The Golf Season in Canada is off to a Record Start.

"Come fair weather or foul", high market or low, "John J. Duffer" plays golf. That was amply demonstrated on the links of Canada on May 24th when literally tens of thousands of players were whacking the little white ball for fair. Private courses from Coast to Coast were crowded.

Municipal and pay-as-you-play courses were "congested worse confounded." Never was seen in the history of the Royal and Ancient game in the Dominion such an outpouring of players. May 24th, generally speaking, marks the opening of the golf season in Canada and it certainly this year opened with a bang. Other sports, the stock market and many industries may be in the doldrums but not golf.

Just to show how the game is increasing throughout the country. Sarnia, Ontario, opened last month two new courses. Three years ago the city had only one golf club. Now it has four. Edmonton is putting into play this summer a splendid new 18-hole course, "The Highlands". The city now boasts six clubs. In Toronto and District three new courses have come into being this season and Montreal is also opening up two more courses. St. John, N.B., this month puts into play its third course, "Ridgewood", and London, Ontario, its fourth club, "Fairmount". Guelph, Ontario, has this season opened up another 18-hole course and so also has Kitchener, Ontario—both of championship calibre. And so the story goes. New clubs, increased membership in old clubs reported from every Province. The golfing tourist trade this season will also, it is believed, reach record proportions. Golf has business depression "stymied and stymied good and proper".

Bennett Tariff
Benefits
Canadian Golf
Manufacturers.

The Bennett tariff has to a slight extent benefitted the golf industry in Canada, which of recent years has become quite a large and important business, employing a great number of expert hands in the manufacture of clubs, balls, and bags.

In steel clubs there is no advance in the British tariff. On wood clubs, however, there is an advance from 15¾% to 18% British manufacture and 25% to 30% U.S. manufacture. On steel clubs of U.S. manufacture there is an advance from 30% to 35%.

There is no change in the duty on bags or balls. It must be remembered however that the excise tax of 1% has to be added alike on the importation of clubs, balls, and bags so the Canadian manufacturer benefits to some extent on all golf lines as a result of the new tariff, especially as against the United States.

The handsome little red books of the rules, 1931 edition, revised and corrected to-date, are now available. Single copies, 25 cents. 100 copies or more, 20 cents per copy. 500 copies with name of Club on front cover (no extra charge), 15 cents per copy. Order early, as there will be no second edition this year. Address Business Department, "Canadian Golfer," Brantford, Ont.

(The Editor is always glad to answer questions about the Rules, and other golfing matters, but owing to so many of these requests coming in every month, he must ask in future that a stamped-addressed envelope be enclosed with all such communications, otherwise they will not be answered.)

Mr. Leonard Crawley, the former famous cricketer who last month won the English Championship, is on record as stating "to make a hundred at cricket is child's play to competing in and winning a golf championship."

According to accident statistics of the Travelers Insurance Company, more adults were injured last year while playing golf than in any other game, 12 per cent. of the total number of accidents in sports and recreational activities having occurred on the links. More than 60 per cent. of the injuries suffered by golfers were the result of slips and falls on uneven ground.

The Wilson Cup competition last month over the Royal West Norfolk links at Brancaster witnessed the unusual incident of three of the sons of the King participating—but they all went down to defeat. The Duke of Gloucester and Prince George, playing together, were eliminated in the first round of the foursome play, and the Prince of Wales, playing with his equerry, Piers Legh, was eliminated in the second round.

Many old golfing friends throughout Canada will be sorry to hear of the quite sudden death in Montreal recently of Mr. Hugh M. Lambert. He was for many years manager for Canada of the Guardian Insurance Company. He was a fine type of an athletic Scotsman and was in his time a keen cricketer and golfer. He had played on courses from Coast to Coast and was well known and popular in Canadian golfdom. Mr. Lambert, who was in his 65th year, was a member of the Royal Montreal Golf Club.

* * *

Cambridge University of a surety, came into its own on the links of old England last month. L. G. Crawley, who won the English Championship, is a Cambridge graduate, whilst young Eric Smith, who annexed the British Championship, too, is a student of that far-famed university. Heretofore Cambridge has never loomed large in Championship golf, whereas Oxford has produced three Amateur Champions in Sir E. W. Holderness (1922 and 1924), Roger Wethered (1923), and Cyril Tolley (1920 and 1929). Cambridge graduates the world over are naturally jubilant over the dual golfing victory of their Alma Mater.

Thousands who suffer annually from the distressing symptoms of hay fever will be particularly interested in the report of Dr. H. T. Gussow, Dominion Botanist of the Department of Agriculture, who finds, as a result of a special survey conducted in the vicinity of Murray Bay, Que., that ragweed plant, the pollen of which is the principal cause of hay fever, is entirely absent. This will especially be good news to hundreds of golfers who every summer have to seek relief from this distressing complaint. Murray Bay is celebrated for its golf courses including the famous Manoir Richelieu links.

Clubs often ask how holes on courses should be measured. The British golf Unions during the past few years have measured their courses from a point six feet from the back of the regular tee to the middle of each green. This is called the standard distance. The British system of measuring has officially been adopted this year by the Province of Quebec Golf Association, and other Provincial Associations would also be well advised to instruct their member clubs to adopt this eminently fair and satisfactory system. It would standardize the measurement of holes on all Canadian courses and that is much to be desired.

The Prince of Wales can always be depended upon to do the right thing and the nice thing. When in South America he played a great deal of golf and took quite an interest in the four leading professionals there who have been playing in England and will the next few weeks visit the States and Canada. He contributed handsomely towards the fund raised in South America, to pay their expenses during their extended tour. Last month he personally conducted the team over St. James Palace. When he is with the Argentine professionals he always speaks to them in Spanish which the players declare to be excellent.

Editorial Toronto Mail:—

"Golf may still be the Royal and Ancient game but it has also become in recent years in Canada one of the most democratic and popular of games. The Canadian Golfer estimates that there are 553 golf clubs of various kinds registered in Canada as compared with 213 ten years ago. Ontario takes the lead with 175 clubs, and the remainder are fairly well distributed among the other Provinces. In view of the large increase in the number of players The Canadian Golfer makes a plea for better observance of the rules and etiquette of the game. It states that last year breaches of the rules cost three participants, in all probability, the championships in which they were playing. Two of them had played 37 holes when the breach was made. The player was penalized and the victory awarded to his opponent. For a game that looks simple the rules are numerous with the additional distinction between medal and match play. They can be learned only by carefully following them in practice. The observance of them is one of the fine points of golf and adds greatly to the enjoyment of the game."

Seventy members of the Ontario Club, one of Toronto's outstanding city clubs, visited the Scarboro' Golf and Country Club recently to meet members of the Scarboro' Club. For many of the visiting golfers it was the first round over the Scarboro' course. They returned after their matches with favourable comments on the condition of the course. The prize winners were:

Low gross, 22 and under—T. McNair and H. T. Fairley. Low gross, 23 and over—H. L. Durrant, 90, and P. W. Dunbar, 92. Low nett, 22 and under—J. H. Lugsdin, 92-22-70; W. Wheler, 88-16-72. Low nett, 23 and over—L. Cummings, 94-26-68; A. B. Kerr, 101-30-71; W. H. Bosworth and H. Crosson.

At dinner the announcement was made that privileges of the Scarboro' and Ontario Clubs would be exchangeable, members of the Ontario Club enjoying Scarboro' privileges during the summer months and members of the Scarboro' Club securing the privileges of the Ontario Club during the fall and winter months. Addresses were delivered by J. A. McLaren, president of the Ontario Club, and by Alex. Elliott, president of the Scarboro' Club. This is

Women's U. S. Amateur Championship

THE U.S.G.A. has just issued the official programme of the 35th competition for the Women's Amateur Golf Championship of the United States, which will be held at the Country Club, Buffalo, Sept. 21st-26th. This outstanding fixture will precede the Canadian Ladies' Open Amateur Championship at Rosedale, Toronto, the week of Sept. 28th. Owing to the proximity of the two cities there will be an unusual number of U.S. and Canadian entrants in both events. Entries for the U.S. Championship must be made to Miss Madge Miller, secretary women's committee U.S.G.A., 156 Worth Street, Birmingham, Mich., not later than Saturday, Sept. 5th. Entrance fee, $5.00, must accompany entry.

Entries will be received from women players having handicaps up to 6 inclusive, as rated by the Women's Sectional Golf Associations in the United States. Any player whose name does not appear on these lists and who desires to compete in the Championship, must submit to Miss Madge Miller, before Tuesday, September 1st, 1931, five dated and attested score cards covering rounds made during the current playing season on any course. These attested cards, must have marked thereon the correct distance for each hole played, and in case women's tees are used the same must be noted. Upon the basis of the scores and distances submitted, the player will be rated and notified at least one week prior to the Championship.

Contestants may apply for accommodations to Mrs. George Bleistein, Chairman, Committee on Arrangements, 1125 Walbridge Building, Buffalo, N.Y.

"All Montreal" Defeats the Royal Montreal

IT looks as though no longer can the women players of the Royal Montreal "take on All Montreal" as they have very often successfully done in the past. The many other clubs in Montreal are developing players who naturally must in the course of time be more than a match for any single club. In 1929 Royal Montreal ladies won, whilst last year there was a deadlock.

On June 4th the annual fixture took place at the Royal Montreal Club and "All Montreal" registered a decisive victory by 15 matches to 3 with five halved.

The match marked the opening of the competitive season of the Quebec Branch of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union, and brought together 46 of the district's outstanding golfers.

Among the outstanding performers for the winning team were Miss Marjorie Kirkham, of Forest Hills, Canadian women's closed champion, who won over Mrs. R. H. Irwin, of Royal Montreal; Miss Dora Virtue, Provincial titleholder, who gained a victory over Miss Margaret Lockhart; Miss Lucille Rolland, Miss Kate Robertson, Mrs. Garth Thomson, Miss H. Martin, Mrs. W. Laurie, Mrs. J. Cameron, Mrs. J. N. Laing, Miss D. Nicoll, Mrs. C. C. Ronalds, Mrs. J. W. Nicoll, Miss Cushing, Mrs. Papineau, Mrs. J. W. P. Ritchie, all of whom won their matches. The winners for Royal Montreal were Mrs. David Wanklyn, who defeated Miss Eileen Kinsella, of Senneville, the captain of the All Montreal team; Mrs. R. J. Dawes, who won over Mrs. J. W. Ross, of Beaconsfield, and Mrs. G. P. Hedges, who won over Mrs. J. E. F. Martin, of Hampstead.

The British Amateur Championship

All the British and U.S. Experts Eliminated and Final is Played out by two Youths, 22-year-old Eric Martin Smith Defeating John de Forest.

THIS year's British Amateur Championship at Westward Ho! will be remembered by its many eventful matches and the fact that the final was fought out between youths of twenty-two and twenty-four years of age.

The collapse of the stars started early for on the first day there was the surprising defeat of Sir Ernest Holderness, twice winner of the Championship, by the young Midland golfer, Allan Newey.

On the following day Ken Greig, the Scottish Champion, went out to Robert Harris, who lost in the next round to Tolley, and Wethered, who was out in 37, beat his old antagonist, Torrance, by 4 and 2. In the meantime de Forest had put out Newton and Captain Wilson, and Martin Smith had two narrow wins against Brig.-Gen. Critchley and Forsman.

The fifth round, however, witnessed the sensations of the Championship. Favourites were slaughtered in this round. George Voigt, U.S. ranking player and generally tipped off to win the Championship, was conquered by Samuel Roper, the Nottingham insurance clerk, who came into prominence a year ago when he fought so well against Bobby Jones at St. Andrews. It was an amazing triumph for Roper to dispose of the chances of the last overseas competitor. He lost the first hole, and he was never in the lead until he holed out on the last green.

Roger Wethered was vanquished by William Tulloch, a meat salesman in Glasgow, and Cyril Tolley was beaten by Tippet, a member of the local club and secretary of the Royal Wimbledon Golf Club. Tippet returned to England a few years ago after having spent five years in New York as secretary of the Meadow Brook Polo Club. J. W. Beaumont Pease was also put out in this round. Mr. Pease, who is 63, reached the fifth round by beating the Yorkshire champion, J. Robinson, L. Beasley, and S. Matthews. Mr. Pease, who succeeds the Duke of York as captain of the Royal and Ancient Club, has represented England against Scotland four times, and was in the last eight of the British Championship in 1900, 1903, and 1928.

The field was now reduced to eight players, of which six were English, one Irish, and one Scottish. Of the young school who survived was John de Forest, a son of Baron de Forest. This youth had spent the winter in California, and his playing with American professionals has notably improved his game. Tulloch's achievement was, perhaps, the best of the fifth round, for Wethered had reached the peak of his game on the previous day. The Scot had no tremors about beating Wethered, for three years ago he put him out at Sandwich. Tulloch won the first three holes, and although Wethered fought back Cormack, but the Irishman played fine golf after this and became 1 up at the 7th. They were all square at the 9th and still all square at the 17th, then on the last green, the doctor took 3 putts and Martin Smith was in the final.

It was a stirring final, too, with Smith leading by 1 hole at the 9th,

This will give Canadians some idea of the formidable bunkers encountered in British Championship courses. W. Tulloch bunkered at the Big-Four Bunker approaching the 4th green at Westward Ho!. The ball was under the ladder. Tulloch was beaten by J. de Forest by 1 hole, who in turn was defeated by Eric Smith in the final. Tulloch made a fine explosion shot. Note the ball heading for the fairway.

courageously, he never got on level terms.

Both the semi-finals were thrilling affairs for de Forest and Martin Smith were successful only on the last green. The former was 1 up on Tulloch at the 9th and 3 up at the 11th, but he lost the next two holes, and missed a short putt to become dormy at the 16th. A half, however, at the 17th and another at the 18th gave him the match.

Martin Smith started off by winning the first hole from Dr. Mac-after going out in 41 to his opponent's 42. Missing a yard putt cost him the 10th, but he won the next two holes where de Forest was bunkered, and finished the first eighteen still 2 up.

In the afternoon he increased the lead to 3 at the second and became 4 up at the 5th, where he played a fine mashie shot to within a few yards of the pin, and won the hole in 3. After this, however, de Forest started off to putt magnificently and at the 13th had squared the match.

He lost the 14th, but another fine

The Fourth Annual Competition for the Manoir Richelieu Shield will be held at Murray Bay on Saturday, July 11th, 1931, and will be run in conjunction with the Invitation Tournament sanctioned by the Province of Quebec Golf Association. The Competition, which is open to amateurs, will be thirty-six holes, Medal Play, with all competitors starting at scratch.

GOLF

IN THE HIGHLANDS
AT MURRAY BAY

AS A GUEST OF THE MANOIR RICHELIEU

As you approach Murray Bay by steamer you catch sight of the MANOIR RICHELIEU from a long way off, its grey walls and jade green copper roof blending harmoniously with its mountain background. High up where the tops of the pines notch out the blue sky lies the Manoir's renowned eighteen-hole golf course—as near heaven as most of us ever play. A highland course with a view of surpassing loveliness from every tee and green and fairway.

The MANOIR RICHELIEU entertains you with true hospitality. No comfort or convenience is lacking and an exacting service is ever at your disposal. There is a note of quiet, restful grandeur about its halls and salons that is in keeping with the traditions of seigniorial living in old French-Canada.

In addition to superb golf, you may ride woodland trails on sure-footed saddle horses, play tennis on excellent en-tout-cas courts, swim in a large outdoor salt-water pool, and dance in the evenings in a charming little seventeenth century chateau.

☛ We would like to send you an illustrated booklet describing the beauty and a little of the history of this northern paradise in French-Canada. A pamphlet entitled "Freedom from Hay-Fever at Murray Bay" may also interest you or a friend. Both will be mailed gladly on request.

putt gave him a half at the 15th, they were all square again at the next hole, then, at the 17th, de Forest caught a bunker with his second shot and became 1 down. Both took irons at the 18th and played short of the burn; Martin Smith put his putt dead for a 4 and de Forest missed one of eight yards for a 3, so the hole was halved, and the Championship won by the 22-year-old player.

Among the celebrities who entered for the Championship was Douglas Fairbanks, who plays quite a respectable game of golf. He was, however, put out in the first round by J. R. Abercrombie, but not until the famous screen actor had carried his opponent to the last green.

The new champion is the son of Mr. Everard Martin Smith, the London banker, who was a semi-finalist in the championship in 1914, and his mother also belongs to a famous golfing family, being a sister of Mr. Agnes Hambro, chairman of the Rules of Golf Committee.

Smith, who has played for Cambridge University, is a scratch member of the Royal St. George's Club, and he won the scratch medal there a year ago after a tie with Robert Harris. Only once before has he played in a national championship. At the age of 17, when at Eton, he took part in the French Open Amateur. He has a national handicap of four.

John de Forest, the runner-up, is 24 years old, and a member of the Addington Club. He is a son of Baron de Forest and a nephew of Lord Gerard. He has been to America, where he studied the methods of the leading professionals.

De Forest plays with a complete set of chromium-plated, steel-shafted clubs. Martin Smith, who declared that he "simply played the final in a dream whatever the state of the game," made only one shot with a steel-shafted club, a spoon.

One of the features of the Amateur Championship was the splendid play of the oldest competitor, J. W. Beaumont Pease, the chairman of Lloyds Bank. He is 63, and he reached the fifth round by beating the Yorkshire champion, J. Robinson, L. Beasley, and S. Matthews.

