The Fetish of Lengthening and Stiffening-up Courses

Mr. W. J. Barr, a very well known Torontonion, is out with an open letter to the President of the Club to which he belongs, protesting against the lengthening and stiffening up of golf courses, which is now becoming so general throughout the States and Canada. Herewith some extracts from Mr. Barr's letter, which will be heartily endorsed by tens of thousands of golfers throughout the continent:

"If the game of golf is to be attractive to those who are its financial supporters, it must not be made a nerve racking and a physical testing experience. Should the interest of the game require the establishment of a model golf course, where those who wish to qualify as professionals or pronounced amateur experts, then the proper method would be to select a golf course in some locality and subsidize it by contributions from all other clubs. This would then afford the necessary means for developing the players I have mentioned."

"Mr. 'Chick' Evans in a press article recently, pointed out that in order to meet Championship requirements in the United States, a course of seventy-two hundred yards would be necessary, and he deprecated the great expense this would occasion. Furthermore, he remarked that golf was a game played very largely by men of middle age, as a pastime, for physical benefit and that to discourage those men or impose upon them a financial burden for the benefit of a very small minority of expert players, would ultimately lead to a radical change in procedure.

The ninety to one-hundred stroke players such as myself, are in the vast majority. We look upon golf as a social recreation, and one that we play entirely for the benefit to be derived mentally and physically therefrom.

The tendency of the United States, and I presume to some extent in England, is for clubs to patronize professional players, to pay them exorbitant salaries, spend extravagantly on the maintenance of golf courses, which are continually being subjected to the criticism of golf club architects, and there is an ever increasing demand for these departures.

Mr. Evans has taken a very wise and firm stand, and I think his authority is worth considering. It would appear that those who decide where these championships should be played impose upon the selected club a responsibility of expenditure that will no doubt be increased from year to year, owing to the causes mentioned.

Summing up the whole matter, I want a club for my own pleasure and recreation and in this I know I have the support of a pronounced majority of golfers everywhere.

The alternative plan that I have suggested is to provide an expert course, and for it to be changed from time to time to meet the exacting demands of those very insistently expert players, and on which all championship matches be played."

There is much food for thought in the quotations from Mr. Barr's letter. No one wants to play over an ill-kept and un-bunkered course, but it is a question whether the tendency to-day is not to go to extremes in regard to the length of a course and the trapping of a course. The "Canadian Golfer" is firmly convinced that the old idea of a course not exceeding 6,450 yards in length is still the ideal one for the average player, and that no hole should be over 520 yards in length. If experts had their way golf would develop into a regular Marathon. Mr. Barr is quite right. Ninety-five per cent. of the members of a club don't want a very long course and they don't want a course "trapped and hazarded up to the eyebrows."

What a U. S. Golf Championship Calls For To-day

Great is this game of golf. Mr. R. W. Lesley, President of the Merion Cricket Club, Philadelphia, where the U. S. Amateur Championship is being held this week, told the Editor, who had the pleasure of meeting him recently in New York, that he had made arrangements for eighteen telegraph wires to be put in at Merion, so that the golfing world this week will be quickly apprised of the doings of the Championship, round by round. Sixty typewriters have been installed for the army of newspaper men who will cover the event, and a special meal service has been arranged for them, so that they can, if necessary, uninterruptedly proceed with their work. During the week there will be tens of thousands of spectators on the course, and a Red Cross nurse and two assistants have been provided for in case of emergencies. Beautiful programmes have been issued with the names and numbers of all the players and these numbers will be worn on the backs of the caddies, so at a glance the gallery can identify the player.

These are only a few of the many innovations at Merion this week. Who would have dreamed, who could have dreamed, a few years ago, that golf would attain to such proportions and popularity as to call for these elaborate preparations? The National game of Scotland is unquestionably becoming too, the National game of the United States.

The Vogue of The Senior Golf Association

This Senior idea in golf is certainly spreading throughout the continent. Starting at Apawamis, Rye, N.Y., in 1905, it crossed the Border in 1917, when a Canadian Seniors' Golf Association was successfully organized. Since then Associations have been formed in many of the States of the Union and last year the Northwest Seniors' Association was launched at Victoria, B.C., embracing Victoria, Vancouver, Seattle and Tacoma and Oregon. This Association has just concluded its second annual tournament at beautiful Colwood, Victoria, B.C., and it was the greatest kind of a success. One hundred and thirty-three of the leading men of the Pacific Coast participated in the event and had the golfing and social time of their young lives.

Then at the Toronto Golf Club a few days ago some one hundred and sixty of the leading men of the Maritimes, Quebec and Ontario, with a few entries from Winnipeg and Calgary, have been contesting for 21 beautiful sterling silver cups at the Seventh Annual Tournament of The Canadian Seniors' Golf Association.

It would not be surprising to see before another year a Seniors' Association formed in the West. Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan have now many golfers fifty-five years and upwards, capable of playing a very good game indeed. There is a nucleus in these Provinces for a very virile Seniors' Association, working preferably, under the wing of the C. S. G. A., the parent Senior organization.

(The Editor is always glad to answer questions about the Rules, and other golfing matters, but owing to so many of these requests coming in every month, he must ask in future that stamped-addressed envelope be enclosed with all such communications, otherwise they will not be answered).

It is estimated that 13,200,000 golf balls were "consumed" in the United States during 1923, and that the total this year will be somewhere near 20,000,000.

British golfers declare that Walter Hagen places his club head in the right position behind the ball and then adjusts his stance to the position of the club head. Whatever the worth of the idea may be, taking such an odd prescription from Dr. Hagen seems well worth trying.

A despatch from Chicago:

"Golf as entertainment for customers in place of the usual rounds of theatres, club and cabarets, is to be used by William E. Sharp, of Chicago, President of a manufacturing company, who to-day began construction of a miniature golf course on two acres adjoining his factory in the southwestern part of the city. Mr. Sharp thought the best way to ingratiate his business with out-of-town customers would be to furnish them a spot on which to play golf next his wares. In this manner it is possible for the manufacturer to provide amusement for his customers while close to the merchandise."

The ladies of Toronto are successfully launching a scheme to provide a golf and tennis club exclusively for their own use. A property has been purchased near Thornhill. A commodious residence is on the property. The provisional directorate, composed of Lady Baillie, Mrs. D. A. Dunlap, Mrs. A. D. Miles, Mrs. Leonard Murray, Mrs. A. N. Mitchell, Mrs. A. F. Roger, Miss Willo Gage and Miss Ada Mackenzie, has in sight a membership of 200 and hopes to close the season with an additional 100 members.

It is understood that the Dominion Cabinet has appointed Mr. H. B. Mackenzie, of Montreal, formerly General Manager of the Bank of British North America, as head of the new Bank Inspection Department. Mr. Mackenzie, who is a recognized financial expert, was formerly President of the Kanawaki Golf Club, Montreal, and is a member of the Canadian Seniors. A better appointment could not possibly have been made by the Government.

An Edinburgh correspondent writes:

"At Bruntsfield Links putting course, Edinburgh, on Saturday, there took place the presentation of the prize in connection with the annual course competition. The prize took the form of a silver putter, to be competed for annually, presented by Baillie Philips Smith, and was won by the Duco Putting Club, the presentation being made by Mrs. Smith. Baillie Smith said that the pastime of putting was reaching enormous proportions. The figures regarding the courses in Edinburgh were rather startling, a total of 168,000 players having made use of the different courses last year. Since April of this year 40,000 players had taken out tickets on Bruntsfield course alone."

The vogue of the Knickerbocker is claiming all followers of the game throughout the world. The latest to don "plus fours" is our old friend, Ted Ray. Canadians will remember that during his tour of Canada, the mighty slogger was content to appear in rather a delapidated pair of slacks. He startled his admirers at his home course at Oxhey the other day, however, by stepping onto the first tee in the very latest get-up of knickers. And he celebrated the event by playing superlative golf, going out in 35 and coming home in 33 for a 68. It will be interesting to see a photo of "Ted" be-knickered and be-stockinged. Somehow or other he won't seem quite like the "Ted" of old, thus be-garbed and bedizened.

The Kincardine "Review" is answerable for the following clever little skit:

Our score at golf is rather punk,
As oft we have been told;
But from this thought we solace take—
That what we have we holed.
And even when our score was good,
And our conceit was salved;
It gave us quite a jolt to find
That when we holed we halved."

That very charming British matron, Mrs. Gavin, of the Huntercombe Club, Suffolk, recently won the Women's Open Championship of Belgium at Ostend. Mrs. Gavin, it will be remembered, won the Canadian Women's Open Championship in 1922 at the Toronto Club, defeating in the finals Miss Alexa Stirling, former American and Canadian Champion, and last year in the finals was defeated by Miss Glenna Collett, U. S. Champion, at Mt. Bruno, only after a game struggle. A great little player is Mrs. Gavin. On three occasions she has been runner-up in the U. S. National Championship and once in the French Open. Mrs. Gavin can possibly lay claim to being the greatest woman player in the world, age considered.

It is a sign of the times, and a pleasing indication of the rapid headway the game is making among all sections of the community that the Metropolitan Police held their first golf championship at Totteridge, near London, when 36 competitors took part. It was an unusual departure in the way of sporting endeavor, and one not previously identified with the guardians of the peace. Some very good scores were turned in. As far as I know, no Canadian "bobbies" have yet taken up with the Royal and Ancient, but with Public Courses in nearly every principal city nowadays, there is no reason why they shouldn't, and in the years to come as in Old London, there will no doubt be Policemen Tournaments staged Word comes from England that the redoubtable George Duncan and Abe Mitchell will once again make a tour of the United States in quest of the Almighty Dollar. They will come out in November and play in the principal tournaments at the Winter resorts and also engage in exhibition matches against several of the leading U. S. pros. and amateurs. They picked up considerable loose change on their last visit to the States and Canada, but it is very doubtful whether the trip this year will be financially so successful. Exhibition matches have been a bit overdone the past few years and are not the drawing card that they used to be. However, it is always a delight to see Duncan and Mitchell teamed up together and they will no doubt have good galleries to follow them "down South" during the winter months.

In connection with the passing of the late lamented Sir Edmund Osler, of Toronto, the well known financier, a well known member of the Toronto Golf Club, pays him this well deserved golfing tribute, in a recent letter to the Editor:

"Sir Edmund was actively interested in the old Toronto Golf Club with the late J. Lammond Smith, Robert Bethune, Col. Sweeney, Charles Hunter, A. W. Smith, Andy Scott, Tom Scott, etc., prior to the incorporation of the club in 1894. He was Captain of the Club in 1909. He was Honorary President of the Club from 1918 until the date of his death. In 1894 or 1895 he presented to the Club the Osler Trophy, which was specially designed and manufactured in Scotland and is, I think, quite unique in its design. No doubt you have often seen it. It has been played for on handicap by the members of the club each year since it was presented, and has been won by such well known players as the late A. W. Smith, the late W. A. H. Kerr, George S. Lyon, A. H. Campbell, Stewart Gordon, etc.

I do not think that Sir Edmund played any golf since the club moved out to its present course at the Etobicoke River. He has, however, always taken a very active interest in the Club and has undoubtedly been one of its best friends."

By the victory of Freddy Lyon in the Ontario Junior Championship, Canada is assured of the continuance of the name of Lyon in high-class golf, it is hoped, for many years to come. Not that "Father George" is out of the picture by any means, but he has been carrying the family golfing flag high for many years, and it is about time that one of his sons took up the banner. Seymour, of course, is also a golfer of note, and between the two sons of a worthy sire the name is bound to take high rank in Canadian golf for many more years to come. The same week as the Junior Champion was earning fame over the stiff Lakeview links, the eight times Amateur and six times Senior Champion was winning his match in the International Seniors' Championship at Apawamis, Rye, N.Y., with a 73, which is a Senior record for the Apawamis course. And there is a difference of nearly half a century between the ages of father and son—to be exact, 48 years.

Yes, golf certainly is an 'umbling game, as witness recently the results in the Metropolitan District Qualifying Round of the U. S. Professional Golfers' Association. Here we find the U. S. National Open Champion, Cyril Walker, failing to qualify to play off for the Championship at French Lick Springs, September 14-20, by no fewer than six strokes. Other stars who will not have a chance to compete for premier honours at French Lick this week are Joe Kirkwood, who played such a brilliant game at Lakeview, Toronto, a few days ago, in the exhibition match with Hagen; Clarence W. Hackney, 1923 Canadian Open and Shawnee Open Champion, and winner recently of the new Jersey Open title; Tom Kerrigan, twice runner-up in the Canadian Open and many other notables. It is especially interesting for Canadians to know that Johnny Farrell and Willie MacFarlane, with a score of 143, tied for first place. MacFarlane was third at the Canadian Open last month at Mount Bruno, Montreal, and Farrell fourth. They will both want watching at the U. S. Professional Championship at French Lick—MacFarlane especially. At Montreal the Scotsman impressed the writer as the most finished golfer he had seen since the palmy days of Harry Vardon.

Golfing and other friends throughout Canada, will sincerely sympathize with Mr. H. H. Suydam in the irreparable loss he has sustained in the demise of Mrs. Suydam, who passed away at the family residence, 34 Chestnut Park, Toronto, on September 13th. Possessed of a charming personality, she will be sorely missed, not only in the home, but in many other circles in Toronto, where she was a great favourite. To the bereaved family much sympathy will go out, in which sentiment the Editor begs leave to be associated.

MELHORN WINS WESTERN OPEN

OUT-STRIPPING his nearest competitor by eight strokes, William Melhorn, St. Louis, September 6th won the Western Open Golf Championship at Calumet Country Club, Chicago, with a score of 293, five over par for the four circuits of the 6,614 yard links. Al. Watrous, of Grand Rapids, finished in second place with 301, while Chick Evans took third place with 302, and Eddie Held, of St. Louis, another amateur, was next with 303. These were the only two amateurs to finish among the prize winners, and both at times had fine chances to win the title.

Following these four leaders, Al Espinosa, Chicago; Leo Diegel, of Washington, and Jack Burke, of St. Paul, shared fifth place with 304. The last named golfer got that score by holing a long approach for an eagle three on the last hole. Jock Hutchison, Chicago, who won the title last year, had to be content with eighth place, and he got his 305 only by playing far better to-day than he had during the first two days, when he accumulated two 78's.

Mehlhorn was 5th in the Canadian Open last month at Mount Bruno with 293, exactly the same score as won the Western Open this month. Al Watrous, the runner-up, won the Canadian Open at Mount Bruno in 1922.

BRIGHTWOOD, NOVA SCOTIA

Officially Opens Its 18-Hole Golf Course—Well Known Dartmouth Club Has Now Links of Championship Calibre

THE Brightwood Golf and Country Club, ideally situated across the bay from Halifax, N. S., last month officially opened its most attractive 18-hole course.

Brilliant sunshine flooded the fairways and a cool breeze stirred the fine old trees, which add so much to the natural loveliness of the undulating hills. Those who played pronounced the new holes "sporty" and the whole course one of which any club on the continent might well be proud. In fact, even before Brightwood achieved 18 hole dignity, golfing experts, time and time again, expressed the opinion that it was one of the finest courses on the continent.

The honour of driving the first ball on the new course fell, most appropriately, to Colonel I. W. Vidito, president of the club, to whose untiring energy and whole-hearted devotion the development of the course from the short, inadequate nine-hole course in its pre-war condition to its present proportions, is mainly due.

He partnered Gerald Meilke, the present Maritime Champion, in a four-ball match against J. G. Farquhar, the genial Vice-President, and Frank Meilke. This match was followed by quite a gallery.

Then in addition there were mixed foursomes, participated in by nearly one hundred men and women of Dartmouth and Halifax. The prizes in this event were won as follows:

1st—Mrs. Coombs and E. C. Grundy.

2nd—Miss Burchell and M. S. Clarke.

3rd—Mrs. Harry Creighton and C. J. Burchell.

4th—Mrs. Wood and C. C. Forward.

Afternoon tea was served by a committee of ladies, headed by Mrs. C. W. Rowlings and the members and their guests "tripped the light, fantastic toe" until the evening shadows began to fall. Mrs. Vidito and Mrs. Hardy poured tea during the afternoon. On all sides were heard expressions of regret that while Club Captain W. A. Henry, K.C., is recovering satisfactorily from his recent illness, he was unable to be present.

The "Canadian Golfer" heartily congratulates Brightwood on being the first club in the Maritimes to furnish its members with an 18-hole course, although the new nearby course of the Halifax Club will also provide an 18-hole test.

The Brightwood course boasts a particularly beautiful setting. A Halifax writer thus describes it:

"Probably the view that impresses artists and lovers of scenic beauty most, is that obtained from the highest point on the course. Gazing southward the view is magnificent. In the foreground is the panorama of the golf course, the green of the trees contrasting with the vivid emerald of the velvety greens and the darker green of the rough. Beyond this fine sweep of country, sparkles the entrance of the harbor and the blue Atlantic. On Saturday the white sails of yachts and other boats made the water seem still more blue and the angry white surf can be plainly seen leaping up at the foot of the picturesque light-house on Meager's Beach, and hurling itself against Chebucto Head which gleamed purple and gold in the bright sunlight."

AMERICANS MAKE ALMOST CLEAN SWEEP

In the Second Annual Tournament of The Seniors' Northwest Golf Association Championship at Victoria, B.C., Carry Off All the Principal Honours—
Mr. Josiah Collins, of Seattle, Wins Championship and the Americans Both Team Matches

THE beautiful Colwood course, Victoria, B.C., was the scene the week of August 26th, of the Second Annual Tournament of The Seniors' Northwest Golf Association, and a tremendous success was registered. One hundred and thirty-eight of the prominent business and professional men of Victoria, Vancouver, Seattle, Portland, Spokane and other Pacific cities and towns, participated and had the time of their young lives.

Last year the Canadian members of the Association had pretty much their own way in the various contests, but at Colwood the U. S. Seniors took sweet revenge and virtually cleaned up everything.

