to a total of 28. It is not so very many years ago there was half a dozen only.

JOHNNY FARRELL WINS METROPOLITAN

Handsomest and Best Dressed Young Professional At Last Annexes a Major Event

BY his victory in the Metropolitan Open Golf Championship last month, which Championship ranks only second to the U. S. Open, Johnny Farrell, professional at Quaker Ridge, N. J., and one of the handsomest and best dressed young golfers extant, made golfing history. For years Farrell has been trying to win a big tournament. He has been frequently in the first ten, but a major crown has been denied him.

But Johnny kept trying and now has his reward. Over the beautiful Wykagyl course he had a 72-hole total of 296 to beat out Wee Bobby Cruickshank by one stroke. It was not phenomenal golf, but better than the total might indicate, considering handicap.

For two days it rained and the course was soggy. In the final rounds a wind that was nobody's delight whipped the course and did damage to long shots. A round of 76 was worthy of applause.

Cruickshank, the former Scottish amateur, whose winter golf record outshone that of any other player the country over, seemed a certain winner to the 16th hole of the last 18. But then he pulled his tee shot a foot or so out of bounds and lost two shots, to lead Farrell by one stroke. On the next hole Johnny drew abreast of his rival. The two were playing in the threesome, with Willie Burke, Lithuanian ironmonger, who was the only newcomer to provide the surprise.

On the 542-yard 18th, both had drives cutting the middle of the fairway. Farrell's brassie was clear, while Bobby's was in soft ground. Their third shots were off the green, and on the fourth Johnny was ten feet away from the pin and Bobby five. The Quaker Ridge boy holed out and Cruickshank missed, thus demonstrating once again, that in all big championships "the putt's the thing."

Farrell is a very popular figure on Canadian courses. As a very young player indeed, he made his first appearance in the Canadian Open at Lakeview, Toronto, in 1923, where in a very strong field indeed, he took fifth place with 305. In August, 1924, at the Canadian Open at Mount Bruno, he was in fourth place with 291. He did not compete in 1925, but last year was again seen at the Canadian Open at The Royal Montreal Golf Club. With the first three rounds in 69, 71 and 70 he looked all over like the winner, but in the fourth round, which was played in a blinding rain storm, he slipped badly and an ominous 81 relegated him to a tie in 5th place with C. R. Murray, The Royal Montreal, and "Tommy" Armour, the former Scottish Amateur. His brother professionals, whilst admitting that he is one of the world's greatest young golfers, have always maintained that he could not stand the strain of a fourth round in a 72-hole Championship. The Metropolitan Open last month is the answer. "Johnny" has broken "the jinx" and he will want watching in the future, as he is still in "the twenties." Farrell last year in 30 rounds of Championship golf, finished fourth among the American pros. In 1925 he won the Cuban and Florida Championships, but neither of these rank in the first class.

Johnny Farrell, who at last wins a Major Championship.

ALL MONTREAL DEFEATS ROYAL MONTREAL LADIES

FOR the first year since the inauguration of the series five seasons ago, says the Montreal "Gazette," the All-Montreal team defeated the Royal Montreal ladies' golf team when they captured the annual match played this month over the Royal Montreal course. The All-Montreal representatives, comprising leading golfers from clubs in the district, excepting Royal Montreal, took the laurels 13-10.

While not wholly unexpected, the defeat of Royal Montreal came as somewhat of a surprise. But it was only one of several that were noticeable during the contest. The sensation of the match was the defeat of Miss Dora Virtue, of the Whitlock Golf Club, and Captain of the All-Montreal team, who was beaten by Mrs. David Wanklyn, a leading golfer of the province four years ago, but who has just returned to the game this year after three years of almost complete inactivity on golf courses. Mrs. Wanklyn showed form equal to that which placed her in the first flight among the lady golfers of the province four years ago.

One of the pleasant features of the contest was the promising play of Miss Marjorie Kirkham, of the Rosemount Golf Club, a 16-year-old school-girl, who turned in an approximate 85 in winning her match with Miss Ruth Wilson, of Royal Montreal. Miss Kirkham has beautiful golf style and in her play yesterday over a course hitherto foreign to her, demonstrated golf of a championship calibre, which gives promise of greater honours in the years to come.

ANOTHER CUP FOR UNCLE SAM

AS rather predicted in the "Canadian Golfer" last month, the withdrawal of Abe Mitchell, at the last moment, owing to illness, from the British Ryder Cup Team, more or less spelled disaster. He is unquestionably to-day Great Britain's leading golfer and his place at the top of the team could not possibly be filled. It affected the whole "line-up"—just as the absence of Walter Hagen, would have the U. S. team if he had been unable to play.

Apart from Mitchell, however, the result of the Ryder Cup matches at Worcester, Mass., this month, from a British and Empire standpoint, is not any too encouraging. The golfing supremacy of the World, the past few years, has unquestionably "swung" to the United States, both from a professional and amateur standpoint. Your average American takes his sports seriously. He strives strenuously for perfection and supremacy and denies himself nothing in teaching and training to accomplish that end. That may not be the ideal of sportsmanship, but it is the U. S. method and it is indubitably a "go-getter" and a "result-getter," however much we may dislike and deride the terms.

Again, as in all important events, it was the putting that "done it." It was on the greens that the Yankees proved their absolute supremacy. The final score of $9\frac{1}{2}$ points to $2\frac{1}{2}$ points, compares with the score in England last year of $12\frac{1}{2}$ points to $1\frac{1}{2}$ points in favor of the Britishers.

The results:

Two-ball Foursomes: Johnny Farrell and Joe Turnesa defeated George Duncan and Archie Compston, 8 and 6; Aubrey Boomer and Charles Whitecombe defeated Leo Diegel and Bill Mehlhorn, 7 and 5; Gene Sarazen and Al Watrous defeated Arthur Havers and Herbert Jolly, 4 and 3; Walter Hagen and Johnny Golden defeated Ted Ray and Fred. Robson, 2 and 1. Results, U. S., 3 points; Britishers, 1 point.

The Singles—John Golden defeated Herbert Jolly 7 and 6; Leo Diegel defeated Ted Ray 7 and 5; Bill Mehlhorn defeated Archie Compston 1 up; Hagen defeated Havers 2 and 1; Al. Watrous defeated Fred. Robson 3 and 2; George Duncan defeated Joe Turnesa 1 up; Charles Whitcombe and Gene Sarazen all square; John Farrell defeated A. Boomer 5 and 4. Total, $6\frac{1}{2}$ points to $1\frac{1}{2}$. Grand total $9\frac{1}{2}$ points to $2\frac{1}{2}$ points.

THE THREE-TIMES CHAMPION HONoured BY THE LONDON HUNT CLUB

A DESPATCH from London, Ont., June 15th:

"Vice-President Dr. A. Scott's team won the annual match from President Ronald Harris at the London Hunt and Country Club this afternoon, winning 29 and halving two matches out of 45. George Mitchell's net score of 69 won for him the Kenneth C. Greene Trophy, the original of which was donated for annual competition. F. P. Riddle won the prize for the best score over the first nine holes, while Art Mitchell and Ronald Harris were tie on the last nine.

Prizes for the sealed hole competitions, 18 and under, and 19 and over, also provided ties, J. E. Farncombe and Dr. A. Duncan in the former, and G. W. Little and F. C. Morrow in the latter. The best gross score was turned in by Frank Gordon. It was an 83.

After the match an informal reception and complimentary dinner was tendered Sandy Somerville, now holder of the Canadian, Ontario and Manitoba Amateur Golf Championships. A huge photograph of the Champion, done in colors, was unveiled in a conspicuous place in the new club house, while a miniature, framed in silver, was presented to C. R. Somerville, his father."

YOUTHFUL VANCOUVER GOLFER

Wins the City of Vancouver Championship—"Charlie" McCadden Has All the Earmarks of a Coming National Champion

(Golf Editor, Vancouver "Sun")

VANCOUVER'S rising generation of golfers have just about arrived and the stars of to-day will have to look to their laurels if they are to retain command against the attack of these youngsters in the future.

This was demonstrated in no uncertain manner this month at the Shaughnessy course, when little Charlie McCadden, 16 years old, from Glen Oaks Club (this club uses the C. P. R. Langara Course to play over), galloped around the 36 holes of play to win the city golf championship in commanding style. He shot 150, three strokes lower than the veteran Bob Bone, of Shaughnessy, who finished in second place with 153 through some sensational golf in the afternoon round, when he covered the 18 holes in 73, one over par, after taking 80 in the morning.

McCadden wasn't the only youth who scintillated in the large field of golf experts who contested possession of the Begg Cup for one year. Freddy Wood, a Burnaby youngster who got his start as a caddie from Jimmy Huish, gave a splendid display of shooting from the tee and on the fairway, but lacked the putting touch. He finished well up with 158.

Montie Hill, a clean-cut lad from Glen Oaks, who has beautiful style and hits a long ball, was steady for a count of 163. Young Charlie Perkins, son of the Burnaby professional, was also prominent, getting an 84 each time around. E. A. Sharpe, another Glen Oaks youth, showed ability with a score of 169. R. Watson, Point Grey Junior, had an even 170.

Teddy McEwan, who gives the ball a long ride from the tee, was hardly up to form, but did well in the afternoon. Ron Hopkins, a young Glen Oaks performer, did his best work in the morning. Elmo Pearce and A. Scott Hill are other young fellows who showed promise.

The play of McCadden featured a most successful tournament. The youngster really clinched the title in the morning, when he played in sensational style to score 72, par for the course, which equalled the amateur record. He was three under par going out and three over par coming in. In the afternoon he played steadily for a 78, which, under the circumstances, was mighty good.

McCadden played like a veteran throughout the day. The little slim figure moved from hole to hole like a machine. His shots off the tee were good length and always true. His iron shots were crisp and straight, but it was in his chip shots to the green where he shone the brightest. In the morning round the youngster was running the ball up close to the pin for one putt or an easy two putts and he had his putter working to perfection.

It was strange to see two youths, McCadden and Wood, occupying the limelight in the afternoon when they took nearly all of the gallery. There were many who expected to see the lads crack under the heavy strain, but they provided the enthusiasts with a clever exhibition of play with wood and iron and both finished with 78's. McCadden is the son of Ernest McCadden, Manager-Secretary of the Langara Golf Course, and has shown promise on the golf links for the past two years. He started as a caddie at Shaughnessy.

Jack Fraser, Cecil Coville and Bob Gelletly, figured by many to be around the top, did not get inside the prize list. Fraser had a bad round in the morning, but came back in the afternoon. Gelletly played his usual steady game for 155 to finish third, but Coville could not do better than fifth with 159.

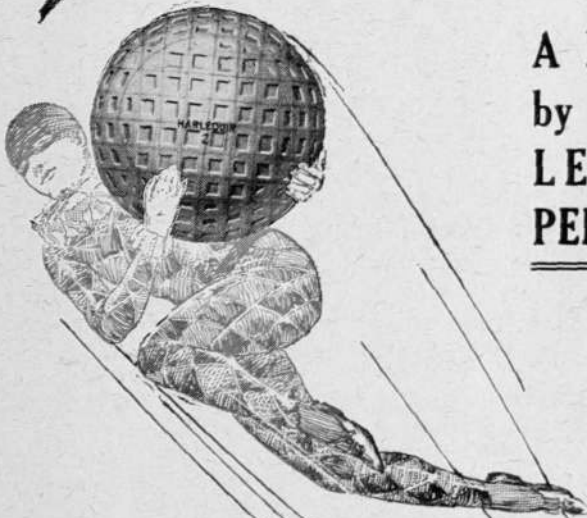

Bone took the runner-up prize and A. L. Hughes, of Shaughnessy, upheld the honour of the left-handed players by grabbing the prize for low net score with 141 as the result of 20 handicap for the first two rounds.

Jim Shaw, one of the prettiest players in the game, was well up.

Shaughnessy course, always hard to score on owing to the many traps, was in perfect condition and the weather could hardly have been improved upon. The genial "Mac" had the starting in good style, while "Jack" Leith acted as scorer. Secretary Andy Smith, of the inter-club committee, was in charge of the big show, while Secretary Serougal, of Shaughnessy, looked after the wants of the visitors.

"Charlie" McCadden, the youthful champion, will not be 16 years of age until next month. He deserves great credit, for he beat many old heads at the Royal and Ancient in achieving such a high honour. Charlie was well up in the running last year, when he finished fifth. Early this year, paired with Roy Herne, former pro. at the Hastings course, he beat Walter Hagen, American Open Champion, and Nat Cornfoot, of Langara.

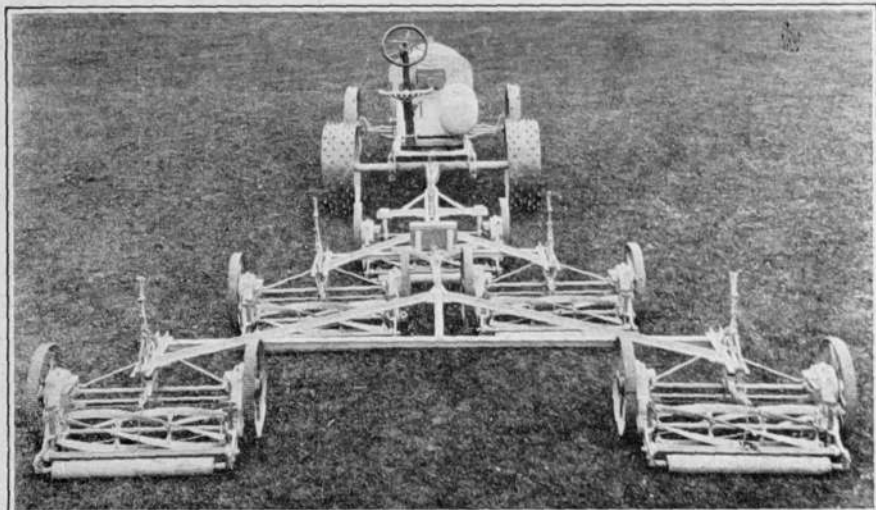

NEWS OF THE MIDDLE WEST

Western Golf Now In Full Swing—Victoria Day Marks Formal Opening of Many Clubs—Brandon Retains Hutchings Trophy

ONCE again the defenders warded off an attack on the Hutchings Trophy when the Brandon Golf and Country Club came out of the match played on Saturday with a team from the Alcrest Club with a winning margin of nineteen points. Ten members of the Winnipeg Club made the trip, and reported an enjoyable time when they returned to the city on Sunday morning. They were right in the hunt for possession of the trophy until the last two matches came in, the Brandon Club being then only one hole up on the entire game. The last two members of the challenging team, however, fared badly, one of them finishing eight holes down, while the other was ten to the bad. The Brandon Club will now be called on to defend the trophy against the Portage la Prairie golfers.

Perfect weather conditions and a course in splendid shape featured the official 1927 opening of the Winnipeg Golf Club when 16 foursomes participated in the annual President vs. Vice-President match, victory going to President G. E. Hunter by 8 to 6. The fairways were in mid-season condition and the greens, which were put into use for the first time, were beyond reproach for this time of the year. The enthusiasm shown by the membership augurs well for a most successful season for the pioneer club of the Springfield District. Competition for the special prizes offered was keen. George Howson was the winner of the award for the lowest card returned, with 84. The prize for four hidden holes went to Dr. R. S. Ramsay, G. S. Matheson, A. S. Bond and Dr. E. C. Barnes, but only after several players

At a meeting of the Manitoba Branch of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union recently, it was decided that the dates of the inter-club championships should be changed from June 6, 7 and 8, as scheduled, to June 27, 28 and 29. The change was deemed advisable owing to the recent wet weather, which has not only left many of the courses in a backward condition, but has also given the players little chance to get into their regular form. The City and District Championship, which was fixed for June 20, 21, 22 and 23, will be held as scheduled, and will therefore be the opening event of the competitive season for local lady golfers.

Twelve foursomes took part in the first inter-club match played this season between the Winnipeg and Southwood Golf Clubs on the course of the former at Birds Hill, resulting in a victory for the home team by 8 matches to 4. The ladies' sections of the Winnipeg Clubs are promised a season replete with many interesting features, seventeen events extending from May 24th to September 16th are scheduled at Norwood. At the Winnipeg Club the opening field day brought out a record entry, prizes being won by Mrs. L. T. Ainley, Mrs. W. J. Crowley and play-offs will take place between Mrs. M. A. Parker, Mrs. B. A. Thompson and Mrs. Theo Kipp and Mrs. Gordon Ritchie.

Members of the Elgin Golf Club spent an enjoyable day on the course on May 24th, when the men were the only performers in the morning and a mixed foursome competition was held in the afternoon and evening. Owing to the weather, the course was very heavy, and no sensational scores were returned, although much spirited competition was in evidence. The members of the club are now busy putting in all available practice for the "Free Press" competition.

18th with a mixed foursome match representing the President and Vice-President. There was a large turnout of the district golfers and the people of Minnedosa can now look forward to golf under first-class playing conditions. There has been a strong executive appointed, and a budget has been presented to the directors covering the year's expenses. A new clubhouse is being erected with a spacious verandah, and the contractor figures the building will be complete in three weeks' time. The match committee is arranging matches a month ahead for Wednesday afternoons, these to be published from time to time.

The ladies of the club organized last month and elected Mrs. C. C. King as President, and Mrs. R. J. Malloy Secretary-Treasurer. Committees were appointed from the members to handle the different phases of the game and are very enthusiastic in the anticipation of a good summer's play.