The Interesting Manitoba Fixtures

THE following are the interesting fixtures of the Manitoba Golf Association for the season of 1931 with conditions:—

(Lowest score of all contestants not eligible for another prize.) Entries to be made with the Secretary, Chas. N. Harris, 203 Donalds Block, on or before Tuesday, September 3rd, 1931.

Contestants are invited to attend a dinner at Southwood after the match when the organization of a Seniors' Association may be discussed.

U. S. Open at Inverness

Record Field Will Play at Inverness July 2nd, 3rd and 4th. Course is a Stiff One and Will Call for Every Shot in the Bag of the Experts.

FIFTY-THREE players, including 31 who finished high in last year's event and ten members of the British Ryder Cup team, will be exempt from qualifying for the U.S. National Open golf tournament scheduled to start July 2 at the Inverness Club at Toledo, Ohio.

Included in the list of United States players automatically eligible to competing in the British Open.

With Bobby Jones and John Goodman unentered, all of the exempt United States entrants are professionals. They include MacDonald Smith, Horton Smith, Harry Cooper, John Golden, Tommy Armour, Charles Lacey, Johnny Farrell, Bill Mehlhorn, George Von Elm, Leo

The eighteenth green at Inverness, Toledo, Ohio, where the U.S. National Open Golf Championship will be staged on July 2-3-4. The club house is in the background. It was on this green that Ted Ray, famous English golfer, won the thrilling Open Championship in 1920 by sinking a long putt for a total of 295, just one stroke better than Harry Vardon.

pete at Toledo is Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., the champion, who will not defend his title, Craig Wood, well known professional, and John Goodman, amateur, also were eligible without qualifying but did not file entries.

The members of the British Ryder Cup team on the exempt list are Charles Whitcombe, captain, Archie Compston, William H. Davies, Abe Mitchell, Fred Robson, Ernest Whitcombe, George Duncan, Sid Esterbrook, Bert Hodson, A. G. Havers.

Others exempt from the qualifying rounds are the four Argentines, Jose Jurado, Tomasco Genta, Hector Freccero, and Marco Churio; Augusta Boyer and Aubrey Boomer, of France; Henry Cotton, Leslie Cotton and Percy Allis, of Great Britain, and Art Straub and Tony Manero, two Diegel, Joe Turnesa, Willie Hunter, Walter Hagen, Al Watrous, and Gene Sarazen.

The officials of the Inverness Golf Club have spared no expense to bring their course right up to concert pitch for the big event. In 1920 when Ray won the Open Inverness was a fine course but to-day it is vastly better. The following is the yardage:—

No.	Out			In
	Yds.	Par		No.	Yds.	Par
1	392	4		10	348	4
2	388	4		11	380	4
3	146	3		12	516	5
4	431	4		13	146	3
5	430	4		14	416	4
6	350	4		15	441	4
7	316	4		16	398	4
8	210	3		17	404	4
9	492	5		18	325	4
	Out 3155	35		In 3394	36

Grand total, 6,459 yards, total par 71.

It will be noticed that this is a particularly well balanced course. The bunkering of every hole is of a most scientific character and it is freely predicted that next month the par of 71 will be rarely beaten. In 1920 Ray won at Inverness with a score of 295, one stroke lower than Harry Vardon, Joek Hutchinson, Leo Diegel and Jack Burke. In the absence of Bobby Jones, the present holder of the title, Tommy Armour, recent winner of the British Open, has been installed favourite to head the big International field which will draw tens of thousands to Inverness the first week in July.

Canada's Most Unique Golf Course

(Special Contribution "Canadian Golfer")

ONE hundred and fifty miles north of Big River at Ile a la Crosse in Northern Saskatchewan there is a Government outpost hospital. Just at the fifty-fifth parallel this hospital is located. Indians and half-breeds are its most frequent patients. So the superintendent must find diversion, otherwise it would become a dreary existence.

Being a golf fan Dr. G. F. Weatherhead, who is in charge of this hospital, turned to golf. It presented difficulties but these were soon conquered. Here's how golf struck the hospital. Under the caption "Recreation" in the doctor's report we find the following:—

"With willow wands and red rags and empty coffee tins, I rigged a 1,990 yard, nine-hole golf course which runs through the peninsula. Unfortunately this will be of little advantage to the patients but will likely make the nurse walk one and one-eighth miles with one of my daughters. I negotiated the nine in 58—and then in 49 but do not expect to break 50 very often."

The Ile a la Crosse Golf Club boasts four steel shafted golf clubs and half a dozen golf balls but as the doctor writes "as yet no golf bag". The club is doing business as a wholesale firm recently reported an order from the club for tees.

New Brunswick Ladies' Championship

THE annual Provincial Championship of the New Brunswick Ladies' Golf Association will be held on the pretty course of the Westfield Country Club, Westfield Centre, N.B., on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 7th and 8th. The following is the interesting programme:—

The entry list closes on Friday, July 3rd, at 9 p.m.

Entries are to be addressed to Mrs. Frank N. Robertson, Tournament Secretary, Westfield Centre, Kings Co., N.B., and must be accompanied by the fee of one dollar which entitles each competitor to take part in any or all the matches.

Each entry must state the handicap of the player.

The draw will be made on Saturday, July 4th, and the pairings and starting times for each couple will be published in the Saint John Telegraph-Journal on Monday, July 6th.

The secretary of each club is requested to inform the Tournament Secretary before July 3rd of the names of the players composing the teams in each Division.

First Division is composed of players whose handicap is 29 and under. Second Division is players of 30 to 36 handicap.

Tuesday, July 7th, 1931—1 p.m., official opening, address of welcome, by the president. 2 p.m., first round, First Division team match 18 holes medal play for the T. Eaton Co. Ltd. Cup. 2.30 p.m., first round, Second Division team match, 18 holes medal play for the Telegraph-Journal Cup. 2 p.m. and 2.30 p.m., first round Provincial Championships, 18 holes medal play, both Divisions. This match is played in conjunction with the team matches. 3 p.m., first round. Short match. 9 holes medal play.

British Ryder Cup Team Confident

A CABLE from London, June 9th:—

"On the eve of its departure for the United States, the British Ryder Cup team was given a royal send-off at a dinner given in its honour at the Nineteenth Club. The Duke of York was present, while the Prince of Wales sent his best wishes for the team's success.

"I have a very good team of tryers," said Charles Whitcombe, team captain. "If it's on the cards that we lose, we will lose like sportsmen, but I think we are going to win."

"I say without hesitation that I am sure we shall win," was the comment of Samuel Ryder, donor of the cup. "British golf has taken on a new chapter in its history. We've been persuaded by all sorts of Jeremiahs that we were inferior to Americans, but we are not."

Canadian Professional Golf Championship July 6th

THE date has just been announced for the last of the important fixtures of the Canadian golf season, that of the annual Championship of the Canadian Professional Golf Association. Rosedale, Toronto, is the venue and the date Monday, July 6th, or three days before the Canadian Open Championship, which is scheduled for Mississauga, Toronto, July 9th-11th.

The present holder of this very important championship, which provides an excellent "curtain-raiser to the Open", is Willie Lamb, professional at the Uplands Golf Club, Toronto, who for three years in succession has annexed the title thus equalling the record of Davie Black, of the Shaughnessy Heights Golf Club, Vancouver, B.C., who lifted the cup in 1919, 1920, and 1921. He also won the event in 1913 when he was pro at the Rivermead Golf Club, Ottawa, or four times in all.

It is quite on the cards that Willie Lamb may duplicate Black's great feat and win the Championship again this year. This month at Lambton with a 73 and 71—144, in a very representative field, he won the Dunlop Tournament and played superb golf to do so. He is in great form this season, playing every shot with remarkable stroking and precision. Lamb is a former young Scottish amateur coming to this country a few years ago and taking up the game professionally as assistant to George Cumming, of Toronto, who has developed more champions than any other instructor in Canada, possibly in America. Cumming during his tenure of office of over a quarter of a century at the Toronto Golf Club has been the golfing mentor to C. R. Murray, Albert Murray, Karl Keffer, Nicol Thompson, Willie Freeman, and Gordon Brydson, only to mention a few of his former assistants who have earned golfing fame the past twenty years or so.

The Art of Putting and the Putting Grip

(By Jack Redmond)

1. This side view of my putting grip shows that I hold the club as I do for other shots. Place left hand on the shaft and use the overlapping grip, this being the same as my regular grip.

The putt is essentially a right hand stroke. The club is taken back with the left hand and strokes with the right.

2. This front view of the putting grip shows clearly how the hands are precisely opposed, gaining the hinge or pendulum action of the wrists.

Putting methods are wide and devious, but the greatest putters in the game, including Bobby Jones, have found that this pendulum system of stroking the ball is by far the most effective for holing 'em consistently. I find that the square handle grip helps your putting. I think it was Sandy Herd who said that the best method of putting was to smack the ball into the hole. When you see a golfer like Leo Diegel slap the ball down hole after hole, with his ungodly looking stance, and then watch Horton Smith or Jones or Hagen miss 'em from their more orthodox stances, one wonders which is the best putting system.

It comes back to Sandy Herd's axiom you feel more comfortable and relaxed on the green with feet quite well apart. Usually these players rest most of the weight on the left foot, as that plan relieves any tendency to sway the body forward in hitting the ball. Others stand with the feet so close together that the heels are almost touching. Some players stand almost erect, while others crouch well over the ball. These practices are all a matter of individual preference, and no one of them is bar to good putting, nor is it any guarantee that the player will putt well. Every well known golfer who has a reputation for fine putting will admit if questioned that the answer is PRACTICE.

One of the finest things about putting practice is the fact that it can be indulged in indoors. A ball a putter and a strip of carpet are all that is needed. Without "putting" touch no player can become a consistently good performer on the putting-green. Judge the roll of the green and also the amount of hitting force to get the ball up the hole. But these come only with practice.

Now in putting, it is a pronounced weakness if the body is allowed to sway. You will never see a golfer who could keep good direction if he allowed his body to sway when in the act of putting. If you sway your body there is a risk of your hands going forward with too much speed, the wrists should be allowed to do the work, for short putts hold the wrists more rigid.

The left hand should come well through, the club brought forward with the right hand, the left acts, more as a steady influence.

When you putt glue your gaze on the ball, and do not allow it to come away from the ball until the ball is well on its way, or it's disastrous because putting is one of the most important departments of the game.

The ball should be played off the dead centre of the club, and something will go wrong if it isn't hit from the centre.

Hit your ball firmly and at the back of the hole, the old saying never up never in. You stab at the ball when you stop the blade just as you hit it. Avoid this it is very bad putting. Try and swing the club so that the stroke is easy and smooth. Steadiness and confidence are most essential. If you lift your head and arms as you come in contact with the ball you will top the putt and you will lose control of the stroke of the ball. When trying for a long putt for the hole the ball should be rolled as the wheel of the car along a road. The true test of a properly rolled putt is that it does not jump from the ground when hit and begins to roll almost immediately. Keep your shoulders from turning towards the hole until the putter has stopped swinging. If this is not done there is a tendency to draw the club across the line of the run and pull your ball to the left of the hole.

Take your time.

Be careful and do not hurry your putts. Also you must not fiddle around too much. Take a good look at the green, decide whether it is fast or slow, measure the distance with your eye mentally, try and figure out the roll of the green and then make your shot.

Most golf matches are won and lost on the putting greens.

Very few players practice putting before their match. If they would scatter a few balls around the practice putting green and try and get the touch I believe their game would be improved.

British Ryder Cup Team Will Play in Montreal July 17th

IT will be especially good news for the golfers of Montreal and the Province of Quebec to hear that the Quebec Golf Association endorsed and sponsored by the Royal Canadian Golf Association are arranging for an exhibition match between the British Ryder Cup team and a team of leading Canadian professionals to be played at the Beaconsfield Golf Club, Montreal, on Friday, July 17th.

All of the ten members of the Ryder Cup team will be playing in the Canadian Open at Mississauga, Toronto, July 9th, 10th and 11th, so they will be seen by thousands of golfers in Ontario. This exhibition match will enable the golfers of the Province of Quebec also to witness the play of the visiting aces which makes for an admirable arrangement. Beaconsfield has a very fine course and will provide an interesting setting for this colourful event. There will of course be handsome money prizes and an admission charge. Montreal and District can be depended upon to turn out a record gallery for this outstanding fixture of the 1931 season. The Ryder Cup team will, it is understood, sail from Montreal on their trip home.

The Passing of an Outstanding Golfer and Business Man

IT is with very great regret that the Editor is called upon to record the tragic passing last month in London, Ontario, of Mr. J. Mortimer Hunt, local manager in that city for a number of years of the Dunlop Tire & Rubber Goods Co. Ltd. He was found dead in his automobile in his garage, another victim of deadly carbon-monoxide poisoning.

Mr. Hunt was a very prominent and popular member of the London Hunt Club and the vice-captain of the golf section of the club. He had for many years taken a very keen interest in golf and was extremely popular alike in golfing and business circles. He was also a past president of the London Rowing and Bowling Club and a director of the London Canoe Club. He was a member of the Masonic Order. Practically his whole and very successful business career was spent with the Dunlop Company, he having been on the staff in Montreal before going to London fifteen years ago.

The heartfelt sympathy of many warm friends not only in London but throughout Ontario goes out to the bereaved widow, in which sentiment the Editor of the "Canadian Golfer" begs leave to be associated. An only son died some six years ago.

The B.C. Ladies' Championship

Mrs. Vera Hutchings, of the Jericho Club, Vancouver, Wins Both the Qualifying Medal and the Championship for the Fifth Time.

AS briefly recorded in the May issue, Mrs. Vera Hutchings, Internationally known golfer, in an overwhelming victory at the Colwood Golf Club, Victoria, B.C., retained her B.C. Ladies' Championship, defeating Mrs. Sayward Wilson 10 and 8. Mrs. Hutchings had previously won the qualifying medal with a dashing 83, five strokes ahead of her nearest competitor, Mrs. H. Patterson, of the Victoria Club.

Mrs. Hutchings, in retaining her crown, displayed real championship form, particularly after the first nine holes. The powerful Vancouverite played beautiful golf during the twenty-eight holes and gave a gallery of about 500 a glimpse of golf as champions play it. Her wood shots would be the envy of many of the opposite sex, and her irons were practically perfect and carrying tremendous distance. Her short game and putting was all that could be desired.

Mrs. Sayward-Wilson did not display her true form at any time during the final, but she never gave up her plucky fight. Mrs. Hutchings looked as if she would have a walk-over when she took the first three holes, but the runner-up showed great courage and squared the match at the seventh. Then she took her only lead of the match by capturing the eighth of the morning round. Mrs. Hutchings won the ninth and the pair rounded the turn all square. But from then on nothing could stop Mrs. Hutchings and she went to lunch 5 up, after holing out a flock of birdies and pars. In the afternoon she continued her devastating pace and the match was over at the twenty-eighth hole.

Mrs. Hutchings had a brilliant first round of 82 and Mrs. Sayward Wilson 91. Mrs. Sayward-Wilson was not hitting her drives in her usual style and her woods and irons on the fairways were not up to the standard she displayed earlier in the tournament. In addition to winning the Championship last year and this year, Mrs. Hutchings had her name engraved on the cup also in 1924, 1925 and 1926.

One feature of the tournament was Mrs. R. P. Baker's great golf during Second flight—Miss Norah King (Vancouver) defeated Mrs. Alan Morkill 6 and 5.

Fifth flight—Mrs. Driscoll defeated Mrs. Carmichael 1 up.

Sixth flight—Mrs. A. T. Goward defeated Mrs. D. A. Macdonald 4 and 3.

Mrs. Hutchings, who now plays under the colours of the Jericho Country Club, Vancouver, is a golfer of International reputation. As Miss Vera Ramsay she was well known before the war on English courses. Subsequently she came to the States and Canada and has many championships to her credit in California, Manitoba and British Columbia. In 1924, too, at Mississauga, Toronto, she won the Women's Close Championship of Canada defeating in the final the well known Hamilton expert, Mrs. Gordon Ferrie. A very fine player indeed is Mrs. Hutchings. Since taking up her residence in Vancouver she has more or less dominated ladies' golf in British Columbia.

Nine of the players who entered for the professional tournament at Southport were scratched because they were not members of the Professional Golfers' Association. Mr. Percy Perrins, secretary of the association, explained that among the benefits of his association was participation in the big tournament in which the Rules body took a large part in organizing. He added that there was no desire on the part of the association to hinder men who were in the golfing profes-

"Our members like the new Toro Tractor outfit" says Thomas Dougherty, Supt. Springhaven Club, Philadelphia

"FOR the first time in twelve years at Springhaven I have had a number of members voluntarily come and compliment me on selecting the Toro Junior Tractor and Trojan mowing outfit for use on our grounds. They like it, first because it looks and acts like a well built piece of machinery and second because it is absolutely quiet.

"The tractor is a wonder. My men use it for hauling sand, compost material, and general trucking around the course, in addition to all the mowing. It is powerful and fast and the dump box is the best thing we have ever used.

"The new Trojans are doing splendid work. They run light and hang to the ground better than any other mower we have ever used. The new adjustment is a peach—it is simple as A B C and stays locked."

Mr. Dougherty's analysis of the Toro Junior Tractor and Trojan mowers should be given careful consideration by every progressive golf course Superintendent because it is a true expression from an actual user with years of practical experience behind him.

In these days of reduced budgets, machinery is playing a far more important part than it did a few years ago. The wise Superintendent today, instead of complaining over the loss of one or two men, is spending his time studying ways and means of making machinery do more and better work.