On the opening day a bogey competition was held, which resulted as follows:

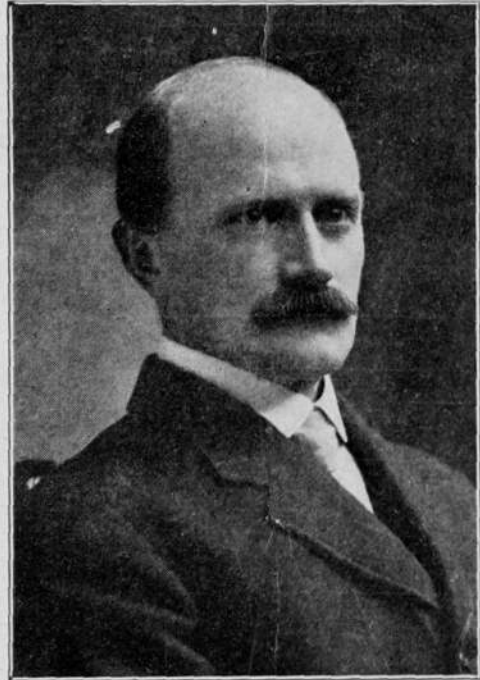

Class "A," first J. L. Sharpstein, Walla Walla; second, R. Bowman; Class "B," first, J. H. Bloedel, Seattle; second, E. A. Strout; Class "C," first, J. W. McIllevry; second, A. S. Kerry.

In the putting competition W. W. Baker, of Walla Walla, carried off the honour with a fine score of 36, while H. E. Beasley, of Victoria, was second with a thirty-seven.

The second and third days were devoted to 18 hole medal play in all classes, and as a result Mr. Josiah Collins, of the Seattle Golf Club, is the new champion of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association, taking the place of Mr. L. A. Lewis, of New Westminster, B. C., who was the winner last year with a score of 157. Mr. Collins, playing in Class B, played consistent golf throughout the thirty-six holes, making eighty-three for the first eighteen, and eighty-six for the final round, a total gross score of 169 for the two rounds. Mr. M. A. Arnold, of Seattle, playing in C class, was second with a gross total of 171 for the two rounds. The best net score of all classes for the two rounds went to Mr.

C. W. Stimson, of Seattle, with a score of 141.

top with a card of 145 for the 36 holes. Judge Galliher, another of the Victoria Golf Club's players, won in Class "B" with a net score of 153. Mr. J. R. Stirrat, of Seattle, won in Class "C" with a net score of 145.

The best gross score of all classes for the second eighteen holes of the championship was won by Mr. J. E. Wilson, of the Victoria Golf Club, with a score of 83. The best net score for all classes went to A. J. Agnew, of Everett, with a score of 72. Mr. D. W. Campbell, of Victoria, and Mr. R. F. Prael, of Portland, were tied in the second day's putting competition with a score of 35 each for the eighteen holes.

Other prize winners were:

Long Driving, Class "A," R. W. Gibson, of Victoria, 198 yards; Class "B," R. M. McIlveery, of Vancouver; Class "C," W. A. Ward, of Vancouver, 229 yards; Putting, third day, F. F. Van Tuyl, of Seattle, score 35. "A" Class, first day, C. D. Stimson, of Seattle, a one-armed golfer with a net of 71 captured the cup. In Class "B," Dr. Garesche, of Victoria, with a net of 69 was the winner.

In both the International Team matches the Americans won and in the Foursomes the U. S. representatives also scored. In this event the honours were partly divided, C. D. Stimson and M. A. Arnold, of Seattle, tying for first place with J. H. Heffernen, of Seattle, and J. E. Miller, of Victoria.

It will be seen, says the Victoria "Times," the American golfers with their sterling play in the final day of the tournament, nearly made a clean sweep of the tournament, carrying off all the principal prizes and honours. This was just a reversal of last year's tournament when Canada walked off with all the cups.

Coming on the heels of Josiah Collins' sparkling victory for the club championship, the two American international teams scored close wins over the Canadians. The first fifteen captained by Josiah Collins, of Seattle, Club champion, scored a win over the locals by the score of twenty-four points to twenty-one, and take home with them the Lieutenant-Governor's Cup. In the second match Uncle Sam's representatives headed by J. B. Kerr, of Portland, came out on top by a margin of five points, the score being, Americans, 28; Canadian, 23.

The presentation to the various prize winners was conducted in a very graceful manner by Mr. Josiah Collins, at the conclusion of the final competition.

During the Tournament the annual dinner of the Association was held at the Union Club, and was a brilliant success. This was presided over by Mr. Josiah Collins, the new Champion of the Association, and he was given an enthusiastic reception. Toasts to the King and the President of the United States were royally honoured. The toast to the American team was responded to by Mr. A. S. Kerry, of Seattle, and that to the Canadian team by Mr. W. A. Ward, of Vancouver.

At the largely attended Annual Meeting the following officers were elected:

Mr. Josiah Collins, Seattle, President.

Senator G. H. Barnard, of Victoria, B. C., Founder of the Association, and retiring President.

Mr. F. W. Peters, Vancouver, First Vice-President.

Mr. J. A. Sayward, Victoria Second Vice-President.

Capt. J. V. Perks, Victoria, Secretary-Treasurer.

Board of Governors: John P. Babcock, Victoria Golf Club, Victoria; C. S. Battle, Vancouver Golf and Country Club; E. Cookingham, Waverley Country Club, Portland; F. G. Fowkes, Uplands Golf Club, Victoria; John Galt, Victoria Golf Club, Victoria; C. H. Jones, Spokane Country Club, Spokane; F. H. Graves, Spokane Country Club, Spokane; J. F. Lyon, Tacoma Country Club, Tacoma; H. S. Griggs, Tacoma Country Club, Tacoma; W. MacMaster, Waverley Country Club, Portland; Senator G. H. Barnard, Victoria Golf Club, Victoria; C. B. MacNeill, Shaughnessy Golf Club, Vancouver; Judge Lampman, Victoria Golf Club, Victoria; J. R. Stirrat, Seattle Golf Club, Seattle; E. A. Strout, Seattle Golf Club, Seattle.

Alex. Marling, the well known Colwood professional, was in charge of the starting arrangements and a very busy man during Tournament week was Captain J. V. Perks, Secretary of the Association.

The Victoria Seniors all through the Tournament were hospitality itself. So delighted are the U. S. members of the Association with Victoria and its golf courses that it is highly probable that the Victoria Golf Club will again be chosen for the Championship next year. The final decision has been left with the Executive, but it is understood that the majority of the members are in favour of again having Victoria for the venue of the Tournament.

Senator G. H. Barnard, of Victoria, the retiring President of the Association, and J. A. Sayward, of Victoria, Chairman of the Tournament Committee, especially came in for unstinted thanks and praise during Championship week. They were untiring in their efforts throughout the event.

OUR "HOLE-IN-ONE-CLUB"

Barrie Lady Figures This Month Among the Immortals—Many More Players from Coast to Coast Register the 20,000 to 1 Shot

THIS practise of making "Holes-in-One" is getting to be a habit among Canadian golfers from Coast to Coast. Here is another nice little lot reported since the August issue of the "C. G.":

Again Powell River, B.C. Playing over this pretty course Mr. Angus D. Armour found the tin from the tee at the 7th hole.

Mr. Walter Parry, of Victoria, B.C., also earns the right to be numbered amongst our Hole-in-One Club members. Whilst playing with Messrs. J. Hargrave and Eric Burton he earned golfing fame by holing his tee shot at the 14th hole, 182 yards, of the famous Oak Bay course.

Humber Valley, Toronto, this month reports another Hole-in-One. Mr. J. Sedgewick, playing with Messrs. W. F. Cumming and W. T. Jones, put a beauty over at the 110 yard third hole and had the intense satisfaction of finding the cup.

Mr. C. M. C. Brunton, Hon. Secretary of the Sarnia Golf Club, writes: "We beg to advise you that Mr. R. D. Wanless, a member of this club, made our fifth hole in one, playing in a match against the Port Huron Golf Club, as per enclosed score card, duly attested. Mr. Wanless had a good gallery when the feat was accomplished as there was one foursome leaving the green at the time and three other foursomes congested on the tee."

Particularly glad to welcome a Sarnia golfer to our club.

Mr. W. A. Kennedy, Captain of the Glendale Golf and Country Club, Hamilton, thus tells of how a prominent member is the first in four years to register a one-shot at Glendale:

"Mr. Ray S. Rider, President of the Canadian Steel & Wire Co., Ltd., and one of the most popular members of our Club, succeeded in conquering the fifth hole, which is one hundred and thirty-five yards. This is the first 'Hole-in-One' made on our course in four years, and is the first time for this particular hole.

Mr. Rider was accompanied by Mr. G. W. Robinson, Manager of The P. B. Yates Machine Co., Ltd."

Always delighted to record a Hole-in-One on a Public Golf Course. Playing over the Municipal Course at Winnipeg, Mr. B. W. Galbreath negotiated the 20,000 to 1 shot at the 10th hole.

Edmonton is again this month in the spot-light. Playing the 135 yard 18th at the Edmonton Golf and Country Club, Mr. A. G. McKinnon copped the cup and will be properly punished with a year's subscription to this Great Family Golfing Magazine.

Playing at Shaughnessy Heights, Vancouver, Mr. Leslie H. Wright

THE BURKE GOLF COMPANY
NEWARK, OHIO, U. S. A.

York Downs Golf Club is next heard from, but let Mr. Jackson Walton, the made a one at the 10th hole, 120 yards. Pacific Coast air seems to be particularly conducive to Hole-in-One performances.

The scene shifts to Quebec. Mr. T. Yates Foster, Vice-President of Whitlock, Hudson Heights, writes:

"Mr. George W. Wood, of the Whitlock Golf Club, is the latest player to make a hole-in-one. The feat was accomplished at the Beaconsfield Golf Club during a club match between Whitlock and Beaconsfield. Mr. Wood was partnered with Mr. George Milligan, of Whitlock, playing against Mr. J. McKinnon and Mr. A. R. Wilson, of Beaconsfield. They were playing at the eleventh hole at Beaconsfield, known as "The Pyramids," which has very seldom been negotiated in one and is considered a very creditable performance."

And it certainly is.

And here comes a very agreeable one-shot performance to record. Playing with Mrs. Creswicke over the Barrie Country Club course, Miss E. Booth made the second hole, 130 yards, in one. The second hole in Barrie is called on the card "a wee drop." Miss Booth didn't find it a "hard drop" anyway. Congratulations.

Weston, Toronto, is getting to be a regular repeater. Mr. S. G. Bishop, playing there with Messrs. Quigley and Crossley, made the 15th hole, 170 yards, in an "eagle" one."

The popular "Bigwin Inn," Lake of Bays, has had as its guests this season many prominent visitors from the States and Canada. One of the former, Mr. Harold H. Jacocks, of New York, decided to earn Canadian golfing fame by bagging a "oneer" at the 85 yard 5th hole. Mr. Jacocks writes the Editor:

"I wish to give credit for a very considerable improvement in my golf this summer to seven lessons which I have taken from the very popular professional at this resort, Major C. Wilson."

At another popular Summer Resort Club, the Muskoka Lakes Golf and Country Club, also comes word of a one-shot, Mr. W. J. Fleury, the well known Toronto barrister, registering the feat at the 210 yard 9th hole there, whilst playing with Mr. E. S. Glasco, of Oakville, Ont.

Manager of the Club, tell the story:

"On September 7th Mr. William B. Laidlaw, of the Summerlea Club, Montreal, made a shot to our fifth (which, he accurately described as 'a very straight shot,') which came to rest in the bottom of the cup. This was played from the back tee, 180 yards. Laidlaw is, therefore, an applicant for membership on your Hole-in-one Honour Roll! After all is said and done, there is no reason why he should not get an occasional 'one.' He once reached the last eight in the British Amateur Championship, losing to Harold H. Hilton by 5 and 4. That was the year Charles Hutchings—a grandfather—and 52 years old, won the event, when he defeated S. H. Fry in the final. Laidlaw tells an interesting story about the final. You will remember that Charles Hutchings was 8 up at the lunch hour. Some enthusiasts in the immense gallery thought Hutchings would be able to end the game very early in the afternoon round, and they carried a basket chair to the first tee, so as to have it with them when the game ended. S. H. Fry, however, had something to say about the result, and as he fought back and reduced the commanding lead of his opponent the chair had to be carried from hole to hole—in fact, it was carried right round to the 36th green. Hutchings was immediately 'chaired,' and his enthusiastic friends had the satisfaction of using the chair for the purpose for which they had so cheerfully carried it for 3½ miles. Before closing, I must also tell you that Laidlaw won the Glasgow Amateur Championship at Toryglen and later the Saskatchewan Amateur Championship on two successive years. Laidlaw's is the first 'Oneer' at York Downs and he gladly paid the penalty!"

From Mississauga, Toronto, comes word of two oneers. Mr. Frank Hughes found the cup from the tee at the 11th hole there and Mr. George Cottrelle, another popular member, not to be outdone, also decided to join the immortals at the same 11th, which is a 145 yarder.

To make a Hole-in-one at a 251 yard hole is a very rare feat indeed. That is the distance of the 5th on the Municipal links at Edmonton, Alta., and here it was that Mr. Reg. Skitch plumped one in "good and proper." He deserves a year's subscription.

Drumheller, Alberta, also reports this month a one-shotter, Mr. A. R. Ingram, who made an ace at the short hole there. He was playing with Mr. C. C. Millar, of the Bank of Montreal at the time.

Another progressive Alberta Club is to be found at Hardisty. The 8th hole on the course there is the tidy little distance of 226 yards, but Mr. James L. Ahern negotiated it successfully from the tee.

At the Moosomin Golf Club, Sask., Mr. W. A. Gabb, playing with Mr. E. Frith, bagged a one-shotter at the first hole.

Once again Sarnia. Mr. George French, a particularly well known member of this progressive Ontario Club, playing recently in the Hayes McKay Medal Competition, secured a nippy one at the 134 yard 5th hole. Good work.

Mr. H. H. Malcolmson, of Chatham, playing over the Maitland Golf Course at Goderich, Ont., a popular summer resort, was successful in negotiating a one at the "Punchbowl," a 100 yard hole.

Total Holes-in-one in Canada this season to date (September 13th), 105.

Last month we recorded a Hole-in-One by Mr. J. R. McIsaac, of the Lingan Golf Club, Traffic Manager of the British Empire Steel Corporation, of Sydney, N.S. A fellow member of Lingan, Mr. F. G. Muggah, City Stipendiary thus cleverly versifies over the performance:

Hail to John R., the Dodo,
Salaam and bow the knee,
For he's suaviter in modo
And fortiter in re.

What's a Dodo? Not the sturdy
Bird whose race is run,
But a different kind of "birdie"
Who makes a hole-in-one.

John R., he is some batter,
And when he drives—good night!
He beats that other swatter,

He stands—oh! boy—some higher Than David, Jesse's son,
Who swung on old Goliath
And made his hole in one.

So, give John R. a clear way,
Let him tee on the "bunk"
Or in the rough or fairway
Or on an old tree trunk.

L'ENVOI

Prince, here's to John, the Dodo,
Salaam and bow the knee,
For he's swat-iter in modo
And putt-iter in re.

*Mr. Paul Longley of Sydney, made a hole-in-one in 1922 on the Lingan course.

BIGWIN INN'S GREAT TOURNAMENT

THE annual Bigwin Inn Golf Tournament consisted of three flights for men and a championship for the ladies. The entry field consisted of 107 men and 32 ladies. 48 men qualified for the three flights and 16 ladies qualified for the women's championship. J. B. Mickles led the qualifying round with a 74 and Mrs. Hope Gibson was medalist for the ladies with an 81.

In the championship flight Peter Douglas and C. E. Thompson, both of Ancaster, Jack Mickles, Beaconsfield, and Jack Cameron, Rivermead, reached the semi-finals. In the play-offs Jack Mickles won from Chuck Thompson 3 and 2, and Jack Cameron beat Douglas by the same score.

That same afternoon Jack Mickles won the championship from Jack Cameron, winning on the sixteenth green.

In the second, G. H. Wood, Toronto, who had been playing steadily since the first, kept up his good work and managed to win from his club mate, W. Walker.

Mr. McBain, Havana, Cuba's only entrant, played remarkably well and beat W. Wirthwine, of Cincinnati, 6 and 5 for the third flight honours.

Mrs. Hope Gibson and Violet Mills, Ancaster, Peggy Walsh, Toronto, and Mary Campbell, Beaumaris, all won their way to the semi-finals. Mary Campbell lost to Mrs. Gibson 2 and 1 and Peggy Walsh was beaten by Violet Mills. Then in the finals Mrs. Gibson beat Miss Mills 3 and 2.

The handicap prizes went to Mr. Jacocks, Ardsley, New York, with a net 63, and Miss Helen Witzel, Grand River, with a net 65.

This is the first of Bigwin's golf tournaments and it is hoped that next year the entry list will be increased to two hundred.

BURLINGTON GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB

Official Opening of one of the Most Attractive Links in Ontario—Eighteen Hole Course Exceedingly Well Planned

THE official opening of the eighteen holes of the Burlington Golf and Country Club took place on Saturday, August 30th and was attended by hundreds of members and their friends. The beautiful links were looking their very best and many were the well deserved encomiums passed upon both the location and the well balanced course with its wide-sweeping fairways and admirably placed greens.

The pretty club house was the scene early in the afternoon, of a brief, but interesting, function presided over in the absence of the president, by the vice-president, Mr. W. J. Westaway, of Hamilton, who gave a short history of the club since its organization some two years ago. He deservedly paid tribute to the great work done by A. M. Anderson, the club's professional who has been largely responsible for whipping the course into shape in an incredible short space of time. Thanks were also expressed to the ladies of the club and to the visiting amateurs and professionals who had come to Burlington to play the opening exhibition games.

After the ceremonies at the club house these players proceeded to give a very interesting exhibition of high class golf. The Amateur four-ball was made up of Mr. George S. Lyon of Lambton, paired with Mr. C. S. Jones of Scarboro, versus Mr. F. R. Martin of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club and Mr. Arthur Dorman, Chedoke Civic Club. The professional four were Nicol Thompson of the Hamilton Club, paired with Alf Sims of Chedoke versus J. B. Kinnear, Glendale, and A. M. Anderson, Burlington.

Good galleries followed both these matches and were well rewarded as some brilliant golf was witnessed.

Messrs. Lyon and Jones won their match 2 up as did also Thompson and Sims, their game by the same margin. Mr. Jones, with a 74, had the best card of the amateurs and Nicol Thompson, with a 72, headed the pros. The Hamilton expert had a great chance to make the first 9 holes in 32 or two under par. At the finely placed 190-yard 9th hole he had a putt for a 2 but decided to take a 4 instead. Thompson was out in 34 and home in 38. The par of the course is 71. After the exhibition games the ladies of the club were the hostesses at a tea which was greatly enjoyed.

