"Golf Made Easier"

By CHARLES HERNDON, Los Angeles, and strongly endorsed by the Editor of the Canadian Golfer.

220 Pages, WITH ILLUSTRATIONS

This latest work on the Royal and Ancient game has unquestionably been acclaimed the greatest book on golf published in recent years. "Golf Illustrated", London, and the "Golf Monthly", Edinburgh, both acclaim it in their last month's issue as a book every golfer should have. And they are authorities. Golf magazines and golf experts in the United States are already on record to the same effect.

The Most Instructive Golf Book, The Most Logically Written Golf Book, The Best Arranged Golf Book, and the Most Beautifully Bound Golf Book Ever Published.

Youth Should be Encouraged to Play Golf.

From the view point of the future of golf in Canada, possibly the most pleasing feature of the Amateur Championship at Montreal last month was the way the young players forged to the front. Amongst the qualifiers were Bobby Reith, of Winnipeg, and F. Corrigan, of Ottawa, only 16 years of age; Phil Farley, of Toronto, just turned nineteen, and R. Costello, Montreal, a year or so younger, whilst only a year or so older were Jack Nash, of London, and Ken Black, of Vancouver. Then there was Nicol Thompson, Jr., of Hamilton, in the early twenties. These young golfers not only qualified amongst the best 32 players in a field of over 120 of the outstanding amateurs of Canada and the United States, but Thompson and Costello went into the second round of match play and Farley into the last eights where he was put out by "Ducky" Yates, of Rochester, who ultimately went through to the final. Altogether an outstanding performance upon the part of the recently crowned young Ontario Amateur Champion. Golf is no longer an old man's game, an opprobrium, under which it has suffered for many years. It is pre-eminently the young man's game. Sixteen and eighteen-year-old golfers are crossing clubs with "veterans" of thirty or more and outdriving and outplaying them through the fairway and through the green. If Canada is ever to produce an International champion, which she has not done up to date, it will be by the young man route. The moral of all this is that youth should be encouraged in every way by club executives and given every opportunity to perfect its game and not be discouraged as unfortunately in the past has been altogether too often the case, especially amongst some of the older clubs. In golf as in every other sport youth to-day will not be denied. "Old Timers" may not like it but they can no longer prevent it and in the best interests of the future of the game in the Dominion, it is a good thing they can't.

Since the above was written late English papers to hand quite feature an article by Sir Ernest Holderness, one of England's crack amateur golfers and a former champion, in which he blames the failure of Great Britain to win a single Walker Cup team match, on the restrictions laid upon golf by the English schools.

"Golf accoutrement," says Holderness, "is considered bad form in a school-boy's locker at Eton, Harrow or Rugby. Those who would dabble in this reprehensible diversion must squeeze in a surreptitious round after hours. Hence it happens that the American amateur is a polished stylist, a finished golfer, when his British cousin is just beginning to take up the game seriously."

After all "catch 'em young" is the only recipe if you want to develop super-golfers.

St. Andrews to Enact Charge for Spectators. Shades of the glorious golfing past! The British Open Championship is scheduled to be played at auld St. Andrews in 1933 but the Royal and Ancient has notified the officials of St. Andrews that unless an admittance fee is charged spectators, the championship will be awarded another club. For hundreds of years the links at St. Andrews have been free alike to the inhabitants of the ancient burgh and visitors. A special act of the Imperial Parliament will be required to legalize an admittance charge to the courses and the Town Council of St. Andrews has decided, rather reluctantly, to petition Parliament to enact the necessary legislation, which will be more or less of a costly character.

So golf is at last to be commercialized in the very cradle of the game. It seems a pity, but the staging of golf championships now-a-days costs a lot of money and associations have to provide themselves with the pounds, shillings and pence or dollars and cents, as the case may be, necessary for their proper conducting. It is only a very few years ago, that the Royal Canadian Golf Association, enacted an entrance fee to witness the Open and Amateur Championships of Canada. The United States was the first country to make a gate charge and there some $25,000 is raised every year by this means. This season in Canada a sum probably in the neighbourhood of $6,000 was collected by the R.C.G.A. from the galleries which witnessed the Open at Mississauga and the Amateur at the Royal Montreal last month.

The Lady Golfers Will Now be in the Picture. The lady golfers of Canada will have their innings from September 28th to October 9th, when for two glorious weeks of golf they will compete in the Open Championship at the Rosedale Golf Club, Toronto, September 28th to October 3rd, and the Close Championship at Lambton, Toronto, October 5th to 9th. Mere man would never think of playing two strenuous championships one week after another but the "ladies" seem to enjoy such a gargantuan feast of golf and come through the ordeal as fresh as the proverbial paint.

As the U.S. Ladies' Championship is to be played at the Country Club, Buffalo, which is only, comparatively speaking, a short motor or train run from Toronto, the week previous (September 21st-27th) to the Canadian Open it is certain that there will be a record number of entries from the United States. Then there is the added feature of the entry of Miss Enid Wilson, the famous long-hitting British Close and Open Champion. It is some years since an outstanding Old Country lady player has been seen on the courses of Canada and Miss Wilson is assured of a particularly hearty welcome and is bound to draw large galleries. The pick of the Canadian women, headed by Miss Ada Mackenzie, a former champion, will do battle at Rosedale and are in high hopes that they can stem the U.S. and British invasion, but they will have to play par golf or better to do so. The handicap for the Open is 14, and the entrance fee $6.00.

The Close Championship at Lambton, as its name implies, is restricted to Canadian players. Entrants must be members of clubs in affiliation with the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union whose handicaps are not more than 25. Six months residence in Canada qualifies a player to enter. Record fields for both events are already assured and both will be of a most colourful character. The present holder of the Open title is Miss Maureen Orcutt, White Beeches, N.J., and the Close, Miss Margorie Kirkham, Montreal.

(The Editor is always glad to answer questions about the Rules, and other golfing matters, but owing to so many of these requests coming in every month, he must ask in future that a stamped-addressed envelope be enclosed with all such communications, otherwise they will not be answered.)

In Australia as in the States and Canada, youth is more or less dominating golf. Jim Ferrier, who recently won the Amateur Championship of New South Wales, is only 16 years of age.

The death is announced in England of the Rev. Dr. H. R. Gamble, Dean of Exeter. He took a very broad view of Sunday observance and had no objection to golf and other games being played in the afternoon. He even allowed the choir boys at Exeter Cathedral to play cricket on Sunday, after afternoon service.

Bobby Jones, the one and only "grand slam" in golf, was a visitor to the Toronto Exhibition last month and took a few hours off to limber up on the Toronto Golf Club with a few friends. His play was keenly watched. Although a bit stiff the four-times champion clicked off a 74. He had never played over the Toronto links before and expressed himself as greatly pleased with them, considering them a splendid test of good golf.

Announcement has been made that an agreement of sale has been entered into by the Cataraqui Golf and Country Club, Kingston, Ontario, for the purchase of the Gravelle farm, a property located on the west side of the present golf course. The land comprises about 75 acres, and extends from the front road north to the Bath road. Experts, who have passed on the new property, say that with the present land, the course, when the three new holes are completed, should be one of the finest in Ontario.

Despatch from St. Thomas, Sept. 13th:—

"The Tillsonburg Golf and Country Club was visited at the week-end by Right Rev. Arthur Foley Winnington-Ingram, Bishop of London, England. His Lordship is visiting with relatives in Aylmer, and expressed a desire to play on the Tillsonburg course. He was accompanied by R. L. Leach, manager of the Royal Bank in Aylmer. His Lordship was welcomed by the president, S. G. Vance, and Secretary A. M. Hare. A foursome was arranged, His Lordship and Mr. Leach playing Mr. Vance and Mr. Hare, resulting in a win for the visitors. After the morning round was played the visitors were entertained at luncheon in the club house, the president of the ladies' section, Mrs. W. G. Pow, and Mrs. Rankin acting as hostesses. Bishop Ingram accepted an honorary membership in the club."

It is with very much regret that the "Canadian Golfer" records the passing of Mr. James Edgar Skirrow, a member of one of Toronto's oldest families and for the past fifty years a prominent figure in the business life of Toronto. In his younger days he was associated with several business enterprises in Toronto, finally joining the Consumers Gas Company with whom he was associated for nearly forty years. Only July 14th last Mr. and Mrs. Skirrow completed fifty years of married life. Surviving him are his widow, three sons and four daughters: Edgar Wilfred, Homer Garfield, Elmore Gordon (advertising manager of the Dunlop Tire & Rubber Co. Ltd.), Misses Adella Irene, Reta Hazel, Eva Violet and Mrs. E. W. Brooks, all of Toronto. To the bereaved widow and family the sympathy of hosts of friends in Toronto and throughout Ontario will go out.

Despatch from Burlington, Aug. 21st:—

"A fancy drill demonstration by the local fire brigade at a garden party became more than a fancy drill here to-night.

The firemen had just finished showing the spectators what they do to fires when a real fire broke out in the Burlington Golf Club on the North Shore Road two miles away. There was no more fancy drill, and firemen who are members of the Citizens' Band exchanged instruments for helmet and hose.

The fire broke out in a shop adjoining the golf club and destroyed the building and much of its contents, mostly golf bags and clubs belonging to members. The loss is estimated at about $8,000. The Burlington brigade prevented the flames from spreading to the club building. The Hamilton brigade helped, but arrived after the flames were under control."

"The Greenbrier" (and cottages), White Sulphur Springs, Virginia, is one of the most beautiful and historical resorts on the continent. No other fire-proof, European plan, year 'round resort hotel, with accommodations for more than a thousand guests, approaches "The Greenbrier" in comfort and beauty and complete appointment. Canadians planning outings the next few months can make no mistake in including "The Greenbrier" in their itinerary. Here they will find the acme of comfort and service. An airport of the first class, 2,500x3,600 feet, adjoins the golf courses and provides the best possible landing field for all sized ships. The stables provide the best blooded of Kentucky and Virginia stock for those who wish to ride the 250 miles of mountain trails. And the three golf courses provide the finest resort golf in America.

"What more could one desire?"

In the passing of Mr. John A. McAvity, vice-president of T. McAvity & Sons Ltd., Saint John, N.B., loses one of its outstanding citizens and golf one of its leaders and pioneers. Mr. McAvity might almost be called the Father of Golf in Saint John, as he first took up with the game some thirty years ago. He was president for several years of the Riverside Golf and Country Club.

GLASSES

It is gayer, of course, and surprisingly inexpensive to have a bubbling drink in your champagne glasses for every dinner—if it's the Champagne of Ginger Ales—Canada Dry.

Canada Dry is a beverage worthy of a champagne glass, for it is an aristocrat. Frosted-gold in colour, with a delicate aroma, and a flavour as elusive as that of a rare old vintage—it has won the patronage of royalty the whole world over. You couldn't buy a purer, more healthful ginger ale—nor a more delicious one.

For, in this Champagne of Ginger Ales, there is the true flavour of the Jamaica ginger root. Canada Dry's exclusive process retains all the piquancy—all the delicious zest. To insure the utmost purity, the ultra-violet rays are used in making its ginger ale and Canada Dry will not turn "flat" like most carbonated beverages. The sparkle and life will remain long after the bottle is opened.

For convenience, order the special cartons of 6 or 12 bottles.

and was extremely popular "both on and off the links". A man of quiet, kindly disposition, he did not aspire to an outstanding place in public affairs that might have been his: but in his association with the firm of T. McAvity & Sons Ltd., had been one of Saint John's chief captains of mercantile enterprise. Though in his eightieth year, he was to a marked degree diligent, astute and keen of mind. He was respected and held in most affectionate regard by those associated with him.

It is with very great regret that the Editor recalls the passing in London of Mr. T. R. Clougher, well known newspaper man, who represented the Montreal Star and Toronto Globe in the Capital of the Empire. Mr. Clougher was also widely known as editor and publisher of "Golf Clubs of the Empire", a golfing annual, now in its fifth year of publication, which is a comprehensive directory of the clubs and courses in Great Britain, the Dominions and the Colonies.

Both in Canada and London Mr. Clougher took great interest in the work of the Anglican Church and was perhaps the most prominent layman in England connected with the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

Surviving are Mrs. Clougher and one son, to whom the sympathy of many friends in Canada will go out, in which expression the Editor begs leave to be associated.

Financial Post, Toronto:—

"Probably the most antiquated habit in business is our manner of writing letters. Why we should continue to say 'Dear Sir' and sign ourselves 'Yours very truly' when we write a letter giving the other man a piece of our mind is not easily explained. The old letter forms are stilted and the amazing thing is that more firms do not get away from them simply for the advertising value of more modernistic letter systems. We know of one firm that never uses 'Dear Sir' and the like but in the line that would ordinarily be occupied by the salutation it puts the first two words of the letter itself. Since these two words stand out it is essential that they be important and so the letter writer is forced to start his letter off with a bang. He can hardly make it read 'In reply' or 'We beg' He must start off with something like 'Write quick' or 'Sakes Alive' or 'Pay up.'

Just now we have received a letter from Ralph H. Reville, Editor of 'Canadian Golfer'. It has what would be a post-script in another letter. But it does not start off with 'P.S.' It starts off like this:

'FORE'

Ladies' and Men's Fall Tournaments at Royal York

A NNOUNCEMENT has just been made of two particularly interesting tournaments at the Royal York Golf Club, which has one of the finest courses in Canada. On Thursday, September 24th, there will be a ladies' tournament, 18 holes medal play, for handsome prizes. Then on Saturday, October 3rd, the men will have their innings. This will be open to all Canadian amateur players who are members of clubs affiliated with the R.C.G.A., and having a handicap of 14 or less. Eighteen holes medal play.

Entrance fee $1.00 for each player, the total of which will be used for prizes. Entries must be made through the club secretary. Entries to be sent to the secretary of the Royal York Golf Club by Wednesday, September 30th. Any player wishing to bring his own caddie must telephone 24 hours in advance to the Royal York caddie master, Ly. 1194.

Prizes—Team, best gross, four players from one club returning the lowest scores. Best nett, four players from one club returning the lowest scores. Individual, 1st, low gross, 2nd low gross, 3rd low gross, 4th low gross, 1st low nett, 2nd low nett, 3rd low nett, 4th low nett.

The Seniors' Northwest Golf Association

Judge Rigg, of Yakima, Wins the Championship. In Team Match Canadian Seniors Defeat the U.S. Seniors. Presentation to Senator Barnard, of Victoria, Founder of the Association.

THAT very fine organization the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association held its 9th annual tournament in the City of Victoria, B.C., the second week in August and over 130 veterans of the Pacific Coast, leading professional and business men of Victoria, Vancouver, Portland, Tacoma, Spokane, Yakima, Aberdeen, Everett, New Westminster and Medford, participated in the event. Altogether a gallant company of golfers from both sides of the Border played over the sea-skirted Oak Bay links at Victoria, B.C., and thoroughly enjoyed for four days alike the golf and the unbounded hospitality of the Victoria Golf Club, whose guests they were.

The tournament was notable for two outstanding features. For the first time two Seniors from the United States reached the finals and fought it out for championship honours, Judge H. B. Rigg, the stocky jurist from Yakima, eventually proving the victor over Winlock Miller, Seattle, the winner of the qualifying round, and so another Canadian golf championship reposes in the States. Generally speaking, the B.C. Seniors, however, have held their own remarkably well in this tournament and have more often than not annexed the championship. However, to offset losing it this year, they again retained the team match championship cup, defeating the Americans 25½ to 19½ points.

The other outstanding feature of tournament week was the presentation of a handsome watch and chain to Senator G. H. Barnard, the Founder of the Association. It was in 1923 that at a meeting called by the Senator at the Union Club, Victoria, the association was formed and from the very start was a great success. The tournament has gained in popularity year after year and no fewer than 1,457 golfers have competed in it since its founding. Senator Barnard, who was so signally and deservedly honoured, has seen "his baby" grow to a very lusty child indeed. During the past nine years he and succeeding presidents and officers of the association have always had the loyal and able support of Capt. J. V. Perks, who has filled the responsible position of secretary since the inception of the organization.

In the qualifying round on the opening day Winlock Miller, of Seattle, walked off with the honours, registering a brilliant 76—the best score ever recorded in the history of the association. The U.S. Seniors out of 16 players to qualify to play down in match play for the championships, returned no less than 12, whilst Victoria constituted the balance, namely

The Hon. Senator G. H. Barnard, Founder of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association, who was made a presentation by the members.

4. By the time the semi-finals were reached Mr. A. T. Goward was the only Canadian left in the championship. He is an exceedingly well known Victoria player having in the past won many B.C. titles, but he ran up against Judge Rigg at the top of his game and after a plucky fight succumbed to a narrow 1 up margin. The Judge in the final had little difficulty in disposing of Winlock Miller by 6 and 5. The newly crowned champion negotiated the first 9 holes in 34—and that takes a bit of beating by the best of 'em, veteran or otherwise.

Victoria's colours, however, were more than brought to the fore when R. W. Gibson captured the Class "A" championship and H. G. "Goldie" Wilson came through with the Class "D" title. J. W. Morris exploded some fine golf to win the first flight, while several Capital City representatives waltzed home to victory in the finals of the various flights.

The following were the final results in the various flights of this most successful tournament:—

Grand Championship—Judge H. B. Rigg, Yakima, defeated W. Miller, Seattle, 6 and 5.

First Flight—J. W. Morris, Victoria, defeated Captain Langley, Seattle, 3 and 2.

Class "A"—R. W. Gibson, Victoria, defeated E. J. Roberts, Spokane, 6 and 5.

Class "B"—R. A. Hulbert, Seattle, defeated E. C. Senkler, Victoria, 2 and 1.

Class "C"—E. G. Griggs, Tacoma, defeated A. Dickinson, Seattle, 1 up.

Class "D"—H. G. Wilson, Victoria, defeated T. J. Lewis, New Westminster, 2 up.

Second Flight—C. H. McCoy, Spokane, defeated F. T. Fischer, Seattle, 4 and 3.

Third Flight—D. Campbell, Bellingham, defeated A. L. Dunn, Seattle, 3 and 2.

Fourth Flight—Dr. West, Seattle, defeated C. C. Worsfold, New Westminster, 4 and 3.

Fifth Flight—W. W. Baker, Walla Walla, defeated Justice W. A. Macdonald, 5 and 4.

Sixth Flight—C. F. Swigert, Seattle, defeated H. J. McGinnitie, Seattle, 1 up.

Seventh Flight—G. R. Naden, Victoria, defeated Dr. A. E. MacKay, Portland, 5 and 4.

Eighth Flight—F. J. Fulton, Kamloops, defeated F. G. Taylor, Seattle, 1 up.

Ninth Flight—A. Gonnason, Victoria, defeated R. J. O'Reilly, Portland, 4 and 2.

Tenth Flight—A. S. Robertson, Victoria, defeated G. A. Todd, Seattle, 3 and 2.

General Money and Senator G. H. Barnard teamed well together to capture the four-ball competition by turning in a combined nett score of 139. The Senator went around in 88 and Money checked in with an 89. H. C. Cowles and W. C. Bell finished second with a total of 140.

Lacing a beautiful drive down the first fairway for 242 yards, C. R. Harold, Seattle, won the undisputed honours in the driving competition. The various class winners in the driving competition follow: Class "A", R. W. Gibson, 220 yards; Class "B", Captain Langley, 231 yards; Class "C", J. W. Morris, 220 yards; Class "D", C. R. Harold, 242 yards. H. C. Cowles won the daily putting prize by turning in an eighteen-hole card of 34.

L. A. Lewis, of New Westminster, won the bogey competition by romping over the well-trapped layout in 71, the best gross card of the tourney. He went out in even par, 33, and came home in 38. C. R. Harold was second with 72.

The score in the International match was as follows:—

United States		Canada
Judge Rigg	1	L. A. Lewis	2

At the jolly annual dinner at the Union Club which wound up the tournament (and at which the presentation to Senator Barnard, previously referred to, was made, with befitting speeches), toasts to the King and President were enthusiastically honoured. A. T. Goward, captain of the Canadian team, was called upon by H. S. Griggs, of Tacoma, president of the association and chairman for the evening, to propose a toast to the American team.

Mr. Goward paid high tribute to the United States golfers, and the manner in which they played.

"The Canadian Team" was proposed by J. H. Fuller, of Aberdeen, who spoke highly of the Canadian players, declaring that it was a pleasure to be defeated by such a team.

Asserting that the association tournament not only consisted of a game of golf between American and Canadian teams, R. W. Wilbur, of Portland, stated that such an organization did much to promote a feeling of International good will. Mr. Wilbur proposed the toast to the Seniors' Association.

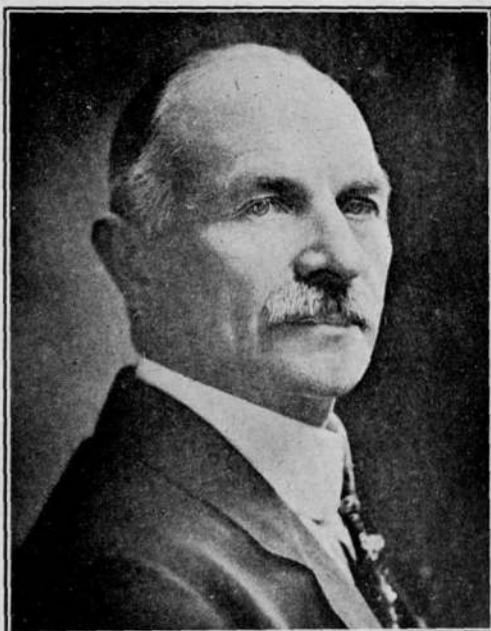

The following was the list of winners and prizes in this interesting tournament:—

August 11th—Qualifying round, Association Championships.—Best gross, medalist Class "C", Winlock Miller, 76, cigar box; best gross Class "A", E. J. Roberts, 85, brushes; best gross Class "B", W. J. Conway, 80, brushes; best gross Class "D", C. R. Harold, 78, brushes; best nett Class "A", A. F. Albertson, 71, pen and pencil; best nett Class "B", J. H. Bloedel, 64, pen and pencil; best nett Class "C", E. L. Howard, 63, pen and pencil; best nett Class "D", T. S. McPherson, 66, pen and pencil; E. J. Roberts, "A", 64; W. J. Conway, "B", 60; W. Miller, "C", 64. The above three were the best in their respective classes but had already won the best gross in their class and could not take two prizes with the same score. Putting, W. L. Bilger, 34, box balls.

August 12th—Putting, Captain W. Langley, 34, box balls.

August 13th—Four ball match—1st couple, General Money and G. H. Barnard, 138, umbrellas; 2nd couple, H. C. Cowles and W. A. Bell, 140, umbrellas; putting, H. C. International Match—Canada 25½, U.S. 19½, Nichol Cup won by Canada.

All America vs. All Canada—Won by Canada, 2 up, bottle of beer.

Delightful vocal selections during the dinner were rendered by J. R. Stirrat, of Seattle, and Dom J. Zan, of Portland, accompanied at the piano by Cecil Heaton.

During the tournament Phil Taylor, pro at Oak Bay, Bob Johnstone, pro at Seattle, and J. M. Healy and N. F. Ferris, looked after the starting and scoring in a most efficient manner.

On the whole, the veterans had a great week. They praised Capt. J. V. Perks for his fine work, while they thought Hugh MacKenzie, caddie master, and his bag-toters, were the best on the Pacific Slope. As a matter of fact, Judge Rigg claimed that his caddie was instrumental in winning the title.