Toro stands ready to help you with the finest line of well built machinery offered in this country. Why not write today?

One of the competitors in the Cheshire Women's Championship, at Wallasey, was Mrs. Meyer, of Heshwall, who is 70 years old! And she went round in a better score than her two daughters. Mrs. Meyer took up golf at the age of 40. She started with five clubs, and still uses that number. "I have my driver, brassie, iron,

Staging A Great Comeback

Aubrey Boomer, Well Known British Pro, Wins the French Open with a Total of 291.

A CABLE from Deauville, France, June 10th:—

As a fitting climax to a morning of thrilling golf in which the recently made record of 71 for the Deauville course was broken four times and tied once, Aubrey Boomer, British born professional from St. Cloud, turned in a sparkling round of 67, this afternoon, equalling the mark set in the morning by the Argentine ace, Tomas Genta, to win the French Open Championship with a 72-hole total of 291.

In the morning, Genta shot his record smashing 67 to take the lead, nine strokes ahead of the eventual winner, while his countryman, Marco Churio, had a 69. Michael Bingham, British player, shot 68; and Percy Allis, another British born pro, who hails from Berlin, had a round of 70. But every one of Boomer's rivals weakened in the final test.

Boomer, who had won the title previously in 1926 and 1929, played three rounds close to the par of 75 for the short course then dazzled the gallery with a round of 33-34—67 to capture his third championship. Genta weakened badly on the final 18 holes, taking 78 strokes, eleven more than his morning round, to finish with a total of 293, tying Allis for second place. Allis required 75 strokes for his final round.

Joe Kirkwood, the only entry from the United States, took an 80 for the last round and finished in a tie with Churio for seventh place at 298 after holding a tie for the lead yesterday at the halfway mark of the tournament and holding a threatening position with a good 73 on the morning round.

Michael Bingham, of Cooden Beach, England, scored 76 on the last 18 holes to take fourth place with a 294 total. He went well up to the last five holes then tossed away five strokes with weak approaches and putts. René Golias, of Forqueux, took fifth place with a 73 for 295.

Jose Jurado, the little Argentine who threatened to withdraw after two bad rounds that started the tournament, went out in 33 but the fatigue of which he had complained, got him again on the final nine and he slipped back to 38 for a round of 71 that gave him sixth place, a stroke ahead of Kirkwood and Churio.

Three Frenchmen, Vandre Boyer, of Nice, Jean Saubaber, of Bordeaux, and Eugene Lafitte, of Biarritz, recorded totals of 300 to tie for ninth place, the last which shared in the 25,000 francs prize money.

Boomer, always a strong finisher, characterized his winning round as "just a fluke", while Genta offered no excuse for the 78 that cost him the victory, saying "It's all in the game."

Playing golf that was almost better than perfect, Boomer missed two chances to improve his remarkable score. On the second hole he missed a two-foot putt after a beautiful niblic shot out of a tricky bunker and on the seventh he dubbed an 18-inch putt after his chip shot had hit the edge of the cup.

This victory of Boomer's makes it all the more regrettable that he will not be on the British Ryder Cup team which has just sailed for the States and Canada. Boomer was ineligible for a place on the team as he has a pro position in France. It is expected, however, he will make the trip with Henry Cotton and Percy Allis and compete in both the U.S. and Canadian Open Championships. He was a visitor to Canada with the Ryder Cup team in 1927 but did not play up to form here. He carded a 156 at Toronto and a 148 at Montreal, which only gave him 10th place.

"Our Hole-in-One Club"

Mashies Are Working Overtime in Clicking Off "Oneers" on the Courses of Canada.

THE early opening of the 1931 golf season under most favourable weather conditions throughout Canada, is responsible for an unusual number of "holes-in-one" being recorded thus early in the year. Here's the list since the May issue:—

Lacombe, Alberta, has a very interesting club. W. N. Morrison put it on the map 'tother day when he "clicked an ace" on the 2nd hole, 140 yards.

Mr. John J. Gormley, of Kitchener, Ontario, realized the golfer's dream when he negotiated the 140-yard hole on the Grand River course in one. He had the honour of being the first golfer in the Twin City golf circles to record the feat.

The Oak Bay course of the Victoria Golf Club, B.C., can always be depended upon to get into the picture every month. Mr. Alex Watson, a former city champion, playing with Messrs. A. G. Beasley, H. F. Hepburn and E. D. Todd, found the tin from the tee on the 2nd hole—135 yards.

The Marine Drive Golf Club, Vancouver, B.C. Mr. C. F. Stafford is an "old offender". In November, 1929, he made No. 3 at Shaughnessy Heights Golf Club in one and in Oct., 1930, the 14th hole at the Marine Drive. Now, playing with Messrs. H. K. Clayton, G. W. Norgan, T. Fliteroft, he repeated the feat at the 14th hole at Marine Drive. Mr. Stafford is by way of being a consistent and continuous performer.

Mrs. J. A. Livingstone is a member of the Scarboro Golf Club, Toronto, but she chose the short course at the Thornhill Club to register the stunt. Playing with Mrs. Switzer, Mrs. Livingstone bagged a one at the 4th hole, 124 yards.

Two performances from the Point Grey Golf and Country Club, Vancouver, B.C. Mr. Robert J. Borland "got his" at the 165-yard 17th hole whilst playing with Messrs. W. R. Melville, J. W. Suttie and P. M. Ferris. Mr. Morley Shier chose the 10th hole, 100 yards, to turn the trick, which was witnessed by Dr J. S. Bricker and Messrs. S. H. Abrams and George Thomas.

Comes the Bowness Golf Club, Calgary. The 5th hole there is 114 yards. Mr. Eric Connelly negotiated it with a tee-shot which found the cup.

The Chedoke Civic Golf Club, Hamilton. Mr. Allan Ross on the 150-yard 12th took two strokes off par to join the elect.

Then the Earl Grey Golf Club, Calgary. The 12th hole on this course is a tidy little swat of 207 yards. Mr. Ernest King, however, tickled-up-the-tin here from the tee whilst playing with Mr. Stuart Snyder.

Mr. J. N. Anderson, of the Royal Bank, Watrous, Sask., went this "one" better when on the 9th hole of the local course, 215 yards, he "spotted a one".

But Mr. J. A. Page, of the Bathurst Golf and Country Club, Toronto, has both these performances bettered as regards distance. The 12th is 235 yards. Mr. Page's drive carried to the edge of the green and rolled in the cup for the first hole-in-one, on this

WILLIE MACFARLANE.

THE SPALDING GOLF AND BAGGING CO. 100 WAB TO WY 100

In all Willie MacFarlane's victories, few have been sweeter, few more outstanding, than his recent win in the International Four-ball Tournament at Miami.

On the first nine holes, he had four birdies and an eagle, for a total of 30. His total for the sixteen holes played was 57, or 7 under 4's. His individual score was almost good enough to win the match without the capable aid of his partner—in other words, almost good enough to score a single-handed win over two of the greatest golfers in the world!

And for this amazing performance, he generously shares credit with Spalding Cushion-neck Irons, as the telegram above shows.

In playing Cushion-neck Irons, and in singing their praises, Willie MacFarlane is joined by 350 leading Professionals who have changed to these remarkable irons—350 who are, for the first time, using steel-shafted irons in all their play.

Obviously, there must be a reason for this wholesale change amongst the players to whom better golf means a better living. And that reason isn't hard to find.

It's the patented rubber sleeve between the steel shaft and the steel head. By completely absorbing all shock and vibration, that cushioning sleeve removes sour feel—the one great objection to the steel shaft in irons. And does it so successfully that it gives to Cushion-neck Irons the sweetest feel ever known in a golf club.

There is nothing like the Cushion-neck principle. It, alone, turns the old steel-shafted iron—which, admittedly, was a less-than-perfect club—into the sweetest-feeling, most deadly-accurate club ever known. It, alone, lends sweetness to steel-shafted woods. It, alone, has won steel-shafted irons a place in the bags of the world's greatest golfers.

And here is something important. It isn't the cushioning alone that gives Cushion-neck its superior playing qualities. It is the fact that this kind of cushioning produces controlled, or uniform, torque. No other club offers this vital advantage. The Spalding principle is patented and exclusive. The virtue of controlled torque is found in the Cushion-neck alone.

Buy a set—your Professional or any Spalding dealer or Store can supply you—and see for yourself that there are not, and never have been, irons that can approach Cushion-necks in sweetness of feel or in straightness of shots. A single round will show you why a famous Professional, speaking of Cushion-neck's sweeping adoption by the golfing greats, said: "We can't afford not to play them." A single round will convince you that they offer a new golfing thrill. Try them!

hole and the first of the season at Bathurst. Mr. Page was playing with Mr. S. W. Cheshire at the time.

Playing over the Windsor Municipal course, Winnipeg, Mr. George Desmet negotiated the 9th hole, 160 yards, in one.

As recorded elsewhere in this issue in a report of the Tournament at Wainwright, Alta., Mr. F. C. Dickens, B.A., L.L.B., made a hole in one on the Wainwright course—the first ever recorded there, although the course has been in play for seven years.

Another public course, Gorsebrook, Halifax. Mr. J. William Smith registered a one at the 5th hole, 100 yards.

Mr. C. D. Cowie, Montreal, assistant to vice-president of the financial and accounting departments of the Canadian National Railways, whilst playing with Messrs. Webb Krauser, H. J. Humphrey, and L. C. Groom, bagged a "oneer" at the 110-yard 3rd hole at Kanawaki.

To Miss I. Harbell, R.N., goes the honour of being the first lady to make a hole-in-one on the course of the Salmon Arm Golf Club, B.C. Playing with Miss Johnston, Miss Ireland and Mrs. W. Palmer, Miss Harbell reached the fourth hole, a distance of 115 yards in one shot.

The 4th hole at the Edmonton Golf and Country Club is 135 yards. Mr. Herbert McPherson, of Whyte, McPherson and Butler, Ltd., Edmonton, "tickled up the tin" from the tee at this hole and becomes eligible for our "Hole-in-One" Club.

Mr. Harold McLean, a member of the Quilchena Golf Club, Vancouver, B.C., is certainly some expert with the mashie. A few weeks ago he made the 5th hole at Quilchena in one and now he comes along with another ace, this time at the 8th hole, 190 yards.

Mr. W. Warner, of Tacoma, Wash., during a visit to Vancouver decided to make an ace on the University Golf Course in that city, the 10th. 120 yards.

The Marlborough Golf and Country Club, Montreal. C. C. Gardner, Jr., playing with his father got a hole-in-one at the 6th hole, 175 yards.

Dr. D. G. McIlwraith, a member of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club, chose the Deer Park Golf and Country Club, Grimsby, for the stunt, the 7th hole in this picturesque course, 225 yards. He was playing at the time with Messrs. H. T. Malcolmson and S. H. Lees, of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club, and P. T. Ward, of the Glendale Golf Club, Hamilton.

Point Grey Golf and Country Club, Vancouver, B.C., reports two performances.

Mr. H. D. Crowe on June 5th while playing with Messrs H. E. Merlicke, O. F. Merlicke and A. E. Johnston found the cup on 100 yards, 11th hole, with his tee shot, and next day Mr. M. S. Joiner, a member of the Marine Drive Golf Club, playing with Mr. E. R. Wilson, duplicated the feat.

Again Gorsebrook, Halifax. Mr. R. T. Gibson, playing with Mrs. D. G. Gibson, turned the trick at the tricky 13th hole, 130 yards. Nothing unlucky about the 13th at Gorsebrook.

The Medicine Hat Golf Club is in the picture thanks to Mr. A. J. Hatch who chose the 4th hole, 141 yards, for the performance. He was playing in a mixed foursome with Mrs. L. Monkley, Mrs. M. S. Blackburn and Dr. M. L. Moore.

At the official opening of the Fredericton Golf Club, N.B., Mr. R. L. Davison, one of the best of the younger players of Fredericton, made the 3rd hole, known as the "Periscope", in one. The hole derives its name from the fact that a 30-foot periscope is erected just to the left of the tee since the green is hidden from sight under the brow of a hill 145 yards from the tee, and the periscope is used to ascertain whether the green is in use or not.

Two from the Weston Golf and Country Club, Toronto, Mr. W. Ross Thomson made the 100,000 to 1 shot at the 15th, 170 yards and Mr. E. N. Tutt at the 4th, 140 yards.

Comes the Mayor of Lacombe, Alberta, Mr. G. T. Jackson. Playing with Dr. Wagner of Innisfail, in the Alberta County Districts Golf Association elimination games, his Worship put down a perfect tee-shot at the 2nd hole, 140 yards.

Mr. W. C. Johnstone, of the Gryro Citizens Golf Club, Regina, must be "some swatter." He put out a screamer at the 14th hole, 231 yards, which found the cup.

The 5th hole at the Bowness Golf Club, Calgary, Alta., is a 114 yarder. Mr. John Chaston got an ace here on June 5th.

Mr. H. W. McGlynn, of the Alerest Golf Club, Winnipeg, got his at the 8th hole at Alerest, 153 yards.

Then the Capital. The 9th hole at the Chandiere Golf Club is 175 yards and it was negotiated by Mr. W. G. Addison with his trusty mashie.

Vancouver once again. Playing with Mrs. M. Spouse, Miss I. Hawley and Mrs. H. Carter over the Marine Drive Golf Club in that city, Mr. Melville Spouse gave his lady friends a perfect thrill when on the 14th hole, 90 yards, he tinkled up the tin from the tee.

(Secretaries reporting holes-in-one must forward the residential or business address of the player or the feat cannot be reported.)

The Ontario Ladies' Championship

Playing Wonderful Golf, Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto, for the Fourth Time Wins the Title. Runner-up, Miss Winnifred Robinson, St. Catharines, Ontario Junior Champion. Glendale, Hamilton, Provides a Fine Setting for a Colourful Championship.

FOR three years Miss Ada Mackenzie, of Toronto, the many times Lady Champion of Ontario, in a most sporting manner dropped out of the Championship in order to give other players a chance to annex the title and the Misses Cecil and Maud Smith, of Toronto, promptly took advantage of the opportunity and between them annexed the event in 1928, 1929, and 1930.

The first week in June at Glendale, Hamilton, Miss Mackenzie again entered the lists and conclusively demonstrated that she is still Ontario's outstanding woman player. The Championship was a particularly interesting one and demonstrated that the younger players of the Province are rapidly coming to the fore. Such well known stars as Mrs. Whittington, Mrs. Mulqueen and the sisters Smith were eliminated and it remained for the youthful Miss Winnifred Robinson, of St. Catharines, the junior champion of Ontario, to cross clubs in the final with the many times Canadian and Ontario champion. As was perhaps to be expected youth was not equal to the acid test and experience and skill prevailed to the tune of a 7 and 6 victory.

Miss Mackenzie's return to serious competitive golf this season is particularly welcome. She is a sound golfer and is among two or three Canadian players who have even a chance of stemming the U.S. invasion next September at Rosedale. Since 1926, when Miss Mackenzie last won the Open, the title has not been captured by a Canadian player. In fact, since that year a Canadian has not even been in the finals. Miss Mackenzie has three times won the Canadian Open and four times the Ontario Championship—1922, 1923, 1927 and now 1931.

The Glendale Golf and Country Club, the venue of the Championship, was established in 1919 and has never before staged an important event but it demonstrated this month that it is thoroughly equipped to do so. Fairways and greens alike were right up to championship calibre. The environment of the course, backed by the green-clad mountain, is most charming. There are many well placed and character holes and the large field of entrants were loud in their praises alike of course and club conditions. Added to all this perfect weather, an executive of outstanding ability in charge of the championship and there is no wonder that Glendale witnessed a most delightful and brilliant week of high class golf.

No fewer than one hundred and twelve of the leading players of the Province teed up for the qualifying round on Monday, June 1st. As usual, the Toronto clubs had the largest and strongest representation, but Hamilton, Welland, St. Catharines, Grimsby, Pembroke, Galt, Windsor, Oakville, Brantford, and Kingston were all represented by their leading players.

With a dashing 39-41 for a total of 80 Miss Maud Smith, of the Toronto Golf Club, the 1929 champion, lead the field of qualifiers. Back of her, three strokes, was Miss Ada Mackenzie, whilst in third place was Miss Cecil Smith, the defending champion, 84, and Mrs. Whittington, a former champion, 85.

In leading the field Miss Maud Smith played consistent golf. She had twelve par holes, six on each nine and those of the first half were in succession, from the second to the seventh inclusive. She was one over on five holes, the first, eighth, ninth, thirteenth and seventeenth and a birdie two on the short fifteenth where she dropped a long putt. She three putted the seventeenth or she would have broken 80. Her card was:

Out634 434 456—39
In565 642 454—41—80

Not only did Miss Smith turn in the low gross score but she also had the low nett with a 73. Other leaders in the handicap event were: Mrs. R. H. Clendenning, of Scarboro, 112-36—76; Miss W. Sloan, Glendale, 104-27—77; Miss A. Jackson, Toronto Ladies, 113-36—77, and Miss F. Moodie, Hamilton, 113-36—77. The scores of the qualifiers were:—

	O.	I.	G.	H.	N.
Miss Maude Smith, Toronto Golf	39	41	80	7	73
Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto Ladies	41	42	83	1	82
Miss Cecil Smith, Toronto Golf	41	43	84	3	81
Mrs. E. W. Whittington, Tor. Golf	41	44	85	3	82

Miss D. M. Rice, Burlington	45	51	96	18	78
Mrs. H. K. Stevens, Waterloo County	49	48	97	11	86

There were three scores of 97 but in the play-off Miss K. Bishop, of Brantford, and Mrs. C. Gooch, of Hamilton, were eliminated by Mrs. H. K. Stevens, of Galt.