At the last meeting of the executive it was unanimously decided to place a team in the field for the "Free Press" competition and the official entry is being handed in at an early date. Minnedosa last year put up an enthusiastic team and they were very proud to be in the district in which Mr. Crawford was the winner. This event adds a great stimulus to golf here and it is the hope of everyone that this competition is made a permanent yearly event. * * *

A fifty-five acre golf course has been purchased jointly by citizens of Grandview and Gilbert Plains, Manitoba. The site chosen lays midway between the two towns and its east boundary is formed by the Valley River. Charter members comprise 35 from each town, so that the new club will have a membership of 70 to commence. The name of the club has not been chosen, but it will probably be called the Valley River Golf Club. The first meeting of the directors is to be held shortly. A club house will be erected and a portion of the grounds will be laid out as a park for the children.

THE AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP OF CANADA

All Golfing Roads Next Month Will Lead to Ancaster, Ontario, the Home of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club—Record Number of Entrants Already Assured From All Parts of Canada and the United States

THE official programme of the Canadian Amateur Golf Association for 1927 has been issued by Mr. B. L. Anderson, Secretary of The Royal Canadian Golf Association. The dates, as previously announced, are Monday, July 4th to Saturday, July 9th, and the venue is the Hamilton Golf and Country Club course at Ancaster, Ont. The handicap limit is 10. A 36-hole qualifying round will be played on Monday, July 4th, the 32 players returning the lowest scores to qualify for Championship play. Following the qualifying rounds, each round will be 36 holes match play, commencing on Tuesday, with the semi-finals on Friday and the Final on Saturday.

Any competitor entering from another country shall enter through the Secretary of the recognized authority controlling golf in the country from which he elects to enter. A declaration, signed by the Secretary, that the entrant is an amateur golfer in accordance with the regular definition, must accompany the entry.

All entries shall be subject to the approval of the Executive Committee of the R. C. G. A.

The entrance fee shall be $5.00, and must be received by the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. B. L. Anderson, 357 Bay Street, Toronto 2, not later than Thursday, June 30th. No entries will be received after this date.

The Inter-Provincial Championship of Canada, to be competed for by a team of four players from any province in the Dominion (the Maritime Provinces to be considered a province), will be held on Saturday, July 2nd, on the course of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club, at Ancaster, Ontario. The match to consist of 36 holes medal play. The team having the lowest aggregate score shall be the winner. The R. C. G. A. Trophy for this match shall be held for that year by the Province so declared the winner.

Teams are already assured for this interesting event from Ontario, Quebec, Alberta and Manitoba. Entries for this match shall be made to the Secretary-Treasurer, not later than Thursday, June 30th, and shall be made by the Secretary of the Provincial Association. No entry fee will be enacted.

Indications are that the beautiful and testing Ancaster Links the week of July 4th will see the greatest gathering of leading amateurs ever witnessed in the history of golf in Canada. There will be many prominent U. S. entrants in addition to all the leading players of Canada, from Halifax to Calgary.

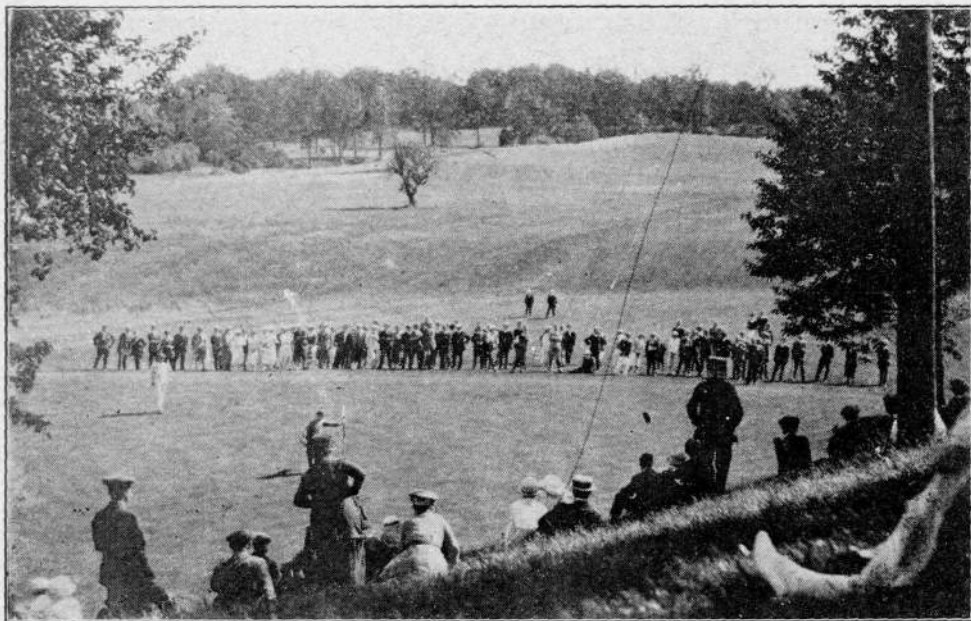

The present holder of the title is Mr. Ross Somerville, of the London Hunt Club, London, Ont., who defeated in the final Mr. C. C. Fraser, of the Kanawaki Club, Montreal, by 4 and 3. Like Mr. Somerville, Mr. Fraser is not

He found them particularly to his liking in 1922, when he won the Canadian Amateur Championship, defeating Mr. Norman Scott, of The Royal Montreal, on the 37th hole. All three of these well known amateurs will be at Ancaster next month to again strive for titular honours.

The Ancaster course is situated on the Hamilton and Brantford Highway, some seven miles from the City of Hamilton, and sixteen miles from Brantford. The club is easy of access by Suburban Railway. The headquarters of the entrants will generally speaking, be at Hamilton, where there are excellent hotels. As however first-class accommodation is limited, entrants would be well advised to write Mr. J. G. McAlpine, Secretary of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club, Ancaster, Ont., for any information desired. He will gladly attend to correspondence.

The following will be the measurement of the holes for the Championship:

No. 1, 410 yds., par 4; No. 2, 450 yds., par 5; No. 3, 380 yds., par 4; No. 4, 500 yds., par 5; No. 5, 310 yds., par 4; No. 6, 200 yds., par 3; No. 7, 355 yds., par 4; No. 8, 155 yds., par 3; No. 9, 425 yds., par 4; out 3,185 yds., par 36. HAVERS WOULD LIKE TO TOUR CANADA

ARTHUR HAVERS, the dashing ex-Open British Champion and member of the Ryder-Cup Team, was very much taken with what he saw of Canada, during his all too brief visit to Toronto and Montreal, and tells the "Canadian Golfer," paired up with Aubrey Boomer or some other good player, he would like very much to make a tour of the Dominion next year.

Havers is a most likeable and clean-cut chap and has a dashing game in his bag which always appeals to the gallery. It is hoped that arrangements can be made for exhibition matches along the lines he suggests. It is some time now, since any of the acknowledged experts have toured Canada and 1928 would seem to be a seasonable opportunity to again stage a series of exhibition games. There is no question that such matches are alike enjoyable and educative.

OUR "HOLE-IN-ONE" CLUB

Make No Mistake About It, It Is Going To Be a Record Year For Canadian One-shotters In 1927

REPORTS of "Oneers" are coming in fast and furious this season from the far-flung golfing fields of the Dominion. The Editor has pleasure in reporting the following elected to Membership in "Our Club," since the May issue:

Fred. C. Fletcher is the popular pro of the Moose Jaw Golf Club, where the big Canadian Western Championships are to be held next month. He is "some swatter," is Freddie, because he chose the 15th hole at Moose Jaw to record the feat, and that particular hole is 300 yards in length. Very few golfers the world-over have ever made a hole over 300 yards, in one. The record as a matter of fact, is 330 yards, held by Mr. R. R. Burton, the former Oxford crack golfer.

The first lady player in Canada this season to find "the tin from the tee" is Mrs. Mulholland, Brookfield Road, York Mills P. O., a member of the York Downs Golf Club. She made the 14th hole at York Downs, 160 yards, in one. Hearty congratulations. Incidentally Mrs. Mulholland has the honour of being the first lady "one-shotter" to win a pretty case of silver bon bon dishes given by Ellis Bros., Jewellers and Silversmiths, Toronto, for this feat.

The Wayne Club, Wayne, Alberta, held a very successful Field Day May 24th. After the competitions, Mr. T. Jones, a new-comer to the club this season, playing with Mr. G. Powell, negotiated the 7th hole, 233 yards, in one. This is the first time in some three years, that a Wayne golfer has "turned the trick."

The scene shifts to the oldest golf club in America. Playing with Messrs. A. P. S. Glasco and G. S. M. Davison, Mr. C. W. C. Tyre, a member of The Royal Montreal Golf Club, found "the cup from the tee" on the 11th hole—160 yards, at Dixie.

Then from "Down by the Sounding Sea" comes word of the stunt. Playing his first game of the season, Mr. J. A. Chisholm, Chairman of the Green Committee of the Antigonish, N. S., Club, "sank his tee-shot" at the sporting 8th hole. Mr. J. A. McKenna witnessed the notable performance.

Back again to Alberta. Mr. Ralph Nelson, playing over the Hanna Course with Messrs. Lawrence D. Warwick and Victor Spence, put over a beauty at the 117 yard third hole and his ball gently trickled into the cup.

THE R. WILSON SHOE STORE, Hamilton, Ontario

Established 1863

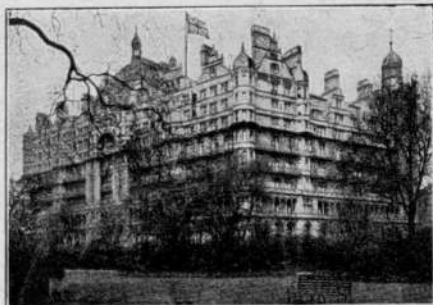

It gives the Editor particular pleasure to enrol Mr. F. R. (Fritz) Martin, of Hamilton, twice Amateur Champion of Canada, as a member of the "Hole-in-One" Club." Mr. Martin was one of the very first golfers to enrol his name on the "Canadian Golfer" subscription lists thirteen years ago. He won't have "to come across with four simoleons" this year because on May 31st he made a perfect tee-shot at the difficult 13th hole, 205 yards, on the Ancaster Links, whilst playing with Mr. H. U. Hart. The ex-champion many years ago twice recorded the stunt on the old Hamilton course, but this is his "first offence" at Ancaster.

Two King's Counsels, in widely divergent places, report the feat this month. Mr. F. J. Fulton, K. C., is one of the pioneer members of the Kamloops Golf Club, Kamloops, B. C., and is also a member of the B. C. Seniors' Golf Association, and has done much to help along the game in British Columbia. Playing with Mr. G. W. Black, he successfully negotiated the 9th hole, 149 yards, on the Kamloops Course with his tee shot. Mr. R. C. McMichael, K. C., is a member of the Mount Bruno Country Club. He chose the 8th hole at this famous Montreal course for the feat.

Once again Vancouver. Playing over the Vancouver Golf and Country Club with Captain C. H. Perkins, the well known professional, and Mr. J. MacKenzie, Mr. E. L. Lewis negotiated a "oneer" at the celebrated 120 yard third hole ("The Punch Bowl.")

And once more Vancouver. This time the scene shifts to the Marine Drive Golf and Country Club, in that city of many golfers. Mr. Russell Beatty, a member of the Club, while playing in a Cup Match with Dr. C. H. Inkster, "found the cup" on the 14th hole, and promptly proceeded to pay the time-honoured penalty at the near-by club house, in "cups galore."

Mr. Walter H. Reeves is the Captain of the Belleville Golf Club, so it is quite appropriate that he should be the first golfer of that city to report a "one-shot" this year. He recorded the performance at the 4th hole on the Belleville course, 152 yards.

The Essex County Golf and Country Club, Sandwich, Ont., can always be depended upon "to get into the picture" every season. The first to report from that well known Border City Club this year is Mr. J. R. Miller. He bagged a "oneer" at the 5th hole, 115 yards.

Mr. W. Kinniard, playing over the Riverside Golf and Country Club, one of Toronto's latest golfing courses, had the great pleasure of recording a one at the 4th hole—115 yards—the first of the season for Riverside.

Always pleased to record "one-shot" performances from the Public Courses. Playing in a four-ball match at the Chedoke Civic Golf Course, Hamilton, Mr. Frank Murray, got off to a splendid season's start when he made the third hole at Chedoke, 150 yards, in one.

Not to be outdone by the oldest golf club in America, The Mount Royal, a member put the Toronto Golf Club, the oldest in Ontario, "on the map" recently. Mr. E. P. Beatty, a popular player of that club, playing with Mr. Duncan Robinson, negotiated the 14th hole, 150 yards, with his tee-shot. This is the first time for some years that the Toronto course has recorded the stunt.

Vancouver unquestionably holds the record for any city for one-shotters. "They grow 'em there." Playing over the Point Grey Golf and Country Club course, Vancouver, Mr. J. A. McGeer, the Captain of the Club, made the 150 yard 7th in one. "His partners in crime" were W. G. T. Cunningham, Vice-President of the Club; Mr. L. C. Macken, Chairman of the House Committee, and Mrs. F. P. Archibald.

Mr. W. E. Hume, playing at Mississauga, on June 5th, registered the first "oneer" of the season at this popular Toronto Club. He "slapped one in" at the sporting 11th hole.

Mr. Max Smith, Winnipeg, Sales and Western Manager for Meakins & Sons, Ltd., Hamilton, with a Branch at Winnipeg, during a business visit to Edmonton, Alta., chose the 103 yard 10th hole at the pretty Municipal Course in that city (the first Public Links, by the way, to be opened in Canada, there are now over a score of such courses), to record the stunt. He was playing at the time with Messrs. A. M. Mitchell, C. Muir and F. W. Kemp. Congratulations.

Our good friends the professionals, don't often indulge in the luxury of a "oneer" to help along their cards. However, T. Wilson, the very efficient pro. of the prominent Calgary golf and Country Club, decided June 5th "to turn the trick." Playing with Mr. A. J. Toole and Mr. Briscoe, the Secretary of the Club, he negotiated the 17th hole, a distance of 175 yards, in one.

Mr. E. S. Keith, another member of the Calgary Club, also performed the stunt this month. Playing with Mrs. Keith he chose the second hole, 120 yards, for the performance.

Mr. R. A. Witherspoon, Vice-President and General Manager of the Canada Carbide Co., Shawinigan Falls, is a welcome new member to our club. He sank his tee shot on the 9th hole of the Shawinigan course on June 11th.

Vancouver is certainly in the spot-light this month. Mr. G. T. Cunningham, of the Point Grey Golf and Country Club, playing the 120 yard third hole with Messrs. F. O. Hodgson, M. Eastman and E. J. Ryan, bagged a "one-shot."

On the same course Mr. H. S. Cove, of the Jericho Country Club, Vancouver, "bagged his" at the 100 yard eleventh hole. "Some one-shotters" these Vancouverites.

Glad to hear from Midland. Playing over the interesting 9-hole course in this flourishing town, Mr. H. J. Wisner made the 8th hole, 168 yards, in one. Good work.

Wetaskiwin, Alberta, makes its first bow. Playing over the course there, Mr. J. R. McClure, Barrister, of Red Deer, Alberta, June 12th in an inter-club match against Mr. Wm. Prest, Manager of the Bank of Montreal, Wetaskiwin, made the third hole, 107 yards, in one stroke.

Mr. Lloyd Anderson, playing with his brother, joined the Hole-in-one Club June 13th, when he negotiated the sixth hole at St. Charles Country Club, Winnipeg, in a single stroke. The hole measures 170 yards, the shot being made with an iron.

The Bayview Golf and Country Club, Toronto, has an entrant this month. Mr. H. H. Sykes on June 16th, playing with Mr. E. H. Day, of Islington, and Dr. W. S. McClinton, of the Midland Golf Club, found "the tin from the tee" on the 12th hole, 162 yards.

A fair lady golfer very appropriately winds up our list this month. Mrs. R. H. Stevenson, wife of Dr. Stevenson, President of the Danville Country Club, Danville, Que., playing with Mesdames A. E. Leet and C. Parmelee, accomplished the feat at the 6th hole, 135 yards, on the Danville Course. Lady golfers are always particularly welcome members in our "Hole-in-one" Club.

Total "One Shotters" registered this season to June 15th, 40.

Secretaries are reminded in sending in Hole-in-One Cards that the business or private address of players performing the feat, must accompany the notification, otherwise the "Canadian Golfer" can not be forwarded to them.

ONTARIO LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP

Miss Ada Mackenzie and Mrs. Gordon Ferrie for the Fifth Time in Six Years Meet in the Final at Burlington, the Former Winning. The 1926 Champion, Mrs. Whittington, and Mrs. Ferrie, tie with 85 for Best Medal Score—A Record Number of Entrants and An Admirably Run Tournament

AS a result of the Ontario Championships this month, the outstanding woman player of the Dominion and the outstanding man player each now wear a triple golfing crown, a circumstance never before recorded in Canada. Miss Ada Mackenzie, of Mississauga, Toronto, added to her titles of Lady Open and Lady Close Champion of Canada that of Ontario Lady Champion, and Mr. Ross Somerville, of the London Hunt Club, holder of the Canadian Amateur and Manitoba Amateur titles that of the Ontario Man's Championship. Both by their consistent and steady play throughout the respective events deserve to wear the triple honour.