At the annual meeting held during tournament week officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, C. F. Swigert, Portland, Ore.; 1st vice-president, W. E. Barnes, Vancouver; 2nd vice-president, E. E. Todd, Seattle. Governors selected for three-year terms were: Josiah Collins, Seattle; C. H. Jones, Spokane; H. S. Griggs, Tacoma; A. F. Albertson, Tacoma, and C. F. Adams, Portland. Governors for two-year periods were: C. B. McNeill, Vancouver; Senator G. H. Barnard, Victoria; A. T. Goward, Victoria; J. R. Stirrat, Seattle, and W. C. Butler, Everett, while governors for twelve-month terms follow: J. P. Babcock, Victoria; C. S. Battle, Vancouver; R. W. Wilbur, Portland; Judge P. S. Lampman, Victoria, and W. W. Baker, Walla Walla.

Captain J. V. Perks, Victoria, one of the Founders of the Association, was elected secretary-treasurer for the 10th successive term.

The following editorial from the Victoria "Colonist" is well worthy of reproduction:

"It is always a matter of both pride and satisfaction for Victoria's golfers to entertain the members of the Senior Northwest Golfers' Association, who foregather here annually for their tournament. These Seniors have expressed a predilection for Victoria as the venue of their meet. They come here year after year. It is a high compliment to the city and to the hospitality it has to offer, for customarily golf tournaments are held in rotation in different parts. The Seniors, however, have set a precedent. It is one that is flattering to this city and affords an incentive to the hosts of the occasion to increase their efforts in affording hospitality.

The Seniors who are visiting here are a thoroughly representative body of men. There is, in fact, no golf tournament in which the competitors are drawn from as many walks of life. It is all the more credit to them that they should compete in this way, and also that, despite their age, they should register such excellent scores, some of which are the subject of envy of those who are a score of years their juniors. Our visitors afford an illustration that golf is a game which can be played until a late period in life and in a virile way, which is at once an advertisement for the climatic advantages of the Pacific Northwest and for the class of men who inhabit this territory. Their coming here year after year is a tribute to our climate, our hospitality and to the permanent attractions which the golf courses of Victoria and vicinity offer."

The Women's International Matches

COMMENCING next year the women golfers of Great Britain and the United States will inaugurate an International series of matches which will take their place along with the Walker Cup contests as another golfing bond between the two countries. The first match will be played in England next year.

Negotiations have been carried on for a number of years to bring this newest of International competitions into being, and Miss Margaret Curtis, of Boston, who has been responsible, perhaps, more than any other single person, for the matches becoming an actuality, is coming in for all kinds of congratulations. Miss Curtis, who won the U.S. Ladies' Championship on three occasions, 1907, 1911 and 1912, and her sister, Miss Harriet Curtis, also a former U.S. titleholder, have donated a trophy for the competitions. Miss Curtis is elated over the fact that the U.S.G.A. and the British Ladies' Golf Union are sponsoring the matches but is not at all anxious to have the cup named in honour of the donors.

There is no question that these matches will be a great impetus to women's golf. Miss Curtis in discussing them recently, stated that she was quite sure that both Canada and France would join in a quadrangular series within a very few years.

The Bigwin Inn Tournament

Over 175 Players From Cities in the States Take Part in This Particularly Interesting and Successful Event.

THE 8th annual Bigwin Inn Tournament played last month under ideal weather conditions was a huge success, 175 players participating in this two-day event which was under the capable management of A. W. M. Neve, the popular professional at this well known summer resort, and Edward Field, the head caddie master. The greatest interest was taken in all the events and competition was very keen indeed both in the championships and flights and many good scores being turned in. Prominent cities from all parts of the States and Canada were represented by players and the tournament took on quite an International flavour, Canada more than holding its own in the contests. The following was the prize list of this outstanding summer resort tournament:—

Ladies' Championship (low gross)—Miss Turner, Hamilton, 93-93—186; Mrs. Greenman, New York, 102-98—200.

Ladies' Handicap (1st flight)—Mrs. G. Leonard, Hamilton, 81-98—179. Mrs. Payne, New York, 94-92—186.

Ladies' Handicap (2nd flight)—Mrs. Findlay, Buffalo, 99-101—200. Miss Moore, Buffalo, 103-97—200.

Men's Championship (low gross)—Harold Millichamp, Oshawa, 78-72—150; Harry Payne, New York, 84-79—163.

Men's Handicap (1st flight)—P. H. Douglas, Toronto, 78-70—148; H. C. Slein, Toronto, 78-72—150.

Men's Handicap (2nd flight)—H. G. Wales, Montreal, 83-72—155; L. W. Hull, 84-74—158.

As usual Mr. S. F. Washington, K.C., of Hamilton, former Crown Attorney of that city, made the presentation of the prizes in his customary witty and interesting manner. Many handsome trophies were carried away by the successful contenders and will serve to remind them of a particularly well run and enjoyable tournament. The course at Bigwin the past year or so has been greatly extended and improved and now provides one of the best tests of golf of any of the high-class summer resorts in Ontario.

The charming photographs which appear on the opposite page were taken during tournament week by Mr. Harry C. Slein, managing director of the Office Specialty Co. Ltd., Toronto, and recognized as one of the outstanding amateur photographers of Canada. Incidentally, Mr. Slein, it will be noticed, was amongst the tournament prize winners.

Stage All Set for Ladies' Championships

IT is very good news indeed to hear that Mrs. E. H. Vare, Jr., the former famous Glenna Collett, has decided to enter for the U.S. Ladies' Championship this month at the Buffalo Country Club. This means that she will also in all probability come on next week to Rosedale, Toronto, to participate in the Canadian Ladies' Open (Sept. 28th-Oct. 2nd). Mrs. Vare, it is understood, would not have entered any championships this season but for the fact that Miss Enid Wilson, the English Champion, is now in this country and will be an entrant both at Buffalo and Toronto, and she thinks that from patriotic motives she should enter the lists in defense of the U.S. title.

There is no question that Mrs. Vare is the greatest woman golfer the States has ever produced. Her record proves that. She has won the U.S. title four times, 1922, 1925, 1929 and last year. Twice has she annexed the Canadian Championship, 1923 and 1924, and in 1925 for good measure, the French Championship, not to mention the North and South Championship five times and other sectional events by the score. Her only setback during the past ten years has been in England. Four times has she assayed to capture the coveted British Championship, which has never been won by an American player, but the best she has ever done is to reach the final twice. In 1929 she was defeated by the greatest of all woman golfers, Miss Joyce Wethered, now definitely, unfortunately, retired from championship golf, and last year by young Miss Diana Fishwick, who sprang a great surprise when she defeated the U.S. ace quite decisively. Mrs. Vare is 28 years of age. Miss Wilson is this year celebrating her 21st birthday. The English champion arrived in Montreal two weeks ago and is tuning up on Canadian and U.S. courses and becoming acclimatized—a very wise procedure.

If by good luck, and a lot of luck enters into the game of golf, they should come together in the finals either at Buffalo next week, or Toronto the week after, galleries in the thousands will be attracted to see the play. Miss Wilson drives a longer ball than Mrs. Vare, and plays her irons just as well, but the American has the advantage of experience gained in many major championships for a decade or more, and experience tells as demonstrated only the other day by Francis Ouimet in the U.S. Amateur. With Miss Wilson and Mrs. Vare in the field, both the U.S. and Canadian Ladies' Championships this year will take on an International aspect which will lift them into front rank interest. The last time the U.S. Ladies' Championship was carried across the Atlantic was in 1913 when Miss Gladys Ravenscroft, now Mrs. Dobell, then Great Britain' outstanding lady player, won the title. Miss Dorothy Campbell, famous Scottish player, now Mrs. Hurd, had previously won it in 1909 and 1910, repeating in 1924, but Mrs. Hurd has now for many years resided in the States. The Canadian Ladies' Open Championship has been won six times by Old Country players, Miss Dorothy Campbell, 1910, 1911, 1912, Miss Muriel Dodd, now Mrs. Alan MacBeth, 1913, Miss Cecil Leitch, 1921, and Mrs. Gavin, 1922. U.S. women have won it seven times. The present holder of the title is Marion Oregutt, White Beeches, N.J.

The Canadian entrants at Buffalo are Miss Ada Mackenzie, Ladies' Golf Club, Toronto; Mrs. C. S. Eddis, Rosedale Golf Club; Miss Honor Bright, Niagara Falls, Ont.; Miss Margerie Kirkham, Quebec Lady Champion, and one or two other Quebec players. In all there are 88 entries.

The Municipal Championship of Winnipeg

THE annual Winnipeg Municipal Golf Championship, in a brilliant 36-hole final played over the two municipal courses—Kildonan and Windsor—was won by Dan Stack, the youthful Kildonan champion and the 1928 Municipal titleholder, who triumphed to the tune of 7 and 6 over Fred Walker, the Windsor champion. The latter played doggedly but despite his efforts was two down to his brilliant opponent at the end of the morning round at the clever Windsor links, and in the afternoon at Kildonan though staging a momentary comeback, the outcome was never in doubt and Stack swept to victory, well-earned.

Winnipeg, which for many years has enjoyed the reputation of being a most enthusiastic supporter of public golf, once again showed that the reputation was well-earned, when 270 players teed-off in the qualifying rounds at the Windsor and Kildonan links for the Winnipeg Municipal Golf Championship.

This annual tournament takes place in this wise. A qualifying round is held at both the municipal courses, Kildonan and Windsor. The survivors play down in match play until the ultimate victor emerges as champion of his respective club. The two champions then play-off in a grand final for the Winnipeg Municipal golf crown.

A phenomenal entry and sparkling golf marked the qualifying rounds at both courses. One hundred and seventy would-be champions teed-off at the Kildonan links, while Windsor followed with 100. Dan Stack, the ultimate municipal champion, led the field at Kildonan with a well put together 71 made up of a scintillating 32 and a more prosaic 39. He did not far outstrip his fellow-qualifiers for close on his heels came W. Keep, Fred Land, and J. Barry, all with 72. At the Windsor course the qualifying round was won by E. Brown, the 1930 Windsor champion, and H. Dennehy, the 1929 municipal champion, who tied with an excellent 71 for premier honours. Other good scores at Windsor were a 77 made by F. Walker and two 78's made by R. Landin and H. Cleal. The qualifiers were then grouped in flights, and proceeded to play down in match play for their respective club championships.

In the final of the Kildonan Championship Dan Stack in a nip and tuck battle defeated Fred Land 2 and 1. The 36-hole final was filled with thrills aplenty. Stack gained a two-hole lead in the morning round and though Land fought bravely he was unable to overcome this lead and forced to admit defeat.

At the Windsor Club the outcome was more convincing. Fred Walker triumphed over Edgar Browne, the 1930 Municipal Champion, in a 3 and 2 victory. The match was all even at the end of the morning 18 but in the afternoon Walker, due to superior skill with the putter, gained the lead and the match.

The club championships had now been decided and the respective champions came together to do battle for the Municipal crown. The morning round gave a slight advantage to Danny Stack, who finished 2 up. This lead acquired on the Windsor course of which his rival, Fred Walker, was the champion, gave him confidence and in the afternoon round at Kildonan Stack playing over his home course and unhampered by the gale of wind which swept the Windsor course was unbeatable and gave the large gallery an exhibition of superlative golf. He quickly increased his lead to 7 and ended the match at the 12th hole. He thus defeated his hard-hitting opponent, Walker, by the comfortable margin of 7 and 6. The Winnipeg Municipal tourney was in this way decided by an

keeps up a tradition

BILLY BURKE, in playing a Spalding Ball to win the U. S. Open, upheld a tradition of eighteen years' standing. For, with but one exception, the Spalding Ball has been played by the winner of the U. S. Open every year it has been held since 1913. The fact that not only the winner, but 96 of the 139 entries, played the Spalding is proof that this Ball has something that the champions want. The answer is that it is the one Ball that assures the maximum in controllability, uniformity, and distance.

Spalding Cushion-neck Steel-shafted Irons also are becoming traditional equipment for tournament winners. Billy Burke played them in his great victory. Tommy Armour played them when he won the British Open. Fifty of the 92 who played complete sets in the U. S. Open played Cushion-neck sets. The reason? They are the only clubs in the world that offer uniform, controlled torsion—and the straighter and longer shots it makes possible.

We are proud of the fact that Burke and Armour, as well as other entries and past winners, are members of the Spalding Field Advisory Staff—a group of leading golfers retained to carry out Spalding's policy of testing in actual play, as well as in the laboratory.

exciting final which was typical of the whole tournament—a success from start to finish.

The ladies, too, enjoyed a municipal championship in which the fair sex vied for stellar honours. Their event arranged along the same lines as that of the men was acknowledged by all, both from a standpoint of the enthusiasm shown by spectators and contestants and the brand of golf displayed during the tournament, to equal if not excel the male event.

Miss V. M. Gosbee was acknowledged the lady champion of the Windsor links when she turned back Mrs. E. Bruce, her nearest contender, to a 5 and 4 defeat.

Miss Elsie Berry advanced to victory at Kildonan when she defeated Mrs. M. Yule 5 and 3, her deadly putting largely accounting for her success. In the grand final of this most interesting event, Miss Gosbee, the Windsor champion, was acclaimed the new Municipal Champion, when she barely managed to obtain a one-hole lead after a thrilling ding dong 36-hole struggle. Miss Gosbee gained a 2-hole lead at her home course, Windsor, and though in the second round at Kildonan Miss Berry valiantly strove to overcome this advantage she was unable to do so, and by relinquishing a final chance to win the last hole which would have carried the match to extra holes and possible victory for her, was required to bow the knee to Miss Gosbee, who then became entitled to be acclaimed the Municipal Lady Golf Champion of Winnipeg—an honour indeed.

So ended the Winnipeg Municipal Championships which have few if any equals in Canada. Incidentally, the prize list was a very handsome one and the Winnipeg merchants contributed most liberally. By large and small Winnipeg looks after its municipal golfers better than any other city in Canada and that is something very much to the credit of the Metropolis of the West.

Lakeside Golf Club, Moncton, N.B., Has a Record Tournament

DR. L. H. PRICE, Moncton, N.B., is one of the few men in Canada to own a golf course—the Lakeside. He has spent much time, thought and money in developing Lakeside and has brought the course along from almost mere pasture land to its present splendid condition in a very few years. He has been rewarded with seeing his membership list swell appreciably each year, the number of golfers who play by the day has also grown. Lakeside now is one of the most popular courses in New Brunswick. All of which is remarkable work for one man to accomplish, but then the Doctor is quite a remarkable man and immensely popular in Moncton and district.

On Saturday, August 29th, an open handicap tournament was staged at Lakeside and was an unbounded success. Some 75 players participated including Senator Robinson, Senator Copp, Judge Jonah and other prominent New Brunswickers. Turning in a nett 57, which is certainly pretty good going, Noel Bryce, of the home club, romped home with the tournament cup. Clarence Upham with a nett 62 was runner-up.

Senator Robinson won the hidden hole competition while J. W. Fraser and R. R. Gander tied for the runner-up position in this event.

Don McNaughton, former Maritime champion, turned in the low gross card with two forties. His handicap of six put him well out of the running for the Colpitts Trophy, however.

Norman Ball won the driving contest with Edgar O'Brien in second place, in a tie with P. D. McNaughton.

The following is the complete prize list:—

Tournament Champion—Noel Bryce, nett 57—winner of the F. W. S. Colpitts Cup and a golf bag. Runner-up—C. Upham, 62—golf bag.

Hidden holes—Senator Robinson—8 golf balls. Runner-up—J. W. Frazer and R. R. Gander (tie), golf balls.

Low gross score—Don MacNaughton—driver.

Driving contest—Norman Ball, 8 golf balls. Runner-up—J. E. O'Brien and P. D. MacNaughton (tie)—golf balls.

The event this year was without a doubt the most successful ever held by the Lakeside Club. It drew a splendid lot of entries, among whom were some of the finest golfers in the Maritimes. The course was in splendid shape and Dr. L. H. Price, owner of the course, and his pro, Tom Tonks, came in for all kinds of praise for the manner in which the affair was conducted.

French River Golf and Country Club —Hole by Hole Description

(By E. H. Banks)

SITUATED alongside a secluded bay formed by an arm of the French River and within seven minutes by steam launch of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's bungalow camp at French River, Ont., on the C.P.R. Toronto-Sudbury there will be a gradual lengthening of several of the holes. The par of the course is 33, made up of six fours and 3 threes. There is an excellent club house and the club has been duly enrolled a member of the Royal Canadian Golf Association. The direct-line, the newly organized French River Golf and Country Club's nine-hole golf course will prove a severe test of the game even to the first-class player. It is a short course to be sure, but, as there is little run to the ball on the majority of holes, it is essential that the ball be played right up to the green. Accurate driving and pitching are absolutely necessary, and, when it is added that the greens are small but fast, it will be easily realized that only the very best can hope to get par.

At present the nine holes measure 2,205 yards, but from time to time ors are as follows:—E. F. Seagram, Waterloo, president; W. Bricker, Waterloo, vice-president; J. G. Strathdee, secretary-treasurer; E. H. Banks, Toronto; R. W. Scott, Toronto, and F. Marsh Richardson, Toronto. The course was built four years ago by Mr. Strathdee, at the instigation of Mr. Seagram, who has a summer estate in the district and there can be no two questions but that it has become a most popular adjunct to this well known bungalow camp.

Hole by Hole Analysis

Hole 1 (Riverside), 165 yards—par 3. A "teaser" of a hole to start off with as the tee shot, to get perfect results, has to be played on to a sloping hill slightly to the right of the small green to enable the ball to roll down and hold the green. A straight high iron to the green is apt to end up in the bunker down the hill to the left of the green as the run of the ground is to the left. An overplayed shot will find the woods.

Hole 2 (Hill), 260 yards—par 4. Another awkward hole as the fairway slopes to the right. A straight drive with slight pull will counteract the slope and then the pitch to the fair sized green is simple. The usual play is to drive on to the side of the hill to the left of the fairway and thus obtain a nice run down to the centre of the fairway. The hole is quite heavily bunkered along the right side and at the back of the green.

Hole 3 (Stump), 290 yards—par 4. A real good hole which is certainly helped by a long drive. The pitch to the banked up green may, however, be difficult as a good deal of thickly grown clover lies within pitching distance. A tight grip of the mashie will overcome this but the pitch must be high.

Hole 4 (Rocks), Length 115 yards—par 3. A perfect pitch shot is essential here as heavy rough and undergrowth lie between the tee and a fairly large green which is well bunkered. A heavy wood lines the left side of the fairway and green.

Hole 5 (Stags Rest), Length 210 yards—par 4. A straightforward hole but one that requires a full drive in the matter of carry as there is no run here. The green is very fast and difficult to hold.

Hole 6 (Punch Bowl), Length 150 yards—par 3. One of the best short holes in the country with the tee perched high up amongst an avalanche of rocks. A No. 3 iron played high will take you well on the centre of the bowl-banked green, but the green is so fast that plenty of back spin is a sine qua non. Many players use a spoon here with the ball teed up high. When an adverse wind is encountered here the hole becomes a real test of golf.

Hole 7 (Swamp), Length 305 yards—par 4. As the name "Swamp" denotes there is little run to this hole so the drive must have plenty of carry. The green is as well on the fast side and not easy to hold. One of the easiest pars on the course though.

Hole 8 (Woods), Length 310 yards—par 4. A very sweet hole with a bunker well placed to catch a short drive. The iron to the green must be played with plenty of back spin as the green is real fast and has a tricky surface. There is, too, quite a lot of clover in the vicinity of the green which prevents a run up approach. A difficult par.

Hole 9 (Dogs Leg), Length 400 yards—Par 4. A "corker" of a finisher as the alternative second shot over the trees to the green is most difficult. The sound player will respect the dog leg and make fairly certain of his par and a short run up approach to the green is quite easy. Going over the trees is extremely hard to judge as heavy woods guard the green at the back.

Altogether it can be said that the course is a most interesting one and the watering system which is now being installed throughout the fairways will make it well nigh perfect.

Amateur Champion Again Honoured by London Hunt Club

(Golf Editor London Free Press)

A WELL-DESERVED tribute was paid to C. Ross Somerville, Canada's greatest amateur golfer, four-time winner of the Canadian Amateur golf crown, and captain of the Ontario team in the Inter-Provincial competition for the Willingdon Trophy, by members of the London Hunt and Country Club, with visitors from all parts of Ontario and officers of the Ontario Golf Association at "Sandy Somerville Day", held at the London Hunt and Country Club, August 25th. One hundred and sixteen golfers competed in the annual captain vs. vice-captain match, while nearly 150 were present at the dinner held following the match.

That citizens of London, his fellow club members and golfers throughout the entire Dominion are highly proud of Somerville's great golf achievement, was evident by the wonderful ovation that Ross Somerville was given when he was introduced by President W. E. Robinson. Sandy was presented with a sterling silver hot water kettle as a token of appreciation by the members of the London Hunt and Country Club.

"Somerville Day" was an outstanding success from every angle. Competition was keen in the captain vs. vice-captain match, and Vice-Capt. W. C. Gordon's team won from Capt. Tom A. Browne's team by a single game, the score being 47 to 46.

John B. Nash, former holder of the Ontario Championship, and a prominent member of the London Hunt Club, won the prize for the best gross 18 holes. Nash turned in a 73. George B. Cogdon had the best nett 18, with a 65.

Somerville won his match from W. Thompson, but modestly refused to compete for the prize and when asked for his score merely said: "I won the match, but have no score."

A huge golf ball, supported by a set of clubs and draped with scarlet and blue ribbons, the colours of the London Hunt Club, was the table decoration in the centre of the banquet hall. When President W. E. Robinson introduced C. Ross Somerville the hall echoed with cheers.

In replying Ross thanked the members kindly and added that his ability as a golfer has improved during the last six years, but his ability as a public speaker was unchanged.

L. M. Wood, Toronto, representing the Royal Canadian Golf Association and the Ontario Golf Association, congratulated Ross Somerville on winning the Canadian Amateur. W. J. Thompson, Toronto, former Canadian Amateur golf champion, and now secretary of the Ontario Association, also praised Somerville's playing in the recent tourney.

E. C. Gould, Brantford Golf Club, thanked the members of the London Hunt Club for their hospitality and added his mead of praise to the four times champion and his notable accomplishments. Similar addresses were given by William Watson, Sarnia; John Grant, captain of the Essex Golf Club, Windsor; Dr. Ross, of the London Highland, and O. Gauld, of the Thames Valley.

Jack Cameron, Montreal, who reached the quarter finals at the Canadian Amateur golf championship tournament, also spoke.

Jack Nash's 73 was the best gross in the captain versus vice-captain match and the prize winners were as follows:—

- Best gross, 18 holes—J. B. Nash, 73.
- Best nett, 18 holes—George B. Cogdon, 65.
- Second best nett, 18 holes—F. S. Ashplant, 67.
- Best gross, first nine holes—Dr. W. J. Brown, 40.
- Best nett, first nine holes—A. T. Taylor, 33.

Windsor, Too, Should Get "Into The Municipal Game"

(Editorial Border Cities Star)

"FROM time to time The Star has published letters from citizens who protested against the plan of the Windsor Parks Board to establish a municipal golf course, on the ground that the city could not afford such an expenditure. The point seems to have been overlooked by practically every writer, that such courses have well-defined revenues and are always self-supporting. Many of them actually return substantial profits to the cities that own and operate them.