There can be no question about the future of the Burlington Golf and Country Club. The situation is one of the finest in Ontario, from many of the tees and greens a superb lake vista being obtained. Apart from the view and situation, however, the terrain lends itself to a superb golf course and Anderson and his associates have certainly risen to the occasion. The first nine holes, already in splendid playing shape, provide a fine test of both the long and short game. There is one 535-yard hole, No. 3, and two capital one-shot holes. The first hole, 425 yards, is a particularly good get-away hole. Coming home, No. 11 is a fine dog-leg 370 yarder. No. 12, 465 yards, and No. 13, 570 yards, give the long-hitters every show whilst in No. 16 there is a pretty mashie shot hole of 130 yards. The course consists of the much desired two loops—the 9th and 18th greens both ending up near the club house. Going out the yardage is 3,035 and coming in 3,030 for a total of 6,065.

The club house, by the way, is a very attractive building with a handsome lounge room and all modern conveniences. The locker rooms and showers are especially well designed and equipped. Altogether the lot of the Burlington Golf and Country Club members has fallen in pleasant places indeed. The course is within easy motor ride of Hamilton and in close proximity to Burlington. Many prominent residents of Hamilton are actively associated with the club which is unquestionably destined, in the years to come, to take rank as one of the leading Golf and Country Clubs in the Province—it has all the natural advantages to permit it to attain to this desideratum. The President of the club is Mr. W. J. Southam; Vice-President Mr. W. J. Westaway, and the Captain Mr. A. E. Wilson.

LAMBTON'S INVITATION TOURNAMENT

Andrew Kay's Wonderful Morning Card of 67—Mr. G. S. Lyon Heads the Amateurs

ANDREW KAY, professional of the Lambton Club, August 20th duplicated his achievement of last year when he won first prize at the invitation professional tournament at the Lambton Club, turning in a score of 143 for the 36 holes, which gave him a margin of five strokes on Nicol Thompson, of Hamilton. Four strokes behind the Ancaster pro came Willie Freeman, the Ontario Open Champion, and C. H. Perkins, of Brantford, while the remainder of the field of twenty professionals, nine assistants and thirty amateurs followed in close order. Besides winning the event for the second time, Kay established a new competitive record for the course when he made a 67 in the morning, beating par by four strokes. The following was the record-breaking card of the Lambton expert, who to-day is playing golf probably not surpassed in America:

Out .. 3,3,5, 4,4,4, 3,3,4=33

In 5,4,3, 4,3,4, 5,4,2=34=67

Jimmie Martin, the Lambton assistant, followed his superior's example in the assistants' match, taking first prize. He had a good chance to crowd Kay's record in both the morning and afternoon rounds, as he went out in the morning in 36, but fell down coming home, and in the second round a great start of 34 for the first nine was offset by a 44 coming in.

Mr. George S. Lyon had 81 in the morning but he led the amateur field by three strokes at the end of the day by going around in the afternoon with a 76. Messrs. W. H. Firstbrook and Douglas Wood tied for the best net with 142's. The prize winners were:

Amateurs, best gross—George S. Lyon, 157; best net, W. H. Firstbrook and Douglas Wood, tied with 142.

Professionals—Andrew Kay (Lambton), $50; 2, Nicol Thompson (Hamilton), $25; 3, Willie Freeman (York Downs), and C. H. Perkins (Brantford), tied, $12.50 each; 5, W. Brazier, (The Briars), and Arthur Hurlbert (Thornhill), tied, $5.00 each; best score for 18 holes, Andrew Kay (Lambton), $25.00.

Assistants—1, James Martin (Lambton), $20; 2, C. Attridge (Scarboro), and C. Nixon (Toronto), tied, $12.50 each; 4, W. Lamb (Toronto), $5.00.

WALKER CUP COMPETITION

U. S. Retains Trophy—Tolley, British Star, Defeats Max Marston, U. S. Amateur Champion

A DESPATCH from Garden City, N. Y., September 15th:

"By winning nine matches of twelve in the two-day tournament ending to-day, leading United States golfers have enabled the Walker Cup, emblematic of international team supremacy, to remain for another year in the United States, where it has been since competition, for it began with British stars three years ago.

The United States won six of eight singles to-day and three of four foursomes yesterday, all the matches being at 36 holes over the heavily trapped course of the Garden City Golf Club, where the superior irons, backspin shots and putting of the U. S. team counted heavily.

The defeated Americans to-day were the National Amateur Champion, Max R. Marston, of Philadelphia, and the New York star, Jess Sweetser, former amateur champion.

Marston was defeated at the home green by another giant in stature and the mightiest hitter of the twenty players who took part in the tournament, Cyril Tolley, Captain of the British team and French Open Champion.

The margin by which Sweetser lost was the greatest of any match in the series. He was defeated by the Hon. Michael Scott, who has held various Australian titles, by 7 and 6.

Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, former Open Champion, defeated Maj. Charles O. Hezzlett, 4 and 3.

"Chick" Evans, of Chicago, defeated W. A. Murray, 2 and 1.

Francis Ouimet, of Boston, defeated E. F. Storey one up.

Robert A. Gardner, of Chicago, Captain of the American team, defeated W. L. Hope, 3 and 2.

Jesse P. Guilford, of Boston, defeated T. A. Torrance, 2 and 1.

Dr. O. F. Willing, of Portland, Oregon, defeated Dennis H. Kyle, 3 and 2.

The victory of Cyril Tolley over Marston delighted the gallery, which received big thrills for two days from his tee shots. He putted badly in the foursomes yesterday, but to-day supplemented his tee shots with good work on the greens. Marston was constantly outdriven.

Starting the afternoon even with Marston, Tolley won four of the first five holes by amazing putts. His lead was cut to two holes at the turn and Marston squared the match at the sixteenth by laying up a mashie pitch close for a birdie three. The lead went to Tolley then on the 487 yard seventeenth hole.

Against the wind he lashed out the mightiest drive of the day, over 300 yards, and followed it up with such a good iron that he won the hole with a birdie four. As each played the short home hole over the water in par three, the match went to the British captain."

CANADIANS IN U. S. AMATEUR

CANADA after all will be well represented in the U. S. Amateur Championship this week at the Merion Cricket Club, Philadelphia, Mr. G. H. Turpin, of Montreal, ex-Amateur Champion, and Mr. J. W. Yuile, Quebec Champion, entered some days ago, and this week Mr. Frank Thompson, Toronto, Canadian Amateur Champion and Mr. W. J. Thompson, Toronto, Ontario Champion, wired in their entries. With all the British Walker Team entered, the event has now quite an International aspect.

MISS EDITH BAULD, OF HALIFAX

Retains Ladies' Maritime Championship, Whilst New Brunswick Team Won Interprovincial Match

THE links of the Riverdale Golf Club, of Moncton, N.B., were the testing grounds for the ladies of the Maritimes when they assembled last month for the fourteenth annual tournament of the Ladies' Maritime Golf Association. A large and very representative field took part, though unfortunately Miss Mabel Thompson, last year's runner-up, and Captain of the New Brunswick team, did not take part in the Championship, which was again won by Miss Edith Bauld, of the Halifax Golf Club, after defeating Miss Stetson, of St. John, in the finals.

For the first time in several years the interprovincial match was won by the New Brunswick team, captained by Miss Thompson, by the narrow margin of 7 matches to the six annexed by the Nova Scotians under Miss Bauld. The two Captains played up to their position and turned in the low cards of the day, Miss Bauld having a splendid 84, three strokes ahead of the 87 secured by Miss Thompson.

A drenching downpour marred the qualifying round, morning play being called off and the 36 holes called for reduced to 18. Following lunch, eaten to the optimistic strains of "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More," the players set forth to negotiate the slippery fairways and sodden putting greens. "Casual water" was the order of the day and low scoring was absolutely impossible. Of the sixteen to qualify, Miss Bauld led the field with a 97, followed by Miss Stetson with 101. Mrs. W. H. Ross, of New Glasgow, won the low net with a 104, less a handicap of 30.

The storm of the previous day had cleared away and splendid golfing weather favoured the contestants in the Championship Flight. In the first round Miss Page won from Mrs. Ross, 6 up and 5. Miss Bauld won from Mrs. McCoy, 7 up and 5. Mrs. MacKean won from Mrs. Trotter, 9 up and 7. Mrs. McNaughton won from Miss White, 6 up and 5. Mrs. McKinnon won from Miss Rainnie, 3 up and 2. Miss MacLeod won from Mrs. Geo. Taylor 6 up and 4. Mrs. Bonnyman won from Mrs. J. McD. Cooke, 2 up. Miss Stetson won from Mrs. Madison, 2 up.

In the second round Miss Bauld won from Miss Page 5 and 3. Mrs. MacNaughton won from Mrs. MacKean, 2 up. Mrs. Andrew McLeod won from Mrs. McKinnon 5 and 3. Miss Stetson won from Mrs. Bonnyman 5 and 4.

In the semi-finals Miss Bauld won from Mrs. McNaughton 5 and 3. Miss Stetson won from Miss McLeod 2 and 1.

The Championship was decided by a 36 hole contest, in which Miss Edith Bauld, of the Halifax Golf Club, last year's Maritime Champion, defeated Miss Stetson by the comfortable margin of 8 and 6.

Playing brilliant golf, the Champion finished the morning round five up, but a close match looked probable in the afternoon when Miss Stetson won the second and third holes with particularly well played threes. The steadiness of Miss Bauld was, however, unbeatable, and her all round superiority won her hole after hole and decided the Championship on the third green, the 30th hole of the match, 8 up and 6 to go. The large gallery which followed the afternoon round with keen, but impartial interest, generously applauded the Champion and runner-up.

In the consolation of the first division Mrs. Maddison, of Moncton, and Miss Rainnie, of Brightwood, were the finalists, Miss Rainnie winning by 2 up. In the second flight which also attracted much interest, Miss Pipes won from Mrs. C. S. McLeod, 3 and 2. Mrs. Acton won from Mrs. S. B. Anderson, 4 and 2. Mrs. Ferguson won from Mrs. Worsley, 3 and 1. Miss Marks won from Mrs. McDougall by default. Mrs. Embree won from Mrs. Wilbur by default.

The semi-finals eliminated Mrs. Ferguson and Miss Marks. The finals resulted in a win for Miss Pipes, of Amherst, over her club mate, Mrs. Embree.

The other events of the tournament also brought out much contention, the driving competition being of particular interest to the gallery. A three-cornered tie had to be played off to decide second place in the approaching and putting competition, but the complete results of the tournament will be quickly grasped by a glance at the prize list.

At the conclusion of the Championship match, the prizes were presented on the verandah of the club house, Mrs. F. C. Jones, President of the Maritime Association, presiding and presenting the greater part of the prizes.

The prize winners were as follows

The prize donated by Senator Robinson for the first division, championship, and won by Miss Bauld, was presented by Mrs. Robinson.

Mr. F. R. Sumner, President of the Riverdale Club, donated a prize for the second division, consolation, which was won by Miss Pipes. This was presented by Mrs. Sumner.

The prize donated by Clogg & Gilmore for the first division consolation, and won by Miss Rainnie, was presented by Mrs. Gillmore.

At the conclusion of the presentation Miss Pipes, of Amherst, generously thanked the officers of the Association and the Riverdale Club, on behalf of the visitors, for the capable manner in which the tournament had been conducted and the hospitality they had enjoyed. A very gracious reply was made by Mrs. W. A. Ferguson, President of Ladies' Executive of the Riverdale Club, expressing her congratulations to the winners. During the week the annual meeting was held, the principal business being the decision to hold the 1925 Championship at Yarmouth, N.S.

Miss Bauld, who is again the Lady Champion of the Maritimes, is also well known on other Canadian courses. She has participated more than once in the Canadian Ladies' Amateur and has always made a very good showing indeed.

MRS. HURD STAGES COMEBACK

After a Lapse of Fifteen Years Again Wins U. S. National Women's Championship—Formerly a Resident of Canada and Three Times Canadian Lady Champion—Her Wonderful Golfing Record

THE greatest sensation of a sensational golfing season was the winning at the Rhode Island Country Club, Rhode Island, N.Y., this month of the U. S. Women's National Championship by Mrs. J. V. Hurd, better known throughout the golfing world as Miss Dorothy Campbell, the former celebrated Scottish Champion and Internationalist.

Mrs. Hurd, who is 41 years of age, first came into the golfing picture as far back as 1904, when she was semi-finalist in the British Ladies' Championship. In 1909 she won this event and again in 1911. In 1905, 1906 and 1908 she won the Scottish Championship.

Having won everything worth winning in Great Britain, Mrs. Hurd (then Miss Dorothy Campbell), came to this country and for two or three years resided with Miss Florence Harvey, former Canadian Champion, in Hamilton. She quickly signaled her advent here by winning the American Championship in 1909 and repeating in 1910. Then three years in a row she captured the Canadian title, 1910, 1911 and 1912. She is the only golfer, man or woman, who has won the British, American and Canadian Championships. She has, of course, won literally hundreds of minor events, and unquestionably has the world's greatest collection of golf medals and trophies.

And now she has staged a sensational come-back and once again is the Queen of American Golf. Fifteen years ago, as before noted, she won the U. S. title. To capture it again now is a most remarkable feat. Mr. John Ball and Mr. George S. Lyon are the only champions to repeat after a longer lapse of years. Mr. Ball first won the British Amateur in 1888 and then 24 years after, or in 1912, again annexed the title. Mr. George S. Lyon won the Canadian Amateur in 1898 and again in 1914, or 16 years afterwards.

The victory of Mrs. Hurd will be particularly received with enthusiasm in Canadian golfing circles, as she has always taken the keenest interest in golf here. She is an honorary member of Hamilton and other clubs, and whilst a resident of this country was immensely popular. Only last year she was at the Canadian Open Championship at Mount Bruno, where she lasted until the third round, when she was defeated by Miss Collett, the ultimate champion.

The following is the story of this memorable tournament day by day, as told by the despatches:

Nayatt, R. I., Sept. 1.—A record-breaking 79 for 18 holes to-day won the qualifying medal in the women's national golf tournament for Miss Glenna Collett, heavy-hitting youthful star of the Rhode Island Golf and Country Club, where the tournament is being played. Never before has 80 been broken in the tournament. Miss Collett herself held the previous record—an 81, made two years ago, as a precursor to her winning of the title at White Sulphur Springs.

Next to Miss Collett came Miss Marion Hollins, of the New York district, with 80; Miss Louise Fordyce, of Youngstown, O., with 81; Mrs. C. H. Vanderbecke, of Philadelphia, with 83; Miss Virginia Wilson, of Chicago, with 84, and the defending Champion, Miss Edith Cummings, of Chicago, with 85.

Nayatt, R. I., Sept. 2.—The defeat of Miss Marion Hollins, New York Metropolitan Champion and former National title-holder, was the sensation of the first round of match play to-day in the National Women's Golf Tournament. Miss Hollins lost to Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Philadelphia, 4 and 3, largely through two stymies and poor putting.

The sun and humidity eliminated another favourite, Mrs. F. C. Letts, Jr., of Chicago, who was forced to default to Mrs. J. Renwick, of Mount Kisco, N.Y. Six up at the ninth hole, Mrs. Letts collapsed and had to be given first aid at the club house.

Miss Glenna Collett came through to-day's round, defeating Miss Ruth Batchelder, of Weston, Mass, 4 and 3.

Nayatt, R. I., Sept. 3.—Miss Edith Cummings, of Chicago, was dethroned as woman champion golfer of the United States this afternoon when she dropped an exciting match which went three extra holes, to Miss Miriam Burns, of Kansas City. The better putting of the Champion and her excellent approach work did not offset the long shots of Miss Burns in a heavy wind. After they had done the round in 87 each, Miss Burns missed a putt of less than a yard to win at the first extra hole. At the last hole Miss Burns was on in two, while Miss Cummings took four. The Champion sank her fifth, while Miss Burns took two to the cup.

Other matches of interest showed Miss Mary K. Browne, former tennis champion, defeating Miss Fordyce, of Youngstown, Ohio, 2 and 1; and Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Philadelphia, beating Miss Orcutt, of Englewood, 6 and 4, and Miss Glenna Collett, of Providence, triumphing over Mrs. J. Renwick, of Mount Kisco, 8 and 6.

Nayatt, R. I., Sept. 4.—Three former national golf champions and a former national tennis champion were left in the tournament for selection of the year's queen of the United States links as the result of the third round to-day.

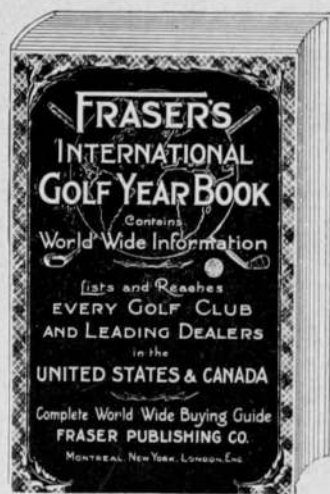

In the semi-finals to-morrow Miss Glenna Collett, of Providence, will meet Miss Mary K. Browne, of Santa Monica, Cal., and Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Philadelphia, formerly of Hamilton, Ont., will play Mrs. C. H. Vanderbeck, of Philadelphia.

The results to-day were: Miss Collett defeated Mrs. Quentin F. Feitner, New York, 3 and 1; Miss Browne defeated Miss Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, Wis., 5 and 4; Mrs. Hurd defeated Miss Miriam Burns, Kansas City, 3 and 2; Mrs. Vanderbeck defeated Miss Audrey Faust, St. Louis, 3 and 2.

The elimination of Miss Burns, who yesterday eliminated Miss Edith Cummings, of Chicago, the Champion, and the steady golf of Miss Browne, former tennis champion, were the high spots of the day's play.

Nayatt, R. I., Sept. 5.—Playing in her first national golf tournament just after she had been a semi-finalist in the national tennis tournament, Miss Mary K. Browne, of Los Angeles, this afternoon, performed the remarkable feat of defeating Glenna Collett, of Rhode Island, ex-champion of the United States, in a match that went an extra hole. Miss Browne made two fine shots to take the match—a 175 yard brassie through trees to even at the eighteenth, and a 15-foot carom putt at the nineteenth.

To make the shot that won the match, Miss Browne, owing to a slight incline in the green, putted toward the side of the cup where lay Miss Collett's ball. Her ball carromed off the ex-champion's into the hole.

To-morrow Miss Browne will play Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Philadelphia, who to-day defeated Mrs. C. H. Vanderbeck, also of Philadelphia, 2 and 1.