It was decidedly a Toronto day. Eleven of the 16 qualifiers were from that city, six from the Toronto Golf Club, two from the Ladies and one each from Mississauga, Cedar Brook, and Rosedale. Two were from Hamilton, Glendale and Burlington being represented, while St. Catharines, Lookout Point, Welland, and Waterloo County, Galt, had the other representatives.

As has been customary in recent years the Toronto Golf Club walked off with the team prize for the lowest aggregate gross score for any four players. As four of the first five were pupils of George Cumming there was little doubt as to the result of this competition from early in the day. Toronto totalled 336 while Hamilton was second, 58 points behind.

And this is what happened on the play-down at match play, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday—three glorious June days, over the emerald fairways of Glendale:—

First Round:—

Miss Maud Smith, Toronto Golf, defeated Mrs. H. K. Stevens, Waterloo County, 7 and 6.

Miss Winnifred Robinson, St. Catharines, defeated Mrs. R. W. Gouinlock, Toronto Golf, 6 and 4.

Miss Mary Hunter, Glendale, defeated Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen, Toronto Golf, at twentieth.

Mrs. E. W. Whittington, Toronto Golf, defeated Miss Betty Gillespie, Toronto Ladies, 6 and 4.

Miss Cecil Smith, Toronto, defeated Miss D. M. Rice, Burlington, 6 and 5.

Mrs. C. S. Eddits, Rosedale, defeated Miss Leila Lambert, Lookout Point, 7 and 6.

Mrs. T. J. Agar, Mississauga, defeated Mrs. H. Sedgewick, Cedar Brook, one up.

Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto Ladies, defeated Miss M. Elmsley, Toronto Golf, 4 and 3.

Second Round:—

Miss Winnifred Robinson, St. Catharines, defeated Miss Maud Smith, Toronto Golf, at 19th hole.

Mrs. E. W. Whittington, Toronto Golf, defeated Miss Mary Hunter, Glendale, 3 and 2.

Miss Cecil Smith, Toronto Golf, defeated Mrs. C. S. Eddis, Rosedale, 3 and 2.

Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto Ladies, defeated Mrs. T. J. Agar, Mississauga, 7 and 6.

Third Round:—

Miss Winnifred Robinson, St. Catharines, defeated Mrs. E. W. Whittington, Toronto Golf, 4 and 3.

Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto Ladies, defeated Miss Cecil Smith, Toronto Golf, 4 and 2.

Final—Miss Ada Mackenzie defeated Miss Winnifred Robinson, 7 and 6.

It will be noticed that to come through to the final Miss Mackenzie accounted for Miss Elmsley, Toronto Golf Club, 4 and 3, Mrs. T. J. Agar, of Mississauga, 7 and 6, and Miss Cecil Smith, defending champion, 4 and 3. Her game was never really extended.

Miss Robinson had a much harder time in the other bracket. She defeated Mrs. Gouinlock, Toronto Golf, in the first round by 6 and 4, but in the second round had to go to the 19th hole before she took the measure of Miss Maud Smith, the winner of the qualifying round and 1929 champion, who was greatly fancied to reach the final if not to again win the championship. In the third round Miss Winnifred defeated that very fine golfer Mrs. Whittington by 4 and 3, which was certainly another feather in her cap.

A very large and enthusiastic gallery witnessed the final of the championship and it was anticipated that the match would be a very close and exciting one, but young Miss Robinson it was soon seen had more or less played herself out during four days of strenuous golf, and that was not to be unexpected. Her tee-shots were lacking in length and her short game was not anything like as crisp as it was during the previous three rounds.

On the other hand, Miss Mackenzie was at the top of her game and the spectators were well rewarded for their trudge over the rolling and picturesque fairways of Glendale. They saw an exhibition of woman's golf possibly never before excelled or equalled on a Canadian course. The many times Canadian champion was out in 36. Here are the figures:—

534, 424, 446. Now that is a brand of golf that takes a bit of beating from the best of men players because the first nine at Glendale is no "primrose path". No wonder then that the unequal struggle was over at the 12th hole and the players walked back to the club house with Miss Mackenzie a 7 and 6 victor.

Miss Robinson, however, has every reason to feel gratified at the splendid showing she made in the championship. She accounted for three of the best players in the Province, two of them former champions, to reach the final only to find Canada's leading woman player playing inspired golf and that certainly was hard luck—plus. There is a brilliant future ahead of Miss Winnifred, make no mistake about that. She is the best of three or four brilliant young players who in the future are bound to be heard from both in Ontario and Canadian golfing championships.

In addition to the championship there were many other interesting flights and events during the week which resulted as follows:—

Championship Consolation—Mrs. R. W. Gouinlock, Toronto Golf, defeated Miss M. Elmsley, Toronto Golf, 5 and 4.

First Flight—Mrs. Gordon Ferrie, Hamilton, defeated Miss Edith Ellis, Hamilton, 5 and 4.

Second Flight—Miss E. Turner, Hamilton, defeated Miss Ruby Galloway, Glendale, 2 and 1.

Third Flight—Mrs. Donald Ross, Rosedale, defeated Miss Jessie Dixon, Glendale, at 19th hole.

Fourth Flight—Miss Kitty Gordon, Toronto Golf, defeated Miss L. Sharp, Burlington, 1 up.

Fifth Flight—Miss K. Scott, Waterloo County, defeated Mrs. John Miln, Rosedale, 2 up.

Sixth Flight—Miss Aileen Graham, Deer Park, defeated Mrs. N. Snell, Glendale, 1 up.

Everyone was glad to welcome back again to championship golf that very fine Hamilton player, Mrs. Gordon Ferrie, who, it will be noticed, won the first flight. A particularly finished golfer is Mrs. Ferrie, the winner of the Ontario Championship on no less than three previous occasions. It is to be sincerely hoped that she will again be seen this season in all the major competitions. A championship without Mrs. Ferrie really does not seem quite like a championship. Another welcome entrant was Miss Effie Nesbitt, formerly of Woodstock, Ont., who had much to do with the successful launching of the Ontario Championship 22 years ago.

A large crowd on the pretty terrace in front of the club house witnessed the presentation of the very handsome prizes won during championship week. Miss Jean Haslett, of Hamilton, president of the Ontario Branch of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union, presided at this function in her accustomed charming and gracious manner. She was assisted by the very capable hon. secretary of the Branch, Mrs. J. S. McCaughey, of Hamilton. The awards were as follows, the recipients all being accorded hearty applause:—

Championship flight, championship cup, presented by the ladies' section of the Hamilton Golf Club, the replica presented by the Ontario Branch of the C.L.G.U., cup presented by Canadian L.G.U., and trophy presented by Dunlop Rubber Company—Winner, Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto Ladies.

Runner-up, prize presented by Mrs. J. S. McCaughey, Glendale Golf Club—Miss Winnifred Robinson, St. Catharines.

Semi-finalists—Mrs. E. W. Whittington, Toronto Golf Club, and Miss Cecil Smith, Toronto Golf.

Championship Consolation—Winner, Mrs. R. W. Gouinlock, Toronto Golf; runner-up, Miss M. Elmsley, Toronto Golf.

First Flight—Winner, Mrs. Gordon Ferrie, Hamilton Golf Club; runner-up, Miss Edith Ellis, Hamilton Golf Club.

Play Golf at MINAKI

In the bracing air of CANADA'S NORTHWOODS

Pack up your clubs and board a train for Minaki. Here is a vacation that will give you the sort of golf you've always wanted.

The course is ideally situated in connection with Minaki Lodge. And the bracing, pine-scented air is a real tonic for longer drives and surer putts.

Then too, the versatile sportsman will find at Minaki other outdoor activities — tennis, boating, fishing, swimming — something to do all day long. When day is done, there is dancing, bridge and gatherings before fascinating flames of a cheerful log fire.

For those interested in Minaki and other Canadian National vacation spots, showings of Canadian travel films may be arranged on application to any Canadian National Agent, who will also gladly furnish beautifully illustrated booklets.

The Annual Meeting

During Championship Week the Annual Meeting of the Branch was held at the Glendale Club with a large attendance of members. Miss Jean Haslett, the President, was in the chair. Mrs. J. M. Lyle, Toronto, President of the C. L. G. U. and Hon. President of the Branch was a particularly welcome attendant.

The President thanked those who had carried on the work last year during her illness, and expressed her regret at the unavoidable absence of Mrs. Harold Hamilton, Vice President. Miss Haslett expressed her pleasure at the success of the 2nd Annual Handicap Managers Meeting—and congratulated Miss McFarlane and Miss Ellis in this connection. Miss Haslett then called on Mrs. Lyle the National President to say a few words.

Mrs. Lyle congratulated Miss Haslett and her committee on the representative gathering present. She also spoke of the Handicap Managers meeting, suggesting that such meetings might be most helpful in other districts. Mrs. Lyle went on to say that the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union was part of a very large organization. The Ladies' Golf Union has headquarters in London, England—affiliated with it are many English Unions. The Scottish Ladies' Golf Association. The Irish Ladies' Golf Union—as well as Unions in all the British possessions. Australia having 7 branches, South Africa 5. Others being in New Zealand, East Africa, Jamaica, Malta, Calcutta, Rameoon, Hong Kong. All these being run under the same system of handicapping as was used in Ontario. Mrs. Lyle very graciously referred to the work being done by the "Canadian Golfer", the official organ of the C. L. G. U. in the interest of golf in Canada. Miss Haslett thanked Mrs. Lyle for her most interesting remarks.

Extracts from the Annual Report, presented by Mrs. J. C. McCaughey of Hamilton, the particularly capable Hon. Secretary of the Branch:—

“The Provincial Tournament was held at the Oshawa Golf Club with 116 entries, representing 26 Clubs, the Championship being won by Miss Cecil Eustace Smith, with Mrs. E. W. Whittington as runner-up.

The Club Team Trophy was won by the Toronto Golf Club.

The Ontario Junior Championship took the form of a two-day medal round, the winner being Miss Winnifred Robinson, of St. Catharines, with two most consistent 83's on the difficult par 78 Course of the Lambton Golf Club. I would like here to thank the Toronto Permanent Committee for all their work in connection with this Tournament.

The Ontario Handicap Cup was also won by Miss Robinson who reduced her handicap 58.33 per cent., or from 12-5.

Many invitation Tournaments were held at the various Clubs, two with outstanding entries being recorded; namely, Mississauga with 245 and the Hamilton Golf Club with 242 on the long course and 40 more on the short.

Clubs in and around Toronto have many special events such as, The Toronto City and District, The Toronto Ladies' Team Tournament, for the Mail and Empire Trophy, 2 ball foursomes, and other City events.

Northern Ontario has a three-day Tournament and the Upper Peninsula International Tournament was won by an Ontario player, Mrs. A. H. Woods of Sault Ste. Marie.

Orillia, Midland, Barrie and The Briars Golf Club hold an Inter-County Match, and the Long Cup is played for annually by Galt, Paris, Brantford, Kitchener, and Simcoe.

It is of interest to Ontario players to note that the runner-up in the Canadian Closed Championship last year was Miss Cecil Eustace Smith, of the Toronto Club, and also that six out of the fourteen players on the International Team were from Ontario Clubs.

Five new Clubs have been added to the Ontario Branch, making a total of 82.”

Interesting reports were read by Miss Jane McFarlane, Ontario Handicap Manager and Mrs. E. W. Whittington Chairman of the Pars Committee. Mrs. Whittington mentioned in her report that a large number of Clubs had been repaired in 1930 and several new ones. She also stated:

“At the Canadian Closed Championship in Montreal last year, an interesting but informal discussion took place between the members of the Pars Committee of Ontario and Quebec. The Quebec Pars have, of late years, been very much reduced and their committee considered that the Ontario pars should keep in line with theirs. Our members pointed out that the whole object of the Ladies' Golf Union was that there should be one standard for the whole of the British Empire, and that, allowing for different climatic conditions, the C. L. G. U. should endeavour to keep to the regulations laid down by the parent association in England. As such allowances had been made, we considered the pars which had been revised recently needed no further reduction. I feel sure this decision will be approved by this meeting.

In my report last year I mentioned that the committee was doing all in its power to discourage the too frequent use of ladies' tees. We are still carrying on the good work and are pleased to be able to report that our endeavours are at last being rewarded. We have had a request from one club to revise their par and remove as far as possible all forward tees. This, we consider, is very encouraging."

In the absence of Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. McBain reported for the Toronto Permanent Committee.

Miss Mackenzie spoke a few words about the Juniors suggesting some interesting events for the year.

The President then vacated the chair which was taken by Mrs. Clarke, President of the Glendale G. C. who called upon Miss Clime to bring in the report of the nominating committee which was as follows:

Hon. Pres., Mrs. John Lyle; President, Miss Jean Haslett; Vice-Pres., Mrs. Harold V. Hamilton; Sec.-Treas., Mrs. J. C. McCaughey; Handicap Manager, Miss Jane McFarlane; Ass't. Handicap Manager, Miss Edith Ellis; Chairman Par Com., Mrs. E. W. Whittington; Honorary Member, Mrs. M. K. Rowe, Honorary Secy. C. L. G. U.

The other members of the executive are Mrs. Gordon Ferrie, Mrs. Murray Hendrie, Mrs. Duncan Coulson.

The Ontario Branch is exceptionally fortunate in retaining the services for another year of Miss Jean Haslett quite one of the outstanding Lady Executives of Canada. Also retaining Mrs. J. S. McCaughey as honorary secretary and the other capable officers who did so much for the Branch in 1930.

The officers and members of the ladies' section of Glendale are to be heartily congratulated on the manner in which they looked after the golfing and social wants of the entrants and the many visitors to this, one of the most charming of courses. During Championship Week many teas and other entertainments were provided for the players and their friends. The following Executive Committee of Glendale was responsible a great deal for the success of Tournament Week:

Mrs. E. F. Clarke, President; Miss J. Dixon, Vicepresident; Mrs. N. J. White, Secretary; Miss M. B. Boggs, Treasurer; Mrs. H. J. Allen, Convener of House Committee; Mrs. W. T. Dunmore, Convener of Social Committee; Mrs. Wm. Mayall, Mrs. Wm. Bauman, Mrs. W. E. Knapman, Mrs. N. H. Stovell, Mrs. N. H. Snell, Mrs. F. Sloan.

Alberta Provincial Ladies, and Junior Championships

THE Alberta Branch of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union announces its third annual tournament to be held at the links of the Mayfair Golf and Country Club, June 23rd to the 26th.

The programme is a most attractive one. There will be a qualifying round of 18 holes on Tuesday, June 23rd, the first sixteen to qualify. Players who fail to qualify for the Championship will be placed in flights according to their scores. In addition there will be a Championship Consolation. On June 23rd there will also be the team match and a putting and approaching contest. On Thursday, the 24th, in addition to the semi-finals in all classes there will be a flag competition and ladies' foursomes. On Friday, the 26th, there will be the final in all classes, the ladies' annual handicap and a driving competition. In the evening there will be the annual dinner, annual meeting and presentation of prizes.

In addition, during the tournament there will be the Junior Championship of Alberta, open to girls of eighteen years and under.

The officers of this very progressive Alberta Branch of the C.L.G.U. are: President, Mrs. J. A. MacKinnon, Mayfair Golf and Country Club; vice-president, Mrs. Norman Hindsley, Calgary Golf and Country Club; secretary-treasurer, Miss Sylvia Evans, Edmonton Golf and Country Club; pars committee, Miss M. Dunford, Bowness Golf Club, Calgary; handicap committee, Mrs. W. A. Griesbach, Mayfair Golf and Country Club, Edmonton; Mrs. H. A. Lowe, Miss M. Mountifield, Miss G. Muir; tournament committee, Mrs. W. C. Laidlaw, entertainment; Mrs. J. B. Starky, transportation; Mrs. W. A. Griesbach, caddies; Miss G. Muir, draws.

The Sporting Sortin Golf Course

Of the Canadian Pacific Railway is Opened by a Distinguished Party of Officials.

A DISTINGUISHED group of Canadian Pacific Railway executives were on hand June 5, when the new nine-hole golf course at Sortin, Que., headquarters of the railway's Recreation Club, was formally opened to officers and employees of the company and their wives. A. D. MacTier, vice-president in charge of eastern lines, headed the deputation that travelled down to the course, but greens are bunkered and trapped and on the third hole there is a deep trench across the fairway about 150 yards out, creating another mental hazard, since a penalty of a stroke is incurred if the ball is lifted out of the trench.

The card reads as follows:—1st hole, 235 yards; 2nd hole, 155 yards; 3rd hole, 230 yards; 4th hole, 165 yards; 5th hole, 155 yards; 6th hole, 200 yards; 7th hole, 145

the ball that officially opened the links was driven from the first tee by E. E. Lloyd, comptroller, who was followed by J. O. Apps, general executive assistant; E. Moore, insurance commissioner; A. D. MacTier and George A. Walton, general passenger agent.

The course has a yardage of 1,745, which is a trifle short, allowing only one par four hole, the balance being three's, for a par of 28. This yardage will, however, be doubled in the course of the next few weeks, with very little expenditure of extra labour and an interesting and sporting course will then have been added to the many located around Montreal.