Miss Ada Mackenzie in the final for the Ontario Championship, which was staged on the really beautiful course of the Burlington Golf and Country Club, for the fifth time in six years met the brilliant Hamiltonian, Mrs. Gordon Ferrie, and defeated her 2 and 1. In 1922 Miss Ada won from Mrs. Ferrie, 4 and 3. In 1923, by 2 and 1, and then in 1924 Mrs. Ferrie came back when she defeated the Toronto ace 1 up and repeated in 1925 by a 2 up victory. The many times rivals had again a battle royal at Burlington, but the Amateur Champion was a little steadier on the greens and as a result once again proved the winner. In the five encounters the past six years, Miss Mackenzie has therefore won three times and Mrs. Ferrie twice. Neither competed in the 1926 Championship, which was won by Mrs. Whittington, of the Toronto Club, but who was early put out of the running this month by Mrs. Douglas Weld, of the London Hunt, a very good player indeed. As Mrs. Ferrie captured the Ontario Championship in 1921 when it was revived after the war, both she and Miss Mackenzie have now each won titular honours three times.

On a perfect June day one hundred and sixty of the leading lady golfers of Ontario "teed-up" for the Qualifying Round. This easily constitutes a record for this Championship. At

Miss Jean Haslett, of Hamilton, the Capable President of the Ontario Branch of the C. L. G. U.

London last year there were ninety-four entries, which shows how golf is increasing with marvellous strides in Ontario and how the fair sex with vim and vigour are taking to the game.

It was a most representative field, all the former champions being in attendance, whilst there was a galaxy of younger and less experienced players, many of whom give promise of making a golfing name for themselves in the years to come.

The Directors and the officials of the Burlington Golf and Country Club and the professional, Anderson, and his staff (and there is no better man than Anderson in Ontario), had spared neither time nor money to have the course in splendid shape and the entrants on the opening day and the succeeding days had nothing but praise for both fairways and greens. There are many holes at Burlington, feature holes, whilst the turf mat through the fairways leave little to be desired. Ideally situated, with a vista of lake and woods and hills, the course is unquestionably to-day one of the most attractive in Canada. There is a great future ahead of the Burlington Golf and Country Club, especially if the plans of the Directors to acquire more property and possibly have a 9-hole course as well as an 18-hole course come to fruition, and they likely will.

From 9 o'clock in the morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon of Monday, June 6th, the pairs were sent away and by lunch time several fine scores appeared on the scoring board. Two notable performances were those of Mrs. Whittington, the 1926 Champion, and Mrs. Gordon Ferrie. Playing together they both carded 85's—good going on quite a stiff course like Burlington. Other scores in the eighties were Mrs. Mulqueen, Miss Mackenzie and Miss E. Mills. tington (85), Mrs. Mulqueen (88), Mrs. Wrong, Miss Elmsley and Mrs. Hay (tied with 90). Tied for second place with 371 were Hamilton and York Downs. For Hamilton Mrs. Ferrie (85), Miss Effie Nesbitt (92), Miss Wright (95), Miss Morrison, Mrs. Bostwick and Miss Ellis (tied with 99). York Downs, Miss Mills (89), Miss C. Smith (91), Mrs. D. Coulson (97), Mrs. Pepall (100).

Scores of 95 and better qualified for the coveted Championship Flight. There were three 95's, but in the play-off Mrs. Douglas Weld won and had the honour subsequently, of putting out the 1926 Champion, Mrs. Whittington.

And here is how the matches resulted in the Championship round by round from Tuesday until the final on Friday afternoon:

First Round:

Mrs. Douglas Weld, London Hunt, defeated Mrs. E. W. Whittington, Toronto Golf, 2 up.

Miss Cecil Smith, York Downs, defeated Miss M. Elmsley, Toronto Golf, 4 and 2.

Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto Ladies, defeated Miss C. McKay, Essex County, 3 and 2.

Miss Evelyn Mills, York Downs, defeated Mrs. r. K. Heywood, Rosedale, 1 up.

Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen, Toronto Golf, defeated Miss M. Laird, Toronto Golf, 3 and 2.

Mrs. Hume Wrong, Toronto Golf, defeated Mrs. W. K. Fraser, Toronto Golf, 3 and 2.

Mrs. Strathearn Hay, Toronto Golf, defeated Miss Willo Gage, Toronto Ladies, 2 up.

Mrs. Gordon Ferrie, Hamilton, defeated Miss E. C. Nesbitt, Hamilton, 6 and 4.

Second Round:

Miss Cecil Smith, York Downs, defeated Mrs. Douglas Weld, London Hunt, 4 and 3.

Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto Ladies, defeated Miss Evelyn Mills, York Downs, 5 and 3.

Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen, Toronto Golf, defeated Mrs. Hume Wrong, Toronto Golf, 2 and 1.

Mrs. Gordon Ferrie, Hamilton, defeated Mrs. Strathearn Hay, Toronto Golf, 3 and 2.

Third Round:

Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto Ladies, defeated Miss Cecil Smith, York Downs, 8 and 7.

Mrs. Gordon Ferrie, Hamilton, defeated Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen, Toronto Golf, 6 and 5.

Final:

Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto Ladies, defeated Mrs. Gordon Ferrie, Hamilton Golf and Country Club, 2 and 1.

As previously mentioned, the big upset of the first round was the defeat of the defending champion, Mrs. Whittington, by Mrs. Douglas Weld, of the London Hunt, 2 up. The match was a very close one for the first twelve holes, each player having won five and neither one being more than one in front. After squaring the match by winning the twelfth, Mrs. Whittington took the next two, to put her two up with four to play, but Mrs. Weld then came through with a smashing rally, playing the last four holes in one over par and winning each one of them. Mrs. Weld had an approximate score of 84.

Miss Cecil Smith, of York Downs, who drives a very long ball and plays a sparkling game, in this round sprang into notice by defeating Miss Elmsley, of the Toronto Club, 4 and 2. All the favourites came through as expected.

In the second round Miss Smith proved that she would have to be reckoned with, when she accounted for Mrs. Weld by the comfortable margin of 4 and 3. In the third round, however, she found the Canadian Champion playing the best golf of the week. Miss Mackenzie was out in 37, or one under par, and that would have been too much for even the most seasoned player. Miss Smith was eliminated by 8 and 7, but she is a young golfer who will have to be reckoned with in the future, when she gains more experience. In this round Mrs. Ferrie also played very fine golf indeed. She was out in 39 and eventually defeated Mrs. Mulqueen, the Toronto expert, whose return to golf is a most welcome one, by 6 and 5.

A very large gallery followed the Final on Friday afternoon between the many times Champions and the play throughout was keenly followed. Neither Mrs. Ferrie or Miss Mackenzie duplicated their brilliant play of the previous day, but then Finals usually witness the poorest golf of the week, the strain generally commencing to tell. A heavy rain, too, during the afternoon militated somewhat against good scores.

Both were off in their putting, and three putts were the order on more than half the greens. Mrs. Ferrie won the first hole and after Miss Mackenzie squared the match by taking the second and going in front by winning the third, the loser was never on even terms, making the turn one down.

Miss Ada Mackenzie, Winner for the Third Time of Ontario Ladies' Championship.

After turning for home both players fell away and of the seven holes each took one or more strokes over par on all but two. The winner increased her margin by winning the tenth, but she lost the eleventh. Of the next six holes, five were halved, Miss Mackenzie winning the fourteenth. The cards were:

Miss Mackenzie:

Out 6,4,5, 5,5,4, 4,5,5=43
In 4,7,7, 6,5,4, 4,5,

Mrs. Ferrie:

Out 5,5,6, 5,6,3, 4,5,5=44

BROWN PATCH

THE greens committee, the greenskeeper, and the members all know it's there, but they can't catch it. Whether their grass is susceptible, or their soil harbors the dread disease—they're not sure. But just as soon as warm, humid weather sets in, the "crimes" begin, the crimes against turf that costs as much as $100 a square yard. Ugly brown patches splotch the beautiful green. In a twinkling the grass is dead and new brown patches spring up, perhaps on a distant fairway. No clues, no hints, no explanation!

But no longer. Now you can solve the mystery, stop those crimes, destroy deadly "brown patch" and prevent its return. The solution is—

SEMESAN

The Approved Control and Preventive of Brown Patch

Quickly destroys the fungus (Rhizoctonia solani), which produces BROWN PATCH, and, if the grass has not been already killed, enables it to recover. When applied as directed, SEMESAN will completely prevent Brown Patch even in the worst Brown Patch weather.

Easily applied in either its original dust form or as a liquid. The cost is insignificant—a mere fraction of the cost of repairing your greens after one attack of Brown Patch. Cannot harm the finest grasses.

Ferrie was the more consistent of the pair on the greens, and this enabled her to keep within striking distance of her opponent, although she, too, missed more than one putt which would have put her on even terms, noticeably on the 16th and 17th greens.

Owing to the large number of entrants, provision had to be made for no fewer than eight flights of the players, in addition to the Championship Consolation, and throughout the week interesting competitions by the score took place. There was some excellent play seen in many of these flights, especially in the Championship Consolation and the first Flight, where many exciting matches were staged and many good scores were turned in. The results of these many flights were:

Championship beaten eight—Mrs. Whittington, Toronto Golf Club, defeated Mrs. W. K. Fraser, Toronto Golf Club, 5 and 4.

First flight—Mrs. E. R. Allison, Lambton, defeated Mrs. W. S. Hunt, Sarnia, 4 and 2.

Second Flight—Mrs. Sidney Jones, Toronto Golf, defeated Mrs. T. J. Gray, York Downs, 1 up.

Third Flight—Mrs. Blackburn, Lakeview, defeated Mrs. D. A. Campbell, Lambton, at the 20th hole.

Fourth Flight—Mrs. Victor Sifton, Toronto Ladies, defeated Mrs. C. A. Boone, Toronto Golf, 3 and 2.

Fifth Flight—Mrs. F. W. White, Jr., Hamilton, defeated Mrs. J. S. McCaughey, Burlington, 5 and 3.

Sixth Flight—Mrs. W. McGregor, Essex County, defeated Mrs. K. Strothers, Toronto Ladies, 4 and 3.

Seventh Flight—Mrs. J. Gairdner, Oakville, defeated Miss H. Cooper, Weston, 6 and 4.

Eighth Flight—Mrs. Rutherford, Owen Sound, defeated Mrs. A. S. Smith, 4 and 2.

And here is a really remarkable record. There was not a single default registered in the seventy-two matches scheduled in the nine flights. That shows how sporting are the fair golfers of Ontario.

The results of the driving competitions during the Tournament were:

Silver Division—Aggregate drives: 1, Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen, Toronto Golf, 552 yards; 2, Mrs. Victor Sifton, Toronto Golf, 493 yards; 3, Mrs. Hume Wrong, Toronto Golf, 490 yards.

Longest drive: Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto Ladies, 200 yards; 2, Mrs. F. J. Mul-queen, Toronto Golf, 197 yards; 3, Mrs. F. T. Large, York Downs, 188 yards.

Bronze Division—Aggregate drives: Mrs. H. Clarke, Humber Valley, 388 yards; 2, Mrs. G. W. Houston, Glendale, 333 yards; 3, Mrs. Powell, St. Catharines, 295 yards.

Longest drive: 1, Mrs. Grace Lennard, Hamilton, 167 yards; 2, Mrs. H. G. Jacob, Humber Valley, 163 yards; 3, Mrs. F. W. Armstrong, 157 yards.

The winners of the approaching and putting play-offs were:

Silver Division—1, Mrs. A. H. Woods, Sault Ste. Marie; 2, Miss Effie Nesbitt, Hamilton.

Bronze Division—1, Mrs. W. Cumming, Humber Valley; 2, Mrs. Gooch, Glendale.

PRIZE LIST.

The following is the Prize List of this record Ladies' Championship:

Championship—Winner, Dunlop Rubber Co. Trophy, Miss Mackenzie; runner-up, Mrs. Gordon C. Ferrie.

Championship Semi-finalists—Miss Cecil Smith, York Downs; Mrs. Mulqueen, Toronto Golf Club.

Championship Consolation—Winner, Mrs. Whittington; runner-up, Mrs. Fraser.

C. L. G. U. Trophy, Club Team Match; Toronto Golf Club. Players—1, Mrs. Whittington; 2, Mrs. Mulqueen; 3, Mrs. Wrong; 4, Mrs. Hay, Miss Elmsley and Mrs. Wrong (will play off at own Club).

Best Gross Score—Mrs. Ferrie, Hamilton Golf Club, presented by Mrs. M. Graydon; Mrs. Whittington, Toronto Golf, presented by Miss Haslett.

Best Net Score—Mrs. White, Hamilton Golf, Thermos Jug; Mrs. Strathearn Hay, Toronto Golf, Cigarette Box; Miss Mary Donald, Burlington Golf, Picture Frame.

First Flight—Winner, Mrs. E. R. Allison, Lambton; runner-up, Mrs. W. S. Hunt, Sarnia.

Second Flight—Winner, Mrs. Stanley Jones, Toronto Golf; runner-up, Mrs. J. T. Gray, York Downs.

Third Flight—Winner, Mrs. Blackburn, Lakeview; runner-up, Mrs. D. A. Campbell, Lambton.

Fourth Flight—Mrs. Victor Sifton, Toronto Golf; runner-up, Mrs. C. A. Boone, Toronto Golf.

Fifth Flight—Winner, Mrs. F. W. White, Hamilton Golf; runner-up, Mrs. J. S. McCaughey, Glendale.

Sixth Flight—Winner, Mrs. Walter McGregor, Essex County; runner-up, Mrs. K. Strother, Toronto Ladies.

Seventh Flight—Mrs. J. Gairdner, Oakville; runner-up, Mrs. H. Cooper, Weston.

Eighth Flight—Winner, Mrs. A. Rutherford, Owen Sound; runner-up, Mrs. A. A. Smith, Deer Park.

Driving—Silver Division—Three best drives: Mrs. Mulqueen, Toronto Golf; Longest drive: Miss Mackenzie, Toronto Ladies' Golf.

Driving—Bronze Division—Three best drives, Mrs. H. Clark, Humber Valley; Longest drive, Miss Lennard, Hamilton Golf Club.

Approaching and Putting—Silver Division—1, Mrs. A. H. Wood, Sault Ste. Marie; 2, Miss E. C. Nesbitt, Hamilton Golf Club.

Mrs. Gordon Ferrie, of Hamilton, Runner-up in Ontario Ladies' Championship.

Approaching and Putting—Bronze Division—1, Mrs. Cumming, Humber Valley; 2, Mrs. C. Gooch, Glendale Golf Club.

The presentation of the prizes was presided over by Miss Jean Haslett, the most capable President of the newly formed Ontario Branch of the C. L. G. U., assisted by Mrs. Alex. F. Rodger, Toronto, Vice-President of the C. L. G. U., and officers of the Ontario Branch and the Burlington Golf Club.

ANOTHER CIVIC COURSE FOR ONTARIO

Brantford Parks Board Inaugurates Most Successfully An Attractive 9-Hole Course in the City Limits

ARROWDALE, Brantford's municipal golf course, was formally opened on May 24th, the weeping of the weatherman the previous day having changed to clear, if overcast skies for the day. The course was heavy, but the event went off very successfully, and the members of the Parks Board who were present were genuinely pleased with the compliments passed out by the visiting golfers, who declared the course an unusually fine one for a civic nine-hole links. Several cups were offered and a match game resulted in $50 for the Parks Board coffers.

Mr. A. T. Whitaker, chairman of the Parks Board golf committee, acted as chairman for the formal ceremonies. He paid tribute to Mr. F. W. Westbrook, a member of the Board, who had initiated the idea, and to Mr. E. L.

Cockshutt, whose generosity had done much to make it a reality (Mr. Cockshutt gave the handsome sum of $1,500 towards the building of the course). He then called upon visiting golf and civic dignitaries for brief talks.

Mr. Gomer Thomas, chairman of the Parks Board, amplified the welcome extended to the visiting golfers.

Mr. Ralph Connable, "father of municipal golf in Ontario," congratulated the Brantford Board on its foresight, regretting that Toronto had not been found so sympathetic. Mr. Connable spoke in the highest terms of the "Arrowdale" course. He had never seen links in better condition for the first season. He was most complimentary in this respect, and paid a well-deserved compliment to Superintendent Waller, of the Parks Board, and J. Croucher, the Head Greenkeeper and General Supervisor of the Course.

Major J. A. D. Slein complimented the Parks Board for the nature of the course, and the efficient way in which they had financed it without burdening the taxpayers.

Mr. D. S. Large, President of the Brantford Golf and Country Club, extended congratulations and sincerely proffered the co-operation of his club directors and staff to the Arrowdale Club.

Mr. R. H. Reville, editor of the "Canadian Golfer," referred to the record of Brantford as the hub of golf in Canada, having the second oldest club in Ontario and fourth in North America, with a golf history anteceding that, being the centre of golf club manufactures, and now having a municipal course.

Mr. George Martin, President of the Chedoke Public Golf Course, Hamilton, believed Brantford fortunate in having a Parks Board which would meet the needs of its citizens. Hamilton Parks Board had laughed a delegation out of court when they suggested that Hamilton take over the available course there, but to-day the course was paying the Parks Board over $6,000 a year and meeting all expenses. Before leaving Brantford Mr. Martin most generously contributed $25 towards the furniture fund of the new club.

Mr. A. T. Whittaker regretted the absence of Mr. E. L. Cockshutt, who had been so generous in assisting in the financing of the course, and the purchase of the club house equipment, and announced that cups had been presented by W. H. Webling, K. V. Bunnell, and Company, E. C. Gould an announcement supplemented later, since two cups were offered for competition by Ralph Connable, to be contested for by the Humber Valley Public Club and the Brantford Municipal Club, and D. S. Large, President of the Brantford Golf and Country Club, offered a cup.

Play was then started, George Martin driving off the first ball, as a visiting head of a municipal course, he being one of a foursome, the other three players being E. C. Gould, John Lewis and C. Sheppard.