Nayatt, R. I., Sept. 7.—Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Philadelphia, formerly of Hamilton, Ont., yesterday became queen of United States golf for the third time, defeating Miss Mary K. Browne, of Santa Monica, Cal., former tennis champion.

The score in the 36-hole final round was seven and six, yet this decisive defeat leaves some glory for the woman from the Pacific Coast. She progressed farther in her first effort to win the golf title than many competitors have in years of effort. Experience of a veteran of golf who earlier in life held three National Championships in one year—Canadian, British and U.S.—told against the novice, who learned golf only a few years ago, after winning tennis titles galore. The come-back of Mrs. Hurd is one of the greatest, if not the greatest performance ever recorded in golf.

WINS WINNIPEG AND DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIP

Mrs. H. G. Hutchings, the International Player, Romps Away with the Event with Scores all in the Eighties

MRS. H. G. HUTCHINGS, the Winnipeg Club expert, clearly demonstrated that she is one of the best women players on the continent, when last month she romped away with the Winnipeg and District Ladies' Championship, which was a 72-hole contest played over four different courses, Winnipeg, Southwood, Elmhurst and St. Charles. She early established her superiority, at the end of the first 36 holes having no less than a 16-stroke lead over her nearest opponent. At the end of the 72-hole grind she had increased this to no less than 32 strokes. Her four days' scores were quite record making, not only for the West, but for Canada. Here they are: 85, 86, 85, 84, for a total of 340. Mrs. B. P. Pellenz, Manitoba Lady Champion, was in second place with 100, 90, 95, 87—372. Others well up in the Championship were Mrs. Koester, Mrs. Balfour, Mrs. Shuley, Mrs. Matthews. A large gallery followed the players the final round at the St. Charles Club.

Mrs. Hutchings, besides winning the Championship, won a prize for the best gross score. Mrs. Matthews won prizes for the best net scores and best net individual score. Lady Aikins presented the prizes at the St. Charles Country Club.

Mrs. Hutchings played great golf throughout the Tournament. Though she had a few bad holes, she played several sensational shots. At the seventh hole in the final round she lifted the ball out of a bunker into the hole for a three, while on the sixteenth she holed an approach shot for a three. But for indifferent putting in one or two of her rounds her total score, sensational as it was, might easily have been several strokes less.

The four courses over which the Championship was played are quite difficult ones. There is no record before of a lady player in Canada making four such consistent rounds as recorded by Mrs. Hutchings.

In Canada there are many fine Golf Courses where much good golf is played.

The Canadian Open Championship was played over the beautiful Mt. Bruno Course near Montreal. Leo Diegel was the winner, with W. MacFarlane third and John Farrell fourth. Each of these players used a Spalding golf ball. Also, and of importance, eighty-five per cent. of the total field used it.

This is but another link added to the chain of Spalding successes.

LADY CHAMPIONSHIP OF FOUR COUNTIES

Miss Dorothy Thompson, of Paris, Ont., is the First Champion of Oxford, Norfolk, Brant and Waterloo, Winning the Handsome Trophy Presented by Mr. H. P. Long

EARLY this year the Paris Golf Club built a club house and opened a new course of great merit. In order to appropriately mark this event they inaugurated a new annual tournament; for the Ladies' Championship of Oxford, Norfolk, Brant and Waterloo Counties. The initial event held this month, was a brilliant success, favoured by good weather and a field of more than sixty ladies.

The Championship trophy which is a most beautiful silver cup, was donated by Mr. H. P. Long, that very popular golfer of Paris, better known to the golfing fraternity as "Shorty Long." That it should spend its first year in Paris is indeed fitting, and Miss Dorothy Thompson's win was a very popular one. The contest calls for 18 holes medal play under the rules of the C.L.G.U., and the Champion playing remarkably steady golf, had no difficulty in registering an 82, twelve strokes ahead of her nearest competitor. It was made up as follows:

Out ... 5,5,3, 6,4,3, 4,5,4=39
In 4,5,4, 7,4,4, 4,4,7=43=82

Beautiful golf when one considers that whilst the course is in splendid condition the greens lack that smooth maturity necessary for par scoring. There are natural hazards too, aplenty, as many a fair contender told of balls that are now the playthings of fishes.

Mrs. Werlick, of Brantford, a very sterling player, found difficulty in holding the greens, and had to be content with a card of 94, which tied with Mrs. Johnston, of Simcoe, for runner-up. There was no play-off, however, as Mrs. Johnston waived in favour of second net, which she won with a very creditable 66, the first net having been won by Miss Trafford, also of Simcoe, with a 97, less 36 net, 61.

To encourage large entries from all clubs, the "Canadian Golfer" presented a cup to be won by the club whose leading four players had the highest aggregate. This was won by Simcoe, the team being: Mrs. Johnston, 94; Miss Trafford, 97; Mrs. Selby, 98; Mrs. Brown, 99; total 388. The Paris Club was second with a total of 390.

Apart from the Championship, there were several keenly contested special competitions in which the prize winners were:

Driving Competition—1st. Miss Dorothy Thompson, Paris, 503 yards; 2nd, Miss Barrie, Galt, 443 yards.

Approaching and Putting—1st, Mrs. Cale, Paris, 8; 2nd, Miss Bishop, Brantford, 10, Miss Bishop winning after playing off a tie with Mrs. Foley, Paris; Mrs. Fasken, Paris, and Mrs. Benwell, of Simcoe.

Special Putting Competition, 18 holes, resulted in a three-cornered tie with 31's between Miss Wickson, Paris; Mrs. Brown, Simcoe, and Mrs. Cale, of Paris, the play off being won by Mrs. Brown.

During the day the Ladies' Committee served luncheon and tea in a most delightful manner. The prizes were presented by the Lady President, Mrs. Lovett, who very graciously called for thanks to Mr. Long and Mr. Ralph Reville for the donation of trophies. The dance which followed was the only event of the day in which mere man was a necessity.

Such a successful tournament calls for careful planning and much work, for which credit goes to Miss Thompson and Mr. R. A. Cale, the genial secretary of this very progressive club. All the visiting ladies were loud in praise alike of the Paris course and Paris hospitality.

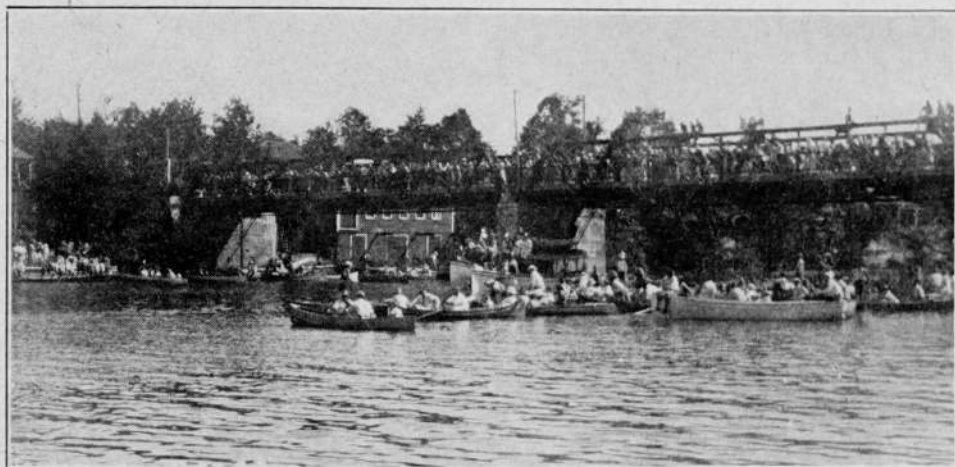

A RECORD IN GOLF CLUB CONSTRUCTION

Wasaga Beach, Popular Ontario Resort, Establishes a Successful Club in Forty-eight Hours

WHAT is undoubtedly the world's record for the formation of a new golf club at a summer resort in Canada, and possibly even in the cities, was established at Wasaga Beach, Ontario, recently, when the project was organized, launched, and the charter membership of 100 members completely filled in forty-eight hours—and at the dull end of the season with only a handful of the cottagers left to support it.

Though probably not so well known as many other Canadian resorts, Wasaga Beach is undoubtedly one of the finest on the continent. It has a beach over 100 yards wide and extending eight miles in length along the southern shore of Georgian Bay, just a few miles from Collingwood. This Beach is similar to the famous Daytona Beach in Florida, in that it also forms a boulevard drive along the water front. Five or more cars could drive abreast along the Beach at break neck speed, so firm and even is the sand, and the bathing beach slopes gradually out for over one-quarter mile before the water reaches a depth of six feet. About 400 yards inland from the Beach is a cottagers from Canada and U. S. A. who spent their summer here as well as guests of the hotels, felt the need of this, and one of these gentlemen, Mr. D. J. Coffey, a Toronto attorney, interested several others in the project, and they invited Mr. Frank Thompson, of Stanley Thompson and Co., Golf Architects, to come up and look over the proposed sites, which he did on August 16. They then invited Mr. B. A. Trestrail, President of the Mutual Sales Service in Toronto, and who has handled the organization of several very successful golf clubs, to go up and survey the situation and determine whether there was sufficient interest and support to justify the project. After looking over the proposition and in view of the lateness of the season, Mr. Trestrail proposed they hold an intensive membership campaign during the week end over Labor Day. Plans were prepared for this and on Saturday, August 30, Mr. Trestail with two of his men, started the campaign for members. On Labor Day night, after two working days, the subscriptions totalled 100 shares and the club was an established success.

Mr. Thomson has laid out a very interesting course on 130 acres of beautifully wooded property. Nine holes will be constructed this Fall and early next Spring, and the other nine will be built as the Beach develops.

Less than half the cottagers were at the Beach over Labor Day, and it is estimated that another 100 shares will be subscribed for when the season opens. In any event, the present subscriptions will handle the construction plans as laid out at present and visitors to Wasaga Beach next summer will have the pleasure of playing over a beautiful new course.

The Club will be under the direction of an able Board, including W. H. Watson, M. P. Byrnes, T. F. McCracken, Dr. F. J. Conboy, George Fraser, Wilson H. McLean, R. E. Campbell, O. L. Bernhardt, W. E. Vernon.

BRITISH WALKER TEAM

To Visit Canada—Interesting Programme of Matches at Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec.

THE Royal Canadian Golf Association is to be congratulated on securing a visit this month from the British Walker Cup team—the first that has ever been recorded.

The majority of the visitors are participating this week in the U. S. Amateur Championship at the Merion Club, Philadelphia. They will be met in New York Sept. 28th, by Mr. S. B. Gundy, president of the R.C.G.A. and Mr. B. L. Anderson the secretary, who will accompany them to Toronto where they will be the guests of the Toronto Golf Club, September 29th, 30th and Oct. 1st. On Tuesday, September 30, the visitors will meet a representative Ontario team. Mr. George S. Lyon will be the Captain of this team. At the time of going to press the Canadian personnel has not been officially announced but it will undoubtedly be headed by the Amateur Champion of Canada, Mr. Frank Thompson, the runner-up in the amateur, Mr. Ross Somerville of London; Mr. W. J. Thompson, Ontario Champion; Mr. Seymour Lyon; Mr. Geo. S. Lyon, (captain); R. Gray, Jr., of Rosedale; J. Hadden, Toronto Golf Club; John Lewis, Brantford Golf Club; Don Carriek, Scarborough, F. Lyon, Lambton; Stanley Thompson, Mississauga; W.

Moore, Toronto; C. M. Jones, Scarborough and J. McLean, Weston. The selection made by Mr. Lyon will finally be passed upon by the R. C. G. A.

Eight of the above players will be on the final team as the Britishers are expected only to bring that number.

On Tuesday evening, the 30th, the teams will be the guests of the Toronto Club at a dinner. On Wednesday, Oct. 1st it is understood that they will be lunched at Lambton followed by four-ball matches participated in only by the visitors. On Wednesday evening they will be the guests of Mr. R. C. Matthews, President of Rosedale at dinner.

On Thursday and Friday, Oct. 2nd and 3rd the Britishers will be the guests of The Royal Ottawa Golf Club. THE CHAMPIONSHIPS OF ALBERTA

Mr. Douglas Lougheed, of the Calgary Golf and Country Club, Formerly Junior Champion, wins Amateur, A. E. Cruttenden, of Edmonton, the Open, and Mrs. J. R. Henley, of Edmonton, the Ladies' Championship

THE Championships of Alberta were staged the first week in September at the Mayfair Golf and Country Club, Edmonton, and brought out record fields and record golf. The consensus of opinion was that the 1924 event was easily the best and most successful in the history of the Provincial Association. And the result was, as elsewhere throughout Canada and the United States and Great Britain this season—new champions took the place of the old. Last year, it will be remembered that Mr. Carson MacWilliams of the St. Andrew's Golf Club, Calgary, won the double crown, annexing both the Amateur and Open Championships. At Mayfair this month he surrendered the former to Mr. Douglas Lougheed, the brilliant young Calgary golfer, a former junior champion and the latter to A. E. Cruttenden, Pro. of the Mayfair Club and formerly the well-known Calgary amateur.

The tournament was a record one in point of entries as well as from a golfing and financial standpoint, and visiting golfers were loud in praise of Mayfair's lovely course which has greatly benefited this season as a result of the prevalent heavy rains. As a matter of fact the Championships had to be postponed the opening day as a result of a veritable deluge. This, however, was not an unmixed blessing as the weather afterwards turned very fine and the greens and fairways alike were in almost perfect shape when play was resumed.

The competition in the Amateur event was very keen indeed, the semi-finals getting down to T. Gillespie, of Edmonton, former runner-up in the Canadian Amateur in 1920, vs. Carson MacWilliams and D. Lougheed vs. G. A. Hutton, Mayfair. The Gillespie MacWilliams match was followed by a gallery of some 1,000. MacWilliams went into the lead at the first hole, and he was never headed, although a decision was not reached until the 18th green. At the 14th, Gillespie was two down and had been laid a perfect stymie by his opponent close to the hole. With one to win he played a chip with his mashie, jumping his opponent's ball with a perfect shot to reduce his opponent's lead to one hole. The play was greeted with a hurricane of applause by the thousand or more onlookers. MacWilliams, however, continued to half the remaining holes and the game ended on the 18th, with him still one up.

At the other end of the semi-finals, G. A. Hutton, a non-resident member of Mayfair, and Doug. Lougheed, of Calgary, were fighting it out before a smaller gallery. Hutton, who is a former Canadian amateur champion, (he won the event in 1911 at The Royal Ottawa, defeating the late A. E. Austin on the 39th hole), is now manager of the Bank of Montreal at Chipman, and has not had the opportunity for much golf of late. He was not strong enough for the younger man and went down at the 15th with 4 up and 3 to go.

In the finals the clever young Californian, who is the younger son of Senator Sir James Lougheed and who was the Junior Champion of Alberta two years ago, playing steady golf, accounted for his more seasoned opponent MacWilliams. Out in the morning in a particularly well played 77 to MacWilliams' 79, he was two up. At the 24th in the afternoon he had increased this to 6 up. At the turn this lead had been reduced to four but the Championship was won and lost at the 31st when Lougheed registered a most creditable 5 and 3 victory over the double champion of 1923.

The new champion who is 23 years of age, well deserved premier honours as he played the steadiest kind of golf throughout the Tournament. His victory was a particularly popular one. It is to be hoped in the years to come he will enter for some of the major events of the Dominion. He has a nice but aggressive style and plays his shots very crisply. He should be heard from in the future.

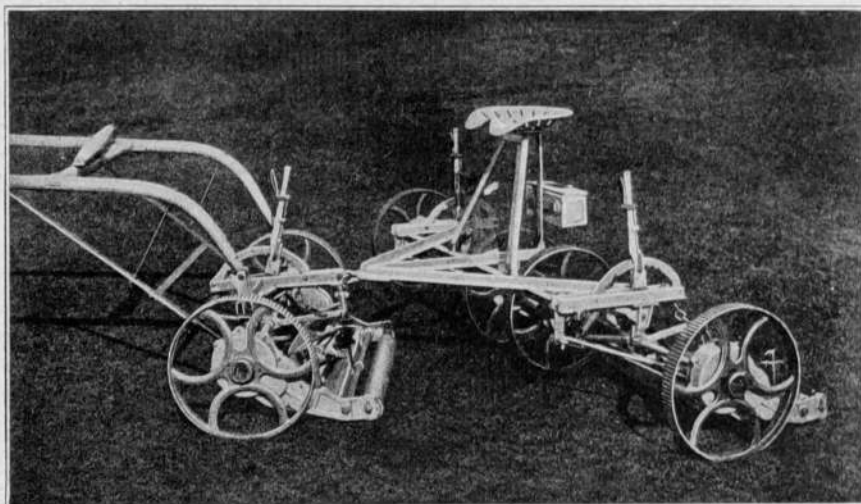

Playing a brand of golf that was easily the high light of the opening day of the tournament, A. E. Cruttenden, popular professional of the Edmonton Mayfair Golf and Country Club, won the open championship from a field that numbered thirty-one, his score for the thirty-six holes medal play being 150. Duncan Sutherland, professional of the Edmonton Golf and Country Club, was second with 156, and William Kinnear of Saskatoon, was third with a card of 158.

SIMCOE INVITATION TOURNAMENT

Ross Somerville, Runner-up Canadian Amateur Championship, and J. Sihler, 16-year-old Simcoe Player, Tie for First Place, Somerville Winning in Play-off

THE Norfolk Golf and Country Club, Simcoe, Ontario, one of the oldest golf clubs in the province, held its first Invitation Tournament last month and it was a decided success.

If it did nothing else the tournament was a worth while one as it brought to light a 16 year old golfer who has all the ear marks of a coming champion. This was "Jim Sihler," son of a well known Simcoe golfer, Dr. A. T. Sihler. In a field of twenty-one players, including some of the top-notchers of the district, he tied for the best gross score for 36 holes with Ross Somerville, of the London Hunt Club, this year's runner up in the Canadian amateur championship. His four rounds of the course, consisting of three 39's and a 40, stamp him as a most consistent player. Somerville's four rounds consisted of a 37, two 39's and a 42. In playing an extra nine holes to decide the tie, the local man got away to a bad start, being seven strokes to the bad on the first three holes, an advantage which Somerville held to the end of the round.