As an example of this, the experience of the City of Winnipeg may be mentioned. An article in the April issue of 'The Canadian Golfer' quotes the annual report of the Public Parks Board of the Manitoba capital. At the Kildonan Golf Club, operated by the Board, the total receipts for 1930 were $36,331 and the total outlay, $26,609, leaving the handsome cash balance of $9,722. At the Windsor Golf Club, Winnipeg's second municipal course, the receipts were $30,770 and expenditures, $24,589, the cash surplus being $6,180. The total number of games played at both courses was 91,206, compared with 88,028 for the year 1929. The income, of course, came from low green fees, locker fees, sale of golf balls, rental of clubs and sale of refreshments.

There can be no doubt whatever as to the feasibility of operating a successful municipal golf course in the Border Cities. We have a large population that is distinctly golf-minded, and we also have Detroit to draw on. Thousands of local persons, who cannot afford the heavy expense of belonging to private clubs, desire to play golf at a moderate figure. There is distinct and pressing need for a public golf course and the Windsor Parks Board is to be congratulated on its desire to meet this need. We hope that the Board, before long, will be able to secure a suitable piece of property and proceed with operation of a course. We have every reason for believing that it would be a distinct success and that, in the long run, it would not cost the taxpayers a cent. Detroit, London, and other cities are operating such courses and doing well with them. There is not a single reason why Windsor should have anything but the same experience."

Women Seniors will Foregather at Rivermead, Ottawa

ONE of the most colourful championships of the season is that of the Canadian Women's Senior Golf Association which will be held this year at the Rivermead Golf Club, Ottawa, September 22nd, 23rd and 24th, for which there is a large field of entrants. One of the most interesting competitions is that of "The Grandmothers". In this event there are cups presented by Mr. F. N. Southam, Montreal, for the best gross and best nett and there is always very keen competition for these prizes. In addition to the championship and other flights there will be driving, approaching and putting competitions for handsome prizes. Altogether the Senior ladies of Canada are in for three days of strenuous golf not to mention an annual dinner and other delightful entertainments provided for their enjoyment during their stay in the Capital. The hon. secretary of this very virile organization is Mrs. W. Garth Thomson, 4100 Cote des Neiges Road, Montreal. The champion of the Seniors is Mrs. Sydney Jones, Toronto, who has won the title twice and is rather looked upon to repeat again at Ottawa.

Manitoba Senior Golfers Form an Association

FOURTEEN years ago, the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association was formed at the Royal Montreal Golf Club and immediately registered a big success—the membership now is over 400. Then nine years ago, British Columbia decided to form an association of its own. Shortly afterwards, the Maritimes launched a Seniors' organization, to be followed three years or so ago by Alberta and Saskatchewan. Now the last of the Provinces, Manitoba, has decided to organize along Senior lines and this month a meeting was held in Winnipeg. A. B. Alexander was appointed secretary pro tem, and Messrs. E. H. Macklin, R. C. S. Bruce, George Wilson and Charles Heath were appointed a working committee to draft by-laws, etc. Mr. Wilson was chairman at the meeting.

It seems rather a pity that the Provinces should have broken away, more or less, from the parent Seniors, which organization was formed more or less for the purpose of bringing together the older golfers from all parts of the Dominion from time to time, but distances in this country are so great that it is hardly possible to carry out this laudable idea. The parent society is now virtually composed of residents in Ontario and Quebec and at that there is some idea in Windsor and points west, of forming a Western Ontario Seniors' Association. The annual tournaments of the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association are generally held in Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal, never in Western Ontario, hence the idea possibly, of forming a Western association. However, there is room for all these Provincial organizations owing to the wonderful increase in the number of men 55 years and upwards, the Senior qualification, playing golf to-day in every Province.

Previous to the formation of the Manitoba Seniors' Association a tournament was held at the Southwood Golf Club, Winnipeg. A well played 83 gave Judge J. G. Cory, of the Elmhurst Club, the championship, the first of the kind sponsored by the Manitoba Golf Association.

First place in the 55 to 59-year class went to A. B. Alexander, Norwood Club, who shot an 89. D. R. Laidlaw also had an 89 in this class, but he was counted out on the score of the last nine holes according to rules of the competition. Premier honours in the 60 to 64-year group were won by Neil Ross with a 91, while Frank O. Fowler, Pine Ridge Club, won 65 years and over class with a score of 88.

Championship of Province of Quebec

Former Scottish Players, Willie Lamb, Robbie Alston and Edwin A. Innes, More or Less Dominate Both the Open and Amateur Championships of the Ancient Province.

AULD SCOTIA was very much to the fore last month in the Quebec Championships. First of all, Willie Lamb, of the Uplands Golf Club, Toronto, a former young Scottish amateur, captured the Open Championship with the remarkably fine score of 142, or only two over par for the testing 36 holes at the Summerlea Golf Club, Montreal. Right on his heels in an exceptionally classy and representative field of the leading professionals and amateurs of Quebec and Ontario, was Robbie Alston, only one stroke back of him. Alston came to Canada a few months ago from Edinburgh, Scotland, and is holding down a job at the Boule Rock Club, Metis, Que. He recently showed that he had class plus by negotiating the Boule Rock course in 64 which is a record there. At Summerlea he carded a 69 on his second round or 1 under par. It looks as though in young Alston Canada has acquired a young professional who should make a name for himself next season.

Then in the Quebec Amateur, also held at Summerlea, the day following the Open, Edwin A. Innes, 24-year-old member of the Islesmere Club, Montreal, sprang a surprise when he lead a field of the best amateurs of the Province with a card of 145, or no fewer than five strokes better than C. C. Fraser, a former Canadian Amateur Champion, J. W. Yuile and E. W. Elton, who carded 150's. Innes came out to Canada three years ago. He learned his game in the small town of Dufferin, Scotland. He sprang into the limelight for the first time at the Amateur Championship at Montreal, when in the third round, Somerville had to play better than par golf to defeat him 7 and 5. Somerville tells me that Innes is the best putter that he has ever encountered in his long and brilliant career on the links. Altogether, former Scottish golfers are very much in the spotlight this season in Canada. They are certainly keeping the flag flying for the old home of golf.

In the Open Championship there was the best field ever registered for the event. Ontario sent up the Lamb's victory, which netted him $100, was a fitting climax to a wonderful season for the popular professional who has been in the money in just about every tournament held up to the present.

Lamb's card for the two rounds:—

Morning round—
Out	654 244 441—37
In	534 354 523—34—71
Afternoon round—
Out	644 343 444—36
In	445 344 434—35—71—152

This is the first time Lamb has won the Quebec Open. Last year, it will be remembered, he tied with Albert

H. Murray, of Beaconsfield, but lost in the play-off. The best Albert could do this year was 161, or 19 strokes back of his young rival.

Robbie Alston, in second place, drew down $50.

Andy Kay, the brilliant stylist of the Lambton Club, Toronto, and Canadian professional titleholder, took the third prize money, $35.00, with a score of 144. He led the field after the morning round with a 69, but lapsed in the afternoon, especially on the last nine, to take a 75.

In fourth place came Mr. Gordon B. Taylor, brilliant young Kanawaki, Montreal, amateur, with a total of 145. He had a 75 in the morning but came back to a par-equalling 70 in the afternoon. He secured the equivalent of $25.00. Fifth position was captured by Arthur Hulbert, sturdy Thornhill, Toronto, pro, who is a former Quebec Open titleholder. Hulbert's 70 in the morning led the early finishers, but he lapsed somewhat in the afternoon to take a 76. He pulled down $20.00.

Jimmy Johnstone, of Rosedale, Toronto, and Ernie Wakelam, of McKellar, Ottawa, were sixth ($15.00) and seventh, respectively, with scores of 148 and 149. Mr. William D. Taylor, of Summerlea, was eighth in the field and second amateur with a total of 150.

Tied for ninth place were young Dick Borthwick, assistant professional of the Toronto Golf Club, who played real golf in the morning with a 74 but faltered a trifle in the afternoon with a 77 for a 36-hole count of 151, F. Grant, the well known Country Club pro, and Mr. C. M. Stuart.

The fine showing of the amateurs, Messrs. G. B. Taylor, W. D. Taylor and C. M. Stuart was particularly gratifying.

The day was a perfect one for golf and the course proved well-groomed for the title play. The field of record proportions included professionals and amateurs from Quebec, Ontario and New Brunswick, and formed the most prominent entry in the history of the event. Large galleries watched the play of the leaders.

The Amateur Championship of Quebec

As previously mentioned the Amateur Championship of Quebec, which was held the day after the Open, saw the crowning of a newcomer to Montreal. With rounds of 75 and 70 for a total of 145, E. A. Innes, the Islesmere Golf and Country Club player rather spread-eagled a representative field. He succeeded Norman M. Scott, the all-round star of the Royal Montreal, who was the title-

Innes' game this season has greatly improved and he well deserved to win Quebec's stellar title. The Outremont Cup, emblematic of the championship, was presented to him by Mr. George H. Forster, president of the Quebec Golf Association.

Five strokes behind the new champion came the three veterans, C. C. Fraser, of Kanawaki, J. Watson Yuile, of Royal Montreal, and Ernest W. Elton, of Summerlea. In a play-off, Fraser was returned the winner of second honours. Elton was eliminated at the first hole when he hooked his tee shot into a creek, and Fraser and Yuile continued to the third hole, where the latter missed a five-foot putt to give the Kanawaki star the victory.

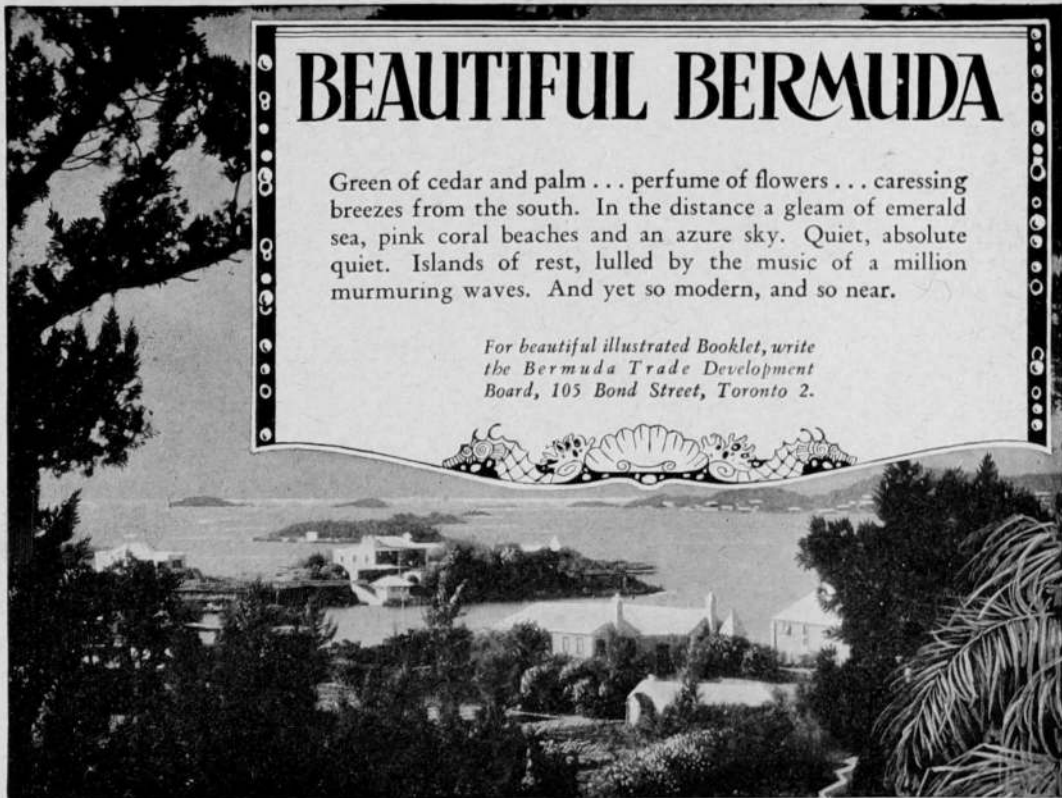

The prize for the best nett score over 36 holes went to Frank Corrigan, brilliant 16-year-old member of the Chaudiere Club, Ottawa, who had a mark of 136. His gross scores were two 76's and his handicap eight. The award for the best 18-hole gross went to a youthful Summerlea star in J. D. Cageorge, who led the morning field with a mark of 71. Cageorge blew up in the afternoon for an 83. The best 18-hole nett score was turned in by W. Hunter, of the Lake St. Louis Club, with a 66. His afternoon score was 75.

The competition for the Montreal "Star" Trophy, emblematic of the team championship in the event, resulted in a win for Summerlea. The team composed of Hugh Jaques, E. W. Elton, W. D. Taylor and G. E. Fenwick, scored an aggregate of 304 for each of the rounds and took honours by a wide margin, with a 36-hole total of 608. Kanawaki was second with 627. Its team was composed of C. C. Fraser, G. B. Taylor, T. G. McAthey and P. H. Walker. Third honours went to the Laval-sur-le-Lac team with a total of 629, made up of the scores of Jack Cameron, J. A. Archambault, P. St. Germain and E. Savard. Royal Montreal's first team, composed of N. M. Scott, J. A. Fuller, G. H. Turpin and J. W. Yuile, came fourth with 633. Marlborough's team—C. M. Stuart, R. E. Costello, Roy Mackenzie, J. O. Cleghorn—was fifth with 641. Beaconsfield followed with 643, compiled by Colin Rankin, R. C. Smith, Leo Ryan, and R. B. Chillas. Summerlea No. 2, Royal Ottawa and Royal Montreal No. 2 followed with scores of 650, 650 and 659, respectively.

Weather conditions were ideal and the course proved in splendid shape. Summerlea executive members were heartily congratulated on the excellent two-day tournament.

The Province of Quebec Golf Association this season have staged the most successful events in the history of the Association, and the president, Mr. Forster, and his associates are coming in for all kinds of well deserved praise. A very outstanding organization is the P.Q.G.A., which sets a particularly good example to all associations in Canada in demanding strict observance of all starting times, the proper Provincial handicapping of players and the punctillous observance of all the rules and etiquette of the game.

The British Ryder Cup Team

AT the last meeting of the English Professional Golfers' Association, Mr. F. C. J. Pignon, the manager of the British Ryder Cup team, reported on the trip to the States and Canada. "I adhere to my original opinion," he stated, "that in more equitable weather conditions, the British team would have had a chance and a good chance to win the Ryder Cup match. Six days spent in terrific and humid heat, when the temperature was about 100 degrees in the shade, and on one day 104 degrees, was destructive to the team's chances. They found it impossible to eat or sleep and the players were reduced to a state bordering on exhaustion." The report adds that the American press excused the decisive defeat on account of the weather, but the team naturally did not subscribe to these excuses.

There was a valid excuse for the team's poor showing on account of the terrific heat, but there was none whatever for their mediocre performance in the Canadian Open at Mississauga, Toronto. They were a "wash out".

The Spreckles Cup Passes

(By Griffith Bonner, Special to the Canadian Golfer)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 10th.—Canadian and British golfers, who are members of the Coronado Beach summer colony and who also golf in the Los Angeles district and Southern California points regret the announcement that the amateur golf championship of Coronado for the $1,000 (one thousand dollar) silver punch bowl will be missing from the Southern California golfing programme next season.

The Spreckles Cup, donated in memory of A. B. Spreckles, one of San Diego's and Southern California leading financiers and sportsman, is of particular interest to British and Canadian tourists in view of the fact that in 1924 William Hunter, former amateur golf champion of the British Isles, was the first golfer to annex this trophy, which upon being won once becomes the permanent possession of the successful player. It seemed more than fitting that at the closing tourney J. G. Hunter, of the Flintridge Country Club, Pasadena, should be the winner of this rich golf trophy, as he is a cousin of "Wee Willie" Hunter of golfing fame, now professional at Montebello, California.

The Coronado links, 6,615 yards, par 72, is a very tricky links to navigate with squadrons of airplanes flying overhead thrown in as additional mental hazards.

This tournament for eight years has been handled in splendid fashion by Bill Foley, professional; Major C. G. Ross, Harry Gridley, J. A. Rafferty, Ted Steinman, Tom Aikers, Joe Grossman, and E. L. Philips.

Next year, 1932, being the Olympic year in Los Angeles, it is to be regretted that Canadian golfers and golfers from other nations will not have a chance to compete for another Spreckles bowl, unless the committee in charge uses the privilege of the fair sex and changes its mind.

San Diego, however, two miles from Coronado, the golfing centre of Lower California, Country Club, La Jolla, or the splendid championship Rancho-Santa Fe 18-hole layout, may, however, see fit in view of it being Olympic year to put on an invitation tourney for all golfers at one of their magnificent country club links, such as the San Diego With tourneys already planned for Santa Monica, Pasadena, Griffith Park, and elsewhere plenty of golf will greet visitors to Los Angeles in 1932.

Rankin Father and Son Again Win Quebec Championship

MR. J. I. RANKIN and his son, Colin, have once again demonstrated that they are the best pater et filius combination in the Montreal District. The Beaconsfield players over the Kanawaki course led a large field of 52 pairs in the Father and Son Tournament under the auspices of the Province of Quebec Golf Association. Mr. Rankin had a score of 89 and his son, Colin, 78 for a total of 167. In second place was T. H. McAthey, Hampstead, and T. G. McAthey, 169. Third, J. J. McCabe and P. J. McCabe, of Cowansville, Que., 172. Fourth, Garth P. Thomson and G. P. Thomson, 173.

The prize for the best combined nett total was taken by the Marlborough pair, S. W. Tilden and his son, S. F. Tilden. They had a gross of 177 and a nett of 148. J. P. Armstrong, senior and junior, came one stroke behind with 183-149. They won after a toss-up with T. H. and T. G. McAthey and W. S. and W. C. Harrison, all having netts of 149.

In the individual prizes, the best gross for the fathers was taken by N. A. Timmins, of Beaconsfield, with 44-42—86, while the best gross among the sons was turned in by Russell Ward, brilliant young Forest Hills star, who had 38-38—76. The best nett among the fathers was scored by T. H. McAthey, of Hampstead, with 45-46—91—75, and B. G. Ransom, of Summerlea, with 44-49—93—75. McAthey won after a toss-up. The race for best nett honours among the sons also resulted in a tie, Romeo Trudeau, of Laval-sur-le-Lac, and J. R. Colby, Jr., of Royal Montreal, each having nett 70.

The prizes at this most enjoyable tournament were presented by Mr. E. M. McDougall, president of Kanawaki, assisted by Mr. R. J. R. Stokes, the particularly able secretary of the P. Q. G. A.

"Young Joe" Thompson

Comes Into His Own at Last. Wins the Willie Park Trophy From a Field of Over 200 Entrants.

ONE of the most looked for tournaments of the season in Ontario is the annual Willie Park contest at the Weston Club, which always brings out the pick of the amateurs of the Province. On September 5th no fewer than 205 players teed-up, representing 25 clubs and of this exceptionally large number 165 turned in cards—a remarkably fine average.

It was a great day for "Joe" Thompson, of the Royal York Club, young member of the most famous golfing family in Canada. He has been "knocking at the door" in junior and other championships ever since he was in his early teens. He made a very fine showing indeed at the Canadian Amateur at Montreal last month and it was therefore not surprising that he should at last crash through. And he certainly did at Weston. Out in 36 and home in 37 for a 73 under anything but good scoring conditions, he led the two hundred odd entrants to a well deserved and well earned major victory at last. His winning of the coveted and beautiful Willie Park Trophy (named after the famous Scottish golfer and golf architect who laid out the Weston course) was a very popular one. "Young Joe", who is the son of Nicol Thompson, professional of the Ancaster Golf Club, and nephew of two former Canadian Amateur Champions, "W. J." and Frank Thompson, has been up against some bad breaks the past few years but now has broken through and is now well started on a career which should head him on the right way "to follow in the footsteps of Dear old Dad". In his consistent card of 73 were 13 pars and 2 birdies.

Only one stroke back of the winner was Jack Cameron, of Laval-sur-le-Lac, whilst Len Biddell and J. E. Stothers were two strokes in arrears with 75's. Scores of 79 or better were:—

Scottish Boys Defeat England

ALTHOUGH Scotland for some time now has been more or less overshadowed by England in both professional and amateur events, the boys of the home of golf are keeping the Scottish flag flying and that should mean in a very few years now that the representatives of the land of the thistle will again be predominant on the links. In the recent International boys' championship, Scotland defeated England by 7 events to 4. Some very fine scores were turned in. Showing the quality of the driving. The first hole at Killermont, Glasgow, is 268 yards in length but more than one boy found the green with his tee shot. And that is some swatting even for the best of the grown-ups.

Correct Body Action

(MacDonald Smith, Open Champion of Canada 1926)

THE fundamentals that cover the start of the swing are: To stand more erect, with the weight on the heels and the knees relaxed and a trifle bent. To be sure, in other words, to get a comfortable position, for it is only from a comfortable position that one can build a right swing.

The next important fundamental to take up is the start of the backswing, and the proper turn of shoulders and body. The average golfer is afraid to turn his left side, and this causes him to start the clubhead outside the line of flight and to cut across the ball. Very few golfers let the body turn sufficiently. The left shoulder must turn without any drop, which is a fault that places too much of the weight on the left leg. Don't be afraid to let the left shoulder come well around where the weight follows from the shoulder. Your weight will never transfer if the shoulders drop.

The backswing should be started largely with the left hand and the left arm in control, fairly close to the body, and the big part of the smoothness that should follow will come from correct shoulder turn because the club must get away with the turn. If the shoulder drops the club won't get around. As the turn is made toward the right, let the weight go to the right side.

I have been asked often as to which starts the swing, the hands, the clubhead or the left shoulder. I should say that they should all start together.

Jimmie Rimmer's Great Golf

Hangs up a Record 63 on the Difficult 6,500-yard Course at Jasper Park Lodge, Alberta.

THESE have been some remarkable scores in the sixties reported this season in Canada but the performance recently reported from Jasper Park, Alberta, by Jimmie Rimmer, the professional of that celebrated resort, easily takes the palm. The players who participated in the Canadian Amateur Championship in 1929 all agreed that the Jasper layout provided one of the severest tests of golf on the continent. It is a long course and a course replete with natural and artificial hazards, yet Rimmer the other day went out to "burn it up" to the tune of a 63 or seven strokes under par on the 6,500-yard course. Rimmer last winter made golfing history, in the Los Angeles Open, when he carded a 31 for the home nine, the lowest score ever recorded for a 9-hole round in a championship in the States—Andy Kay in the Canadian Professional Championship had a 30 for the outgoing nine holes at Rosedale a month or so ago.

It is a pity that Rimmer is not seen more often in the East. The last time he made the trip was in 1927 when on the Canadian Ryder team at the Toronto Golf Club he lead all the British and Canadian aces with a card of 135. His second round was a 69 which at the time established a course record for the Toronto Club. In his wonderful score of 63 at Jasper, he had three 2's, five 3's and eight 4's.

A special despatch from Jasper Park Lodge, tells the tale more fully:—

Did you ever hear of a great golfer stepping out on a championship course, which has a very difficult par 70 hanging up an almost unbelievable record breaking score of 63 and then crabbing because he three putted one green? Well, it's a fact and here's the story.