The following game was between Messrs. Ralph Connable, R. H. Reville, ex-Ald. K. V. Bunnell and R. W. Reville, for $50, the loser to pay the money to the Parks Board for club house improvements. The score was not turned over, but Mr. Reville had the pleasure of paying—and Mr. Connable then made his generous offer of two cups.

Two Brantford Golf and Country Club foursomes followed, the members of the Arrowdale Club then taking to the greens. The ground was heavy, and the putting greens anything but keen, but creditable scores were made.

The club willow furniture looked very well, and an array of flags brightened the outline. The newly planted home grounds and the course itself made a pleasing picture, and the visiting golfers paid high tribute to the quality and condition of the links.

The course is a thoroughly interesting one, whilst the pretty little club house erected at a cost of some $6,000, would be a credit to any private club. Especially are the hot and cold shower baths and the locker and rest rooms for both men and women well designed and laid out. Provision has also been made for catering. In brief, "Arrowdale" is the last word in a public golf venture along 9-hole lines.

At a subsequent meeting of the Brantford Parks Board, honorary life memberships in the club were awarded to Messrs. Ralph Connable, Toronto; George Martin, Hamilton; E. L. Cockshutt and Ralph H. Reville, Brantford—an honour deeply appreciated by these warm supporters of "golf for the masses," who already are honorary members of several other clubs in Canada.

The Principles of Grass Culture

WITH the rapid expansion of the Golf industry, numbers of men are joining the ranks of Greenkeepers to whom the care of the golf course is comparatively new work. Those who have previously been engaged in other branches of agriculture, especially general farming practice, find at first that the difference in methods is somewhat bewildering, in spite of the fact that the underlying principles of culture are essentially the same. The variation in procedure is due to change in objective; field culture devotes its energies to quantity and quality of produce and permits thorough cultivation of the ground; greenkeeping on the other hand, aims to cover the ground with a compact turf so that actual disturbance or working of the soil is barely possible. In view of this and mindful of the fact that only a very small proportion of the greenkeepers are able to attend the lectures provided by the R. C. G. A., it seems appropriate that the knowledge on which we base our methods should be given a brief outline through these columns, and therefore we propose to deal with some subject of this nature in succeeding issues of the Bulletin. No man is truly master of his profession until he has the scientific theory as well as the practical technique of his work.

Plant Roots and their Relation to the Soil

The vegetative organs of a green plant have to do two things: (1) to get into contact with the earth; (2) to get into contact with light and air. To secure contact with earth, one part of the plant body grows down into the earth in obedience with the law of gravity, while another part grows up into the light and air in defiance to the law of gravity. The downward growing part is the "root," and the upward growing part is the "shoot." The vegetative body of a plant is thus composed of (1) root; (2) shoot.

THE ROOT.—To secure anchorage and contact with earth most intimate and most extensive, the first root forms outgrowths on its sides in all directions, younger and finer, of course, deeper and more deep than the root which gave them birth, but not otherwise different. These side outgrowths are called "branch roots," which in turn repeat the branching process in various directions, and so on till every nook and corner of the soil is vertically and horizontally occupied by the finer and finest branches, which are often called "root fibres." In this way the plant gets anchored in the earth in that position which enables it to thoroughly exploit from the depth certain raw minerals which it requires.

What raw materials does the root require to import into itself from the soil? At first it might be supposed that one plant wants this and another plant wants something else. But careful investigation shows that "all green plants want essentially the same substances from the soil." This truth is apt to be hidden from us by the circumstance that plants show much variation in composition, when subjected to chemical analysis. These chemical analyses, however, when rightly interpreted, do not teach us that plants "require" from the soil different substances, but that different plants use some larger, some smaller amounts of the same substance. Plants, like ourselves, can be "hardup," and may be handicapped for want of enough of this, that or the other stuff necessary to meet their needs—necessary to keep them at their best, and it is the aim of high-class and profitable agriculture to supply by manures the essentials which are adjudged deficient.

The principle that all green plants want essentially the same stuffs from the soil is the very principle upon which scientific and practical manuring alike proceed. We always aim to provide the plant with a sufficiency of "nitrogenous and phosphatic manures, with potash and lime compounds." Whether the nitrogenous manure takes the form of Nitrate of Soda, or Sulphate of Ammonia, or soot, or whatever else it may be, it is a matter of cost and expediency; all are agreed that plants want nitrogenous manures in the same shape or form. Whether the phosphatic manure takes the form of ground bones, mineral phosphate, super-phosphate, or basic slag is again a matter of cost and expediency; all are agreed that plants want phosphatic manures from the soil. The same applies to potash and lime. Wherever we see a green plant growing, whether on a stone wall or in a fertile field, there, we may be certain, are available supplies of nitrogenous and phosphatic salts, potash and lime compounds, whatever else there may be besides.

The principle that "all green plants want essentially the same substances from the soil" becomes quite clear by the method of "water culture." In this method, distilled water is taken as the basis, and the water is mixed with minute quantities of nitrates, sulphates and phosphates of potash, lime, and magnesia, along with iron in the form, it may be, of an old rusty nail. With roots submerged in this watery solution, plants can be grown in perfect health. It is found by experiment that if any of the ingredients above mentioned are wanting, the plant at once betrays the want by becoming unhealthy and abnormal. The substances which the plant requires from the soil are, then: nitrates, sulphates and phosphates of potash, lime, and magnesia, plus a small quantity of iron. Practical agriculture ignores the necessity of sulphate, magnesia and iron, and the practical reason for ignoring the necessity of these in complete manure is that, as a rule, there is already in the soil abundance of available sulphates, magnesia and iron compounds. To sum up, chemical analysis shows that substances other than those mentioned as "essential" are present in the plant; water culture, in turn, checks chemical analysis and shows that the other substances are merely accidental and are not all necessary to fully meet the requirements of healthy growth.

Substances that plants remove from the soil are called in a rough-and-ready way "plant food." The name immediately raises the question—What is the specific use to the plant of each of the stuffs taken in?

Some of the water that enters the plant from the soil has to be combined with carbonic acid from the air, and this combination can only take place under the stimulating influence of light—whether sunlight or electric light is a matter of indifference to the plant. This purpose of water is not to feed the plant, but to be converted into a foodstuff, namely, sugar or starch. It is misleading, then, to call water by the name "plant food," for it is in reality a food-making mineral.

The nitrates, again, which enter the roots, are used for a specific purpose. They enter into chemical union with varying quantities of sugar or starch, and ultimately are transformed into albuminoid foodstuffs. Here we see again, that nitrates are not "plant food," but only food-making minerals. The same applies to phosphates. We thus come to the conclusion that the substances removed by the plant from the soil are used, not as foodstuffs, but as "food-making minerals."

The next question is: How are these food-making minerals transferred from the soil to the inside of the plant? Practical importance of this question is that it throws light on those conditions which must be secured, if the plant is to be thoroughly efficient and smart at this business of using the soil. The first point to notice is that the root must secure contact with the stuffs. All know that roots cling to earth, and the most extensive and intimate contact is secured by innumerable root branches bearing multitudes of fine hairs—root hairs they are called—which clothe the young parts of the roots. We can see the root hairs quite easily on sprouted oats growing in damp blotting paper between two saucers. Now there are no holes or pores of any kind, either on the surface of the roots or on the hairs, and yet the stuff outside has to find an entrance. The process of entrance is easily understood. If we take a pig's bladder, fill it with thick syrup, tie it up tight, and place it in a tub of water, the whole bladder soon swells up, for the water outside passes through the bladder and mixes with the syrup within, although there are no holes and no pores for entrance. This process of entrance through a membrane without pores is called "osmosis." The two important points to notice are: (1) the warmer the water outside, the faster the bladder swells; (2) the thicker the syrup, the faster the bladder swells.

The plant root indeed acts as an osmotic machine; each one of the multitude of root hairs acts like the pig's bladder, and absorbs mineral from the surrounding soil by osmosis. Like the bladder, too, the root is more efficient and acts quicker (1) if the soil is warm; (2) if the solution in the hair is dense.

The plant root is called upon to take in from the soil more than solutions of soluble stuffs—that is, stuffs soluble in water. Land that has been under grass for generations, with water draining through it, would be exhausted of soluble matter unless some provision existed for converting insoluble soil particles into soluble form. The question reduces itself to this: how can a plant root utilize a particle of bone, which certainly is not soluble in water? The answer is, that the root has the power of manufacturing acids, which exude to the surface of the root and to the surface of the root hairs. These acids take the bone particle, render it soluble, and the solution of the bone is now absorbed by the osmotic hair. It is quite easy to convince oneself to the solvent action of the root on insoluble substances—that is, on substances insoluble in water. Take a flower pot, and in the earth halfway from the bottom, place horizontally, a polished plate of marble. Sow some seeds of Indian corn so that the roots growing down into the pot, must come into contact with the marble plate. It will be found on removing the earth and the plants from the pot, that the roots of the Indian corn have, as it were chiselled out the marble plate, and that they actually cling to the marble.

Plants are not equally gifted with this solvent power. Those that especially excel are the cereals and fodder grasses, clovers, beans and vetches; whereas root crops, such as turnips, potatoes, and mangels require large supplies of soluble stuffs, such as are provided by dung and soluble artificial manures. Now we begin to get a glimpse of what fertile soil really is. It is a soil in which the roots are comfortably housed—so circumstanced that they can get all they require, and can display their full powers as absorbing machines. The main conditions of this display of power are warmth to the soil and dense sap within the root.

Current Comment

The hot weather of midsummer will soon be with us and no doubt will bring anxiety over the condition of the turf on the putting greens. In more southerly latitudes the ravages of Brown Patch, the dreaded fungus diseases of the warm, humid days and nights, cause infinite worry to the greenkeeper and green committee. Many preventives of commercial manufacture are on the market and the dealers of these products have already advised the clubs to lay in their supplies ahead of time, a very worthy precaution. Since these notices have been received by many clubs in Canada, the executives of the clubs are becoming alarmed that it is only a matter of time, before the Canadian courses will be affected in a manner similar to those in some of the States south of the border. It may ease the minds of the anxious ones, to know that the possibility of this is very remote, that Brown Patch, of the same origin, on turf, is almost unknown in the Dominion.

However, our putting greens are not free from summer complaints, especially in the warmer sections, as in the region of the lower lakes where periods of hot, moist weather may continue for some days on end. In some situations this is particularly hard upon the grass, and it will soon show signs of fatigue and practically wilt away. This may be partially due to the oppressiveness of the weather or the effect of algae, slime and other low forms of growth that are fostered under such conditions. The smell and the feel of the atmosphere on greens as this, will remind one of an ill-ventilated greenhouse, which will produce the "dampening off" of hothouse plants. Greens so situated, as to bring about this condition, should be carefully checked over to see that they are effectively drained, both by surface slope and tile beneath the ground; the watering of such greens must receive careful attention so that the ground does not become too sodden or the grass foliage wet towards the close of the day, when wind and sun are not available to dry it off. The wilting of the grass which will occur when conditions get bad enough may be checked or prevented by using the compounds recommended for brown patch diseases. We have had good success in Canada by using Corrosive Sublimite at the rate of from three to five ounces to each thousand square feet. This may be either sprayed on in solution or applied with compost; the former has been the usual method. Experiments conducted by the U. S. Green Section, at Arlington, show that the compost application is the most affected against Brown Patch and the same may doubtless be the case with our trouble. The same authorities are of the opinion that Calomel may prove a safer chemical to use than the Corrosive Sublimite. In 90% of cases this complaint soon disappears with a change to cooler weather, and that within ten days or two weeks the turf is normal again. Susceptible turf should be carefully fertilized during the spring and early summer so that the plant tissue is not too "soft"; heavy doses of nitrogenous fertilizer will produce this condition.

It is poor management to determine the water requirements of the greens by the appearance of the grass since the turf will not show the need of water until the supply is deficient. Irrigation experts judge this by studying the soil: by the use of the earth auger and noting the decrease of the water reserve and replenishing the supply before the plants above exhibit distress signals. The hole digger will perform the same office as the earth auger and give fair warnings of approaching soil drouth.

The sprinkling needs of the putting greens show a greater variation than any other demand. Even with a uniformity of soil and turf throughout a whole eighteen hole lay-out, the individual requirements will widely differ for many reasons. Winds strike some locations with greater drying effect than others and winds themselves vary in their ability to pick the moisture out of the ground; the lie of the green towards the different points of the compass; the relation of the green towards surrounding objects such as hills, trees, buildings, etc.; these factors all have a very direct bearing upon the water consumption, to say nothing of the variation in moisture holding and retaining properties of changing soil types. Reflection upon these points will convince one that the sprinkling must be watched very closely for the best results. Over-watering can be just as detrimental as excessive drying out.

If you have a number of pathways or roads running through the property that it is necessary to keep free from weed and grass growth, it is a simple matter to give these a spraying or treatment of caustic chemical that will destroy all vegetation, and so abolish a lot of tiresome weeding. Calcium chloride, commercial grade, applied at the rate of from a half pound to a pound per square yard is effective and at the same time is one of the best dust arresters obtainable. This chemical is used on many public highways throughout the Dominion for the latter purpose. A spray solution may be made up as follows: 5 pounds, white arsenic; 10 pounds, Sal Soda; 10 gals. water, boiled for fifteen minutes. This is a stock solution; dilute each gallon with fifteen to thirty of water and apply as a fine spray. A large sheet of tin is handy to protect the turf and flower plants bordering the pathway.

Should this season turn out to be a wet one, with an abnormal quantity of rain, as some scientists predict, we are likely to have similar conditions to those of last year, when many greens remained soggy for weeks at a time. When there is an abnormal quantity of rain, the reserve supply in the ground piles up and causes the water to seep along beneath the surface instead of going straight down, because the regular water channels are congested. Usually, the modern, raised green is unaffected, because surface drainage quickly removes the surplus water, but low-lying greens are very apt to suffer. For this condition, under-drains are the only remedy, but to dig up the putting surface in mid season will cause great inconvenience. Partial relief and often a complete cure may be effected by encircling the green with drain tile to intercept the sideways movement of the water beneath the soil. This is the correct way to treat those hillside greens which even in normal seasons are likely to be menaced by moisture soaking through from the bank.

Particular attention should be given to the drainage of bunkers, specially those with sunken sand traps. Being lower than the surrounding fairway, they will, in times of wet weather, become a natural basin for a large area of ground. This matter must be kept in mind when providing drainage for these places; not only must the pocket itself be considered but the whole water shed affected. Nothing is more disagreeable than playing out of oozy traps when the rest of the course is fair and dry. This state of affairs is also expensive because the sand becomes mixed with the soil below and must be replenished more often. All bunkers should drain as quickly as the water collects.

Where the soil is heavy and naturally impervious to water, and where running long lines of tile from the bunkers to a sufficient outlet is too expensive, it is wise to avoid sunken traps and build all bunkers of the mound or cop type. Dr. MacKenzie, the eminent British golf architect, has developed this type of bunker which, with a sand face, is very attractive.

Botany is the science that comprehends all our knowledge of the vegetable kingdom, all the knowledge that relates to plants. At the basis of all plant culture, whether culture in the fields (agriculture), or in gardens (horticulture), or even in vats (brewing), there lie certain broad general rules or principles which it is advisable to know, in order to control more rationally, and therefore better, the plants which we rear and breed. It is advisable to know also the points of strength and of weakness in certain cases, in order that we may better combat, and get rid of those pestilent plants which as weeds interfere with our crops, which as disease producers and parasites, render our crops unhealthy and diseased, in some cases even killing outright. * * * Certainly "a little knowledge is a dangerous thing," and this is a very good reason for knowing a little more, and so make the dangers of ignorance less. ONTARIO PROVINCIAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Bring Out Record Fields—Mr. Ross Somerville Wins the Amateur and Andrew Kay Again Annexes the Open, After a Quadruple Play-off at 18 Holes—
Mr. J. Cameron Wins the Qualifying Round

THE entrants by the hundred in the Ontario Provincial Amateur and Open Championships this month at Rosedale, Toronto, had the privilege of playing over a course which to-day is possibly in the best condition of any in the Province, if not in Canada. It would be almost impossible to imagine finer fairways and greens, and the Rosedale officials came in for unbounded and well deserved praise from amateurs and professionals alike in providing the players with such a perfect opportunity of enjoying and playing the game. Rosedale this month certainly made for itself an enviable golfing name.

The Amateur, which was staged on June 9th, 10th and 11th brought out the most representative field in the five years' history of this important fixture. All the well known players were on hand to take a tilt at the title, including the Amateur Champion of Canada, Mr. Ross Somerville, and three ex-champions, in Messrs. George S. Lyon, Don Carrick and W. J. Thompson, whilst the younger school of players were well represented, and one of their number, Mr. Hugh Borthwick, came very nearly annexing the Championship, only being defeated in the Final by 1 hole up by Somerville. This 20-year-old Islington Club player was easily the sensation of the fixture. Qualifying on the opening day with 77, which tied with the Amateur Champion of Canada for third place, by the steadiest kind of golf, he went through to the Final and kept the flag flying until the 18th green—a wonderful performance for such a young and inexperienced player, especially at the finish, against such a seasoned expert as Somerville. Borthwick learned his game as a caddie at the Lambton Golf and Country Club. He does not drive a very long ball, that may come later, but he plays his iron shots to the green with remarkable precision, and putts like a veteran. Moreover, he has golfing temperament plus, and in the years to come should go far, very far. He has all the hall-marks of a champion in the making.