A deep gully splits four of the fairways making a very sporting mental hazard, while all greens and tees are elevated, the latter being supplied with washers and towels. It is a valuable course for practise with iron, mashie and putter with at least four of the holes affording good opportunity for driver or brassie. Most of the yards; 8th hole, 300 yards; 9th hole, 160 yards. Total 1,745 yards. The 7th and 8th hole, when another hole has been completed, will be combined into a long (par 4) 445-yard hole.

It was on June, 1930, that the first sod was turned on a location that offered little encouragement to those who had thought out and were to bear the brunt of the creation of the course. The idea of giving Canadian Pacific employees a golf course of their own is due to E. Moore, president of the Canadian Pacific Recreation Club, whose efforts were ably seconded by C. J. Carmody with a body of assistants including E. H. Kent, G. R. Fanning, H. H. Scott, E. C. Kerr, Art. Izzard and Slim Holden, who all did yeoman service towards its realization. The better part of the heavy physical labour incurred was carried out by the railway's employees under the supervision of Mr. Moore and the above. Tons of rock, including boulders weighing up to three tons, bush and trees had to be removed before anything like fairways was in sight. The gullies were swamps overgrown with hawthorn trees. The swamps had to be drained and in one case a three-foot deep ditch had to be cut for a distance of over 500 yards. Great quantities of stone had to be taken from the course and greens built up from rough land. All this heavy labour was undertaken by employees in their spare time working weekends, holidays and evenings during last summer and fall. Expert help and advice was given by Bill Keohn, bridge and building master; Frank Liston, roadmaster; Joe Perron, grounds keeper of the club; and T. C. Collins, terminals superintendent, all of whom acted in an advisory capacity and gave personal assistance under the general supervision of Mr. Moore.

The result, as evidenced by the present aspect of the course, is an eye-opener of what can be done with good will and hard work. The fairways are as playable as any course on the Island of Montreal. The rough is for the most part in such shape that chances of lost balls are reduced to a minimum. The holes are placed within easy distance of one another and all accidents of ground, trees and general topography cunningly taken advantage of to make the best of the course. In a word, the Sortin golf course is a credit to the men who thought out its lay-out and built it up from very unpromising conditions. Indeed, so attractive is it that the men who opened the course and who are all accustomed to playing on championship links, could not resist the opportunity of teeing off on several other holes after the first, although their work of opening the course was finished when they had driven off from the first tee.

The objective of the makers of the Sortin golf course is to give employees of the company an 18-hole course by this time next year. At present the fee for membership is lower than that for most tennis courts making it the least expensive course on the Island of Montreal and quite probably in Canada. Low green fees will be charged for members introducing friends.

At the official opening there were present A. D. MacTier, vice-president; H. J. Humphrey, assistant to the vice-president; J. O. Apps, general executive assistant; E. E. Lloyd, comptroller; George A. Walton, general passenger agent; F. R. Haney, adjuster of claims; A. Hector Cadioux, assistant chief of the investigation department; E. Moore, insurance commissioner and president of the club; A. Rutledge, assistant to the general purchasing agent; W. J. Burns, purchasing agent; D. J. McNeill, assistant solicitor; H. H. Scott, chief clerk, vice-president in charge of traffic; F. Palin, chief clerk, insurance department; H. L. Cohn, chief clerk, general executive assistant's office; T. Kenna, E. C. Kerr, G. R. Fanning, E. H. Kent, C. J. Carmody, "Slim" Holden, A. Izzard, and the Misses M. Whalen, C. M. Currie, F. E. Clarke, J. F. Matheson, and G. McQuat.

The handsome little red books of the rules, 1931 edition, revised and corrected to-date, are now available. Single copies, 25 cents. 100 copies or more, 20 cents per copy. 500 copies with name of Club on front cover (no extra charge), 15 cents per copy. Order early, as there will be no second edition this year. Address Business Department, "Canadian Golfer," Brantford, Ont.

Tom McGrath Loses in Play-Off in U.S. Qualifying Round

MORE than 1,000 golfers in widely scattered districts on June 8th played off for the right to play in the U.S. Open at Inverness. There were only 97 vacant positions. In all the field will consist of 150. The other 53 players were not required to qualify.

Thomas McGrath, of Hamilton, Ont., playing at Buffalo, N.Y., failed to qualify after finishing the first 18 holes in a three-cornered tie for second place. At the end of 72 holes George Christ, of Rochester, led the trio who will advance to Inverness.

T. Philip Perkins, former British Amateur Champion, was one of the qualifiers at Rye, N.Y. He finished behind Wiffy Cox and Bobby Cruickshank. Cox set a record 64 on his first 18, finishing with 138; Cruickshank and Perkins tied at 145. Other qualifiers at Rye included George Voigt and Willie Klein.

In the Detroit district the qualifiers were Clarence Gamber, Nick Weber, Bob Grant, Ralph Guldahl, Davey Robertson, Guy Paulson and Benny Pautke.

At St. Paul—Lester Bolstad, Jack Hendry, Jim Pringle and Art Tveraa.

Al Espinosa led the qualifiers at Chicago. With him are Harry Hampton, Abe Espinosa, Laurie Ayton and 15 others.

Henry Cuici, of Stratford, Conn., was one of the qualifiers at Wayland, Mass.

No Canadians will be seen at Inverness next July.

The Dunlop Tournament

Is Won by Willie Lamb, of Uplands. Andy Kay, Lambton, Runner-up, and Lex Robson, Islington, in Third Place.

TO the Dunlop Tire & Rubber Goods Company Ltd., Toronto, manufacturers of the world-famous golf balls "Maxfli" and "Warwick", must go the credit of one of the most successful tournaments of the 1931 season.

The Lambton Golf and Country Club, Toronto, was the venue of the event and both course and weather conditions were ideal. Lambton was at its best and some of the leading professionals of Ontario and their assistants were also at their best. So the result was a perfect tournament in every sense of the word and Mr. J. R. Thompson, of the Dunlop Company, who was responsible for the arrangements of this most enjoyable golfing day, came in for general and hearty congratulations, and deservedly so too.

Seventy professionals and assistant professionals from the leading golf clubs of Ontario took part in the tournament and competed for the many handsome money prizes donated by the Dunlop Company and they found it hard going to get near par figures on the lengthened and improved Lambton course. Par is 70 and Andy Kay, Lambton, Willie Lamb, of Uplands, and Lex Robson, of Islington, were the only players to get near this figure. Kay in the morning carded a 71 and Lamb and Robson the same score in the afternoon round.

As a result of the morning round Kay lead the classy field with a 71 whilst two strokes back of him was Lamb, the Canadian Professional Champion, recently returned from a successful season in Mexico. In the afternoon, Lamb playing the steadiest kind of golf collected a brilliant 71 and as Kay took four more strokes than he did in the morning round Lamb with a total of 144 captured the handsome first prize donated by the Dunlop Rubber Company.

The assistants' competition was won by Bill Kerr, of York Downs, with 162, who nosed out Arthur Hunt, of Lambton, by one stroke, after Hunt had set the pace in the morning with Willie Lamb, professional of the Uplands Golf Club, Toronto, winner of the Dunlop Tournament at Lambton.

79, which was equalled by Sam McDowell, of Rosedale. The prize-winners were:—

Professionals—Willie Lamb, Uplands, 144 ($100 and $100 extra for playing Dunlop ball); 2, Andy Kay, Lambton, 146 ($75); 3, Lex Robson, Islington, 149 ($50); 4, Jimmy Johnstone, Rosedale, 154 ($40); 5, Dave Spittal, St. Andrew's, 156 ($25); 6, Willie Spittal, Oakdale, 157 ($10).

Assistants—Bill Kerr, York Downs, 165 ($50); 2, Arthur Hunt, Lambton, 163 ($25); 3, J. Noble, Mississauga, gether a most delightful event, well managed and thoroughly enjoyed by all the participants and by many spectators.

The following were the scores:—

"Bill" Kerr, assistant York Downs, winner of the assistants' competition at Lambton.

165 ($15); 4, Les Franks, Pine Point, 166 ($10); 5 and 6, D. Borthwick, Toronto Golf, 167, and S. McDowell, Rosedale, 168, one box of balls each.

Many of the prominent officials of the Dunlop Company were present at this very interesting tournament, the first of the 1931 season, and were hosts to the players and a few invited guests at the luncheon hour. Alto-

Well Known Golfer and Financier Treble Honoured

AT the age of 61, Mr. J. W. Beaumont Pease, chairman of Lloyd's Bank, the second largest bank in the world, has received a treble honour. He has been elected chairman of the committee of the London Bankers' Clearing House—a post of great distinction in banking circles—and captain of the Royal St. George's Golf Club, Sandwich, one of the leading golf clubs in the Old Country.

Mr. Pease has still a greater honour ahead of him. He has been chosen, it is understood, to succeed the Duke of York as captain of the Royal and Ancient, generally conceded golf's greatest reward. He will play himself into office at the autumn meeting of the R. & A. at St. Andrews.

Mr. Pease is still a golfer of note. He was in the last eight of the British Amateur Championship in 1900, 1903, and 1928, and played for England against Scotland in 1903, 1904, 1905, and 1906. He is very well known and popular in Canadian golfing circles. He has twice visited this country as captain of the British Seniors team and on each occasion has won all his matches and returned the best individual scores of any of the competitors. At Lambton in 1928 he carded two 80's for a total of 160 but last year at Toronto he easily excelled these figures. Over the testing course of the Toronto Golf Club he returned a 73 and 76 for a total of 149—golf worthy of any young amateur champion.

Mr. Pease is a member of the Royal and Ancient, Alnmouth, City of Newcastle, New Zealand, Royal Wimbledon, Oxford and Cambridge Society, Royal St. Georges, Addington, Tadmerton Heath and New Club, North Berwick. He is possessed of a most charming personality and is deservedly popular alike on the courses of Great Britain, the United States and Canada.

Mr. J. Beaumont Pease, eminent British banker and golfer, who will succeed the Duke of York as Captain of the Royal and Ancient.

Winnipeg Clubs Open the 1931 Season With Many Competitions and Record Fields. "Evening Tribune" Presents Handsome Cup for Manitoba Open Championship.

PERFECT weather the week-end of May 24th brought out swarms of enthusiasts to the Winnipeg golf courses. The municipal fairways seemed seething in action at Kildonan and Windsor, while Deer Lodge and Royauumont each afforded accommodations for more than 500 players. Bourkevale had its largest turnout of would be broken before the season was completed.

The recent rain has put most of the greens in perfect condition and the constant improvement of the courses has been welcomed by the players.

the season although the number was in marked contrast to that of the more popular courses.

At the privately owned courses there was continuous playing throughout the day. St. Charles members started early in the morning and dusk alone drove them from the fairways as they played under ideal conditions. C. Hodgman won the medal handicap competition with a card of 74. At Elmhurst the same indication of an active season prevailed and Charles Reith, club professional, estimated that all records of play ciation a most dignified trophy to be competed for in the Manitoba Open Championship. It will be first played for at the Niakwa Club, July 3rd, when the 1931 Open Championship is scheduled to commence.

The new prize is unique in form and design. A huge silver bowl, it flowers up from a plaque of auburn-veined Manitoba marble. This plaque rests on a base of shining Manitoba birch. Completing the design, two weighted silver golf balls support the bowl on either side, rising from the marble on silver tees.

In graceful lines, this inscription is engraved across the sheer silver front of the bowl: "Presented by The Winnipeg Tribune for annual competition. Emblematic of the Manitoba Open Golf Championship, May, 1931."

Thus, in shining silver symbols, will be preserved the history and the sportsmanship of a new competitive chapter in Manitoba golf.

In presenting the trophy, the intention of the donor is that it shall revive interest in the one class of golf competition which tests the mettle of every player—the open championship. It is believed that open competition will raise the already high standards of Manitoba golf competition.

At Alcrest a May 24th sweep occupied the attention of the members. J. R. Aikman, newly-elected president of the Manitoba Curling Association, demonstrated that he could play golf just as well as he curled by winning honours in the A class. His score was 72, 15—87. H. Faulkner and Dr. A. R. Hall tied for the B class with scores of 72, 18—90 and 68, 22—90 respectively. C class went to C. F. Ronnan, who turned in a card of 67, 25—92.

At the Assiniboine Club the president vs. vice-president match was played. Seventy-two players took part, and, after many interesting games, the president's representatives were victors by 9½ to 8½. The players teed off in foursomes, two representing their respective sides.

Thirty-four players were entered in the competition of "A" and "B" class players in the ladies' tournament at the Norwood Golf Club, and the winners in the various competitions were: Low gross "A" class—Mrs. H. B. Starmer with a score of 100. "A" class—Mrs. James Alves and Miss Laura Fortier were tied with a nett score of 83, and will play off to decide the winner. "B" class—Mrs. T. Carlyle with a nett score of 80.

The opening competition, president vs. vice-president at Southwood Country Club took place under ideal conditions. Nearly 100 members played, and the result went in favour of the vice-president. Many good cards were returned and the low gross went to George E. Haston with a fine 82.

J. Congalton, with a nett 70, led the 16 qualifiers for the Hingston-Smith Cup at the Norwood Golf Club. H. L. Parker and J. R. Dillebough tied for the low gross with returns of 78. Forty-eight took part in the event.

* * *

Miss Hazel Saults and Mrs. Stanley Herbert shared the opening honours of the golf season at the Niakwa golf course. In a specially arranged play which brought out a field of 26 Miss Saults won the Tombstone Trophy and Mrs. Herbert turned in the best score to take the honours in the hidden hole play.

Following the competition the field enjoyed a luncheon in the club house. The next fixture for the lady members of the club will be a mixed foursome.

In the mixed foursomes at the Southwood Country Club Mr. and Mrs. George E. Haston were the winners and Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Clough the runners-up.

A unique method of quickly preparing a set of high-class greens was used by Winnipeg's newest golf course, Polo Park, which was opened to the public last month. Turf for the Polo Park putting surfaces was taken from the old Winnipeg links and transported some 20 miles to the present situation.

Polo Park is a sporting, 6,000-yard course, for which par is 72. The club house is situated on Portage Ave.

The third annual spring golf tournament of the Vulcan Iron Works, Limited, was played off at the Winnipeg Beach Golf Club.

J. Cochrane won first prize for 36 holes of medal play with a splendid net of 152. J. McEachern was second with 160; H. Mills, third, 161, and E. Allman, fourth, 165.

The party comprised 23 golfers and was catered to very satisfactorily by Mrs. Jackson, who is again taking charge of the club house. This enjoyable event was in the hands of F. Thompson and J. Doig.

Montreal's New Public Course

If Officially Opened by Sir Henry Thornton. Course Was Laid out by Stanley Thompson.

MONTREAL'S new public course near the centre of the city was officially opened on June 4th, when Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, drove the first ball off the first tee of the Mount Royal Golf Club course. While over 100 golfers gathered round, Sir Henry spoke briefly on the advantages of golf in general and the Mount Royal course in particular, and then drove a ball the healthy distance of 220 yards off the first tee.

The course, which is situated at Rockland Avenue, in the Town of Mount Royal, has been open since last week-end and has proved popular with local golfers. The course is 6,620 yards in length, and was designed by Stanley Thompson, one of the foremost golf architects in the Dominion. The club house is attractive and spacious, and the links present an interesting test to the golfer.

The professional in charge is Jim Anderson, who was favourably known during the past few years as pro at the Grand Mere course. The manager of the course is J. Odie Cleghorn, well-known N.H.L. referee and former hockey star.

The yardage and par for the course follow:—

Interesting News of the Men Who Do So Much for the Royal and Ancient Game, from Coast to Coast.

THAT particularly brilliant young golfer and star hockey player, Gordon Brydson, formerly assistant with George Cumming at the Toronto Golf Club, has been appointed professional at the new Willowdale Golf Club on Yonge St., Toronto. Willowdale certainly has made one of the best appointments of the 1931 season. Brydson made a name for himself last year when in the Ontario Open Championship he tied with Mr. Ross Somerville and Lex Robson with a score of 151 and in the play-off won with a 74 against Robson's 75 and Somerville's 77. He was the leading scorer in the American Hockey League last winter and it would surprise no one if he duplicated on the links this summer, his wonderful record on the ice during the season of 1930-31.

* * *

Those brilliant young British pros, Harry Cotton and A. J. Lacey, neither of whom are on the British Ryder Cup team, certainly did "put it over" the veterans, George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, in an exhibition match recently over the Selsdon Park course. In the first 18 holes Duncan and Mitchell actually failed to win a hole, and they finished the round 9 down. Duncan played far below his true form, and as a result, Mitchell did not receive adequate support to enable his side to contend with the fine golf produced by their younger rivals. The small measure of the older players' success was in the halving of nine holes. Cotton and Lacey had a better ball score of 65 against 74. Mitchell and Duncan won their first hole of the match at the third of the second round, Cotton there taking three putts. They were again 9 down at the seventh, and with a half in three at the next Cotton and Lacey won by 10 and 8. The round was completed, and Cotton and his partner were 12 holes up on Mitchell and Duncan.

Brilliant hockeyist and golfer, Gordon Brydson, appointed professional at the Willowdale Golf Club.

E. R. Whitcombe, Ryder Cup player and member of the team, defeated Tom Barber, of Derby, at the thirtieth hole in the all-British final of the $5,000 Leeds professional golf tournament. Whitecombe and Barber waged a closely-fought duel from the first hole on, with the former nearly always in the lead, but never able to draw away from the Derbyshire professional.