Jimmie Rimmer, the crack Old Country professional who has spent several summers at Jasper Park Lodge, is the culprit. And further than that, this is a perfectly true golf story.

Recently Jimmie was in a low scoring mood, and to further prove his belief that Jasper is getting a little easier to score on each year, he stepped out on the course here the other day and returned with a score of 63. Thousands of golfers from all parts of Canada, United States and the Old Country have played Jasper and all are unanimous in saying that any player who flirts with Old Man Par is playing mighty hot golf.

Playing from the championship tees the course measures a shade over 6,500 yards.

Jimmie Rimmer, who with a record-making 63 makes golfing history at Jasper Park.

Every hole is individual and calls for a real test of golf. Not only must your drive be well placed, but your second shot must be up and your putts must be true. In Rimmer's brilliant round he turned in seven birdies and eleven pars. And then he crabbed because he three putted the second green!

The second hole at Jasper is 450 yards in length, but it is extremely difficult to catch the green with the second shot. The green is closely guarded by a most receptive bunker. Jimmy got the green all right with his second, but after making his approach putt he rimmed the cup with his second, leaving the ball on the edge.

Here are the details of Rimmer's brilliant record score which is one of the lowest ever turned in over a championship course in the history of the game:—

Par, Out	454	344	343	—34
Rimmer	354	244	243	—31
Par, In	543	543	444	—36—70
Rimmer	433	532	444	—32—63

Cascade Golf and Tennis Club, Metis Beach, Has Successful Season

THE summer season of the Cascade Golf and Tennis Club, Metis Beach, closed last week. Despite the depression in the economic situation, the club had a fairly successful year.

At the annual meeting held just before the close of the club the following officers were elected to carry on for 1932:—

Hon. president, F. T. Handsombody; president, T. T. Arnold; 1st vice-president, N. Seagram; 2nd vice-president, R. J. Dawes; secretary-treasurer, P. A. G. Clark; men's committee, Dr. W. H. Smythe, N. O. Seagram, J. W. Dunn, J. S. H. Arnold, W. M. Hodgson, A. R. M. Boulton, Dr. H. Clarke, C. G. Mussell, Col. R. J. Orde, Dr. D. M. Marvin, J. M. Marler; ladies' committee, convener, Mrs. C. W. Cassils, Mrs. H. S. Hunter, Mrs. J. N. Laing, Mrs. F. T. Handsombody, Mrs. A. R. Boulton, Miss M. Starke, Miss H. Hague, Mrs. R. J. Dawes, Mrs. J. Molson, Mrs. W. C. Hodgson, Miss M. Jamieson, Miss P. Seagram.

Interest in the competitions featured by this Club was perhaps greater than in any immediately previous year. The Fleet Trophy, representative of the handicap championship, was won by F. R. Daniels, of Montreal, who defeated J. S. H. Arnold, also of Montreal, in the final. The ladies' handicap, the Baylis Cup, was won by Miss B. Cameron, who defeated Mrs. Thirlaway in the final. The Percival Molson Cup, which goes to the open champion of the year, came into the possession of Maurice Hodgson, who defeated R. J. Dawes in the final. The boys' handicap, the Blair Esdale Trophy, was won by E. Grier, a son of Mr. C. B. Grier, a former Province of Quebec champion.

During the last week of the active season much interest was shown in the open tennis tournaments. The men's open singles was won by J. W. Dunn, a teacher under the Montreal Protestant School Board, who defeated F. C. Holt, also of Montreal, in the final. The men's open doubles was won by J. Johnson and W. Chipman, who defeated W. M. Hodgson and R. J. Dawes in five hard fought sets. In the mixed doubles the honours went to Miss A. Hingston and J. Johnson, also of Montreal.

"Our Hole-in-One Club"

Merrily Are They Clicking Off "One Shots" from Coast to Coast in Canada.

THE "One Shotters" are certainly not sparing us this month and are just about putting this "Great Family Golf Magazine" on the financial rocks. Here they are, a merry company of "sharp shooters".

Vancouver, as usual, presents a number of "wonder shots" for our recognition.

Mr. H. B. Thomson, playing over the course of the Vancouver Golf and Country Club, registered an ace at the sporty 130-yard 3rd.

Mr. R. L. Kennedy duplicated this feat at the same 130-yard 3rd hole of the Vancouver Golf and Country Club.

Not to be outdone by his clubmates, Mr. H. B. Leuty, also sank his tee shot at the aforesaid 3rd hole of the Vancouver Golf and Country Club.

Playing over the University course, Vancouver, Mr. D. E. Doidge found "Tin from Tee" at the 18th hole, 167 yards, in one shot.

On the same course Mr. G. McGregor was fortunate enough to make a hole-in-one at the 120-yard 10th hole.

The Point Grey Golf and Country Club, Vancouver, reports two record-breaking shots. Mr. F. E. Maguire joined the immortals as he played a "mean mashie" to get an "ace" at the 7th hole, 150 yards in length.

On the 11th hole of the same course Mr. W. B. Kniekerbocker negotiated its 100 yards in one shot.

Mr. G. L. Fraser "done it" at the 150-yard 10th hole of the Shaughnessy Heights Golf Club, Vancouver.

Shifting to Esquimalt, another magical performance is reported. Mr. A. J. Maynard, of Victoria, while playing over the Macauley Point Golf Club dropped his ball into the cup of the 148-yard 9th hole in one shot.

Since the opening of the famous Banff Springs golf course, at the Banff Springs Hotel in the Canadian Rockies, a silver "hole-in-one" trophy has awaited the golfer securing that distinction. 1929 and 1930 failed to see the envied achievement accomplished on any one of the holes of this picturesque mile-high golf course. On August 24th of this year, however, the honour fell to a lady, Mrs. Hal Sherman, of 255 Fort Washington Avenue, New York. Mrs. Sherman made the 8th hole, a one hundred and twenty-five yards drive across a pool known as the "Devil's Cauldron", in one. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman were on their honeymoon in the Canadian Rockies at the time, and now she claims she has early in married life one achievement that gives her something to "crow over her husband about".

Playing in a four-ball match with Messrs. S. N. Moffat, W. Ferguson and G. C. McCallum over the very pretty Paris, Ontario, links, Mr. J. K. Martin, general manager of the Paris Winey Mills Co. Ltd., negotiated the 3rd hole in one and is being showered with congratulations by many friends as he is a particularly well known and popular player and has been banging at the game, and banging at it particularly well, as the Editor of the "C. G." knows to his cost, financially and otherwise, for many years and this is the very first time he has fallen from grace. Mr. Martin in an amusing letter explains it all this way:—

"Of course, everybody is asking 'how did you do it?'" and as old Tom Smith would say, in order to make a good golf stroke you have got to thoroughly understand the fundamental principles of the golf swing, and it was the centrifugal force of my club-head coming in contact with the ball at the psychological moment and forcing the ball through the air for 220 yards with a low trajectory, and the hole happening to be in the way of my ball that did the trick."

In the very best style of the radio announcer, "Thank you, Mr. Martin, for your lucid explanation."

Mr. W. J. Bird, of Truro, N.S., joined the charmed circle when he sank his tee shot at the tricky 79-yard 16th hole of the Truro Golf Club.

From the Maritimes we speed back to the Pacific Province to report the hole-in-one performance of Mr. J. Celle, of Kamloops, who chose the ninth hole, 137 yards, of the Kamloops Golf Club.

Mr. R. R. Mason, of Chase, B.C., duplicated this breath-taking feat at the same hole of the Kamloops Golf Club.

Mr. F. MacDonald put his club, the Highlands Golf Club of Edmonton, Alta., on the golfing map when he registered the first hole-in-one shot made on the course. It took place at the 14th hole, a full 135 yards in length.

To J. H. Monson goes the glory of making the 12th hole, 140 yards, of the Moose Jaw Golf Club in one stroke.

Mr. H. Forester "tickled up the tin" for a hole-in-one at the fourth hole of the Pas Golf Club, The Pas, Man.

Playing over the Regina Gyro Citizens' Golf Club, Mr. Russell William, Jr., secured a singleton at the 201-yard 10th hole. Truly a beauty.

From the beautiful Waterton Lakes Golf Course in the Canadian National Parks, comes the glad tidings of two "Oneders". Mr. A. Crosbie, of Calgary, Alta., made a hole-in-one at the 6th hole, 120 yards, of the Waterton Lakes Golf Club, Waterton Lakes, Alta., while Mrs. A. Clow sank her tee shot at the second hole, 120 yards in length. Mrs. Clow is the first lady golfer to make an "ace" on this course.

Mr. R. Eddington "plastered the pin" "for a oneer" at the 110-yard 13th hole of the Winnipeg Canoe Golf Club.

Mr. V. H. Johnson entered the golfer's seventh heaven when he secured a hole-in-one at the 140-yard 6th hole of the Mayfair Golf and Country Club, Edmonton, Alta.

The Niakwa Country Club of Winnipeg, Man., is now heard from. Mr. L. C. Davison dropped his ball in the cup of the 123-yard hole for a one.

Mr. E. Howe playing over the Polo Park Golf Course, Winnipeg, Man., got "his" at the snappy sixth, a 140-yard "poke".

Mr. J. B. Connor was admitted to our "Hole-in-One Club" when he drove "straight and true" to get a one at the 186-yard fourth hole of the Elmhurst Golf Club, Winnipeg, Man.

Mr. D. McLeod, of Kenora, Ont., decided to join the immortals so he "pitched up a pretty one" at the 115-yard 8th hole of the Kenora Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. A. D. Ferguson duplicated this performance, also at the 8th hole of the Kenora Golf and Country Club.

Dr. K. McDowell made the 8th hole, 130 yards in length, of the Renfrew Golf and Country Club, Renfrew, Ont., in one stroke.

Mr. E. D. Smith, of St. Thomas, negotiated the full 240 yards of the 3rd hole of the Britannia Golf Club in only one shot. Incidentally Mr. Smith is a left hander which makes his performance all the more remarkable.

To Mr. T. G. Tilly, of Belleville, goes our congratulations. He played a "masterful mashie" to attain a "oneer" at the 128-yard 11th hole of the Cobourg Golf Club, Cobourg, Ont.

Mr. J. M. Poucher showered himself with glory when he propelled his tee shot into the cup of the 150-yard 16th hole of the Norfolk Golf and Country Club, Simcoe, Ont.

Mr. N. H. Daniel, of Oshawa, "didn't do a thing" at the 125-yard 6th hole of the Oshawa Golf Club for he sank his tee shot to gain admittance to our club.

Mr. Donald Christian, of Detroit, Mich., while playing over the Maitland Golf Club, Goderich, Ont., had the good fortune to make an eagle "one" at the 100-yard 7th hole.

Mr. W. W. Main, of Hamilton, "stuck" us for a year's subscription by playing a perfect shot to get an "ace" at the 195-yard 6th hole of the Burlington Golf and Country Club.

Mr. George Wilson, of Winnipeg, an old and valued friend of the Editor of the "Canadian Golfer", while playing over the Minaki Golf Course with Messrs. C. Read, E. Read and A. Milligan, astonished his compatriots when he found "tin from tee" at the difficult 155-yard 5th hole.

Mr. E. Connolly at the 3rd hole of the Collingwood Golf and Country Club negotiated the full 142 yards in only one stroke.

Mr. George B. Berger, of Pittsburg, Pa., started off well when he made the first hole of the Beaumaris Golf Club in one shot. The length of the hole, 124 yards.

Col. H. D. G. Crerar, of Ottawa, displayed wonderful form when he popped his ball into the cup of the 11th hole of the Royal Ottawa Golf Club—165 yards—in one stroke.

Mr. W. G. Addison not content with making one hole-in-one this season repeated his stellar performance at the 6th hole, 174 yards, of the Chaudiere Golf Club, Ottawa, Ont.

Mr. J. Barnaby, of Hull, Que., made a hole-in-one at the 17th hole, 160 yards, of the Rivermead Golf Club, Ottawa, Ont.

GOLFERS!

be everlastingly on the Alert . . .

Strangely enough, most accidents occur in broad daylight, and on smooth highways. And, in a great majority of cases, the cars involved are in good mechanical condition.

The explanation can be given in one word . . . CARELESSNESS.

Hands on the wheel. Eyes on the road. The price of safety on crowded summer highways is eternal watchfulness. And you are in danger the moment you relax your vigilance.

Watch the road. Watch other cars. Watch signals. Watch pedestrians. Watch railway crossings. Watch the speedometer! Watch yourself!

Drive carefully with consideration for the convenience as well as the safety of others.

ONTARIO DEPARTMENT of HIGHWAYS

THE HON. LEOPOLD MACAULAY, MINISTER

Mr. Norman Allan, of Campbellton, N.B., secured "his" at the 7th hole, 228 yards, of the Restigouche Country Club.

J. H. Taylor, the very popular professional of the Restigouche Country Club, Campbellton, N.B., also got an "ace" at the 1st hole.

Mr. J. A. Page realized the dream of every golfer when he "pitched a pretty one" into the cup of the 135-yard 6th hole of the Bathurst Golf and Country Club, Toronto, Ont.

Mr. P. G. Welford also conquered the wiles of the Bathurst Golf and Country Club when he got "his" at the 235-yard 11th hole.

Mr. Jack Haycock chose the 176-yard 4th hole of the same club to register his hole-in-one.

Major H. W. W. Wood added another "oneer" to his already imposing total of two by sinking his tee shot at the 189-yard 4th hole of the Toronto Golf Club, Toronto, Ont.

The 4th hole "hoodoo" proved to be untrue to its name for Mr. Melville H. Currier conquered this hole in one shot at the Uplands Golf and Country Club.

Mr. Joe Cressy, of the Uplands Golf and Country Club, succeeded in making a hole-in-one at the 125-yard 8th hole of the Big Bay Point Golf Club.

Mr. J. S. Clayton, father of Mr. Bert Clayton, the well-known hockey player, took up the game of golf this season and promptly got a hole-in-one at the 135-yard 7th hole of the Thistledown Golf and Country Club, Toronto.

Mr. H. Busk while playing over the Minnetonka Golf Course, Big Bay Point, joined the elect when he made a hole-in-one.

Mr. W. G. Tingle much to his gratification saw his tee shot roll into the cup of the 120-yard 17th hole of the Summit Golf and Country Club, Toronto.

Mr. C. E. Grieve with a mighty swat of 250 yards got "his" at the 7th hole of the Humber Valley Golf Club, Toronto. Some swat, Mr. Grieve.

Mr. H. L. Lugsdin at the 120-yard 11th hole of the Scarboro Golf and Country Club "tinkled up the tin to the tune of one".

Mr. D. Clark, of Asbestos, P.Q., made a hole-in-one at the snappy eighth hole—145 yards—of the Dannville Country Club, Asbestos, P.Q.

Mr. Leo Bernier, of St. Eustache, P.Q., conquered "Old Man Par" when he sank his tee shot at the 158-yard 8th hole of the St. Eustache Country Golf Club.

Mr. J. H. Stedman, an enthusiastic golfer for thirty years, this month was rewarded for his diligence by making a hole-in-one at the 135-yard 10th hole of the Islesmere Golf and Country Club, Montreal, P.Q.

J. E. Reynolds, the popular professional of the Murray Bay Golf Club, Pointe-a-Pic, P.Q., showed himself a true master of the game when he negotiated the 131 yards of the 5th hole in one stroke.

Robbie Alston, the sensational young professional of the Boule Rock Golf Club, Metis Beach, P.Q., who secured second place in the Quebec Open Golf Championship—one stroke back of Willie Lamb—added to his laurels when he secured a "oneer" at the 180-yard 2nd hole of the Boule Rock Golf Club.

Dr. Stephen Langevin, a member of the charming Laval-sur-le-Lac Golf Club, showed his skill at the 175-yard 11th hole when he found "tin from tee" in one shot.

Mr. J. Hulbert McCulloch made a "wonder shot" to get a hole-in-one at the 142-yard 13th hole of the Beaconsfield Golf Club, Montreal.

Mrs. D. P. Cruikshank, a particularly well known member of the Royal Ottawa Golf Club, chose the 11th hole on the Royal Ottawa course for the worth-while performance. The 11th, called "Little Misery", is a 165-yard hole which takes a bit of doing to get a par let alone "an eagle". The name certainly had no terrors for Mrs. Cruikshank, who was playing at the time she recorded a one here with Mrs. Raymond, of Buffalo, who has been a popular summer visitor to the Capital. We are always so glad to welcome the "ladies" to membership in our "Hole-in-One" Club.

Mr. P. H. Walker, of Montreal, secured an "ace" at the 110-yard 3rd hole of the Kanawaki Golf Club, Montreal, P.Q.

Mr. J. A. Wilson, the very efficient secretary of the Dannville Country Club, Asbestos, P.Q., made a hole-in-one at the 17th 145-yard hole of the Dannville Country Club.

Mr. G. A. Ferguson, of London, while playing over the Thames Valley Golf Course, made a hole-in-one at the 144-yard 3rd hole.

Mr. Roy D. Hearn "batted a beauty" at the 200-yard 6th hole of the Summerlea Golf Club, Montreal, P.Q., to gain admission to our "Hole-in-One Club".

To Mr. R. P. Brown goes the honour of another epic performance. He "slopped 'er down" at the 165-yard 12th hole of the Royal Ottawa Golf Club.

Mr. L. W. Faber, of New York, sank his tee shot at the 160-yard 7th hole of the Royal Muskoka Golf Club, Lake Rosseau, Ont.

The golfer's greatest ambition was also realized at the same course by Mr. H. Tudhope, of Toronto.

Mr. N. G. Moore, of Oak Park, Ill., proved that for all his 78 years he could wield a wicked masher when he found "tin from tee" at the 119-yard 17th hole of the Bigwin Inn Golf Course.

Mr. Jas. McCaughey, of Hamilton, Ont., will be the pleased (we hope) recipient of the "Canadian Golfer" for the forthcoming year as a reward for his prowess in making the 2nd hole—125 yards—in one at the Glendale Golf and Country Club, Hamilton.

The Saskatchewan Championships

Jack Cuthbert, Former Amateur, Wins the Open, Phil Morse Again the Amateur, Mrs. Rideout Once More the Ladies, and Jack Millar the Junior Championship.

THE annual tournament of the Saskatchewan Golf Association took place at the Riverside Country Club, Saskatoon, on August 17 to 20. The event was an unqualified success, for which great praise is due to the local committee and to the tournament secretary, Mr. H. G. S. Cole.

The Open Championship was won by an old favourite, Jack Cuthbert, who was formerly one of the leading amateurs in the West and is now professional at the Calgary Country Club. Jack's rounds were 76 and 75—151. He was followed closely by Harold Shaw, Edmonton, with 152; Joe Land, Winnipeg, 153; and Tom Ross, Regina, 154. The leading amateur score was 157 by Mr. Frank Miley, of Saskatoon, who came in for general congratulations.

The Amateur Championship did not produce any surprise results. Mr. Phil Morse, Saskatoon, winner in 1928 and 1929, reached the final without difficulty, and Mr. A. R. Buchan, Regina, formerly of Aberdeen, Scotland, a newcomer to tournament play and without doubt a future winner, was the other finalist. The Regina player showed a little slackness here and there and faced a deficit of four holes at the end of the first round. He reduced the lead to two at the twentieth hole, but that did not affect his 22-year-old "veteran" opponent, who played practically par golf to the twenty-seventh at which point he had increased his lead to seven. Buchan won the 28th. The 29th was halved and Morse won the 30th, and the match by 7 up and 6, which is his third win in four years. Mr. Morse, who is the son of Dr. Morse, Saskatoon, is a Rhodes scholar and proceeds to Oxford this month. He ought to have no difficulty in making the Dark Blue varsity golf team next season. Both his scholastic and golfing career at Oxford will be watched with much interest by friends throughout the West.

Mrs. R. S. Rideout, winner for the fourth time of the Saskatchewan Ladies' Championship.

The Junior Championship was won by Jack Millar, of Saskatoon, the runner-up being Cam. Willis, of Saskatoon. Jack follows in the footsteps of his father, Mr. J. D. Millar, who was runner-up to Mr. Morse in the Amateur Championship in 1928.

Next year's tournament is to be held on the course of the Regina Golf

Jack Cuthbert, former brilliant amateur, now professional of the Calgary Golf and Country Club, who wins Saskatchewan Open.

Club. H. Russell Smith, of the Regina Club, was the unanimous choice of the meeting for the presidency for the ensuing year. A. I. Wilkinson, Prince Albert, was elected vice-president while J. P. Runciman, Regina, was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Sir F. W. H. Haultain, Regina, was unanimously re-appointed honorary president.

The following executive committee was elected: A. B. Wehaus, Assiniboia; Dr. R. Ferguson, Fort Qu'Appelle; His Honour Judge Dickson, Humboldt; S. P. St. John, Imperial; R. L. Hanbidge, Kerrobert; John Knox, Kindersley; R. F. Smith, Moose Jaw (Moose Jaw Golf Club); T. S. Price, Moose Jaw (Citizens' Golf Club); A. D. Taylor, Outlook; A. S. Peterson, Prince Albert; J. F. Heathfield, Biggar; C. H. Southey, Punnichy; Dr. W. Henderson, Qu'Appelle; M. L. M. Skelton, Radville; Geo. Holden, Regina (Regina Golf Club); W. L. Wallace, Regina (Wascana Country Club); D. B. Annis, Riverhurst; A. J. Shunk, Rouleau; J. R. Jackson (Saskatoon Golf Club); R. M. Thayer, Saskatoon (Riverside Country Club); J. P. Rooney, Swift Current; A. Ansell, Watrous; W. Kidd, Weyburn, and S. J. Kirkland, Wilkie.

Considerable discussion arose over the question of the provincial association sending a team to compete in the Dominion matches for the Willingdon Trophy. No definite action was taken, although the general opinion was that Saskatchewan should be represented. A vote of thanks was tendered N. C. Byers, Saskatoon, for assisting in financing the 1929 Saskatchewan team which competed at Toronto.

Mrs. Rideout Again Champion

That very attractive and finished player, Mrs. R. S. Rideout, of the Wascana Country Club, Regina, is once again the lady champion of Saskatchewan for the fourth time, she having won the event in 1926, 1929 and 1930 and now again this year. She defeated in the final by 3 and 2 Mrs. G. H. Yule, Saskatoon Riverside Country Club, who won the championship in 1928. It was a well fought out final, although Mrs. Rideout always had a slight edge on her hard-fighting opponent. A large and interested gallery followed the players. The championship was played during the same week as the men's championship on the other Saskatoon

Many social entertainments during the week added to the enjoyment of the participants. The 1932 championship will be held in Moose Jaw. Mrs. J. H. S. Garrett, of that city, was elected president for the coming year. Mrs. D. S. Creighton is the hon. president; Mrs. W. J. Wyre, Regina, first vice-president; Mrs. H. M. Weir, second vice-president; Mrs. A. W. The Manitoba Ladies' Championship

Mrs. R. K. Bearisto, Playing Brilliant Golf, Makes a Clean Sweep of the Principal Events.