The best 18-hole score of the day was 75, turned in by John S. Lewis, of Brantford. This tied the previous record, held by "Happy" Fraser, of Montreal, ex-Canadian Amateur Champion. The last nine holes were played in 35, which, by the way, tied the previous records for that distance, held by Fraser and George S. Curtis of Simcoe. As matters now stand, Lewis holds the course record for eighteen holes made in open competition, while Somerville and Sihler divide the honors for the 36-hole record. The best record by a local player for 18 holes is still held by Harry Pursel, with a 77.

The prizes were four: First and second for best gross, and the same for best net. Sihler was entitled to his choice between first net and second gross, choosing the latter. This made the winners, Somerville and Sihler, first and second gross; McKie, best net, and Benwell and Skirrow tied for second net, which went to Skirrow in the playoff.

After the finish of the matches, His Honour, Judge Boles, the club's president, in a few felicitous sentences, presented the prizes to the winners, who acknowledged them with brief remarks.

The following were the principal scores of this most interesting tournament, which it is to be hoped Simecoe will make an annual event:

KINNEAR WINS GLENDALE EVENT

Defeats Nicol Thompson in the Play-off for the Glendale Cup, which the Latter Had Won Three Years in Succession

THE Invitation Tournament at the Glendale Golf and Country Club, Hamilton, this month, was a great success and was particularly a triumph for Glendale's professional, J. B. Kinnear, who for the first time in four years turned the tables on his Hamilton rival, Nicol Thompson.

For three years in succession has the Ancaster expert come over to Glendale and annexed the honours. This month however, Kinnear, playing in fine form won out. The Hamilton pros. both returned a total of 154 for the 36 holes Kinnear a 75 and 79 and Thompson a 79 and a 75. In the 9-hole play-off, which the tie necessitated, Kinnear, with a 40 to a 42 won first place amidst general congratulations.

In third place, with 156, was T. McGrath of Chatham, who came to this country from Belfast, Ireland, a few months ago. He is a young professional of much promise. He drives an exceptionally long ball and plays his irons crisply and well. At present he is not attached to any club. Other scores:

| A. J. Miles, Mississauga | 78 | 82=160 |

| Alf. Simms, Chedoke | 84 | 89=173 |

Having won the Glendale Cup for three successive years, the Hamilton expert was entitled to keep the trophy, but he handed it back to the club. The members in acknowledgement of his generosity, presented him with a silver percolator and set in sterling silver.

J. B. Kinnear, who on the fourth attempt defeats Nicol Thompson, holder for three years of the Glendale Cup.

W. A. Kennedy, captain of the club, officiated at the presentation of prizes. The club entertained the players at luncheon and dinner.

In the Amateur class, C. R. Brown with 171, had the best gross score. A. N. Delplant with 149, had the best net score. W. A. Kennedy was second with 153 and A. C. Christie and V. R. Eyres tied for third with 155.

NAVAL OFFICERS IN PORT

Enjoy a Round of the Lingan, N. S., Golf Course

A Lingan correspondent writes: "In one of the most interesting golf matches played on the Lingan Country Club course in several years, the Lingan players defeated a team of 12 golfers from H. M. S. Calcutta and H. M. S. Capetown, now in port. The final score was 13 to 7, and during the afternoon some remarkably fine scores were turned in.

Lieut. Commander Leach, top man for the H. M. S. Calcutta team, was the outstanding player of the day. He shot a 37 for the second nine holes and finished the 18 with a gross score of 80, thus winning the silver cup donated for the best medal score of the day.

Lieut. Commander Leach is a left hander and he is undoubtedly one of the finest golfers that have ever played at Lingan. He gets a tremendous ball from the tee and had drives on Monday of 270 and 280 yards, while his iron shots were all 'on the flag.' In his second round he got the run of the greens better than in his first, although he was only 26 strokes for the first six holes. Lieut. Commander Leach was matched against J. S. Nairn, who shot a 39 for the second nine and yet was three down.

The Calcutta and Capetown officers were greatly pleased with the Lingan course and several of the visiting players had good scores. They won three of the 12 matches and halved two others, the Lingan players winning six.

Following the play tea was served at the club house and the afternoon was one of the most enjoyable in the history of the Lingan Country Club.

FOLLOWING IN FOOTSTEPS OF DAD

Fred Lyon, Brilliant Young Cricketer, Football and Hockey Player, Annexes the Ontario Junior Golf Championship

UNDER the trying conditions of a biting wind and chilly rain, Fred Lyon, the 18-year-old son of Mr. George S. Lyon, on Sept. 9th won the second Junior Championship of Ontario over the testing course of the Lakeview Golf and Country Club, Toronto. His rounds of 82 and 81 for a total of 163 under the circumstances were most creditable ones and would have done credit to many a mature golfer of the first class. There was a splendid field of seventy of the young golfers of the Province and the competition showed that there are many Champions in the making in Ontario. The driving of several of the boys was especially good although none of them in this respect excelled Lyon who frequently was getting a 250 yarder or so off the tee, following his drives up with particularly fine iron shots.

Don Carrick, last year's champion, had to be content with second place, seven strokes back of the winner. Don was off to a bad start the first five holes and never quite got into his stride. In 3rd place was Nicol Thompson Jr., son of the Hamilton Pro.; in 4th place Lou Cumming, son of the Toronto Pro. and in 5th place

Saskatoon Stages An Epoch-making Event in which Mr. J. T. Cuthbert, of Winnipeg, Wins the Amateur, and George Daniel, of Winnipeg, Both the Open and Professional

(By Mr. Ross Cameron).

THE first annual tournament of the Western Canada Golf Association which marked quite an epoch in golf in Canada, was run off at the Riverside Country Club, where the main competitions took place, and the Saskatoon Golf Club, over a period extending from August 9-16. The tournament was a success in every way, judging from the remarks of visiting competitors, who were especially pleased with the manner in which their interests were looked after.

The class of golf was of a very high standard, showing that Western Canada boasts players who rank with the best. With both courses in excellent condition, the greens in particular, after a long, dry summer, being at their best, everything was conducive to first-class golf. As it turned out, the weather was almost ideal, although a high wind at times bothered players on the Riverside course.

There was no competition for the ladies, which was keenly regretted by everyone. However, in addition to the Amateur Championship proper, there were four flights of 32 players each. Sixty-four qualified for the Championship. The Amateur and the second flight were played at the Riverside Country Club course, while the third, fourth and fifth flights, with the exception of the finals, took place at the Saskatoon Golf Club.

No untoward incidents marred the week of play and the tournament committee had no extra work to take upon themselves, for everything ran most smoothly.

Exceptionally keen interest was shown in the big matches every day, and there was a large gallery out to the courses. The junior competition attracted quite a bit of attention and big galleries followed the youngsters, especially the matches in which Ronald Bannister, the Winnipeg 12-year-old took part.

The committee in charge of the tournament was: F. B. Morrison (chairman), P. D. Gunn, W. Hopkins, A. M. Duncan, R. R. Morgan, J. D. Millar, Dr. A. MacG. Young, W. Ritchie, N. C. Byers, A. A. Weir and Ross Cameron. George D. Underwood was honorary secretary-treasurer. Messrs. H. A. Bruce and A. H. Hanson acted as starters.

George Daniel, Winnipeg professional, carried off both the Open and Professional Championships.

There were sixteen entries in the professional event, which started with 36 holes on the Saturday preceding the tournament week. Eric Bannister led at the end of the first round with a score of 71, over the Riverside Country Club course. The second round was played at the Saskatoon Golf Club and resulted in Ernest Penfold shooting a brilliant 68, which was a new competitive record for the difficult 18 holes. This put Penfold in the lead with a score of 143.

Penfold maintained his lead at the close of the third round with a score of 229, closely pursued by Bannister, Land and Daniel in the order named. On the second day of the Open Championship Daniel finished his round and kept the lead he had established at the end of the first round of the Open with 73. This gave him scores of 146—two rounds of 73—for the Open Championship and 293 for the Professional Championship. There were eight money prizes in the professional event and Winnipeg pros cleaned up every one. Joe Pringle, another Winnipeg professional, was runner-up in the Open with 149; Alex. Weir, Saskatoon, was the high amateur, 156, with Cuthbert second amateur with 159.

In the Professional Championship the four rounds were played alternately at the Riverside Country Club and the Saskatoon Golf Club, while the first round (Monday), of the Open Championship took place at Riverside and the second (Tuesday), at Saskatoon.

The professionals from Winnipeg played some exceptional golf during the entire open and pro play. Their mastery of the stop-em pitch shot was an eye-opener. While many amateurs use this method of getting on the green they did not have the complete control of the shot as the pros did.

Penfold's round of 68 was the lowest of any played during the entire tournament. Several scores of 71 were turned in, but the average among the crack amateurs was 80. The courses were in splendid shape, although the fairways were baked quite hard by the long, hot summer. However, Bill Kinnear, the energetic professional of the Saskatoon Golf Club, under whose supervision the courses were put in shape this summer, had the greens in magnificent condition.

There is quite some difference in the style of play required over the two courses. At Riverside, the fairways are rolling, with all sorts of hills and gullies to contend with. Here it is necessary to keep the ball well up in the air, but at the Saskatoon Club the course is almost flat, where a low ball can get better distance than a high one.

The result of the qualifying round was that scores of 179 or better and including one score of 180, that being made by Dr. W. C. Clark, made the championship flight. Alex. Weir was the low scorer with 156, while Jack Cuthbert followed him closely with 159.

As expected, Saskatoon's representation was the heaviest, 18 surviving the test. Regina came next with 12, whilst Winnipeg and Calgary both had 10. Moose Jaw had four in the big series, while Swift Current and Vancouver both placed a brace. Shaunavon, Riverhurst, Markinch, North Battleford, Prince Albert and Kerrobert, all of which boast nine-hole courses, had one representative each.

The first round saw the elimination of eleven Saskatonians. Regina lost six and Calgary five. Moose Jaw had but one player left after the first round. Winnipeg's delegation was but four, Swift Current lost one while North Battleford and Prince Albert dropped out of the running.

Of the six surviving Regina players, five were eliminated in the second round. Saskatoon lost four and Winnipeg two. Riverhurst, Swift Current, Vancouver and Kerrobert lost one each. This left but sixteen players at the close of the first day of the knock-out competition.

Moose Jaw and Regina lost their last hopes in the third round with the elimination of F. C. Grant and T. T. Tyrer. Winnipeg lost two more while Calgary had the biggest fall, three more going out, to leave only one player from the Alberta city to carry their hopes. W. Ritchie, the Saskatoon player, was eliminated in this round.

The fourth round saw the elimination of all players but those from Winnipeg and Saskatoon, Jack Cuthbert and Matt Thompson representing the Manitoba metropolis, and Alex. Weir with Sam Thorburn being Saskatoon's hopes. By the luck of the draw, Thorburn played Weir and eliminated him 3 and 1, while Thompson fell an easy victim to Cuthbert, losing his match 14 and 12.

Few matches went extra holes. The first one of these was in the opening round, when Chal Clark and R. O. Kerans, both Saskatoon players, went to the 23rd before the former won out. Two matches went to the 19th. The newly crowned Champion, Jack Cuthbert, was carried to the extra distance by W. Kidd, of Shaunavon, a stymie turning the decision in Cuthbert's favour. The other Winnipeg semi-finalist, Matt. Thompson, was also taken to the 19th. This time it was by A. Carson MacWilliams, 1923 Open and Amateur Champion of Alberta. Thompson only won this match after a great fight by the Calgary player, who was down all the way, and who squared the match at the 18th.

Jack Cuthbert, of the Norwood Golf Club, Winnipeg, won the first Western Canada Amateur Golf Championship on the 35th green of the Riverside Country Club, Saskatoon, after one of the most interesting matches ever staged on a local course. Sam Thorburn, of the Saskatoon Golf Club, was Cuthbert's opponent, and a partial stymie on the green that ended the match rendered it practically impossible for Thorburn to defeat his rival. Cuthbert won, two up and one to play.

The finishing holes of the final match were intensely interesting. Throughout the day the excellence of play by the principals kept the gallery in a fervor of enthusiasm.

When the finalists concluded their morning round of 18 holes Thorburn was two up on Cuthbert. The real struggle started in the afternoon, when Thorburn had increased his lead to three up at the 26th green. Cuthbert won the 27th, which left him two down at the turn of the second round.

At the 29th hole Thorburn had one of those unaccountable breaks which have marked the turning point in many a match. Playing back to the green his ball struck a pipe line three feet away and rebounded close to 20 yards, leaving him a very difficult lie to get the green. He lost this hole, which proved to be the point from which Cuthbert started on his climb to victory. The Winnipegger squared the match at the 30th green and by taking the 31st he went into the lead for the first time during the entire struggle.

They halved the 32nd and 33rd holes. Cuthbert won the 34th, which left Thorburn dormie two.

The Saskatoon player faced a difficult task. His opponent had reached the top of his game, and only phenomenal playing on the part of Thorburn could carry the match into extra holes.

It was not destined that the Amateur Championship should be so decided. On the 35th green Thorburn had to negotiate a partial stymie laid by Cuthbert to win the hole. In playing Saskatchewan won the Provincial Team Match, leading the other provinces by a wide margin. The members of the winning team were: A. A. Weir, H. C. Allison, A. M. Hush, J. P. Runciman, Dr. Irwin, T. Tyrer, J. D. Dawson, F. Miley.

St. Andrew's Golf Club, of Calgary, won the club team match. The team was made up of A. C. McWilliams, G. D. McWilliams, T. C. Morrison and H. Black.

The Western Handicap, 15 and under, was won by T. D. Forbes. Dr. Young was the runner-up.

For the Western Handicap, 16 and over, C. A. Fleming was Champion, with S. D. Taylor runner-up.

The Saskatchewan Closed Amateur Championship was decided by the low score of a Saskatchewan entrant in the qualifying round of the Western Canada play-down. It was captured by A. A. Weir, Saskatchewan, with a card of 156 for the 36 holes.

Reg. Young, Saskatoon, won the Saskatchewan Junior title with a score of 85 for 18 holes.

The Driving Competition, conducted on the final day of the Tournament, was won by A. Bull, Vancouver. Dr. Young, Saskatoon, secured the special prize for the longest drive.

Playing a brand of golf that would do credit to a senior player, Reg. Young, 16-year-old high school boy, captured the first Western Canada junior golf title when he defeated Ronald Bannister, of Winnipeg, on the 14th green 5 and 4, in the final round of the championship event.

Bannister, a youngster of 12 years, was one of the bright lights of the tournament. His all-round fine play drew the admiration of all who saw him play. In the final, however, he found Young's powerful driving and well-played iron shots too much a handicap for his diminutive physique.

Eleven juniors played through the knockout competition. In the semi-final Bannister eliminated T. Russell, of Winnipeg, on the 20th green, while Young knocked out his clubmate, Phil Morse, 4 and 3.

In the early days of golf they used balls stuffed with feathers. Doubtless they picked them from the "birdies."

A golfer, competing for the club championship, walked into the club house "hopping" mad:

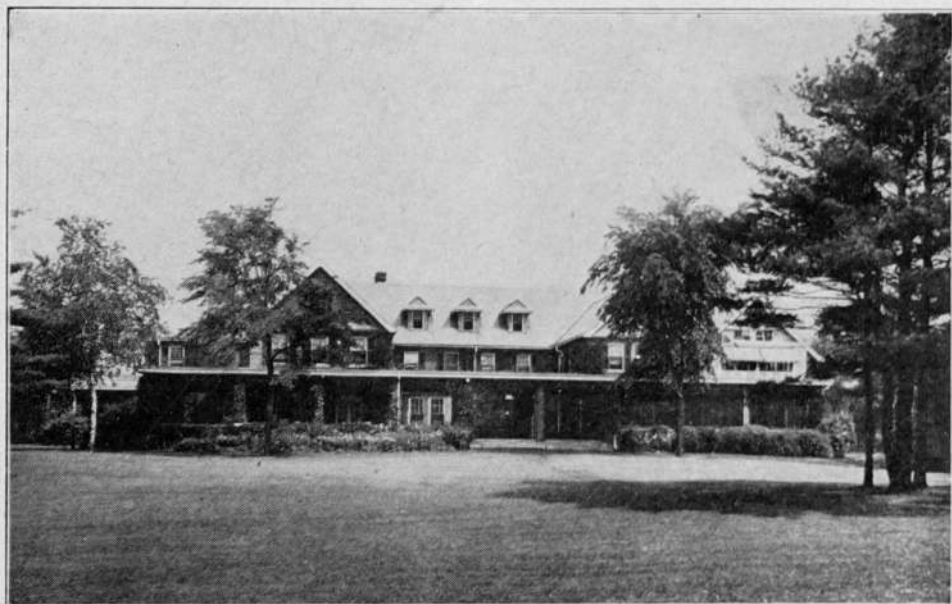

"'Smatter," asked one of his friends. "Get trimmed?"

"Trimmed nothing! But get this. I'm 5 up going to the 13th hole and I'm on the green at that par 5 hole in 3, dead to the pin. My opponent reaches the edge in six and insists on putting. He makes two feeble jabs at the ball and still is wide. Then he picks up the ball and walks away, remarking, 'Well, I'll give you that hole.' Can you beat it.?"

SENIORS' SEVENTH ANNUAL TOURNAMENT

Toronto Golf Club, the Scene of a Most Notable Meeting—Mr. F. A. Parker, of Lambton, Wins the Championship—A Record Number of Entrants Enjoy a Record Tournament—Brilliant Speech by Hon. Martin Burrell, at Annual Dinner—Presentation to Mr. R. H. Greene

THE Seventh Annual Tournament of The Canadian Seniors' Golf Association this month was generally voted by the members as possibly the most enjoyable since the organization of the Association. The weather during the whole tournament left nothing to be desired, the number of the entrants, 160, was a record one, and last, but by no means least, the Toronto Golf Club especially lent itself to the successful running off of the event, both as regards club house facilities and perfect course conditions. Under these circumstances it is not to be wondered at that such a great success was scored.

Nearly all the Provinces in the Dominion were represented the opening day, when under ideal conditions, pair No. 1 teed-up and was sent off on the first 18 holes of the 36 to determine the Senior Championship of Canada for 1924, and the Championship of the various classes, "A," "B," "C" and "D."