Barber won the first hole, but Whitecombe promptly squared it at the second and Barber was not able to get ahead again until the thirty-second, which he won to go one up. Whitecombe became dormie one at the thirty-fifth, but his approach shot at the thirty-sixth was over the green, and the match went into extra holes.

The thirty-seventh and thirty-eighth were halved in par figures.

Cal Taylor, formerly of Carnoustie and the Royal Calcutta Golf Club, India, the professional at "Lucerne-in-Quebec."

Barber put his second at the thirty-ninth into a bunker, took two to get out and then missed a four-yarder to lose the match.

Both men played magnificently in the afternoon, Barber having a medal score of 68 and Whitcombe a 69. Their morning scores were 76 and 74, respectively.

Lucerne-in-Quebec, the famous C. P.R. resort between Montreal and Ottawa, is opening up this summer one of the finest 18-hole courses in Canada, designed by Mr. Stanley Thompson, the noted Toronto golf architect. Next year when the course is whipped into shape it will be the venue of more than one important championship. Lucerne is fortunate in having as its professional, Cal Taylor, formerly of famous Carnoustie, Scotland, where the British Open Championship was held this month and the Royal Calcutta Golf Club, India. Carnoustie has produced more famous professional golfers than any other place in the world, and "Cal" is a worthy representative of the famous old links, which has sent its sons to teach "the game of games" to countless thousands scattered the world over.

Cable from Deauville, France, June 11th:—

“With professionals from four countries competing, France to-day walked off with the major honour and most of the cash prizes in a 36-hole international golf tournament for the Mastbaum Cup, established in memory of John Nickson of Philadelphia, and $2,000 in cash prizes.

Andre Boyer, Nice professional, won the tournament with a two round total of 140 composed of a 73 and 67, the latter score tying for the third time in two days the course record set by Thomas Genta, of the Argentine, in the French open. Percy Allis, British-born Berlin professional, was second at 141 with Pierre Hirigoyen, of France, third at 143. Two more French professionals, Marcel Dallemagne, of St. Germain, and Pierre Alauguren, of Nivelles, tied for fourth with Joe Kirkwood, only representative of the United States and Marco Churio of Argentina.

Aubrey Boomer, who won the French open yesterday from practically the same field that competed today, finished out of the money with a total of 147.

Kirkwood, trick shot artist, starts a tour of Europe to-morrow shooting golf balls off watch crystals, hitting two or three at a time and showing his other stunts.

Cable from Carnoustie, Scotland:—

"Henry Cotton, young British professional who led the field in the British open for two days, again refused to-day to join the British Ryder Cup squad, except on his own terms.

George Oke, chairman of the Professional Golfers' Association committee, charged with selecting the members of the team, invited Cotton to join the squad.

The youngster asked Oke if the same conditions prevail—that he must return with the other squad members immediately after the United States open. He was told that it was.

'Sorry, I cannot play,' he said.

Cotton thinks he has a good chance to win the United States open and doesn't want to be bound by any rule requiring his return to England before he has had a chance to cash in on the title.

Percy Allis, British pro. won first prize in the pitch and putt tournament at Arbroath, Scotland. He turned in a score aggregating 226 for 72 holes. Horton Smith, United States, tied with Joe Kirkwood, Australian trick shot star, for second place with 228 each, and Johnny Farrell, United States, took fourth place with 229.

Allis won about $750 by his victory, while Smith and Kirkwood split an equal amount. There were 21 cash prizes, ranging down to $25. In the pitch and putt play only approach shots are counted and strokes taken on the greens.

Annual Tournament, Wainwright, Alberta

ON Monday, May the 25th, the Wainwright Golf Club, Wainwright, Alberta, held their second annual open tournament, and despite the cold wind which blew hard all day the number of entries exceeded that of last year and more outside points were represented.

Competitors were entered from Biggar, Edgerton, Hughenden, Hardisty, Mundare, Donalds and Wainwright, with a total entry of over fifty for all three competitions. Although the weather conditions were not conducive to good golf the competition was very keen and some very good golf was played in each event.

One of the local members succeeded in achieving the ambition of every golfer by making a hole-in-one. Playing in the mixed two-ball foursome with Mrs. J. G. Clark as his partner, Mr. F. C. Dickins made the third hole in one, this achievement being witnessed by the four players in front who were just leaving the green when Mr. Dickins' tee shot landed and rolled into the cup. This is the first time that a "hole-in-one" has been made on the Wainwright links. Playing steady golf Mrs. Clark and Mr. Dickins turned in the low medal score in the two ball foursome while Mr. and Mrs. J. Ormrod, of Hughenden, won second prize.

In other competitions the prizes were fairly evenly divided among visitors and local members, the visitors doing somewhat better by winning the second and third flights. Mr. F. C. Dickins won the championship flight, and Mr. W. A. Lewis, of Hardisty, was the runner-up. In the ladies' championship Mrs. Craighill, of Hardisty, was the winner, while Mrs. Lawley, of Hughenden, took second prize. In the second flight Mrs. J. G. Ormrod, of Hughenden, was the winner, and Mrs. F. E. Stevens, of Wainwright, was second. In the approaching and putting competition for ladies, Mrs. Craighill demonstrated her skill with mashie and putter by taking the prize with the lowest medal score for the three distance.

In the third flight Mr. S. Campbell, of Hughenden, was declared winner and Mr. P. S. Pawsey, of Edgerton, was runner-up.

The long-driving competition was held in the evening after the completion of the other events and was won by Mr. J. G. Ormrod, of Hughenden, who only outdrove by a few yards Mr. G. Clark, one of the local members.

During the afternoon the lady members of the club served tea and many friends of the club dropped in to help entertain the visitors from the neighbouring towns.

The Women's Record for the Course, Miss Cecil Smith Wins Scarborough Invitation Tournament.

SCARBORO ladies, famous for staging successful events, again scored heavily on June 10th when an invitation tournament was participated in by the leading women players of Toronto headed by the newly crowned Ontario champion, Miss Ada Mackenzie. Miss Ada, however, on this occasion had to bow the golfing knee to Miss Cecil Smith, last year's Ontario champion, with whom she was paired. Miss Cecil was at her best and carding a record 82 for the difficult Scarborough course, established a commanding lead over the large field.

The winner was not particularly strong on the outward journey and made the turn in 44, five over par. Coming in she was more steady than brilliant and two birdies helped her to cover the final nine in 38, one under par. Miss Mackenzie's round was more consistent, being 43-42—85, but the best nine of the day was that of Mrs. Whittington, who went out in 40, one over par, for the more difficult half of the test.

In addition to the 18-hole medal round there were driving and putting competitions and the prizes were presented by Dr. Alex Elliott, president of the club; Mrs. Maciver, president of the ladies' section, and Mrs. Young, the ladies' captain. Dr. Elliott presented the winner with a beautiful bouquet of roses. The prize winners were:—

Gross scores—1, Miss Cecil Smith, Toronto Golf, 82; 2, Miss Ada Mackenzie, Toronto Ladies, 85.

Nett scores—1, Miss Audrey Graham, Scarborough, 77; 2, Mrs. H. Burnham, Toronto Golf, 77.

Best gross first nine—Mrs. E. W. Whittington, Toronto Golf, 40.

Best nett, second nine—Miss B. Gillespie, Toronto Ladies, 37½.

Silver division driving, aggregate—Mrs. R. W. Gouinlock, Toronto Golf, 587 yards.

Silver division driving, longest drive—Mrs. B. B. Hunter, York Downs, 210 yards.

Bronze division driving, aggregate—Mrs. C. Beatty, Rosedale.

Bronze division driving, longest drive—Mrs. Eustace Smith, Toronto Golf.

Miss Cecil Smith, who sets the new course record for women at Scarborough, when she won the Invitation Tournament.

Putting—1, Mrs. H. C. Macklem, Toronto Golf, 35; 2, Mrs. H. Bonnar, Thornhill, 37.

Scores besides Miss Smith and Miss Mackenzie 100 or better were turned in by:—

Mrs. E. W. Whittington, Toronto Golf, 87; Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen, Toronto Golf, 90; Mrs.

H. Burnham, Toronto Golf, 91; Mrs. R. W. Gouinlock, Toronto Golf, 92; Mrs. W. G. More, Toronto Golf, 93; Mrs. A. The Saskatchewan Seniors' Tournament

THE Saskatchewan Seniors' Golf Association announces the 5th annual tournament will be held at the Regina Golf Club, Regina, Sask., on Thursday and Friday, July 2nd and 3rd.

All golfers in Saskatchewan over 55 years of age are eligible for membership. Annual fee $2.00. Entry fee $1.00. Annual dinner $1.00 (total $4.00). The annual meeting will be held immediately after the annual dinner, which will be held in the Regina Golf Club House on the evening of Friday, July 3rd.

Competitions are as follows:—Two prizes are given for each event. 1, Championship—Match play. 2, Handicap—Match play. 3, Consolation—Match play. 4, President's prize—Foursomes (stroke competition). Entrants will have the privilege of the course for practice for the week commencing Monday, June 29th. The present holder of the championship is General G. S. Tuxford, Moose Jaw.

The officers of the Association are:—Hon. president, The Hon. Sir F. W. G. Haultain, Chief Justice of Saskatchewan; president, Hon. Mr. Justice McKay, Regina; vice-president, Hugh Thomson, Moose Jaw; hon. secretary-treasurer, J. Kelso Hunter, Court House, Regina. Board of governors:—The president, vice-president, the hon. secretary-treasurer, Hon. Mr. Justice Mackenzie, J. W. Harrison, and D. C. Gray, of Regina; Judge Pope, Melfort, and W. E. Tincher, Weyburn; Brig.-General G. S. Tuxford, Dr. G. P. Bawden, A. W. Irwin and Archdeacon Johnson, of Moose Jaw; and E. W. Miller, Fort Qu'Appelle. The tournament committee—The president, vice-president, the hon. secretary-treasurer, James Balfour, and A. C. Froom.

Brantford Club Successfully Introduces Outdoor Badminton

ALL three Brantford courses on May 24th were crowded, record attendances being recorded at the Country Club, the Ava Club and the Arrowdale Civic Club. Quite a feature at the Ava Club was the formal opening of the outdoor badminton court, charmingly situated in the wooded ravine back of the club house. Jack Purcell, one of the best known Canadian experts and a champion of the game, who represented this country overseas, was accompanied by Jack Cameron, Ottawa, Harry Sedgewick and Jack Tyrell, of Toronto. Purcell proved himself wonderfully proficient in every department of the game his smashing cross court and close net play being particularly fine. The play was watched by a large crowd of badminton enthusiasts. Purcell stated that the Ava court was the best outdoor affair he had played on and

When you play the New Super-"Harlequin," you'll find that you get greater length with wood and irons, your putting will be surer, and your ball will always keep its shape for round after round, despite extremes of heat and the roughest of surfaces. It's all due to the "tempered" cover of the Super-"Harlequin"—a new process which ensures extreme durability combined with first-class playing qualities. expressed himself delighted with the charming and artistic setting of the court.

The badminton experts afterwards played golf, and Jack Cameron, who is the ranking player of Quebec, established a new record for the 9-hole Ava course, a 35. Purcell, too, is a very fine golfer. He had one round of 37.

R. M. Mickles Wins Opening Quebec Field Day

R. M. Mickles, of the Royal Montreal, who is generally looked upon as Montreal's most promising young player, won first place at the Country Club, Montreal, in the opening field day of the season staged by the Province of Quebec Golf Association. He had a score of 77 to lead a large and representative field. Right back of him were E. D. Logan, Senneville, E. Savard, Laval, J. H. Patton, Country Club, and E. J. Pope, Islesmere, with 78's.

Although R. M. Mickles led the entire field with a mark of 77, he drew the low gross prize for the B class, as his Provincial handicap is 10. The low gross prize for class A—golfers with a Provincial mark of nine and under—went to F. D. Logan, of Senneville, with a mark of 78. Mr. Logan was tied with Ernest Savard, of Laval, H. J. Patton, of the Country Club, and E. J. Pope, of Islesmere. In a toss for the prize, F. D. Logan was the winner, and E. J. Pope therefore took the nett prize with a 69.

With Mr. Mickles taking gross honours in class B, the first nett prize went to R. F. Carleton, of the Country Club, with a mark of 82-13—69, and second nett prize went to H. E. Allbutt with a 84-13—71 mark.

The prizes were presented by Dr. A. W. Mitchell, of the match and handicap committee of the Country Club.

"Don" Carrick Awarded Harvard Degree with Honours

Mr. D. D. Carrick, Canadian Amateur Golf Champion 1925-27, who has been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Laws (with honours) at Harvard University.

GOLFING and other friends throughout Canada will extend hearty congratulations to Mr. Donald Day Carrick, Toronto, twice Amateur Golf Champion of Canada, on securing the degree of Bachelor of Laws with honours at Harvard University. The coveted degree was conferred upon him, June 18th at the 295th annual commencement of historical Harvard in the Sever Quadrangle.

Mr. Carrick, who is also a graduate of Toronto University, is noted not only in golfing circles but is an outstanding amateur boxer (he represented Canada at the Olympic Games at Amsterdam in 1928), footballer and hockeyist—altogether an athletic record quite unique in the Dominion. A keen and brilliant student "Don" is also a pianist of no mean ability. The Dominion is proud and justly proud of clean-cut young Canadians of Don Carrick's calibre.

His father is Col. J. J. Carrick, ex-M.P. Both the Colonel and Mrs. Carrick are keen devotees of golf and all three of their sons have absorbed from them the love of the Royal and Ancient game.

It is safe to predict that a brilliant legal career stretches ahead of this very versatile son of the Dominion.

The Pairings for the U. S. Open Championship

THE United States Golf Association has just issued the list of pairings for the 151 contestants who will on Thursday, July 2nd, and Friday, July 3rd, take part in the U.S. Open Championship at the Inverness Club, Toledo, Ohio. The Association has certainly made a good job of the draw and the big galleries will be able to watch the play of the leaders to the very best advantage. Here are the principal pairings:—

Tomas Genta, Argentine, Harry Hampton, Chicago; Percy Allis, Germany, Ed Dudley, Concordville, Pa.; Larry Montes, Phillipine Islands, Freddie McLeod, Chevy Chase, Md.; Jose Jurado, Argentine, C. Hilgendorf, Grosse Pointe, Mich.; Fred Robson, Great Britain, Olin Dutra, Brentwood, Cal.; Tommy Armour, Orchard Lake, Mich., Henry Cotton, Langley Park, England; Macdonald Smith, New York, Archie Compston, Great Britain; Leo Diegel, Agua Caliente, Mexico, Abe Mitchell, Great Britain; Ernest Whitcombe, Great Britain, Gene Sarazen, Great Neck, N.Y.; Bert Hodson, Great Britain, Horton Smith, unattached; Aubrey Boomer, France, Willie Hunter, Montebello Park, Cal.; Walter Hagen, Detroit, Auguste Boyer, France; Marcus Churio, Argentine, George J. Voigt (amateur), Marmaroneck, N.Y.; Johnny Farrell, Manaroneck, N.Y., Charles Whitcombe, Great Britain; George Duncan, Great Britain, Wiffy Cox, Brooklyn, N.Y.

It is a pretty safe wager that Tommy Armour and Harry Cotton, Great Britain's most brilliant young pro, will draw the biggest gallery of the opening day. Other outstanding

Lambton and Royal York Teams Tie for Lyon Trophy

THE championship course of the Royal York, Toronto, was the venue on June 10th of a most interesting team match for the George S. Lyon Trophy. Seventeen teams, representing the pick of the Toronto clubs, entered for the event, which was keenly contested.

The Grand Old Man of Canadian Golf most appropriately was himself amongst the competitors for the beautiful trophy named for him, he being on the Royal York team which eventually tied with Lambton for first place. The scores of the two leading teams:—

Lambton—F. G. Hoblitzel, 75; Jack Firstbrook, 90; Jack Chipman, 85, and G. B. Heintzman, 85—335.

Royal York—W. J. Thompson, 77; Douglas Palmer, 79; Hugh Reid, 91; George S. Lyon, 88—335.

Hoblitzel's 75 was the low score of the day. At a jolly dinner which followed the match it was announced that the captains of the two winning teams had decided not to play off for the trophy. All eight players will be awarded replicas.

Miss Enid Wilson Wins British Open

Miss Enid Wilson (on left), the rangy hard hitting young English girl, winner of the British Open Championship.

NOTWITHSTANDING that Miss Diana Fishwick last year won the British Ladies' Championship, defeating in the final Miss Glenna Collett, the U.S. champion, English experts have always maintained that Miss Enid Wilson was the ranking woman player of Great Britain and the logical successor to the great Miss Joyce Wethered, who unfortunately has retired from championship golf.

Over the rain-soaked and wind-swept famous Irish course Portmarnock, Miss Wilson conclusively justified this month this opinion. She swept through the field to meet in the final young Miss Wanda Morgan, who she swamped to the tune of 7 and 6. Miss Morgan, who is only 20 years of age, provided the surprise of championship week when she defeated Miss Molly Gourlay, ranking British player, 1 up in the semi-finals.

Miss Wilson, who is only 22 years of age, drives as far as many men who pride themselves on their tee-shots, and uses her irons like a professional. The only U.S. entrant, Miss Maureen Orcutt, Canadian Lady Open Champion, and ranked second in the States to Miss Collett, did not find Portmarnock much to her liking and went out in the third round by a 4 and 3 verdict recorded against her by Miss Elsie Corbett, a former Lancashire champion but not looked upon as a ranking player. Miss Wilson also won the qualifying medal. In women's golf, at any rate, Great Britain is still absolutely supreme.