PLAYING a brand of golf that was consistently brilliant, Mrs. R. K. Bearisto, colourful Winnipeg golfer, for the third time captured the Manitoba Ladies' Championship (held under the auspices of the Manitoba Branch of the C.L.G.U. over the beautiful course of the St. Charles Country Club), defeating her greatest rival, Mrs. B. P. Pellenz, the 1930 champion, in a three and one victory. Mrs. Bearisto, who won the title in 1926 and 1927, avenged her defeat of 1930 and forced Mrs. Pellenz to relinquish the title which she captured on that occasion.

The opening day saw Mrs. Bearisto early in the lead. Forging ahead with a well played 88 she led the qualifiers to win the qualifying medal. Four strokes behind were Mrs. Pellenz, Mrs. C. C. Balfour, and Mrs. Gordon Konantz, all with 92. Then came Mrs. G. Keoster with 93, Mrs. G. B. McTavish 94, and Miss Frances Fletcher, the Manitoba Junior Champion, who tied with Mrs. J. T. Rogers and Miss Jean Ross, all with 95. Altogether 73 entrants teed-off and the qualifying maximum of 99, the lowest in the history of the event, showed the high calibre of golf displayed.

The first round of match play terminated as follows:—

Mrs. R. K. Bearisto defeated Mrs. T. G. Clough, Mrs. B. P. Pellenz defeated Miss Barbara Ross, Mrs. J. Rogers defeated Miss Jean Ross, Miss Frances Fletcher defeated Mrs. John Beveridge, Mrs. Gordon Konantz defeated Mrs. Fred Hart, Mrs. George Koester defeated Mrs. R. M. Simpson, Mrs. B. McTavish was defeated by Miss Ruth Dudley.

After the matches of the day had been decided, there was a driving, approaching and putting competition. The driving prize in the silver division was won by Mrs. R. K. Bearisto, while Miss Ruth Dudley carried off the prize in the bronze division. The approaching and putting prize was annexed by Mrs. G. Konantz in the silver division and Miss Barbara Ross attained the prize in the bronze section.

The second round provided some thrilling encounters. Herewith the result:—

Mrs. Gordon Konantz defeated Miss

Frances Fletcher, 4 and 2. Mrs. B. P. Pellenz defeated Mrs. John Rogers, 3 and 2. Mrs. C. C. Balfour defeated Miss Ruth Dudley. Mrs. R. K. Bearisto defeated Mrs. G.

Koester. This was considered by all to be the best match of the day. Though she went down to defeat Mrs. Koester played magnificently to card an 87, the best score of the tournament.

In the semi-finals, though drenched by rain which inundated the course, the four contenders for golfing fame struggled gamely on. Mrs. R. K. Bearisto added to her previous victories when she eliminated Mrs. G. Konantz. This match presented a stirring struggle and the result was ever in doubt until the home green. Mrs. B. P. Pellenz took the measure of Mrs. C. C. Balfour, winning handily by a 6 and 5 margin.

The final, at any time a sensational affair with two such sterling players as Mrs. Pellenz and Mrs. Bearisto took on new interest due to the terrific gale of wind which harassed the players threatening to sweep them off their feet. Mrs. Bearisto undaunted by the adverse weather conditions continued to sweep all before her and won a three and one victory over her formidable rival. The large galleries which followed the match undeterred by the raging of the elements were unanimous in their praise of the courageous showing of both winner and runner-up.

Mrs. Iman Salberg, the president of the Manitoba Branch of the C.L.G.U., presented the prizes immediately following the match in a very gracious manner. Mrs. Bearisto was the proud recipient of the Manitoba Championship Trophy, the Manitoba C.L.G.U. prize, the National C.L.G.U. prize, the Dingwall Trophy, the medal and prize for low gross in the qualifying round, and the prize in the silver division for the driving competition, which after all is not bad picking.

Royal and Ancient Considering Revision of the Rules

THE Royal and Ancient of St. Andrews has recently been considering the question of the revision of the rules of golf. It is claimed by many students of the game that the rules are too prolix and a more precise code should be compiled. Then the question of the standing of an amateur, it is also contended, should be revised and made more rigid. For the first time in its long and distinguished history, the Royal and Ancient has asked the four golf unions in Great Britain to confer with it and make suggestions on the revision—the first to be made in many years. The R. and A. would be well advised to go even further afield, and consult also the Royal Canadian Golf Association, the Australian and South Africa Associations and other governing bodies of golf in the Empire which so far have always followed the Royal and Ancient rulings, most loyally.

Any proposed revisions in the Rules should unquestionably be passed on to these Associations alike for criticism and construction before being enacted, otherwise, there may be a real danger of these overseas associations promulgating their own rules and decisions, which in the best interests of the game would be a very great pity.

Ouimet Amateur Golf King

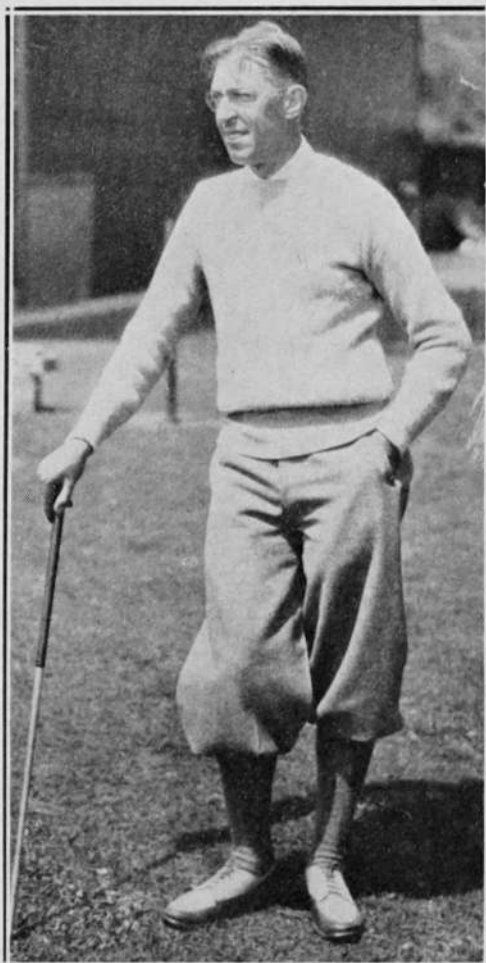

Again Wins U.S. Title After a Lapse of Seventeen Years. Somerville, Canadian Amateur Champion, Makes Good Showing. Is Handicapped by Unfortunate Accident.

IF Sandy Somerville, Canadian Amateur Champion, was not to win the U.S. Amateur, and he made a splendid stab at it, then Canadians perhaps would sooner have seen the title go to Francis Ouimet than any other of the large field of contestants, because Ouimet is getting in the sere and yellow of golf, has always "played the game" in every sense of that term and this is perhaps the last year he had a chance to "come back" and he did in a most convincing manner and a record field of young players had to take the count from a man who won the title 17 years ago, or when quite a large number of the field were at the teething stage. Incidentally this is a feat never before accomplished in the realms of the Royal and Ancient. The great John Ball won his first British Amateur Championship in 1888 and repeated in 1912, or 24 years later. But Ball sandwiched six championships in between the two dates. His wonderful performance therefore can hardly be classed as a "come back".

The nearest approach to Ouimet's great feat this month goes to the credit of a lady—that wonderful Scottish-American golfer, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, former Canadian Champion. She won the U.S. Ladies' Championship in 1910 and repeated in 1924, or thirteen years afterwards.

As a result of his remarkable showing at Chicago, it is an added regret that Ouimet did not play in the Canadian Amateur at Montreal. He was entered for the event but at the last moment he withdrew. What a match it would have been if he and Somerville had come together in the final—and the chances are they would. After a lapse of nearly two decades Francis, who is 38 years of age, is again the amateur golf king of America and no more popular monarch has ever graced the golfing throne on this continent. It is certainly a coincidence that it was 17 years to the very day (Sept. 5th) that Ouimet won his last U.S. Amateur Championship, defeating Jerry Travers at Woodland, 6 and 5, also the same margin as he secured over young Westland at Chicago this month. And this is the champion's record for the week.

Francis Ouimet, who again wins U.S. Amateur after lapse of 17 years. The photo shows how much older he looks than when he last played in Canada twelve years ago. He was then 26.

Monday—Scored a 74 to tie for third place in first qualifying round of eighteen holes.

Tuesday—Scored a 78 in second qualifying round to tie for seventh place in medal competition with total of 152.

Wednesday—Defeated John Shields, 4 and 3, and Frank Connolly, 5 and 4, in first and second eighteen-hole rounds of match play.

Thursday—Defeated Paul Jackson, 7 and 6, in first thirty-six-hole match.

Friday—Defeated Billy Howell, 2 and 1, in semi-final round of thirty-six holes.

Saturday—Defeated Jack Westland, 6 and 5, in final round of thirty-six holes.

It will be noticed that his only serious bout was in the semi-finals when he was forced to the limit to record a 2 and 1 victory over Billy Howell, of Richmond, Va., who at one time looked like winning the round.

There never was much doubt about Ouimet's victory over Westland in the final. Scoring the jump on the Chicago district champion, one of the trio who led the field in the qualifying round, by winning the first hole in the match, Francis was never down.

Taking advantage of some streaky golf on the part of his methodical middle western rival on the first nine holes, Ouimet stood 4 up at the turn in the morning round, added a hole to his lead by the time the first 18 was finished and was still 5 up at the turn in the afternoon.

After having played fine golf all week, putting not sensationally but effectively in his matches against Sam Parks, Jr., George Dunlap, Jr., the intercollegiate champion; Arthur Yates and Maurice McCarthy, Jr., Westland's game went somewhat awry the last day and his gifted putted didn't function with its customary brilliance.

Even Ouimet's game was not so steady as usual. He was inclined to hook his shots occasionally, but over the long run he was much more steady than his rival, and in the final analysis it was his putter that did the work against Westland, permitting him to register a 6 and 5 victory.

From a Canadian standpoint the chief interest centred in Ross Somerville, as after his brilliant display in the Canadian Amateur it was freely predicted that he had a very good chance to also annex the U.S. title. Sandy qualified well up with 154, or six strokes back of the three leaders, Lehman, Yates (runner-up to Somerville in the Canadian Amateur), and Seaver. Jack Cameron, the other Canadian entrant, failing to qualify with 158, as also did two hot favourites, Phil Perkins, the former British Champion, and "Jimmy" Johnstone, former U.S. Champion.

Somerville started off well in the first round by defeating Gene Homans, the brilliant New Jersey ace, 2 and 1, which was certainly a most encouraging initial victory. In the second round in the afternoon he came up against Fay Coleman, the Los Angeles star, and had to bow to a 4 and 3 decision. On the short 6th hole the Canadian Champion was unfortunate enough to hit a spectator and his ball caromed into a trap losing him the hole. The spectator was knocked unconscious and although Somerville would be the very last to admit it the incident undoubtedly sadly affected his subsequent game.

Miss Kirkham Dominates Ladies' Golf in Quebec

MISS Margery Kirkham, Montreal, Close Champion of Canada and Quebec Champion, was in great form this month when in the field day at the Quebec Club course, Quebec City, under the auspices of the Quebec Branch of the C.L.G.U. she led a field of sixty leading lady players of the Province with a card of 86. The best nett score in the silver division was returned by Mrs. Tessier, of the Quebec Golf Club, a mark of 81.

In the bronze division, Miss B. McNaughton, of Thetford Mines, scored 103 to take gross honours. Miss Gallagher, of Quebec, had the best nett in the division with an 82. The special prize for 36-handicap golfers was won by Mrs. G. Ross, of Quebec, with 116.

The prizes were presented by Mrs. T. Arnold, of the Royal Montreal Golf Club, president of the Quebec Branch of the C.L.G.U., who headed a party of Montreal golfers.

Then the following week, Miss Kirkham at the Forest Hills Club, Montreal, won for the third successive year the Lord Atholstan Cup, symbolical of the ladies' championship of Montreal and District. With rounds of 83 and 86 for a total of 169 Miss Margery was ahead of her nearest rival, Miss Dora Virtue, of Whitlock, by no fewer than 9 strokes. She is unquestionably the leading woman to-day of the Province of Quebec. In 3rd place was Miss Lorraine How, Beaconsfield, 182, 4th and 5th, Miss Doris Taylor, Kanawaki, 185, Mrs. L. Papineau, Laval, 185, 6th, Miss L. Rolland, Laval 189.

Miss Elizabeth Cameron, Royal Montreal, had the best nett score for the two days' play with a total of 206, which with her 29 handicap, gave her a nett total of 148. Miss Kirkham won the prize for the best gross score in the silver division second day's play and Miss Lorraine How, with a 89-13-76, took the best nett award. In the bronze division, Mrs. T. A. G. Bishop, of Hampstead, with a 98, won best gross honours, and the best nett prize went to Miss Betty Davidson, of Summerlea, with a score of 107-34-73.

Essex and Kent Boys' Tournament

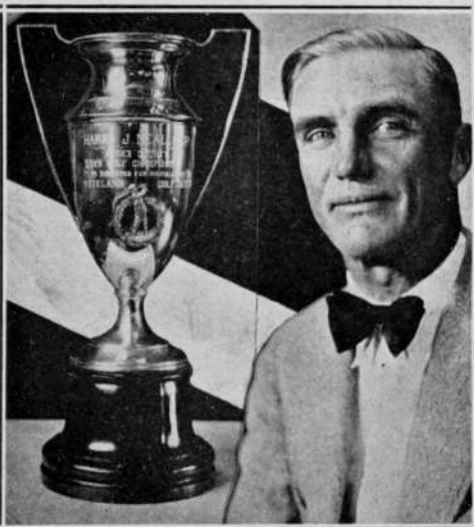

Over Two Hundred Participate in This Outstanding Event Sponsored by Mr. H. J. Neal, President of the Roseland Golf Club, Windsor. Championship Won by 16-year-old George Ewald, of Leamington. Runner-up 13-year-old "Shin" Neal, of Windsor.

ONE of the largest golf fields if not the largest ever seen in Canada, was witnessed last month at Windsor, Ontario, when in the fourth annual junior championship held at the Roseland Golf and Country Club in that city 226 boys of 17 and under teed-up and for five days played off for the boys' championship of Essex and Kent Counties and for handsome prizes in the various flights.

Think of it, over two hundred boys in their young 'teens matching stroke for stroke, day after day, and playing the game just as keenly as contenders in a major amateur or open event. It was a wonderful sight and Mr. Harry J. Neal, president of the Roseland Club, donor of the beautiful championship cup, who is largely responsible for the inauguration of this most interesting tournament came in for general and well deserved congratulations. Showing the quality of the golf uncorked by these lads, in the final, 16-year-old George Ewald, of Leamington, met "Shin" Neal, 13-year-old son of the president of the club, and in the morning round on the stiff 6,600-yard Roseland course put on a 75 and there was a nasty wind blowing across the course at that. Both boys really played like veterans. "Shin" was defeated but he gave his older and huskier opponent a great battle. Future champions of Canada are unquestionably in the making in Windsor and District thanks to Mr. Neal. In the years to come many a golfer will "rise up and call him blessed".

Demonstrating what good golfers these lads of Essex and Kent are, it required a 89 or better to qualify for the championship flight, comprised of 16 players. Two boys tied for the qualifying prize with 79's, George Ewald, 16-year-old Leamington boy, and Louis Sabo, of the Lakewood Club, runner-up for the championship last year. It takes a bit of doing for the best of adult players to break the eighties at Roseland and both Ewald and Sabo had to play high-class golf to turn in such fine cards. In the play-off for the qualifying prize, a handsome cup presented by the Rotary Club of Windsor, Sabo was successful, carding an 84 to Ewald's 92. The latter was 11 strokes to the bad on the first 9 holes but on the home journey staged quite a comeback and managed to reduce his opponent's lead by three strokes.

The following qualified for the championship flight:—

George Ewald, Leamington, 79; Louis Sabo, Lakewood, 79; Phil Neal, Roseland, 82; Alf Delong, Beachwood, 83; Stan Corlett, Beachwood, 84; D. Henderson, Chatham, 84; B. Tierney, Beachwood, 84; Jack Smith, Essex, 85; Alf Campeau, Beachwood, 86; N. Panasink, Lakewood, 86; Shin Neal, Roseland, 87; Tommy Ouellette, Roseland, 87; Peter Boyko, Roseland, 87; Norman Barclay, Essex, 88; Jack Courtemanche, Lakewood, 88; H. Cudmore, Roseland, 89.

In addition to the championship flight there was a championship consolation and five other flights so all the boys had a chance to win one of the many handsome prizes donated by the merchants and business men of Windsor during the week.

The following was the play-down in the championship:—

First Round—L. Sabo, Lakewood, defeated A. Campeau, Beachwood, 7 and 6; "Shin" Neal defeated Phill Neal, 3 and 2; D. Henderson, Chatham, defeated P. Boyko, Roseland, 3 and 1; J. Courtemanche, Lakewood, defeated B. Tierney, Beachwood, 1 up; A. Delong, Beachwood, defeated T. Ouellette, Roseland, 4 and 3; J. Smith, Essex, defeated R. Cudmore, Roseland, 3 and 2; S. Corlett, Beachwood, defeated N. Barclay, Essex, 1 up at 19th; G. Ewald, Leamington, defeated N. Panasink, Lakewood, 5 and 4.

Second Round—D. Henderson, Chatham, defeated Louis Sabo, Lakewood, 3 and 2; "Shin" Neal, Roseland, defeated J. Courtemanche, Lakewood, 7 and 5; A. Delong, Beachwood, defeated J. Smith, Essex, 1 up; G. Ewald, Leamington, defeated S. Corlett, Beachwood, 6 and 5.

Semi-finals—"Shin" Neal, Roseland, defeated D. Henderson, Chatham, 2 up; George Ewald, Leamington, defeated A. Delong, Beachwood, 4 and 2.

Final—George Ewald defeated "Shin" Neal, 7 and 6.

There were a number of splendid matches in all the rounds. The feature of the second round was the defeat of Louis Sabo, of the Beachwood Club, Windsor, by D. Henderson, of Chatham. Sabo, the qualifying winner, was quite one of the favourites to annex the championship. Then Henderson in turn was defeated by 13-year-old "Shin" Neal, who playing very fine golf indeed thus put out of the running another likely contender for the title.

The final at 36 holes developed a brand of golf which would really have done credit to any tournament. "Shin" Neal is the youngest player ever to play off in the final of the Essex and Kent boys' championship. George Ewald is three years his senior and an unassuming young giant who tips the beam at 175 pounds and stands six feet in his golf shoes. Both boys have beautiful swings and both play up to the pin in a confident and finished manner. In the morning round Ewald carded a 75, thanks to some particularly good putting, and that was a little too good for his younger opponent who though fighting manfully was five holes in arrears at the lunch hour.

Followed by a large gallery in the afternoon young Neal went out with grim determination to whittle down Ewald's commanding lead. Halving the 19th he proceeded to pick up a birdie 4 at the 20th but the Leamington lad was not to be shaken off and at the 22nd short hole with a par 3 again retained his 5 up lead. He increased this to 6 up at the 24th but lost the 25th. On the 27th he was still 5 up. The 28th was halved but Shin lost the 29th where he was stymied and also the 30th and the stalwart Leamington lad was crowned the boy golfing king of Essex and Kent by a 7 and 6 margin. It was a delightful match to watch. Both boys played with a grim determination to win and both in the morning and afternoon rounds called forth the applause of the gallery by making many brilliant recovery shots. They had the poise of veterans and if they go on improving their game in the next few years as they have done the past few, they will soon be playing like veterans. It looks as though there are some "Sandy Somervilles" in the making in Windsor and District. Ewald's putter was working like a charm in both rounds. He had four one-putt greens in the morning and three in the afternoon—and that tells the tale. Young "Shin" was matching him stroke for stroke from the tee and through the fairway. Both boys get remarkably long balls alike with their woods and irons. "Shin" didn't win "Dad's Cup" this year but it won't be long before his name will be inscribed upon it—and that's a safe wager.

In the various flights there was keen competition and the titles were well distributed amongst Windsor clubs, two going to the Essex Golf and Country Club, two to Beachwood, one to Lakewood and one to Roseland. Roseland had four boys in runner-up berths, Essex, Kingsville and Lakewood one each.

In the consolation flight Peter Boyko, Roseland, defeated Nick Panasink, Lakewood, 2 and 1. First flight honours went to Stan Burns, son of the well known Essex professional, Jack Burns. Burns defeated Billy Curry.

John Zak, a championship flight contender last year, won the second flight honours from Charlie Hames, Essex, 4 and 3. Hames was the fifth flight winner last year.

The third flight prize went to R. Cooney, Lakewood, who eliminated J. Hamilton, Kingsville's lone representative in the title rounds. The count was 5 and 4.

Victor Dales, Essex, disposed of B. Uzdillox, Roseland, 3 and 2, in the fourth flight, whilst L. Berneche, Beachwood, won the fifth flight defeating H. J. Neal, Jr., of Roseland.

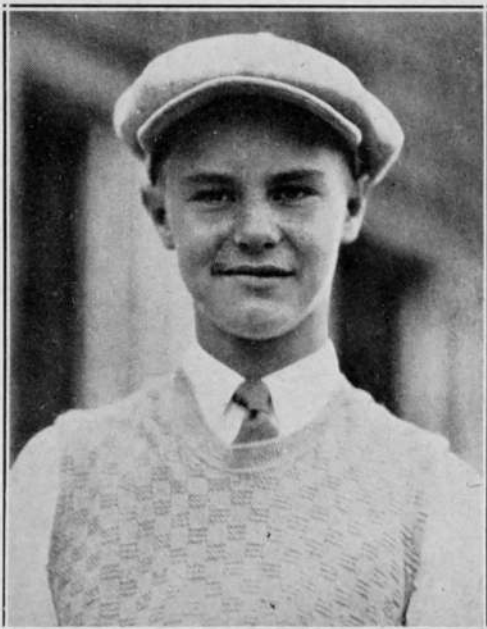

At the conclusion of the championship final the presentation of prizes took place before a large audience with Mr. H. J. Neal, president of the Roseland Golf Club and sponsor of the tournament, acting as master of ceremonies in a very able manner. A particularly bright speech to the boys was made by the Mayor of Windsor, Mr. David A. Croll. His Worship has taken a very keen interest in the tournament and more than once was a visitor to the course. He is an ardent believer in encouraging boys to play golf and other clean sports. It was with particular pleasure that the Editor of the "Canadian Golfer" was present to see the final played and to present the championship cup to George Ewald and the runner-up cup to "Shin" Neal. Both boys, so clean cut and unassuming, were enthusiastically and deservedly cheered. Mr. R. McConnell and other well known Windsorites also took part in the presentation.

The following was the handsome prize list of this particularly well run and highly successful tournament, which is one of the finest contributions to golf to be found anywhere in Canada:—

Championship flight winner, George Ewald, Leamington, Harry J. Neal Cup, wrist watch from W. H. McCreery, jeweler.

Championship flight runner-up, "Shin" Neal, Roseland, J. F. Gundy Cup, wrist watch from Sansburn-Pashley, jewelers.

"Shin" Neal, 13-year-old Windsor boy, runner-up in the Essex and Kent Championship.

Low gross winner, Louis Sabo, Lakewood, Rotary Cup, from Windsor Rotary Club, golf club from Jack Burns, pro Essex Golf and Country Club.

Consolation flight winner, P. Boyko, Roseland, clothing, from J. C. Scofield, president Windsor Lumber Company.

First flight winner, Stan Burns, Essex, cup from Howell and Knowlton, jewelers, golf club from William Fox, pro Lakewood Golf Club.