The Qualifying Day brought out a record field, no fewer than 132 players handing in cards. The scoring was consistently good. That sterling Mississauga golfer and all round athlete, J. A. Cameron, headed the pack with a scintillating seventy-four, or just two over par, for the difficult Rosedale course. Right at his heels was F. M. Lyon, of Lambton, "worthy son of a worthy sire." Another young player of very great promise, indeed. A card of 81 qualified for the Championship flight and as six players returned this total a play-off was necessary between Messrs. John Lewis, Brantford; T. H.

The play-off in the Championship Flight was quite full of thrills, and this is how it worked out:

First Round:

J. A. Cameron, Mississauga, defeated G. L. Robinson, Lambton, 5 and 3.

D. D. Carriek, Scarboro, defeated H. W. Phelan, Lakeview, 6 and 5.

J. H. Firstbrook, Lambton, defeated T. H. Gooch, Thornhill, at 19th hole.

C. R. Somerville, London Hunt, defeated J. Kerr Cronyn, Toronto Golf, 7 and 5.

H. P. Borthwick, Islington, defeated F. G. Hoblitzell, Lambton, 2 up.

Stanley Thompson, Mississauga, defeated J. N. Lang, Lakeview, 3 and 2.

John Lewis, Brantford, defeated R. M. Gray, Rosedale, 2 and 1.

W. J. Thompson, Mississauga, defeated Fred. M. Lyon, Lambton, 7 and 6.

Second Round:

D. D. Carrick defeated J. A. Cameron, 2 up.

C. R. Somerville defeated J. H. Firstbrook, 1 up.

H. P. Borthwick defeated Stanley Thompson, 3 and 2.

John Lewis defeated W. J. Thompson, 2 and 1.

Third Round:

Ross Somerville, London Hunt, defeated Donald Carrick, Scarboro, 4 and 3.

Hugh Borthwick, Islington, defeated John Lewis, Brantford Golf, 5 and 4.

Final:

Ross Somerville defeated Hugh Borthwick, 1 up.

It will be noticed that there were several very close matches, notably that between J. H. Firstbrook and T. H. Gooch, which went to the 19th hole before the Lambton player emerged the victor. The upsets came in the second round, when Hugh Borthwick took the measure of Stanley Thompson, 3 and 2, whilst John Lewis, of Brantford, accounted for his brother, W. J. Thompson, 2 and 1, one of the outstanding favourites for the Championship. Superior approaching and putting upon the part of their opponents accounted for the undoing of the Thompson brothers. It was in this round that Somerville had to extend himself to beat Firstbrook by the narrow margin of 1 up.

The semi-finals on Saturday brought out quite large galleries. The feature match was Somerville vs. Carrick, rivals many time and oft, but the Amateur Champion on this occasion was almost from the start in front, and eventually won out comfortably by a 4 and 3 margin.

It was generally expected that Lewis, who is a very fine player with much experience, would put a stop to young Borthwick's brilliant career during the Championship, but the very reverse happened. The young Islington player forged to the front at once and was never headed, and the long-hitting Brantfordite had to bow to a 5 and 4 defeat.

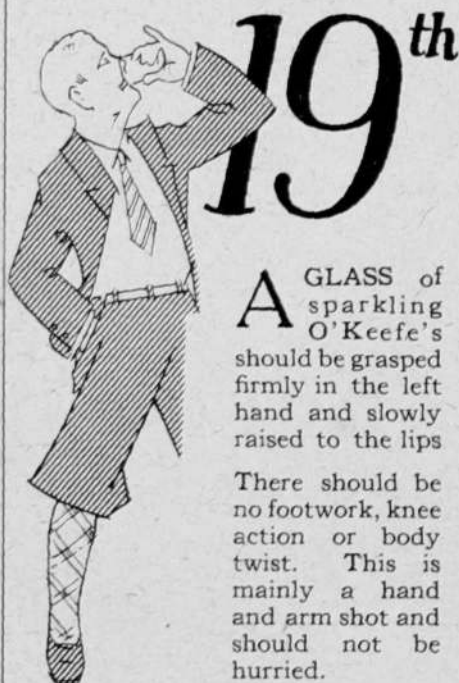

In the Final on Saturday afternoon, to the surprise of the large gallery, Borthwick continued to display both skill and nerve. Outdriven from the tee by the Champion by from 25 to 50 yards, he played his iron shots up to the green so well and putted so skilfully that going to the 9th he had what looked like almost the commanding lead of three holes—a remarkable performance against a player of Somerville's calibre. But the Londoner has the ideal golfing temperament and is always more dangerous when "down" than "up." From here on he commenced to get into his stride. He won the 9th, 10th and 11th and the match was all square. The 12th was halved. Somerville should have won the "fateful 13th," possibly the hardest one-shot hole in the Toronto District, but here too, Borthwick, playing very pluckily, managed to get another half. By superior driving Somerville won the 14th. The 15th and 16th were halved in par 4's and 3's. The 17th went to Borthwick with a finely played four. The 18th, 315 yards, par 4, was the young Isling-tonite's Waterloo. Somerville out-drove him twenty-five yards, but both had easy seconds to the green. Somerville's second held, and left him a fifteen foot putt for a 3. Borthwick pitched his ball into the trap stretched across the green. The ball was lying clear. However, Borthwick failed to make the shot, and was finally 4, seven feet from the cup. With two putts to win the hole and three putts for a half, Somerville putted boldly. The ball dropped into the cup for a birdie 3 and the Ontario Championship was added to his many other titular honours. Both victor and vanquished were loudly cheered, the plucky game put up by Borthwick and his unassuming manners having gained for him hosts of friends during the Championship. Last year the final was fought out at York Downs between Don Carrick and W. J. Thompson, the former winning 3 and 2. Carrick on this occasion also won the qualifying round with a 73.

During the week many interesting flights were run off, which resulted as follows:

Beaten Eight, Semi-finals: G. L. Robinson, Lambton, defeated T. H. Gooch, Thornhill, 5 and 4. Fred. M. Lyon, Lambton, defeated F. G. Hoblitzell, Lambton, one up. Final: Fred. M. Lyon defeated G. L. Robinson, 5 and 4.

Second Flight:

Semi-finals: A. L. Gooderham, Rose-dale, defeated George S. Lyon, Lambton, 2 and 1. J. Hitchcock, Humber Valley, defeated H. B. Bartlett, Thames Valley, London, 7 and 5. Final: A. L. Gooderham defeated J. Hitchcock, 6 and 4.

Beaten Eight, Semi-finals: Gordon Gunn, Mississauga, defeated E. C. Gould, Brantford, 4 and 3. Hugh S. Reid, Lambton, defeated DeLury Barber, Mississauga, 5 and 3. Final: Hugh S. Reid defeated Gordon Gunn at 25th hole.

Third Flight:

Semi-finals: Len. Biddell, Lakeview, defeated Arthur Dorman, Burlington, 2 and 1. Jackson Walton, Uplands, defeated Dr. Henderson, Grand River,

4 and 2. Final: Jackson Walton defeated Len Biddell, 4 and 2.

Beaten Eight, Semi-final: Dr. Robert, Lakeview, defeated F. G. Carswell, Oshawa, 2 and 1. Gordon Taylor, Jr., York Downs, defeated J. E. Farncombe, London Hunt, 2 and 1. Final: Dr. Robert defeated Gordon Taylor, Jr., 4 and 3.

Fourth Flight:

Semi-finals: W. F. Collins, Thistle-down, defeated George S. Curtis, Uplands, 3 and 2. Gordon Duncan, Brantford, defeated A. L. Flaws, Rosedale, 3 and 1. Final: Gordon Duncan defeated W. F. Collins, 7 and 6.

Beaten Eight, Semi-final: Dr. A. Newton-Brady, Bayfield, defeated R. G. Brown, Lambton, 2 and 1. N. L. Drynan, Hamilton, defeated Dr. Hugh Cook, Mississauga, 2 and 1. Final: N. L. Drynan defeated Dr. A. Newton-Brady, 5 and 4.

One of the most remarkable matches during the week was witnessed in the Final in the Second Flight, where Gordon Gunn, of Mississauga, a very clever young golfer, took Hugh S. Reid, of Lambton, the well known golfer and cricketer, to the 25th hole before acknowledging defeat. Gordon Duncan, of Brantford, who won the fourth flight quite easily, is a young player of very great promise. He should be heard from in the Ontario Junior Championship next September.

Another outstanding feature of the Tournament was the play of 14-year-old J. Hitchcock, son of the steward of the Rosedale Golf Club. He actually made the second flight and what is more, fought his way through to the final, defeating more than one seasoned player. Such a juvenile display of prowess is by way of being a record.

Following the completion of the final match, the prizes, which were particularly handsome, were presented to the various winners by President Thomas Reid, of the Rosedale Club, and George S. Lyon.

The prize winners were:

Championship: C. Ross Somerville, London Hunt; runner-up, H. T. Borthwick, Islington.

Second Flight: Winner, Alex. Gooderham, Rosedale; runner-up, Jack Hitchcock, Humber Valley.

Third Flight: Winner, Jackson Walton, Uplands; runner-up, Len. Biddell, Lakeview.

Play from the Reddy Tee

If you want to click off long, low drives that split the fairway, take the tip of leading professionals and amateurs, play from the "Tee of Champions."

"To be sure of getting off a good drive every time," says Joe Kirkwood, famous pro, "I always use the Reddy Tee."

These features exclusive with the Reddy Tee make it the most widely used tee in the world, as popular with those trying to break a hundred as it is with those who break par:

1. Gives Greater Distance to drives.
2. Balances Ball Perfectly—no friction to lessen yardage.
3. Easier to Insert—shaft is sturdy and slender, tapering to a point.
4. Easiest to Adjust—exact height is important to consistently good driving.
5. Easily Found When Struck.
6. Cannot Damage Club Face.
7. Longer Lasting—all white birch from tip to cup.

Cut strokes off your score and lengthen your drives. Play from the Reddy Tee. The red or yellow. Both winners. Both Reddy. Both sold wherever golf is played. But accept no substitutes.

Many Ties in the Open Championship

The Ontario Open Championship on Monday, June 13th, followed the Amateur of the previous week-end. For the first time players outside of the Province were allowed to enter, and it was thought that several Mont-realers might do so, but they failed to avail themselves of the opportunity, with the exception of "Davie" Spittal, of Timberdale, Que.

All the leading Ontario amateurs and professionals, however, teed-up at Rosedale and a classier field has never been seen in a Provincial Open. The defending champion was "Andy" Kay, of Lambton, and he was a warm favourite to repeat and for once the prophets were not disappointed, although the Lambton crack eventually had to fight for the title in a play-off at 18 holes against Nicol Thompson, James Johnstone and Lex Robson, who had tied his score of 150. Two amateurs, the Canadian and Ontario Champion, Ross Somerville, and the ex-Amateur Champion, W. J. Thompson, were close on the heels of this quartette with 151—a most creditable showing in such a large and expert field.

The Rosedale course was again in superb condition and the weather conditions were also again excellent. As a result players and galleries alike thoroughly enjoyed the day's play. Large numbers watched from every vantage point on the course, the battle of the experts.

There was no sensational golf "uncorked," but all the leaders gave a very fine demonstration of the game. Especially was the driving of the majority of the contestants of a very high order. On the whole, I have rarely seen better tee-shots even in the major championships in Great Britain, the United States and Canada.

At the end of the morning round, Nicol Thompson, of Hamilton, and Bob Cunningham, the long-driving Mississauga pro, headed the field with 75's. Right back of them were D. Carrick and A. Hurlbert, of Thornhill, who each carded a 76. Somerville, Robson, Dave Spittal, Timberdale (Quebec Open Champion), W. Lamb (Toronto Golf), Leo Frank (assistant at Mississauga), and A. L. Gooderham were grouped at 77, and Johnston of the Rosedale Club, and W. J. Thompson, each followed with a 78.

These looked like the serious contenders for the Championship, and the afternoon round found six of them battling at the 36th green for the title.

"Andy" Kay, paired with Somerville, were the first of the favourites in, the former with a 73 had improved his morning round by 4 strokes for a total of 150, whilst Somerville with a 74 for a total of 151 looked all over like leading the amateurs. In quick succession, however, in came Nicol Thompson with another 75 for a total of 150, Jimmy Johnstone with a superlative 72, the best round of the Championship, also for a 150 and a little later on the former Scottish amateur, Lex Robson, now pro at Weston, with a brilliant 73, which also gave him 150, and to cap the climax, W. J. Thompson also notched a 73 to tie the amateur best score of 151 made earlier in the afternoon by Ross Somerville. It certainly was a "garrison finish" and provided thrills aplenty for the large crowd which milled round the score board at the 18th hole. The cards of the players 170 or better:

As a result of the quadruple tie on Tuesday afternoon, 18 holes were played at Rosedale between Andrew Kay (the title holder), Nicol Thompson, Jimmie Johnstone (Canadian Professional Champion), and Lex Robson.

Kay played steady golf and was never behind. After he had established a lead he appeared content to play safe and hold it. He was one under par at the fourth and negotiated the first nine in a par 36. Coming home he dropped three strokes on the par of the course. On the short thirteenth his ball hit one of the gallery and dropped into the road. Despite this handicap he was able to get a four. At the fourteenth Kay's ball hit a caddie as it was going to the green, but he managed to get a par five.

This is Kay's third Ontario championship in four years. He first won the title in 1923 and then repeated last year.

Kay's card for the round was:

Out 4,4,4, 3,5,3, 5,4,4=36

In 4,4,4, 4,5,5, 3,5,5=39=75

With a 79 the brilliant former amateur Scotsman, Robson, secured second money, whilst with an 80, third money went to Nicol Thompson, whose putts were rimming the cup with irritating regularity, and fourth with an 85 to Jimmy Johnstone, who had all kinds of tough luck, especially at the 2nd hole, where what looked like a perfect drive was out of bounds and he ended up with a disastrous 8.

Altogether the best run, the most exciting and successful Championship in the history of the Ontario Golf Association. Mr. W. H. Plant, the President, Mr. W. J. Thompson, the Hon. Secretary, and their committee and the Rosedale directors and officials, come in for all kinds of congratulations; and they deserved them.

The following were the prize winners at the Open Tournament:

Championship, Andrew Kay, Lambton, 78-72=150.

Second, Lex Robson, Weston, 77-73=150.

Third, Nicol Thompson, Hamilton, 77-73=150.

Fourth, J. Johnstone, Rosedale, 75-75=150.

Fifth, C. R. Somerville, London (amateur), 77-74=151.

Sixth, W. J. Thompson, Mississauga (amateur), 78-73=151.

Seventh, A. E. Cruttenden, Summit, 78-73=151.

Eighth, A. J. Hurlbert, Thornhill, 76-76=152.

Ninth, D. D. Carriek, Scarboro, 76-77=153.

Tenth, A. Dorman, Burlington, 78-75=153.

Assistants:

First, W. Lamb, Toronto, 77-78=155.

Second, L. Cumming, Toronto, 78-80=158.

Third, L. Franks, Mississauga, 73-83=160.

MRS. MULQUEEN WINS TORONTO TITLE

Plays Brilliant Round to Finish One Stroke Ahead of Mrs. Whittington—Good Scoring of Leaders Features City Championship Over Testing Lakeview Course.

IN 1923 Mrs. Mulqueen, then Miss Sidney Pepler, won the first Toronto Ladies' City Championship, at the Scarboro Golf Club with the remarkable score of 166. Since, she has not competed in this event until at the difficult Lakeview course this month she again emerged victorious with a score of 188, one stroke ahead of her club mate, Mrs. Whittington, 1926 Ontario Champion. Mrs. Whittington, who was also runner-up in the City event last year, looked like this year's winner when on the first day's play she returned a score of 94, two strokes ahead of Miss Evelyn Mills, of York Downs, and Mrs. H. C. Lefroy, of Rosedale. Mrs. Mulqueen at this stage was five strokes behind the leader, with a 99 and appeared to be out of the running, as Lakeview is not a course where a deficit of five strokes can be easily picked up.

The winner and runner-up were paired on the second day and Mrs. Mulqueen started out by picking up two strokes on the first hole and when two more strokes were picked up on the third it became apparent that Mrs. Whittington would be forced to play a perfect game to maintain the position she had established on the first day. Mrs. Mulqueen, however, continued to score brilliantly and was out in 43 to Mrs. Whittington's 49. From there on the lead fluctuated until it looked as if a tie would result at the eighteenth green, when Mrs. Mulqueen had to sink a four foot putt for a three and the title, as their position was not threatened by the remainder of the field. A firm putt to the back of the cup brought victory as a result of a most brilliant round for an 89 and a total of 188. Lakeview is one of Canada's most testing courses, abounding in trouble of the most difficult kind, and at the outset no one conceded that ninety would be beaten by any competitor and on the first day with a stiff breeze off the Lake, 95 was placed as the figure which would lead the field, a figure that was bettered by only Mrs. Whittington. Mrs. Mulqueen, it will be remembered, won the Close Championship of Canada in 1923, defeating Miss Ada Mackenzie 2 and 1.

This is the second year that the 1925 champion has lost out by one

Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen, who again wins Toronto City Championship stroke last year to Miss Ada Mackenzie, who, after winning the Ontario Championship at Burlington this month, did not compete for the City title this year. Miss Evelyn Mills, who was in second place on the first day with 96, was unable to break the century mark on Tuesday, and finished tied for fifth place with Mrs. J. T. Gray, also of York Downs. Mrs. Lefroy who also started with a 96, found the going too difficult in the second eighteen, but was one of three tying for the low net honours with 162. Miss Cecil E. Smith, of York Downs, with 189, was the only player apart from winner and runner-up to break 100 on both days.

The tournament throughout presented a most brilliant scene and was conducted with that smoothness of detail which has become a feature of all tournaments conducted under the auspices of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union. The ladies of Lakeview co-operated to the fullest extent and the club house was a bower of beauty. The floral decorations were most charmingly arranged, huge baskets of lilae marking the archways between the various club rooms, while exquisite sweet peas added daintiness to the dining tables.