And as events subsequently proved, the surprise of the Tournament was the heralding of a new Champion and the deposing of the six times holder of the title. But it was not without a game struggle that Mr. George S. Lyon gave up the custody of the Lord Shaughnessy Cup, which has been in his possession continuously since 1918. Tied with Mr. F. A. Parker, a Lambton club mate, at the end of the second day, with a score of 162, another 18 holes had to be played and again the Lambtonians were all square. Still another 18 holes, and by the narrow margin of a stroke Mr. Parker eventually won out. Both victor and vanquished were heartily congratulated at the termination of a gruelling fight. The new Senior Champion is not only a very fine golfer, but a deep student of the game, and no one begrudges him his well earned honours. He won the Championship after the pluckiest kind of a contest, and is well entitled to wear the Senior Golfing Crown of Canada—which is no mean honour, as there are many fine golfers in the ranks of the Association. The score of the winner for the 72 holes played was 82, 80, 79, 83=324, which works out at exactly 4½ strokes per hole—a very fine performance indeed, on a championship course of the calibre of Toronto. Mr. Lyon's figures read 83, 79, 79, 84=325. And that shows how close the contest was.

The golf throughout the two days of the Tournament was of a high order, on the whole the play being the best yet recorded. Every class was well represented. Class "A," 55 years to 59 years inclusive, still headed the list as regards the number of entries, having a total of 60 players, but Class "B," 60 years to 64 years, inclusive, is steadily creeping up on the "juniors." They mustered 49 all told, and it will not be long before this class will outnumber any other. Time, inexorable time, will attend to that. Class "D," the new Class started this year, 70 years and upwards, had 15 representatives, and the winner of the Williams Cup in this class, Mr. C. S. McDonald, of Brampton, had one of the best scores of the Tournament. In the United States Senior Association they are seriously considering next year instituting a Class "E," eighty years and upwards. In the U. S. Tournament this month at Apawamis, there were several entrants who admitted to four score. No other game can point to active adherents of such longevity.

As a result of the two delightful days of golf over the beautiful Toronto course, the following Seniors handed in cards:

As a result of these two days of strenuous golf the principal Championships of the Association were won as follows:

Lord Shaughnessy Cup, emblematic of the Championship of the Association, F. A. Parker, Lambton Golf and Country Club.

Wallace Nesbitt Cup, Runner-up for the Championship, G. S. Lyon, Lambton Golf and Country Club.

W. R. Baker Cup, Championship of Class "C," P. D. Ross, Royal Ottawa Golf Club, Hon. President of the C. S. G. A.

Williams Cup, Championship of Class "D," C. S. McDonald, Lambton Golf and Country Club.

Mr. J. G. Hay, of Owen Sound, had the honour of winning the cup for the best nett, 36 holes, all classes.

As will be seen by the prize list published on page 430, the Lambton Golf and Country Club members as usual headed the list of winners. That club had five representatives to carry off trophies. Clubs having more than one prize winner were: The Royal Ottawa, Brantford, Rosedale, Toronto, Stratford and Whitlock, Hudson Heights, Que. Other cities represented in the list were: Winnipeg, Owen Sound and Hamilton. Toronto golfers altogether carried off nine of the prizes, but this is understandable when it is remembered that the Toronto entrants were in the great majority. All of the cups were of sterling silver and of most graceful design.

ANNUAL DINNER A WONDERFUL EVENT

The annual dinner of the Association is always looked upon as one of the features of the Tournament. The Toronto function left nothing to be desired. The menu was excellent, the music and entertainment provided was the best in the history of these annual events, whilst the speaker of the evening, the Hon. Martin Burrell, was in particularly good form. Some 175 Seniors participated, whilst amongst the guests of the evening were Mr. S. B. Gundy, President of The Royal Canadian Golf Association, and Mr. R. C. H. Cassels, K.C., ex-president.

Mr. W. R. Baker, C.V.O., President and Founder of the Association, was in the chair and as usual presided in a most charming manner. He has a happy faculty of making a Toast List go with "a swing and carry through" which leaves nothing to be desired. In his opening remarks he welcomed the members to the Seventh Annual Tournament and referred to the fact that there was a record entry, indicating a constantly growing interest in the meetings. On behalf of the Association he wished to thank Mr. C. A. Bogert, the President and the members generally of the Toronto Club for their unbounded hospitality during Tournament week. They were one and all under a deep debt of gratitude to them. The Tournament had never had a more delightful setting and the Toronto Tournament he knew would always be remembered by them. Mr. Baker then called upon the Hon. Martin Burrell, whose speech has always been one of the features of the Association dinners. The ex-Secretary of State, who was loudly applauded on rising, said:

Mr. Chairman, Gentlemen:

Last year when the Seniors met at Montreal I pointed out that in the name of decency and good team play others should assume the burden of what seems to be a necessary evil: speechmaking at the annual dinner. I even indicated a way that would make the task an easy one for the most self-distrusting member of this Association, as there were several enterprising firms who would, for four dollars, send an excellent speech on any subject, from a funeral oration on a mother-in-law to the presentation of a gold-headed walking stick to a Sunday School superintendent. (Laughter). It is a melancholy reflection on the meanness of an otherwise excellent set of men that no one has apparently parted with even that modest sum and relieved me from the kindly pressure which has again been put upon me. For you cannot insult any audience, much less one such as this, by getting upon your hind legs and saying what happens to come into your mind at the moment. I entirely agree with the Bishop who, when one of his clergy remarked that he never prepared his sermons, but simply opened his mouth and let God fill it, remarked, "Yes, there was an incident of that kind in Balaam's time." (Much laughter).

I can, however, say very sincerely for all those who live elsewhere that it is with peculiar pleasure that we have been permitted to come to the Toronto Golf Club for our seventh tournament—a club whose hospitalities many of us have enjoyed individually in times past and to the courtesy of whose officers and members we are greatly indebted for the good time we have had this year. (Applause). We have always known the course for a first-class one, and we have had that impression confirmed during the past few days. As to our creature comforts, let those who are responsible know what an appreciative lot of men we are. As in life generally so here it is the little things that count. At Boston the other day the waitress found me trying feebly to make an egg cup out of my roll, hating as I do the sloppy performance of smashing the hen fruit into a glass. Said she, "I think we have some of them cups." She returned cupless and apologetic. "Perhaps," I suggested, "they were thrown into the harbor with the tea?" She gave me a vague sort of look and answered "No,, I guess they were mislaid." She meant well, as did the young French waitress who, on my order for fish said confidentially, "The fish she is not very well to-day." Here we have not met such experiences, and have not been met, as a friend was on ordering breakfast from a Swiss waiter, "Tongue is no more, shieckens never vos. How you like your ekks voilt? Tight or loose." (Laughter). No Sir, every detail, good things and uniform courtesy have given that touch which makes one feel at home, and we would be ungrateful beggars if we did not cheerfully say so.

We have to congratulate our friend, Mr. Baker, founder and president of our club, and ourselves as members, that we have entered on our seventh year with undiminished enthusiasm and a fine record in the past. We are thankfully witnessing the accession of a number of young fellows of fifty-five, and, with a pensive sadness, the passing of some whose companionship we miss. For them we turn down an empty glass. There have been gatherings during the past few years when cynical guests have said you might as well turn them all down for all the pleasure there is drinking what was in them. I note, amongst such, an ungodly elation at the approach of a test question on this matter next month, but, as one of the rising hopes of the unbending "dries," I warn them not to be too sanguine.

And now, gentlemen, what of the great game whose joys we come here to celebrate? How fares it with you? If skill and success have a little waned with some of us we are generous enough to rejoice at the continued prowess of others, such as our old friend George Lyon and P. D. Ross and others, whose ardour and skill seem unabated. I am glad that these masters of the game are not all Scotchmen. I was told once that I didn't seem to like Scotchmen. Not at all! Certainly I am not like old Johnson who, we are told, was recently walking in the Elysian fields with Boswell, and Boswell remarked, "Sir, what would you say if you were told that the editing of the great new English dictionary (the Oxford dictionary edited by Sir James Murray), had been entrusted by your own University of Oxford to a Scotch Presbyterian?" "Sir, said Johnson, it is possible to be facetious without being indecent." Long ago the Scotch invaded England, and we have the result now in the best golfing Prime Minister ever known, and whatever distrust a hide-bound Tory may have of a Socialist Prime Minister, if he is a golfer he will warm up to Mr. Ramsay MacDonald when he remembers that at the recent conference of the Allies, to determine the acceptance of the Dawes scheme, Mr. MacDonald told the pressmen that he believed the conference would "hole-out" successfully. No Sir, the Scotch are a dependable, sturdy race. As friends you can bank on them. A voice, "Hear, hear." Mr. Burrell, "But let me say to the gentleman who cries hear, hear, quite a different thing from banking with them, when you will have a devil of a time over-drawing your account."

I shall, of course, not be misunderstood when I say that personally I believe I would have been a better golfer if I had more Scotch in me. Some here, like myself, have pathetically realized that "time hath a taming hand." It needs some fortitude to accept gracefully the yanking up of your handicap, that official proclamation that your powers are on the decline. But much is left. It doesn't matter after all whether you win cups or medals. Titular distinctions are nothing, and if I coveted medals it would be perfectly easy to become a "joiner" of a few of the thousands of societies which flourish on this continent. One writer has observed, "An American who is forced by his profession to join many such orders accumulates a trunkful of decorations, many of them weighing a pound. There is an undertaker in Hagerstown, Maryland, who has been initiated 18 times. When he robes himself to plant a fellow-joiner he weighs 300 lbs. and sparkles and flashes like the mouth of hell itself. Put beside this lowly washer of the dead, Pershing, newly-polished, would look like a Trappist." (Laughter).

But one learns something all the time, and some of the valuable things to learn are that you must accept philosophically the loss of some skill and rejoice in the fresh air, the good companionship, and those rare occasions when you are "on your game"—the game you think of being the best you ever played in your life. And don't bore your friends stiff with the recital of what you used to do—and certainly not of what you do every day. The other day a Texas man shot a chap who had told him for the seventh time of having done a hole in one. Quite right. And the game is still, and always, a test of character. I heard of a man who had employed a lawyer for years until one day he saw him kick his ball out of a heel-mark. He promptly removed his business from his charge. Said this man, "The man who can go into a patch of rough alone, with the knowledge that only God is watching him, and play his ball where it lies, is the man who will serve you faithfully and well." (Applause).

And what fine discipline the old game is! Of course human nature is too strong for us sometimes. Playing lately with an excellent chap on an American course there is a hole where you can pick out of a parallel ditch without penalty, but lose a stroke out of the transverse ditch. After a feeble drive I got into the parallel ditch, lifted and got a good one. My friend got a beauty, plump into the transverse ditch. We walked up and I said consolingly, "you can lift with a loss of one." He looked at his ball, and with a cold and calculated ferocity observed, "You white-faced, white-livered son of a sea cook, I wouldn't lift you out of hell itself"—and walked off and seemed rather annoyed.

However, it's a mistake that some laymen make when they think that all golfers do, and say, blood-curdling things. Matters are never half as bad as some people hope they will be. I recall some years ago, when I was Minister of Agriculture, going down to the beautiful province from which our friend Sir George Garneau comes, to open an Agricultural Exhibition. Subsequently I was taken by the Directors to inspect the side-shows. A Syrian dancers' performance, strictly for men only, was being bawled out. As we entered the tent a hard-faced lady was wedging in among the crowd with the remark that I guess I can stand what this bunch can. I noted her subsequently standing on a box at the back of the tent. Three turns of an entirely irreproachable character and the bell rang and a hoarse voice informed us the show was over. I looked back in time to catch a look of supreme disgust on the lady's face and caught her statement, "Damn, stung again!" Thus are people disappointed when vice does not materialize in the way their suspicious minds have expected.

We trust our Canadian representatives will make a good showing at Apawamis. Twice we have won the coveted cup; it would be a notable thing to defeat the enemy on their own ground, and we wish our men the best of luck. It is the year of the Presidential election and the political excitement may put those U. S. chaps a little off their game. Some of them will be in a quandary anyway. Mr. Coolidge took up golf for a short time, but dropped it. He found that he got just as much exercise and a better chance to look round him while walking. The public was informed that the President was not the sort of man who got pleasure from those inconsequential matters that form the subject of conversation during a golf game. This statement seems to be an unfortunate weakness to the Republican party. Mr. Davis on the other hand, is a keen exponent of the game and I am hopeful that the American Seniors who are, I believe, chiefly Republicans, will be much upset and mentally perturbed as to whether they should recant their faith and vote Democrat. This may help us in the international match, for we know perfectly well that the bally game is half mental.

Ah, Gentlemen, it is pleasant to win, but winning is not a vital thing, not even essential to happiness. It's a fine thing to be a good loser. Win or lose, we get the joy of a great game. The green turf underfoot, the blue sky overhead and if we discover each other's little weaknesses, we find also many virtues. It is my conviction that with every passing year we get greater enjoyment from these gatherings. It is hard to make friends as we get older, yet surely, this Seniors' Association has witnessed the creation of many new friendships and the strengthening of many old ones. We look forward to the re-union at St. Andrews next year, and it would be pleasant indeed, if God willing, every one of us here to-night could be there also." (Much applause).

During the dinner the Annual Meeting of the Association was held. Mr. Ralph H. Reville reported that the receipts during the year totalled $3,031.87, and the expenditures $2,504.94. With the balance carried forward from the previous year there was now to the credit of the Association $1,215.48, with no liabilities. Reference was made to the great loss sustained by the Association through the passing away of four members: Lord Shaughnessy, who was Honorary President, and who donated the Championship trophy; Sir Edmund Osler, John Baillie, of Royal Montreal, and G. C. Jones, of Toronto.

On motion the 1923 Board of Governors and officials were all re-elected.

The 1925 Tournament of the Association will be held at beautiful St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, N.B., where the members foregathered in 1921 and where it was generally voted the Association staged one of its most successful meetings. At the dinner a very pressing invitation was also extended by Mr. Wm. St. Pierre for the Association to meet next year at Laval-sur-le-Lac, near Montreal, Que., but this in the meantime perforce had to be declined.

Quite one of the outstanding features of this outstanding dinner, was the presentation during the evening of a magnificent sterling silver cigar case, suitably inscribed, to Mr. R. H. Greene, of the Tournament Committee of the Association. Mr. Baker, in a graceful manner made the presentation. He referred to the indefatigable manner in which Mr. Greene had presided over the drawing of the pairs in the various classes in the Tournament. Much of the smoothness of the running of the annual event was due to him. The members could never sufficiently repay him for the sacrifice he made each year of both his time and his energy.

The presentation came quite as a surprise to Mr. Greene, who had had no previous inkling that he was thus to be so deservedly honoured. He, however, made a capital little appreciative reply, in which he stated that anything he had ever done or anything he could ever do for the Association would always be looked upon by him as a labour of love.

Notes of the Tournament

The "Senior red coat" was again very much in evidence at the dinner, lending an agreeable splash of colour to the affair.

During the annual meeting a motion of condolence was passed upon the passing of Lord Shaughnessy, K.C., C.V.O., ever since the organization of the Association, the Honorary Patron. His Lordship always took a kindly interest in the affairs of the C. S. G. A., and his death is keenly felt by officers and members alike.

Mr. F. C. Armitage, Manager of the Toronto Golf Club, and Mrs. Armitage, did everything throughout a memorable week for the comfort of the Seniors, who were all loud in their praises of the many courtesies extended them. The staff of the Club, too, were unflinching in their attentions.

The entertainment at the dinner was quite above the ordinary. Mr. Ernest Le Messurier, of Montreal, is easily one of the cleverest cartoonists on the Continent. His sketches of several of the prominent officials, accompanied by a delightfully musical patter, made a great hit. Mr. Duncan R. Cowan, in songs and stories, was excellent. And then the quartette of Georgian singers composed of the well known vocalists, Ernest Caldwell, Alfred Heather, W. McKenzie

Mr. R. H. Greene, Member of the Tournament Committee, who was presented with a sterling silver cigar box.

Baker and Don. Linden, were quite above the ordinary. They came in for all kinds of encomiums. Then in addition to this, Bodley's celebrated orchestra, and it can be well imagined the Seniors at their dinner did not lack for musical and other high-class entertainment.

George Cumming, the Toronto Club professional, and the doyan of the Pro Corps in Canada, was in charge of the starting each day at the first tee, and that naturally spelt "smooth running." Each day Cumming had the large field slightly ahead of schedule time.

Miss S. Sanctuary, of Montreal, as usual was invaluable in the office. She is a particularly capable Secretary, and is now very conversant with the details of a Seniors' Tournament.

The Foursomes on the last day of the Tournament has come to be looked upon as one of the most delightful events of the week. The members choose their own partners. This year the cups were won by a new member, Mr. T. Costello, of Lakeview, Toronto, partnered with Mr. T. A. Code, of Perth, and those two popular stalwarts of the Whitlock Golf Club, Hudson Heights, Que., Messrs. W. George Kent and J. Wilson. So the Foursome Cups most appropriately went to Ontario and Quebec.

* * *

As usual Mr. Justice Walsh, of Calgary, was present at the Championship. For the first time Prince Edward Island was represented, Mr. W. K. Rogers, a well-known golfer of Charlottetown, being amongst the entrants in Class "A."

Mr. J. A. Riordon, of Los Angeles, California, was the Senior attending from the farthest point. He formerly lived in Toronto, and still retains his membership in the Lambton Golf and Country Club.

The thanks of the Association are extended to the Lakeview, Lambton and Mississauga Golf Clubs, who most kindly placed rooms at the disposal of members who were unable to find accommodation at the Toronto Club.

And The Cup Goes Back

The week following the successful Seventh Annual Tournament of The Canadian Seniors' Golf Association at Toronto, a team of fifteen players under the captaincy of Mr. George S. Lyon, left for the Apawamis Club, Rye, New York, "Returning the Cup." Photo taken on the 18th green at Apawamis, shows Mr. W. R. Baker, C.V.O., President of The Canadian Seniors' Golf Association, presenting the Duke of Devonshire Trophy to Mr. R. W. Lesley, of Philadelphia, President of The U. S. Seniors' Golf Association. A number of the International Team, both Canadian and American, are to be seen on the right and left.

to take part in the Seventh International Match for the Duke of Devonshire Cup. The team was accompanied by Messrs. W. R. Baker, C.V.O., President; E. L. Pease, Montreal; W. H. C. Mussen, Montreal; W. Finlay, Montreal, and Ralph H. Reville.

From the time of their arrival until their departure the visitors were the recipients of unbounded hospitality from the officials and members of the United States' Senior Golf Association, which was holding its Annual Tournament at Apawamis. They were put up at the Westchester-Biltmore and their comfort individually and collectively was of a most princely description throughout.