First flight runner-up, W. Curry, Roseland, clothing, from E. Blake Winter, Windsor.

Second flight winner, J. Zak, Beachwood, clothing, from Fred Munson, manager, DeVilbiss Mfg. Co.

Second flight runner-up, C. Hames, Essex, clothing, from Fred Munson, manager DeVilbiss Mfg. Co.

Third flight winner, R. Cooney, Lakewood, clothing, from W. R. Campbell, vice-president Ford Motor Co. of Canada.

Third flight runner-up, J. Hamilton, Kingsville, clothing, from W. R. Campbell, vice-president Ford Motor Co. of Canada.

Fourth flight winner, V. Dales, Essex, clothing, from John D. Mansfield, president Chrysler Corp. of Canada.

Fourth flight runner-up, B. Uzdillo, Roseland, clothing, from John D. Mansfield, president Chrysler Corp. of Canada.

Fifth flight winner, L. Berneche, Beachwood, clothing, from C. E. Platt, manager L. A. Young Industries of Canada.

Fifth flight runner-up, H. J. Neal, Jr., Roseland, clothing, from E. Blake Winter, 42 Pitt Street West, Windsor.

Best caddie team winners, Lakewood, L. Sabo (captain), N. Panasink, J. Courtemanche and G. Chauvin, Kiwanis Cup from Kiwanis Club, and four toilet sets from Pond's Drug Stores.

A. DeLong, Beachwood, and D. Henderson, Chatham, semi-finalists in championship flight, one golf club each, from Bob McKelvie, Beachwood.

Phil Neal, low gross first nine qualifying day, toilet set; L. Sabo, low gross second nine qualifying day, toilet set.

J. Zak and L. Berneche, Beachwood, golf club each from Bert Brown and associates of Beachwood Club.

Roseland, where the championship was staged, is a very fine course laid out by the celebrated golf architect, Donald Ross. It boasts many character holes and fairways and greens that are rapidly rounding into championship shape. Mr. Neal and his associates have every reason to be proud of their club which is doing so much for the Royal and Ancient game in Windsor and District, apart altogether from the interest taken in the boys, many interesting fixtures being staged there every season.

News of the Middle West

Miss Frances Fletcher is Again Girl Champion of Manitoba, Whilst Dick Critchley Captures the Boys' Championship.

MRS. GEORGE KOESTER, of Winnipeg, who has figured so prominently in Western women's golf for the past few years, won the Niakwa ladies' golf championship when she defeated Mrs. L. C. Ainley, four and three, in the final. In the consolation flight Mrs. T. Hawgood won from Mrs. W. N. Toot-hill by the same score.

Both finalists were forced to play at their best to win, as the runners-up were also in the best of form.

The final in the championship flight of the Polo Park golf tournament, Winnipeg, between Allan Boes and Graham McDonald, was played over the week-end. Allan Boes winning 8 and 6 over the 36-hole route.

Very creditable scores were turned in considering the excessive heat. A. Row won the first flight after a very close game with D. C. Browne.

The course is rounding into splendid shape and patrons of Polo Park are enthusiastic over the great improvement shown in the past few weeks.

W. Dutton is the new champion of the Alerest Club, Winnipeg. He attained the title by defeating Sam Mackey in the 36-hole final. Although Mackey put up a good battle he could not match the superior play of Dutton.

Harold Myers walked off with the first-flight honours, defeating Bill Alexander after a nip-and-tuck contest by 2 and 1.

W. Acheson took premier honours in the monthly medal competition at the Canoe Club, Winnipeg. His score was 76-12-64.

Other cards turned in were as follows: W. Batters, 88-21-67; Gordon Bain, 74-6-68; D. Macdonald, 82-14-68; A. Taylor, 89-20-69.

A. J. Beveridge was the winner of the monthly medal competition at the Assiniboine Golf Club, Winnipeg, with a card of 81-15-66. Geo. Caldwell was the runner-up, scoring 77-7-70. The "B" class honours went to J. Watson. His score was 91-27-64.

Fred Walker is the 1931 champion of the Winnipeg Club. He carded a very fine 71-79-159 to lead a strong field. Ernie Palmer, one of the three players who tied for the qualifying honours in the recent Manitoba amateur, returned two cards of 76 and finished second in the 36-hole medal test. Youthful Gordon Bain was third, with a 36-hole total of 157. His 18-hole scores were 78 and 79. J. Boulault showed the way to first-flight entrants with a well-played 172, made up of an 89 and an 83. Mills was runner-up with 87-93-180, while W. James' 183 took third place. Leading scores in other flights were: Second flight: D. Gilbert, 90-91-181; J. Corbett, 95-92-187; W. Hammill, 93-100-193. Third flight, 96-90-186; A. McLarnon, 101-102-203; E. Millikan, 104-103-207.

The ladies of the Niakwa Golf Club, Winnipeg, entertained at tea at the club house in honour of the girls who took part in the junior girls' championship and their parents. Bouquets of mixed summer bloom decorated the rooms. Mrs. Robert Fletcher and Mrs. J. G. Cory presided over the tea table, which was decorated with low mounds of vari-coloured sweet peas.

That very fine and well known golfer both in the East and West, Douglas Laird, and A. J. Wilson, another well known player, with cards of 79 shared medal honours for the annual club competition of Pine Ridge, Winnipeg. J. I. Munro's 81 was the next best card, while John Gemmill and F. M. Boulton were tied in fourth place with 84's. Munro won the sweepstake held in connection with the championship event with a nett 74, seven strokes less than his gross total for the 18 holes. G. W. McCullough, R. S. Ramsay and A. J. Wilson were close behind with respective cards of 91-16-75; 87-12-75; and 79-4-75. The E. W. Kneeland Cup offered for the recent 54-hole competition went to G. M. Black, Jr., who played consistently for a total of 237 strokes. His 18-hole scores were 79, 81 and 77.

The Pine Ridge Club, Winnipeg, Championship goes to John Gemmill, when he defeated Arthur J. Wilson by 4 and 3 in the thirty-six-hole final. G. M. Black, Jr., defeated J. D. Ruttan by 5 and 4 over the thirty-six-hole route to take the premier honours in the second flight. Black took a commanding lead on the first eighteen holes and was able to stave off Ruttan's challenge in the final round.

Thirty-six members of the Hartney Golf Club, Hartney, Man., participated in a mixed foursome tournament. Fairways and greens were in excellent condition and ideal weather conditions added to the day's enjoyment. When the scores were tallied up at the end of 18 holes play, Mrs. T. E. Gibson and Mrs. H. Perrin were tied with Miss K. Forrest and Mr. A. E. K. Cowles. On playing an extra hole the latter team won out by one stroke.

Prizes for high score went to Mrs. H. C. Batty and Mr. J. A. Fry. The social committee under the convenership of Mrs. A. E. K. Cowles served lunch to the players in the club house between rounds.

The junior golfers of Manitoba were very much in evidence during the month when both the girls and boys staged their championships. In the girls' event Miss Frances Fletcher, Winnipeg, especially starred. She not only won the championship and the qualifying round with a 94 over the difficult Niakwa course, Winnipeg, but she also captured the driving competition—honours enough for one tournament. In the final for the championship she met Miss Rosamond Northwood, Winnipeg. It was a battle royal, the young players being all square on the 17th. Miss Frances, however, won the 18th and the title which she also annexed last year. Miss Betty Gardiner, who was 4 down at the ninth, playing the pluckiest kind of golf eventually won the first flight, 1 up, from Miss Sheila Allen. The championship was under the auspices of the Manitoba Branch of the C.L.G.U.

The boys' championship brought out a record field of 133 competitors. It was played over the Assiniboine course, Winnipeg, and was won by 16-year-old Dick Critchley, Winnipeg, with a snappy 80, four strokes better than Claude Shackell, also of Winnipeg. Dick's victory was a particularly popular one as last year he tied with Bobby Reith for the championship but was disqualified in the play-off as a result of his ball hitting his caddie. Then, too, he was recently in a motor accident, from which he has not entirely recovered. John W. Gardiner, who came from Dauphin, had the best score of the out-of-town boys, registering a well collected 92. The youngest player to compete was Archie Gray, who pleads guilty to being 9 years young. He won a particularly handsome prize. The championship was under the able auspices of the Manitoba Golf Association. The prize winners:—

Champion, D. Critchley, 80; runner-up, Claude Shackell, 84.

Age 16, Joedy Palmer, 85; second, Harry Hopkinson, 86.

Age 15, H. Critchley, 85; second, Steve Logan, 89.

Age 14, K. Weldon, 91; second, H. F. Sandell, 93.

Age 14, A. Cotton, 89; Ken Hanford, 100 (won tie from Harvey Allen).

Age 12, Dick Rocknuck, 93; second, Zenny Ferley, 103.

Age 11, Harold Bailey, 109; second, Nick Machieyo, 115.

Age 9, Archie Gray, 151.

Best score, out-of-town player, John W. Gardner, Dauphin, 92; second, Walter Anderson, Stonewall, 94.

P. A. Macdonald, former Winnipeg public utility commissioner, had his left arm broken when his car went into the ditch near the St. Charles Country Club. Others in the party, all well known golfers, on their way to the club for a foursome, were F. W. Crispo, William Harvey and J. B. Monk. None of the others were injured.

Playing a steady and brilliant brand of golf, Fred L. Bawlf, captured the St. Charles Country Club championship, Winnipeg, when he defeated C. W. Jackson, 6 and 5, after a stirring battle in what was scheduled as a 36-hole final. He will hold the Dingwall Shield, emblematic of the club championship for the next year.

After a great battle over the first 18 holes Bawlf played well to finish the round three up on his opponent. The match came to a conclusion on the thirteen green. To reach the final Mr. Bawlf had to defeat

Gordon E. Konantz, last year's titleholder, while Jackson won from W. J. Arnold, one of the younger members of the club, after a great fight.

St. Charles Country Club, Winnipeg, retained the Birks' Trophy, emblem of the Manitoba Branch, C.L.G.U., inter-club championship. The team composed of Mrs. R. K. Bearisto, Mrs. Gordon Konantz, Mrs. C. C. Balfour and Mrs. John Rogers, turned in gross total of 391 in the championship played over the Elmhurst course to repeat their victory of last season.

Representatives of the St. Charles Club also won the low gross in the bronze division. Mrs. George Heffelfinger, Miss Barbara Northwood, Mrs. George Rutherford and Mrs. F. D. McGrattan formed the second St. Charles' team and shot a total of 450.

Low nett prize in the silver division was retained by Niakwa Country Club team of Mrs. George Koester, Miss Frances Fletcher, Mrs. H. F. Matthews and Mrs. Chas. Flint, who posted a total of 404. The Elmhurst team scored a total of 355 to win low nett in the bronze division.

The inter-club championship, closing fixture of the Manitoba Branch, Canadian Ladies' Golf Union, season proved an outstanding success. Scores in general were good and everything was run off smoothly. Following the match ladies of the Elmhurst Club were hosts at a delightful tea.

The final round of the Wholesalers' Golf Tournament was played over Southwood course, Winnipeg, August 21st, followed by a dinner and presentation of prizes under the chairmanship of Mr. O. A. Marrin. The prize winners were as follows:—

Low gross score—qualifying round—August 10—J. E. Hesler (79).

Low gross score—Credit Men's qualifying round—Thos. Watson.

10, 15 and even 20 rounds of first-class playing life is nothing unusual for the New SUPER-"HARLEQUIN." This is because the specially "tempered" cover is absolutely proof against extremes of climate, and stands up to "topped" shots and rough terrain long after other balls would have to be scrapped. You will find, too, that this "tempered" cover not only gives you greater length with wood and irons, but it vastly improves your putting. Ask your Professional for the New SUPER-"HARLEQUIN" and note the improvement in your game. *C. A. Interesting News of the Men Who Do So Much for the Royal and Ancient Game, from Coast to Coast.

RENE GOLIAS, of France, won the annual German Open golf tournament with an aggregate score of 298, two strokes less than the card of Marcel Dalemagne, another French professional. Joe Kirkwood, lone United States entrant to qualify for the finals, finished fourth with 305. The winner received 2,000 marks with the second place money 1,500 marks. Kirkwood's fourth place netted him 800 marks.

The success of R. M. (Robbie) Alston, professional to the Boule Rock Golf Club, Metis Beach, P.Q., in reaching second place—one stroke behind the winner, Willie Lamb, of Uplands, in the Quebec Open Championship at Summerlea, as elsewhere reported in this issue—will make a few facts about his previous career interesting. This was Alston's first appearance in a major competition in Canada; indeed, he only arrived in the Dominion in May. The fact that he went round in 74 and 69, and was a stroke ahead of Andy Kay, of Lambton, the present Canadian Professional Champion, proves that a likely recruit has been added to the professional ranks.

Alston was born at Turnhouse, near Edinburgh, in 1908, and is not yet 23 years of age. His golf was learned largely on that great training ground of artisan golfers, the Braid Hills course; the record of which he broke when he was 20 with the startling score of 64—a record which still stands. Tommy Armour, Bobbie Cruickshank and other celebrities are graduates of "the Braids" playing there in their boyhood days and also since they have become famous. As a boy he played thrice for Scotland against England in the Boys'

(the championship of Edinburgh and Leith), was runner-up in the Lothian Championship, played first in the winning team of the "Dispatch Trophy" (a very coveted honour) and was in the semi-final of the Scottish Amateur Championship. In 1929 he became a professional, and was fifth in the Scottish Professional Championship, and the only Scottish professional to qualify for the last day's play in the British Open—when Hagen won at Muirfield.

Since coming to Canada he has lowered the Boule Rock record to 64, as well as making such a good showing at Summerlea. He has also bagged a "hole-in-one" at Boule Rock just by way of good measure.

His future career in the Dominion will be watched with much interest. He certainly looks all over like a good 'un.

Bill Kerr, the young professional at the Royal Muskoka Golf Club, Muskoka, has returned home to Toronto and reports a most successful season.

Percy Alliss, the British professional who made such a name for himself at the Canadian Open Championship this season, has decided to leave Germany, where he has been for the past six years, and again take up his residence in England. This will automatically entitle him to play in future on the Ryder Cup teams from which he and Aubrey Boomer, another outstanding player, residing in France, have been previously barred. There is no argument that if Alliss and Boomer had been included in the Ryder Cup team this year the result at Columbus would not have resulted in such a decisive victory for the American professionals.

Alliss has done a great deal for golf in the Fatherland and his decision to leave there the end of this season is generally regretted by Germans who in rapidly increasing numbers are taking up with the game. When Alliss went to Germany there were only a few scattered clubs to be found in the larger centres. Now there are over one hundred.

Arthur Ham, so well known and popular on Canadian courses, is now professional at the Charlotte Country Club, Charlotte, N.C., which recently opened a magnificent new club house—one of the finest in the South. The course, too, is a magnificent one. Ham will be very glad to see any Canadians who the coming winter will visit North Carolina—and quite a number do every season.

That Percy Alliss, erstwhile British professional, but now resident in Germany, who made such a splendid and sensational showing in the Canadian Open at Mississauga this summer, when he tied with Walter Hagen, losing in the play-off, is still going strong, was evidenced the other day when he won the Swedish Open with the fine score of 287. There was a very strong field of European professionals. Allis has promised to come back to Canada and again play in the Canadian Open next year. It is also understood that he has put in an application for citizenship in the United States and when accepted will take up a position with a very prominent U.S. club. That, however, may take two or three years to consummate as it is no easy matter now-a-days to enter "the land of the free"—so called.

In A Three-Cornered Play-Off

Young Jack Chinery, of the Humber Valley Golf Club, Toronto, Wins the Junior Championship of Ontario.

THE 9th annual junior championship of Ontario held at York Downs, Toronto, on September 4th, notwithstanding the reduced age limit to 18 brought out a field of nearly one hundred youngsters from all parts of the Province, although naturally Toronto boys predominated. The course was in splendid shape, the weather ideal and the golf really of a very high character.

Running true to form this championship, like so many others this season, resulted in a "tie-up", three promising youngsters, Jack Chinery, Humber Valley, son of the head greenkeeper at York Downs, R. G. Phelan, Rosedale, and Art Stollery, also of Rosedale, all handing in cards of 160, which is good scoring on a stiff course like York Downs, of over 6,300 yards. "Billy" Freeman, the club's professional, is certainly a good sizer-up of boys. He predicted at the beginning of the tournament that 160 would win—and three of the juniors verified this prediction.

In the play-off the following day between the three 160's, Jack Chinery, Humber Valley, with an extremely well played 77, quite decisively annexed the championship. He is a worthy successor to Phil Farley, the 1930 champion, no longer eligible to play in junior golf, who has made such a name for himself this season. There is no reason on the style he displayed that Young Chinery should not later on duplicate Farley's successes. The newly crowned junior champion was out in 36 and home in 41. His opponents, the Rosedale clubmates, Rod Phelan and Arthur Stollery, had cards respectively of 37-42-79 and 41-39-80—very creditable scores.

The championship was not the only thing the boys went out after. There were awards for best gross scores and best rounds for 16 and 17, 14 and 15, and 12 and 13 year olders, not to mention a prize for the youngest player. Altogether a tournament that kept the interest of every competitor keyed-up until the last hole. And this is what happened:—

Gross scores, all classes—Jack Chinery, Humber Valley; Rod Phelan, Rosedale, and Arthur Stollery, Rosedale, 160.

Gross scores, 16 and 17 years, 36 holes—J. S. Rogers, Lakeview, 163; first 18 holes, Mike Taylor, York Downs, 79; second 18 holes, Jack Stinson, Brantford, 81.

Gross scores, 14 and 15 years—36 holes, George Symmes, Mississauga, 168; first 18 holes, Frank Woolridge, Humber Valley, 82; second 18 holes, W. Chinery, Humber Valley (after play-off), 89.

Gross scores, 12 and 13 years—36 holes, Clare Chinery, Humber Valley, 172; first 18 holes, Shin Neal, Roseland, Windsor, 85;

second 18 holes, J. S. Boeckh, York Downs (after toss).

Youngest player—Cliff Grieve, Humber Valley, 216 (10 years).

It will be noticed that all the prize winners were Toronto boys with the exception of Jack Stinson, of Brantford, and "Shin" Neal, of Windsor, both promising young players who will unquestionably profit by their first Toronto tournament experience. From these one hundred boys will come the future champion of Ontario if not of Canada. It was most satisfactory the splendid form shown by the majority of them. They drove like veterans, and approached and putted well, whilst many of them had a poise and confidence which was quite remarkable.

The Willingdon Cup Golf Trophy

Is Won by the Secretary of the Siamese Legation at Washington.

IT was a case of poetic justice or at least of remarkable opportuneness to the occasion when Reginald Loftus, secretary to the Siamese Minister at Washington, D.C., won the Willingdon Amateur Golf Cup, the annual trophy competed for at the Banff Springs Hotel course last month. Their Majesties the King and Queen of Siam were interested members in a large gallery that followed the Willingdon Cup finalists. Mr. Loftus had no cinch for he had to fight hole by hole with the runner-up, F. Irwin, of Kamloops, B.C., who held him even right through the 36-hole match as far as the 34th when they were all square. Then Mr. Loftus took the next two and ended the week's play for the former Governor-General's Trophy.

Thirty-two players emerged from the 36-hole qualifying medal play and they came from all parts of the Dominion and the United States between New York and Los Angeles.

Banff Springs, Alberta, the setting of the contest, has long been a famous holiday resort. Its location, in the most beautiful mountain surroundings, coupled with its ready accessibility from all the larger centres of Canada and the United States, makes it a favourite meeting place for the army of summer visitors who annually invade the Canadian Rockies. The great hotel built in Scotch baronial style, is the hub of all activities and the golfer will find many other forms of recreation beside his own chosen game.

Popular Mayor of Fort William Wins Championship

(By C. C. Milne)

FOUR down and six to go, Mayor E. Grimes Murphy, Fort William, one of the stoutest golfers ever to tee a ball on a Lakehead course, staged a magnificent rally to defeat Jim Whalen, Port Arthur Country Club, one up, in the final of the Thunder Bay District amateur championship over the Port Arthur Country Club course on Labour Day.

Four times around the 2,940 yard course the players stroked their way in bright sunshine and a slight wind. The putting touch which had carried Murphy through a hard semi-final match with Harry Fisher, Fort William, deserted him, while Whalen was playing the same magnificent golf which had taken him a two and one triumph over Johnny Henry, defending champion, in the other half of the semi-final. After their third trip, Murphy was five down. With their medal scores registering above forty, there seemed little doubt but that Whalen would regain the title formerly held by his brother, Ted.

But the sturdy popular Irish Mayor of Fort William would not be beaten. He tossed four brilliant three's into the hectic final nine holes to turn defeat into victory, his putter polishing off the work of his irons.

The cards on the final nine holes, with par:—

Par	454	344	344—35
Murphy	456	334	335—38
Whalen	565	445	465—44

course in three years, Angus C. Mackay dropping his tee shot on the 150-yard seventh with a mashie. He was playing Frank Murphy, brother of the champion, and present New Ontario singles tennis champion. C. B. Symes and H. E. Perrot were witnesses to the shot. Mr. Mackay is on the reportorial staff of the "Evening News-Chronicle", Port Arthur, and a son of Mr. E. B. Mackay, managing editor.

The district championship brings to a close one of the most interesting golfing seasons in Thunder Bay district. In addition to the four invitation tournaments held on the various courses, the Lakehead golfers were hosts to a party of members of the Northland Country Club, Duluth, in the return match of a series played in Duluth early in August. The final games in club championships are under way at present, and an official list of the victors will be available shortly.

Ontario Girls' Championship

Is Won in Decisive Fashion by Miss Mary Hunter, of Glendale, Hamilton.

ONE of the most picturesque and interesting golfing events of the season had for its setting, most appropriately, the Burlington Golf and Country Club, one of the prettiest courses in Ontario. Here on September 3rd and 4th the young girls of the Province seriously and strenuously contended for premier honours at medal play and at the end of the 36 holes by a wide margin Miss Mary Hunter, of Glendale, Hamilton, who already has made quite a name for herself on the links, demonstrated her right to be crowned the champion of the Ontario girl golfers. Miss Mary with capital rounds of 88-86-174 easily lead each day the sparkling young field. Her only threat was Miss Douglas McIlwraith, of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club, who carded 94-91 for a total of 185, or eleven strokes back of the brilliant young Glendale girl.

Following were the scores:—

	1	2	T'l.

Lex Robson Wins the Championship

Of the Ontario Professional Golfers' Association, One of the Most Coveted Titles of the Year.

THAT very fine and finished exponent of the game, Lex Robson, professional at the Islington Golf Club, Toronto, erstwhile Scottish amateur, has at last come into his own. Ever since coming to Canada some few years ago he has been "a threat" in all championships and tournaments but has never quite got there. But at Upland Downs, Toronto, this month he dominated a field of the very best professionals of Ontario, and that means almost the best in Canada, to win the coveted Captain Melville Millar Cup, which is emblematic of the Championship of the Ontario Professional Golf Association—no mean title. As a result of his notable victory Robson to-day is receiving well deserved congratulations of golfing friends throughout Ontario, in which the Editor of the "Canadian Golfer", who has known him since his arrival in Canada, heartily joins.