Following the return of the last players the handsome prizes were presented by Mrs. Alex. Rodger, Vice-President of the C. L. G. U., who has always taken a particular interest in this event and is the donor of the handsome Championship Trophy. Mrs. Lowther, Lady President of the Lakeview Club, assisted in the presentation of prizes, representing the lady officers of Lakeview, who had assisted in making the tournament such a great success.

JASPER PARK'S BEAUTIFUL BROCHURE

THE "Canadian Golfer" is in receipt nearly every month of well illustrated and well written publications in connection with famous Golf Resorts in Great Britain, Canada and the States, but without any fulsome flattery the brochure issued this month by the Canadian National Railways, "Golf at Jasper Park," must be more or less ranked in this respect as a classic.

The subject matter is good. The half tone work in colours of the various holes on this fascinating 18-hole course in Alberta, with its impressive background of snow-capped mountains, leave little, if anything, to be desired. Famous "Gleneagles" in Scotland, the Mecca to-day of the golfers of the world, has in the vernacular "nothing" on Jasper Park.

Apart from the exceedingly well written and illustrated description of the various feature holes at Jasper, Mr. Arthur J. Hills, Assistant to the Vice-President of the C. N. R., having in charge this remarkable undertaking, himself a keen golfer, has seen to it that the brochure contains much valuable information. There is an historical page on "Golf in Canada," and a record of all the important Championships played in Canada, since the first Amateur Championship staged in 1895.

Altogether "Golf at Jasper Park" is alike interesting and illuminating—well worthy a place in every golf club and in the library of every golfer.

The 1927 edition of the Rules, revised and corrected to date. Single copies, 25c; 100 or more, 20c per copy; 500 or more, 15c. Every club should have a supply. For sale by "CANADIAN GOLFER," Brantford, Ontario.

ARMOUR COMES INTO HIS OWN

Former Scottish Amateur Wins America's Golfing Crown After Playoff with Harry Cooper, Who Learned His Game on the Old Hamilton Golf Course

THE great Jones and Hagen and other celebrated golfing "home-breds" of the United States, had to take a back seat this month at Pittsburgh in the Open Championship, and give premier place to a young English-Canadian, Harry Cooper, and a Scotsman, "Tommy" Armour, who with scores of 301 over the gruelling Oakmont course of nearly 7,000 yards, tied for the golfing classic of America. Relegated to 11th place was Bobby Jones, the favourite (holder of the title and also the British Open title), and to 6th place Walter Hagen, next to Jones the most fancied player to repeat. The only member of the British Ryder Cup team to make a showing was Archie Compston (the Manchester giant), who tied at 7th place with Johnny Golden.

The play-off at 18 holes to decide the big event, which was won by Armour with three shots, was of very great interest to Canadians, as both Armour and Cooper are more or less identified with golf in Canada. Cooper came out here some years ago with his father (himself a fine golfer), who had been appointed steward at the Hamilton Golf Club. It was as a caddie, on the old Hamilton short 18-hole course, that little Harry first learned to swing a club. The family subsequently removed to the States, where the father took up a position as a professional in the South. Young Cooper, who was born in London, England, 22 years ago, first sprang into fame, when in 1926 he won the $10,000 Los Angeles Open. Last winter he added further to his prestige by defeating Walter Hagen in an exhibition match 10 and 9, and George Duncan by 8 and 7—wonderful work for a youngster.

"Tommy" Armour, who was a plus four amateur in Edinburgh, came out to Canada in 1920 and took part in the Open Championship at Rivermead, Ottawa, tying with the late Douglas Edgar and C. R. Murray. He looked all over like the winner until at the long 17th hole he put two balls out of bounds, which ruined his chances. He was the leading amateur at the Open in Toronto in 1921 and last year at the Open at Montreal he tied for fifth place with C. R. Murray and Johnny Farrell. In 1925 he joined the professional ranks in the States and has since won many important tournaments. He is universally considered the world's greatest iron-shot player.

It will thus be seen why the finalists carried with them the good wishes of Canadian golfers. The rangy Scot in the play-off was too much for the young Englishman. He carded a 76 to his opponent's 79 to enter the golfing Hall of Fame after knocking at the door for the past seven years. Again the putt. It is generally conceded by the experts that it was Armour's sensational putt of 45 yards at the 15th hole which enabled him to tie Cooper's score, that won him the coveted Championship. Cooper weakened after this wonderful shot and Armour with a 3, 3 and 4 romped home a winner by a three stroke margin. The U. S. newly crowned Champion has always been a warm admirer of Canadians and Canadian courses, and it is almost a certainty he will again be seen at our Open Championship at the Toronto Club, August 4, 5, 6. On this occasion, he will unquestionably be the outstanding figure and is assured of the warmest kind of a welcome.

The following were the twelve leading scores in the Championship:

Tommy Armour, Rockville, Md.	78-71-76-76=301
Harry Cooper, Los Angeles	74-76-74-77=301
Gener Sarazen, Great Neck, N. Y.	74-74-80-74=302

"You have me at a disadvantage," said Tommy Armour, the new Open Golf Champion of the United States, as he faced the large gallery grouped around the eighteenth green at the presentation ceremony, after the play-off, "because at the eleventh hole

He described his victory as a "remarkably lucky win," and hoped that his opponent, Harry Cooper, would not have "the years of disappointment I have had."

Armour, who has now scaled the heights of golf supremacy in the United States, was born in the country of the Royal and Ancient game in Edinburgh, in 1895.

Armour started his career as an amateur, graduating from the collegiate ranks of Edinburgh University in 1914 to enter the World War, serving through four years in the tank corps, he now carries some effects as an ex-soldier, since his left arm is partly paralyzed.

While on the other side he was a great friend of Bobby Cruickshank, who also attended Edinburgh University and to-day Bobby acted as his buddy's personal body-guard.

In 1919 Armour was runner-up in the Highland tournament and Irish open, and he won the French amateur championship in 1920. He also tied for the Canadian open title, but lost on the play-off. That same year he captured the Gleneagles amateur tournament and reached the third round in the United States national amateur tourney. In 1921 he played on the British team against America in the informal Walker Cup matches.

Coming to America again in 1922, Armour located in New York and for a time was golf secretary at the Westchester Biltmore Country Club. He played in a few amateur events, one of which was the Metropolitan amateur, but never distinguished himself to any extent, although he was then, as now, a grand shot maker—one of the best.

He later decided to turn professional, and it has been as a professional that he has made his name.

His success began to come to him first in the Winter of 1925-26, when he won the Florida West Coast open championship, and finished well in a number of other tournaments, in addition to winning a team match of note with Al Watrous as a partner.

This year he was, next to Cruickshank, the greatest money winner of the season. Although he captured only two big events, the Long Beach Open and the El Paso open, he was always close up to the top and averaged only a trifle over 72 for some sixty rounds of golf.

He and Cruickshank won the international team matches at Miami, beating Hagen and Hutnison decisively in the final.

A year ago he went to the Congressional Club in Washington as professional.

BRITISH LADIES VS. CANADIAN SENIORS

THE Canadian Seniors' Team now in England getting ready for the Triangular Seniors' Tournament at Sunningdale next month, are in receipt of a unique challenge which they intend to accept. Miss Cecil Leitch, the great English woman golfer, has written them asking them to play a match against a team of ladies during their visit to the Old Country. There is no question that if Miss Leitch can get Miss Joyce Wethered and other ranking players to participate in this event, as she no doubt will, that our good friends, the Seniors' will have to play their very best golf, to keep the Canadian golfing flag flying. There are several British women who can score in the early eighties, on the stiffest of courses. It would, for instance, be worth going many miles to see the veteran George S. Lyon, who celebrates his 69th birthday next month, pitting his long drives and iron shots, against the rhythmic game of Miss Wethered. It would be a contrast of the contrasts, and at that, the eight times Amateur and Senior Champion of Canada, could not afford to let gallantry enter too much into the contest, and ease up on his game.

"JIMMY" BLAIR writes from Regina:

"The construction on the new course here is coming along first-rate. I've no hesitation in saying that in a year or two we will have one of the finest courses in Canada. I like my new job very well and am looking forward to a very successful season.

I've been kept very busy these last few weeks, but still find time for an occasional round and pleased to say I'm shooting par golf."

"Bob" Cunningham, who was at Woodstock, Ont., last year, is this season with the Stratheona Club Links, Port Arthur. In the course of an interesting letter he states:

"We have a nice course here, 18 holes, on the Pay-As-You-Play system, a wonderful location overlooking Lake Superior, cut through wooded land with an abundance of good soil, and also nice, rolling country with sand aplenty, which gives it the seaside course effect. Port Arthur folks are keen on their golf, and are real proud of their course, which has been going a little over a year. I predict that the Stratheona Links will be second to none in the Middle West in two years' time."

Arthur Riley writes from the Idylwyde Golf and Country Club, Sudbury, Ontario, where he took up the duties of professional this month:

"This is a beautiful course, between Lake Ramsey and Trout Lake, with the club house right on the lakeside, overlooking Ramsey Lake. One can almost fish from the clubhouse."

Arthur M. W. Neve, professional at the Bigwin Inn Golf Club, where he reports for duty June 21st, and at Huntsville, writes the Editor:

"I wish you could take a trip to Huntsville and have a day on our course at Huntsville Downs. I have never met with such a unique course before. The new greens are doing fine, and the members are lucky in having such a fine and enthusiastic construction manager as Mr. Chas. G. Shaw. The greens are mostly creeping bent and we have a 'bent nursery' in reserve. Mr. Russel Hern, the Secretary, has been working hard and is very popular with the members. Any golfer coming to Muskoka should have a day at Huntsville Downs."

Abe Mitchell, who was unable to travel to America as Captain of the British team of professionals to meet America for the "Ryder" Cup, underwent an operation for appendicitis in a St. Alban's nursing home. It was not decided until the last minute, almost before the team sailed, that Mitchell would be unable to make the journey, and that the operation could be postponed until after his return, but his doctor advised him otherwise. Canadian friends will be glad to hear that "Great Britain's greatest golfer" is making a rapid recovery from the operation.

The record of the Chatham golf course was smashed this month. Bobby Gray, the youthful professional son of R. T. Gray, now at Leamington, succeeded in playing the nine holes with a score of 34. This is four strokes below par—the par of the local course being 38.

This is the highest kind of professional golf, and "Bobbie" deserves credit for his performance. He started off with a 5 on number one, which is a par 4, and then he performed the achievement of making five "birdies" in a row, on numbers 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6.

Hitherto the course record has been held by "Tommy" McGrath, who a couple of years ago succeeded in hanging up a score of 35 for the Chatham course.

At the time he broke the record, "Bobbie" Gray was playing with Dr. Neil Smith, one of the prominent golfers of the local club.

RIMMER LEADS THE FIELD

With a Record-making 69 and For a Total of 145 Takes First Place at Toronto in the Matches with the British Ryder Cup Team—Davie Black in Second Place, Whilst Eric Bannister Ties A. G. Havers for Third Money—
Brilliant Showing of Canadian Professionals

THE weather-man after threatening all kinds of dire things for the Ryder Cup matches at the Toronto Golf Club on Saturday, June 18th, relented and conditions and course were alike ideal for the big exhibition event of the 1927 season.

The Britishers arrived on Friday night from the States a rather tired lot of men after the strenuous tour there, but one and all are well seasoned players, and they apparently were in fine fettle when the first pair, the two captains, "Ted" Ray, of Oxhey, and C. R. Murray, of The Royal Montreal, led off. A large gallery had assembled at the first tee, to be augmented later on in the day to some 3,000 enthusiasts, and the play of the score of Old Country and Canadian experts was closely watched and keenly enjoyed. There was a Gargantuan feast of long driving and clever iron shots, but the putting, particularly in the morning, was not of a sensational character, the visitors especially finding trouble with the greens, which in their case was perhaps excusable, as they did not have the chance of testing them out the day before—unquestionably a very great handicap. And this is what happened:

Ted Ray, playing beautiful golf, was out in 35, but faltered badly on the return journey, taking 11 shots alone on the last two holes. His morning round was 78.

C. R. Murray, as usual, was very consistent. He had a 38 out and a 38 in for a 76.

Fred. Robson (Cooden Beach), partnered with Davie Spittal (Timberdale, Montreal), struck twice at his ball on the putting green and decided to pick up. Spittal had a 38 and 41 for a 79.

The next pair to come in provided the winner of the morning round. Playing with C. A. Whitcombe (Crew's Hill), Eric Bannister (St. Charles Club, Winnipeg), played beautiful golf to establish a new record for the recently extended Toronto course. Out in 37, Bannister came back with a masterful 34 for a wonderful 71. Whitcombe was out in 39 and home in 41=80.

The winner, "Jimmie" Rimmer (Jasper Park), on left and the celebrated Scot, George Duncan.

The former British Open Champion, A. G. Havers (Coombe Hill), was paired with Phil Taylor, Victoria Golf Club, Victoria, B. C., and they had quite a large following. A stylist is Havers, and he quite caught the fancy of the gallery. He had a 38 and a 36 for a well collected 74. Taylor, who has many Pacific championships to his credit, was badly off his game, and returned a 39 and a 45 for 84.

Nicol Thompson, (Hamilton), and George Gadd (Roehampton), were a colourful pair. Thompson carded a 36 and 42 for 78, whilst Gadd was three strokes back of him with a 41 and 40=81.

George Duncan (Virginia Water), the virile Scot, and "Jimmie" Rimmer (Jasper Park), had a large following. Duncan was out in 39 and home in 38 for a 77. Missed putts were the great Scot's undoing. Rimmer, who in the afternoon was to make golfing history, had a poor first 9-hole round of 41, but came back with a brilliant 35 for a total of 76.

Aubrey Boomer (St. Cloud Country Club, France), was much fancied as a probable winner, but the best he could do in the morning was 81—a 41 and 40. He was handicapped by a sore thumb on his left hand. His partner, "Andy" Kay (Lambton), fresh from winning the Ontario Championship, collected two most useful 37's for a 74.

Archie Compston (the Manchester giant), was paired with wee Davie Black (Shaughnessy Heights, Vancouver), and proceeded to lace out the longest drive of the morning, to the first green. It was 300 yards or more. Compston did not find, however, the greens to his liking at all. He had to be satisfied with an 81, made up of a 38 and 43. Black can always be relied upon to be in the picture. He had a 37 and 38 for a 75.

Mr. George A. Philpot, Manager of the British team, Editor of "Golf Illustrated," London, and a well known amateur, very kindly consented to play in order to bring his team up to the Canadian total of ten players. He has had little, if any golf during the tour. He was paired with "Jimmy" Johnstone, of Rosedale, Canadian Professional Champion, who had a 37—42=79. Mr. Philpot did not turn in his cards, but he had many good holes to his credit.

The last pair off were Herbert C. Jolly (Foxgrove Golf Club), and A. H. Murray (Beaconsfield, Montreal). Jolly, playing a sweet game, returned the best score of the morning for the Britishers, a snappy 73, made up of a 36 and 37. Murray had a useful 79.

At the lunch hour, it will be noticed, a Western Canadian golfer, Eric Bannister, of Winnipeg, had the proud satisfaction of leading the field with 71. Two strokes back of him was Jolly, who at the last moment, owing to the regrettable illness of Abe Mitchell, was placed on the Ryder Cup Team, whilst Arthur Havers and Andy Kay were tied for third place at 74, with another Western Canadian representative in Davie Black, one stroke back of them with 75.

It was the general prediction that the Britishers in the afternoon, as a result of their morning rounds, which gave them an idea of the temper of the greens and the lay-out generally of the course, would improve their scores, but the reverse was the case. Not one of their leaders, as a matter of fact, did quite so well. Havers in the afternoon carded a 75 for a total of 149, whilst Jolly, the last to come in and the last hope of the visitors to secure first money, had a 78, which made his total 151. Aubrey Boomer got going a bit better and returned an afternoon round of 75, whilst George Gadd also struck his stride and registered a 73. Both had taken, however, an 81 in the morning, and were out of the running. Ted Ray with a 77 and George Duncan with a 79 again found the greens anything but friendly. The Britishers all were driving magnificently and pitching to the greens with almost perfect precision, but their putting was woefully weak. Three putts on many of the greens were their undoing. There is no doubt about it, the Old Country players are not, generally speaking, experts with their putters, and that is why so many of their Championships are being wrested from them.

A Winnipeg player provided the best score of the morning and another Western player furnished the afternoon sensation. Playing perfect golf

"Jimmie" Rimmer, of Jasper Park, Alberta, proceeded to reel off hole after hole in par figures or better. Out in 34 he came home with 35, for a total of 69, or two better than the record morning score of Bannister's. His card read:

Out 4,4,4, 3,4,4, 3,4,4—34

In 4,5,3, 5,3,4, 5,3,3—35—69

The Toronto course is 6,613 yards in length, par 73, and is scientifically trapped and it is a question whether this score of Rimmer's has ever been equalled on any course in Canada. All the leading golfers of America will be playing at Toronto in the Open Championship next August, but it is a pretty good wager that this 69 or four under par, will not be beaten. As Rimmer had a very useful 76 in the morning his total for the day's play was 145 and it was generally conceded that this would put him in first place. And it did, although still another Westerner, "Davie" Black, of Vancouver, with a well played 72 which, added to 75 in the morning, gave him 147, came within two strokes of the Jasper Park ace.