On Thursday morning, September 11th, the International Match was played. The Americans had gathered together the strongest team in the history of the contest. Making no excuse for the ultimate result it is only fair to state that the Canadian side was severely weakened by the absence of Messrs. G. C. Heintzman, G. T. Brown and C. P. Wilson, and was not so representative a one as lifted the cup last year at Montreal.

The Apawamis course was in superb condition, and the weather conditions were most favourable. It was generally anticipated that the United States team would revenge their defeat of 1923. And they did to the rather decisive tune of 24 points to 8, or a margin of 16 points. The score:

The two Champions of the Association, Messrs. Hugh Halsell and F. A. Parker, had a particularly interesting match. Mr. Parker was 1 up the first nine and Mr. Halsell 1 up in the second, the match therefore ending all square. To get two points from Mr. Frederick Snare, a former U. S. Senior Champion, Mr. George S. Lyon, six times Canadian Senior Champion, had to register a superb 73. Mr. H. G. Wilson was off to a poor start the first nine and found himself in the unenviable position of being 7 down to Mr. Redfield, who is tied for first place for U. S. Senior honours this year. Then the Winnipegger got into his stride and beat his opponent coming in and managed to get a point to his opponent's two. A very close match was that between Mr. Bogert and H. W. Perrin. One hole only separated them at the finish. It will be noticed that Mr. C. B. Robin was the only Canadian to score a three point victory.

In the afternoon on the 18th green Mr. Baker, in the presence of the players, presented the Duke of Devonshire Cup to Mr. R. W. Lesley, the President of the United States' Seniors' Golf Association and so for the fifth time the coveted trophy rests in the strong room of the Apawamis Club. The score now stands: United States, 5; Canada, 2. But the Canadians are not down hearted. They have more than one strong player who will be eligible to be placed on the team next year.

Previous to the International a most interesting match was played between the Founder of the U. S. Seniors, Mr. Horace L. Hotchkiss, and Mr. W. R. Baker, C.V.O., Founder of the Canadian Association, resulting in the latter winning 2 up. It is a fact worth mentioning that Mr. Hotchkiss is 82 years of age, but played his 18 holes a day throughout the U. S. Senior Tournament. He is one of the greatest living examples of the incalculable benefits of the Royal and Ancient game.

The day following the International Match the Individual Senior Championship of America was played. Ten Canadians participated in this event and twenty Americans, and once again the representatives of the Stars and Stripes scored. Last year it will be remembered, Mr. George S. Lyon won this event at Montreal, with Mr. Herbert G. Wilson, of Winnipeg, runner-up. At Apawamis, with a 74, Mr. W. E. Wells, of West Virginia, earned the right to succeed Mr. Lyon as Senior Champion. In second place was Mr. W. H. Croft, of Pittsburg, with a 75. The best scores by Canadians were: Lyon 81, and Parker 83.

One of the most enjoyable features of this notable visit by the Canadians to Apawamis was their participation in the annual dinner of the U. S. Association, participated in by some three hundred prominent men from all parts of the United States. At this dinner the health of the Canadian Association was toasted and brought forth a most graceful reply from Mr. Baker. In the course of his speech he referred to the fact that the main object of the International Match, to cement the good fellowship and feeling between the golfers of the States and Canada, had been more than borne out. It was generally voted that one of the features of the dinner was the humorous Scotch song by Mr. Henry Wright, of Toronto, one of the Canadian team. It "went-over" with great eclat.

CARPET AND UPHOLSTERY GOLF ASSOCIATION

Has Most Successful Tournament at Laval-sur-le-Lac—Mr. Ralph C. Smith Again Wins Championship

THE Second Annual Tournament of the Carpet and Upholstery Golf Association of Canada, was held on September 8th and 9th over the course of the Laval-sur-le-Lac Golf Club, Montreal, and proved a most enjoyable outing for the 84 members gathered together from all parts of the Dominion, with a few from the United States of America.

56 members (7 eights), played their hardest and best to win the many valuable prizes offered.

The Championship was won (for the second year in succession), by Ralph C. Smith, of Daly and Morin, Ltd., Montreal, the runner-up being Lewis McGibbon, of The T. Eaton Co., Toronto, Carpet Department. This was also his second consecutive year to play against the champion. Mr. Ogilvie, of Ogilvie-Lohead, Ltd., Brantford, made a gallant fight to enter the finals for the championship, his first round with Mr. McGibbon ending all square, but on the play-off Mr. McGibbon was the victor, and so became the finalist with Mr. Smith, the champion.

Mr. George B. Fraser, Managing Director of Messrs. Greenshields, Ltd., Montreal, was this year's President and most acceptably to all our members, filled this position, giving his able assistance to, and working very nobly for, the success of the Association and the entire happiness of those assembled. The Association's thanks are certainly due to and unstintingly given to, Mr. Fraser for his presence, his interest, and the very capable and gracious way in which he presided at the closing dinner.

His Worship the Mayor of Montreal, Monsieur Duquette, was the guest of honour, and in his speech of welcome to the Association hoped they would favour Montreal again with their presence, as the bringing together of men (associated in the same businesses), from all over the Dominion was one of the surest and best ways of cementing the whole Dominion into a solid compact unit of friends and neighbours, etc. Monsieur Duquette was elected (with great acclamation from all the members), an honorary member of the Carpet and Upholstery Golf Association of Canada.

The President presented the prizes to the winners of the various flights, which were as follows:

The best gross score was tied by Ralph C. Smith and Dave J. Ransby, both having an 83 and both receiving prizes for this performance as time would not permit of a play-off.

The best net score was won by Mr. Dave J. Ransby, Toronto Carpet Mfg. Co., with a 69.

The President expressed thanks to the Congoleum Co., of Canada, The Guelph Carpet Co., and George H. Hees Co. for contributions to the prize list.

Everyone was delighted with their two days' outing and the spirit and companionship shown made them all determined to be present next year, 1925, when the Tournament will be held in Toronto.

QUEBEC AUTUMN TOURNAMENT

Is Won by Mr. W. J. McLuckie, ex-Amateur Champion, with the Quebec Provincial Champion, Mr. J. W. Yuile, Runner-up—The Unfortunate Disqualification of Mr. Norman Scott

THE beautiful links of the Whitlock Golf and Country Club, Hudson Heights, Que., were the venue for the Province of Quebec Golf Association's Autumn Tournament, automatically disqualified himself by not adding a stroke at the trout stream. On Saturday Mr. Scott reported the incident to the match committee and he was informed of the rules.

The 10th Green at Whitlock, Hudson Heights.

Friday and Saturday, September 12th and 13th, and a most successful Tournament it was too, all the leading players of the Province participating.

Mr. Norman M. Scott, of The Royal Montreal, headed the list with a score of 307, but he was disqualified in a most unfortunate manner. Here is the story, vide the "Montreal Gazette":

On one hole he made a fine tee shot and drove into Whitlock's famous trout stream, a distance of about 250 yards. Owing to a misunderstanding as to the local rules, he was under the impression that he was permitted to rescue the ball from the stream and play his second without penalty. This he did and returned his score accordingly.

Later in the evening, in discussing with other competitors the fortunes of the day's play, he related the particular incident. A controversy arose and it was eventually explained that he

On the first day's play, J. W. Yuile had led with 157, Mr. Scott and Mr. McLuckie being tied, each with 158. Mr. Scott, however, was still eligible for play in the several competitions arranged for Saturday's play. In the morning he turned in the best card for 18 holes in the tournament, namely, 71, while in the afternoon he went the round with a 78, total for the day of 149. Such splendid play made his disqualification all the more tragic, a contretemps, however, which he no doubt classes with the minor damnabilities. To enjoy a margin of twelve strokes and yet be out of the running is a slice of fortune not often equalled.

Mr. Wm. McLuckie, of Kanawaki, ex-Amateur Champion, with an 80, 78, 83 and 78 for a total of 319, was the winner of the Tournament, closely followed by the Provincial Amateur Champion, Mr. J. W. Yuile, of The Royal Montreal with 320. Other good scores were: D. V. McLean, Whitlock, 323; W. M. Hodgson, Royal Montreal, 324; A. B. Dowling, Whitlock, 328; G. H. Flynn, Pittsburg, 333; A. H. Ross, Summerlea, 335; H. W. Maxson, Country Club, 336.

The following is the full list of prize winners in this most interesting Tournament, the prizes being presented by Mr. Garth Thomson, President of the Quebec Association and Mr. W. George Kent, of the Whitlock Club:

dent of the Quebec Association and Mr. W. George Kent, of the Whitlock Club:

Macdonald Cup and first prize for best gross score for 72 holes—W. McLuckie, Kanawaki; J. W. Yuile, Royal Montreal, second; D. V. McLean, Whitlock, third.

Best 72 holes, net—A. H. Ross, Summerlea, 335—32=303, won; W. M. Hodgson, Royal Montreal, 324—12=312; A. B. Darling, Whitlock, and H. J. Wilson, Whitlock, tied with 316 for third place. A. B. Darling winning the play-off.

Best 36 gross for Friday—F. S. Molson, Royal Montreal. He won this after a play-off with H. W. Maxson, Country Club, and N. M. Scott, Royal Montreal.

Best 36 holes net Friday—G. M. Somerville, Kanawaki, after play-off with Melville Rogers, Rivermead, and H. R. Risebrow, Country Club.

Best 36 net for Saturday—G. H. Flynn, Pittsburg, after play-off with H. J. Wilson.

Best 18 holes net for Saturday—A. Whipp, Summerlea, and C. A. White, Sherbrooke.

All the entrants were loud in their praises of the Whitlock Course, which is now easily one of the finest in the Montreal District, and is worthy of being considered in the future for the staging of the Canadian Amateur or Open Championship.

INTERESTING EVENT AT NORWOOD

The Norwood Golf Club, Winnipeg, staged a particularly interesting event this month when the former Presidents and Vice-Presidents, honorary members and original members of the club competed for a shield. There were 25 entries, and M. A. Code was the winner with a net 65. The other scores were: W. P. Over, 69; E. J. Townshend, 71; W. M. Sinclair, 71; F. G. Simpson, 72;

J. T. Cuthbert, 73; A. G. McDonald, 73; B. O'Kelly, 75; R. L. Denison, 75; F. W. Stephens, 75; W. T. Chisholm, 75; T. S. English, 78; E. W. S. McVey, 78; A. B. Alexander, 78; E. W. H. Armstrong, 78; J. Mahood, 80; H. S. Patterson, 80; W. H. McPherson, 81; W. F. Minty, 81; J. E. Huxley, 81; H. Ford, 81; R. Y. Kilvert, 81; J. E. Barlow, 83; D. Mitchell, 83.

THREE CANADIANS IN SEMI-FINALS

GOLFING history is being made this week at Ancaster, where under glorious weather conditions the ladies are fighting it out for the Golfing Crown of Canada over the championship course of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club.

On Thursday the play in the last eights resulted as follows:

Mrs. Hope Gibson, Hamilton, defeated Mrs. F. C. Letts, Jr., of Chicago, 5 and 4.

Miss Collett, Providence, R. I., defeated Mrs. Reinhardt, of Chicago, 5 and 4.

Miss Ada Mackenzie defeated Mrs. Sterrett, of Hutchinson, Kansas, 2 up.

Mrs. H. G. Hutchings, of Winnipeg, defeated Mrs. Mulqueen (nee Miss Sidney Pepler, Close Champion of Canada), 4 and 3.

At the time of going to press the semi-finals are being played off—Mrs. Hutchings vs. Miss Ada Mackenzie and Miss Collett, holder of the title, vs. Mrs. Gibson, Ontario Champion.

This means a Canadian player must be in the finals Saturday, Sept. 20th. This will be a 36-hole match. This is the first time since 1921 that a Canadian has reached the last stage of the Championship. In 1922 at Toronto, Miss Stirling, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Gavin, of Huntercombe, England, fought it out, and in 1923 at Montreal, Miss Collett and Mrs. Gavin.

Mrs. Hutchings, of Winnipeg, with a brilliant 78, won the Qualifying Round of the Championship. Miss Collett was in second place, with an 81, and Miss Ada Mackenzie third with an 84.

Record galleries every day are following the matches.

YEA VERILY;

HE that dubbeth his first drive before the criticful gallery, needeth not that a Judge should inform him in the manner of just punishment; verily he shall feel ashamed; his only desire shall be that the whole plateau upon which the tee is erected, might sink to the uttermost depths of the earth, and that right hurriedly.

On the second tee, the culprit shall deliver a mighty swipe; upon which, his ball shall take unto itself wings, and soar unto great distance; thereupon with the philosophy, characteristic of his kind, he shall stand and deliver an oration in the presence of his fellows, in which he will express regret that this did not happen on the first tee, where his wife, with other enemies, had taken up a strategic position, well behind him.

This mood possesseth him as he grippeth his mashie, with the result that this, his second shot, receiveth direction, not so much from his stance, or swing, as from his disturbed mind. The ball, in turn, and in seeming disgust, pirouetteth somewhat aslant, and cometh to rest in the adjoining bushes. It shall be seen no more, until the awful day of reckoning, when it shall rise up in accusation against its murderer. With face deeply scarred, Silver-King, having slept with his fathers, shall tell how he might have led on to a glorious victory.

All through the contest, the player findeth it difficult to do his stuff, and, at times, altogether too frequent, he expresseth himself in language which it is not becoming to utter, and which causeth his fellows to become very gleeful.

At the nineteenth hole, a recounting is held, amid sounding glass and tinkling thimble. The offender is brought to account. He gradually cooleth off, and is again received into the circle of good fellows. Nevertheless, he resolveth to get off to a good drive on the next occasion.

He that forgetteth the injunction to keep his head down, and his eyes on the ball, shall, without peradventure, suffer remorse. And he that endeavoureth to display unwonted skill in the presence of an assembled multitude, shall surely make a monkey of himself.

SENSATIONAL GOLF BY MR. J. T. CUTHBERT

Wins the Manitoba Open Championship—Well Known Western Amateur Noses Out Many High-class Professionals with a Score of 303

SCORING the greatest victory of his career, Mr. John T. Cuthbert, Western Amateur Champion, and many times Manitoba Champion, last month came from behind and won the important Manitoba Open Championship in a very classy field of amateurs and professionals at the Winnipeg Club, where the Championship was held.

At the end of the first day, George Daniel, of the Assiniboine Club, Winnipeg, formerly of Mississauga Golf Club, Toronto, and winner last month of the Western Open Championship at Regina, with A. Pilon, who recently made a sensational 26 over the Thunder Bay course, of which he is professional, led the field by three strokes. They each had creditable cards of 149. Pilon faltered the second day, but Daniel was still playing fine golf the third round, getting a 75. His fourth round, however, was not up to his usual calibre, and he had to be content with an 80 for a grand total of 304, which was still good enough to lead the field.

Cuthbert, however, who was 154 for the first day, had a creditable third round of 75. With a 71 for the 17 holes of the final round he knew that it required a three to win the Championship at the quite difficult 18th hole or the 72nd of the Championship, which is a par 4. Mr. Sam Perlman, of the Winnipeg "Free Press," thus describes the thrilling final of this notable tournament:

"Standing on the 18th tee, Cuthbert lashed out a terrific drive, carrying the trees and stopping about sixty yards from the flag. When he stepped up to his ball, more than 1,000 spectators lined the green, pulling for the little amateur to win the title. Cuthbert took his mashie-niblick and unruffled by the tenseness of the situation, pitched across a bunker dead for the pin, the ball stopping about a yard from the flag, for one of the most spectacular shots of the tourney. When he sank the putt that gave him the Championship the crowd accorded him an ovation that he will long remember and which he well deserved. It was his greatest triumph of a long and brilliant career.

George Daniel, the Assiniboine Club pro., who finished in second place, one stroke behind the victor, had the title clinched when he started on his final round. He shot a 75 in the morning and had a lead of four strokes starting the afternoon round. After going out in 39, Daniel cracked badly, taking 41 for the last nine holes, including two sixes.

Joe Land, the Kirkfield Park Pro., also had a fine chance. After a fine 75 in the morning, he could have won with a brilliant finish, but he played only fair golf and his 78 gave him third place.

Ernest Penfold, the Winnipeg Club pro, was also in the battle all the way. He finished in fourth place, tied with Willie Kidd, four strokes behind the victor. Penfold shot a splendid 73 in the morning, but his 79 in the afternoon was not good enough against Cuthbert's machine-like steadiness.

For a time after Daniel cracked, it appeared as if Willie Kidd would retain his title. The Minneapolis professional, who won the Championship in 1923, registered a 73 in the morning and burned up the course in the first half of the afternoon round, going out in 34, two below par. But the pace was telling on him, and he faded like a snowball in July. Coming in, Kidd met his Waterloo at the thirteenth hole, where he took a seven. A six at the fifteenth eliminated him, for he took 42 and his 76 placed him in fourth place.

Never was a victory more popular than that scored by Jack Cuthbert. The brilliant amateur won because he played the steadiest golf of any player in the tournament. Wednesday he shot 75 and 79 and was five strokes down on the leaders. Yesterday his playing was practically flawless. He had a fine round of 75 in the morning and culminated with 74 in the afternoon. He nearly spoiled his chances of victory on the seventeenth in the afternoon, where he hooked his drive into the rough and shot his second into a bunker, taking five. But he came through on the last hole in a manner such as only a real champion could, and gained glory galore.

Mr. Cuthbert only last month won the Amateur Championship of Western Canada at Regina, so he has the quite remarkable honour of having both an important Amateur and Open Championship to his credit in one season—a feat rarely accomplished.

He has won well nigh every Western Provincial title during the past few years. He has also made a very creditable showing on three occasions in the Canadian Amateur. He first came East in 1920, where at Beaconsfield, Montreal, he reached the third round of the Championship, but he was put out by C. B. Grier, of Montreal, the ultimate champion, but not until he had taken his opponent to the 20th hole. It was a great match. At Hamilton in 1922 he also went to the third round, where he lost to W. J. Thompson, of Mississauga. At Kanawaki last year the Winnipeg crack reached the semi-finals, W. J. Thompson, the subsequent champion, once again accounting for him. So it will be seen against our very best Eastern players he has made a very good showing indeed. Cuthbert, who learned his game in Scotland, is the Golf Editor of The Winnipeg "Free Press." He not only plays sound golf, but he is also a sound golf writer.

IN AND ROUND THE CLUB HOUSE

Interesting Happenings on the Courses of Canada, Great Britain and the United States.