Uplands, one of the newer Toronto clubs, has a course which in many features is unexcelled in the Toronto District. The setting is superb. Tree-skirted fairways, with many a hill and hollow and creek to negotiate call for straight play off the tees and through the fairways. It is a fact, almost incredible, that one of the best known professionals in Ontario in the qualifying round required a 10 at one hole whilst another just escaped double figures with a 9. Needless to say perhaps, in such fast company neither qualified.

Some fifty pros and their assistants teed-up for the 36-hole qualifying round on the first day, which was won by Davie Spittal, of the St. Andrews Golf Club, formerly professional at Uplands.

The St. Andrews ace and Ontario Open Champion had a one-stroke advantage over three others. He turned in a card of 142 over the tricky Uplands course, doing the early round in 70 (2 over par), and the afternoon round in 72.

In a triple tie for second place were W. McWilliams, of Thistledown Golf Club, Lex Robson, of Islington, and Arthur Hulbert, of Thornhill. Each of them had a card of 143.

Four contestants who were tied for sixteenth place with scores of 156 had to play off to decide which was to continue the quest for professional honours. Jimmy Hunter, of Glendale, Hamilton, proved the winner.

The qualifiers:—

Dave Spittal, St. Andrews.....	70-72—142
W. McWilliams, Thistledown.....	70-73—143
Lex Robson, Islington.....	72-71—143
Arthur, Hulbert, Thornhill.....	69-74—143
Lou Cumming, Toronto Ladies....	68-76—144
Jimmy Johnstone, Rosedale.....	77-69—146
Willie Spittal, Oakdale.....	77-70—147
Dave Ferguson, Weston.....	75-72—147

xR. Borthwick, Toronto.....	76-72—148
Andy Kay, Lambton.....	75-74—149
Willie Lamb, Uplands.....	73-77—150
B. Cunningham, Mississauga.....	72-80—152
xBen Norris, Toronto Ladies.....	75-78—153
xW. Kerr, York Downs.....	79-76—155
xS. McDowell, Rosedale.....	76-79—155
Jimmy Hunter, Glendale.....	78-78—156

Lex Robson, Islington Golf Club, winner of the championship of the Ontario Professional Golf Association.

xAssistants.

And this is what happened in the play-down at match play:—

First Round—

Davie Spittal, St. Andrews, defeated Wm. MacWilliam, Thistledown, at 21st hole.

Willie Lamb, Uplands, defeated Wm. Kerr, York Downs, 7 and 5.

Sam McDowell, Rosedale, defeated Jimmy Johnstone, Rosedale, at 19th hole.

Jimmy Hunter, Glendale, defeated Lou Cumming, Toronto Ladies, 1 up.

Lex Robson, Islington, defeated Willie Spittal, Oakdale, 2 and 1.

Dick Borthwick, Toronto Golf, defeated Arthur Hulbert, Thornhill, 4 and 3.

Davie Ferguson, Weston, defeated Bob Cunningham, Mississauga, at 21st hole.

Andy Kay, Lambton, defeated B. Norris, Toronto Ladies, 3 and 2.

Second Round—

Dave Spittal defeated Willie Lamb at 19th hole.

Jimmy Hunter defeated Sam McDowell, 3 and 2.

The beautiful Captain Melville Millar Trophy, emblematic of the Ontario Professional Championship.

Lex Robson defeated Dick Borthwick, 4 and 3.

Dave Ferguson defeated Andy Kay, 2 and 1.

Semi-Finals—

Spittal defeated Hunter 6 and 5. Robson defeated Ferguson on the 19th.

Final—Robson defeated Spittal, 7 and 6.

There were all kinds of upsets during the two days match play. In the first round Arthur Hulbert had to bow to young Borthwick, assistant at the Toronto Golf Club, but formerly his own assistant. Then in the first and second rounds, Davie Ferguson, another product of Auld Scotia, took the measure of such outstanding players as Bob Cunningham and Andy Kay, both fancied for the championship. It was in the second round, too, that Spittal disposed of Willie Lamb, winner of the championship last year and generally thought to have a good chance to repeat this year. The final was by way of being an anticlimax to many thrilling matches. Robson was never headed and scored an easy victory over the Ontario Champion by 7 and 6. Possibly the best match during the whole tournament was that between Robson and his chum and countryman, Ferguson, in the semi-finals which went to the 19th. Both Robson and Ferguson had cards of 66 for the 18 holes—records for Uplands.

As a result of Robson's well deserved victory the tournament will be played next year at the Islington Club, which is most appropriate. It was at Islington that the initial match play tournament was played in 1927, when Arthur Miles, of Mississauga, won and the following year Captain Melville Millar, manager of the Islington Golf Club, presented the trophy and the tourney became an annual affair. Jimmy Johnstone won that year at Mississauga, and the other winners have been Bob Cunningham in 1929 and Willie Lamb in 1930.

Following the completion of the final the prize money, amounting to $502.45, was distributed, Captain Millar and President P. E. F. Smiley, of the Uplands, officiating. All sixteen qualifiers received prizes ranging from $5 to $50, and the prize winners were: Lex Robson, Islington, $171.65, in addition to cheque for $25 from Captain and Mrs. Millar to the winner; Dave Spittal, St. Andrew's, $120; Dave Ferguson, Weston, and Jimmy Hunter, Glendale, $35 each; Bill MacWilliam, Thistle-down, and Arthur Hulbert, Thornhill, $21.65 each; Willie Lamb, Uplands, Dick Borthwick, Toronto Golf, Sam McDowell, Rosedale, and Andy Kay, Lambton, $15 each; Lou Cumming, Toronto Ladies, $10; Jimmy Johnstone, Rosedale, $7.50; Willie Spittal, Oakdale, Bob Cunningham, Mississauga, Bill Kerr, York Downs, and Ben Norris, Toronto Ladies, $5 each.

The first golf tournament in Canada, participated in by disabled soldiers took place September 15th at the Royal York Golf Club, when 18 members of the Amputations' Association, in convention in Toronto, thoroughly enjoyed an afternoon's outing on the links and competed for twelve trophies. Dr. Frank O'Leary, of Toronto, was in charge of this most unusual and interesting event. In Great Britain recently, a one-armed tournament was staged and some fifty veterans of the war, participated, some of them returning scores in the eighties.

Canadian Seniors Golf Association

Mr. J. Dix Fraser, Rosedale, Wins the Championship, with Mr. Geo. S. Lyon Runner-up. Mount Bruno, Montreal, Scene of Most Delightful Annual Tournament. Mr. P. D. Ross, Ottawa, Again Re-elected President of the Association.

AFTER holding the championship for ten times, George S. Lyon, the Dominion's Grand Old Golfer, rather to the regret of Senior golfers throughout Canada, had to bow the knee this month at Mount Bruno, Montreal, to J. Dix Fraser, of Rosedale, Toronto, who is fifteen years younger than the many times champion. The result was not altogether a surprise as Fraser has been playing repeatedly in the seventies this season over the stiff Rosedale course. Like his predecessor in the title, he took up golf when in "the forties" at Fort William and Port Arthur before removing to Toronto some twelve years ago. He too, like Lyon, is a strong, resourceful player and drives a long ball and plays his irons crisply and well. The new champion, who is 58 years of age, can give the majority of the most brilliant young players a "run for their money". Last year at Toronto, he was runner-up to the veteran with a score of 157, or 5 strokes to the bad. This month at Montreal he carded 158, which reversed the 1930 argument to the tune this time of 5 strokes to the good, Lyon, the runner-up, having 163. These fine veteran players have had two encounters in succession in which the stroke margin of victory was exactly reversed. It will be the general hope of all Senior golfing friends that they will both be on edge and keen as ever for a third encounter in 1932.

Mr. Lyon has won the Senior Championship ten times and has been runner-up three times out of a total of fourteen championships—an unparalleled record in any golfing competition. In 1924 he was defeated by F. A. Parker, a Lambton clubmate. In 1927 he did not compete owing to illness and in 1929 he tied with J. B. Caldwell, of Ottawa, but defaulted, having to leave to attend the marriage of his only son, Mr. Fred Lyon.

Considering that neither the U.S. Senior matches nor the Triangular matches, Great Britain, the United States and Canada, were scheduled this year, as they were last year at

Mr. P. D. Ross, Ottawa, re-elected president of the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association, and the Right Hon. Sir Robert Laird Borden, former Prime Minister of Canada, Hon. President and Governor of the Seniors, "snapped" at Mount Bruno.

Toronto, and they are always great attractions, there was a very good entry of prominent Seniors, especially from Ontario and Quebec—in all a hundred or so gallant golfers who pleaded to being fifty-five years and upwards and as keen on the game as players half that age or less.

tournament was at Mount Bruno, Montreal, and the entrants were all heartily in accord that a better selection could not have been made. In fact one prominent Toronto member, who has played in every championship with distinction, went on record that the Mount Bruno course, laid out by the famous golf architect, the late Willie Park, was better adapted for a Senior event than any other that he had ever played over. The spacious, well kept fairways especially appealed to the players.

The competition in all the classes was very close indeed. On the first day Mr. Dix Fraser, Rosedale, headed a representative field by turning in a well collected 81. Right on his heels were Messrs. G. S. Lyon and G. L. Robinson, of Lambton, with 82 and 84, J. E. Caldwell, Ottawa, a former champion, had an 86, and so did D. B. Milligan, Laval, Montreal. Four 87's next followed handed in by W. H. C. Mussen, Royal Montreal, T. F. Matthews, Toronto, H. D. Dwyer, Whitlock, Montreal, and Dr. A. A. Beatty, Rosedale. Others in the eighties were F. A. Parker, Lambton, a former champion, who returned an 88, as also did J. A. Mercier, M.P., Laval, J. A. Ogilvie, Brantford, carded an 89, as well as C. W. D. Defoe, Toronto, George Lyman, Royal Montreal, A. A. Hodgson, Mount Bruno, and D. Robertson, Ottawa.

On the second and final day, Mr. Fraser bettered his previous round by 4 strokes, turning in a particularly fine card of 77 which gave him a total of 158, and clinched the championship decisively for him as the best his three most serious rivals, Messrs. Lyon, Robinson and Caldwell, could do were 81, 82 and 85, for totals respectively of 163, 166 and 171, so the Rosedale ace was crowned champion of the Seniors by a very comfortable margin. Mr. Fraser is exceedingly popular with golfers both old and young and his capturing of the championship was the cause of well deserved congratulations on all hands. Mr. Lyon had the satisfaction of winning the Wallace Nesbitt Cup, Mr. Caldwell the Baker Cup, and Mr. Robinson the best gross in Class A, so all the leaders more or less came into their own. The cards of the winner and runner-up:—

J. Dix Fraser:
Out	463 455 434—38
In	345 554 454—39—77—81—158
G. S. Lyon:
Out	553 655 434—40
In	446 554 454—41—81—82—163

Among the outstanding men who participated in the tournament were (in order of their scoring):—

J. Dix Fraser, Toronto; G. S. Lyon, Toronto; G. L. Robinson, Toronto; J. E. Caldwell, Ottawa; F. A. Parker, Toronto; W. H. C. Mussen, Royal Montreal; T. F. Matthews, Toronto; H. D. Dwyer, Whitlock, Montreal; J. A. Ogilvie, Brantford, Ont.; H. C. F. Poste, Cornwall, Ont.; Dr. H. H. Pirie, Hamilton, Ont.; David Robertson, Ottawa; A. A. Hodgson, Mount Bruno; T. E. Merrett, Royal Montreal; D. B. Mulligan, Laval, Montreal; John Rennie, Toronto; Dr. A. A. Beatty, Toronto; C. W. D. Defoe, Toronto; J. A. Mereier, M.P., Laval, Montreal; Thomas Rennie, Toronto; W. H. Seymour, Ancaster, Ont.; George Lyman, Royal Montreal; S. L. McKay, Sarnia, Ont.; D. J. O'Brien, Ottawa; A. B. Evans, Royal Montreal; J. R. Fallis, Brampton, Ont.; F. M. McRobie, Royal Montreal; W. Garth Thomson, Kanawaki, Montreal; A. W. Ridout, Beaconsfield, Montreal; F. I. Ritchie, Brockville, Ont.; Donald McLennan, Royal Montreal; R. J. Dilworth, Toronto; P. D. Ross, Ottawa; G. T. Chisholm, Toronto; G. S. Kilbourn, Owen Sound, Ont.; Dr. A. Archibald, Mt. Bruno, Montreal; Paul J. Myler, Hamilton, Ont.; F. H. Kilbourn, Owen Sound, Ont.; A. D. Anderson, Royal Montreal; A. F. C. Ross, Royal Montreal; W. H. Webling, Brantford, Ont.; W. Lajeunesse, Laval, Montreal; R. S. Logan, Beaconsfield, Montreal; F. J. Campbell, Royal Montreal; W. A. White, Brockville, Ont.; Gilbert Ferabee, Kanawaki, Montreal; N. S. Braden, Hamilton, Ont.; A. E. Dymont, Toronto; Dr. W. M. McGuire, Norfolk, Ont.; D. J. Munn, Beaconsfield, Montreal; H. L. Putnam, Kanawaki, Montreal; C. C. Holland, Marlborough, Montreal; Col. A. E. Kirkpatrick, Toronto; O. Wardlaw, Toronto; C. A. Butler, Beaconsfield, Montreal; C. T. Gnaedinger, Montreal; T. Hoiroyde, Royal Montreal; F. R. Heaton, Beaconsfield, Montreal; Charles W. Bates, Carleton Place, Ont.; Hon. Frank Carrel, Quebec; Sir George Garneau, Quebec; J. G. Ross, Royal Montreal; Henry Chauvin, Royal Montreal; Sir Henry W. Thornton, Mt. Bruno, Montreal; J. I. MacCracken, Ottawa; J. W. Ross, Royal Montreal; Sir Montagu Allan, Mt. Bruno, Montreal; F. H. Hand, Toronto; H. L. Peiler, Kanawaki, Montreal; W. St. Pierre, Laval, Montreal; W. E. Danner, Perth, Ont.; W. Godbee Brown, Country Club, Montreal.

On both days of the tournament there were putting matches for handsome cups and these competitions as usual were greatly enjoyed. Then on the third day there were foursomes. This interesting event resulted in a victory for two Rosedale players, Dr. A. A. Beatty and John Lindsay. The pair scored a 41-42-83-74 over the par 70 course to lead their nearest competitors by two strokes in nett totals. Second honours were taken by J. W. Ross, Royal Montreal, and Col. A. E. Kirkpatrick, of Toronto, with 46-54-100-76.

Mr. J. Dix Fraser, of Rosedale, Toronto, newly crowned champion of the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association.

Wardlaw, popular Toronto Senior, and best nett 36 holes for the Bogert Cup, miniature of which was won by Mr. D. D. McLennan, well known member of the Royal Montreal.

The Annual Meeting of the Association

During tournament week the annual meeting of the Association was held at the Mount Bruno Country Club, the very capable president, Mr. P. D. Ross, of Ottawa, in the chair.

The annual report of Mr. A. C. Ashforth, the efficient secretary, showed that the finances were in excellent shape. The revenue for the year was $4,332.00, and the membership 406.

The president addressed the meeting and referred to the satisfactory condition of the Association's affairs. The large number of applications for membership received during a year of unusual stress was particularly encouraging, and augured for the continued growth of the Association. He referred, with deep regret, to the loss sustained in the removal, by death, of the following members since the last annual meeting, including a beloved Governor, Mr. Edson Loy Pease:

Messrs. H. J. Bethune, a member since 1929; Dr. F. J. Capon, a member since November, 1920; G. R. Hargraft, a member since August, 1918; Maj.-Gen. W. E. Hodgins, a member since September, 1927; J. E. B. Littlejohn, a member since November, 1925; Wm. McMaster, a member since August, 1919; E. L. Pease, a member since September, 1922; C. Howard Smith, a member since September, 1922; Percy B. Wilson, a member since August, 1927.

The president tendered his sincere thanks to the members of the various committees for the very satisfactory arrangements made in connection with the present tournament, and stated that their untiring efforts had done much to make the tournament an unqualified success.

The following were elected officers and Governors for the ensuing year:—

Patron—His Excellency The Right Hon. The Earl of Bessborough, P.C., G.C.M.G., Governor-General of Canada.

Honorary president—Right Hon. Sir Robert L. Borden, G.C.M.G., P.C., K.C., D.C.L., LL.D., The Royal Ottawa Golf Club.

President—P. D. Ross, The Royal Ottawa Golf Club, Ottawa.

First vice-president—The Honourable Martin Burrell, The Royal Ottawa Golf Club.

Second vice-president—R. H. Greene, The Lambton Golf and Country Club, Toronto.

Chairman of Tournament Committee—R. H. Greene, The Lambton Golf and Country Club, Toronto.

Secretary-treasurer — A. C. Ashforth, Toronto.

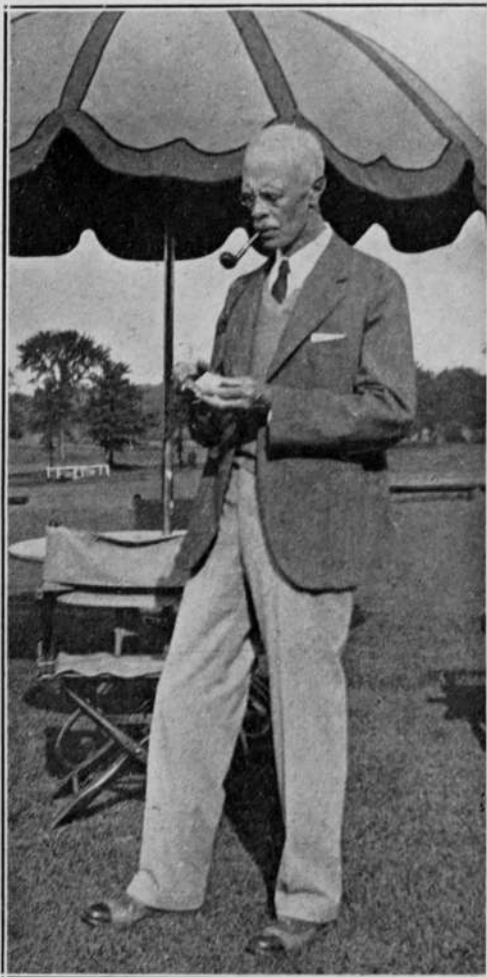

Governors—Messrs. Clarence A. Bogert, Rt. Hon. Sir Robert L. Borden, Hon. Martin Burrell, J. E. Caldwell, A. E. Dymont, A. B. Evans, Sir George Garneau, R. H. Greene, A. A. Hodgson, George S. Lyon, E. H. Macklin, J. L. McCulloch, J. J. McGill, S. L. McKay, Lt.-Col. J. B. Miller, Col. J. R. Moodie, Paul J. Myler, Ralph H. Reville, Geo. L. Robinson, Frank A. Rolph, P. D. Ross, W. H. Webbing, H. H. Williams, C. P. Wilson, K.C.

An interesting discussion took place as to the merits of playing four-ball games instead of twosomes, as in former tournaments, and in view of the diversity of opinions expressed, it was proposed by Mr. J. J. McGill, and seconded by the Honourable Frank Carrel, that the members who participated in the 1931 tournament be asked to express their opinions as to which game they prefer; the replies are to be submitted at the first meeting of the Governors of the Association.

The president asked the members for an expression of their views respecting the presentation of special prizes instead of cups or trophies, to the winners of the various events. As the members present thought that special prizes were preferable, it was decided that in future cups would only be given where they were particularly desired.

A cordial vote of thanks to the president, officers and members of the Mount Bruno Country Club for the privileges accorded the Association during the annual tournament, was proposed by Dr. W. M.

Sir George Garneau, Quebec, Chairman National Battlefields Commission, Governor of the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association and one of the principal speakers at the annual dinner, photographed at Mount Bruno.

McGuire, and seconded by Sir George Garneau, and carried by a unanimous standing vote.

The Hon. Frank Carrel extended an invitation to hold the 1932 tournament at the Quebec Golf Club, and Mr. George Lyon stated that the Royal York Golf Club, Toronto, would be pleased to extend the privileges of their course. The matter is to be discussed further by the Governors.

The Annual Dinner

As usual the annual dinner of the Seniors was one of the outstanding features of a most delightful week. It was held at the Mount Bruno club house, which was charmingly decorated for the occasion. Supporting the president, Mr. Ross, at the head table were:—

The Rt. Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Sir George Garneau, Sir Henry Thornton, C. A. Bogert (ex-president of the Association), A. B. Evans, J. J. McGill, R. S. McLaughlin, Hon. Frank Carrel, P. F. Sise, Geo. S. Lyon.

There was a large attendance of members of the Association, who were "played" into the dining room by Scottish pipers. The speeches were particularly good, the music and entertainment were above the average, and altogether the dinner "went over with a swing and follow through" which left nothing to be desired.

The Hon. Senator George P. Graham, former Minister of Railways and Canals, is noted as one of the brightest after-dinner speakers in Canada and he quite lived up to this reputation in proposing the toast to the Province of Quebec. The benefits derived from golf in creating a better fellowship between widespread parts of the country was especially stressed by the speaker. Sir George Garneau, of Quebec, responded to the toast in a most charming manner. Sir George, who is one of the outstanding men of the Ancient Capital, speaks as eloquently and gracefully in English as he does in French. He too dwelt upon the benefits of golf in cementing delightful friendships and associations.

Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C.N.R., during the course of a short address, extended a cordial invitation to the Seniors to hold their next meeting at Jasper Park. Mr. Ross made an admirable chairman and the arrangements for the banquet throughout left nothing to be desired.

Sir Robert Borden was to have been one of the speakers but unfortunately the former Prime Minister whilst playing golf the day before the tournament opened at Bruno caught cold and was unable to be present at the dinner, much to the regret of every Senior. Another notable absentee was the Hon. Martin Burrell, of Ottawa, who for many years was the principal speaker at the banquet. His speeches on this occasion were really "golfing classics" and will always be held in fragrant memory alike by the Senior golfers of Great Britain, the United States and Canada.

Governor-General Honours Seniors

A notable visitor to Mount Bruno during tournament week was His Excellency Lord Bessborough, Governor-General of Canada, and his son, Lord Duncannon. They played over the course with Frank Glass, the outstanding professional of the club. His Excellency's visit was especially appreciated by the Seniors.

Geo. Lyon Again Wins Senior

After the tournament at Mount Bruno the Canadian International team journeyed to Apawamis, Rye, N.Y., where the annual match was played with the U.S. Seniors and again won by the Americans. Mr. George S. Lyon, however, was again awarded the Individual Championship. He tied with Dr. G. T. Greig, the U.S. champion, but as Mr. Lyon was defending the title, Dr. Greig very graciously retired in favour of the Canadian veteran who was again proclaimed champion Senior golfer of America.

Ottawa Hunt Gets 1932 Open Championship and Lambton the Amateur

It has been officially announced that the Royal Canadian Golf Association has selected Ottawa as the venue of the Canadian Open in 1932 and the club to secure the coveted championship is the Ottawa Hunt and Golf Club. This is a course that has only been in play for a few years and has never before been looked upon as of championship calibre, but the consensus of opinion of experts who the past year or so have played over it is that it provides one of the best tests of golf to be found anywhere in Canada. The last time the Open Championship was held in Ottawa was in 1920 when at the Rivermead Club, in a triple tie with C. R. Murray and Tommy Armour, then a Scottish amateur, the late Douglas Edgar won the title. There were only two golf clubs in the Capital then with a membership of a few hundred. Now there are seven clubs with memberships running up into the thousand. Ottawa was entitled to recognition from the R.C.G.A. and in selecting the Ottawa Hunt course a very splendid selection indeed has been made.