Black, who learned his game in Scotland, is exceedingly well known on Eastern courses. Before going to Vancouver he was for some time at Rivermead, Ottawa, and four times won the Canadian Professional Championship. He has to his credit all kinds of championships on the Pacific Coast. There is no more proficient or popular player in Canada, and his many friends in the East were delighted at the fine showing he made on the Toronto course. He received the heartiest kind of a welcome from scores of former golfing friends and admirers.

Jimmie Rimmer made his "first bow" to an Eastern gallery and it unquestionably was an effective "bow." The big gallery that followed him in the afternoon certainly got golfing value for their three mile and more tramp over the verdant fairways. Not since the late lamented Douglas Edgar's sensational score of 66 in the Open Championship at Hamilton in 1919 has finer golf been seen on a Canadian course. It really was a faultless demonstration of every shot in the bag.

Rimmer came out to Canada some three years ago and has made a great reputation for himself in the West, where he is the Professional at the Canadian National Railway's famous Jasper Park Links in Alberta. Last year he won the Open Championship of Alberta. He learned his game in England and was well known in Liverpool and District, where he was a great friend of Arthur Havers, and with whom he frequently played. Canada is certainly fortunate in numbering amongst its professionals such a finished and accomplished player as Rimmer, who it is hoped in the future

The Britishers were loud in their praises of the Toronto course, which they stated compared most favourably with the best courses in Great Britain or the United States.

At the conclusion of the matches the teams were entertained to a most delightful dinner at the Toronto Golf Club. Sunday the Britishers spent an enjoyable day at Niagara Falls,

STOP PRESS NEWS OF THE MONTREAL MATCH

The second half of the 72 hole match took place on the course of the Royal Montreal on Tuesday, June 21st, and the Britishers came into their own, showing more of the form they are capable of and featuring heavily in the prize list. Arthur Havers, who captured the fancy of the Toronto gallery by his dashing play and personality, vindicated their appraisal by returning two splendid rounds at Montreal of 75 and 72 to win the 72 hole event with a total score of 296, one stroke better than Davie Black, of Vancouver. At Toronto Havers was tied for third place with Eric Bannister, of Winnipeg, at 149. It was a brilliant finish, scoring birdies on the last three holes that enabled the Englishman to nose out the popular Vancouver pro by one stroke and capture the R. C. G. A.

prize of $250 for the leading score over both courses.

Jimmy Rimmer, the Jasper Park pro, who started at Montreal with a lead of two strokes gained at Toronto, was handicapped when in the morning a cinder got into his eye, requiring medical attention, and he was unable to get his game together, returning cards of 76 and 82, despite a brilliant practice round of 69 the day previous.

The British golfers fared much better in the division of the prize money than they did at Toronto, where Bannister, Rimmer and Dave Black captured the bulk of the awards. Of the $1,600 stake at Montreal, the British golfers took $850, and the Canadian pros $750. Andy Kay was the greatest winner, with prizes totalling $475. Havers won over $408. The prize awards were as follows:

Best 72 holes, Toronto and Montreal, $500 donated by Royal Canadian Golf Association: 1, Arthur Havers, $250; 2, Dave Black, $150; 3, Andy Kay, $100.

Best 36 holes, $500 ($300 by R. C. G. A., and $200 by Royal Montreal Golf Club): 1, Andy Kay, 146, won $250; 2, C. A. Whitcombe, Ted Ray and Arthur Havers, 147's, $83.33 each.

Best 18 holes, morning, $300 special prize, donated by members of Royal Montreal Club: Ted Ray and Andy Kay, 71's, won $125 each; A. H. Murray, 72, won $50.

Best 18 holes, afternoon, $300, special prize donated by members of Royal Montreal Golf Club: C. A. Whitcombe, 70, won $150; Eric Bannister and Arthur Havers, 72's, won $75 each.

The spectacular feature of the day was Boomer's eagle three at the 18th in the afternoon, when he reached the green on his second and sank a long putt. Compston with his smashing drives gathered a good portion of the gallery, as did also the veteran Ted Ray, though the splendid showing of the home players were also appreciated.

THE CHAMPIONSHIPS OF THE MARITIMES

Amateur and Professional Events Will Be Held at Woodstock, N. B., the Week of July 25th

THE Maritime Provinces Golf Association, announces that the Amateur and Professional Championships will be held on the very pretty course at Woodstock, N. B., the week of July 25th. Golf the last few years in the Maritimes, as elsewhere in the Dominion, has had a rapid growth and record fields of entrants are looked for at Woodstock next month. The golfers of that interesting New Brunswick town are noted for their hospitality, and are making every preparation to have "their course and house in order" for the premier golfing week of the Maritime 1927 season.

The Pretty Club House of the Woodstock Golf Club, where the Maritime Championships are to be held next month.

Mr. C. J. Jones, of Woodstock, President of the Association, writes the Editor:

"The championships proper commence on Tuesday, July the 26th, with the qualifying rounds. On the 25th an opportunity is generally afforded the visiting golfers to become acquainted with the course, and some sort of a match arranged. In years past an inter-provincial match was played on that day, but it often happened that one side or the other would be numerically stronger and everyone did not get a chance to play.

The course adopted in the last few years of assuring every entrant at least two full days of golfing will be followed this year. Sixteen qualify for the championship and there will be flights sufficient to include everybody else, with prizes for the winner and runner-up in each flight, and perhaps consolation matches in each flight.

The match for the professional championship is played on the 29th and suitable money prizes awarded. Of course, during the meet there are the usual driving, putting and approaching competitions for the amateurs, and the driving competition for the pros.

We have only a nine-hole course here and it is short, being 2,650 yards. It is located right in town, and is rather picturesque, undulating, with numerous natural and some artificial hazards. Practically every fairway is lined on each side with woods, but there is no excuse for getting into them. However, everybody does. The course being short, there is not the same advantage for a long player that there is on a regulation course, but at the same time there are compensating advantages. The turf is excellent and the greens will be in good shape. The course wintered well and the rains which we have had recently have been of great benefit.

The par is 66 for the 18 holes and I shall be greatly surprised if anybody gets down that low, as most of the holes have features which may cause trouble.

We have been using the same course since our club was organized in 1898 and I think we are the oldest club in the province—at least our course is the oldest.

I thank you very much for your good wishes. We shall have a good attendance even although we are a bit out of the beaten path. The shortness of the course may deter some, but after all very few of us expect to win the Championship and ninety per cent. of the entrants merely want to have a week's sport and reunite with "the bunch." Woodstock will give all our visitors the heartiest kind of a welcome. Rest assured of that."

The officers of the Maritime Association comprise some of the leading men of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. They are: President, C. J. Jones, Woodstock, N. B.; Vice-President, E. W. Mair, Woodstock, N. B.; Hon. Secretary, W. B. Manzer, Woodstock, N. B. Executive Committee: Dr. J. H. L. Johnstone, Halifax, N. S.; John H. Malcolm, Yarmouth, N. S.; A. Shirley Peters, St. John, N. B.; Hon. C. W. Robinson, Moncton, N. B.; and W. K. Rogers, Charlottetown, P. E. I.

The present amateur champion of the Maritimes is Mr. Gerald Mielke, of Halifax, and the professional champion Leo Quesnel, formerly of the Dartmouth Club, N. S.

MISS HELEN PAGET REPEATS

Clever Royal Ottawa Player Again Wins the Quebec Ladies' Championship, Miss Kinsella Runner-up

THAT very interesting and attractive Montreal Golf Club, The Marlborough," was the scene this month of the annual Quebec Ladies' Golf Championship. The Marlborough course is comparatively speaking, one of the Commercial Capital's youngest golfing organizations, but its 18-hole course is exceedingly well planned and trapped, providing a most excellent test of good golf.

There was an excellent entry of ninety of the best players of the Province. As was generally expected, Miss Helen Paget, defending champion from the Royal Ottawa Golf Club, led the qualifying field. The consistent golfer from the Royal Ottawa turned in an excellent 89 for the 18 holes, being six ahead of Mrs. Maude Ross, also from Royal Ottawa, who was second with a 95. Mrs. C. C. Ronalds, a strong contender in the championship for the past four years, was in third place with a 96, while Miss Eileen Kinsella, of Senneville, and Mrs. S. T. Blaiklock, tied for fourth position with 97's.

Miss Marjorie Kirkham, the 17-year-old golfer from the Rosemount Club, whose performances on the links so far this season, as very well said by the Montreal "Gazette," have attracted considerable attention, and who is regarded as a strong threat for the championship laurels this year, was in sixth place with 98.

One stroke behind Miss Kirkham came Miss Sybil Kennedy, Royal Montreal, a former titleholder; Mrs. David Wanklyn, sister of Miss Kennedy, and Miss Dora Virtue, of Whitlock, who has been a keen factor in the championship in the past three years.

Four tied at 101 for two places, necessitating a play-off. Mrs. H. H. Matthews, Royal Ottawa; Miss M. Lockhart, Royal Montreal; Mrs. R. H. Irwin, Royal Montreal, and Mrs. Harold Soper, Royal Montreal, teeing off for the extra competition. Miss Lockart qualified at the first hole with a four to three fives. Mrs. Matthews fairly struggled to the green and needed to sink a 20 foot putt to keep in the competition. She succeeded smartly and on the second took the remaining place in the championship flight, again dropping a 20 footer after taking three to reach the green.

Miss M. Lockhart, Royal Montreal 101 80
Mrs. Harold Soper, R. Montreal... 101 86
Mrs. R. H. Irwin, Royal Montreal 101 85

There were two notable surprises in the qualifying round. Miss Kate Robertson and Miss Molly McBride, clubmates from Beaconsfield, and holders in the past of various golf titles, failed to qualify among the first sixteen of the field, and as a result, for the first time since the ladies' title was decided by match play, the Beaconsfield pair were missing in the championship flight. They failed to qualify by one stroke each, turning in cards of 102, while 101 qualified.

And this is how the Championship Flight worked out:

First Round:

Miss Helen Paget, Royal Ottawa, defeated Miss M. Lockhart, Royal Montreal, 4 and 3.

Miss Sybil Kennedy, Royal Montreal, defeated Mme. J. Dagenais, Laval, 4 and 3.

Mrs. C. F. Ritchie, Whitlock, defeated Mrs. S. T. Blaiklock, Royal Montreal, 3 and 2.

Miss Ruth Wilson, Royal Montreal, defeated Mrs. C. C. Ronalds, Mount Bruno, on 22nd.

Miss E. Kinsella, Senneville, defeated Mrs. L. Papineau, Marlborough, 5 and 4.

Miss Dora Virtue, Whitlock, defeated Mrs. David Wanklyn, Royal Montreal, 3 and 2.

Miss Marjorie Kirkham, Rosemount, defeated Mrs. H. R. Pickens, Marlborough, two up.

Mrs. Maude Ross, Royal Ottawa (defeated Mrs. H. H. Matthews, Royal Ottawa, on 19th.

Second Round:

Miss Helen Paget, Royal Ottawa, defeated Miss Sybil Kennedy, Royal Montreal, 4 and 3.

Miss Ruth Wilson, Royal Montreal, defeated Mrs. C. F. Ritchie, Whitlock, 3 and 2.

Miss Eileen Kinsella, Senneville, defeated Miss Dora Virtue, Whitlock, on the 19th.

Mrs. Maude Ross, Royal Ottawa, defeated Miss Marjorie Kirkham, Rosemount, one up.
Third Round:

Miss Helen Paget, Royal Ottawa, defeated Miss Ruth Wilson, Royal Montreal, 7 and 6.

Miss Eileen Kinsella, Senneville, defeated Mrs. Maude Ross, Royal Ottawa, 3 and 2.

Final:

Miss Helen Paget defeated Miss Kinsella 5 and 4.

There is no question whatever that Miss Paget is almost in a class by herself in Quebec, and it was virtually a foregone conclusion that she would again win the championship. Miss Paget in the Final played consistent golf all the way, and one up at the first hole, was never headed throughout the match.

Miss Kinsella, playing in her first Provincial final, was obviously nervous, and, although her long game compared well with that of the champion, she lacked firmness on the greens. The strong putting, which came to her aid in previous games, was no longer in evidence, and it was this weakness that finally spelled ruin to the Senneville player.

The Championship did not provide the only attraction at Marlborough. There were several other flights which resulted as follows:

Championship Consolation:

Final: Mrs. J. Dagenais, Laval, beat Mrs. D. Wanklyn, Royal Montreal, one up.

Knockout Consolation: Miss Marjorie Kirkham, prize presented by Mrs. David Crombie.

Driving Competition: Silver division: Aggregate three balls, Miss Dora Virtue; longest drive, Miss Dora Virtue. Bronze Division: Aggregate three balls, Mrs. Kenneth Mappin; longest drive, Miss Margaret Lockhart.

Approaching and Putting Competition: Silver Division: Miss Ruth Wilson. Bronze Division, Miss Eva Pitblado.

The general sentiment expressed at the dinner was that the championship had been one of the most successful ever staged by the ladies in this province. Despite being handicapped by bad weather almost every day, all the matches were run through according to schedule. The ladies were more than pleased with the work of the committee that staged the tournament, and the unbounded hospitality of the officials and members of the Marlborough Club.

ARMOUR TO PLAY IN BRITISH OPEN

A DESPATCH from St. Andrews:

"Tommy Armour's victory in the American Open at Oakmont has greatly pleased golfing fans at this shrine of the ancient game, for the former Edinburgh player is one of the few Americans whose entry already has been received for the British Open starting July 11th.

Whether Armour can turn the trick that Bobby Jones accomplished last year and leave Britain at the end of July wearing both the United States and British Open crowns is a question that was being debated to-night in the smoking rooms of the numerous golf club houses lining the famous links.

British regrets over the inability of their Ryder Cup team to make a better showing at Oakmont were somewhat lessened by the play-off between Armour and Harry Cooper, of Los Angeles, as both of them are British-born, Cooper having been born in England.

Some British golfers are beginning to suspect, they say, that the only way British players ever can compete seriously against Americans is to follow Armour's example and emigrate to the United States, practice putting there three or four years and then start after the titles.

Bobby Jones will not defend his title at St. Andrews, but nearly a dozen Americans have indicated their intentions of coming, although less than half a dozen have sent entries to the Royal and Ancient. The entries close July 1."

BRITISH AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP

Is Won by Dr. Tweddell, Previously Not Very Well Known in High-class Golfing Circles

SEVERAL Americans more or less known in the world of golf, had entered for the British Amateur Championship, contested in fine weather at Hoylake, but it was left to Edwin H. Haley, a young American 15th, where he sank a 10-footer. Tolley was hard pressed to save both the 16th and 17th, and lost on the home green. Haley is at present a temporary member of the Sundridge Park Club, London, but has no club quite unknown to golfing fame, to provide the sensation of the meeting by defeating Cyril Tolley in the third round. Twenty-three years of age, Haley is tall and splendidly built, and he showed unsuspected skill. Indeed, some of the shots were played in masterly style, and though he entered the Championship for the fun of the thing, and feared that he would get a licking by Tolley, he gave a great display. Haley started by holing a 40-foot putt to win the first with a "birdie," but found himself 2 down at the turn. They halved three holes coming back in par figures, and then Haley won the 13th and squared the match at the

at home. He has never seen any of the leading men of America play, and he declares that he has not had a lesson. "I have found everything out about the game for myself," he said. Haley could have no hope of winning when he was two down at the turn, but he squared at the fifteenth and held his own to the last green, where Tolley was over the green and could not get his four. Surrounded by 2,000 people when he holed the winning putt, Haley declared he was frightened out of his life, shook like a leaf, and didn't know how he struck the ball properly. Haley was educated at William's College, Williamstown, Massachusetts, and for the past eight months has lived in London as a student at the Leathersellers' Company's College. Besides Tolley, other stars who fell by the wayside were the ex-champions Wethered and Harris, and the final was played out between two rather unknown players, Dr. W. Tweddell, of Stourbridge, and D. E. Landale, of The Royal Liverpool Club. It was "a hare and tortoise affair" with Tweddell as the tortoise, who won after all the speedy hares—Wethered, Tolley and other favourites were eliminated.

Dr. Tweddell, who defeated Landale 7 up and 6 to play, in their 36-hole final and succeeded to Jess Sweetser's title, is an Englishman of 30, who learned most of his golf in Scotland. His game is a perfect example of golfing concentration, deliberation and meticulousness. Tweddell has never been known to hurry. His match with Nettleford in the semi-finals required two hours for fifteen holes. Nevertheless, his methods seem to pay, for Tweddell was one under fours. His five-hole lead over Wethered at the fifth Friday afternoon was accomplished by the figures 4, 4, 4, 3, 4.

Although never prominent in British golf, Tweddell twice previously reached the last sixteen in the Amateur Championship, and has considerable of a reputation in the North of England. Tweddell played sound golf throughout the Championship rounds. Although his style is unpicturesque, it is extremely effective. Tweddell drives a long ball, which generally outdistanced Wethered and other long drivers. He held his hands high up and close to the body, playing the woods, steps up to the ball with the feet close together, widens his stance gradually and takes five or six waggles. He putts with the ball well at the left foot with the feet almost in position for a drive.

QUEBEC OPEN TOURNAMENT

Jack Young, Youthful Assistant Professional, Leads a Classy Field of Amateurs and Professionals by Seven Strokes

(Golfing Editor, "Montreal Gazette")

ONCE again youth triumphs. Jack Young, "young" assistant professional to Charlie Murray at the Royal Montreal Golf Club, captured the first open competition of the Province of Quebec Golf Association's spring tournament when on June 17th at Senneville he led a field of 41 leading amateur and professional players of the province with a card of 73—77—150 for the 36 holes played over the picturesque and difficult Senneville Country Club course.