The newly crowned champion was a semi-finalist in the Open Championship of 1927, 1928 and 1930, and won the Close Championship in 1928 and 1930. Besides winning the Girls' Championship in 1925, she won the Midlands Championship in 1926, 1928, 1929 and 1930, and has twice been Derbyshire Champion.

In 1930, Miss Wilson won the Roehampton Gold Cup, the St. George's Hill Trophy, the Midland Ladies' Foursomes with Miss Corlett, and the Eve Spring Medal Foursomes with Miss Dorothy Pearson.

Western Ontario Public Links Association

THE formation of a Western Ontario Public Links Golf Association is under way and a meeting will be held shortly at the Thames Valley club house, London, to further the organization. At the same time, it is probable that the first Western Ontario Public Links invitation tournament will be planned for the Thames Valley course, aiming to establish the competition as a yearly event.

John Innis, the professional at Thames Valley, writes the Editor that he is receiving enthusiastic support in reference to the formation of such an association and the "Canadian Golfer" is strongly in favour of such an organization. There are now public or semi-public courses in London, Toronto, Hamilton, Stratford, St. Thomas, Guelph, Windsor, Sarnia, Brantford, Kitchener, Windsor, and Fort William, and there is no reason whatever why these clubs should not at any early date get together, form an association and arrange for a tournament. All this would be in the best interests of public golf and public golfers.

Canadian Champion in Form

With a Brilliant 138 for 36 Holes Wins the Sarnia Tournament.

(By W. H. W.)

There seems but little doubt that the inter-city matches of yesteryears are gradually giving way to the club invitation tournament, and one cannot help thinking the innovation has met with general approval. In the old days it was different, to be privileged to play on a team in inter-city games was considered an honour, the match was an occasion. But with the ever increasing number of clubs it became naturally more difficult to make up a team, and far too much of a strain, especially for the captain. This difficulty is therefore largely overcome by the invitation tournament, which concentrates in one day what was covered by a schedule of matches played throughout the season. It brings out the leading players of the district in which it is held, and provides a day's entertainment and sociability for every member of the club, be he a participant, or simply one of a great and inglorious gallery. All of which leads us to the subject of our heading, which we believe to be one of the most popular of these events given by any of the smaller clubs. Anyway Sarnia's last invitation tournament brought out a field of over one hundred entries. The weather could hardly be improved upon and its pleasant course was never in better condition. It fact it had the appearance of being cleaned, brushed, combed and raked in a manner that left little to be desired, and spoke volumes for the efficiency of the green keeper.

As to the play, Ross Somerville, the present amateur champion, swept the board with a splendid score of 138, which included two or three poorish holes. However, the London Hunt star evened things up nicely when he drove the first green in the afternoon round, 274 yards, holing an easy putt for a birdie "two." This with an eagle "three" at the second hole, 488 yards, going out, constituted two performances that demonstrate the great possibilities of the Champion, and gave his gallery a real kick.

F. Connolly of Detroit, who gave "Sandy" such a battle in London last year, won the low gross first 18, but faded a bit in the afternoon. Ross Hayes, now of Detroit, son of our old friend the late Dr. Hayes of Sarnia, captured the runner up low gross. Jack Nash of London, Ontario Amateur Champion, started badly but once he got into his stride showed his prowess by winning low gross second 18. On dit, his short approaches to the pin make one almost weep with envy! Other prize winners were as follows:—F. C. Leitch, Clinton; Alex Hayes, Sarnia, brother of Ross; H. B. Crouchman, Sarnia; Ned Pardie, Sarnia; William Walsh, Port Huron; W. J. Neal, Windsor; J. Jeakle, Clinton; George French, Sarnia; T. Brandon, Clinton; K. P. Jeffrey, Sarnia; Dr. Aiken, Sarnia. Team prize—London—Somerville, Nash, Tom Brown and Dr. Brown. Needless to say the gratifying success of the meeting was in a great measure due to the leadership of Mr. W. J. Watson, managing director, Russell Neilson, the club's popular professional, and the ever reliable Kern Marsh of the London Hunt Club who acted as starter.

The following was Somerville's brilliant par-equalling round of 36 holes:—

The champion was six under fours for the 36 holes, it will be noticed.

Editorial note "Toronto Globe":—

"The seventeenth anniversary number of the Canadian Golfer, which recently issued from the press, is a publication which is bound to prove invaluable to every player and every lover of the Royal and Ancient game. Its genial and enterprising editor, Mr. Ralph H. Reville, of Brantford, is to be congratulated upon the handsome and interesting production, which, as a golfer's souvenir, cannot be equalled on the continent."

Mr. B. L. Anderson, Toronto, secretary-treasurer of the Royal Canadian Golf Association:—

"May I congratulate you on your May number, and on your seventeenth anniversary. It is very interesting and attractive and a great credit to your organization."

From Mr. S. R. Hart, Toronto, ex-president of the Lambton Golf and Country Club, and one of the oldest and most outstanding golfers in Canada:

"Have just opened the seventeenth anniversary number of the "Canadian Golfer" and before I do anything else I feel that I must send you a few lines of congratulation on having put seventeen successful years behind. I remember well the early numbers and the anxious days you had, now happily past.

Here's to many prosperous years ahead."

Editorial Note, "Hamilton Spectator":—

"The seventeenth anniversary number of Canadian Golfer is off the press, and a splendid edition it is. Some golfers who have subscribed to it from the first issue are still applying its Helpful Hints and striving manfully to break the hundred."

privileges of a game that in recent years has meant so much to him and for that matter busy men everywhere.

At any rate he decided that Guelph should have a golf course and a course of championship calibre, where now and for all time its citizens should have the privilege of playing the Royal and Ancient game under conditions and under a nominal fee generally only enjoyed by those who are in a position to dig down deep in their pockets to meet the necessary expenses of a well equipped 18-hole course and club house and that means many hundred dollars per annum.

Mr. Cutten, fortunately unlike so many financiers, has never begrudged support to institutions of real help and value to the coming generations and the Recreation Fields at Guelph will in the years to come be an everlasting monument to him. And this is more or less the fascinating story of this really great undertaking involving up to date an expenditure of over $200,000.

During a conversation with Dr. G. I. Christie, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, on a visit to Chicago in December, 1928, Mr. Cutten raised the question of the needs of larger recreational facilities for the college students and faculty and for the people of Guelph. He stated that he would be pleased to co-operate in the development of a golf course and a suitable rugby field and other recreational facilities. Dr. Christie was asked to investigate the possibility of securing suitable land for this purpose, with the result that 198 acres of land were purchased. This tract lies between the city and the College land. The Speed River forms the north boundary of this area which runs from the Dundas Road to the Victoria Road while the College property forms the South line.

It was the idea of Mr. Cutten that the Golf Course should be first developed. Mr. "Chick" Evans of Chicago, and a famous golfer, was selected as architect for this project and the work was undertaken in May, 1929. During the summer of 1930, Mr. Stanley Thompson, golf architect of Toronto, was enlisted to assist in the further development of the course. The task of clearing the land of fences and stones and the building of tees and greens has been a large one and has required a large amount of time and labour. The task alone of securing grass on this large area has been unusually difficult for two unusually dry seasons with little rain have been encountered. Notwithstanding all of the difficulties, the work has gone forward at a rapid pace and to-day the Eighteen Hole Course stands with highly developed greens and beautifully carpeted fairways as one of the best in the whole country.

In the Fall of 1930, Mr. Cutten authorized the construction of a Club House. Much time was spent by those in charge in studying club houses on the various courses in Canada and the United States. At last, Mr. A. W. Cutten found a house on the Knollwood Club, Lake Forest, Illinois, who has made the personal selection of all the hangings, carpets and furniture. Mr. Cutten has made several trips from Chicago to Guelph and has spent a large amount of time with the manufacturers of Guelph and Toronto.

The Board Room, which is a special room on the second storey, has been finished in excellent taste. The walls are panelled with Canadian Birch finished in walnut. The fire place is faced with black and gold Belgian marble. Mr. Harry Cutten of Guelph and Mr. Ralph Cutten of Toronto, brothers of Mr. A. W. Cutten, assumed the responsiwhich suited him in many respects. He placed the outline of this club, with suggestions, in the hands of the Guelph Committee and approved the construction of the Club House. Mr. Douglas E. Kirtland, architect of Toronto, was secured to draw the plans and work out the many details for this new Club House. The Jackson-Lewis Company of Toronto was given the contract of building the house. Mr. Jackson took a personal interest in this Club House and has given it very careful supervision. On the high hill on College Avenue stands the completed house, the product of beautiful architectural design and careful thorough workmanship. It is constructed of tapestry brick and is finished throughout in a most complete manner. In the Men's Locker Room, individual dressing rooms, and showers have been constructed of red Tennessee marble, while in the Women's Locker Room the dressing rooms, showers and baths are constructed of White Italian marble. The wash rooms throughout the building are also finished with Travertine Terrazzo floors and Italian marble. All of the walls of these rooms are of white tile. The beautiful Club House was made more complete through the hands and abilities of Mrs. A. W. Cutten, who assumed the direction and bility of furnishing this room. On this same floor are two bedrooms for the convenience of guests who may visit the Club and wish to remain over night. As a part of this dormitory equipment, there is also a handsomely finished bathroom with solid china bath-tub and other fixtures to match. Another important part of the Club is that of the kitchen, which is equipped in a modern way with electric range, refrigerator and cabinet made by the Globe people of Waterloo. Adjoining the large kitchen, is the butler's pantry and storerooms. Adjoining these are sleeping quarters and wash rooms for the persons in charge.

Experimental work with grasses will be one of the special features of the Cutten Course. The Ontario Agricultural College is co-operating with the management of the course in the study of suitable grasses for greens and fairways. A number of the greens have been planted with bent grass stolons of the Washington Bent Variety. These stolons have been secured from Mr. Bland of Golf Limited, who has a nursery and who has supplied large amounts of grass to various courses. Other greens have been seeded with a bent grass seed secured from New Zealand, together with a mixture of Cheving's fescue and Red Top. Other greens have been planted with native bent grass which has been secured in the valleys on the golf course and which gives promise of showing real value.

Different grass mixtures have been used on the fairways and these will be used for study. This is, perhaps, the first time that any golf course has been used in this way. It means much more to test out the grasses under playing conditions than to test them in a nursery or experimental plot. The Ontario Agricultural College is co-operating with the Royal Canadian Golf Association in the handling of this experimental work and is offering the results to the people interested in the building and working over of various features of golf courses.

Two of the directors (who in company with Messrs. Ralph and Harry Cutten) have done so much in launching so successfully the Cutten Golf Course. Left to right, Mr. C. L. Dunbar, K.C., Guelph, and Dr. G. I. Christie, Principal of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

The Recreational Field will call for a large amount of landscape work. This is under the direction of the Department of Horticulture of the Ontario Agricultural College and is receiving the personal attention of Professor Tomlinson and Mr. Petty. Already a considerable amount of work has been done about the Club House, and the fine evergreens and the flowering shrubs bear testimony of their excellent work. The newfields will offer an opportunity for the study of shrubbery and the best system of landscape.

The Editor of the "Canadian Golfer" (accompanied by the Assistant Editor, Mr. W. H. Webling), was this month a visitor to this really remarkable property and inspected both course and club house under the guidance of the four directors of the club, Mr. C. L. Dunbar, K.C., Dr. Christie, Mr. Harry Cutten, Guelph, and Mr. Ralph Cutten, Toronto. It may seem like fulsome flattery, but the Editor, who knows golf courses from Coast to Coast in Canada and many of the leading courses in Great Britain and the United States, wants to go on record that in the Cutten course at Guelph (which is 6,400 yards with a par of 70) there are very few if any better lay-outs which, after greens and fairways are whipped into shape, will much excel it. In texture of turf, balance of holes and charm of environment, Mr. Cutten has given Guelph a championship course and a well equipped club house which in the years to come will place that city very much on the golfing map. And the citizens of Guelph will appreciate that fact in the future, if they do not now—and they certainly should do so, for an outstanding golf course is to-day one of the greatest assets of any city, large or small. Oh, that there were more "Canadian Native Sons of the Cutten calibre."

Brief ceremonies on Wednesday, June 10th marked the successful launching of this new and outstanding Ontario Golf Club. Dr. G. I. Christie, President of the Ontario Agricultural College, in the absence of the generous donor, officiated.

"The day is not far distant, Dr. Christie declared, when the area to the southwest of the club house, now rough and stony ground, will be a stadium, a track, baseball diamond, tennis courts, cricket crease, and provision for every game which can be played outdoors. For the winter months, he pictured a skating rink, toboggan slides, and the long hills for skiing."

The program at the opening was brief, and included only Dr. Christie's short address and the driving of the first ball by Mr. Harry Cutten. While a large crowd gathered around a special tee built for the occasion, Mr. Cutten drove his ball straight down a fairway specially marked out, and the new Cutten Recreation Fields were officially open to the public.

Several hundred golfers and prominent guests attended the auspicious opening. The driving competition during the afternoon was won by F. R. Ramsay, of Guelph. There was also a foursome match participated in by a large number of players. Mayor R. B. Robson, of Guelph, on behalf of Mr. B. G. Collyer of Chicago presented to the club a handsome silver trophy for annual competitions.

Prior to the actual opening, Dr. Christie was host at a luncheon given to business and professional men of Guelph, those who had played some part in the erection of the club house, and friends of Mr. Cutten. It was held in the main dining hall of the O. A.C., and was attended by some 80 guests.

Dr. Christie presided, and in his address outlined circumstances surrounding the gift of the recreation fields, and spoke of Mr. Cutten's intentions.

Edward Johnson, famous tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and himself a former Guelph boy, added his word of appreciation for Mr. Cutten's splendid gift. "As a Guelphite, I am glad to be here," Mr. Johnson said, and added, "We'll have music and sport hand in hand, and we'll show the world."

Mayor Robson spoke expressing thanks on behalf of the City of Guelph, and C. L. Dunbar, K.C., urged that all citizens support the golf course as Mr. Cutten had presented the course and now it is the duty of citizens to assist in its maintenance, Mr. Dunbar said.

Mr. George Foster is the very capable Manager of the Club and he is already looking after the wants of many visitors from Guelph and the surrounding district.

The Lakeview Invitation Tournament

Is Won by Andy Kay, Who Equals the Record for the Course. Arthur Hunt Captures Assistants' First Prize.

A great home-coming nine of 33, two under par and equalling the record for the second time, enabled Andy Kay of Lambton to win the invitation professional tournament at the Lakeview Club, Toronto, June 12th, with a total of 149 and also made it possible for him to equal the course record of 72, set by Clarence Hackney, the winner, and Johnny Farrell in the Canadian open of 1923 and by Davie Spittal in winning the Ontario open in 1929. Kay's score for the second eighteen holes was 72, two over par. The 33 on the last nine also permitted Kay to draw away from Arthur Hulbert of Thornhill, with whom he was tied for second place at noon and also at the end of 27 holes.

The Lakeview par of 70 has long been recognized as the stiffest in Ontario, and the best that has ever been done under championship conditions is 72.

Close on the heels of Kay was A. J. Hulbert of Thornhill, with 153. Other scores of 165 or better were made by R. Cunningham, Mississauga; J. Roberts, Oshawa; G. Brydson, Willowdale; W. Spittal, Oakdale; W. MacWilliam, Thistleton; L. Cumming, Toronto Ladies; L. Robson, Islington; E. Trumper, Crestwood; F. Murchie, Cherry H.; F. E. Lock, Burlington; D. Hutchison, Hum. V.; R. N. Alston, unattached; L. H. White, Pine Pt.

That very classy young assistant professional Arthur Hunt, of Lambton, won the assistants first prize with 166. Right back of him one shot was J. Hay of Lakeview, 167. B. Morris, Oakdale, had 170 as also did S. McDowell of Rosedale.

The president vs. vice-president match opened a busy season for the ladies of Kanawaki, Montreal. This was followed by the opening tea at which there was a very large attendance. Tea was poured by Mrs. H. B.

Andy Kay, who equals course record in winning Lakeview Tournament.

MacNeill, and Mrs. A. A. Gowan. Mrs. O. Irwin, the lady captain, has prepared a very interesting fixture card for the season running well into October. The club championship will be played on Tuesday, Sept. 1st.

Successful Invitation Tournament at Burlington

THE Burlington Golf and Country Club can always be depended upon to stage an interesting tournament. Its charming lake-lapped course lends itself to a competition whilst its greens and fairways are an inspiration, and good scores are generally in order at Burlington.

Dave Hutchison, of the Humber Valley Golf Club, Toronto, who tied for first honours at Burlington.

The invitation tournament on June 9th was no exception. Delightful weather greeted the large field of contestants and the day throughout went with a swing and follow through which left nothing to be desired.

There was a fine field of the leading professionals of Ontario, whilst in the afternoon a number of amateurs participated.

The scoring was good and the leaders were closely bunched.

Dave Hutchison, Humber Valley, and Andy Kay, of Lambton, divided first and second money when they tied for top position with scores of 144 for the 36 holes.