A despatch from Glenboro, Manitoba:

"In an interesting match, the Glenboro golfers defeated the Killarney octette by a score of 867 strokes to 941. D. J. Cline turned in the low score, negotiating the 18 holes in 86, doing the first nine holes in 42 and the second in 44. F. Frederickson went around in 99 while A. McNamme had the best card for the visitors, turning in a card of 104.

The scores follow:

Killarney—A. Middleton, 122; A. High, 121; E. Richards, 108; A. McNamee, 104; H. Montelle, 132; W. McKnight, 126; H. Feakey, 113; S. Evans, 115=941.

Glenboro—J. Olafson, 113; G. Garrett, 108; A. R. Cline, 114; D. J. Cline, 86; O. Sugurdson, 115; R. Mott, 122; F. Doig, 110; F. Frederickson 99=867.

A retired Indian Army colonel claimed that nothing, however trying, could make him lose his temper. One day this colonel, who was an enthusiastic golfer, encountered difficulties. It was on a new course, and his ball was badly placed in a deep pit. Fifteen solid minutes he spent trying to get that ball out, and all in vain. Gradually his face grew more and more purple as he tried club after club, and then, with a look of murder in his eye, smashed them one by one across a rock. "What on earth are you up to?" cried his companion. "It's all right," spluttered the colonel. "It's—it's better to—to break one's clubs than to—to lose one's temper!"

Some excellent scores were turned in at the annual caddy match of the Lambton Club, which was recently conducted by Jimmy Martin, the assistant professional, who had a field of 132 entries to handle. Arthur Owen won the first prize over the long course with a card of 93, while three others, Tom Grossett, Jack Logan and C. Fisher, tied for second place with 94. W. Gilbert, with 77, led the caddies who competed over the short course, having a margin of six strokes on his nearest rival, T. Younger, who had 83. Despite the fact that the match was attended by the usual rainstorm, some excellent scores were made.

A despatch from Fairfield, Conn.:

"The strange sight of woman beating man, was flashed before an interesting gallery here to-day when Miss Edith Cummings, of Chicago, national women's golf champion, won from Max Marston, of Philadelphia, men's national title holder, in one of four matches between men and women, played over the links of the Country Club of Fairfield. Miss Cummings, playing at the top of her game, caught Marston in the throes of bad golf, to win at three and two, claiming but three of her five bisques, the handicap allowed the women players. Jess Sweetser, New York, former amateur titleholder, beat Miss Glenna Collett, of Providence, former women's champion, two up, while Francis Ouimet, the former national amateur and open champion from Boston, vanquished Miss Marion Hollins, of Westbrook, L.I., former titleholder, three and two.

Quite a record hole-in-one was recently made in England when Mr. J. C. Brooks did the 17th of a London club, measuring 300 yards, in one.

A Cobourg correspondent writes:

"Playing over our course last month, Captain Dick, the President of the Club, lowered the record of the course with the following score: 4,2,3, 5,4,3, 5,2,4=32. The par of the course is 36. Captain Dick is well known in Toronto circles, being a member of the Toronto Golf Club.

The club is having one of the most successful years it has ever had and on account of the enthusiasm shown and the large increase in membership the Directors feel encouraged to go ahead with a number of improvements which will lengthen the course and help prevent overcrowding."

Carl H. Anderson, Golf Manager of the Park Club, Buffalo, who took part in the Canadian Open Championship, writes the Editor:

"I want to say a word of praise for the very fine course at Mt. Bruno. I am a home-bred professional, but have been to Florida many times, once in California, many times to the middle west, have played the National, Lido, Pine Valley, Myopia, Braeburn, Oakmont; also St. Andrews, Carnoustie and a few others in Scotland, but never before have

I seen a golf course so simple and yet so fine as Mount Bruno. Only a master like Willie Park could conceive such a course and had he been in health at the last Open he would have showed some of the boys how to putt on the greens. I did not play well in Canada, but I have never enjoyed a tournament as I did the last Canadian Open, largely because of the beautiful, apparently easy, but testing course.'

The Secretary of the Muskoka Lakes Golf and Country Club, Ltd., writes:

"Two important events took place on our course recently, one of which was the Muskoka Lakes Amateur Golf Championship, the play was over 36 holes and Mr. B. L. Anderson, Secretary of the Canadian Golf Association, was the winner and received the cup donated by Mr. C. F. Wheaton, of Toronto. Some of the scores turned in were as follows:

|---------------------|-----------|
| B. L. Anderson | 78-79=157 |
| H. G. Kling | 84-82=166 |
| H. Beemer | 82-87=169 |

| E. F. Ridsen | 83-91=174 |
| John Lindsay | 89-85=174 |

| Dr. G. H. Southwick | 93-90=183 |
| J. A. Ogilvie | 93-90=183 |

The second event was the contest for the J. Herbert Hall Shield, for the best net score played for by the members of the Club, and it was won by Dr. J. R. Hutcheson, of Grand Rapids, Michigan.'

Mississauga, Toronto, visited Brantford last month for the return match and were defeated by 3 points. The feature of the day was a smashing 68 by the Ontario Champion, Mr. W. J. Thompson. This ties the professional record of the course, held by Captain C. H. Perkins and beats by two strokes the former amateur record held by Mr. John Lewis, of Brantford. Mr. Thompson was driving an exceptionally long ball. But for one indifferent 6, he was playing par golf or better at nearly every hole.

The last month produced the handicap champion of Brandon Golf and Country Club for the season 1924, when P. J. Harwood won the final match against A. W. Kay by coming home 2 up. Great interest was attached to the game, as Kay's handicap is 8, while Harwood's is 20. This meant that Kay had to give Harwood 12 strokes in the match, which means hard work all the way. In the actual play Kay did not play up to his handicap, while Harwood was right up to form. Early in the match Harwood took the lead and was never headed at any stage. At the turn he was two up and at the end of the 15th hole he was dormie 3. Kay won the 16th and 17th, but Harwood took the 18th to win 2 up. Great credit is due Harwood as he is a comparatively young golfer.

THIS GAME OF "GAWF"

(By Carroll W. McLeod, Kenora).

For years I'd read of many sports, the wonders of each kind.
Of golf I'd read the most of all, the truth I sought to find.
I took a bag of clubs and balls, to play this game called Gawf;
I teed and struck with might and main, the Pro. remarked, "You're off."
I used a driver first of all, then a stick they call a brassie;
The iron they handed next in turn was clearly labelled mashie.
I mashed that ball you can be sure, it started on a ride,
But down into the mud it sank, instead of far and wide.
I reached the flag quite out of breath, my strokes could not be numbered.
That rubber spheroid dodged about, I putted on and blundered.
I made the round I will confess, my score was high and weighty;
Those nine holes that had looked so short, loomed more to me like eighty.
Now, anyone who talks down golf, just send them in to me.
It surely is one grand old game, to show one up, you'll see.

The Invitation Tournament at Scarborough, Toronto, last month was a great success. It was participated in by the leading amateurs and professionals of Toronto and nearby cities. The result was a brilliant win for Nicol Thompson, the Hamilton expert, who with a 74 and a remarkably fine 75 in the teeth of a gale of wind in the afternoon registered a 149 for first place. Close at his heels were A. J. Miles, the Mississauga pro, with 153, and "Don" Carrick, the brilliant junior champion, with 154.

The best single round of the day was that made by Frank Murchie, professional of the Humber Valley Club, who seemed to have little chance to secure a part of the prize money after playing the first eighteen holes. Murchie turned in a card of 74 for his afternoon's play, which was one of the features of the tournament. The prize money for the professionals was won by Thompson, Miles and Murchie; for the assistant professionals by Attridge, James Martin, Lambton, and Charles Nixon, Toronto, and the prizes for the members of the Scarborough Club were presented to "Don" Carrick, George S. Lyon and G. P. Shaw.

Cards of 170 or better were:

A very promising new Province of Quebec Golf Club is that of Drummondville, recently organized with an enthusiastic membership of some fifty leading residents. Prospects are very bright for a most successful club at Drummondville.

Leading members of the London Hunt Club are considering holding a Western Ontario Tournament next year at London. The idea, which is an excellent one, is to confine the players to Windsor, London, Hamilton, Brantford, Galt, Kitchener and other cities and towns west of Toronto.

Mr. D. W. Wedderspoon, Secretary of the Yorkton Golf Club, Sask., writes:

"This year our club has had a membership of about one hundred and twenty and interest in the game is as keen as ever. We have the usual competitions and I am glad to state that the younger players have developed to such an extent that they are factors to be seriously considered. We are obliged to look for a new location for our course and have made arrangements for purchasing a quarter section of land about three and a half miles from town. This land offers great possibilities for a nine-hole course of about 3,100 yards. The land is gently rolling and there are numerous natural hazards in the way of trees, etc., which will enable us to have a good course without much expense for clearing. The fairways are practically wholly on cultivated land, which is being worked down and seeded this month. Carter's Seeds are being used and we had a visit from their representative recently. He expressed the opinion that the soil was very suitable for making a good turf. We have incorporated The Yorkton Country Club for the purpose of financing the matter, and the response to the canvass for shares has been very gratifying. It is possible that play on the new course may be had next year but we are not counting definitely on it until 1926."

Some fifty Scarboro caddies took part in the annual caddie matches at that well known Toronto club. Sixteen year old Harley Trudell and sixteen year old John Littler with very fine scores of 85, tied for the Championship, which was eventually won by Trudell at the 22nd hole with a birdie 4. Trudell obtains possession of a handsome trophy for one year, the gift of A. D. Gorrie, and a miniature of the cup from the club. He received from Major Bell a cheque for $20, with which he is to purchase school supplies, while Littler was given $10, also with the same advice, as a special prize as runner-up. Other prize winners were: First flight—S. Kidd, 91; David Armstrong, 92; W. Kemp, 96; K. Whelan, 97; M. Whelan, 97; L. Parkinson, 99; David Ormerod and F. Woolley, 101; W. Miller and David Dix, 107. Second flight—George Spurgeon, 99; George Browning, 107; Edward Priestman, 105; W. Trudell, 118; R. Ostler, 126; E. Moore, 129; G. Clarke, 136, and R. Clark, 134. Third flight (nine holes)—G. Armstrong, 65; George Stevens and Harold Fossey, 68. The President of the Club, Mr. A. F. Riddell, presided at the annual dinner at the club house, which followed the game. Several of the boys made speeches and "Davie" Armstrong was loudly applauded when he suggested to Mr. Riddell that the club at its annual meeting might authorize the opening of the course to the caddies for play once or twice a week.

Captain Melville Miller, Secretary of Islington, one of the latest and most successful Toronto Golf Club, writes:

"We do not anticipate having any trouble in closing our list before the season opens next year and it looks as though the higher we put our stock the faster it goes. We started charging green fees the first of the month and our takings for two days amounted to $94.00. Not so bad for a baby organization, but we look to do much better than this before the summer is over, as the best of the golfing season is yet to come. We are now busy furnishing the club house, snack room and locker rooms with the idea of having a grand old house warming in the near future."

He has been in Canada for several weeks, with the intention of proceeding to the United States, where he had the choice of two positions, but found this impossible through immigration regulations. Playing over the Cedar Brook course some days ago with officials of the club, Brooks impressed them as a golfer with a thorough knowledge of the game.

A despatch from Kerrobert, Sask.: Six Kerrobert golfers—E. L. Hanbidge, F. J. G. Barber, J. M. Hanbidge, L. Snell, W. J. McMullen, and W. Herity—visited Biggar to play that town for the Dark Cup, which is decided by holes. R. L. Hanbidge and W. Herity halved their matches. Barber was seven down, Snell six down, J. M. Hanbidge four down, and Kerrobert stood seventeen down, with one match to finish. As McMullen approached the club house he inquired, 'How do we stand?' A downhearted chorus replied, 'Seventeen to tie, eighteen to win.' McMullen then astounded all present by replying, 'We have 'em.' Great excitement followed when McMullen handed in his card, showing he had won all eighteen holes of the round, thus giving Kerrobert a remarkable victory to win the cup by one hole."

The final match in the championship of the Whitlock Golf Club, Hudson Heights, Que., was held this month. It was a 36-hole contest, and was contested between A. B. Darling and D. V. McLean. At the end of the morning round Mr. McLean was 3 up and continued his success in the afternoon, ultimately terminating the match at the 31st green, 6 up and 5 to play. The players were accompanied by an enthusiastic gallery, particularly in the afternoon, who witnessed some very good golf. Mr. McLean's game was, however, slightly steadier than that of his opponent. Mr. McLean is a new member of the Whitlock Golf Club this year and received congratulations from his fellow members on his wonderful game.

Frank Lewis, professional of the Beach Grove Golf and Country Club at Walkerville, recently took part in a match 35 players a side, between Beach Grove and the Detroit Masonic Country Club, over the course of the latter club and succeeded in equalling the course record, viz.: a 68, made up of a 35 going out and a 33 coming in. Lewis was using the new North British Company's Red Superflite for the first time. He states that this ball, which will be available for the Canadian market next season, is the longest driving and best putting ball he has ever played with.

THE MANITOBA AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP

Won by F. F. Tribe, of the Norwood Club, Who Twice Before Has Been a Finalist—Defeats J. T. Cuthbert, the Title-holder, by a 6 and 4 Margin

PLAYING some of the best golf he has ever done, and he has played some very fine golf on many courses, Mr. F. F. Tribe, the long-hitting Norwood Club golfer, of Winnipeg, last month won the Manitoba Amateur Championship. And no one begrudges him his well earned victory, because he has been three times "knocking at the door" in the finals, and his opponent each time has been Mr. J. T. Cuthbert, the 1923 title holder.

And there was no question about the merits of the victory, because Tribe took the Canadian Western Amateur and Manitoba Open Champion into camp to the tune of 6 and 4. The event was staged on the St. Charles Country Club Course and there was a representative field of entrants. The best cards returned were

Mr. F. F. Tribe of the Norwood Golf Club, Winnipeg, Winner of the Manitoba Amateur Championship.

The first 32 scores qualified for the Championship, so the 85's had to go into the Second Flight.

It will be noticed that four tied for the Qualifying Medal with cards of 78. In the play-off in the face of a strong wind, playing brilliantly, J. W.

Thompson, of Elmhurst, with 79 won the gold medal. F. F. Tribe had an 83, M. Thompson 84, and C. J. Martin 85. Matt Thompson had a 9 on the 17th and ruined his chances, which at one time looked very bright.

All the rounds were well contested. The following was the result in the last eights:

J. W. Thomson beat D. N. Arnott 1 up.

F. F. Tribe beat C. W. Jackson 4 and 3.

Matt Thompson beat F. T. Chisholm 4 and 2.

J. T. Cuthbert beat K. C. Allen, 6 and 5.

In the semi-finals there were two quite thrilling matches. F. F. Tribe eventually defeating J. W. Thompson 2 and 1, after a very up-hill fight, and J. T. Cuthbert, Matthew Thompson 2 up. The Cuthbert-Thompson match was especially a hard fought out one. A topped tee shot at the last hole deprived Thompson of his last chance to make his way into the final. Cuthbert had a 75 and Thompson 78.

Tribe's victory over Cuthbert in the finals was the result of fine, steady golf, featured by long, straight driving. But it was in his putting that he excelled over his opponent. The Western Amateur Champion was not getting them down and largely as a result at the end of the first 18 holes he was six to the bad.

In the afternoon Tribe commenced to slip a bit and lost three of the first four holes. He, however, won the next two and the Championship after that was never in doubt.

The match was practically settled when Cuthbert pulled to the woods at the 28th hole, and lost it. Indifferent play by both finalists at the 29th resulted in a half, but Cuthbert prolonged the finish by getting a fine three at the 30th, again cutting down the lead to four. At this hole Tribe hit a terrific tee shot, which finished about a hundred yards short of the green. The length of the hole is 424 yards, and the hard-hitting Norwood player only had a little chip shot to get the green. Cuthbert, however, played a beautiful approach shot to within six feet of the pin and holed the putt. Tribe became dormie five at the next, recovering well after a badly sliced second, to get down in par five. It was all over at the 32nd, Tribe getting another very long ball off the tee with the wind. Cuthbert made a fine effort to get down a long putt to try and keep the game going, but the ball stopped on the lip of the cup and Tribe sank his for a four and the Championship.

Tribe came in for all sorts of congratulations and well deserved compliments as the result of the splendid game he put up. He has been many times champion of the Norwood Club and has always been well up in the Western major competitions. His winning of the Manitoba Championship was a most popular one. He will unquestionably be heard from in years to come in the big events. He has got the skill, and he has got the fighting spirit.

The golf played in the final of the second flight between J. S. Wight, of Southwood, and C. E. Hedge, of Alcrest, was almost as good as that in the Championship proper. Wight was six up at the end of the first eighteen holes, which he finished in the very creditable figure of 78. Hedge put up a good battle in the afternoon, but found the lead too big to overcome, and he finally had to admit defeat by three and two.

VISITING IN SCOTLAND

Mrs. Dorothy Campbell - Hurd shortly after winning the U. S. Championship, left on a visit to her old home in Scotland. This explains her absence in the Canadian Ladies'

Championship at Ancaster. She would have been quite the stellar attraction there. She played over the Hamilton course for some two years whilst a resident of that city.

HUISH MAKES RECORD FOR VANCOUVER COURSE

"JIMMY" HUISH, of Vancouver, B.C., one of the best known professionals on the Pacific Coast, and one of the most popular, recently playing with Messrs. W. Hamilton and W. F. Goaffe, in a four-ball match, broke the long-standing record of 69 on the Vancouver Golf and Country Club course at Burquitlam, B.C. And this is how it was done:

Out 4,4,2, 4,4,4, 4,4,5=35

In 4,4,3, 4,3,3, 4,4,3=32=67

The par of the course going out is 36 and coming in 35, so "Jimmy" went it four strokes better. At the sixth hole, 615 yards, Huish registered a 4, and he also had a 4 at the 45 yard 13th. The only hole in the whole round in which he did not get par or better was the 350 yard ninth, where he took an indifferent 5. It will be noticed that he notched a two, 4 threes and 12 fours. Altogether extraordinarily fine golf.

Vancouver and Victoria both have a number of high-class professionals, all of whom, like Huish, have the records for their respective courses. At Shaughnessy Heights is Davie "Black"; at Jericho, A. Duthie; at the Marine Drive Club, J. Mackenzie; at Point Grey Davie Ayton, whilst Victoria boasts four particularly high-class pros in Phil Taylor, A. Marling, Fred. Burns and W. H. Gravlin. The golfers on the Coast do not lack for skilled instructors.