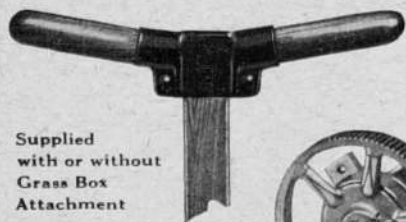

Second place went to an amateur, Wm. McLuckie, of Kanawaki, a former Canadian Amateur title-holder, who turned in a card of 157 for the 36-hole medal event, while Norman M. Scott, of The Royal Montreal, another leading amateur player of the Dominion, took third place, one stroke behind McLuckie, with 80—78—158. Thus, McLuckie and Scott captured the prizes awarded for the two leading amateurs in the field.

Tied for fourth place at 159 were Jimmie Patton, Rosemount pro; Ernie Wakelam, of the Kent Golf Club, Quebec; and George Elder, of Whitlock. These three played off for second, third and fourth prizes among the professionals, Patton finally taking second place, when he defeated Wakelam at the sixth extra hole in as thrilling a struggle as has been witnessed in tournament play here in some seasons. Elder went to fourth place among the pros when he was eliminated at the first hole of the play-off.

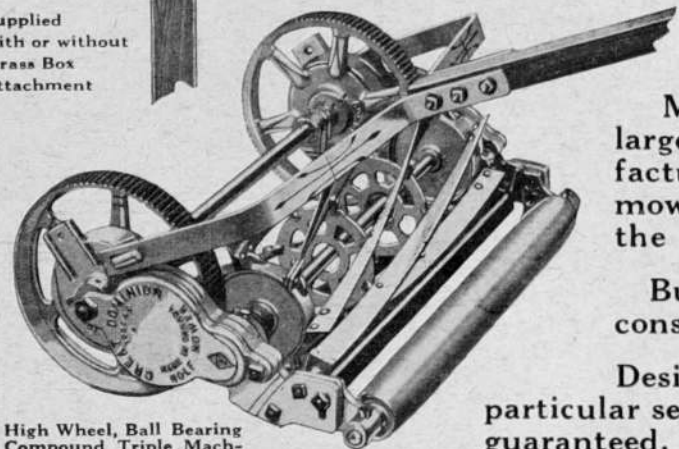

This extra competition proved a fitting climax to a day which was marked by excellent golf, despite the apparent high scores which were turned in as the players finished the round of the exacting course. Wakelam appeared to have the play-off won at the first hole when he was on the green in three, while Patton and Elder took four's. But Patton holed a 20-foot putt to halve in fives with Wakelam. At the second Patton again appeared to be out, but once again he holed a 20-footer for a birdie four and left Wakelam the difficult task of sinking a 10-footer to keep the play-off alive. Wakelam succeeded, and the pair carried on, halving the third, fourth and fifth.

At the short sixth Patton was on the green in two and was down for a three to win the hole, second prize for professionals and fourth place in the field.

Jack Young played meteoric golf to lead the field on the first 18 holes, going out in 32, four under par and finishing with a total of 73, equalling the new course record at Senneville. His closest rival on the morning round was Sid Fry, assistant to Jock Brown at Summerlea, while within shooting distance of the youthful leader were W. McLuckie, A. B. Darling, Hugh Jaques, and Norman Scott among the amateurs, and Redvers Mackenzie, Frank Glass, Jim Gourlay, H. Marsh, and Jimmie Patton.

THE CANADIAN WOMEN'S SENIOR GOLF ASSOCIATION

Will Hold Its Fifth Annual Tournament at Mount Bruno—Lady Willingdon Accepts Hon. Presidency

THE dates of the Fifth Annual Tournament of the Canadian Women's Senior Golf Association have just been announced. They are September 15th and 16th, and the venue is Mount Bruno, Montreal, one of the most beautiful courses in Canada. "The Seniors" have certainly made a good selection. The annual dinner will be held at the Mount Royal Hotel during Tournament week, and the annual meeting at the Mount Bruno club house. The officials of the club have kindly extended the privileges of the course to the players for several days previous to the Tournament. The present Senior Champion is Mrs. H. R. Tilley, of the Lambton Golf and Country Club, Toronto.

Her Excellency, The Viscountess Willingdon, has graciously accepted the Honorary Presidency of the Association. The other Patronesses are: Lady Meredith, Montreal; Mrs. G. L. Cains, Montreal; Mrs. L. Murray, President, C. L. G. U.; Mrs. E. A. Whitehead, Montreal; Mrs. J. C. Dunlop, Montreal; Lady Baillie, Toronto, Mrs. E. Bristol, Toronto; Mrs. H. D. Warren, Toronto.

The officers of this very virile organization are: President and Founder, Mrs. A. E. Mussen, Montreal; Vice-President, Mrs. Arthur D. Miles, Toronto; Hon. Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Hamilton Burns, 401 Huron Street, Toronto. Committee: Mrs. H. Horsey, Montreal; Mrs. Brownlee, Ottawa; Mrs. Kidd, Ottawa; Mrs. Bostwick, Hamilton; Mrs. E. B. Smith, London; Mrs. Laing, Montreal; Mrs. Hathaway, Montreal; Mrs. W. C. Hodgson, Montreal; Mrs. Handsombody, Quebec; Mrs. G. Chahoon, Jr., Grand'Mere; Mrs. Phippen, Toronto; Mrs. F. Cowan, Oshawa; Mrs. A. Brown, Toronto; Mrs. Stikeman, Toronto.

Mrs. W. Hamilton Burns, Toronto, the energetic Secretary of the Association, writes the Editor that there has been a most gratifying increase in the membership since last year and it is confidently expected that there will be a record field of entrants at Mount Bruno next September. The event is being keenly anticipated by the members generally.

IN AND ROUND THE CLUB HOUSE

Interesting Happenings on the Courses of England Scotland, Wales and the British Dependencies

Last year the Open Championship of South Africa was won by Jack Brews, but this year the honour has fallen to his younger brother, Syd, of Durban Country Club. The championship was played for the first time on the new links at Maccauvlei, Vereeniging, and the display of the new champion under conditions novel to him is all the more meritorious. In the fourth round, Syd Brews needed 77 to give him the title, and returning 73, finished 5 strokes (301) better than Elkin, who led at the end of the third round. Brews returned 79, 74, 75 and 73.

Mr. J. E. Caldwell, of Rivermead, Ottawa, a Governor of the Canadian Seniors, and one of the Seniors' team which sailed for England this month to play in the Senior, International matches, just before leaving for the Old Country, played in the inter-club match between Rivermead and The Royal Ottawa against the Hon. J. J. C. Jervis, A. D. C. to the Governor-General, and made the lowest medal score of the day, an 81. If he can keep up this gait in the Old Country and he is quite capable of doing so, he will prove a worthy representative of the Canadian Team.

Pessimists are fond of declaring that there is a shortage of good hickory and that therefore the steel-shafted club is the best club to buy. Mr. Dickenson, President of the Golf Shaft Company, Memphis, Tenn., one of the biggest and best Golf Shaft manufacturers in the world, informs the "Canadian Golfer" that there is no such shortage. His company never had a finer or larger quantity of quality wood shafts and dowels in stock as it has to-day. "Bobby" Jones, "Bobby" Cruickshank, "Tommy" Armour and all the leading players "still stick" to the wooden shafts.

Mrs. H. Beverly Robinson was the winner in the silver division and Mrs.

R. G. Fare in the bronze division in the 18-hole medal play, the opening competition of the season of the newly-formed ladies' branch of the Mount Bruno Country Club, Montreal. Members attended a luncheon at the clubhouse.

And here is a particularly good photo of two well known Montreal golfers "snapped" whilst on a golfing tour in California recently by Mr. D. Scott Chisholm, of Los Angeles, alike a good golfer and golf writer. On the left Mr. Arthur J. Hills, of the Mount Bruno Golf Club, Montreal, and on the right Mr. Norman Scott, of The Royal Montreal Golf Club (runner-up in the Canadian Amateur Championship in 1922).

Colonel and Mrs. Carriek, and "Don" Carriek, of Toronto, ex-Amateur Champion of Canada, were guests in Brantford on June 16th, of Mr. S. Alfred Jones, K. C., at a delightful little lunch, followed by a four-ball match in which "Don" paired up with Mr. John Lewis, semi-finalist at the recent Ontario Amateur Championship, played Mr. C. Shepherd, of Brantford and Fred Hunt, professional of the Brantford Club. Carrick and his partner won 1 up. Hunt had the best medal score, 77, over the new and quite difficult 18-hole course of the Brantford Club.

Forty members of the Old Boys' Association of Lower Canada College participated in the annual handicap golf match at the Beaconsfield Club, Montreal, this month. Jack Cowans, promising young golfer of the Royal Montreal, won first prize with a gross of 78 and net 69. Jack C. Nelles, with a net 73 took second place. W. Maurice Hodgson, with a gross 78 equalled Cowan's card. Several other of the young players were well within the eighties. The competition was followed by a dinner at Beaconsfield, which was presided over by Warren Brown, president of the Old Boys' Association, and which was attended by Dr. C. S. Fosbery, headmaster of Lower Canada College; J. S. Baillie, representing the teaching staff; Dr. F. T. Tooke, Vice-President of the Beaconsfield Golf Club, the competitors in the annual tourney and others.

And here is a great record. In the British Amateur Championship last month at Hoylake, 16 out of the last 32 players; 8 out of the last 16 players; 5 out of the last 8 players; 3 out of the last four players and the winner played with the Silver King golf ball. This is the third successive year the winner of the British Amateur has played with this great ball, the sole distributors of which in Canada is the Silvertown Company of Canada, 53 Yonge Street, Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Greene, of Toronto, are this month concluding a two-year tour of Europe, during which they have visited very many prominent and interesting golf courses. They sailed on June 14th from Queenston to Boston, and expect to be in Toronto next month, where they will reside at the Lambton Golf Club for the balance of the summer. They will receive the heartiest kind of a welcome from hosts of golfing and other friends.

The second play for the Alberta Seniors' Trophy presented by Mr. Justice Walsh, of Calgary, Hon. President of the Alberta Golf Association, will be held over the course of the Edmonton Golf and Country Club, on Friday and Saturday, the 24th and 25th of June. The championship goes to the player turning in the card for the lowest gross score for 36 holes, 18 on each day. The donor of the trophy presents a handsome individual prize to the champion and also to the player with the lowest net score, the trophy itself being placed in the club house of the club of which the champion is a member until next year. Last year's competition at Calgary produced a large field, the trophy and prizes being captured by Calgary players. With the venue changed to Edmonton it is expected that contestants from the capital will make a strong bid for the silver-ware.

Toronto Central Y. M. C. A. held their annual golf tournament at Scarborough June 14th, with Mr. Harry Phelan turning in the best gross score of 80, thereby winning the cup for 1927. This is one of the best scores turned in at the new Scarborough course this season. Thirty-seven members of the business men's class took part, and it was unanimously voted as one of the best tournaments held for some time. The prize winners were: Best gross, Harry Phelan; best net, Harry Minchinton; second gross, Ken. Doll; second net, Charlie Good; best net, first nine, W. D. Stevenson; best net, second nine, T. D. Smith; best score on longest hole, J. V. Stark; best score on three short holes, S. Helsey.

All the British Ryder Cup Team carried a fine bag of clubs. It was noticeable that Ted Ray, A. G. Havers, C. A. Whitcombe and others of the team used the celebrated Ray Mills and Braid Mills putters, whilst George Duncan, C. A. Whitcombe, A. Compston, George Gadd and Mr. G. A. Philpot were all getting tremendous distance with their wooden clubs, manufactured by the famous firm of Wm. Gibson & Co., Ltd., Kinghorn, Fife, Scotland. Both these celebrated firms are represented in Canada by Mr. Gordon L. Cohoon, 11 St. Sacrament Street, Montreal.

Miss Cecil Leitch appears to have fully recovered from the effects of being struck by lightning while on the links at Newcastle, County Down. She resumed play in the Women's Open Meeting of the Royal Portrush Club. There was a strong field, which included several international players, but Miss Leitch, playing her usually brilliant golf, won the scratch event with 84.

It is on the cards that Brantford, one of Canada's oldest golfing cities, is to have a third golf club. It is understood that the organizers have already secured an option on an admirably located piece of rolling land adjoining the Brantford Golf Club and on the line of the Brantford Municipal Railway, which has been pronounced by golfing experts as splendidly suited for the construction of an ideal nine-hole course. The wonderful success which has attended the Brantford Municipal Arrowdale Golf Course, which is generally overcrowded, has created a demand for additional golfing accommodation for the coming golfers at moderate fees. There is no doubt but that the popularity of the game is increasing in leaps and bounds and it is the opinion of many that the population of Brantford and suburbs can readily support a third course.

Alderman I. R. Ramsay, of Guelph, won the cup for the best net score in the first annual open tournament for Western Ontario nine-hole courses held at the Grand River Country Club course, Kitchener, Ont., June 1st, with a net score of 142 for 36 holes. George W. Lang, Jr., of Kitchener, who won the prize for the best gross score with 164 and George Stewart, of Kitchener, tied for the low net score with the winner, but in the toss up lost out.

The Grand River team, composed of George Stewart, Alf. Stewart, George Lang and R. H. Henderson, won the team prize.

Twenty-four golfers participated in the day's event, which the local club intends holding annually. The scores:

After the most exciting match in the history of amateur internationals, England and Scotland finished all square on the course of the Royal Liverpool Club, at Hoylake. There were many dramatic incidents, and it was fitting that the issue should hang on the very last game.

The Scots had a lead of 2 with two games to go, but Beddard came in with a success. Then Hardman and Tulloch fought up to the last hole. The Englishman was dormy 1, and Tulloch, getting bunkered off his second shot, destroyed the last chance of a Scottish victory. It was a fierce day, the wind at times coming with the force of a gale across the estuary of the Dee. There were many wild shots played, especially on the holes which lie among the sand dunes. On this stretch the players, who had complete control of the ball, piled up their advantage. Roger Wethered, the former British Amateur Champion, was in great form. He trounced Robert Harris, also a former champion, 8 and 7. Harris never won a hole.

The Winnipeg "Evening Tribune" in a recent appreciation of Mr. G. H. Balfour, late General Manager of the Union Bank, who is still an outstanding figure in the financial, social and sporting life of Winnipeg, says:

"I recall his interest in curling, and the fact that his sound judgment in the promotion of the game led to his election as president of the Canadian Branch of the Royal Caledonian Club of Scotland. That other Scottish game—golf—profited by his experience. Captain of the Royal Montreal Golf Club for several years, he was later chosen as president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association.

It is all but inexplicable why the Royal game was so long in travelling west. The late D. W. McDermid, C. P. Wilson, and a few other enthusiasts were among the first, thirty odd years ago, to knock a ball or two around the vacant places, prior to the formation of clubs, now common in every city and town, and even village, from Winnipeg to the Rockies and beyond."

Ladies' Opening Day at the Catarqui Golf and Country Club, Kingston, Ont., held on May 29th, 1927, proved to be one of the most successful events ever played over the links here. There was approaching and putting in the morning and nine holes were played in the afternoon. Two new greens were opened. Ben Kerr, the professional, gave a faultless exhibition of driving and approaching. Mrs. Brooks, who is playing excellent golf at present, won the long-driving competition and also the nine-hole competition that was played after lunch. The course is now in excellent condition, golf experts having pronounced the new greens to be among the finest to be found anywhere in Canada.

WELL DONE, GEORGE GADD

(From "The Montreal Star")

GEORGE GADD is a golfer. He learned the game on British links, where he was taught also something that is not so readily acquired, as skill with wood and iron club—the unwritten law, the golfer's soul of honour.

Gadd is a member of the British team that has come to America to match its prowess against the greatest golfers of this continent.

Playing yesterday at Oakmont in the United States Open tournament, Gadd had an experience which enabled him to give unchallengeable evidence of his respect for the traditions of that British sportsmanship in which he was cradled.

During the course of play George played two strokes with a ball that he believed his own, but which he discovered a few fatal seconds too late was a stray changeling. The penalty of this technical breach of the rules is disqualification, so stern is what Mrs. Battle of another pastime termed the "strict rigor of the game." Disqualification meant the dashing of hopes he had cherished, the dispelling of a dream he had travelled 3,000 miles to transform into reality.

A meaner man, a smaller man, a man who had not that fine sense of honour in which Gadd had been schooled, might have turned a blind eye on his own ball. Gadd had no blind eye. Disappointment might be hard, but dishonour was unthinkable.

The sequel of his mistake is told in his own words: "I just had to go and tell the referee I had disqualified myself." That is all. He just had to go and find the referee to tell him of the costly error he had made.

George Gadd would laugh at the idea that he had done anything out of the common. He would not understand a suggestion that he could have done anything other than he did. Because he went and told the referee he has made every Britisher proud of him and has made every golfer who has ever deviated a hair's breadth from the strict code of golf for his own advantage thoroughly ashamed of his meanness.

Well done, George Gadd. Whatever the trip of the visitors costs in dollars, the sum was repaid a hundredfold when Gadd "had to go and find the referee."

Gadd played golf.

C. C. FRASER WINS QUEBEC AMATEUR

NOTWITHSTANDING that he had only just recovered from a nasty attack of neuritis, C. C. Fraser, of Kanawaki, won the Quebec Amateur Spring Championship Saturday, June 18th, carding two 76's for 152 over the difficult Senneville Country Club Course, Montreal. Other good scores were: Hugh Jaques, Whitlock, 77, 79=156; W. McLuckie, Kanawaki, 78, 82=160; J. B. Mickles, Royal Montreal, 80, 80=160; N. M. Scott, Royal Montreal, 75, 85=160; W. M.