Bob Cunningham, of Mississauga, with a card that included three sixes, no fives and no less than eight threes, led the morning round with a score of 70, one under par. He faded in the afternoon, however, needing a 78, while Hutchison and Kay, more consistent, got through both rounds to compile the low total for the day. Ferguson, who was snappy over the first eighteen, had the tournament within his grasp for 34 holes, but on the seventeenth in the afternoon his second shot was turned into long grass to the right of the green and he went back to play another ball. As he played up, his first ball was found, but it was too late, and he had to take a six, which made his total 145, or one stroke more than the leaders.

Kay turned in a pair of 72's, playing consistently, while Hutchison carded a 71 in the morning and a 73 in the afternoon. Nicol Thompson's afternoon card contained several birdies and he came in with a 70, tying Cunningham's morning round. It was a fine performance for the popular veteran mentor of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club. The two tied men at the top split $70, while Ferguson drew down $20 and Nicol Thompson $10. Tied for 5th place were David Spittal, St. Andrews, and A. Hulbert, Thornhill, with 147. Other good scores were made by R. Batley, Galt, and Willie Lamb, Uplands, 149.

Mr. R. M. Gray, Jr., of Toronto, a former Ontario champion, easily led the amateurs in the afternoon. He had the very fine card of 74, a total excelled only by some half dozen of the pros.

Dave Hutchison, who is the very popular hon. secretary of the Canadian Professional Golf Association, has not before featured in competitive golf. He is a very fine, finished player and it is hoped this season he will find more time to participate in tournaments and championships.

The British Open Championship

Tommy Armour, Canadian Open Champion, With a "Garrison Finish" Britain the World's Greatest Golfing Event, Nosing Out by One Stroke Jose^s way He Jurado, of the Argentines, Protege of the Prince of Wales.

CANADIAN golfers were glad if a British player was not to win the British Open Championship, that the title should be won this month by Tommy Armour, Canadian Open Champion, his score being 296. The former Scottish amateur is extremely popular on the golf courses of Canada. Coming out to this country in 1920 just after winning the French Amateur Championship he took part in the Canadian Open at Rivermead, Ottawa, and tied with a score of 298 with the late Douglas Edgar and C. R. Murray, losing in the play-off to Edgar. The following year still playing as an amateur in the Canadian Open at the Toronto Club with a score of 299 he was in fourth place and won the amateur gold medal.

Then in 1927 at the Toronto Club he won the Canadian Open Championship for the first time with a card of 288, he having in the meantime joined the ranks of the professionals and taken out American citizenship. Just previously he had annexed the U.S. Open Championship, after a play-off with Harry Cooper, formerly a young caddie at the Hamilton Golf and Country Club.

Last year he tied with Leo Diegel for the Canadian Open at Hamilton, with a remarkable score of 277 and won in the play-off. He is the only golfer ever to have won the Open Championships of Great Britain, the United States and Canada.

Armour, who is noted for his "garrison finishes", is generally conceded to be golf's finest iron player. He gets great length with his irons and is besides uncannily accurate with them.

He was born in Edinburgh in 1895. Although 36 years of age "the Black Scot" is now possibly playing the greatest golf in his colourful and brilliant career.

Armour served with distinction in the world war where he was wounded day is rated as one of the greatest of all golfers.

Incidentally as a youth he played the violin quite well and was a member of an orchestra in a theatre in Edinburgh. He always claims that playing the violin has contributed more or less to his fine golfing touch.

Immediately after winning the Championship a cable from Carnoustie states:—

"I have achieved my boyhood ambition," Tommy Armour said as he kissed his wife in their hotel room just after winning the British Open Golf Championship.

"When I ran about on the Braid Hills of Edinburgh as a small boy," he continued, reminiscently, "and later came to play many rounds over Carnoustie I had dreams that one day I really might get my name inscribed on the same cup as that great golfer, Harry Vardon, who has it there six times."

The hour or more he had to wait this afternoon while the other leaders came in was the most trying experience of the week, Armour stated. "I never had much fear of the last two holes," he said in discussing his play. "But it wasn't until I struck a long number one iron shot onto the tenth green coming home that I thought I had a chance. That was perhaps the best shot I made all day."

But to come down to details. Veteran golfers, and Carnoustie is running over with them, generally conceded that this year's British Open Championship was the most exciting ever played. Barring Bobby Jones, last year's champion, the entries were the most representative ever recorded in the history of this most historic golfing event, which dates back to 1860, or over 70 years ago, when Auld Tom Morris, Young Tom Morris and Willie Park were supreme, later on in the nineties to be succeeded by Harry Vardon, six times winner of the classic, J. H. Taylor and James Braid, the other members of "the great triumvirate" who each five times had their names inscribed on the cup.

MacDonald Smith, a native of Carnoustie, but who for many years has resided in the States, the Canadian Open Champion in 1926, was greatly fancied to win the event and he justified the opinion of his many admirers when in wind and rain with two magnificent rounds of 70-71—141 he easily headed the qualifying round of contestants which comprised the leading players of Great Britain, the United States, South America, France and Australia. The score of 160 qualified and there were 109 players who carded that figure or better to remain in play for the Championship. The only leading golfer who failed to qualify was the British Ryder Cupper, H. C. Jolley, who had 162, but three veterans fell by the wayside in Harry Vardon, James Braid and Alex. Herd. Regret was expressed everywhere that these three gallant survivors of England's golden age of golf could not have had one more chance at the title. Braid was beaten by his own hand, for he designed the revised Carnoustie layout, which took bitter toll of his strokes to-day.

But Smith like so many other leaders in the qualifying, did not in the next four rounds of gruelling golf keep up the pace he set and eventually had to be content with fifth place. On the last day it looked all over as though Jose Jurado, the diminutive player from the Argentinians, was to be crowned golfing king but on the testing fourth round when the crown seemed to be well within his grasp he faltered and the "Black Scot" came from behind in characteristic fashion and with a dazzling 71 nosed out Jurado by one stroke. But let Mr. Frank H. King, the brilliant staff writer of the Associated Press, tell the story of the last afternoon's play at historic Carnoustie:—

"In a great International finish which saw the leading niblick wielders of five nations in the thick of things up to almost the last putt, Tommy Armour captured the cup it seemed certain Jurado would win. The little Argentine led the field at the end of the third round with 220, three strokes better than Macdonald Smith and Arthur Havers, the closest competitors, and five strokes better than Armour. Jurado led, in fact, until the last two holes, two of the sternest tests of golf in the world, through whose fairways coils and twists the rushing, babbling burn.

With the Prince of Wales rooting for him and some 20,000 Scots looking on, Jurado faltered at this graveyard of golfing hopes, sent his tee-shot at the seventeenth into the brook, took a six and then could get only a par five at the home hole while needing a birdie four to tie the flying Scotsman. He almost got his birdie, missing a three-yard putt by a little more than an inch to get 297 and second place. His four rounds were 76, 71, 73 and 77.

Those two holes, the turning point for many fine golfers, held no terrors for the "Black Scot" of Detroit. Twice he looked the dreaded Barry Burn in the eye and made it submit to the magic of his strokes. Each time he played the holes in exact par, four and five, a par that was seldom reached during the four days of play.

After Armour and Jurado came Gene Sarazen. The first of the United States home-breds, and Percy Allis, British-bred pro of a Berlin Club. Each had 298. Tied for fifth place were Johnny Farrell and Macdonald Smith, of the United States, with 299. Then came the second of the British professionals with the Ryder Cupper, W. H. Davies, sharing seventh place with the young Argentine youngster, Marco Churio, with 300.

Henry Cotton, the hope of Great Britain and leader for two rounds, putted his way right out of the Championship picture. He needed a 79 and 76 and wound up in a tie with Arthur Havers for tenth place. Havers is the only Briton to win a British Open since 1921, when the string of United States victories began. Horton Smith, Willie Hunter and Joe Kirkwood were the last of the United States delegation, finishing with respective scores of 303, 304 and 308.

A dozen players were still in the running as the final round started. Armour, having played a loose round of 77 in the morning, was prepared for extreme measures and he took them. He had six threes on his card, five fives and only seven fours. It was chance-taking on every hole with Tommy, shoot the works and win or lose it all, and his birdies were just enough to offset those holes where his boldness got him into trouble.

Armour's winning final round as compared to par:—

Par—Out	444	445	434—36
Armour—Out	354	345	434—35
Par—In	444	354	345—36—72
Armour—In	435	345	345—36—71

In far ahead of the other leaders, Armour waited around the club house while one player after another came up to those last two holes, some with a chance to tie or win, others already out of it. Few of them got by. Those who did made their bids too late. Allis was one of those who had a chance and lost it at Barry Burn hole. Fearing the treacherous terrain around the brook he pulled his tee shot too far to one side, went out of bounds and needed a six.

Following Allis came Reginald Whitcombe. He stumbled at the thirteenth and then couldn't whip those last few holes. Mac Smith came up and failed, taking the cruelest licking of all at Barry Burn, the island hole and the "home", a 5-6-5.

Sarazen and Farrell, golfing partners for years, whipped the finishing holes but early lapses had proved too costly and when their totals were added both were behind Armour.

Then came Jurado, 10,000 Scots, kilted and otherwise, pelting along in his wake. The Prince of Wales was at Jurado's elbow, cheering his golf instructor on. The bantamweight Argentine had made the turn in 36 and needed only a 39 on the last nine to win.

He faltered at the first hole, but regained his poise and reeled off the next three in par. Five to go, a crown waiting for any decent scoring. Another precious stroke was lost at the "spectacles" hole, the fourteenth, but back to par he went on the fifteenth and sixteenth. The Prince of Wales raised his voice to cheer when Jurado rammied home a long one at the sixteenth. Two holes to go—par four and five. Par would win; one over would tie. But Jurado was not up to the task. A six and a five was all he could do.

Jurado never had a more loyal supporter than the heir to the throne. Arriving at Carnoustie in the morning, the Prince sought the little Argentinian, trudged around the links with him, and consoled him at the finish. It was hard to distinguish the two, both wearing blue berets. The absence of Bobby Jones from the tournament was perhaps most noted by the fact that the leading amateur was Eric McRudie, twice boy champion of Scotland, with 312, 16 strokes behind the leader. The boys who play for pay had things all their own way.

The disastrous third round by Cotton, who was her chief hope, lost Britain her chance, when the Englishman took 79. He completely lost control of his shots in the high wind. He began with a three, and all looked well, but thereafter even bogey occasionally beat him. He was out in 38 and home in 41. A six, with which his round was finished, was due to a display of impetuous carelessness. His final round of 76 was better, but it was too late, for he was already out of the running.

Britain's hope were again raised when Arthur Havers, British champion of 1923, did the third round in 72 to tie with Macdonald Smith at 225, three strokes behind Jurado. Havers played magnificently from the tees and through the greens, but his putting was curiously poor by comparison. His chances, however, faded with a 79 for the last round.

Allis did the best for the British contenders in tying Sarazen for third place at 298. A brace of steady 73's did the trick for the English-born professional who is employed in Germany.

The caterers ran out of food before the day was done, and Boy Scouts, clad in kilts, scoured the town to purchase housewives' groceries with which to appease the appetites of the 20,000 onlookers.

The complete scores for the leading finishers were:—

Kitchener Now Has Two Courses

Beautiful New 18-hole Westmount Links are Opened up This Season. Old Grand River Club Carries on Successfully as "Pay-as-You-Play" Project.

KITCHENER is another progressive Ontario city which this season has opened up its second golf course. For the past twenty years the golfers of Kitchener and Waterloo have played over a 9-hole course known as the Grand River Golf Club, near Bridgeport on the banks of the Grand River. For some time now this course has been entirely inadequate to provide for the wants of the increasing number of players, both men and women.

Fortunately an ideal property was secured in the vicinity of Waterloo and an 18-hole course laid out by Mr. Stanley Thompson, golf architect, Toronto, who has taken every advantage of the terrain with the result that Kitchener and Waterloo have today a championship lay-out. Sixteen holes were put into play last month and it is expected to have the other two holes put into commission later on in the season. In a couple of years the Westmount Golf and Country Club, which is the name given to the new club, will have a course second to none in Ontario.

The club house at Westmount is one of the most artistic in Ontario. In fact, the Editor of the "Canadian Golfer", who was a recent visitor, is inclined to think that the artistically furnished lounge and reception room along Tudor lines, is not approached by any club in the Province for dignity and beauty of design. Locker and showers and all other appurtenances of a modern golf club house are in keeping with the rest of the building. Altogether Kitchener has in Westmount a particularly complete and well equipped golf and country club, a credit alike to Kitchener and Waterloo and the golfers of these two prosperous places.

The old Grand River course has been purchased by Messrs. Parkes and Kimmerly, two well known Torontonians, interested in sport and they are running it and running it most successfully as a "pay-as-you-play" proposition. P. Y. Merriek is the pro and a very good pro too.

All the Montreal clubs were busy on the week-end of June 6th. At Beaconsfield A. McD Keefler was the winner of the Century competition. At Whitlock with scores of 67, H. Pemberton, R. N. Miller and H. Miller tied for best nett scores in the sweepstakes. With a card of 78-11—67 J. S. McNeish won the qualifying round prize in the President's Trophy competition at the Country Club. W. R. Charlton and H. C. Howard were the victors in the four-ball competition at Summerlea with a combined nett of 65. At Rosemount the Kneen Cup was won by W. Wallace with a nett of 67. At Rosemere the president's team won the annual match with the vice-president, 7½ matches to 3½ matches.

The 32nd annual Amateur Championship of the Western Golf Association will be held at the Portland Golf Club, Portland, Oregon, July 13th-18th. It is probable that two or three leading British Columbia golfers will be among the entrants.

Messrs. Douglas Palmer and D. Loath turned in the low gross scores in the annual 18-hole medal tournament of the Toronto Bankers at the Weston Club on the King's Birthday with 81's, and the latter also tied for the low nett with H. E. Rose, each having 65. The prize winners were: Gross scores—1, D. Palmer; 2, F. R. Cochran; 3, W. A. Finley, W. Roy and A. Simpson.

Nett scores—1, H. E. Rose and D. Loath; 3, G. B. Hutchings, G. L. Adams and P. Watt.

There was a very large field. Forty-five players turned in cards better than 100.

The Royal York Golf Club, Toronto, was ablaze with lights for the opening dance of the season, which was enjoyed by more than 200 guests. A blue and white color scheme was used in the decoration of the rotunda and both here and in the lounge, where dancing took place, hundreds of brilliant balloons hung from the ceiling and walls and vari-colored

Hamilton, June 15.—Leading a field of 112 by four strokes, Miss Winnifred Robinson, finalist with Miss Ada Mackenzie in the recent Ontario Ladies' Golf Championship, captured the first annual Hamilton and District Ladies' Championship played at the Hamilton Golf and Country Club, Ancaster, to-day. Miss Robinson grossed 83 over the difficult Ancaster course, showing sparkling form to take top honours, and leading, among others, a quintet of star golfers of the home club, all of whom were in the eighties. Fourteen clubs were represented.

Second to Miss Robinson were Mrs. F. A. Sherman and Miss Edith Turner, of the Hamilton Club, who were tied with 87, while Misses E. Ellis and E. Nesbitt, of the home club, were next in line with scores of 88.

Low nett for the field scores went to Mrs. F. A. Sherman, of the Hamilton Club, who grossed 87 and totalled a nett of 73 with her handicap of 14.

TORONTO CITY TITLE

Toronto, June 16th.—Miss Cecil Smith, of the Toronto Golf Club, who was deposed ten days ago as Provincial Ladies' Champion, did not take long to find a trophy to replace that donated by the ladies of the Hamilton Golf Club for the Ontario title. While she has been prominent in women's golf for the last few years she has never won the city championship, although last year she was runner-up to Mrs. Whittington, her clubmate, being three strokes behind at Weston. Yesterday she started the second round of the 36-hole medal event for the ninth annual city title in second place, but she was five strokes behind Mrs. Whittington and it looked as if she had only the slightest possible chance to overtake her rival, but she turned in a score that was but one stroke higher than her total for Monday and Mrs. Whittington was fifteen more than for her first round. She overtook the defending champion and finished four strokes better, her total of 171 withstanding the challenges of the other possibles in the field.

The nett score winners were: 1st, Miss Audrey Graham, Scarborough; 2nd, Miss Eleanor Lyle, Toronto; 3rd, Mrs. Adair Gibson, Lambton; 4th, Miss Jean Masten, Toronto.

DOROTHY CAMPBELL HURD DEFEATS GLENNA COLLETT

Roslyn, L.I., June 13.—After spotting Miss Glenna Collett, the national champion, three out of the first four holes in their Griscom Cup match at the Engineers' Club to-day, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, Scottish born star who has the distinction of being the only woman golfer in the world to win the British, Canadian and United States titles, staged a remarkable come-back to win by 4 up and 3 to play.

London, Ont., June 16th.—Shooting consistent golf on both halves of her journey over the well-trapped 18 holes of the London Hunt and Country Club course to-day, Mrs. Hector Cowan, of the Sarnia Golf Club, won the annual ladies' invitation tournament with a gross score of 91. She was out in 44 and home in 47, and it was her score on the first nine that won her the big prize. Mrs. Cowan's gross of 91 was tied by Mrs. George Little, of the London Hunt, but the latter took a 49 on the first nine holes. Mrs. Little won the prize for the second best gross. The best nett score for 18 holes also went to the Sarnia Golf Club, when Mrs. Russell Neilson carded a 71 with a gross of 107 and a handicap of 36.

London, Ont., June 17.—In the Men's Invitation Tournament Ross Somerville, Canadian Amateur Champion, and Jack Nash, Ontario Champion, tied to-day both carding 149.