It has also just been officially announced that the 1932 Amateur Championship will be held at the Lambton Golf and Country Club, Toronto.

Maritimes Ladies' Championship

Mrs. S. E. Goodwin, of Amherst, Defeats Miss Edith Bauld, the Many Times Titleholder.

A NEW queen of Maritime golf-dom was crowned last month on the links of the Lingan Golf Club, Sydney, N.S., when Mrs. Stanley E. Goodwin, of Amherst, N.S., stroked her way to victory over Miss Edith Bauld, of Halifax, in the final round of the Maritime ladies' golf championship.

Mrs. Goodwin captured the championship round five up and four to go and only at one stage in the match did she trail her rival for the title, at the fourth hole, when Miss Bauld went one up only to have the match squared at the seventh.

One of the largest galleries of spectators present during the whole week's tournament witnessed the final round.

Mrs. Goodwin displayed some of the best golf of the tourney in defeating the many times titleholder.

Mrs. Goodwin captured the first hole when Miss Bauld took an eight to hole out, but the match was squared again at the second hole when Miss Bauld took a par three to her rival's four. The third was halved in five, and in the fourth Miss Bauld jumped into the lead momentarily.

The fifth and sixth holes were halved but in the ninth Mrs. Goodwin went one up on the former titleholder, having negotiated the first 9 holes in 47.

A par five on the tenth and a par three on the eleventh placed Mrs. Goodwin three up.

The next hole was halved, but Mrs. Goodwin captured the thirteenth and fourteenth and ended the match five up and four to go.

Miss Bauld has dominated ladies' golf in the Maritimes for many years and her defeat by Mrs. Goodwin came as a great surprise. The winner came in for all kinds of congratulations. The following is the complete prize list of a thoroughly interesting championship:—

Championship—Mrs. Stanley Goodwin, Amherst.

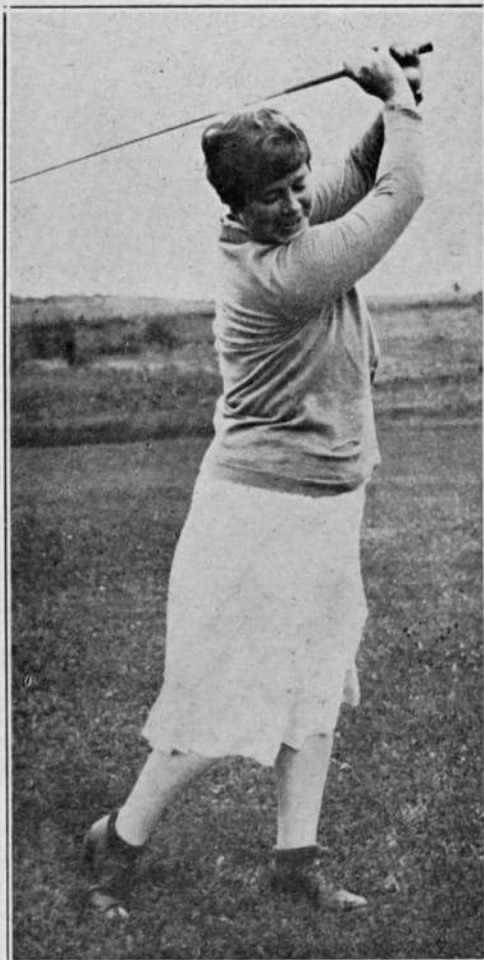

Runner-up—Miss Edith Bauld, Halifax.

Championship consolation—Mrs. McKinnon, Charlottetown.

Championship consolation, runner-up—Mrs. Snook, Truro.

First flight winner—Miss Carter.

First flight runner-up—Mrs. Grayson.

Mrs. Stanley E. Goodwin, Amherst, N.S., who decisively wins the Ladies' Championship of the Maritimes.

First flight consolation—Mrs. Allardyce, St. John's.

First flight runner-up—Mrs. Graves, Sydney.

Second flight winner—Mrs. Guest.

Second flight runner-up—Mrs. Ball.

Second flight consolation—Miss Dickie, Truro.

Second flight runner-up—Mrs. Price, Moncton.

Best gross score in qualifying round—Mrs. Dolan, Fredericton.

Best nett score—Miss Crockett, Fredericton.

Best putting in qualifying round—Mrs. Bennison and Mrs. Jamieson.

Best gross score in medal round—Mrs. Lewis.

Best nett score in medal round—Mrs. Moffatt.

Driving competition—First, Mrs. Guest; second, Mrs. McKinnon, Charlottetown.

Approaching and putting—First, Mrs. H. B. Gillis; second, Mrs. Goodwin, Amherst.

Mrs. Goodwin before meeting Miss Bauld in the final had accounted for Mrs. Dolan, one of the leaders in Maritime women's golf, also by a 5 and 4 margin, thus conclusively demonstrating that she is to-day the best lady player "down by the sounding sea". The new champion is a very long driver indeed and is particularly good too through the fairway and on the green. She gives a great deal of credit for her outstanding victory to Jack Madash, the promising young Ontario professional, who only took up his duties at Amherst this season. He especially polished up her short work round the greens.

Death Sentence Passed on New U.S. Ball

As predicted in last month's "Canadian Golfer", the United States Golf Association has decided to scrap the "balloon ball" and it is generally thought, as also forecasted last month, will instead authorize a new ball, the same diameter as the "balloon ball", namely 1.68 inches, but weighing 1.62 ounces, the same as the old ball and the official ball of the Royal and Ancient and Royal Canadian Golf Association.

The official announcement just made by Mr. H. H. Ramsay, New York, president of the U.S.G.A., briefly states that "a new ball of increased weight will become effective for play on or after April 1st, 1932."

The ball put into play this year for the first time in the United States, but in no other country, and which aroused so much protest, weighs 1.55 ounces. It was only ten months ago, or on January 1st last, that the larger and lighter ball was put into official use in the States and from the very start aroused nationwide protests. The Royal Canadian Golf Association very wisely refused to be stampeded into following the U.S.G.A. in authorizing any departure from the standardized ball, 1.62 in diameter and 1.62 in weight, which has given such satisfaction, throughout the Empire, the past few years. The scrapping of the old moulds last year and the installing of new moulds cost the manufacturers of golf balls a large amount of money and now they will be again called upon to make a complete change in their plants in order to provide for the manufacture of still another new ball for next season's consumption. The U.S.G.A. has certainly not made the lot of the golf ball manufacturer a particularly happy one the last year or so.

Lady Bessborough Accepts Patronship of C. L. G. U.

THE Canadian Ladies' Golf Union announces that Her Excellency, Lady Bessborough, has most graciously consented to become Hon. Patroness of the Association, in succession to Lady Willingdon, who resigned office on leaving Canada for India. The C.L.G.U. has always been fortunate in having the warm support of the wives of the Governor-Generals. It was the late Duchess of Connaught, who was very fond of the game, and frequently was to be seen with the Duke on the Royal Ottawa course, who donated the handsome gold championship cup to the ladies. During the war this beautiful and very valuable trophy was lost but was eventually found safely reposing on a shelf in a jeweller's vault in Ottawa, where it had been for five years, much to the relief of the officials, who responsible for its safe custody, under the deed of gift and who had been feverishly searching for it in Montreal, Toronto and other likely places.

Rosedale Golf Steward Honoured

(By F. Davis, Lambton Golf Club, Toronto)

THE 30th Annual Convention of the International Stewards' Association was held at Book-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit, August 10th-14th and was pronounced the best and most successful ever.

Toronto was well represented by: C. W. Hitchcock, C. M. Day accompanied by Mrs. Day, G. Moir, P. McLellan, C. Lancaster accompanied by Mrs. Lancaster, E. Johnston, P. E. Daniels, G. H. Davies, Fred Davis.

Our hosts of the Detroit Branch put on a splendid show for everybody, including an afternoon drive in police escorted motor busses, where we saw practically every place of note, visited the assembly plant of Dodge Bros., then on to Henry Ford's Model Village at Dearborn, with refreshments supplied at the famous Dearborn Inn, it certainly was a very wonderful afternoon, and this particular day was topped off with a trip to Canada, with dinner and dance at the Hotel Norton Palmer. Every day was full of activity, sessions in morning, lunch at one of the hotels, and entertainment in some form each afternoon, with dinner and dancing at night, terminating with a grand banquet and ball at Book-Cadillac on August 14th.

The outcome of this Convention will be the International Stewards' Association will emerge stronger and more sound than ever before, and we anticipate a greatly increased membership both in the United States and Canada.

Toronto Branch is honoured in having our esteemed president, C. W. Hitchcock, steward of the Rosedale Golf Club, Toronto, elected to serve on National Board of Directors. Toronto also achieved 90 per cent. of standard for branch activities during the past year, for which we have been presented with a certificate, in addition to having presented to us for our work along educational lines a Block and Gavel made from wood of "Old Ironsides", frigate, 1812, this historic and prized relic will be competed for annually by the various branches in both countries, at present Toronto is the proud custodian of this valuable and sentimental link with a bygone era.

Our paid up membership to date is 32, and no delinquents.

Interesting Happenings on the Courses of England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales and the Overseas Dominions

As a result of a golf tournament of the Society of Automotive Engineers held at the Scarborough Golf Club, the Toronto Star Fresh Air Fund was enriched to the tune of $175, which sum sent many needy children away into the country for a holiday.

Members of the Mississauga Golf Club who are residents of the Port Credit district, held a tournament this month and so much success was achieved that it was decided to hold two tournaments annually. At the banquet held after the tournament it was arranged to hold the first annual match on the first Wednesday in October.

Despatch from Sherbrooke, Que.:—
"R. I. ("Bobby") Jones, famous Atlanta, Ga., golf star, accompanied by Mrs. Jones, arrived at North Hatley, a nearby summer resort, to-day to spend a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Atkinson. Local golf enthusiasts will have little opportunity of seeing the greatest golfer in history perform on the links, however. Jones announced that he would spend his time camping in the woods and fishing."

Gerard McHugh, White Marsh, junior champion of Philadelphia, defeated Max R. Marston, of the home club, national amateur golf champion in 1923, in the final round of the Lynnewood Hall Cup tournament over the Huntingdon Valley Country Club course, 3 and 1. McHugh, who was twenty-one years old last October, is the youngest player ever to win the cup in the thirty years it has been in competition. Marston, who is one of the four players to win the cup outright, secured his first leg on it when McHugh was six years old.

J. I. Rankin and D. Rankin captured first honours in the annual Father and Son tournament of the Beaconsfield Golf Club, Montreal.

The Business Men's Council of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies held their fifth annual golf tournament at the Elm Ridge Country Club, Montreal. Some 75 members participated. Martin Simon, treasurer of the federation, was awarded the cup for the lowest nett score, other prize winners being: A. Z. Cohen, Harold Fischel, Walter Freedman, Wm. Heillig, A. Herscovici, J. Kellert, J. Levinson, Jr., D. Mire, I. Riddell, Dr. S. J. Usher, Ben Yaphe. The tournament was followed by a dinner and entertainment at the club house, where short addresses were made by A. Sommer, president of the Elm Ridge Country Club; A. H. Jassby, president of the federation, and A.

Z. Cohen, member of the Business Men's Council executive. In the absence of Samuel Bronfman, chairman of the Council, J. P. Levee, past chairman, officiated. Julius Rost acted as chairman of the entertainment committee.

Despatch from Highland Park, Ill., August 30th:—

"Mrs. Opal S. Hill, of Kansas City, a fighter with a magic putter and a strangely unorthodox swing, was crowned the women's western golf champion for the second time in three years Saturday.

Although paired against one of the greatest iron stylists in the game, Mrs. Leona Pressler, of San Gabriel, Cal., in the 36-hole final, Mrs. Hill putted her way to a 3 to 1 triumph. She romped to a three-up lead at nine holes, saw her lead vanish on the seventeenth hole, came back with a birdie to lead at the half-way mark, and then stretched her lead to the finish."

The peak of the sporting season was reached at the Sortin Recreation Club of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Montreal, when the final of the Golf Club Challenge Cup was played. Darcy McDonald defeated C. J. Carmody, two and one in the Challenge Cup, the game being in doubt until the 17th hole with first one and then the other finalist in the lead. A large gallery followed the players in this match which was refereed by the club professional, R. Hunter.

As a result of their splendid showing this season, the Province of Quebec Golf Association has placed three players for the first time in the history of the Association, on the handicap two mark. They are E. A. Innes, young Scot of the Islesmere Golf Club, Quebec Amateur Champion, Hugh B. Jaques, Whitlock Golf Club, Spring Open Champion and winner of the Manoir Richelieu Shield, and Gordon B. Taylor, the Kanawaki ace. Heretofore three strokes has been the lowest handicap ever awarded a Quebec player. Frank Corrigan, of the Chaudiere Golf Club, Ottawa, who made such a sensational debut at the Canadian Amateur a month or so ago, has been reduced to a handicap of five, which is a remarkable compliment to a 16-year-old player.

The Brantford Golf and Country Club had a most successful field day on Labour Day. The September Cup was won by Gordon Duncan with a 72—par for the course. He is probably the best young player ever developed by the Brantford Club.

Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, regained the U.S. women's western championship, August 29, by defeating Mrs. Leona Pressler, of San Gabriel, Cal., in the 36-hole final at Exmoor Country Club, Highland Park, Ill. The match was a 3 to 1 victory for Mrs. Hill.

The Essex and Kent Amateur Golf Championship has again been won by "Jim" Douglas, the club champion of the Roseland Golf Club, Windsor, the scene of the notable boys' tournament the other day. Douglas, who won the event last year, defeated Ernie Zerou, of the Essex Golf and Country Club, in the final by 2 and 1. Roseland is certainly very much in the golfing picture this season.

Miss Doris Taylor is the new ladies' champion of the Kanawaki Golf Club, Montreal, defeating in the final the titleholder, Miss Hope Cushing. It was a splendid match neither of the finalists being up or down more than one hole throughout the encounter. The consolation flight was won by Mrs. O. Irwin, the very capable captain of the club. Miss Taylor, formerly a member of the Summerlea Club, has been a prominent contender for Quebec Branch championships during the past two years and is looked on as one of the Province's most promising golfers.

More than 100 players participated in the annual golf club tournament of curlers at the Royal Montreal Club recently. The Thistle Curling Club won the event by 4 points from the Royal Montreal knights of the besom.

The Brantford quartette of golfers who are playing in the Somerville Cup competition with Windsor, Hamilton, and London, made a remarkably fine showing last week in Brantford when they defeated the London team headed by Ross Somerville, 42½ points to London's 17½. E. C. Gould, Brantford, secured 3 points both against Somerville and Jack Nash. The Brantford team was composed of J. S. Lewis, E. C. Gould, I. W. Champion and G. Duncan, whilst London was represented by C. R. Somerville, Jack Nash, Dr. J. W. Brown, and G. Cogden.

Mrs. Leo G. Ryan, of Montreal, with a score of 86 nett won the ladies' trophy in the Seignior Club's handicap golf tournament on the new eighteen-hole links north of the Log Chateau, Lucerne-in-Quebec. A gay golf ball was held in the new sports club house in the evening and club members and guests from many points in Canada and the United States were present.

William P. Doohan won the annual championship tournament of the Sarnia Golf Club, Labour Day, when he defeated J. Shaffner eight up in a 36 holes final match. Mr. Doohan, who last year won the St. Clair district golf championship, played a steady game throughout the 36 holes, and was never in danger.

Mr. E. McCadden, manager of the Langara Golf Links, Vancouver, B.C., writes, Aug. 30th:—

2'gll

"Harry Pryke, secretary of the Glen-akes Golf Club, tied the amateur record here to-day with a score of 70. The par of the course is 72. Harry is one of our leading golfers and all who know him will be sincerely pleased to hear of his success. His brother, Joe Pryke, is the professional of the Prince Rupert Golf Club in Edmonton. Stan Leonard shares the honours of the amateur record of this course with Harry. The Glenoaks Golf Club play and hold their competitions at Langara. The following players were in the match with Harry to-day: Jesse Kahn, Leo Klein, Harold Khon."

Miss Nora Hankin, of the Rosmere Golf Club, Montreal, is the 1931 girl champion of Quebec. Playing quite phenomenal golf Miss Nora defeated in the final Miss Lolande Moisan, of Summerlea, 3 and 2, thus succeeding Miss Dorothy Nicoll, of Beaconsfield. Mrs. W. Garth Thomson, of the Quebec Branch executive, acted as referee in the championship final, while Mrs. George Wendt officiated in the consolation final.

Consolation honours went to Miss A. Leach, of Marlborough, who defeated Miss M. Carroll, of Kanawaki, 2 and 1. In the special competition for the first day's defeated players, Miss Barbara Tooke captured Mrs. W. E. Baker's prize with a gross of 93.

Miss Betty Davidson won Mrs. E. P. Christian's prize for low nett with 108-34-74.

Golfers who drive motors and over 90 per cent. it is conservatively estimated do, would be well advised to "mark, learn and inwardly digest" the most excellent advice handed out by the Ontario Department of Highways on page 355 of this issue. Golfers believe in obeying the rules of golf. They should also make it a point to observe even more religiously "the rules of the road", a breach of which so often means disaster and even death. "Golfers be everlastingly on the alert" is a good slogan when driving your car. See that you observe it from now on, if you have not done so before.

Record Smashing Golf at Powell River, B.C.

COMPETITIONS for the season are already over at Powell River, B.C. The last of the major events, the final of the ladies' open championship, was fought out last month between Mrs. E. Murray and Mrs. E. Peacock, and an exciting final it was. On their first encounter, the two ladies finished their eighteen holes on even terms—and a second battle was necessary. Mrs. Murray gained the coveted honour by emerging victorious with a 3-2 count. Both ladies played sparkling golf, Mrs. Murray showing great recuperative strength to square the opening match after being five down at the end of the first round.

Records have been falling thick and fast on the Powell River course in recent weeks. Last month, the Marine contingent invaded Powell River and Steve Brynjolfson, playing with Maurice Boxall against Jimmie Hüish, the Marine pro, and Dr. Lee Smith, broke the course record with a 68, four below par. Next week, Maurice Boxall equalled Steve's record. Steve promptly turned around the following week and brought in a 66 card. Two days later Maurice duplicated the feat. And not satisfied with the performance, a few days later, sailed around eighteen holes in 64—eight below par, shattering all existing records to ribbons. Local enthusiasts are now backing Steve to come through with a 60 or thereabouts, just to keep the excitement going.

Unquestionably this team of Steve Brynjolfson and Maurice Boxall are almost an unbeatable pair on the Powell River course. It is extremely debatable if there are a pair of golfers, amateur or professional, in British Columbia, who could defeat this pair at home. In his recent record-smashing voyage, Maurice had seven birdies and an eagle in his eighteen holes. Steve, to make his 66, shot nine birdies, and on one hole was two over par. Boxall was formerly pro at the Erie Downs Golf and Country Club, Bridgeburg, Ont.

Stop Press News

It is with extreme regret that the Editor is called upon to announce the passing this month of three outstanding golfers and golf executives, Messrs. J. Walter Spalding, New York, chairman of the Board of A. G. Spalding & Bros.; C. P. Wilson, K.C., Winnipeg, and C. S. McDaniel, Toronto (who succumbed suddenly whilst playing the second hole at the Lambton Golf and Country Club). Extended reference to these prominent men will be made in the October issue.

Two most unique events were staged last week in Toronto and Montreal. In the former city a team of 12 ladies headed by Miss Ada Mackenzie, played a team of prominent professionals, who gave their opponents generous handicaps. The pros won all matches with one exception, Mrs. R. W. Gouinlock, Toronto Golf Club, defeating Gordon Brydson, Willowdale, 1 up. Several matches were exceedingly close.

At Montreal a team of ladies met a team of the leading amateurs who conceded them eight strokes. The men won all the matches with the exception of one, Miss Catherine Beer, Beaconsfield, and Miss Lorraine Howe, Whitlock, tying their match. A particularly interesting and close match was that between E. A. Innes, amateur champion of Quebec, and C. C. Fraser, former amateur champion, who only defeated Miss Marjorie Kirkham, amateur lady champion, and Mme. Dagenais, former champion, on the 18th hole.

Alberta Championships

Ronnie McWilliams, Banff, captured the Alberta Open golf championship held at Calgary with a score of 144 for 36 holes. A morning round of 74 and a par-equalling 70 in the afternoon gave him the title. Close on the heels of McWilliams was W. Leonard, Calgary, with a score of 147, and J. Pryke, Edmonton, with 148.

Four extra holes were required before W. A. Matthews, Edmonton, won the Alberta amateur golf championship from Gordon MacWilliams, Calgary, one up at the fortieth hole. Matthews and MacWilliams qualified for the final by beating Stew Vickers and Bert Greer, respectively.

The Maritime Championships

Yarmouth, N.S., September 11.—"Gint" Cain, of Yarmouth, won the Maritime amateur golf championship on the thirty-ninth green to-day, and the happiest boy in this town ought to be Cain's caddy. The kid's error in picking up Percy Streeter's ball on the thirty-sixth fairway nearly cost Cain the title.

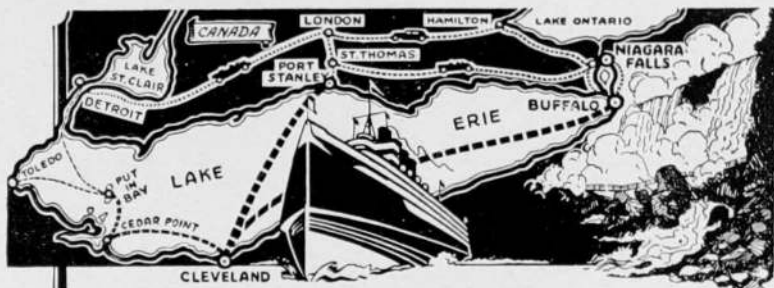

The flaxen-haired local youth, after an amazing comeback in which he made up a four-hole deficit and added the necessary margin on the thirty-third, apparently had won the match when he split fives with Streeter on the thirty-sixth. Only after the cheering for a new champion had reached its crescendo did the referee, A. V. Saunders, of Charlottetown, call the officials together on the green and disclose the fact that Cain's caddy had inadvertently picked up the Saint John man's ball and placed it back again and this necessitated three extra holes being played.

The open championship was won by Larry Thornton, of Moncton, N.B., former young Toronto pro. with a par score for 36 holes of 148. Runner-up, Jack Madash, of Amherst, N.S., former young Rallford pro., with a score of 151. Madash also won the long driving competition.

Young Tom Creavy Wins Pro. Championship

Providence, R.I., September 20.—Tom Creavy, 20-year-old Albany, N.Y., professional, gave the golfing world a pointed example of conquering youth yesterday when he gained the Professional Golfers' Association 36-hole championship match from the seasoned Densmore Shute of Hudson, Ohio, by a 2 and 1 margin on the difficult Wannamoisett course.

The $1,000 first prize went to the Albany youngster because his marvellous approach shots were more effective than the deadly accurate putting that Shute employed to defeat the world's outstanding champions, Tommy Armour, British open winner, and Billy Burke, holder of the United States open title, on two successive days.
